Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Fine and daughters Francis, Marie and Helen, formerly of this city, have just returned from Moncton, N.B., where they spent three weeks the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Fine.

CHARM PINS, delightful miniatures, as gay and sparkling as their jeweled touches, are just right for the young girl. They are fine for the person who craves a bit of costume jewelry but rightly doesn't go for those artiking pieces that have their place in a more elaborate setting. It is suggested that they be grouped in twos, three or fours on sweater, suit lapel or beret. They are nice on a dress bodice too and devastating when worn on a velvet neckband.

Of Interest to Women

Graduates Find Shirkers Unwelcome in Business

According to the counselors in charge of vocational education of the four leading universities for women, there are not as many jobs for girls just out of college this year as there have been for the last few years, and increasingly stricter qualifications are being called for by employers.

That is not surprising. The mystery has always been how a little cutie, with large soulful eyes and an appealing way, could get away with work which a man would be fired for doing. But we all have seen it done. We have observed secretaries who couldn't add up a column of figurs, and sweet girl graduates who had only majored in boy friends.

For the great majority of girls never have taken a job seriously. They have regarded it as just a bridge of sighs between a high school diploma and a wedding certificate over which they had to pass. Something temporary and not worth bothering over. They didn't know how to work. They had no ambtion or interest about doing any kind of work. But money was needed at home, so they languidly climbed up on an office stool and waited for somebody to come along and marry them.

Blamed For Prejudice

These girls are responsible for the prejudice against women in business and for women's work being cheap labor, for the so-called working girl rarely connects the quality of her work with the size of her pay envelope. She doesn't realize that poor work means poor pay the world over. But when women do put their brains and their hearts and their backs into their jobs, they make phenomenal successes. In every big business there is a woman whose insight and judgement and diplomacy make her "our invaluable Miss Smith."

Dorothy Dix

However, it is not the college and schools that are responsible for the inefficiency of the average girl. It is the mothers who are to blame. It is because most mothers seem to cherish the idea that if they never teach their daughters how to do any kind of work, they never will have to do it. It is a common thing, for instance, to hear a woman say: "I never have taught my daughters how to do housework. They will learn how to do it after they get married and are thrown on their own resources."

Which, of course, is true in the great majority of cases, for when it comes to the root-hog-or-die crisis, most of us root. But when a mother sends her daughter into marriage without preparing her to meet any of its responsibilities, she does a cruel and a dangerous thing.

For in reality, the wreck of many a marriage starts during the honeymoon when a young married couple take their first cold, appraising look at each other and realize that marraige isn't a picnic. It is a job that nobody has taught them how to handle, and before they become experts in it they have been through many an ordeal that they could have been spared if they had only been taught the lesson of life while they were still young.

Experience is something that we buy with blood and tears.

For Sunday, August 8

Sunday's horoscope is a definitely critical and disintegrating one. Sudden upsets, unforseen changes, or sensational adventures are in order. These having disastrous or unpleasant reaction on health, home affairs, financial and business relations. It is a time not to be complicated by making drastic moves, as such may be precipitated from unseen and unexpected quarters. Safeguard domestic and professional ties and sidestep separations or misunderstandings.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of sudden disruptions, unplanned changes or travel, with a generally unpredictable and unwelcome state of affairs. Romantic, social, career, and business connections may be jeopardized with sensational or unusual ventures in romantic affiliations. Beware careless words and acts which could precipitate regrettable clashes or breaks. Move with caution, restraint.

A child born on this day may be prone to sudden, erratic and inconsiderate urges, reacting sorrowfully and disastrously on all phases and interests in life. Unexpected change or moves menace.

For Monday, August 9

Monday's astrological forecast is for a most exciting and eventful one, with all things stirring at high tempo and under all sorts of pressure from definitely interested quarters. The most ambitious and worthy objectives, affecting the career, credit, business as well as private desires and objectives, could be made constructive and benign. Much pleasure, great fulfillments, contacts with those in influential places, could prove lucrative, and promote prestige and popularity in all manner of interests and affiliations. But keep alert to petty deceits or treacheries.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a most fruitful, pleasant profitable year, with all relations, plans and objectives under excellent impetus toward high goals and fulfillment. Enterprise, initiative and aspiratons find cooperaton from high places, and the purely personal advantages and associations are of splendid value. Prestige and popularity are of prime force, in private aspirations and activities. But in all it is advisable to keep on guard against petty treacheries or sly, pernicious involvements.

A child born on this day is bounteously equipped for a successful, influential and prosperous career, with a purposeful and happy life, popular and productive.

That is why the Russians are daily making rabid anti-Communists out of Berlin's women. There is no power for the beauty shops and coiffures are now created out of doors, with a backdrop of bomb-blasted buildings.

Spirit of 1919 Lacking At Convention

OTTAWA, Aug. 7—(CP)—She sat primly in a chair, looking over the empty seats in the convention hall, and for a moment her eyes flashed some of that old "Grit" spirit.

"Hmp," said Mrs. Christine Bradley of Sandwich West, Windsor, "years ago we would have had them packed in here."

At 67, the little lady is attending her second Liberal convention.

"Things are different now," she went on, thoughts turning back to that meeting in 1919. "In those days to be a good politician you had to play dirty..."

She had found the new-fangled convention system 'too scientific.'

"But maybe it's better this way," she amended tentatively, as one of the western leaders droned into the last bars of a half-hour speech, and delegates shuffled their feet or read newspapers.

Both Mrs. Bradley and Isabel Armstrong of Ottawa, another of the women present at the 1919 convention have had a chance this week to talk over old times with Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

"He has become too thin and too thin and too weary," said Mrs. Bradley. "But then look at what he's gone through."

As for Miss Armstrong—that early convention seems a long time ago.

"It was all very thrilling and exciting, and my first venture into politics," said Miss Armstrong, one of the few women delegates at that time.

"I represented the London (Ont.) Liberal Association," she recalled. "They put me on the resolutions committee and I was the one who moved a resolution dealing with the consecration of life and health.

Poor Visibility Blamed In Crash

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 6 — (CP). — Poor visibility was blamed by a coroner's jury for the crash of a Republic Sea-Bee aircraft which carried three United States sportsmen to their death in the mountains 20 miles north of here August 1.

The inquest Thursday night established that Donald H. Werner 28, of Akron, Ohio, John Litzen 40, of Cedarville, Mich., and Henry C. Thibert 29, of Detroit, were killed when their plane hit the rim of a 1,000-foot cliff.

J. R. Blamey, Canadian customs collector, said the plane, owned by Wilbert Ryan of Detroit, a brother-in-law of Thibert had not registered for entry into Canada. He said, however, there was no evidence the aircraft had landed in Canada.

Accidental Death Verdict At Cornwall

CORNWALL, Aug. 7 — (CP). — A coroner's jury Friday returned an accidental death verdict in the case of Harrison Langstaff, 23, of Milleroches, killed July 23 when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a Colonial Coach Lines bus.

A passenger on the motorcycle, John Ray, 16, of Milleroches, said he did not remember whether Langstaff gave a hand signal when he attempted to turn into his driveway from the highway. Ray was thrown clear and was uninjured.

The bus driver, George Robb, of Kingston, said he had blown his horn and was attempting to pass the motorcycle. He said the driver of the bike leaned to the left when the bus was about 10 feet behind him on the left side. The bus, said Robb, was travelling about 30 miles an hour.

Gen. Simonds Likes Compulsory Training

KINGSTON, Aug. 7 — (CP). — Soldiers feel that compulsory military training in Canada would be desirable but the government will have to decide whether it would be a practical aid in building the country's army to maximum strength.

That's the opinion of Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, formerly of Kingston and now senior army instructor at the Imperial Defence College, Cambridge, England. He is visiting here.

He said he did not agree that educational requirement of Canada's regular army are too rigid. He said it is "highly essential that Canada's regular army should be of the highest calibre."

Gen. Simonds said he expects to return to Canada next year. He has been mentioned as possible successor to Lt.-Gen. Foulkes, present chief of staff.

Sloop Capsizes Rescue 12 People

TORONTO, Aug. 7 — (CP). — Twelve persons—11 men and a woman — were rescued after the racing sloop Silhouette capsized and sank early today in Toronto harbor.

The three-ton craft was returning from a regatta at the Toronto islands when it overturned midway between Ward's Island and The mainland, its passengers clung to the mast until help came.

The crew of the ferry John Inglis hauled two persons from the water and threw liferafts to the others. Blasts from the ferry's whistle attracted lifeguards who finished the rescue job.

Find Wartime Crow's Nest Hasn't Changed Very Much

By DAVE McINTOSH

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 7—(CP). — Ex-navy types in Canada will be glad to know stories of flaps and do's still travel along the wooden part of the Crow's Nest and around the beamed room, mixing with breezes from the Atlantic where all the stories began.

The Crow's Nest was hostel, home, and meeting place for navy men visiting St. John's during war years.

Only one thing seems to bother the Nest these days: Now that Newfoundland is to be part of Canada, it would like to get its crests back.

Canadian navy officers carted off many ship's crests to Montreal after the war when they decided to set up a club there.

Navy veterans may despair at the knowledge that the Crow's Nest now is a club for all ex-service types. An ex-officer of the R.A.F. is vice-president.

From the windows overlooking the waterfront one can see the narrows through which corvettes and destroyers sailed from port to hunt the U-boat. The only difference now is the harbor is almost empty.

The Crow's Nest is on the fourth storey of an old waterfront warehouse. Thousands of navy and merchant marine men have climbed the 59 steps up to its warmth and cheeriness after a cold and dangerous Atlantic run.

Women are allowed in three nights a week but the Old Crow's Nest directive applies: "It is to be hoped they will not clutter up the war."

Delay Wheat Treaty Action Till January

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 — (AP). — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the International Wheat Marketing Treaty Friday with the idea that further action on it will be delayed until the new Congress meets in January.

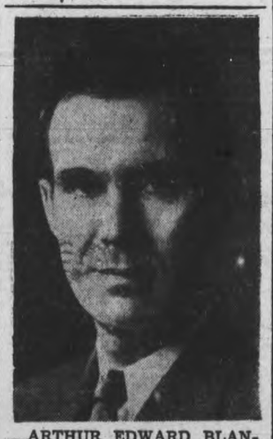
Fall Fairs To See Army Exhibit

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(Special). —The Army will "hit the road" this summer with a mobile exhibit of modern military equipment which will tour important local fairs in Ontario and Quebec, it was learned in Ottawa today.

Radar equipment in operation, a modern tank, a machinery lorry, anti-aircraft and field artillery, an ambulance, an accident prevention display and motion pictures will all be included in the display.

The soldiers travelling with the exhibit will be bilingual and capable of answering most, if not all, of the thousands of questions a curious public can think of to ask about military equipment and its use.

The present schedule calls for the mobile exhibit to visit Belleville, Ottawa and Renfrew in Ontario, and Sherbrooke and Quebec City in Quebec.



J. F. Singleton Retires From Agriculture Job

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(CP).—J. F. Singleton, 67 today, associate director of marketing service in the Agriculture Department and head of the dairy products division, is retiring on superannuation, it was announced today. He has been with the department since 1914.

A native of Leeds County, Ont., he engaged in cheese production in early life and took dairy courses at Kingston Dairy School, Ontario Agricultural College and Wisconsin Dairy School. He has been chairman of the dairy products board since its establishment early in the war years to implement U.K. dairy contracts. He received the OBE for his work in 1946.

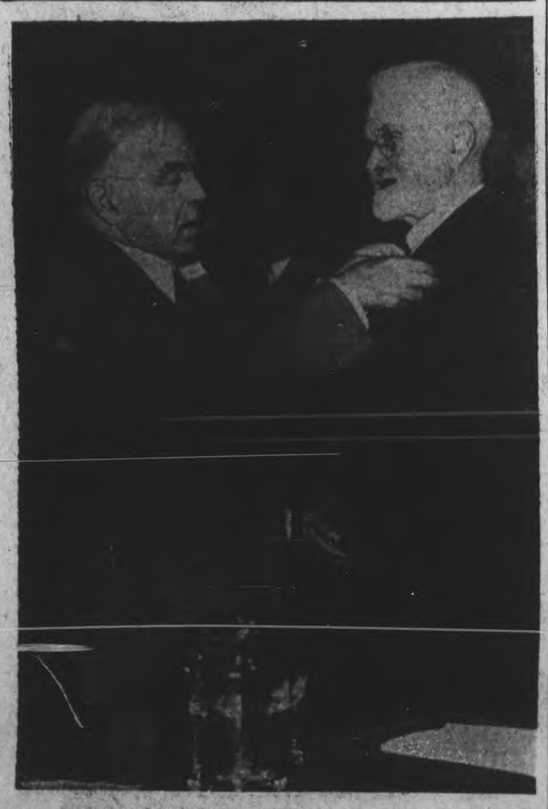
Drowns At Midland

MIDLAND, Aug. 7 — (CP). — Swimming to regain a paddle lost from his canoe Bruce Wallace, 17, Midland, drowned in six feet of water, at Honey Harbour Friday. Son of J. W. Wallace, Midland, retired bank manager, Bruce was a student at Midland district high school.

ARTHUR EDWARD BLANCHETTE of the Department of External Affairs, who has been posted to the Canadian embassy at Mexico. He has been a resident of Ottawa for the past eight years. He joined the Latin American section of the wartime information board in May, 1844, and continued in that section with the Canadian information service.

Six Public Schools Operated By Army

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(Special). —Canada's Army already operates pre-natal clinics, presides at births where civilian practitioners are not readily available and officiates at christenings, weddings and funerals. In addition it feeds and clothes its soldiers and provides accommodation, light, water, fuel, etc., for dependents.



Now, it is finding an increasing need to take over the education of soldiers' sons and daughters. Two new public schools are slated to open for the coming fall term—at the anti-aircraft school at Picton, and the big Petawawa Camp near Pembroke.

This will make a total of six schools operated for the children of soldiers. In addition to the new schools being established at Petawawa and Shilo, there are schools being operated at Barriefield, Borden, Shilo, Man., Fort Churchill, Man., and Currie Barracks, Alta. In all cases the schools are run in accordance with the standards of the provincial department of education concerned.

PSYCHIC VS. PSYCHIC

IF YOU are none too experienced in protecting your side against loss from fancy psychic bids by an opponent, your best policy is to endeavor to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth when you are up against notoriously tricky auctioneers. To counter with any kind of psychic action of your own, either positive or negative in nature, is to let yourself be drawn into a kind of match in which your opponents are better drilled than yourself. That puts you at a disadvantage.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♦	1 NT	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	Pass	3 ♦

Neither East nor West had ventured much against the kind of pair that faced them in this rubber deal at a club in the Middle West. Hence they didn't know too well how to handle themselves when their opponents indulged in monkey business.

When East heard North's 1-No Trump overcall of the original 1-Diamond, he didn't know just what to do. He had so many diamonds himself that he wondered what kind of stopper North could have had. So he decided the smart thing to do was pass and await developments. West then reckoned, after South's 2-Clubs, that he might be between two hands containing most of the strength, so passed on his second turn.

Now East thought he could convey enough information about his good hand by bidding one more than necessary over the 2-Clubs. West, to the contrary, read East's hand as too weak for a free bid over the 1-No Trump, but with a number of low diamonds and shortage somewhere. If this is the case, thought West, taking eleven tricks would be out of the question. So he passed, and a nice game was lost as eleven tricks were scored.

The simplest action for East would have been to bid naturally on his first turn, with 2-Clubs over the 1-No Trump. The side would then have landed in an easy No Trump game, in which two extra tricks should have been scored. Or he could have doubled, which should have brought the same eventual contract.

6—In Memoriam

HUNTER, Mrs. Mammie Alzina — In loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away one year ago to-day.
Today recalls sad memories
Of a dear mother gone to rest.
And the one who thinks of her today
Is the one who loved her best.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Jean.

MITCHELL, Robt.—In loving memory of our dear grandfather, who passed away on August 8, 1947.
His charming ways and smiling face,
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
—Sadly missed by Peggy, Orval and great-grandchildren Sharon and Billy.

MITCHELL, Robert—In fond and loving memory of our darling dad, who passed away one year ago August 8, 1947.
There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true;
There's a token of our love dear dad,
And a heartache still for you.
—Sadly missed by son and daughter Bob and Bea and grandsons Bill and Alan.

MITCHELL—In loving memory of Robert Mitchell, who passed away August 8, 1947.
Peaceful be thy rest dear father,
It is sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.
—Sadly missed by Jim, Elsie and family.

MITCHELL—In loving memory of a dear husband, Robert Mitchell, who passed away August 8, 1947.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
—Ever remembered by his wife, Margaret.

New Variety of Winter Wheat Challenges Long Reign of Dawson's Golden Chaff — J. D. Lanthier of Gormley Named First Hay Champion at Woodstock.

Ernie McWilliam estimates at 600 bushels the local yield of the new Cornell 595 variety in the present harvesting of the winter wheat crop, the bulk of which will be cut this week

He based that approximation on the sowing of 16 acres last fall by Reeve W. W. Dawson of Otonabee, Robert Armstrong of Cavan and Lloyd Whittington of North Monaghan. On an average of 40 bushels, the Cornell crop would amount to 640 bushels.

"After it is cleaned it should be more than 600 bushels," Mr. McWilliam said.

The introduction of Cornell, which was developed a few years ago at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., turns a new page in cereal grain records of this province, long attached to Dawson's Golden Chaff.

Mr. McWilliam of Dewart Milling Co. put some promotional effort behind it last year in addition to his test plots of hybrid corn on the farm of John Lillico.

"It was made available in this area two years ago by the Maple Leaf Milling Co. who obtained a supply of seed and offered sample lots to any farmers who wished to try it," Mr. McWilliam said. "Cornell has been more generally accepted in western Ontario. Its main recommendation is its resistance to loose smut; it stands up well and is just as strong in the straw as Dawson's Golden Chaff which it has consistently outyielded. From the milling standpoint it is superior to the Dawson variety, a quality that make it desirable in the international market. Loss from loose smut in the production of Dawson's Golden Chaff this season has been estimated by Dr. G. P. McCrostie of the Ontario Agricultural College at 5 to 10%."

To the average farmer in this district that would mean $80 to $90 in his crop return, Mr. McWilliam said.

"Cornell has made a splendid showing this season in our own area, and from the results we have seen I think it will be sown in much larger quantity this fall."

A recent report by the Dominion Department of Agriculture says "Cornell has shown good resistance to the loose smult which has been quite prevalent in many fields of Dawson's Golden Chaff. Loose smut can be controlled by the hot water treatment, and where this can be done the field should be isolated from other winter wheat which may be contaminated. . . . Winter wheat should be seeded on well drained lad which is in a good state of tilth. Where manure has been applied or legumes plowed down, superphosphate should be beneficial. Otherwise a complete fertilizer such as 2-12-6 at 250 to 300 pounds to the acre is recommended. A good vigorous stand of wheat lessens the chance of loss from diseases."

From his observations in a round of the winter wheat club fields, Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative rated this season's crop as one of the best he had seen in many years. Mr. McWilliam's reference to Cornell was mentioned to him.

"I am certainly inclined to agree with him," Mr. Paterson said. "The Cornell I saw in the field looked excellent, and it was in comparison with Dawson's Golden Chaff at its best. Mr. McWilliam is an enterprising young husbandman, and I think he has got something in his estimate of the merits of Cornell. Personally, I don't think I would like to go all the way, yet, in a general recommenration of the new variety. It is comparatively new, and I would like to wait for a crop or two until I was certain its type was well established. At the same time, I consider that Cornell is exceptionally promising. The local results this year bear that out. On the other hand there were many grand fields of Golden Chaff in our district this season. Again, Cornell has made a fine impression since its appearance, and with a lot of good seed available I expected that many of our farmers are going to be interested in it when they are getting ready for their fall wheat program."

Incidentally, the story of Dawson's Golden Chaff now encountering a vigorous young rival stems from the vicinity of Galt where a farmer named Dawson noticed a single stalk of wheat standing straight in a field that was lodged and tangled by a severe storm. He not only observed it, but he wondered whether its survival was an accident. He saved its seed, planted and multiplied it, and thereby gave to agriculture Dawson's Gold Chaff and its offspring such as O.A.C. 104, the family of soft wheat that is milled into the pastry flour of cereal commerce.

That is only mentioned in parenthesis. Cornell is here, more of it is in Durham, and it has already won highly favorable opinion from those who have seen it in both field and yield. Ernie McWilliam's interest has been confirmed by the immediate results in this locality.

Wheat reports from across the province indicate an average of around 40 bushels an acre, with some 50-bushel returns.

NORTHUMBERLAND CLUB WORK

Expected yields were not realized by the members of Northumberland barley club, Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative reports. Wet weather and some lack of fertility reduced production. The best fields recently visited by Mr. Banbury were those of Alfred Gooding of Hilton, Harry Sirett of Brighton and Gerald Finlay of Cobourg.

"The Galore variety is one of the recommended smooth awn types and should be useful to mix with oats for the general grain crop. It hasn't the inconvenience of the old barbed varieties in feeding and handling."

Coaching for the Peterborough Exhibition will be featured at a meeting Aug. 12 of Wooler Calf Club at the farm of Percy Gooding. A judging competition in dual purpose Shorthorns was the main event at the last meeting of the club at the home of Kenneth Peister. Identification of pasture and feed crops will be the chief activity of the July 2H Club at its August meeting, on Monday evening, Aug. 9 . . . Campbellford Calf Club recently met at the home of Jean Rennie. Roy Ormiston, Holstein fieldman, gave a demonstration in the grading of cows. Classes were discussed by Wesley Down and Del Merrill.

Mr. Banbury reports that Northumberland girls have been preparing for the Peterborough Exhibition. The following teams were chosen from the county; Seymour West girls include Florence Brown, Iona Bright, Gwendolyn McCulloch, Freda McCulloch, Dorothy Fairman. They will present a skit "Tea Is Served."

Marie Judd of Vernonville Club will take the club exhibit "A Table Set For Two" and comber of girls will be judging at ment on it. In addition, a num- Peterborough fair.

Going on to the junior program at the CNE Sept. 8, Wooler Club will present the skit "Packing a Week-end Bag". The members include Mattie Bull, Aldythe Arthur, and Betty Walker. They will represent Northumberland. The following girls with county honors (six projects) are eligible to judge at the CNE: Mary Cainan, Ruth Deviney, Patricia Harnden, Kathryn Judd, Helen Kernaghan, Muriel Todd, Kathleen Judd and Aldythe Arthur.

PETERBORO WHEAT CLUB

Harold Tate of Millbrook led the Peterborough 50-bushel of winter wheat competition with a score of 94½ points, with W. W. Dawson of Otonabee second for 94 points.

Only two of the Peterborough club's 15 members sowed Cornell, the others using Dawson's Golden Chaff.

The fields were judged by Alex Davidson of Agincourt. His score sheet, following Mr. Tate and Mr. Dawson showed the following standing:

J. E. Manley, Otonabee, 92½; George McIlmoyle, Smith, 91½; Clarence Coons, Lakefield 91; Earl Petrie, Otonabee, 90½; Stewart Whittington, Otonabee, 90; Graham Eastwood, Smith, 88; Charlie Whittington, North Monaghan, 87 (Cornell); Walter Thorne, Otonabee, 86; Morris Telford, Smith, 84½; Robert Armstrong, Ida, 83 (Cornell); Ross Harrison, Smith, 81½; Stewart Dawson, Otonabee, 70; Carman Seymour, Ida, 61½.

Final standing will include the yield scores, determined by threshing of samples that have been sent to OAC. These samples were taken from the fields. The upper part of the stalks were clipped and the members' samples were individually bagged.

Mr. Davidson was the judge of both the Durham and Peterborough club entries. The highest score in Durham was 91½ points by tSandford VanCamp of Nestleton, Peterborough club's three top scores were higher than that mark, Harold Tate, W. W. Dawson and J. E. Manley, and in fourth place was George McIlmoyl with 91½ points.

Graham Eastwood of Canada Packers, who bought the Gordon Hancock farm on the second line of Smith three years ago, considered that he had done fairly well in the "wheat league", against farmers he regards as experts in growing grain. He is gathering experience each year and he is combining it with enthusiasm and inquiry.

Mr. Eastwood has 40 acres of Dawson's Golden Chaff. The fields for the competition were of five acres.

"It is a grand stand of wheat, and I thought that I had quite a bit of it better than my lot in the competition," he said. "The season has been exceptionally favorable. I think I am learning something all the time, and there's a lot to learn. Any way, I like it. I'll know more about the cash value of the wheat crop when it is combined next week. Here's hoping the weather stays favorable."

FIRST HAY CHAMPION

Artificial drying of hay in the mow by electric motor-driven fans was recommended as offering great possibilities to the dairy industry by J. D. Lanthier of Leitchcroft Farms, Gormley, at the Graslands Field Day near Woodstock Wednesday. This innovation is being adopted by farmers in some sections of the United States.

Hay was not grown for its stems but for its leaves, Mr. Lanthier said. Drying in the mow was something every farmer could do. It consisted of bringing partly dried hay inside from the fields and completing the curing away from the elements. Mr. Lanhier said there was no difference between drying inside or out. The quality was likely to be the same, but he had found it more convenient to use inside drying. His barn dryer consisted of an electrically driven fan forcing outside air through the hay. There was no heating attachment.

Mr. Lanthier won the title of Canada's first hay champion in competition with 40 farmers. His entry was a mixed bale of alfalfa, red clover, timothy and orchard grass with a score of 95. O.A.C. bought a ton of his hay to be used in special tests.

J. J. McCague, Alliston Holstein breeder, said the requisite conditions for good hay were weather, cutting at the proper time, and variation in the varieties of grasses used. His preference was mixed hay, half of it grass.

Sample bales were judged on the basis of stage of maturity, relationship of leave to stem, color and aroma, and relationship between amounts of clover and grasses.

LAMBTON LIKES CORNELL

Lambton county is harvesting its second crop of Cornell winter wheat, and regard it as an established success. Farmers in that county, which ranks close to the top as a fall wheat area, find that Cornell produces two to five bushels an acre more than Dawson's Golden Chaff which has been the chief variety for milling purposes through many years. Cornell has not yet been registered as a variety in Ontario.

DURHAM WHEAT CONTEST

Field scores in the Durham Fifty-Bushel Wheat Club, recently judged by Alex Davidson of Agincourt, were:

Standford Van Camp of Nestleton, 91½ points; Bruce Tink, Hampton, 89½ points; Walter Longyear, Camobellcroft, 88½; Garnet Rickard, Bowmanville, 85½.

Elmer Scott, Campbellcroft, 82; Lloyd Kellogg, Port Hope, 80½; Ernest Larmer, Nestleton, 79½; Russel Bragg, Bowmanville, 76½.

John Cruikshank, Hampton, 76; Orme Parker, Newcastle, 69; Mel McHolm, Port Hope, 68; Walter Reynolds, Port Hope, 64½.

The average yield for the twelve fields was expected to be 40 bushels, with the best probably mounting to 50 bus. or more.

All the members sowed the Cornell 595 winter wheat, except Mr. Parker who planted registered. Dawson's Golden Chaff In regard to the claim for Cornell that its heads are longer than Dawson's, one of the growers did some counting of kernels and found an average of close to 60 to the head.

ROYAL'S GRAIN AND SEED SHOW

Plans for the biggest grain and seed show ever held in Canada are being made by a committee of the Royal Winter Fair. In addition to hundreds of prizes, contestants are eligible to compete for championship, grand championship and world championship trophies. It is expected that a keen contest will develop for the world championship awards They were given for the first time last year, and will be renewed in the classes for wheat, oats, barley, rye and potatoes.

The trophy for wheat has been donated by Canadian National Railways; for oats by the Quaker Oats Company of Canada; for barley by the Dominion Brewers' Association; for rye by Parrish and Heimmbecker Ltd.; for potatoes by the American Potash Institute.

These trophies are perpetual and cannot be won outright, but the names of each years' winner are inscribed on them. Awards of a silver tray and $100 are made to the individuals. Entries must be received by Nov. 10 for the grains and Nov. 12 for potatoes. Judging in all classes begins Nov. 15

Ashton, assistant in Grey, has been appointed representative in Lennox-Addington, succeeding Fred T. Webster. The retirement of Mr. Winter took effect Sat. July 31.

IDLE ONTARIO LAND

"Thousand of acres of land in Ontario is not producing and it should be," said W. R. Reek, president of O. A. C., in a recent address. "Canada has no new land to turn to, so every effort should be made to increase the productivity of our land in this province."

LIKE RURAL LIFE

It is a long jaunt to Covina, Calif., for a woman's estimate of domestic advantage of farm life. Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Wilson have a 40-acre citrus fruit farm in the San Gabriel Valley. This is Mrs. Wilson's recommendation of living in the country.

"Farming is hard work, but I don't see how any mother could fail to love it who sees what it does for her children. Farm life virtually solves the discipline problem. Each child has his part to do. If he does not do it, he learns visually and quickly what his part must be.

And farm chores are more than just hard work. Take Theodora, our hog. A small boy who would simply be emptying the garbage can in town is out here having a daily morning meeting with a grunting, growing porker who likes her name."

The Wilsons are sure that true stewardship of the soil, in the spirit of service, can help build up a greater America. True values, they say, are learned from honest work with the soil.

THE BACK-TO-WORK MOVEMENT got under way at the strike-bound Univis Lens Company plant in Dayton, Ohio, after Governor Herbert had sent 1,400 national guardsmen in battle array to the plant to keep order and give protection to workers who want to get back on the job. This man was one of the first to enter the plant. Troops used tear gas in a brief flurry with demonstrating United Electrical Workers (CIO) shortly after their arrival on the scene.

GEORGI DIMITROV, PRIME minister of Bulgaria, is shown (right front) serving as pall-bearer at the funeral of General Boris Ganev, director of Bulgarian civil aviation, and other victims of an airplane crash that occurred on the border of Bulgaria and Turkey. The plane carrying Ganev and others was allegedly attacked and shot down by a group of Bulgarian army officers who were leaving Bulgaria illegally.

4 FIREFIGHTERS DROWN NEAR SUDBURY

THIS IS A RECENT portrait study of Louis St. Laurent, Canada's Minister of External Affairs and delegate to the United Nations Assembly, who was chosen Liberal Leader late Saturday afternoon.

Boat Upsets On Way To Bush Fire

Watchers On Shore See No Reason For Motorboat Tipping

SUDBURY, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Four firefighters were drowned Sunday in the nearby Wahnapitae River when an outboard motorboat overturned.

They have been identified as Ross Retty of Sudbury, Nillo Koskinen of Cleland township, Edward A. Buckland of Sherbrooke, Que., and "Scotty" Campbell, who is unknown here. He was identified from lists of volunteer fire fighters.

Campbell's body has not yet been recovered.

The men were among a party of 13 voluntary firefighters sent from Sudbury to fight a fire at Wahnipitae Lake 20 miles southeast of here. The blaze which covered only a dozen acres was extinguished in a few hours.

Koskinen was the owner of the boat which had been hired to take fire fighters to the scene of the blaze.

The river is 150 to 250 feet wide at the spot where the accident occurred.

Watchers on the shore said they could give no reason for the boat tipping.

At Toronto, officials of the Ontario government forest fire protection service said they had not received any details.

AIR MAIL ROMANCE between Robert Patterson Miller Glass, formerly of Londonderry, Northern Ireland, and now resident of Hastings, and Eileen Marian Olivia McLelland of Belfast, culminated in a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peck, Bridge St., Hastings. The above photo shows the groom placing the ring on his bride's finger as the Rev. Canon C. R. Spencer, left, conducts the ceremony. The happy couple left immediately afterward on a wedding trip to Toronto, the bride's first visit to the Queen City.

Expect Mr. King To Keep Prime Ministership Until End Of December

St. Laurent Polls 848 Votes On 1st Ballot Gardiner Trails With 323; 21 Resolutions Adopted By Convention

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Informed sources said today they believe Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King will retain the Prime Ministership until the year-end and they chose Dec. 29 as the likeliest day upon which he will retire. It was on Dec. 29, 1921, that he first became Prime Minister and retirement upon that date this year would mark the 27th anniversary of that achievement, they noted.

Though he would be the last to admit it, Mr. King has a penchant for anniversary dates. For instance, the National Liberal Convention just ended was held on the same dates as that in 1919 which elected Mr. King to the party leadership. When he handed over the leadership to Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent Saturday, Aug. 7, he did so on the 29th anniversary of his own selection.

It is known that Mr. King would like to attend the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers in London this fall. He likely will take Mr. St. Laurent with him and introduce him to the other Empire leaders as Canada's next prime minister.

Mr. St. Laurent told reporters Saturday he expected to confer with Mr. King "early" this week on the question of the transfer of the prime ministership, but he declined to hazard a guess as to when this would take place.

Mr. King himself has said it might be "a few odd" weeks or months before he retires as prime minister. He told the Commons just before prorogation that it would depend upon national and international developments and the feelings of his successor.

On the first ballot, the 66-year-old Quebec lawyer who now is External Affairs Minister, polled 848 votes. Mr. Gardiner received 323 and Mr. Power 56.

The leadership fight narrowed to three men after nine were nominated. Health Minister Martin, Finance Minister Abbott, Transport Minister Chevrier, Defence Minister Claxton, Trade Minister Howe and Premier Garson of Manitoba were nominated

Missing Youth Walks Out Of Heavy Bush

NORTH BAY, Aug. 9 (CP)— Billy Larochelle walked out of the bush and returned home today while search parties combed the heavily - wooded area around Dreany Lake, about six miles from here on highway 16. He had been missing since Saturday morning.

Fifteen -year-old Billy said he will play baseball as usual tonight with Kitzell's Juniors, a local team. He walked out of the bush onto the Callander highway near Sunset Park and made his way home.

More than 150 persons had joined in the search which covered the area from Dreany Lake south to the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks and west to the city limits.

The 40 persons who searched bushland five miles south east of here for the 15-year-old boy who went out to pick blueberries returned Sunday night with only an abandoned waxpaper package of peanut butter sandwiches. But their discovery cheered his mother.

"I'm sure those sandwiches are his," said Mrs. J. J. Larochelle. "I forgot Billy didn't like brown bread and I spread peanut butter on brown bread for him."

Searchers found the sandwiches, untouched, about 200 yards from Dreany Lake near the centre of a blueberry patch.

As three aircraft from nearby Trout Lake joined in the search, members of the ground parties expressed belief the boy might have fallen from a ledge in the ravine-slashed terrain and injured himself.

At home, the boy's black and tan dog, Rex, crouched and waited for the master's return Relatives tried to persuade Rex to join the hunt but he wouldn't budge.

Russian Consulate Seeks To Keep Two Witnesses

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—(AP).—New York police at the request of the Russian Consulate asked New Jersey police today to produce a Russian-born schoolteacher who told his story to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on Sunday. The teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, 40, and his wife and three children are at Farm Rova, operated by a White Russian anti-Communist) group near Cassville, NJ, the Consulate told police.

The House of Representatives un-American Affairs Committee has expressed an interest in Samarin.

The police message sent to Thoms River, NJ, state police headquarters quoted the Russian Consulate as saying it would prosecute if the Samarin family was detained at the farm against its will.

Soviet officials have been seeking to return the teacher to his native land. Samarin came here to teach in a school for children of Russian members of the United Nations delegation.

F.B.I. officials declined Sunday to discuss the nature of their talks

Dismiss Pair In Taxi Theft

HAMILTON, Aug. 9 —(CP) — Reginald Friday, 39, a former police officer, and Verna Lesko, 30, were dismissed this morning on a charge of stealing a car from Donald McWhirter, a taxi driver Friday and Miss Lesko were picked up in Brockville by Provincial Police.

McWhirter, after admitting he had known Friday since boyhood, said he drove him and Miss Lesko to the tenminal station and the CPR depot around noon last Thursday and that they asked him to Friday's room for a drink. After the second drink, McWhirter said he had no recollection of what happened and that when he wakened hours after his wrist watch had been removed as well as his wallet and his car had disappeared.

Friday gave police a statement saying McWhirter gave him full permission to use the car and even handed over his credentials.

Report Russians Digging New Trenches

BERLIN, Aug. 9 — (AP). — The British-licensed newspaper Telegraf said today the Russians are digging trenches and mounting weapons, including rocket guns, on the border between the Soviet occupation zone and western Germany.

United States border officials and Germans along the American-Russian zone borders, however, said they knew nothing to confirm reports the Russians are erecting weapon points along the frontier. They said the Russians for a long time have been strengthening their border with guards and trenches, designed to halt illegal traffic on country roads.

The newspaper reported feverish activity in woods along the zonal frontiers where, it said

American military officials here said that frequent reports have been received of the Russians strengthening their border installations.

"We can't say precisely what it means," one official said, "because the Russians always like to put up such physical barriers.

However, it is known that they several months ago sharply tightened their border controls to stop the flow of Germans from their

Arrest Two Toronto Men After Warehouse Break-In

Two Toronto men are in custody here following a night-long search by city police. They were arrested following an alarm sent in about 11 o'clock Saturday night by alert Simcoe St. residents that four men were prowling around the warehouse of York Trading Co. on that street. Police rushed to the warehouse where they say they surprised William Buckley as he was leaving the building. The accused surrendered at gun-point to PC Doug Farthing.

The officers, with reinforcements from the station (as they believed other men to be in the building), made a thorough search of the premises. No others were found there. Entrance to the building had been made by jimmying the window in the washroom.

As several people living across the street from the warehouse had seen what they reported as four men near the premises, the police immediately began a city-wide search. About a dozen men on the city force combed the city for Taxis were checked, suspicious cars investigated, persons whose actions were questionable were interrogated in the race to find the other men.

So exacting was the net thrown out that at one time the Chief Constable himself came under scrutiny. Chief John Thompson, who had joined the chase before midnight, was cruising in his own car when he was flagged down by two of his men.

Only other arrest was made a few minutes after 12.30 midnight when Stanley Baron also of Toronto, was arrested on a charge of vagrancy. The arrest was made by the Chief and PC's Louis Rodrique and Sherman Keliele.

In court this morning, both men were remanded without plea until Aug. 16. Buckley, 22, is charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit theft.

Baron, charged with vagrancy, was told that bail would have to be arranged with the crown. Crown attorney V. J. McElderry said that "we will be asking high bail," and added, "we believed that he was involved in the case of the first accused."

Four Charges Laid For Cheque-Passing

KITCHENER, Aug. 9.—(CP).— Four charges have been laid against Anthony Aquanno, 24, Toronto, believed to be leader of a cheque-passing ring. He was arrested in Toronto Friday with David Curey, 28. Kitchener police have accused Aquanno of fraud, attempted fraud and of twice conspiring to commit an indictable offence. Twenty-four similar charges have been laid against the pair by police in Niagara Falls, Stratford, Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa, Ottawa and Toronto.

Withdraw Pickets At 2 Can Factories

TORONTO, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Picket lines were withdrawn today at two Continental Can Company plants in suburban New discussion between representatives of the company and United Steel Workers (CIO).

Put 200 Pickets At Mckinnon's

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 9. — (CP).—Some 200 pickets, in four lines, were posted about the gates today as the United Automobile Workers (CIO) strike for higher wages at McKinnon Industries went into its 27th day. Some 2,650 workers are involved.

Foremen and others entered the strike-bound plant to the accompaniment of jeers and boos from the pickets. A similar chorus greeted T. J. Cook, general manager, but he paid no heed to th uproar.

The U.A.W. called the strike to enforce demands for wage rates equivalent to those paid in General Motors plants at Oshawa and union's demand was for a 26-cent boost in the hourly rate.

Badly Injured In Tunnel Fight

(CP) — Provincial police said today [illegible] Christie, 38, of Toronto, suffered severe injuries in a fight near the tunnel of the huge Mississagi Hydro power project, 17 miles north of Tessalon, on Sunday afternoon and will be taken to hospital for treatment.

Reported earlier to have died. Christie suffered severe facial injuries and several broken ribs in a fistic battle near the headquarters of the Raynor Construction Company.

No details of the fight were available.

Provincial police at the construction camp said that charges would be laid against Christie's unnamed assailant.

Second Crash Victim

CORNWALL, Aug. 9—(CP). — Reginald Forrester, 20, of Moulinette, was killed today in the second railway level crossing fatality in the district within 36 hours. Rheal Gagne of Cornwall was killed early Sunday when run over by a freight train. Police said Forrester's light delivery truck was in collision with a locomotive on the CNR crossing at nearby Moulinette. Engineer Harry Nicholson, of Brockville, said the crossing was clear as he approached. He felt a thud and saw the truck being smashed to bits.

Baton Changed

LONDON, Aug. 9 (CP)— Castleton Knight, producer of the Olympic Games films, said today that a picture of the disputed 400-metre relay in which the United States was disqualified Saturday showed that "as far as a layman can see the baton-change took place at least a yard over the line."

This was the race in which the Americans finished first but lost the gold medal when the officials decided the exchange of baton between Barney Ewell and Lorenzo White took place beyond the white line of the track. The decision gave Britain first place.

Castleton Knight said the film in his view showed that the second runner was at least a yard over the line and the first man also appeared to be beyond it when handing over the baton.

While the argument continued in the American camp, three London morning newspapers entered the controversy.

They criticized the United States Olympic organization for lodging the protest.

"What a pity there should be a protest," Frank Butler wrote in Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Expres.

22 Killed In Bad Storms Across England and France

LONDON, Aug. 9 —(CP)—At least 22 persons are dead, crops are flattened and wide areas flooded following week - end storms in Britain and France.

Damage at the French port of Brest alone is estimated at more than 100,000,000 francs ($330,000). Several small boats and a trawler sank, and cranes and port installations were damaged.

Eight persons on a holiday were drowned at Perrs-Quirec, in Brittany, when a fishing boat capsized. Another fishing boat was wrecked on rocks in South Brittany, drowning five crew members. Two crew members of a third fishing boat which ran ashore from Vannes are missing. A swimmer was drowned in high seas off Hendaye.

A doctor fell from a small boat at Carnavon, Wales, and was drowned. He was one of six British storm victims.

Severe storms struck in Kent and Sussex, and high waters battered the southeast and east coasts of England today, although in places skies began to clear.

British farmers surveyed their storm-beaten crops and faced back-breaking work with the old-fashioned scythe and sickle although they are the most highly-mechanized in the world.

In Norfolk, Somerset, Kent and Leicestershire where combines appeared in hundreds this year, the week-end wind and rain beat down on maturing wheat, oats and barley in some of England's best fields.

In Surrey, more than 70 per cent of the grain is cut and much is in stock. Farmers hope for a spell of dry weather without the intense heat to avoid sprouting.

Where combines were used, many farmers were able to store their grain before the storm struck.

In some districts there is hope that the grain will recover sufficiently so that machinery can be used to harvest what generally is considered to be the best grain crop in five years.

New Liberal Leader's Name Real Headache Put Tongue Against Teeth And Say Sa'Lor'Ah

MIDDLE MUSQUODOBOIT, N.S., Aug. 9.—(CP).—Dear Mr. St. Laurent: A lot of us here are having trouble pronouncing your name. As you're going to be Prime Minister we need to be straightened out.

The last time we had a French-speaking Liberal leader in Ottawa it took us a while getting around to call him Lory-eh, but now that we have radio we catch on faster—despite those radio fellows who seem confused as to just what you should be called.

Most of us are sticking to plain Saint Lau-rent, just as it's spelled. Other compromise with English and French like San Larent or Saint Lauron.

Anyhow, we can sympathize with you, Mr. St. Laurent. You'd be surprised how many Canadians still can't pronounce the name of our town.

When it comes to pronouncing the name of the new leader of the Liberal party, it's best to think of the French, CBC officials advise, put your tongue against your teeth and say "Sa'lor-ah," running both word together.

Hot On Abductress' Trail Girl Traced To Toronto

HAMILTON, Aug. 9 — (CP). —The name Linda Norman, circularized among Ontario police in the 10-day hunt for a 17-year-old abductress and an 11-month-old baby, was an alias, Hamilton police determined today as the trail warmed up and they identified their quarry as Eleanor Fraser, 22, of Toronto.

Identification of the wanted girl was made by her mother, a Toronto resident, from newspaper photographs, J. V. Thompson, Inspector of Detectives, said this morning.

Officials of the parole board in Toronto said they had held a warrant for Miss Fraser's arrest for several months. She is alleged to have broken conditions of her parole from Mercer reformatory.

In Hamilton, the girl used the name Linda Norman during employment as a domestic and restaurant waitress. She used it again when engaged as housekeeper by Emerson Griffin, whose infant son she is alleged to have abducted.

Over the week-end, a blue blanket was brought to Hamilton and identified as one which was used to wrap the baby in his Queensdale avenue home. The blanket had not been seen since the baby's disappearance. It was found in a Toronto restaurant.

Local police were hopeful this morning that the girl's instincts were sufficiently strong that she would not leave the child in her hurry to elude police. They believe, however, that the child might have been taken to "cover" the trail of the wanted parole breaker.

In Toronto, this morning, police determined that the missing girl had lived in a Sherbourne street rooming house from Aug. 2 to Aug. 5. They have not found yet where she was from Thursday, when she left the rooming house, until Sunday, when she bought a meal in the restaurant where the blanket was found.

Will Discuss New Office With Mr. King

Doesn't Know Yet When He'll Assume Ministerial Duties

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—(CP).—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent told reporters Saturday that he hoped to discuss with retiring Prime Minister Mackenzie King "early" this week the question of the transfer of the official office of Prime Minister to him as the new leader of the Liberal pary.

Smiling and flushed with his minutes-old victory in the leadership balloting at the National Liberal convention, the 66-year-old External Affairs Minister was escorted by a throng of milling newspaper men into the improvised press headquarters just outside the convention hall at the Coliseum.

"When will you become Prime Minister?" was one of the first questions shot at him by the 100-odd reporters as he and Mrs. St Laurent sat down at the first empty table in the big room.

Can't Answer Yet

Mr. St. Laurent spread his hands and shrugged his shoulders.

"I am afraid I would not like to say anything about matters like that," he replied. "After all, Mr. King will remain as prime minister for some time to come.

"The Prime Ministerial office is not being decided at this convention. Mr. King will have to settle that himself in relation to his own responsibility to the Crown."

He said he had no plans to tour Canada but considered "my duty to meet as many of the Canadian people as it is possible for me to do."

He told the reporters that it was his intention to make it a policy to cooperate with the press "as much as possible." Such co-operation, of course, was a two-way street. He felt that he had a "great" responsibility to the country and he hoped the press would help him to discharge it.

Threats Appear

Pravda, official Communist party newspaper, meanwhile published prominently a Berlin dispatch charging British and American airmen with 62 flying violations in the air lift to Berlin. The newspaper singled out various instances of alleged violations by fighter planes as well as cargo ships.

Only Friday the official Soviet News Agency here said American and British planes running supplies to Berlin could be forced down for flight violations.

A food crisis in the Soviet zone was indicated. The Russian-controlled press reported strong [illegible] on a lengthy list of topics, were adopted by the convention as new planks for the party platform.

The convention went on record as saying that the party still stands by the proposals to the 1945 Dominion-Provincial Conference which wound up in failure when taxation agreements could not be concluded with all provinces.

Mr. Abbott won approval of a resolution recommending "utmost economy in controlled government expenditures." The approval came after a number of delegates from the floor urges a reduction of personal income taxes.

On the question of the cost of living, the convention agreed that "selective price controls" should be reimposed in cases where unreasonable prices are forcing up the cost of living.

The question of a Canadian flag was treated in a delicate manner. Although there had been requests that the party state its support for a flag containing neither the Union Jack or the Fleur de Lis, the convention went only so far as to say that it favored an "exclusively Canadian flag."

On housing, the party decided to support, if necessary, the subsidization of low-rental house construction.

Germany and possibly all European problems was at a temporary standstill.

Noting the economic hardships resulting from the blockade, the official Taegliche Rundschau threatened worse things to come unless the anti-Communist city government yields to demands that Berlin be incorporated into the Soviet occupation zone.

The American-licenced newspaper Tagesspiegel said "a number" of German police officials serving the western Berlin police force have been arrested by rival police of the Soviet sector.

Immediately there was speculation as to who will become External Affairs Minister when Mr. St. Laurent assumes the Prime Ministership, probably within a few months.

Political sources predict L. B. (Mike) Pearson, capable Under-secretary for External Affairs, will be the man.

Other Cabinet changes are likely. One guess is that Premier Garson of Manitoba will be appointed Justice Minister, succeeding Rt. Hon. James Ilsley, who resigned last June 30.

Thanks Convention

In his acceptance speech Saturday, Mr. St. Laurent thanked the convention from the "bottom of my heart."

"I pledge my troth to discharge the responsibilities which have been placed upon me," said Mr. St. Laurent.

He said it was a great honor to be associated in any way with offices held by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. King, retiring after 29 years as leader of the party.

It was Mr. King who made a special trip to a testimonial dinner for Mr. St. Laurent in Quebec two years ago and asked his French-speaking lieutenant to remain for some time longer at his side.

Mr. St. Laurent agreed to stay in the cabinet at that time. When Mr. King announced last winter that he planned to retire from the leadership, Mr. St. Laurent announced he would be a candidate for the post.

Born of a French-Canadian father and an Irish-Canadian mother, Mr. St. Laurent made national unity the keynote of his election address. He said that without national unity no government could have the "authority, strength and stability to carry out any program."

Choose Able Leader

He recalled that Mr. King once said no ministry which could not bring men of both races to the council-table could hope to govern and maintain unity in Canada.

When the voting was over, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said the convention had chosen as leader one of the ablest men in Canada. Then smilingly he added: "But I am still ready to be the sparkplug of the Liberal party."

Mr. Power asked delegates to support him as a "reform" candidate for the leadership. He urged the party to reform its elector system, its parliamentary system and its administrative ministerial system. He lashed out at government by bureaucracy and said the Liberal party should once again regain its title as the defender of provincial rights.

It is not yet clear when Mr. St. Laurent will take over the office of prime minister.

Mr. King has said on several occasions that the office of prime minister is conferred by the Crown and not by the party. He has said he would discuss with his successor the question of when he should relinquish the prime ministership.

Russian

Meanwhile another Russian school teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, who became the centre of a melodramatic tug-of-war between Soviet officials and a White Russian (anti-Communist) group Saturday, was reported "resting" at the Soviet consulate here.

The New York Times today quoted Samarin as saying "I don't wish to go back to the Soviet Union, and am placing myself under the protection of the American government and American public opinion."

Samarin, the newspaper said, "observed in the course of his interview early today that he felt sure Mrs. Kosenkina had been taken to the consulate against her will, and that she fully subscribed to his own sentiments regarding the Soviet Union."

Woman "Rescued"

Soviet officials said Mrs. Kosenkina—whom the House committee also would like to question—had been "rescued" from a White Russian resort at Valley Cottage, N.Y.

Officials at the resort said the woman had returned to New York because she was too "terrorized" to refuse. Both she and Samarin had been scheduled to return to Russia last month on the Soviet liner Pobedia.

In Mrs. Kosenkina's presence, Russian consulate officials said at a press conference Saturday that she had been drugged and kidnapped by White Russians and been held captive at the farm since July 30.

Samarin and his family had been scheduled to sail for Russia last month on the same boat as Mrs. Kosenkina. The Soviet consul general said Saturday that but that the consulate intended to "take steps" to get him started back home.

But there was no let-up in the fireworks touched off by the Senate group.

Chairman Homer Ferguson (Rep.-Mich.) levelled a threat of an impeachment action against Truman in a Senate speech just before special session adjourned Saturday night.

Won't Talk

Victor Perlo refused today to say whether he knows the woman who accused him of heading a group of United States government employees which she said gave wartime secrets to a Communist spy ring.

He also refused to say whether he ever has been a Communist.

The sharp-featured witness declined to answer question after question on the ground it might tend "to incriminate or degrade him."

Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, who calls herself a former Communist, has testified that Perlo directed one group of government workers which passed along wartime secrets which she handed Russian agents.

She said that Perlo supplied her figures on airplane production while he served on the War Production Board

Kill Third Child In New Moon

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 9 — (AP). — Four-year-old Joe Creamer was found hanging from an electric wire in the blitzed ruins of a factory here Sunday night. He was the third Lancashire child murdered at the time of the new moon in the last six months.

Children who heard his screams saw a "youngish" man run out through a large hole in the factory wall. They ran for help. A passerby cut down the body, which had been stripped except for the undershirt.

This and two other new moon cases are still unsolved.

Quentin Smith, 11, was stabbed at Farnworth by a killed who tore off most of his clothing.

Little June Devaney, 3, was kidnapped from her bed in a Blackburn hospital and slain.

Predict Pearson To Be Given Cabinet Post

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—(CP).—Political sources predicted Sunday that L. B. (Mike) Pearson, the brilliant, likeable Under-secretary for External Affairs, will enter the Government as External Affairs Minister when Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent achieves the Prime Ministership and forms his first cabinet.

This, it was said, would constitute one of the major changes in the St. Laurent cabinet lineup.

Another might be the predicted entry into the council of 49-year-old Premier Garson of Manitoba, who moved Mr. St. Laurent's nomination for the leadership at the closing session of the National Liberal convention here Saturday. Mr. Garson himself was nominated as a candidate but withdrew.

Political sources suggested Mr. Garson, a barrister before he went into the Manitoba government in 1936, might become Federal Justice Minister. This portfolio has been empty since the retirement June 30 of Rt. Hon. James Ilsley, who has returned to private law practice.

Use Newcomer

Mr. Pearson, as Undersecretary of State for External Affairs, is a senior civil servant and would be a newcomer to politics. However, he had been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Liberal leadership. In taking the External Affairs portfolio, he would be taking the post Mr. St. Laurent will leave when he becomes Prime Minister.

Generally, the present cabinet line-up is expected to remain essentially unchanged.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who lost out to Mr. St. Laurent in Saturday's balloting, likely will remain in his present post while Mr. St. Laurent may invite Hon. C. G. Power, the second defeated leadership candidate, into the cabinet. Mr. Power served as Air Minister during the war but resigned over the conscription issue.

Bureau Checks Unscrupulous "Businessmen"

COBOURG, Aug. 9—"It took evolution over a million years for man to advance from the monkey stage but a smooth-talking artist in the fraud game can reverse the job in a couple of minutes," A. R. Haskell of the Toronto Better Business Bureau told the Rotary Club of Cobourg at its weekly luncheon here. Objectives of the organization are to establish confidence in advertising, detect frauds and protect the public. In Toronto 1,400 business concerns financed the bureau, which was a non-profit organization. It co-operates with 100 like organizations throughout Canada and the United States, working independently but still co-operating to prevent rackets from spreading, he said.

The first racket on record was back in the days of Egyptian royalty, 3,000 BC, when a preparation was sold that was supposed to grow hair on the head of some Egyptian queen. Getting up to modern days, the speaker told of one cure-all that was sold and advertised to cure all manner of ailments in male and female. The bureau investigated it and the manufacturer was no more.

Rackets vary with the seasons. The unordered - merchandise scheme is worked around Christmas and the "sucker" gets some merchandise that he has not ordered, with a smooth sales promotion letter or a sales talk over the phone. Sometimes it back-fires as in the case of a doctor who was sent three ties with the announcement that these ties were for men of distinction, plus two dollars. The doctor kept the ties and sent in payment, two dollars worth of pills.

"Before you invest — investigate. Before you give to some charity, find out the facts about it and if it is genuine. An outfit, calling itself the 'Elderly Widows' Guild,' sold chocolates over the phone and said that the profits were going to a well-known charity. We investigated and by checking a car license number the result was that this racket went out of business. The boxes sold for 50 cents and out of it the candy manufacturer got 17 cents, the phone contact man 12, the deliveryman five cents and the man who promoted it 16 cents. Any time you are in doubt about a proposition call on the Better Business Bureau," he said.

Around 2,000 enquiries are handled each month, some outside the membership for which there was no charge. Last year 21,493 enquiries were looked into, Mr. Haskell said.

The New Liberal Leader

The man who has succeeded the Prime Minister as leader of the Liberty Party is but one of a number of talented Liberals qualified for leadership—and how large their numbers is was revealed by the biographical sketches of possible candidates which appeared in these columns in recent weeks. He is a man older than most of the others, for he is 66 and but seven years younger than the retired leader. He is almost unacquainted with the hurly-burly of practical politics; he is a newcomer to parliament and ministry, for it is not seven years ago that he was appointed Minister of Justice (December, 1941) to succeed the late Ernest Lapointe and first contested a parliamentary seat and was elected to the House of Commons (February, 1942). This man is the Right Honourable Louis St. Laurent.

• • •

The election of such a man is unprecedented in Canadian politics. Why was he chosen so confidently, with immediate decision, by the nationally representative Convention? He was elected primarily because of the nature of the position and because of the man he is.

• • •

The leadership of a major political party is an exacting and difficult responsibility. Mr. St. Laurent has not yet proved himself as a party organizer, policy-maker and vote-catcher. It is said that he is too aloof in manner, too interested in principles and not sufficiently attuned to street cries and Canadian corn to have popular appeal, that he is too much a "gentleman". Canadians do not expect their party leaders to be common men. Scholarly, aloof, gentlemanly men like Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Mackenzie King have done uncommonly well for the Liberal party and served Canada greatly. Mr. St. Laurent may prove that he is not slow in learning the peculiar art of Canadian politics. He has already proven as Minister for External Affairs, that he is exceptionally qualified to give sound leadership in our vitally important foreign affairs. The support he has received from senior Cabinet Ministers and the party at large is a tribute to his personal force and his high ability and character.

• • •

Mr. Mackenzie King will soon submit his and his Ministers' resignations to the Governor-General. According to constitutional usage, Viscount Alexander will then call upon Mr. St. Laurent as leader of the party in power to form a new Government. Mr. St. Laurent will therefore be the new Prime Minister, the sixth in 52 years. Saturday's election has indeed thrust great responsibility upon Mr. St. Laurent. It is indicative of his patriotism that he has accepted it. He will be a good Prime Minister; time will tell if a great one.

• • •

Though late in coming before the gen-general public, Mr. St. Laurent has long honorary degree of Doctor of Laws as early as 1930, a tribute reserved for distinguished men). There is no finer type of Canadian than this man who bears a truly Canadian name—St. Lawrence.

President Truman And The Special Session

The special session of the United States Congress called by President Truman has had the expected effect of encouraging his own Democratic supporters by scoring a strategic victory over the Republican Party. Mr. Truman's message to Congress is receiving scant consideration, but that also was expected, for the Republicans, who control both Houses of Congress, freely admit that their chief concern was to end the special session as quickly as possible. The sooner it was over, the more time there would be for the voters to forget about the embarrassing position in which the Republicans were placed when Mr. Truman called the special session. So the session ended on Saturday, one of the shortest sittings in American Congressional history.

Mr. Truman's strategy was admirably simple. The Republican Party had made several campaign promises and several campaign accusations of sins of omission by the Democratic Administration. As noted above, the Republican Party controls both the Senate and the House of Representatives. Mr. Truman, in effect, told the Republicans — and the nation—that he was calling a session to give that party an opportunity to keep its promises and to rectify the errors of omission is had criticized.

Since both promises and accusations include some of the thorniest problems confronting the United States, especially in certain aspects of domestic affairs about which widely divergent and often sectional opinions are held, the Republicans want no part of an attempt to deal with them so close to the Presidential election. If they lingered on at the Capitol without dealing with them, they would merely look silly. So their counter to Mr. Truman's strategy apparently has consisted of letting the Democrats display their own differences to the nation (as in the filibuster run by Southern Democratic Senators), by passing a few of the less controversial measures on the President's program, by quashing the others, and going home to prepare for the election in November.

To most United States observers, Mr. Truman's first-round victory puts him back in the Presidential race, but Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York is still the favoured candidate. The Republicans see it the same way, although they are genuinely worried, however, by the possibility that the increase in Democratic strength may allow the latter party to gain control of the Senate. It is not too unlikely an eventuality, for a swing of four seats in the Upper House would give the Democrats control. And most of the Senate Democrats seeking re-election are from the South, while at least six Republicans face contests in states where the issue is considered in doubt.

Pavement Artists, Peterborough, Ont.

This city may lack some of the pursuits and characteristics of large metropolitan centres but we are glad to report that it has its pavement artists. Our type are, naturally, distinctive. They do not draw realistic English garden scenes on sidewalks in front of St. Martin's in the Field, nor the portraits of Winston Churchills or Mackenzie Kings. They go in for futuristic stuff on the roadway—angles, curves and straight lines. One of the more ambitious projects was that lately undertaken at the intersection of Park, Reid and Sherbrooke Streets. It would do credit to Salvador Dali, even if it doesn't induce cars to stop on entering, leaving and in the centre if the intersection.

Good and brightly yellow as the work of our pavement painters may be, we are rather fearful lest the men engaged on the work suffer from artistic frustration. For instance, they paint a fresh parking rectangle (not completely enclosed, of course; they follow the modern trend of suggesting a rectangle by artfully contrived designs rather than by brushing in complete lines). It is beside a parking meter. Two things happen to this work of art. First, no coins are tossed into the rectangle by appreciative lookers-on, which is the usual reward for a pavement artist. Instead, motorists deposit pennies in a slot on the parking meter. That would be all right if the painters had the key to the coin vaults of the meters, but alas, it is the policemen who take the jack-pot.

The second and more disconcerting happening is this. Not one minute after the gleaming yellow lines have been brushed in by the painters, a car drives over the work of art; the paint is smudged, worn, ancient-looking in a jiffy. What destruction of incentive this [illegible] birdies in them at all! (Probably we should refer to him not them, for in the team of two one man paints, the other seems to have the duty of leaning on a broom.) Consider the job that was done the other afternoon at the corner of Charlotte and George. It was gay and vivid for about two minutes. When the last eighth of the pattern was being finished the other seven-eighths, already traffic-ridden, looked as if it had endured the heat of ten summer suns, the anger of ten winter winds, the torture of St. Catherine's wheel.

It is not with any thought of preserving the paint job for the sake of economy that we suggest that the painters should work on busy streets on Wednesday afternoons, late on Saturdays or under a full moon. (The last is an inspiring time for artists.) The suggestion arises from our fear that the painters may be harrowed in spirit when their work is so quickly defaced. Ordinary artists expect the sands of time to dull their work and reputations, but should our painters be forced to reconcile themselves to having their work obliterated by the grime of five minutes? Must life be that cruel?

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

FORTUNATELY, Canadian authors—MacLennan, Gabrielle Roy, Shapiro, Gwenhalyn Graham, to mention some—have been earning amounts worthy of an artist's calling, which reminds me that Zola eventually earned £15,000 yearly. The author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" received as much as $5 for every word of a twenty thousand word novel. Sir James Barrie's "Little Minister" earned him $2,000 for every thousand words. Scott's annual earnings at his peak were in the neighbourhood of $60,000, and he cleared about $1,500,000. All told Dickens made £93,000 from his novels. Victor Hugo died worth £150,000—"Les Miserables" alone brought him $80,000. Anthony Trollope, Carlyle, George Eliot and William Morris each left fortunes ranging from $100,000 to $250,000. For his novel, "Sappho", Daudet received $200,000, Lord Beaconsfield received $60,000 for one novel, Kipling £8,000 for eight short stories and Gladstone £250 for one short article. Lord Robert Cecil used to receive £100 for each political article. In many of these articles he spent a major portion of his space criticizing Disraeli, yet shortly after, he became Dizzy's foreign minister and travelled with him to the Congress of Berlin.

ROOSEVELT (writes Alden Hatch in his biography of Roosevelt, "Citizen of the World") wanted both Giraud and de Gaulle at Casablanca to "get things straightening out," but de Gaulle, suspecting some trick, did not want to come. He was afraid that he would compromise his position. Churchill—who incidentally was financing the austere leader of the Free French forces—could not get a satisfactory answer from de Gaulle.

Finally, Roosevelt tackled Churchill at lunch one day. "See here, Winston," he said, "I've produced the groom; now, dammit, you produce the bride!" Churchill got de Gaulle to come when he threatened to cut the Frenchman off without a penny. At first de Gaulle refused to enter a villa set aside for him. He said:

"The American Government has no right to commandeer a Frenchman's house for me."

A real diplomat from the State Department said hastily: "It's not a Frenchman's house. It belongs to a Pole."

This shook de Gaulle:

"In that case...."

◇ ◇ ◇

AT the end of 1941 Roosevelt had little difficulty in getting the anti-Axis countries to agree on a Declaration of Principles based on the Atlantic Charter, declares Hatch. An important problem popped up—what should the alliance be called? One evening the discussion went on for hours and arrived nowhere. If it were called the "League" it would chagrin the Americans; if, "Allies" it reminded both powers of past failure. After trying a variety of names, they went to bed, having reached no conclusion. The next morning Roosevelt cried,

"I've got it!"

"Take me to Churchill's room," he commanded.

Prettyman wheeled him down the hall on a dead run and knocked at the closed door of the Prime Minister's room.

There was no answer and the President leaned over and banged on the panel.

"Who's there?" called a muffled voice.

"It's I—Franklin."

"Come in."

Prettyman pushed the President into an empty room.

"Where are you, Winston?"

"In the bath."

"I've got to speak to you."

"All right, open up."

Roosevelt wheeled himself up to the door and swung it open. The Prime Minister's round torso rose from a welter of soapsuds.

"'Winston," Franklin shouted, "how about 'The United Nations'?"

Churchill beamed through a mask of lather. "That ought to do it!" he exclaimed.

"HON. Angus Macdonald, who became Premier of Nova Scotia in 1933 tells some of the best of them", writes Hector Charlesworth in "I'm Telling You". "One relates to a man of considerable substance who had no gifts as a public speaker but whose friends insisted that he become a parliamentary candidate. He demurred on the ground that he had no experience in addressing audiences but the party organization was willing to furnish [illegible] and lived up to his reputation as a man of few words. He was not, however, without ambition to shine some day on the platform, and listened closely to the appeals of other speakers. One sentence, which always seemed to evoke applause especially fascinated him. It was 'Vox populi, vox Dei!' In private he often murmured it to himself. On election night he was found to have headed the poll by a handsome majority and the crowd outside the committee room clamoured for a speech from him. He yielded and spoke as follows: 'I am a very proud man tonight! I want to thank the voters of this district, the finest in the Dominion of Canada, for what they have done for me. And let me furthermore add 'Vox populi, vox Dei!' At this point somebody in the crowd called out, 'And what does that mean, John?'

"The speaker hesitated for a moment and then shouted, 'It means that God is damn well pleased over the way you voted today.'"

So Why Not?

Courtesy costs nothing but an effort, and it pays out of all proportion to the effort expended. If we are honest with ourselves, we must admit we need the tourists who come here from the United States. Why not act as if we knew that and were happy to welcome them? And this advice does not apply solely to those in official positions or to those who serve tourists in stores, hotels or elsewhere. It applies to every citizen.—Kingston Whig-Standard

STARTING FROM SCRATCH

End Of The King Era

By FRANK H. UNDERHILL In CANADIAN FORUM

POLITICAL historians of the future will refer to the last twenty-five years as the King era, just as we now speak of the Macdonald and Laurier eras. And as time goes on, they will point more and more to features in the statesmanship of Mr. King that resemble the statesmanship of the two earlier national leaders. The essential task of Canadian statesmanship is to discover the terms on which as many as possible of the significant interest-groups of our country can be induced to work together in a common policy. It is to make them conscious of what they have in common rather than of what divides them. No one can deny, now that he is retiring, that Mr. King has been the only political leader of the last generation who has understood in its full implications the nature of this, the fundmental responsibility of Canadian leadership. So he will go down in our history in the select company of Macdonald and Laurier, while his contemporaries and rivals fall back into the comparative obscurity of sectionalists and particularists.

In the long run of history it will not matter much that he never won the passionate personal devotion of his followers and associates, as Macdonald and Laurier did of theirs. Whatever they may have said of him individually, when they tried to give articulate expression to their feelings, the majority of the Canadian people have instinctively recognized that Mr. King is the leader who divides us least, and they have voted accordingly.

THIS seems to be the furthest point of growth that the Canadian national spirit was capable of reaching in our day. At such a phase in its history nationalism is not a very exhilarating phenomenon. Canadians who demand more stirring emotions in their politics have attached themselves to other isms. But since a united nation of some sort is the necessary framework within which all these other isms must be realized, we have all of us, however qualified our enthusiasm, acquisced more or less willingly in the fact that Mr. King for twenty years should be at the head of His Majesty's Government. His statesmanship has been a more subtly accurate, a more flexibly adjustable Gallup poll of Canadian public opinion that statisticians will ever be able to devise. He has been the representative Canadian, the typical Canadian, the essential Canadian, the ideal Canadian, the Canadian as he exists in the mind of God.

Two specific achievements will always be associated with Mr. King's name. He brought us out of Dominion Status, the half-way house in which Laurier and Borden had left us; and we face the 1950's as an independent nation, making our own policy, prepared to undertake the responsibilities of an adult people in world politics. He carried us through the strain of a second world war without precipitating an irreconcilable split between French and English Canadians; he avoided the kind of mistakes which, repeated in the 1940's, would have had more fatal consequences than they had in 1917.

LAURIER defeated the earlier efforts of [illegible] eign policy directed from London. Mr. King's long period of office has given him the opportunity of leading us to the goal toward which Laurier's policy pointed, of an independent Canada within a British Commonwealth which is no longer an exclusive association, which has no central organs for making military or economic policy, and which tends more and more to merge itself into the larger more comprehensive Atlantic Community that is developing under our eyes. Mr. King has always been aware that no form of international organization could meet Canada's needs in which the United States is not a full partner. In peace and in war he has remained firm in this understanding of the realities of our situation. And now today this Atlantic Community under American leadership provides the solution for the difficulties of both the older British Commonwealth and the newer West European Union.

Canada has been able to play a significant part in these recent developments because during the King era we have been gradually equipped with a well-staffed Department of External Affairs. We can now participate in the hard day-to-day practice of international diplomacy. Before we had a diplomatic service of our own, most of the talk of the Laurier and Borden days about our equality of status with Britain was largely in the nature of rhetorical fourish. We have not solved all our practical problems by any means. Evidently there are elements in the British Foreign Office who still labour under the delusion that it is the function of Downing Street to provide the policy and the function of Canada to provide the Transport planes; and there are still a few colonial Canadians who agree with them. But these are mere vestigial survivals.

ALSO it should be remarked that the usefulness of Mr. King's clear-cut conception of the nature of the British Commonwealth has been weakened in recent years by his going soft over the Monarchy, at the very time when the Commonwealth is expanding to include members such as India and Pakistan for whom the Monarchy will never mean what it means to us sentimental Canadians.

However his essential achievement remains. He has led us irrevocably past the stage at which it was possible to think of Canada as a junior partner in some Britanic firm. And he has assisted us to some of his own understanding that neither Canada nor Britain can get along in the twentieth century world except in close co-operation with the United States. His successors will still have plenty to do in emancipating us from our innerited anti-American phobias. One of Mr. King's incidental successes is that he has brought us through a couple of decades without an outbreak of the fever of 1891 and 1911. If we can get through another twenty or thirty years without some impassioned patriots winning a general election by saving us from the United States, this will afford the ultimate proof that we have at last grown up.

ONE of the fashionable criticisms in academic circles of Mr. King's external policy is that it was isolationist in the 1920's and 1930's and therefore adolescent and irresponsible. This is to miss the essential conditions under which Canadian policy is carried on. In the inter-war decades we were isolationist in the same way that Great Britain and the United States were. We refused [illegible] to far-reaching actions in world politics just as the British and American peoples have done. If the world comes to show signs of a little more stability, the Canadian people, like the British and Americans, will become more absorbed in their own local concerns. In whatever direction we move, it will be along lines already being traced out by British and American policy.

Letter To The Editor

CONTAMINATED WATERS

Sir: I was very much amused to read your article in the Examiner of July 28, headed, "No treatment given sewage in Little Lake". Alderman Doug. Miller is supposed to have stirred up a noisesome mess when he asked for a check of any improper material flowing into Little Lake or the Otonabee River. (This has been going on for sixty-two years.) Miller's request was then sent to Dr. Kelly, M.H.O., and his sanitary inspectors. I cannot believe that the reply, as you credited the M.H.O., was actually written by him, believing that anyone living in Peterborough would believe it, or to those of us who know anything about the city and its sewage.

Miller's statement, that at every move now they are met by excessive costs, is silly. Does he not realize that the Township of North Monaghan, in 1885, took out and won an injunction against the then Town of Peterborough for polluting the river Otonabee? That was sixty-two years ago. What have the various councils done since? If Mr. Doug. Miller can remember that far back, he must know that during those sixty-two years we have had two bad depressions when labour was begging, and I am afraid that the signs of the times point to another within two years. God knows, I hope not, for I worked through those two and saw how those poor devils suffered. But be prepared so that you can give work when it is needed.

When I was reeve of North Monaghan, I tried, some twenty years ago, to take up the injunction. South Monaghan would help but Otonabee would not, so we had to drop it where it is today. Of course, we did not have the noisesome smell or the number of people affected then that there is and are now. Or we could have had the city howling for iced water. We can yet, there never was a better case for an action, if the people would act and not listen to the honeyed words of the city council.

Does Alderman Douglas Miller, know that, if we have a hot August, and the people take to the water in the river, the doctors, not only local, but outside, say that, owing to the pollution of the water and crowding of the houses, we can expect a serious outbreak of disease in Peterborough?

I noticed in one of the press notices of the council meeting that Alderman Hugh Waddell remarked that it was evident that we soon would have to take drastic action at the sewage plant. How long does he want? The town has had sixty-two years already.

Three years ago, I supplied a boat and operator, Mr. Harold Scott, M.P.P., a man from the Department and we made a test of the water to Rice Lake. The report we got, was that there was no difference between the City of Peterborough and Rice Lake. It was just as badly polluted at this end as at the lake.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, O God our shield and look upon the face of thine anointed. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will be withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Ps. 84: 9-11).

But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth. (Job 23: 1, 3, 8, 10-13.)

Girls Bring Honors To Canada
Only Olympic Winners In 8 Days

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON, Aug. 9 — (CP). — The Olympic track and field events are over and post mortems are being conducted over Canada's showing. But first, praise should go to the women's team which produced a final kick to deaden the death rattle and silence the funeral dirge.

The eight-day event was nearing a disastrous close for the Dominion Saturday until the girls finished third in the 400-metre relay to become the first Canadian prize-winners in the eight heart-breaking days.

Ten minutes later, the girls, in their crimson track suits with their emblazoned Canadian crest, mounted the victory rostrum.

There were a few bright spots but not enough to revive memories of past Olympics when the Maple Leaf shone brilliantly.

"We have no alibis," Ken Yost said in an interview Sunday. "We were up against the best athletes in the world. The boys we brought over couldn't have won at their best.

"We knew we didn't have a world-beating team but I had had hoped we would have some one to surprise us. It's been a wonderful experience and has shown us tat we in Canada must get down to business and give more thought to sport as some other countries do. They make it a business—we don't."

A meeting of Canadian Olympic officials will be held today. A statement will be issued. It is understood that it will embrace the food situation while the team was here, a plea for more playing grounds in Canada to foster sport and judgment on the team's Olympic performance.

Canada's first Olympic medals came when the quartet of women competitors placed third in the 400-metre relay final and after the Canadians had mounted the third-place tier of the victory rostrum, their feelings were perhaps best expressed by Nancy Mackay of Oshawa, who said: "We were so proud when the Canadian flag was raised that we could hardly keep still."

Until Saturday, the Canadians had scraped together only six points in seven days of competition to place far down the unofficial list of countries registering points in the games.

Saturday, they got nine points to bring them to 19th place in the standings. Third place in the 400-metre relay was good for four points. Another three points were picked up by the men's 400-metre relay team and two more in the women's jumping.

Records fell thick and fast with almost a dozen championships being decided as the track and swimming programs ended.

But greatest star of the day, if not the games, was the outstanding 3-time winner, Fanny Blankers-Koen of the Netherlands, outstanding not only for her individual prowess but also for her sportsmanship.

Equals Owens

Mrs. Blankers-Koen, 30-year-old mother of two children, did not enter the women's high jump in which she was considered a "cinch," in order to participate in the relay event and help her country get the coveted gold medals.

If she had taken the high jump, her four victories would have created a record never matched by either sex. As it is, her three victories and her performance in the relay event—she scooted down the track in 47.5 seconds, just under the world record—put her on a par with the great Jesse Owens, United States negro star, who had that score at the Berlin games of 1936.

In the relay, in which Australia placed second, Viola Myers of Toronto, Nancy Mackay and Diana Foster and Pat Jones of British Columbia held third place all the way. The Canadians' time was just 3-10ths of a second more than Holland.

Outstanding Canadian stars to date have been Miss Myers and Miss Jones. Aside from their performance Saturday, they picked up five points between them last Monday when they placed fourth and fifth in the 100-metre dash.

Best Record

No other team member has placed as high as third in the finals; no other member had scored more than once.

The men's relay team actually ran fifth but after the winning United States team was disqualified for illegal baton-passing, each team moved up a notch. The team was composed of Don Pettie of Calgary, Jimmy O'Brien of Toronto, and Don McFarlane and Ted Haggis of London, Ont.

In the reshuffle, Britain wound up first, followed by Italy and Hungary.

Canada's other point-getter was Doreen Dredge of Kelvington, BC, who jumped five feet, 2¼ inches fourth-fifth-sixth place tie.

When the tie was broken on the basis of the most "misses," the 16-year-old Miss Dredge, youngest member of the Canadian track team, wound up fifth in the event, won by Alice Coachman of the United States.

Fail to Place

Shirley Gordon of Vancouver and Elaine Silburn of Victoria failed to place.

There was a tinge of regret for the 17th place taken by the highly-regarded Cote of Ste. Roselie, Que., in the marathon event.

Cote's disappointing performance in the marathon was only one of a series of upsets in one of the most dramatic and sensational finishes in marathon history.

Given little pre-race chance, the winner, Delfo Carbrera, 29-year-old fireman from Argentina, covered the 26-mile, 385-yard run in two hours, 35 minutes and 51.6 seconds.

Tom Richards of Britain finished second and the game Belgium, E. Gailly, came in third after entering the staduim first. He was overtaken on the stadium track and had just enough left to stagger over the finishing line before collapsing.

Lloyd Evans of Montreal also overtook Cote on the stadium track to place just ahead of him while Walter Federick of Hamilton, finished 23rd.

Has Charley-Horse

Cote, who said before the race that it would be a miracle if he finished first, suffered a charley-horse in his right leg after about one third of the distance had been completed. He didn't think he'd be able to finish but "I just had to keep going."

The boxing competition started Saturday with John Keenan, Montreal middleweight, losing a decision to Mike McKeown of Dublin and J. Sandula of Ottawa dropping a flyweight decision to Maung Myo Thant of Burma.

J. W. Carruthers of Australia defeated Fred Daigle of Montreal in the bantamweight class when Daigle was disqualified for holding and Cliff Blackburn of Montreal, Canada's only winner scored a cler-cut victory of M. Velez of the Philippines.

In basketball, Canada defeated Persia 81-25 in the consolation playoff to determine ninth to 16th places.

In cycling, Bob Lacourse of Montreal was defeated in the second round by Reg Harris of Britain.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinth, Que., arrived in Montreal by air Sunday, less than 24 hours after he had placed 17th in the Olympic Marathon Saturday at London.

The cigar-smoking distance runner said he was disappointed at his showing, but not discouraged. A charley horse, which developed at the ninth mile of the 26-mile course, had slowed him down.

"I was running in about 30th position alongside a chap named Walker," Cote said. "I was feeling fine although it was quite cool and the air was very humid.

"Walker and I decided at this point that we had better start moving to pass a group a few yards ahead of us. But going up that hill, the muscle in my right leg tightened and I knew I had had it."

Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League announced Saturday that Hector (Toe) Blake who coached Houston Huskies of the United States League title last season, was signed to coach Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League next season.

Blake, former Canadiens' forward, went to Houston after breaking an ankle with Montreal last January.

Little Lloyd Mangrum, gaining six strokes in 18 holes with a record 63, Dutch Harrison, a 64-shooter, and Sam Snead with a 69, ended in a three-way tie Sunday for George S. May's $10,000 winner-take-all golf pot at Chicago. The three died at 135, nine under par, for the 36-holes "world championship of golf."

Len Appleyard of Toronto won major honors Saturday in the first annual international shoot of the Fort Erie, Ont., Revolver Club. He took first prize in the slow match fire and the grand aggregate in the civilian matches. Buffalo Revolver Club team No. 1 defeated Toronto Revolver Club in three-man matches.

Abe Yanofsky, young Winnipeg chess master gained 1½ points in week-end play in the international chess tournament at Stockholm, Sweden. He defeated Eric Lundin of Sweden and drew a match with Russia's Igor Bondarevsky.

Canada's chances of staging the 1950 British Empire Games Sunday took definite form at London, Eng., when Professor Nelson Hart of London, Ont., general manager of the Canadian Olympic team and secretary of the Canadian Olympic Association, made applications to hold the games in the Dominion. No decision was made.

The last of a series of protests over Friday's Olympic races was finally straightened out Saturday at Torquay. Bill Gooderham of Toronto and the French skipper filed protests claiming violations of Olympic regulations in the swallow-class race.

Canada's protests was upheld, France's was denied, the French boat was disqualified and skipper Gooderham's point-ranking of ninth after four days of races remained unchanged.

A bus carrying fourteen Bradford, Pa., baseball players home from a Pony League game at Wellsville Saturday night plunged down a 30-foot embankment near here.

Two of the players, Joe Scalise and Bill Glenn, were bruised. The others and the driver were not hurt.

Proximity won the $5,000 Charlotte free-for-all trot on the grand circuit program at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday in Westbury, N.Y. Summer Son was second, three quarters of a length back, and Sidney Hanover, the favorite, was third.

List Olympic Standings To Date

WEMBLEY, England, Aug. 9 (CP).—The United States Olympic team at the end of track and field and swimming competition has 454½ points—three more than the team picked up in the entire 1936 games.

Twelve years ago the Americans were second to Germany in the overall points scramble.

Six more days of Olympic competition remain.

Canada ranks 19th with 15 points, all won in track and field.

Team championships are not awarded officially. It has been customary, however, to allot points unofficially on a basis of 10 points for first place, with 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1 for the next five places.

Here are the standings at the end of 75 events, up to Saturday night:

Believe Libya Another Problem

LONDON, Aug. 9. — (AP) — East and west collide again today as the Big Four deputy foreign ministers begin talks on the future of Italy's pre-war colonies.

It seems likely the representatives of Britain, the United States, France and Russia will be able to compromise over Eritrea and Somaliland.

But Libya, fronting on the Mediterranean, is a serious point of conflict between east and west.

Russia favors turning back all the colonies to Italy for rule under U.N. trusteeship. Most of the western countries would like to see Libya partitioned into its component provinces of Cirenaica, Tripolitania and the Fezzan.

Cirenaica and possibly Tripolitnia would come under British protection. And the Fezzan would go to the French, who have been administering it since its liberation.

Knights Make Playoffs With 9-7 Win

K. of C. defeated Comstock's Saturday afternoon at the Bowl 9-7 in a sudden death game to decide third place in the final standing of the City Softball League. Thus, after a hard late-season drive the Knights have earned a playoff berth and will meet Legion in a best-of-five semi-final series, the winner to meet B-A for the title.

K. of C. were outhit 16-10 but three of their hits came in the important second inning rally when, with the aid of three Comstock errors, they scored six runs which added to two scored in the first, put the game on ice.

Wood went the route for K. of C. and was hit hard, as were Wilson and Harrison, with the latter suffering defeat though he started wtih a three-run deficit. Cournyea and Castle clouted homers and both drove in two for the losers, while Mackness fielded well. Willshaw hit two doubles for K. of C. and scored two runs, as did Kumpf and Crowley, while Tompkins, Spencer and Wade each had two safe hits for the winners.

Bob Rooke Wins Low Gross In Golf Tourney

Good times, rather than good scores, except for two or three, marked the Examiner vs. CHEX golf tournament held Saturday afternoon at the Peterborough Golf Club for members of the Examiner and CHEX staffs.

Low gross prize of one dozen golf balls went to Bob Rooke of the Examiner, who had a 45-46—91, while the award for low net, a pair of golf shoes, was taken by El Jones of CHEX with a 92—32-60. Second low gross was Bob Wyllie, Examiner, with 45-47—92, and second low net was Jim English, Examiner, with 98—32-66.

Other scores were as follows: Stu Loyst, CHEX, 50-57—107; Dave Murray, CHEX, 51-52—103; Jim Fullerton, Examiner, 52-52—104; Jack Vingoe, Examiner, 46-50—96; Ray McCullough, Examiner, 48-48—96; Audrey Oliver, Examiner, 64-64—128; Pete Carnegie, CHEX, 54-54—107; Bert Cowan, Examiner, 57-52—110; Russ Baer, CHEX, 50-53—103; Del Crary, CHEX, 55-55—110.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight we begin the second half of the men's schedule. All Group No. 1 and all Group No. 2 play. Tomorrow night the other two groups, 3 and 4, will play.

The leading skips in the schedule so far as:

Group No. 1—Geo. Coleman.
Group No. 2—A. Black.
Group No. 3—H. Clegg.
Group No. 4—R. Knox.

Playing in Lindsay Saturday night in the second round of provincial district No. 14 play-offs, the Peterborough representatives broke even. Wm. Jeffries and R. Gamble won their game of doubles, while the rink of H. R. Martin, C. Grant, Judge S. Smoke and H. Freeman did not fare so well. It is quite likely that the final round will be played at Peterborough some night this week—maybe Friday.

The "Family Hour" mixed rink tournament on Saturday night went over big—14 rinks competing. Just off-hand we think this is the biggest turnout yet. It does seem to be about as popular event as we have.

The winning skips were H. Northrop, G. Soulby and P. Moore.

How about an entry for the Black memorial mixed doubles tournament. The date, Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Station CJP returning to the air. No, not hot air! Just back from a two-week layoff and we could get used to that sort of thing every few months. Hundreds of Outboard Mariners and CGE-ers and others, starting back to work today, will feel likewise. But, as Bob Burns said, man was made to mourn. And someone else claimed men must work and women must weep. Well, anyway, we enjoyed our skimpy holidays, spending most of them up in the Jack's Lake and Loon Lake—some call it Chandos—district to the north of here. Wondering, but not too strenuously, of the vagaries of the elusive fish as we sat in the sun and gazed at the crooked reflection of the line in the water. A restful holiday.

Learned with regret of the death, during vacation, of two fine chaps, Ernie (Red) Legon and Herb Ralph. Played ball several years with the latter and later covered junior teams he managed. A likeable fellow, he helped develop such future stars as Ed Starr, Bun Kingdon, Les Burton, the Clark brothers and a lot more. A fine fellow. So was Red Legon, former COBL, ORFU and OHA ace, as well as being a good grid coach for PCVS teams during the 30s before moving to Ottawa. Yes, you are bound to miss chaps like Ernie and Herb.

Some OASA Dates

Mail piles up in a short time, and we had a lot to wade through this morn. One item of fairly immediate interest was the OASA bulletin on playdown draws. Our senior "B" winner must hit the provincial path against Oshawa on Sept. 4, while our intermediate "A" team—which means our local runner-up—goes against Kingston on Aug. 19. In intermediate "AA"—the industrial section—we meet the Oshawa-Kingston winner about Sept. 1, having a bye. Bob Crowe's juvenile "A" club goes to Kingston Aug. 21. Hastings is in junior "B" against Brooklin Aug. 17, while Omemee plays at Hastings in intermediate "C" on August 16, same date as East Northumberland is at Campbellford. More later.

Phoned Bert Bailey on arrival in Peter's borough last eve re the men's softball setup. He said Knights had edged Comstock's in a hot go Saturday to break the third place deadlock and put 'em in semi-finals. Against Legion, and they'll play Legion a twin bill tomorrow e'en at the Bowl. Also Thursday and on Sat'day, if necessary. Winner of this four-in-seven serial to go against B-A for the city championship. Comstock's being out now. Before the Saturday scrap, B-A had 14 wins and 10 losses, with Legion having 12 and 12, while Knights and Comstock's each had 11 and 13. So the redhot race ended up with the top team being but three games ahead of the bottom two, who were tied. Can't make 'em much closer, eh?

Girls Get Started

Two girls' games at the Bowl tonight, Lock Co. vs. Woollens at seven, followed by CGE against Marines. This nightcap is the first of the best-of-three semi-finals as an intermediate "A" winner must be ready for PWSU playdowns by Aug. 25. Victor of the semi-finals goes in against Westclox. On Wednesday, Marines tackle CGE again, with Lakefield playing Lindsay under the arcs. This latter number is the first of the two-in-three finals for intermediate "B", the winner having to be ready to hit the playdown trail by Aug. 18. No big hurry to declare a junior winner for playdowns, Prexy Dot Millar informs us. All the tussles are most important from here on in.

The up-and-coming Locos of Kingston came through with a 6-5 OBL win o'er the Petes here Saturday p.m., after edging Batawa rlier in the week and beating Oshawa 13-4 on Friday. They're ght in the race for a playoff spot and plenty hot at the moment. Petes are scheduled to play in Kingston tonight, if no change has been made in arrangements, as the schedule nears a windup. A four-run splash in the eighth tucked it away for Locos in a tight tilt which saw Crowe smashing out three for five, Starr two for five, and Foley a homer. Mulholland and Edger hurled on fairly even terms but the former had a bit better backing by his buddies. Top three clubs of this loop make the playoffs. Batawa beat Oshawa 12-10 Saturday.

Scarboro To Play

And at Miller Bowl over the week-end, the undefeated Petes' lacrosers yanked out a 12-6 verdict against Bucko McDonald's Huntsville bunch. Their 15th OLA senior "B" victory this season and they appear determined to hang onto their 1947 provincial crown. They play Scarboro Grads here tonight, it being Scarboro's "home" game, and the Creighton crew then goes to Oshawa on the morrow and has the tough Motor Citizens here Friday. Lou Vitarelli won the hat on Saturday with a good all-around performance, and the team as a whole clicked well. Locos Nose Out the Petes By 6-5 Count In Neat Tilt

By FRED MAYBEE

Kingston Locos defeated Peterborough here Saturday, in a twilight COBL fixture 6-5, behind the steady twirling of Sam Mulholland. Thus, the Locos trimmed both leading teams last week, beating Batawa Shoemen Thursday 8-4, to keep in the running for a playoff berth.

The Petes scored two in the second as Starr singled, advanced on Pagett's hit and scored as Crowe drove a hard one for his first of three hits, Edger walked and Pagett scored on Dalton's fielder's choice.

Petes added another in the third as Foley homered to deep right-centre and circled the bases like a chicken. Locos scored their first run in the fourth as Mulholland, Carnegie and McGregor singled successively, while Petes added one more in their half as Crowe scored on Foley's fielder's choice to Connor. Mulholland and Mackness each scored runs in the sixth and seventh respectively for their teams to give Petes a 5-2 lead going into the eighth.

Don McGregor opened the eighth with a single and as Ferguson fanned, Cosgrove singled and Kereluk scored both runners with a solid hit to right centre. Two more hits by Aitken and Udall scored Kereluk with the tying run and Aitken with the winner as it turned out, although Petes threatened in the ninth as Menzie hit safely after Starr went out. McRae was safe on a fielder's choice and Crowe singled but Walton struck out to end a nip and tuck struggle. Glyn Udall, Bud Aitken, Kereluck and Mulholland (who although he walked five men, twirled a fair game) looked best for Locos. Bob Crowe fielded well for Petes having three put outs and seven assists with one excusable error and he also made three solid hits. Starr had two for five. It was a tough defeat for Edger who twirled a fine game until the fatal eighth. Furthermore, his mates committed five errors behind him without which things might have been different. However, Locos worked hard, cashed in on their opportunities and deserved to win on their merits.

Lacrossers Rack Up 15th With Win Over Huntsville

Peterborough's Senior "B" lacrosse stalwarts racked up their 15th straight victory Saturday night at Miller Bowl before another large crowd as they downed Bucko McDonald's Huntsville warriors 12-6 in a fast, clean game. Referee Lou Vipond handed out only four penalties.

Bob Breakspear opened the scoring from Jack Foote. The pace was furious both ways for 11 scoreless minutes, featuring neat passing plays and fine defensive work by both teams. Finally, Chute, unassisted, made the count 2-0 to end the scoring in a clean quarter.

The visitors held even in the second stanza, Higgs and Snowden matching tallies by Dugan and Horton. The Petes added one to their margin as Dugan scored, and Jack Foote got two against a pair for the visitors in the third. The finale saw Huntsville weaken as Peterborough tossed five in the net against two by Kay.

For an all round, two-way effort throughout, Lou Vitarelli won the hat, while Jack Foote, with three goals and one assist stood out, as did Emmett Creighton, who played a fine game, scored a goal and assisted Dugan, who score three, on another. Hill was brilliant in goal. For the visitors, Kay, Snowden, C. Higgs and Tunney were best, with Jennings and Watt also good for the losers.

Royals Dump Giants Twice; Win 9 Straight

By The Associated Press

Instead of taking things easy, Montreal Royals continue to move at a blistering pace in the International League pennant race.

The Royals Sunday dumped Jersey Ctiy Giants twice to stretch their winning streak to nine games and maintain their league lead of 10½ games over Newark Bears.

Don Newcombe pitched the Royals to a six-hit 8-1 triumph in the opener and Johnny Van Cuyk came through with a seven-hit 32 victory in the nightcap. Newcombe's rumph was his 12th. Van Cuyk fanned 10 and failed to walk a batter in carving his eighth victory.

The Bears also took a doubleheader, nosing out the third place Syracuse . Chiefs, 5-4 and 2-1 Home runs enabled the Bears to take both games.

Rookie Hank Workman slugged a two-run four-bagger in the ninth win the first game for the Bears and Jack Phillips homered in the seventh and final inning to bring the Bears' victory in the nightcap. Lou Novikoff's round-tripper in the second inning accounted for Newark's first counter in the second clash.

Orioles Hit Again

Rochester's hustling Red Wings moved over Toronto Maple Leafs into fourth place, a half game behind Syracuse as a result of 4-3 and 3-0 triumphs over the hapless Baltimore Orioles who now have dropped nine straight games.

The first game went 10 innings with Ed Kazak singling home the winning run after two were out to give Bill Reeder his 13th triumph of the year. Rookie Ed Blake blanked the last-place Orioles on four hits in the second game.

The Leafs plummeted to sixth place, dropping a double-header to Buffalo Bisons 8-2 and 5-1 As a result the Bisons moved from sixth to fifth in the sharp battle for a first-division berth.

Coaker Triplett was the big gun in the Bisons' opening game triumph. The former major leaguer drove home five runs on two homers. Larry Barton and Manny Hidalgo also belted circuit drives for the Bisons.

Veteran Jake Wade scattered seven hits and helped his own cause with a four-bagger in checking Toronto in the finale.

6-Day Rifle Meet Opens At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Connaught ranges, ancient site of rifle meets, today was alive with a powerful roar of fire as an estimated 500 marksmen prepared to battle for rifle honors.

Competition on the first of a six-day meet appeared keen as it did in 1868, when the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association first opened activities at connaught.

Prominent in the battle will be this year's Bisley team entry which docked in Halifax a week ago.

But observers say the men to watch are two off the Canadian army—CSM. N. L. Beckett of Hamilton and Maj. Desmond T. Burke of Toronto.

Ginger Rogers Teams Again With Astaire

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 9 (AP)—Ginger Rogers still finds it hard to believe she is to dance again with Fred Astaire.

The strawberry blonde is currently rehearsing behind locked doors with Fred for "The Barkleys of Broadway." When I found her lunching in her dressingroom she expressed amazement over the whole business.

"It is one of those things you never expect to happen," she said. "Fred and I have long wanted to another picture together. We got hot on the idea while he was still in retirement. We thought we should do it at our Alma Mater, RKO.

"So we had a conference at R KO—Frey, myself, Irving Berlin and Dory Schary, who was head of the studio then. After two hours of talking, we came out enthused. Then we went home and thought it over. Nobody could get an idea for a picture."

Meanwhile, things began happening. Gene Kelly broke his leg and Fred came out of retirement to replace him in "Easter Parade." Then Judy Garland came down with an acute case of overwork and Ginger was summoned for the spot opposite Fred in "Barkleys."

Bears Up Well

I expected to find Ginger a mass of bruises and charley-horses, but she said she has borne up under the three weeks of practice.

The Astaire-Rogers team broke up just 10 years ago after "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle." They had done nine films together.

"It was by mutual agreement; there were no differences," she assured me. "We just decided it would be better if we tried it alone."

Indians Sweep Twin Bill From New York Yankees

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pace-setting Cleveland Indians may not win the American League pennant but they are virtually a shoo-in to cop the attendance prize this year.

In fact, only an unexpected slump at the gate in the final two months will prevent Bill Veeck's pennant-hungry club from breaking the season attendance record of 2,265,512 set by New York Yankees in 1946.

Sunday's turnout of 73,484 which watched the Indians sweep a doubleheader from the Yankees 8-6 and 2-1, increased the Tribe's total to 1,718,387 fans for 50 home games.

The double victory enabled the Indians to take an .006 percentage point lead over Philadelphia Athletics, who defeated St. Louis Browns 7-5 in a single game.

In losing, the third-place Yankees slipped to two full games off the pace, a half-length in front of Boston Red Sox who divided a doubleheader with the White Sox in Chicago. The Red Sox won the opener 8-1 but lost the second 2-1 in 11 innings. In the other American League twin bill, the Tigers took two from Washington in Detroit 5-3 and 6-5.

Gain Ground

St. Louis Cardinals gained some ground in the National League race, winning two from the Phillies in Philadelphia 4-1 and 4-3 to take undisputed possession of second place, four games behind the front-running Boston Braves.

The Braves whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in Boston to retain their 4½-game margin over the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who overwhelmed Cincinnati 10-2 at Ebbets Field. The fourth-place Giants split with Pittsburgh in New York, winning the opener 6-2 but dropping the nightcap 5-4.

Eddie Robinson cracked three more home runs to capture the batting laurels in Cleveland. The hard-hitting Tribe first baseman slugged two round-trippers in the first game.

Satchel Paige, who pitched the eighth and ninth innings except for the last batter, was credited with the Cleveland victory in the first game, his third triumph of the season.

A four-run uprising in the seventh featuring a two-run double by Hank Majeski helped the A's defeat the Browns. Dick Fowler, who hit a home run in the third inning, was credited with his 11th victory against three defeats, but needed help from Bubba Harris in the eighth.

Gain Split.

Luke Appling's 11th inning fly scored Floyd Baker from third to give the White Sox a split [illegible] working for the first time since sore arm shelved him 12 days ago.

After Murray Dickson, with the aid of Terry Moore's home run, had won his ninth game in the opener in easy fashion, the Cards had to stave off a ninth-inning rally to beat the Phillies in the nightcap. Stan Musial blasted his 27th home run.

Gil Hodges hit two home runs and Jackie Robinson one to lead the Dodgers to their easy triumph over the Reds. Hodges batted in five runs.

A crowd of 41,527 saw the Braves' Bill Voiselle rack up his 12th victory and his fourth over the Cubs.

An error by Johnny Mize on a thrown ball by pitcher Ray Poat in the ninth inning allowed Stan Rojek to reach first and Ed Stevens to score with the run that broke a 4-4 tie to give Pittsburgh the second game victory over the Giants.

Oshawa Merchants Bow To Batawa 12-10

OSHAWA, Aug. 9. — Oshawa Merchants lost a good chance to break their third-place tie with Kingston Locos in the Central Ontario Baseball League race, when they yielded a five-run rally to Batawa Shoemen here at Alexandra Park on Saturday afternoon and lost the decision 12-10.

Charge Moose Being Shot Left In Woods

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 9 — Declaring that stocks of game and fish in Algoma district are being depleted to an alarming extent, the Sault Ste. Marie branch of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters Friday called for immediate steps to remedy the situation.

"The public does not realize how fast these stocks of fish and game are depleting and in a matter of a few years there may not be any game and fish," Chester Bell, local representative of the Soo branch of the Ontario association said. The Soo unit will press for action in connection with the conservation of moose.

"Moose are being shot out of season and being left in the bush," Mr. Bell charged. "This is due mainly to the lack of game wardens and we are going to plug for more wardens at the annual meeting of the Ontario association to be held in Sudbury."

Mr. Bell alleged that "numerous planes are coming into Canada from the United States and operators are taking catches of fish and game over the legal limits by failing to report at the customs on their way back to the States." He urged immediate steps to check this. "We must stop this, somehow," he said.

In an attempt to curb poaching in this district 30 members of the Soo Hackle Club have been appointed deputy game wardens to work with conservation officers. The local branch of the Anglers' and Hunters' Association will ask for a change in the rainbow season in international matters, correspond with Michigan seasons, a one-buck law and a change in the duck season.

Liberal Party Endorses Tax Proposals

By WILLIAM WILSON

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 — (CP). — The Liberal party has endorsed the government's Dominion-provincial tax proposals.

One of the resolutions adopted Saturday at the party's national convention urges the government to stand by the offer it made to the provinces in 1945.

The resolution, accepted after short debate, was moved by Premier Garson of Manitoba and seconded by Attorney-General Large of Prince Edward Island.

The proposals the Federal government put forth three years ago cover a wide field and are dependent on over-all agreement with the provinces on taxation matters. The general agreement has not been reached, although seven of the nine provinces have signed taxation agreements with the Federal government.

Refuse to Sign

Quebec and Ontario have refused to sign. The Federal government said after the 1945 conference broke up that the proposals placed before it were still its objective, but could not be implemented until "all or most" of the provinces signed agreements.

In the proposals themselves the Federal government offered to pay $30-a-month pensions to persons over 70 regardless of means, share the cost of pensions to needy persons over 65 with the provinces and pay the major cost of a national health insurance program. It also offered to help the provinces with the development of resources and contribute to municipal or provincial public works which would be timed to provide employment in periods of business recession.

The proposals were dependent on the provinces agreeing to give the Federal government exclusive use of the personal income corporation and inheritance tax fields in return for annual payments based on population.

New Labor Code Effective Sept. 1

OTTAWA, Aug. 9—(CP).—The new Federal labor code, revising machinery for handling disputes in industry under Dominion jurisdiction, will become law Sept. 1, it was learned Saturday.

The code, adopted at the last session of parliament after much controversy, will control labor relations in such industries as railways, communications, shipping and other inter-provincial activities.

The 10-man Canada Labor Relations Board that will administer the code will be headed, it was learned, by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor of the Alberta Supreme Court, who had acted as conciliator for the Federal Labor Department in several important labor disputes.

It will include representatives of labor and management, as well as civil servants. Proclamation of the law, it was understood, was held up while the Government received nominations from various organizations.

Besides setting up machinery for handling disputes in Federally-controlled industry, the code also makes provision for transferring industries from Provincial to Federal jurisdiction where the provinces signify they want this done.

T. L. C.

There is considerable speculation here that Frank H. Hall of Montreal, the scrappy and canny vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, may go gunning for the job of president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Hall recently emerged into the national limelight as the tough and skilful negotiator who masterminded a 17-cents-an-hour wage increase out of the railways. He headed the negotiating committee of 18 international unions that wrung out that boost for their 112,000 men.

Last week, he made it plain he does not like the way the TLC is being run—at least, in the way it is taking up the cudgels for the Canadian Seamen's Union in its battle with lake shipowners. Hall calls that a political fight, this because of the claim that Communists in the CSU are working for political ends.

Prices

On the basis of their first two days of public hearings the Royal Commission on prices will go through its work much faster than the Commons committee which probed the same field during the last session of Parliament.

The Commission has spent two days investigating the cost of fertilizers and its counsel, H. A. Dyde, is confident that three more days of public hearing will clean up the subject. Investigation of a major commodity took the Commons Committee a month in most cases, and lesser investigations usually occupied a fortnight.

CLEAN UP YOUR CAMP SITES

One of the saddest sights to greet a tourist is an untidy camp or picnic spot. It's not only unsightly, but unsanitary as well. In the public interest, be sure to clean up before breaking camp. Bury or burn all refuse and waste paper. It's a good habit to acquire . . . one that each of us expects of others. Consideration for others is a sound way of showing your own "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Burglars Enter Grocery Store

Leaving three ways of escape open to them before proceeding with their work, burglars made off with $33 cash from the till of Sedgwick's grocery store at Downer's Corners Saturday night. The break-in was discovered about 11 o'clock by Keith Sedgwick. A dresser-drawer in the resident section of the building had also been ransacked. Some packages of cigarettes had also been taken.

They broke in at either the side window or a side door, police found. The back door had also been jimmied open. Evidently, the intruders were taking no chances at being caught without a way out.

Provincial police are investigating.

Publicity Job Wins Praise For Travellers

A fine publicity job for the city has been done by one of the city's lesser-known clubs, the local branch of the Associated Canadian Travellers. This club has turned out an issue of the ACT Magazine and hotel directory, which deals this month with Peterborough, giving travellers information concerning the city.

On the cover of the magazine is an air shot of the city, flanked by pictures of the Lift Lock and Confederation Park. Editor for the Peterborough issue was Mel Johnston, who was assisted by Tom Church, Ed O'Brien, Earl O'Toole, Don Meredith, Nick Knapp, and Ken Robertson.

This issue of the magazine has been termed "the finest job of public relations by any ACT club in Canada to date" by the magazine's managing editor, Archie Kennedy of Calgary. Eight issues of the magazine have been brought out so far, and this month's is well laid out with pictures of the city and its scenery.

Some time in September, the club plans a draw for a $100 merchandise certificate, payable anywhere in Canada. Money raised by this draw will go to the funds for the Civic Arena. The club now has about 60 members and by fall expects to increase its enrolment to more than 75.

Dr. Donald Munro Lunches With New Liberal Leader St. Laurent Very Friendly

Dr. Donald Munro of Warsaw, dean of the Liberal party in this county, had an unarranged luncheon with Hon. Louis St. Laurent, the new national leader of the party, who was selected Saturday at the convention in Ottawa as successor to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. "Of course, we take our democracy for granted. I think we all realize that our political equality is one of our greatest assets and rights. There is a common touch among our people which was everywhere in evidence during the convention.

This is just a little illustration of our Canadian way of doing things, of getting along well together. I was having lunch at a table in the Coliseum the very first day of the convention. A man came and sat opposite to me.

I had never seen Mr. St. Laurent, except his pictures, and I wasn't thinking of him. I hadn't got around even to noticing my companion. After a few moments he looked toward me, and my badge that identified me.

"From Peterborough! Dr. Munro," and just then a man who knew the Minister of Justice came up, greeted him as Mr. St. Laurent, and of course I then realized who he was from my recollection of his pictures. And so we were introduced.

No Aloofness

It was a very casual way of being introduced, but it was also very natural, and that is what I liked so much about it. The man opposite me was Louis St. Laurent, and he had come and sat down opposite to me just as any of the delegates would do. A little experience like that brings home to you the real significance of democracy. No aloofness, no barriers, just friendliness man to man, and in political effect all equal on the same plane. We take our democracy so much for granted that we hardly realize its best features.

The Minister of Justice talked to me just as anyone else would, as men do when they meet for the first time, topics like the big attendance for the first day of the convention and so on. The fact that he was in the field as a candidate for party leadership wasn't mentioned. My impression of Mr. St. Laurent was that he is a very fine man, a man of sincerity and kindliness and dignity, apart from his abilities.

I did not let my luncheon with Mr. St. Laurent influence me when it came to voting. I did my best to sum up who would be most capable in the position as leader of the Liberal party who might be elected Premier of Canada. You remember that Canada has reached a new place among the nations. As a voting delegate you must try to get the national viewpoint, the problems of Canada as a whole, our relations with the United States and Great Britain and other countries. You think of the disturbed conditions of the world. You chat around trying to get opinions and angles to help you.

The more I did that the more I was convinced that my vote should go for Mr. St. Laurent. He has acquitted himself well in the federal cabinet. He has had valuable experience, and there isn't any doubt about his ability. He impresses you that he would be at home among any group of statesmen. I don't think the delegates made a mistake in picking him as the new leader of the Liberal party.

As for Mr. King I thought that the wonderful demonstration of tribute that was paid to him was ample reward for any man for service and sacrifice and all that he did and gave for the party and his country. I think Mr. King felt that way about it. For me, the convention was a great event, and I would like to say to our young Canadian people that they must try to realize to the fullest [illegible] preserve it as a great treasure in freedom that has come down from our British forefathers, something we must guard and preserve for the generations coming after us."

City Pays Debt To N. Monaghan

The city is about to square its account with the Grove School trustees of North Monaghan.

The council has directed City Treasurer A. S. Couper to draw a cheque for $16,190.53 payable to the school board, carrying out the agreement of May 14, 1947, when annexation of that new south end of the city was proceeding.

The amount represents the school section's equity in the new school now a property of the Board of Education. The ratepayers had paid that much of the expenditure by an issue of debentures. Payment of the rest of that debt was transferred to the city in its acquiring of the township school.

Mayor Ovens said today this was the end of the city's payments to Monaghan as a result of annexation. Other loose ends of settlement have been gathered up.

Peterboro Pair Fined For Assault

HAMILTON, Aug. 9—(CP)—Harry Dunning, 26, and Helen Murray, 27, both of Peterborough, and Keith Dunning, 23, of Hamilton this morning were found guilty in magistrate's court of assaulting police officers on July 25.

Miss Murray, whose offence was that she placed the lighted end of a cigaret in the palm of Constable Gavin's hand, will pay a fine of $40 and costs or go to jail for one month.

Harry Dunning, found guilty of assaulting Constables Gavin and William Slack, when he was told to move along, will pay a $75 fine and costs. Two months in jail was the alternative. Keith Dunning, who his worship contended, really had some right to the sidewalk and would only need to have told the officers that he had a car parked, was fined $40 and costs.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT GLASS of Hastings, are shown after their wedding ceremony on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peck, Bridge St., Hastings; at left, they are leaving the home for a wedding trip to Toronto and, right, Mrs. Glass signs the marriage register. Mrs. Glass, formerly Fileen Marian Olivia McLelland of Belfast, Northern Ireland, came to Canada following an air mail romance, neither party having met the other until her arrival in Hastings two weeks ago.

Charming Irish Colleen Wed At Hastings After Courtship By Letter

HASTINGS, Aug. 9. — And so they were married, Robert Glass of this village and Eileen McClelland of Belfast, Ireland, whose romance was begun and developed in correspondence. Its progress has already been related, from the very inception of the groom's attraction inspired by a picture in a Belfast paper. Letters were exchanged and one sentiment led to another, or the expression of the same feeling, and Saturday it was sealed with pledges of lifelong fidelity and devotion.

The marriage ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peck by the Rev. Canon C. R. Spencer, Uniting Eileen Marian Olivia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClelland of Belfast, Ireland, to Robert Paterson Miller Glass, son of Mr. Robert Glass and the late Mrs. Glass of Londonderry, Ireland.

The house was suitably decorated with pink streamers, white bells and flowers. The bridal party descended the stairs to a record of the Wedding March.

The bride, given in Marriage by Mr. Walter Peck, looked lovely in a powder blue dressmaker suit, white silk blouse with a lace yoke, a three-strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom, a white and pink straw hat trimmed with flowers and shoulder length veil, a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. Walter Peck was matron of honor in a black pin-striped tailored suit, a white sheer blouse, black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Edwin Bray of Hastings.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Bray's restaurant. Flowers adorned the three-tiered wedding cake set in the middle of the bride's table.

Mr. Edwin Bray read the telegrams of congratulations from Ireland to the bridal couple.

After reception they were taken by car to Norwood, the bride carrying a dressmaker coat to match her suit. They left Norwood by train for Toronto on their honeymoon.

They will live in their newly-decorated home on Bridge street in Hastings.

Woman Writer Deftly Pictures Life In Quebec

By The Canadian Press

A gay and humorous story of a poverty-stricken French-Canadian family is material for the Oxford-Cromwell award-winning book, "Truthfully Yours" (Oxford) by Angeline Hango.

Written in English in the first person, it reads as autobiography, but the dedication would suggest that the author's lively imagination has embroidered her experiences so that the book is a combination of fact and fiction.

With a charming father addicted to drink and frequent changes of job, and a resourceful mother determined to have her two daughters present a better front than their circumstances warranted, Angeline and her sister compensated to themselves by misrepresenting their background. Not a little of the fun in the story arises from situations their story-telling engenders.

The book is interesting for several reasons. It captures well the reactions of an emotionally sensitive girl to hte conflict between poverty and ambition. The descriptions of rural French-Canadian feasts and social occasions are heart-warming. Perhaps the most amusing part of the book describes Angeline's adoles-cent facility for falling in love with every man she saw.

"Truthfully Yours" is Mrs Hango's first novel, and was written in Montreal where she now lives with her husband and small son.

Born at Roberval, Que., and educated at private schools and convents, Mrs. Hango has lived all her life in the province of Quebec.

New Anthology

All nature lovers as well as devotees of the writing if Sir Charles G. R. Roberts will be pleased to learn of the publication of another anthology by this noted Canadian writer.

Wisdom of the Wilderness (Ryerson) is the fourth collection of Roberts' animal stories to be published in Canada. Originally brought out in the United States in 1896 and 1922, the stories were reprinted several times but have for many years been out of print.

These tales illustrate the author's facility for presenting the struggles of the wilderness in terms which give them an almost human quality. The efforts of the small creatures to protect themselves against their larger antagonists and the elements are described with a poignancy of feeling which should appeal to readers of all ages.

The rhythmic, almost poetic quality of the writing blends exquisitely with the natural setting of the tales. The black-and-white illustrations are by John A. Hall.

This book gives Roberts fans a chance to renew acquaintance with the great naturalist and writer who died in 1943, and offers others a representative sampling of his animal stories.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I have been pickle making and am very disappointed with some of the results. My sweet pickles shrivelled up when I put the vinegar on them and do not look nice, especially the whole gherkins. They are now about 2 inches from the bottom of the jars. I soaked these in brine overnight (about 15 hours) Should they be left longer than that, or is the brine too weak or too strong?

The dills shrunk a bit also but not like the sweet pickles. The [illegible] mixtures were all poured ing water. I also use the same method with butter beans and we like them very much; a few spices may be added if liked.

I will appreciate it very much if you can tell me what is wrong with my pickles. Can you tell me what is the usual strength for brine for pickles and should it be hot or cold. (I used mine lukewarm.) What makes some pickles so nice and green and crunchy. Do you have a good recipe for whole sweet gherkins?

Thank you very much for your trouble and I would like you to know that your column is the first thing I look for in the paper.

"The Dinner Maker."

SWEET PICKLES by Dinner Maker (to be corrected):

Brine: 8 cups lukewarm water 1 cup salt, ¼ teaspoon broken alum. The cucumbers, chunks and whole ones, were soaked about 15 hours, then rinsed in clear cold water, drained and packed in sterile jars. The jars were stood in hot water and boiling hot syrup poured over the cucumbers. Then jars were sealed.

Syrup: 6 cups white vinegar 6 cups white sugar. Tie in muslin 3 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon tumeric, ¼ cup broken stick cinnamon. Soak the tied spices in 1 cup of vinegar over night, add to syrup when heating and remove when ready to use syrup.

DILL PICKLES by Dinner Maker (to be corrected):

For each 2-quart jars of washed cucumbers in sterile jars I used 1 cup vinegar, 3 cups water, ½ cup salt. Dill and 1 tiny pinch alum. This was poured over cucumbers while boiling hot, with jars standing in hot water.

Note: I was unable to obtain pickling salt and used boxed iodized salt for my pickles. I do not know if this makes a difference, Dinnermaker.

ANSWER: Since you are so interested in pickling you would be wise to do what the commercial picklers do—give all your cucumbers a 4-week brine cure.

Wash freshly gathered cucumbers of desired size, and do not use any with blemishes. They must be thoroughly clean. Make a 40 per cent brine, that is one that will float an egg just off the bottom of a glass—about ½ cup or 4 oz. salt to each quart water. Half as much brine is needed as the quantity of cucumbers you are pickling—for instance for a 10-gallon jar of pickles make 5 gallons of brine. Best temperature for brining is 75 deg. Fahr. but brine should be started from cold water—stir to dissolve salt.

Half fill crock with 40 deg. brine (above) add washed cucumbers, and weigh down with heavy plate. Let cure for 4 weeks, adding ½ cup salt to top of plate at end of each week to maintain strength of brine.

To test for "cure" slice one cucumber—it will be olive green throughout if ready to remove from brine.

To "freshen" pickles soak in half and half mixture of white vinegar and water until they are just salty enough to be palatable. Then drain and they are ready to make.

Sweet Pickles

Four quarts brined and freshened cucumbers about 2½ to 3 inches long (see above). Pack into hot sterilized jars and cover with spiced vinegar made as follows: Tie 1 tablespoon each celery seeds, mustard seeds and mixed pickling spices, and 2 hot red peppers in muslin bag. Mix 4 cups vinegar with 3½ cups sugar, drop in spice bag, and bring to boil and set aside to cool. Repeat this twice. Remove spice bag, pour cool vinegar mix over pickles, seal airtight and store in cool place.

I might add to those that too much vinegar and too much sugar will shrivel pickles. The brining overcomes both of these difficulties, for when the pickles are saturated with brine they cannot soak up the vinegar or sugar. I'd like to hear from you again on this subject.

Question: I always read your recipe column and was wondering if you could help me out with a recipe I'd like to get. Do you have a recipe for a tomato preserve my mother used to make? This was a long time ago. It is made with ripe tomatoes and she used to also put lemon slices in it. I would appreciate it very much if you could print me a recipe for the preserve. It is use similar to jam and is supposed to be quite thick when done. "One of your many recipe readers."

Answer: I think I have one that will answer.

Tomato Marmalade

Two quarts peeled, sliced ripe tomatoes, very thinly sliced lemons, 4 very thinly sliced oranges, 8 cups sugar. Mix all the prepared fruits, boil, stirring almost constantly for ½ hour to cook rinds and evaporate off some of the excess liquid. Add the sugar and boil ¼ hour longer or until mixture is of jamlike consistency—but continue stirring throughout. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

Tomato Preserves

Scald and peel 2 quarts ripe red tomatoes; heat to boiling point and skim. Add 4 lbs. sugar, pulp of 4 oranges and 2 lemons, and the juice, and grated rind of all these fruits. Cook together 1½ hours, stirring, then add ¼ cup chopped preserved ginger. Cook until thick enough for jam, stirring. Seal at once in sterile jars.

Wise Mother-in-law Realizes Sons' Wives Take First Place

DEAR MISS DIX: There would be no mother-in-law problem if mothers would realize that no grown man NEEDS a mother, and that the whole relationship of mother and son changes when the child becomes an adult. There is affection between them, but no longer the appealing dependency so dear to the mother's heart. She sees that in herself and her contemporaries, but she is loath to admit it when it happens to her.

Dorothy Dix

Junior is still her little boy, but he is his wife's "big moment," so there should be no conflict there, and there would not be if Mother would let the grownup Junior go and keep her memories of her baby boy locked in her heart.

My three sons very occasionally come to me for advice. I give it when asked, but never voluntarily. As a result their wives are friendly and cordial, but none of us pretend there is a mother-daughter relationship between us. My theory is that having had a long and delightful reign as Mother I must now abdicate and be a friend.

I am first with my hubsand, so it is only fair that my sons' wives should be first with theirs. "To have, to hold, and in time let go," as a poet has said, is the right way, the fair way.

CORNELIA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I wish that every mother of a baby boy would paste this article on her mirror where she would see it every time she put on her makeup, for it is the finest exposition I have ever seen of the relationship that should exist between a mother and her son.

End Feuds

And it would settle, once and for all, the mother-daughter-in-law feud that has wrecked so many marriages and broken up so many homes and caused so many barrels of tears to be shed. For there is neither decency nor reason in perpetual fighting between a man's mother and his wife. And it could be so easily avoided if only mothers could be brought to realize that when their sons grow up and marry they enter upon a new life, instead of being tied to Mama's apron strings.

The writer of this wise letter signs it "Cornelia." In the beautiful old story Cornelia said that her children were her jewels. The children of this Cornelia may well say that their mother is their Kohinoor.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am going with a fellow who claims that he is very much in love with me, but he is always borrowing money from me and never returns it. He has a good job and makes good money, but spends it fast and foolishly. He knows that I think an awful lot of him and that I will give him money without his asking twice. He has formed a habit that every time we go out together, which is four nights a week, I have to furnish the money.

What do you think of a man like this?

PUZZLED GIRL

ANSWER: You don't need to be puzzled about what kind of a chap your boy friend is. He is a deadbeat of the most repulsive type, and why you have anything to do with him, I can't imagine.

Have enough gumption to realize that when a man loves a woman he tries to protect her. He doesn't hold her up and make her pay for his good times. He is the one who gives, not the one who takes. Whenever a man borrows money from a woman without making any effort to repay it, it bet that he is spending it on some

New Look Slumps Shorter Skirts Seen This Fall

PARIS, Aug. 8 ((Reuters). — Paris designers all agree—skirts are going up again.

Jacques Fath places his at 14 inches from the ground. Jacques Gridde's skirts are pretty well steady at 12 and Jacques Heins are about an inch shorter.

Robert Piguet's range from 10 to 14 inches. Molyneux has raised his strictly tailored models to 15 inches and even Christian Dior, the grand maestro, swings several numbers a good 16 inches from the ground.

But the designers themselves have created an open season on silhouettes and it has become obvious that you can stick to your favorite fashion and still be in the swim.

Fashion experts, in Paris to tell the waiting world news about what "she" will wear or what "he" will sell, are experiencing a vague feeling of restlessness and lost control.

Christian Dior, the man who made the New Look, is fighting for it in the Paris autumn dress shows with all the skill and magic of a great designer.

Every other house has shown the sophistication of the directoire styles, but Dior keeps the natural waistline. His models are younger and flightier than ever.

The most general and newest trend is the directoire. Both Jeanne Lafaurie and Carven claim inspiration with "Napoleon's return from Egypt."

Robert Piguet also bases his collection along Empire lines, but modifies the high bust and makes the silhouette wearable and practical.

Molyneux uses the high line of the period in evening dresses only. Worth hails the return of the natural silhouette with a slight piquant touch of the 1920's.

Jacques Heim is another advocate of the natural silhouette and uses much less material. He also likes a touch of the '20's—drops belts below the waist line and buckles them over the hip.

Fath has hobbled his manequins down to a three-inch stride. His waists are natural and his models have a definite 1925 flavor.

But Dior — ever contrary — presents a silhouette he claims was designed under the sign of the wings. He advocates return of the natural waist and accentuates sloping shoulders by placing a fold of material across the back and down the sleeves that carries out his theme. The stiffening makes the folds rise and fall as the arms move.

GOOD LOOKING outfit ready for campus days, or for wardrobes not to be devoted to higher learning, is shown above in beige wools dyed to match . . . the yarn for the machine knit sweater, thte flannel for the skirt. The hand detailed pattern on the front of the sweater uses a diamond motif picked out with black yarn. Chunky gold jewelry and big neckerchief are accessories.

Need Revival Of Christianity Bishops Told

LONDON, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Most Rev. Cyril Garbett, the Archbishop of York, told 600 Anglican Bishops Sunday that the world needs a Christian revival to help civilization weather the crisis of the atomic age.

Crowding Westminster Abbey to hear Dr. Garbett call for the "uncompromising preaching of Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour" were most of the church leaders who, for almost a month, have been participating in the Lambeth Conference.

Sunday's service was the final worship of the conference, and the sermon was a parting word to the bishops before their return to their dioceses in all parts of the world.

A fanfare by trumpeters as the Royal Horse Guards in gold brocade Tudor tunics, top booted, spurred and carrying swords, began the closing service of the conference in Westminster Abbey.

The bishops have been discussing world and domestic problems on which an encyclical letter will be issued in about 10 days. They had not met for 18 years and are not due to meet again for another 10.

Time of Stress

Dr. Garbett said that "with the discovery and use of the atomic bomb, we live more nearly in the spiritual atmosphere of the first Christians, who expected at any time the end of the world."

"Within a few years," he continued, "our civilization may pass away. Now, therefore, is the hour of crisis; before it is too late we must preach the gospel and bear our witness; now we must repent and call others to repentance before the door of opportunity is shut."

Saying that "Christianity now is the religion of a minority and its doctrine and moral teachings are repudicated or neglected," Dr. Garbett pleaded for Christian unity.

"Most earnestly we must continue to pray and work for the day when all Christians are united into one holy, Catholic and apostolic church," he said.

"We see more plainly than our forefathers the scandal and weakness of a divided Christendom."

Marmora Grocer H. Burwash Dies

MARMORA, Aug. 9—(ENS)—The death occurred at his summer home, Crowe Lake, on Aug. 5, of Herbert Arthur Burwash at the age of 54.

He was stricken with a heart condition about two years ago from which he apparently made good recovery. This past week however he had a recurrence. On Thursday evening he became worse and failed to rally.

He was the son of Mrs. Stephen Burwash and the late Stephen Burwash of Baltimore, Ont., and had been a resident of Marmora for about nine years taking over the groceteria formerly operated by Stewart Blake.

He was an elder of St. Andrew's United Church, a public school trustee and a member of Marmora AF & AM 222. He was also a member of Marmora Branch No. 237, Canadian Legion, having served in the Canadian Artillery in the First World War with the rank of lieutenant.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Violet Bray; one daughter, Mrs. Ellery Stubbs (Audrey), Sarnia; his mother, Mrs. Stephen Burwash, Baltimore; three sisters, Catharine, Alice and Mrs. Chris (Caro) Baltimore and two brothers, Harold, Agincourt and Wilfred, Baltimore.

Under auspices of Marmora AF & AM 222 the funeral service was held at St. Andrew's United Church this afternoon. Burial was in the United Church Cemetery at Baltimore.

Her husband, the late John Speer, was a grocery merchant for 30 years in the store at the corner of Hunter St. E. and Driscoll Terrace, was a member of the session of Mark Street United church and of its choir for many years. Resort Booms Despite Order

PORT STANLEY, Aug. 9 (CP). —The Lake Erie resort was its old Sunday self yesterday, providing a surprise for a holiday crowd. Children travelled the merry-go-round and young and old bowled and played miniature golf as owners of amusement booths resumed Sunday operations.

Last Sunday Chief Ken Brockmeyer enforced closing of all amusement booths on orders from Crown Attorney E. W. Haines of Elgin County, who in turn said he was complying with the Lord's Day Act.

Proprietors of the rides and amusements, prohibited from opening on Sunday under the act, met Sunday and decided to open for business.

"We were told the police to close last Sunday," one operator said, "but our understanding was that the order applied to that day only."

Chief Brockmeyer, when queried by reporters, said it was his day off. Crown Attorney Haines said he had no comment.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

ADD TO 13 TWO WAYS

A superstitious person who considers thirteen an unlucky number should, if consistent, feel that the United States, which began with an original thirteen, and likewise should shy away from contract bridge. For in that great game, a fine player must constantly keep the magic number in mind. Efficient planning of the play, on either offense or defense, requires repeated adding to thirteen on two entirely different kinds of items. One is the thirteen cards of particular suits, the other is the thirteen tricks to be taken by one side or another. He who won't add to thirteen on these is sunk.

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable).

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ♦	2 ♥
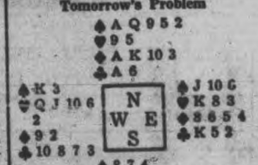
5 ♣	5 ♥	Dbl.



That contract would never have been made except for the laxness of East, who refused to count up to thirteen when the fate of the whole business hung in the balance.

He scored his club K and Q, then put forth the A, since he noticed that West had discarded a diamond and therefore was in position to ruff after the dummy. The declarer used the heart A to ruff the trick, and if would have required considerable player in the West to over-ruff that.

North then buzzed back and trumped the spade 2 with the heart 2, diamond 6 with the heart 5, spade 3 with the heart 10, diamond 9 with the heart 6, spade 6 with the heart J, diamond J with the heart 7, next led the heart 9 to the K, scored the Q to clear out the last defense trump and then cashed the diamond K and club J. The diamond honor had become set up when the third diamond ruff caused the fall of East's A.

East should have counted to thirteen in a simple orderly way. North, after the second club trick, was marked with an original four clubs. If West, lacking the diamond A, had the probable six of that suit, North had four. If North had the probable five hearts, he was blank in spades. With that lineup, a trump lead would have left declarer only nine tricks with his trumps, plus a probable diamond K. The needed trick for the contract could never be set up unless the lead of a club honor made the J good.

Tomorrow's Problem

What line of thought should tell East the suit to lead against North's 5 spades, normally bid?

The Heavenly gates were open
And a loving voice said come.
God knows how much I miss him
He counts the tears I shed
And whispers he only sleeps
Your loved one is not dead.
If all the world were mine to give
I would give it, yes and more
To see the face of my dear son
Come smiling through the door.
—Sadly missed by mother, Emma Taylor.

We will meet him there.

Marmora Legion Holds Annual Decoration Day

MARMORA, Aug. 9—(ENS)—With Major Percy Gray, ED, in charge, the annual Decoration Day service under the auspices of Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion was held on St. Paul's Church lawn on Sunday afternoon.

Led by Havelock Kiltie Band and the color parties of Marmora Branch No. 237 and Frankford Branch No. 387 the parade of approximately 60 marched from the Legion Hall down Forsythe St., then along Mathhew and Burstall streets to the church lawn. Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, chaplain in charge of the service and Mrs. L. R. Rundle, organist of St. Paul's was accompanist on the piano for the hymns. "Abide With Me" having been sung, prayer was offered by Rural Dean Brownlie. Rev. George D. Young of St. Andrew's took scripture readings prior to giving an appropriate address. He told his hearers that in his remarks he would seek to interpret the meaning of such a service as they were gathered for. The service was an occasion to pay tribute to those who had departed. In the paying of this tribute they were crowded with memories. The power to remember was one of the best gifts of God to man. The occasion provided a background for men to rethink the ties of comradeship, friendship and kinship. Referring to human life, the speaker said that a realization of the brief span of mortality is not possible without memory. So hearts pulsate in tune with the hearts of those who have gone before. We are facing a chaotic atomic civilization and so we should seek to use the disciplines we have known. It is getting to the core and centre of truth that allows a man to go into his world and come out of it without fear or any sense of death.

The parade was then continued to the Sacred Heart Cemetery where flowers carried by half of the comrades were deposited in an open space around a wooden cross. Rev. Father R. C. Pickett who is in charge of the parish during absence on holiday of the parish priest, Rev. H. J. Farrell, welcomed the parade. He spoke of the soldier as being a fine type of man and that the letters forming the word "Soldier" spoke to him of things affecting a soldier's life. There were the sacrifices which he had to make, the orders he had to obey, the life he must live, the death he must die, the injuries he would receive, the enemy he must fight and the rights he was entitled to. Father Pickett read the list of those buried in the cemetery whose grave were marked with a small Union Jack and where in each case, a comrade was posted for the duration of the ceremonies. Also included in the list were those who lie buried in far away cemeteries. Prayers of the church were offered for their souls.

Last Post and Revellie were sounded by Robert Sanderson, with the intervening two-minute silence. The Protestant cemetery was next visited where the same ceremonial was carried out. Rural Dean Brownlie read the names and offered prayer. Before the parade moved off Major Gray announced that it was the 25th year for a decoration day ceremonies to be held. He also stated that it had been drawn to his attention by an old resident that five veterans of the Fenian Raid were buried in Marmora.

At the Sacred Heart Cemetery was the grave of Hugh Shannon, and at the Protestant Cemetery those of William Hunt, James McCoy, H. M. Jones and William Knox. On future decoration days these old veterans' graves would be included in those marked for remembrance. The parade then continued to the Memorial Hall where wreaths were placed beneath the two memorial tablets by Reeve Vincent M. Lynch of Marmora and Comrade W. J. Cottrell. Last Post and Revellie were also sounded here. The parade was later dismission at the Legion Hall. In addition to those of the local branch, Legionnaires were present from Frankford, Campbellford and Havelock. The names of departed comrades remembered are:

Man Takes Own Life Found By Neighbors

Twenty-seven-year-old Charles Weaver of 734 Young St., whose death occurred during the week-end, is believed by police to have committed suicide. The man's body was found Sunday morning by children playing near McKellar St. They reported their find to a neighbor, who telephoned police. PC's Claire McGillen and William Scott removed it shortly after noon.

The body was found strapped by its neck to a small tree located about 66 feet from the travelled part of McKellar St. Weaver's belt had been used to form a loop around his neck and around the tree. He was in a kneeling position when found dead.

Police learned that the young man had been in an apparently depressed frame of mind Saturday night. Following a quarrel with his landlady, it is said he took a butcher knife up and rushed out declaring that he was going to commit suicide.

A butcher knife was found lying a few feet from the body.

Power Licked Himself Seven Years Ago

OTTAWA, Aug. 9—(CP)—By a light twist of irony, Hon. C. G. Power, third man in Saturday's vote for a new Liberal leader, actually licked himself, seven years ago.

It was Mr. Power who advised Prime Minister Mackenzie King to take Louis St. Laurent into the Cabinet.

Mr. King made that clear as he expressed "particular happiness" to the National Liberal Convention over its choice of Mr. St. Laurent as his successor in the party leadership. He told delegates a human, somewhat emotional story of how their choice changed into politics.

The prime minister confessed that the death in 1941 of "my dear friend," former Justice Minister Lapointe, produced "the most anxious moment of all for me" during the entire war. Mr. Lapointe "had been to me a right-hand support through all the time that I had been leader of the party."

"When he passed away I felt that my time to give up had almost come."

However, while returning to Ottawa by train from the funeral, he asked then Air Minister Power, "will you tell me who is the first person to choose from Quebec to take his place." Mr. Power replied "without a moment's hesitation, 'The one man you should try to get is Louis St. Laurent'."

Mr. King immediately asked Mr. St. Laurent to meet him at Laurier House "about matters concerning the war. He had no notice whatsoever of what I intended to speak to him about."

London Papers Laud St. Laurent

LONDON, Aug. 9 — (CP) — The Times of London in an editorial today praised the election Saturday of Louis St. Laurent to leadership of the Canadian Liberal party and stressed the possibility of his succession to Mackenzie King as the Dominion's prime minister.

The new Liberal leader's position as minister of external affairs established him as by far the outstanding member of the party after his veteran predecessor in the leadership, the Times said, adding:

"Canada's associates in the British Commonwealth and beyond may view with unmixed gratification the prospects of St. Laurent's accession to the highest office.

"He identified his country with strategy of the North Atlantic union conceived as a plant of regional security within the framework of the United Nations.

"He seeks equally close relations with the United Kindom and Western Europe on one hand and with the United States on the other.

He can count on being accepted as an exponent of what a neighboring republic calls a bipartisan foreign policy."

Hint Plebiscite

ISTANBUL, Aug. 9—(AP)—Romanian refugees sources here said today Romania will decide in a plebiscite Aug. 23 whether to become a member of the Soviet Union. There is no means of confirming the story here, but there have been persistent reports that such a vote was contemplated. In elections last March 28, the Communist-dominated government bloc parties polled 92 per cent of the vote in Romania and won more than 400 of the 414 seats in parliament.

Young Liberals Force New Party Policies

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—(CP). — A major cog in the Liberal party's election-winning machinery — its platform—was geared for action today.

The platform, as adopted at the national convention concluded Saturday, ranged up and down the length and breadth of Canadian political issues. It took in just about everything.

A significant aspect of this first re-statement of Liberal policy since 1919 was that it contained a number of departures from Government policy, some of them forced on the convention by younger elements in the party.

Several of the divergences from the current Government line of thought were on major issues.

In the freight-rate controversy, the convention plunged headlong against Government policy in advocating a royal commission on the problem of transportation rates.

There was another collision between Government and party policy in the labor plank. The convention called for Government measures for union security and Government enforcement of labor laws. These precepts previously had been rejected by the administration.

Other Departures

A third departure in Saturday's platform-adoption was that of calling for federal subsidization of low-rental housing. The Government has been against subsidizing housing.

One more divergence—though to a lesser extent than the others—was in calling for abolition of court appeals to the Privy Council.

A major plank was that calling for a North Atlantic defensive alliance. The Government has been in favor of this, but up to now has been waiting for the United States to take the North American initiative.

On Dominion-provincial relations, the convention approved of the Government's current attitude—that is, it endorsed its 1945 fiscal proposals to the provinces and expressed the hope they would be implemented.

On the political front, it laid down the policies of four-year party conventions—the last one was in 1919—no coalition with any other group and opposition to socialism and communism.

It ran into some difficulties on the plank dealing with national unity, but eventually straightened that out. The delegates settled eventually for an "exclusively Canadian" flag.

Five Minor Cases Before Magistrate

There were only five minor cases before Magistrate Gee in court today, a small Monday morning score.

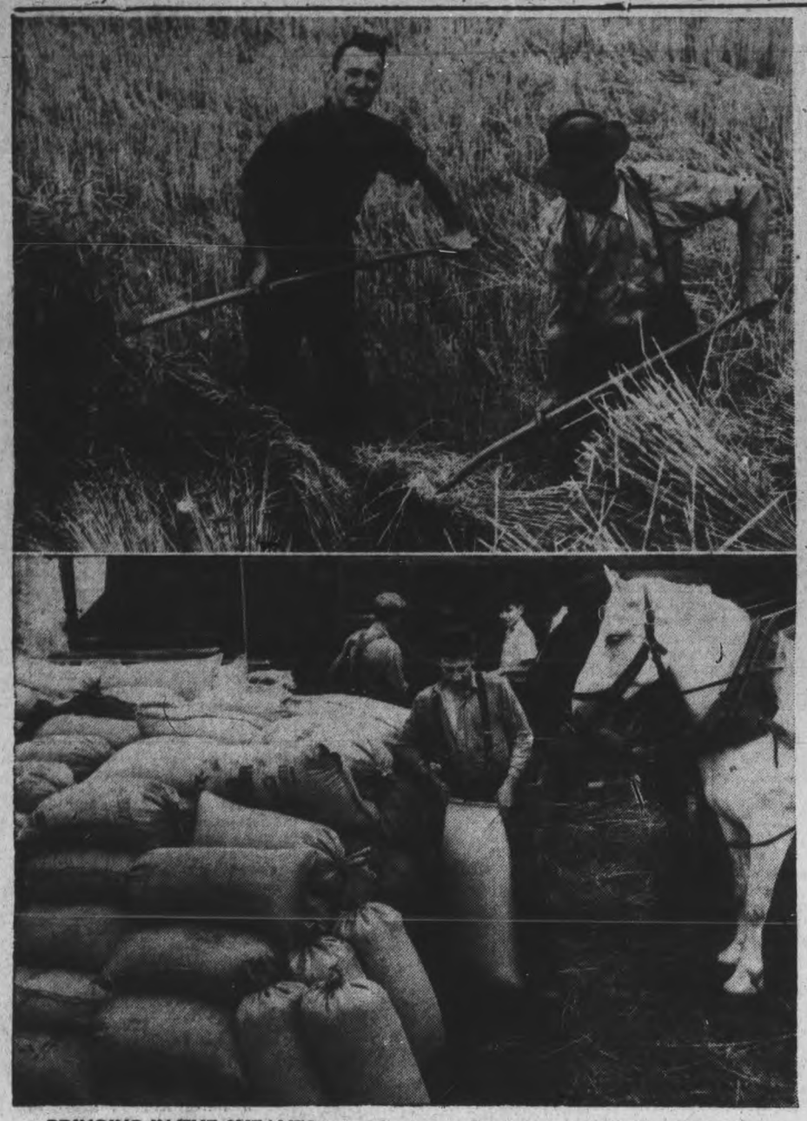
William Clancy, RR 6, Peterborough was fined $5 and $2.50 costs on his plea of being drunk in public as a second offender.

Harold Whaley, 335 McDonnel St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor.

William Weatherup, Port Hope, paid $5 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy.

Fined $10 and $2.50 costs for careless driving was Nelson Kerr, 68 Aylmer St.

Donald Delahaye, 852 George St., was fined $5 and $2.50 costs for illegally passing another car on the highway.



The charges against the four city garage operators for violating the new closing hours bylaw has been adjourned again to Aug. 17. New informations were read by Magistrate A. E. Gee. The four accused, all represented by W. J. A. Fair, pleaded not guilty to the charges.

They are Leo Burke, charged with a violation July 24; Albert Bianco, charges on the 24th and 29th; John Russelle, charges on the 24th and 29th; and John and George Thompson, charges on the 24th and 29th.

Fined $50 And Costs

John J. Grose, 416½ George St., was fined $50 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate Gee in court today, on his guilty plea to a charge of indecent exposure.

BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES is in full swing throughout the district and a bumper crop is anticipated. Gone are the methods of cradling and flailing grain; indeed, stooking, pitching and threshing may soon be things of the past, in a few years, as combines complete the operation with a minimum of cost and handling. Shown above, TOP LEFT, Kenneth Windover, Left, and William Hooton, Cavan township, pitch sheaves to the waiting wagon. LOWER LEFT, filling and bagging wheat beside their threshing mill are Mr. Hooton's sons; part of their heavy harvest is shown in sacks to the left. At RIGHT, the modern method of combining the crop on the Lewis Staples farm, Cavan, shows Harry Kennedy's combine in the Staples' field while a truck is being loaded with bagged grain in the foreground; the yield of Dawson's Golden Chaff fall wheat on this side of the six-acre field will run fifty bushels to the acre, the owner estimates.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9—A tax rate of 24.3 mills was struck for Rawdon Township at their August meeting.

The above rate consisted of a county tax rate of 16.5 mills; township 2 mills; special school tax 6.6 mills; township roads, 4 mills; Springbrook hydro for the incorporated taxpayer 2.5 mills; snow removal and equipment 2.5 mills and Federation of Agriculture .2 mills.

Charles Gordanier was recommended paid $25 township bounty for one wolf which he had killed in the municipality.

A number of small accounts were ordered paid, including $13.80 to K. Vanhorn and $14.95 to Arnold Ray for weed spraying. The assessment roll for 1949 was accepted with the assessor's salary for $150 recommended paid.

A fee of $10 was ordered paid to the Ontario Municipal Association covering delegates' fees for the clerk and treasurer. Road voucher No. 7 totalling $959.94 was ordered paid while the Stirling Agricultural Society was granted $75 for their fair.

Special Congress Session Of No Value To Truman

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 — (CP).—President Truman called it a "turnip day" session when he called United States Congressmen back from their holidays to enact what he considered essential legislation.

But if the result of the special session is any augury of success for the Missouri farmers, they can look for a small turnip crop next fall.

Truman ordered the legislators back from their planned six-months holiday, gave them a long list of measures—and told them to make good on their plaform promises to enact such legislation.

He picked July 26 for the opening session and explained that in Missouri where he comes from that is turnip day, the date the farmers plant turnip seed.

About the only successful seed he planted in the Congressmen's mind was the administration's promise to lend the United Nations $65,000,000 to build their New York headquarters.

Congress, trying to lock up and go home tonight, passed the loan bill and was trying to complete a watered-down housing measure and some half-hearted anti-inflation regulations.

Bounces Back

One of Truman's "must" proposals had to do with racial segregation and fair employment practices as between whites and negroes.

That bounced back at him because the wily Republicans made this the first item of business and southern Democrats, who helped elect Truman and the late president Roosevelt in 1944, promptly talked it to death.

At this moment it would seem that Truman gained little political advantage by recalling Congress, but possibly lost a great political opportunity Thursday when he climbed aboard the wagon carrying those who oppose open hearings of evidence against alleged Communist spies in government service.

Truman's hasty, and somewhat angry criticism of the open hearings of communistic activities, coupled with his refusal to yield to Congress the confidential files on loyalty probes of those civil servants already named in spy charges, puts him in a bad position.

He is not expected to gain communist votes, and he may lose the votes of many who normally vote Democrat, because they fear communist infiltration in the government.

Crash Recalls Other Wrecks

DOUGLASTOWN, Que., Aug. 9—(CP)—The crash of a twin-motored transport aircraft into a rugged Gaspe cliff near here July 24 with loss of 29 lives, revived memories of other Gaspe disasters and recalled the cemeteries in which many foreign and native mariners rest, victims of the sea and Gaspe's cruel rocks.

Tended by villagers, the cemeteries, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, dot the rugged coastline. One of them is at Cap des Rosier, Gaspe North, where are buried victims of the wreck in which the large sailing vessel "Carricks of White Haven" was smashed on northern rocks in a storm about 85 years age.

Most of the several hundred Irish immigrants the ship was carrying perished and were washed ashore at Cap des Rosier. A monument in their memory was erected some years later by Montreal St. Patrick's parish.

Among other remembrances of sea disasters is a monument honoring victims of the sinking, May 29, 1914, of the Canadian Pacific Empress of Ireland, rammed by a Norwegian collier. The memorial stands among victims' graves in a little cemetery at Father Point.

Find Many B.C. Men Becoming Derelicts

VANCOUVER, Aug. 9 — (CP) —The News-Herald said in a front page story today that young men are rapidly filling the ranks of Vancouver's "human derelicts."

"They are known to police as "young canned heaters," the story said, 'from their living habits, a state of perpetual mental haze brought on by various forms of cheap, poisonous and easy-to-get medicines and household liquids containing alcohol."

The newspaper said the "derelicts" range in age "from the early 20's to 40," and move with the larger group of older men who range up to 70 years.

Believe Drew, Diefenbaker Run Race For Leadership

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL.

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 — (CP). — Some Progressive Conservative Party supporters are predicting that the party's leadership convention next month will develop into a nip-and-tuck battle between two men—Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, Saskatchewan member of the Commons.

Neither man has stated that he will accept nomination for the leadership post which John Bracken is giving up. But the supporters claim it is a foregone conclusion that they both will be nominated at the three-day convention—September 30, October 1 and 2.

Mr. Drew, 54-year-old lawyer and head of the only Progressive Conservative Government in Canada, is given an edge in pre-convention speculation. But it is not known whether he will accept the job.

Some of the Premier's close associates say they believe he would prefer to be head of a government in power, rather than leader of a party in Opposition in a field that he has never before entered.

Eight Years' Experience

Mr Diefenbaker, 52-year-old criminal lawyer, has had eight years' experience in the Federal House. He was first elected to th Commons in the general election of 1940 for the Saskatchewan constituency of Lake Centre.

He contested the party leadership in 1942 when Mr. Bracken was chosen to succeed Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, but he did not draw any major support at that time.

Since then, however, he has built up a reputation as one of the most forceful and colorful debaters in the Commons.

His supporters feel he would give to the party some of the zip and color that marked the lead-

Donald Fleming, 43-year-old Toronto lawyer, is also mentioned as possible candidate. Those who would favor him state that possibly he would be opposed because his experience in the Commons dates only from 1945.

Castle For Rent

PRUDHOE, Northumberland, England — (CP). — An 800-year-old castle and all medieval inconveniences is to let for £50 ($200) yearly. A Norman relic that barred the way to a Scottish king when he invaded England in 1774, the castle has only one snag. There's a £800 ($3,200) premium to pay before the tenant can move in.

Beautify Kruger Park

NELSPRUT, South Africa — (CP). — Plans will soon be underway to make Kruger National Park one of the world's most attractive show-places. It is proposed to redesign the rest camps, provide more accommodation, and improve roads.

Liberal Party, Government Collide On Freight Issue

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Aug. 9. — (CP).—The Liberal party and the Liberal government collided head-on Saturday over the dynamite-laden freight-rate issue.

The National Liberal convention called for a Royal Commission to investigate freight-rate grievances of the provinces.

The Government has been telling seven provincial governments it won't set up a commission.

But as the convention closed it found itself with a Royal Commsssion on "transportation" written right into the Liberal platform.

That put the government right on the spot, for the platform plank—while not coinciding exactly with the dissent provinces' demand — was embarrassingly close to it.

The provinces wanted a Royal [illegible] the whole rail problem. The party asked for one on the rate problem. In the final analysis, that is the kernel of the provincial request anyway.

The provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec — have been asking for a Royal Commission since the Board of Transport Commissioners granted a 21-percent increase to the railways in April. They wanted, too, a review of the Board's findings in that case.

Won't Interfere

The Government told them it would not interfere with the finding.

But party policy as written into the platform in the convention-adopted resolution also would include a review by the Royal Commission of the reasoning behind the award—thus giving another point to the provinces.

While the railway section of the resolution was its most controversial plank, it also called for action on other transportation matters over a wide front.

It asked completion of the Trans-Canada Highway, joint Canada-United States developments of the St. Lawrence waterway, development of the Canadian merchant marine and creation of a disinctive registry of Canadian ships.

Find Baby Abducted 10 Days Ago

Father Identifies Child Abandoned In Toronto Hospital

TORONTO, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Emerson Griffin of Hamilton today identified a baby boy abandoned Monday night at a Toronto hospital as his son who was abducted 10 days ago. However there was no indication as to when he would be re-united with the chubby, fair-haired 11-months-old youngster.

Griffin came to Toronto this morning and made the identification from a newspaper photograph. The baby is at the Toronto Infants Home where officials said they had no idea when the father would call to claim his son and take him back to Hamilton.

Meanwhile, police said they are confident they soon will arrest the girl they believe took the baby from the Griffin home and abandoned him Monday night when the search became too hot. They have trailed her from rooming house to rooming house and twice have nearly caught up with her.

Can't Reach Mother

At Hamilton, police said that so far they have not been able to reach Mrs. Griffin, the baby's mother who is estranged from her husband. Mrs. Edith Yokum, Griffin's sister, told newspaper men it was believed Mrs. Griffin was living "up north" but she did not know where.

Identification of the baby brings to an end a search which has kept police busy in Toronto, Hamilton, St. Thomas and other Ontario cities. However a search goes on for the girl who took him from his home.

The hunt started when little Anthony and a maid, known to the father as Linda Norman, disappeared simultaneously from the Griffin's Hamilton home. A note apparently left by the girl said the baby might never be seen again if police were called. It also said the girl would take good care of the baby and return him to his parents when he was grown up.

The girl and the baby were traced to Toronto and police established that the young woman lived in a rooming house here Aug. 2-6. Then a blue blanket, identified as the one in which the child was wrapped when last seen,

FIRE LEVELLED the main lodge of Holiday Inn, new summer resort on the south shore of Lake Kashakawigamog, Haliburton, on Monday. Sixty guests sleeping in cabins are getting their meals at nearby resorts, and the owner, Len Chapman, says his loss is $10,000 and rebuilding will start at once.

Resort Lodge Burned At Haliburton

HALIBURTON, Aug. 10 — Fire started in the Holiday Inn on near-by Kashagawigamog Lake, shortly before noon Monday, destroyed the main lodge and much of the equipment. Volunteer firemen from Haliburton under Chief Thomas Chambers, saved near-by buildings, but were unable to check the fire in the main lodge.

The lodge, owned by Ben Chapman, was not occupied when the fire started, and there were only about eight members of the lodge staff in the building. The fire was believed to have started from a stovepipe leading from the kitchen, and was discovered by chambermaids on their morning rounds.

Official estimate of the loss was set at $10,000, but it was felt a check would reveal greater losses. Records of the lodge were lost in the blaze. The building was comparatively new, and had been completed only about a year ago.

Minister Talks Too Loudly Fined For Disturbing Peace

PORT HOPE, Aug. 10—(ENS).—Judgment given Monday by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in connection with a charge against Rev. M. S. Winger, Pentecostal Assembly preacher, for breach of a town disturbance by-law, found the minister guilty and fined him $5 and costs or five days in jail.

Two weeks ago at the court hearing evidence was given by two town constables that Rev. Winger had shouted too loudly while preaching on the night of July 20 and that there had been a previous complaint from residents on Margaret Street where the revival service tent was located.

Sergeant Bert Warren and Constable William Smith testified that on July 16 it had been found necessary to warn Mr. Winger about the complaints and that on July 20 the situation was repeated. Charles Wheeler and Roy Hunt, who live on Margaret Street, gave evidence that on the night of July 20 the preaching was so loud that even with the windows and doors shut to keep it out, the noise could not be excluded.

The wording of the charge was

Canada Backs UK On Colonies

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Canada has virtually nominated the United Kingdom as administering authority for at least part of former Italian colonies now being prepared for disposal.

The Dominion has expressed her views on the disposition of Eritrea, Italian Somaliland and Libya in a submission forwarded to the Deputies of the Council of Foreign Ministers through the Canadian High Commissioner in London.

Only for the trust territory of Italian Somaliland did Canada indicate she approved of Italy being the administering authority.

The Dominion favored the United Kingdom as the administering authority for the control "of the portion of the highlands of Eritrea in which the majority of the people wish to be included in the Ethiopian empire.

For the former Italian colony of Libya, the government in a statement by the External Affairs Department was not prepared to say whether it should be established as a single trust territory or whether it should be divided into two separate trust territories of Tripolitania and Cyrenaica.

If a single trusteeship agreement for the whole of Libya is planned, Canada, the External Affairs Department said, would be disposed to support the choice of the United Kingdom as the administering authority.

3 Allies Hold New Conference

MOSCOW, Aug. 10—(AP). — Representatives of Britain, the United States and France met at the British Embassy again today, apparently to map their next move in the negotiations with Russia on East-West differences.

There were indications that still more conferences will be held by the three Western envoys with Soviet leaders.

Today's conference was more than just a friendly chat. The United States Ambassador, Walter Bedell Smith, took with him his Minister-counsellor, Foy D. Kohler, and his first secretary, Brewster Morris. Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy, had the British Charge d'Affaires, Geoffrey Harrison, and two secretaries with him. French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau was accompanied by two aides.

US Refuses To Hand Over Teacher To Russ Officials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — (AP).— The U.S. State Department and Congressional Spy investigators brusquely cold-shouldered today a formal Soviet demand the United States hand over a Russian school teacher who took his story to the Federal Bureau investigation.

The teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, stayed in hiding.

But the F.B.I. apparently knew where he was. So did the House of Representatives Un-American Activities committee, which the State Department has advised can serve a subpoena on the Russian woman school teacher currenily in the Soviet consulate in New York.

Press officer Michael McDermott told a press conference the State Department's legal division has given Acting Chairman Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.) of the House committee his opinion in answer to his request for an official ruling.

McDermott said the Russian school teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, "has no immunity at all. She is not a member of the ambassador's staff and is subject to our laws."

The committee wants to question the Samarins to see if they have any additional information about Russian intrigues in the United States.

Soviet Ambassador S. Panyushkin handed the State Department a formal note Monday demanding the teacher and his family "be given under the protection of the Consul-General in New York."

Panyushkin rushed back to the Embassy for a rare event there —a press conference. He charged "kidnapping," "blackmail," "sabotage" and "direct violation" of American-Russian obligations by United States government "organs."

A high oficial said Panyushkin was informed the proper authorities are investigating to determine the facts and will take the necessary steps "if there is any evidence of criminal action upon the part of anybody."

Girl 10 Badly Hurt

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10.—(CP).Ten-year-old Harriet Houlihan of nearby Codrington suffered serious body injuries when struck by an automobile on a country road late Monday. She was rushed to hospital for X-rays. Police said the little girl had just come out of the farm driveway on her bicycle and crossed the road directly in the path of the approaching car which was driven by Mrs. Charles Puffer of Morganston. Provincial Constable Coling of Brighton investigated.

Four Huddle In Cave As Bolt Hits

One Falls Over Cliff Two Of Others Stagger For Help

CRANBROOK, B.C., Aug. 10. —(CP).—Two University of California students today were recuperating in hospital here from a bizarre mountain-climbing experience which claimed the lives of two of their companions.

The four youthful Alpinists were struck by lightning Wednesday as they huddled in a small mountain snow and ice storm it for protection from a sudden mountain sonw and ice storm which h.t them high up on 11,-500-foot Bugaboo spear.

The reef is in the Purcell range of the Selkirk mountains about 150 miles north of here in interior British Columbia's Kootenay district.

Monday night reported "resting comfortably, slightly burned but otherwise all right" were Ann Strong, 20, of Berkeley, Calif., and John Mackinlay, 21, of San Francisco.

John Thune, first-aid director of the mountaineering party, said the dead were Rudolf Pundt of Berkeley and Bob Becker of Los Gatos.

The injured were brought to hospital here Monday and Thune gave this description of the tragedy as related by Mackinlay:

All the climbers were hit by the lightning and knocked unconscious. When Mackinlay revved, he saw Pundt writhing in convulsions at the cliff's edge.

As he watched helpless, Pundt rolled over the cliff and dropped about 1,000 feet to his death.

Becker was barely conscious, Mackinlay said, and partially paralyzed.

Mackinlay and Miss Strong, both badly burned, decided to try a descent. They left Becker in the cave with food beside him and his body tied to prevent his slipping over the cliff.

Mackinlay and Miss Strong got down safely, but the ice had become so dangerous the rest of the party couldn't climb to the cave until Saturday. They found Becker dead.

Post Morten In Bride's Death

DUTTON, Ont., Aug. 10—(CP). —Provincial Pathologist Dr. John H. Fisher of London, Ont., is conducting a post-mortem today to ascertain the cause of the sudden death here Monday of Mrs. Jessie Irene Pinnell, 24, British war bride of Ray W. Pinnell of Toronto.

Mrs. Pinnell died suddenly soon after taking medicine she is said to have used to control attacks of asthma. At the time she was visiting with her husband at this town 15 miles west of St. Thomas.

She was dead before a physician arrived which necessitated calling the coroner, Dr. M. G. Graham. Dr. Graham would not issue a certificate on the information given and ordered an autopsy Provincial Police were notified and an investigation was begun by Cpl. J. H. Marsland of the Elgin county detachment.

Mrs. Pinnell was the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Arthur Hooker of Surrey, Eng. She had two daughters, Tanice, two, and Jacqueline, nine months.

Plane In Lake Old Accident

SUDBURY, Aug. 10 (CP)—A small airplane spotted today on Morin Lake 36 miles northwest of Sudbury was damaged a week ago manager Harvey Olimer of the Sudbury Flying School said today.

A North Bay pilot, Donald McKay, reported sighting the plane in the lake.

Olimer said the two-seat aircraft struck a shoal while taxiing a week ago. Its pontoon was damaged and it was run close to shore to prevent it from sinking. The pilot was taken out in another plane. It is planning to salvage the craft.

No Dictatorship Like Liberals At PC Parley

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP).—Dick Bell, national director of the Progressive Conservative Party, said today the party's leadership convention here next month will not be "dictated to from the top."

Outlining convention plans at a press conference, Mr. Bell said he considered the National Liberal Convention which ended Saturday "incredibly automratic and arbitrary."

"Ours will be a free and uncontrolled convention," said Mr. Bell, who sat in on the Liberal convention as an observer.

"We thought the convention was gagged and that the ordinary delegate was just an automan."

"We want to encourage rather than suppress controversy. We hope to have more reality in our resolutions than the Liberals did.

A 193-man resolutions and policy committee will meet here two days before the three-day convention opens Sept. 30. The committee will be divided up into sub-committees dealing with external affairs: agriculture, labor, national resources, social security, veterans' affairs, trade and taxation.

Anything that does not come under the headings of the sub-committees will be referred to the general committee.

Will Have No Confederation Before April, 1949 Canadian Govt. Declares

Date Announced In Answer to Trade Query From Island Government; Merger Will Affect Prices For Colony

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 10—(CP).—The Canadian Government has informed the Newfoundland Commission Government it does not think confederation is "practicable" before March 31, 1949. The Canadian Government set that date in replying to a Commission Government query regarding trade.

The Commission Government had asked when confederation may be effected in order to guide commercial interests wishing to import essential supplies.

Because of present tariffs imposed on goods entering the old colony, confederation would affect prices.

The commission government said the Canadian reply was that "in their opinion it would not be practicable to effect union before the 31st of March, 1949."

Newfoundlanders voted to join Canada in a referendum last month and Prime Minister Mackenzie King has announced that the old colony will be accepted into union.

Target Date

In Ottawa, an External Affairs Department spokesman said that March 31, 1949, was set as a target date for Confederation. It was considered the earliest date at which union with Canada could be accomplished.

He said there still are many trings to work out, but these mainly were in the administrative and constitutional fields. It is not known yet whether the Newfoundland delegation, scheduled to come here possibly next month, will ask for changes in the financial terms of union laid down by Canada last November.

The spokesman said that one of the reasons why March 31 was chosen was because it marks the end of both the Canadian and Newfoundland fiscal years.

He said it also is expected that parliament will by that time have an opportunity to ratify the terms of union.

Rumors Flying Soviet To Lift Rail Blockade

BERLIN, Aug. 10 — (AP). — While Berliners awaited results of allied talks in Moscow, rumors spread today that the Russians may reopen rail lines between this blockaded city and the West. An unconfirmed report began circulating in Berlin Monday that the Russians have ordered German rail officials to stand by for possible reopening of the railway between the western zones and Berlin.

W. T. Babcock, United States deputy commander in Berlin, said he had heard the story from a "fairly accurate" German source, but added that it could only be classified as "pure rumor."

In Moscow, British, American, and French envoys went to work on reports to their home governments following another three-hour talk with Foreign Minister Molotov. They were believed to have heard Russian views on proposals for negotiating East-West differences on Germany and perhaps all Europe.

The next meeting probably will take place after London, Washington, and Paris have replied and Molotov once more is available.

Meantime, German leaders in Frankfurt went ahead with plans to prepare a draft constitution for a West German government. This is believed to have been a major point of contention in the Moscow talks. The Russians have opposed such a government.

Representatives of the 11 states of the British, United States and French zones meet in Bavaria today to discuss the plan.

The United States continued to bolster its air arm in Europe. Seven Superfortresses landed at

Communist Bloc Running Danube

BELGRADE, Aug. 10 (AP) — Eastern Europe's solid Communist bloc today beat down a Western-power effort to win freedom of navigation guarantees on the Danube.

By vote of 7 to 3, a conference called to write a new convention governing transport on Central Europe's major waterway rejected a French attempt to substitute a preamble of their own for one prepared by Russia for the new pact.

Russian Satellites Planning Sanctions

PRAGUE, Aug. 10—(Reuters). —Eastern European governments are considering economic pressure on Yugoslavia, it is reliably learned today.

The Cominform's quarrel with Premier Tito and the Yugoslav Communists, hitherto kept carefully on party level, is becoming an affair of governments.

Czechoslovakia, it is said, has been tightening controls on trade with Yugoslavia. An official announcement is not expected, but a reliable informant said the controls will be of such an extent they will amount to sanctions.

Yugoslavia will in future have "great difficulty" in obtaining import permits from Czechoslovakia.

JEANNE ST. LAURENT was in command of things through that first 50 hectic minutes of probing, staring publicity at the Liberal convention. Publicity—questions and flashbulbs from every angle and at all hours—will be one of those "duties." The handsome 59-year-old wife of External Affairs Minister St. Laurent made a big hit with the 6,000 persons who heard her neat little 15-second "thank you" speech at the tail-end of the Liberal Convention Saturday. And the three-score reporters and photographers who trailed them from the moment he became party leader decided she's terrific.

Convict CSU Man Of Illegal Ship Boarding

SARNIA, Aug. 10. (CP)—Chief Engineer Melville Murphy of the freighter Lethbridge, accused of firing a shotgun blast at six men said to have boarded the ship without permission July 14, will stand trial on six separate charges of shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

He was committed for trial after a preliminary hearing Monday. His bail of $2,000 was renewed.

Earlier Albert Jackson, member of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), was convicted of illegally boarding the Lethbridge and remanded for sentence to Aug. 17. Five other CSU men similarly charged were remanded to Aug. 17 for trial.

Besides the boarding charges, the CSU members also faced charges of assaulting First Mate Arthur Huston of the Lethbridge. The assault charges were withdrawn Monday night at the request of the crown.

Canada Steamship Lines is one of four companies with which the CSU is involved in a dispute over contracts.

In convicting Jackson, 20-year-old Montrealer, Magistrate Ivan Craig of Chatham said the CSU members apparently felt they "had a divine right" to go aboard the ship.

Describes Shooting

Chief Engineer Murphy, given protection of the court for future cases, described the shooting incident while testifying against Jackson.

'I saw the boarders come aboard ship and went to my cabin to get a gun," he said "When I came out, there was some sort of commotion up forward and the pickets came around and started back toward me.

"I fired at them with a shotgun and after seeing some of them fall I went back to the cabin to get more shells. When I came out they had all disappeared, but I fired again just to scare anyone else who might be attempting to come aboard.

"I don't know whether my first shot was responsible for the men [illegible] whether they slipped [illegible]

"I fired in self-defence and in defence of the after crew. After what has been going on along the lakes this summer, I wasn't taking any chances."

Magistrate Craig said the CSU members had no right aboard the ship and were only there to create trouble.

Free 3 Britons On Espionage

TEL AVIV, Aug. 10—(AP).—An Israeli magistrate's court today freed three of five Britons held on espionage charges. The other two were ordered held an additional 10 days without bail.

Thomas Hawkins and Frederick Sylvester were returned to custody, while Michael Bryant, Anthony Downes and Alfred Leech were freed when the prosecution told Magistrate Eliezer Malchi "there is insufficient evidence to ask them to face charges."

All five defendants were officials of the Jerusalem Electric Corporation. They were arrested by Irgun Zvai Leumi in Jerusalem July 6 and turned over to the Israeli government for investigation and possible trial.

Maj. Robert Lustic, chief of the Israeli criminal investigation division, preferred more specific charges against Hawkins and Sylvester.

Both were charged a fortnight ago on three counts—general espionage, violation of the Official Secrets Act and violation of British mandatory regulations government security. They specifically have been used of using the utility company's radio equipment to contact British officials of the Arab Legion.

Find Baby

was discovered in a Toronto restaurant.

The pace of the hunt increased after police announced that they had learned that the girl known as Linda Norman was Eleanor Fraser, 22, wanted in Toronto for breaking parole.

Abandons Baby

A girl police said they believed was Miss Fraser went to St. Michael's hospital in Central Toronto Monday night and handed a baby to Mrs. L. A. Strubensey, a doctor's wife, with a request that Mrs. Strubensey hold the child while the girl went on an errand The girl did not return.

Mrs. Strubensey called hospital authorities and police who found a bag containing baby food, clothing and a roughly pencilled note on a face tissue box which also bore the address "'22 Queensdale Ave. W.", the number of the Griffin home. The note said:

"Sorry I have to leave my baby but I could not take care of him Send for the police. They know him. They are looking for him Let the police read this, too. I am not a bad girl, but I never had a chance. Tell his father I didn't mean any harm."

Long War Faces Britain In Malayan Anti-Red Drive

By HARRY JACKSON

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya, Aug. 10 — (AP). — A long, hard war appears to face Britain and her Malay, Chinese, Indian and Gurkha allies here in their fight to prevent establishment of a Communist state in Malaya.

The British defence force is a mixture of planters and tin mine managers, newly-recruited Malay guards, relatively-inexperienced British Tommies and swarthy Gurkhas, R.A.F. squadrons and trained policemen, plus a thin sprinkling of army veterans.

Against them is a scattered guerrilla force, estimated at 4,000 to 6,000, which the British Army commander says is named the Communist National Liberation Army and which, he says, plans by Sept. 1 to be organized and trained to fight for establishment of a Malayan Communist state.

In their favor, the British authorities have numbers — at least five time as many men as the Insurgents — vastly superior equipment, money and the passive support, at least, of the population.

But on their side the Insurgents have a country thickly overspread with dense jungle in which to hide, considerable fear among much of the population and the element of surprise in striking where least expected a any one of numerous unprotected points.

The police will run the show for the British authorities since the civilian government is in control and since the police leader possesses a more intimate knowledge of the country and its people. The army will assist them wherever possible, making raids going through suspected "bad" areas. The R.A.F. will give aerial support and help the Royal Navy to watch the coast lines to prevent reinforcements for the Insurgents coming in.

At least 6,000 volunteer police will guard estates, mines and other possible points of attack Usually the estate and mine managers will head the individual defence units.

that Rev. Winger, who comes from Stevensville, "at the town of Port Hope on the 0th day of July, 1948, unlawfully did shout or cause or create an unusual noise calculated to disturb the inhabitants of the said town, contrary to bylaw No. 1575."

Not Anti-Religious

The magistrate pointed out in his judgment that it was not a religious denomination which was before the court but a man who had been charged in connection with the bylaw.

"From the evidence it appears that the accused is a properly constituted minister of the Pentecostal Assembly of Canada," the magistrate said, 'and as such was assisting in conducting special religious services of that congregation in a tent on Margaret St. in Port Hope on the date in question. It further appears that in conducting such services he did raise his voice or shout in a manner which disturbed he residents in that vicinity, and I so find.

"I further find from the evidence that Rev. Holmes, another minister of the same faith, conducted services at the same location but in a manner which did not disturb the said residents. I am, therefore, satisfied that a religious meeting may be carried on at this situation without shouting and having found this, I must find that provisions of paragraph 2, of the bylaw, to the effect that nothing in the bylaw shall prohibit the services of any religious denomination, do not prevail in this prosecution and I am therefore finding the accused guilty as charged."

Courts Tolerant

"I must now consider the question of penalty," Magistrate Baxter continued. "In this connection it must be borne in mind that a religious denomination is not being charged here. One man is before the court for the manner in which he shouted when conducting a religious meeting. The courts of this country will at all times strive to preserve religious tolerance.

"In convicting the accused I am not condemning any religious denomination, but merely making it obvious that the law must be obeyed and the rights and privileges of all people respected. I regret as much as anyone the necessity of imposing a penalty in this matter, and in imposing such penalty I am taking into consideration the fact that I firmly believe this whole matter could have been prevented had it been handled properly. I am imposing a fine of five and seven dollars costs. In default of payment within seven days from the date hereof, the accused will be imprisoned for five days in the counties' jail," said the magistrate.

A. R. Willmott, K.C., of Cobourg, acted for the accused and H. R. S. Ryan prosecuted on behalf of the town. The accused was not present when judgment was brought down, nor his solicitor, by previous understanding, and counsel in the case will be duly advised of the disposition of the matter.

Rivers Stands Trial For Hotel Slaying

BLIND RIVER, Ont., Aug. 10—(CP)—Richard Rivers, 21-year-old Ojibway Brave from the Mississagi Indian reservation northwest of here, will stand trial for murder in the hotel room strangling July 23 of his sister-in-law, Mrs. May Rivers, 21.

The stolid, handsome man had nothing to say when Magistrate H. D. Peterson of Bruce Mines, Ont., Monday committed him for trial in Sault St. Marie, 96 miles west of here. Rivers had no lawyer at the prelimnary hearing.

Rivers was arrested on the charge of slaying his younger brother's wife three days after the girl's body was discovered on a blood-smeared bed in a hotel room here. Police found Rivers in the Mississagi forest area in which, a week earlier, he and the slain girl's husband fought bushfires.

Industrials And Golds Dip Down Steadily

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP). — The industrials and golds dipped steadily downwards in light trading here today. Western oils were slugish and easier while base metals were the only group to show a slight improvement.

Papers and refining oils led the downhill march in industrials on fractional losses ranging up to 1⅜.

Brown Pfd, dipped 1¾ and Imperial Oil and B.A. Oil were down ⅛.

Senior golds weakened and losses more than doubled gains in the juniors. Hollinger was down 10 cents and La Duz dipped 30. Bidgood, Campbell, Central Patricia, Chesterville, Kirkland Lake, Macassa, Madsen and United Kenor Hill were down from 1 to 14 cents.

Base metals moved in narrow range on mixed gains and losses. Steep Rock rose 17 cents and Labrador, Golden Manitou, Gult Lead and Silver Miller were ahead. International Nickel eased ⅜ and Waite Amulet, Torbrit Silver, Sherritt and MacDonald were down from 1 to 10 cents.

Anglo-Canadian lost 15 cents in Western Oils and Home Oil gained 5 cents.

Smaller buildings around it were not damaged.

Firemen reported that much of the furnishings on lower floors were saved, although it was impossible to get to bedrooms after the fire was discovered. About 60 persons were staying at the resort, but Chief Chambers said none of them were in the building when the fire started. The alarm was sent in to Haliburton at 11.05. The building was in flames in a matter of 15 minutes.

More than $1,000 in cash and an unestimated amount in cheques went up in flames. Mrs. Chapman seized a large roll of bills and attempted to throw them to the chef, but the smoke was so thick that the money was lost.

Small Lodge

The lodge which was destroyed housed the dining-room, tuck shop, office and living quarters for the owners. The 600 guests who were living in cottages surrounding the main building are taking their meals at nearby resort lodges.

Mr. Chapman said today work on rebuilding would begin at once.

The only casualty was the cook, Bill Symons, who sprained his ankle in an attempt to salvage his personal effects.

Holiday Inn is on the south shore of the lake, on the opposite shore to Deer Lodge and due west of Chinook Lodge.

Says O'Connell Didn't Advise About Tenants

"At no time did the owner (John T. O'Connell) of the property mention to use that there were tenants on his property," City Clerk Ouram informed the finance committee of the council last night. "He was notified of the city's intention to expropriate long before the growing season began."

Carmen Paterno and Carmen Fisico, it transpired, were tenants of the property the city will acquire for housing by expropriation. The work has been in progress several weeks. W. J. Arthur Fair, solicitor for the two men, wrote the council that he had not been given notice of the council's intention to occupy the garden land. They knew nothing about the housing project until the contractor moved in with heavy equipment and began "tearing up their vegetables." Result to them was loss of crop, labor, fertilizer.

City Solicitor Huycke suggested that "the tenants should straighten out the matter with their landlord. He should have told them the city was going to expropriate. They had a lease of the place and the landlord has to give them quiet possession."

Finance committee is replying to Mr. Fair that he and his tenant clients will be notified of the expropriation proceedings when a date is set after the courts resume in September.

Missing Story Just A Hoax, Went On Trip

NORTH BAY, Aug. 10 — (CP). —Provincial Police said today 15-year-old Bill Larochelle, believed lost in the bush for 48 hours over the week-end, wasn't lost at all.

They said that the lad, object of an intensive ground and air search, told them he had gone on a trip to Pembroke and had spent a night in the Ottawa district town about 125 miles east of North Bay.

After he showed up at his home Monday, Billy told a story of being lost in the North Bay area. He said that on Saturday night he slept on the ground and spent Sunday night in a tree while a black bear stayed at its foot. He said he had lost his way while on a berry-picking expedition.

The search was carried on around Dreany Lake, about six miles east of North Bay. A 100-man squad searched the bush and an aircraft also took part. It was estimated the search cost in the neighborhood of $300.

Police said Larochelle hitchhiked to Pembroke, spent one night there and another in the area.

Moscow Urges Collaboration

LONDON, Aug. 10 — (AP). — Moscow radio today urged closer collaboration between Russia and the United States to assure a lasting peace.

The broadcast commemorated Russia's declaration of war against Japan Aug. 9, 1945. The speaker, identified only as Bronin, said the "fighting friendship and partnership" of Russia and the United States clinched the victory over Japan.

"This historic truth," he said, "has a most profound bearing on the present day; from it the people of the Soviet Union and the United States can draw important conclusions that collaboration between the two countries is just as essential today as it was during the war. . ."

Only through close collaboration of the great powers with the Soviet Union "can the problem of creation of a democratic state that accords with the Potsdam declaration be solved and a lasting peace be assured in the Far East."

Now Cramped In 2 Rooms, Campbellford May Change Location Of Town Offices

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10—(ENS).—Council is presently investigating the possibility of changing over from the present town offices in the Burgis block to quarters in the building occupied by Meyers' Transport. The information concerning the possibility of a change became available at the last council meeting and at the request of members of council publication was deferred.

Release of the information concerning the matter was authorized Tuesday by members of council, however, and it can now be stated that at the last regular meeting of the council, R. H. Townsend told the members that there was about 1,600 square feet of space available on the ground floor of the Meyers building.

This, he thought, would be suitable for occupation by the town staff, and could be rebuilt to conform to the requirements of the various departments. The rent would be $75 monthly, as opposed to the $10 paid monthly to Mr. Burgis for the rent of the two rooms occupied on the second floor of the Burgis block.

At the present time, the town clerk occupies an office by himself, but the treasurer, engineer and assessor are all in the other room, and for the last two weeks, this has also been ocupied by two representatives of the firm which has undertaken the town audit.

Members of the town staff have also felt aggrieved in that the suite originally occupied contained three rooms, on of which was used for a filing room. Since Mr. Burgis has taken over the property the third room, which was considered to be essential to the proper storage of records, has been used for a storeroom by the Burgis hardware, allegedly without consent of the town clerk.

Present negotiations hinge on whether Mr. Meyers is willing to build police quarters, including cells, if required, with the necessary ofices to keep the various departments separate, and yet available to the public.

One of the main arguments used against the present set-up is the long stairway to be climbed by aged members of the public and of the town staff.

Legion To Decorate Graves Of War Dead

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10 — (ENS).—Next Sunday, August 15, members of the Campbellford Branch of the Canadian Legion will observe the annual Decoration Day ceremony.

At an informal meeting held in the Legion rooms on Monday night, it was agreed that as the dead of both wars are buried in cemeteries which are widely spread throughout the town and the township, there should be some individual recognition on behalf of the branch.

It was agreed that members with cars will proceed on Sunday morning to all cemeteries in which the local dead are buried and will decorate the graves of the war dead with small Union Jacks on behalf of the Legion.

In the afternoon there will be parade from the Legion hall to the Cenitaph, in which all available members of the branch will participate. The parade will be led by the 35 piece band of the Oshawa Corps of the Salvation Army, which will be visiting in town that day.

Cabinet Requests Legality Ruling On Railway Royal Commission

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 (CP) The government has taken a step toward meeting the wishes of provinces demanding a Royal Commission on railways, it was learned today.

In the wake of a similar demand from the national Liberal convention, it became known the cabinet had instructed the Justice Department to rule on the legality of such a commission.

The provinces have been seeking a railway commission since the Board of Transport Commissioners in March awarded a 21-per-cent freight-rate increase to the railways.

The government has steadily denied this request, telling the provinces the best way of handling the railway problem is through the board, which it recently organized.

Ask Ruling

Monday, high officials on the non-political side of the government said the cabinet actually had asked the Justice Department for a ruling on the legality of a Royal Commission before the convention opened.

There was no explanation as to why the convention itself had not been given this information, which probably would have stalled off an apparent clash between the Liberal party and the Liberal government.

Other convention aftermaths today centred largely around the time when Prime Minister Mackenzie King will hand over the reins to Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent and the make-up of Mr. St. Laurent's first cabinet when he does take over.

While the date of the change is strictly up to the personal wishes of Prime Minister King, well-informed Liberals said today Dec. 29 wa sa likely date, in view of Mr. King's known penchant for anniversaries.

That date will mark the 27th anniversary of his accession to the Prime Ministry. Another possibility might be Dec. 17, his 74th birthday.

Mr. St. Laurent Monday night said no steps have been taken to request Prime Minister King that he remain in the cabinet until the next general election, expected in 1950.

Where Was The Rebellion?

Writing of the Liberal Convention, several correspondents and publicists have used the words "rebellion" and "revolt" in a manner which we find puzzling. The Examiner's representative looked at the convention as intently, we think, as the other correspondents, but he saw no sign of anything which could be called a revolt. It is true that certain resolutions were substantially altered after discussion by the convention; it is true that objections were made to the tendency of the convention officers to get through a great deal of work with a minimum of discussion; it is true that the younger delegates expressed themselves as displeased with certain aspects of recent Liberal policy; it is true that several Liberal leaders, such as Premiers McNair and Macdonald, and the Hon. C. G. Power, were sharply critical of a trend toward statism and bureaucracy in the present Liberal administration. But to describe these elements as "rebellion" is utter nonsense. They showed that Liberalism is alive, and that the delegates took their responsibility seriously; it shows that Liberalism is not afraid to attack a Liberal administration which has forgotten certain Liberal principles. That is not rebellion. Far from it.

* * *

Some of the criticism expressed at the convention was badly needed. The Liberal Party has shown a tendency to become an old man's party, and it has elected a leader who is in his sixty-sixth year; it is desirable, therefore, that the young Liberals should show themselves strong and alert and unwilling to leave the fate of their party entirely in the hands of greybeards. Old men may make good leaders, but it takes young men to elect them and to fill their shoes when they can no longer rule. Young men in politics always say more than they mean, and they show a tendency to attach great importance to symbols, such as a Canadian flag, and a Canadian national anthem. But they form an admirable corrective to the old men who often say less than they mean, and who are too often content to let things slide, so long as they keep the reins of power tightly in their own hands. Young men are idealists, and old men are too often sunk in the cynicism which grows as feeling wanes. It was a good thing for the Liberals that they had large groups of young people to protest from the convention floor when the old men were too complacent.

* * *

The Liberal Convention was a remarkable display of party power and party unity. But the Liberal party is not a totalitarian party, and it never will be one so long as delegates can contradict and outface the party bigwigs from the convention floor. It must not be forgotten that when the contest for the party leadership began, nine men were nominated who could have filled that office, and a tenth, Premier Angus Macdonald of Nova Scotia, did not permit his name to be placed on the list. No party which can produce ten possible leaders need worry about its brains. And no party which can produce so many delegates who are ready to take issue with the party leaders on matters of policy need fear for its strength. Those who cannot distinguish between rebellion and the exuberance of political health, should brush up on their political pathology.

On The Danube

The Danube is one of the three most important rivers in Europe and internationally the most important. It flows through seven countries. It is the main commercial highway between Eastern and Western Europe. Its trade is not limited to the seven riparian states, for other nations sell and receive goods via the Danube and it is linked by canal systems to both the Rhine and the Rhone. If each riparian state tried to control its own reaches, to make regulations, collect tariffs and customs, trade would be impossible along the Danube. Therefore for nearly a century the river has been under international regime. Trade is virtually impossible now because the international authority has broken down. At a time when the railway systems of central Europe are crippled and road traffic impeded and people need food and a revival of trade, thousands of barges lie empty and idle on the Danube. To correct this situation, a conference has been assembled in Belgrade and during the last ten days has been deliberating.

Perhaps "deliberating" is too democratic a term for the Belgrade conference. Soviet Russia has dominated it and laid down the terms she will accept. They are—the Danube for the Danubians states—that is, the sovietized ones (Austria, for instance, is not even represented at the conference), and over them all Soviet Russia. Russia knows that the Danube has war-time as well as peacetime uses.

The last international settlement (1921) established Britain, France, Italy and Roumania as the governing powers over the estuary and lower reaches of the Danube (the "European Commission"—a strategic settlement) and the riparian states and some others had coordinated control of the upper reaches. This convention is legally still in force; actually it was terminated in 1940 when Hitler overran the countries and set up purely German control. Now Russia is the coxswain.

Britain and the U.S., in view of their occupation zones in Germany and of the Marshall Plan, are greatly concerned in the Danube again becoming a truly international waterway, not under exclusive control of Soviet-dominated states. A settlement which gave control to all the riparian states would probably be acceptable to them, if Soviet Russia were not a member of the governing body. Soviet Russia expects to be. That is the rub. The Belgrade conference is another facet of the cold war that is being waged in Berlin and of the settlement talks that have been taking place in Moscow. If the Danube is reopened to free international trade the present tension throughout Europe will be eased.

The Press Must Discipline Its Photographers

The press photographer is a fairly new figure in public life, and he fills an important place; it is through his work that hundreds of thousands of newspaper readers who cannot see great events are given pictures which make those events real to them. There are some press photographers, however, who abuse the indulgence which the public is usually willing to grant them.

At the Liberal Convention there were a great many photographers, and we think that three-quarters of them behaved politely, and did nothing whatever which could make them obnoxious to any reasonable person. The remaining quarter behaved very badly; they blocked the view of the delegates in the hall when important men rose to speak, they crawled over the press tables and swarmed up the speaker's rostrum in search of "angles", and they shot off flashbulbs in the faces of men who, under the stress of considerable emotion, were uttering their opinions on the very complex business of government. It must be said here that several of the worst offenders were not representatives of the press, but were in the employ of picture agencies.

Unless the press as a whole is to suffer from such conduct, and unless photographers are to become obnoxious to the public at large, photographers must impose some professional discipline upon themselves. Reputable newspapers do not tolerate reporters who get news by objectionable methods, and reputable newspapers and photographic agencies should not tolerate photographers who transgress the bounds of decency. The work which these men and women do is important, but the scenes which they are photographing are of greater importance than they, and they should conduct themselves accordingly.

Early Closing In Hamilton

Peterborough citizens will be interested in two court rulings made in Hamilton recently. Hamilton has (or had) a bylaw requiring drug stores to close early. Judge Schwenger ten days ago upheld a magistrate's court decision that the early closing bylaw was beyond the jurisdiction of the city to enforce. In July the Supreme Court of Ontario handed down a ruling that Hamilton's early closing bylaw for gasoline stations could not be enforced.

Peterborough citizens will be interested in these decisions affecting Hamilton's early closing bylaws. So would tourists who travelled through Peterborough on the first week-end of our new gasoline station early-closing bylaw and could find, if they hunted carefully, one "service" station officially open for business along the whole direct route from Charlotte Street west to Water Street north.

A Letter From Holland

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

TO anyone who was in Holland in 1945, the degree of recovery in the three short years since that time is remarkable. No country in Western Europe was as bruised and battered as Holland.

For the Allied cause the failure of the airborne attack on Arnheim was a serious setback, probably prolonging the war at least three months; to the Dutch, it was complete disaster. Instead of the speedy liberation such as Belgium and France enjoyed for the most part, the winter of '44-45 saw the Allies holding the lower third of the country, while the Germans remained in occupation of the other two-thirds, including the densely populated western coastal areas,—the great cities of Rotterdam, Amsterdam, and the Hague, to mention the most important. In normal times these areas the shipping, commercial, banking, and political centres of the country, and the country is given over to market gardening and dairying only. Transportation to eastern Holland was completely disrupted, firstly by our air forces, and secondly by a German ban in 1944 on all civilian transport.

* * *

THE results by May, 1945, were so desperate that they are hard to visualize. In Amsterdam, a city the size of Toronto, there had been no coal, no wood, no gas, or no electricity for six months. People were burning their furniture to cook the little food they had. Their diet included tulip bulbs, grass, and fish, and little else. A loaf of bread cost 700 gulden on the black market, nearly $250.00. Many hundreds died of starvation in that terrible winter. To the Allies, the plight of Holland was well-known, but the country, largely reclaimed from the sea, is terribly vulnerable. A desperate German garrison would have little compunction in blowing the dykes, and the work of centuries would be ruined in a matter of hours.

* * *

EVEN those areas of Holland liberated in the fall of '44 had little to be grateful for. Heavy fighting took place in virtually every city of consequence in Southern Holland, and the island of Walcheren was actually flooded when the R.A.F. blew the dykes in the fighting to clear the approaches to Antwerp. May, 1945, indeed found Holland in the worst straits of her history. Her East Indies empire was still occupied by the Japanese, her people starving, industry at a complete standstill, the transportation system virtually non-existent, and everywhere there was heavy damage from the war. To top it all, hundreds of thousands of young Dutchmen were scattered across Europe, where they had been removed to do German forced labour. Could any situation sound more hopeless?

With this background, the changes in three years have been well-nigh miraculous. Once again the Dutch have proved that in energy and handwork they are second to none. The railways are back in service (fast, frequent, and on time), most bridges are restored at least for partial service, the tremendous barge traffic on the canals and rivers has been begun again, the stores are filled with goods once more, and food, while strictly rationed, is adequate. Even more surprising, prices have been kept down to some semblance of pre-war levels, and there seems to be less black market activity here than in any other country we have visited, excepting Switzerland.

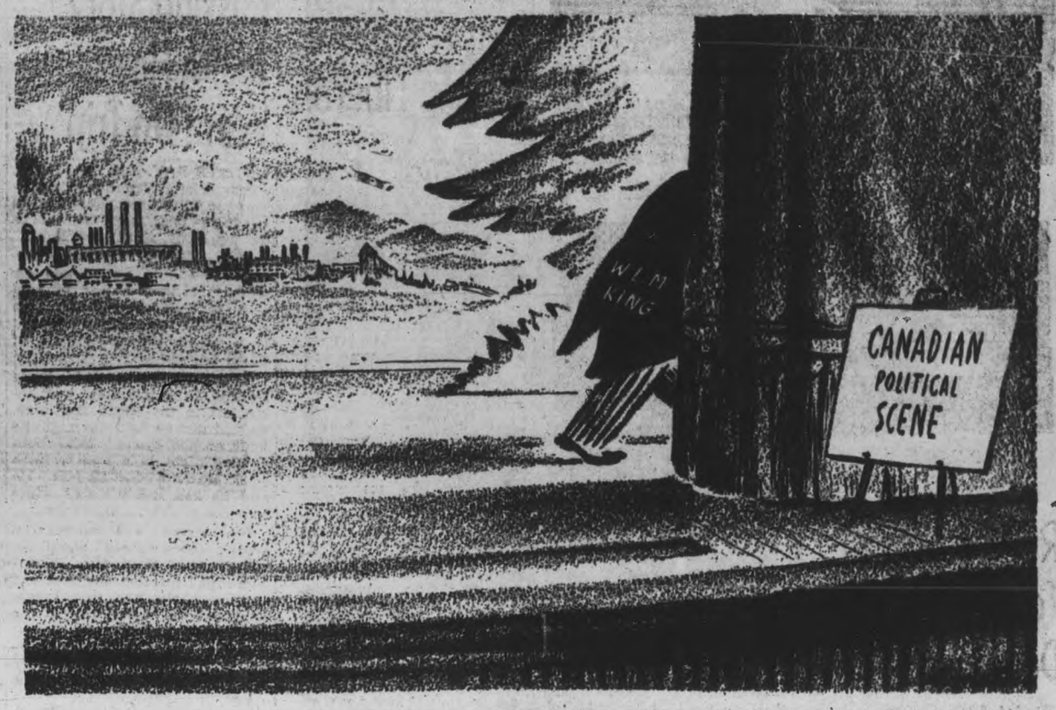
WHEN I visited Nijmegen, the winter of 1944-45 it seemed like a dream. Then the streets swarmed with Canadians, and Canadian military vehicles jammed the streets and sidewalks of the town 24 hours a day. The Canadians are gone, but not forgotten. Their presence fairly shouts at you, in everything from the Canadian accents to the local residents, to the fact that the streets still swarm wih Canadian military vehicles, although in a different hue than formerly. Not all Canadians went home. The Canadian Cemetery is off the old Nijmegen-Groesbeek road, on a hillside overlooking Kranenburg. Here lie 2,400 Canadians, row on row, a sad and yet glorious sight. The cemetery is kept up most beautifully, a mass of flowers about every cross. Fields of golden wheat surround it, and the pine forests of the Reichswald are near. Many Canadians have already come to see the graves, and no doubt in the years to come many more will make the journey. I saw several Canadians there, obviously visiting the grave of a son or other relative, the women quietly crying as they relive once more the tragic news of years ago, when some Canadian's death toppled the dreams and hopes of a lifetime.

* * *



AND the local people? On hearing the word 'Canadian', they couldn't do enough for you. Typical was a cycle shop, where we rented bicycles to visit the surrounding countryside. Not only did the proprietor refuse payment, but nothing would do but we must come up to his home and have tea with his family. And we could report many such kindnesses during our stay.

Holland is traditionally the land of windmills, but sad to relate, we have only seen two actually working. Many stand idle, but the industrial revolution seems to have caught up at last. A pity. More cheering is the wooden shoe situation. While they are rare in the towns and cities, the country people still are to be seen in them. Those who have tried them tell me they are dry and comfortable, which may surprise you. They are extremely cheap—well under a dollar a pair, and they wear forever. They are made of willow. The old style costumes are fast disappearing. The only people seen wearing them are elderly ladies and very few of these.

* * *

A SURPRISING proportion of the Dutch people speak English. They explain this by saying it is taught in their schools. One can only reflect that English must be taught more adequately here than foreign languages are taught in the Ontario school system. Dutch itself frequently seems a parody on English. The film Little Red Ridinghood is advertised as "Roodkapje en de Wolf." My favourite Dutch profession is barbering. In Dutch, a barber is a "kapper." There must be humour here.

A FINE PERFORMANCE

A Hospital Of The Past

(LONDON OBSERVER)

THE Norfolk and Norwich Hospital is a raw-looking chateau, mostly of mid-Victorian brick, with an effigy of a bewigged eighteenth-century founder staring from a bronze plaque at the traffic in St. Stephen's road, Norwich. Dating from 1772, the Norfolk and Norwich embodies five or six chapters of England's social and economic history, and thus serves better than many hospitals of its sort to illustrate Monday's great Take Over by Whitehall.

Four charitable earls sat on the first committee. They had been reminded by an influential though anonymous citizen, writing in the Norwich Gazette, that indigent persons "are permitted to be in Want that the Rich may always have occasion of expressing their Gratitude to God, and of tasting the deep pleasure of doing Good".

The first beds had check linen draw curtains for the patient's privacy. Drinking water was drawn from a well in the grounds by Joe Cole and his horse at a shilling an hour. A hospital porter at ten pounds a year barred intruders, barbered the sick, and cropped those whose heads were unclean on admission. He wore leathern breeches, a blue livery coat, and a hat with a yellow loop and button.

Tea was banned as a breakfast drink. The inmates took a pint of milk pottage or water gruel instead. Meals were lavish. Patients seem to have been in the habit of hiding food and smuggling it out to ravenous relations. The board of management was worried about the quantity of porter drunk. Strong-liquor, it insisted, was to be viewed as medicine, not as part of the daily diet. Occasionally a nurse was sent packing for taking bribes and allowing the sick to dice, play cards, smoke, chew their quid and otherwise misbehave in the wards.

On leaving each patient was given a tract. At one time a Homily on Repentance was the official issue. If he had undergone an important cure the patient was "directed" by the board chairman to return public thanks at his place of worship. From time to time a malefactor's body was brought up from the city gaol after dark for dissection by the surgeons. In the pathological museum there hangs to this day the skeleton of a bow-legged dwarf who, so the legend goes, was hanged for murder.

The museum is a terrifying assembly of sealed jars, presided over by a shiny copy of Sir Thomas Browne's skull on a pedestal in a glass case. There is a show of tarnished surgical instruments that were in use before chloroform, many of them beautifully engraved and ingeniously constructed: so ingeniously, indeed, that the modern surgeon who does not happen to be something of a historical specialist is baffled as to their function. But there is no mistaking old amputating knives. The solidity of the heft, the heavy curve of the blade, are as obviously purposeful as those of a Gurkha's kukri.

So much for the past; a past on which the Norfolk and Norwich has built its gleaming, up-to-the-minute and highly reputed present. And now, over to Mr. Bevan. As from Monday the Norfolk and Norwich will fit into the base of a sketchy administrative pyramid with the Health Minister at the top. The pyramid is sketchy because incomplete.

People in the hospital offices, members of the board and its committees, doctors who will henceforth be State paid for services which hitherto they have freely given: all seem disposed to make a success of the new dispensation.

It is not hard to detect a rueful strain in their talk. On the eve of so radical a break men inevitably look over their shoulders at all the good in the past; and ahead at all the imponderables of a misted future. But, as many seasoned managerial people see it, State control was the only alternative to bankruptcy. Mr. Bevan's revolution is accepted in Norwich, as elsewhere, with something between a sigh of resignation and a sigh of relief.

State Opera For Britain

(ST. THOMAS TIMES-JOURNAL)

UNDER an Act which came into force on July 1, the British Government has undertaken compulsory purchase of the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, in January, 1950. The Act empowers the Government to acquire any lands or buildings and put them to public use, provided at the time of purchase they are not being utilized to the best advantage.

The purchase of the Opera House is opposed by the Conservative press on various grounds. One objects on the ground that it is an expansion of the idea of providing circuses for the millions, another says it is fantastic for the Government to go into the business of grand opera and ballet, and Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express points out that grand opera never pays, and that it will furnish "jobs for the boys."

It is precisely because grand opera never pays, with the result that the building is open only a few weeks in the year as an opera house, that the Government is taking it over. In other words, it is not being put to the best public use. And as for furnishing jobs for political supporters, it would be a remarkable thing if great singing stars were found among the working people of the country.

State-subsidized opera houses and theatres have been common in European countries for generations, and that is why the European stage has produced so many eminent singers and actors in the past. Germany, Italy, France and Russia have produced operas, ballets, plays and artists of world renown, and neither they, nor many of the great composers and dramatists would have got encouragement to perform and produce unless the opera houses and theatres had been subsidized, sometimes by the State and sometimes by municipalities. Wagner, Verdi and Puccini; Moliere, Sardou and Rostand, could never have had the incentive to labour but for the State theatres.

Covent Garden Opera House was originally built in 1732, was twice burned down, and the present structure was erected in 1858. The voices of Madame Patti, Madame Albani (Canada's greatest operatic star), Melba, Tetrazzini, De Reszke, Tamagno, Caruso, the brothers Plancon, Scotti, and many others have been heard there. In recent years it has housed opera and ballet on a limited scale, but was shut most of the year. During the late war it was a recreation centre and dance hall for the troops. The Labour Government, since its advent to power, has given large grants to the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts and to the Old Vic theatre company and Sadler Wells' opera and ballet. With a National Theatre definitely planned, perhaps the Government hopes to place the best in dramatic and musical arts before the people at prices they can afford.

Why The Loon Laughs

Vacationists enjoying summer days and nights in the alluring Lakeland of Ontario, become familiar with the long, piercing laughter of the loons. And they seem to laugh longest and loudest in the stillness of the night. Why do they laugh? A legend of the North American Indians gives one answer. Ages ago, it relates, one of the kindest among the great spirits of the Indians lived among men, and his name was Glooskap. Under his rule, all the creatures of the woods and waterways lived happily. Because of this the laughter of the loons was then gay and merry. But when Glooskap returned to the spirit world beyond sight, fear and discord appeared among men and animals. Then the laughter of the loons lost its merriment, and became the weird cry we hear today, as the loons searched by day and night for the lost Glooskap. They are still looking for him, endlessly calling for him. As the poet Lampman tells, they:

"———search and wander querulously,
Crying for Glooskap———and in agony
With awful laughter pierce the lonely night."

These handsome divers, larger than ducks, and with plumage of a striking pattern of black and white are well represented in the great bird collection of the Royal Ontario Museum, and visitors who have heard their weird laughter while on vacation, always seek them out.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things.... Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God.... And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh. (Joel 2: 21, 23, 27, 28.)

* * *

And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed and my hand that I have laid upon them. So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God from that day and forward....

Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God. (Ezek 39: 21, 22, 29.)

Class-Consciousness

Snobbishness rears its ugly head in a release from the Gallup Poll of Canada, the indefatigable probers of public opinion. Their question was: "If you had to say to what social class you belonged, where on this line would you say you would go?" The persons who were asked this question were shown a card marked with a scale graded at nine points ranging from lower to upper.

As might be expected, most of those interviewed took the safe course of saying they were in the middle class, but the Gallup Poll people say that most social science scholars and political and business leaders are agreed that "the middle class comprises not much more than one-third of the Canadian people, and that almost 50 per cent. fall in the lower class."

What is one to say about the 65 per cent. of the Gallup Poll sample, who said they were in the middle class? Were about half of them being unduly modest or unpleasantly pushing when they stepped out of the classes to which they rightly belong? Or is the opinion of the unnamed social science scholars and political and business leaders at variance with the facts? If the Gallup Poll can forecast election opinion with a minor margin of error, can it really be so far at sea on what people think of themselves?

The Gallup question is really not too clear. Thus a social science scholar might look at income alone as his criterion of social standing, while a proper pride on the part of the person interviewed might lead him to claim middle or upper class standing even if he didn't know where his next meal was coming from. On the basis of income alone, many of the clergy belong in the lower levels, yet the laymen who could afford much more substantial support to their churches than they now are willing to give will usually grant the clergy the status of their social equals.

Another puzzle raised is the state of mind of those who frankly declared themselves as belonging to the lower class. The Gallup Poll people report, without comment, that 11 per cent. of the Progressive Conservatives interviewed, 16 per cent. of the Liberals and 23 per cent. of the C.C.F.-ers thus cast themselves into outer darkness.—The Printed Word.

RCAF Aircrew To Wear Double Wings

It has been decided that all RCAF aircrew are to wear double wings in the future. The new wings will be similar to the familiary Air Force pilots' wings. RCAF Headquarters, Ottawa, announced today that radio-officers and radio-navigators, who together with pilots, make up the present peacetime aircrew list, are to wear double wings, resembling those worn by pilots, but with distinctive centres indicating the aircrew branch.

First of the new radio-officers' wings have been awarded to classes which graduated from the RCAF's radio school at Clinton, Ontario. In place of the letters "RCAF" the centre of the pilots' wings, the radio-officers brevet has three red flashes upon a black background. A similar wing, with a blue globe in the centre and one red flash, has been designed for radio-navigators.

Aircrew of the peacetime RCAF who have previously earned single wings will retain them until they have been trained as pilots, radio-officers or radio-navigators. In this way the now obsolete single wings will disappear gradually from use in the RCAF.

Doug Clapp, 14, of the Queen City Yacht Club, Toronto, Monday won the first two races of the fourth annual international junior regatta. Three races in the small cat-boat brutal beasts today will complete the meet.

Competing are five four-man crews of boys and girls 16 and under, from Buffalo, N.Y., Canoe Club; Olcott, N.Y., Yacht Club; Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, Dorval, Que., and two Toronto entries — the Q.C.Y.C. and the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

Despite Clapp's victory, his club—pending the result of a protest—is in third place. Clapp's team mate, 16-year-old Doug Hall, was disqualified for luffing without rights in the second race and a protest was lodged against him in the first.

The $50,000 guarantee required to be posted before the 1950 British Empire games may be held in Toronto will be forthcoming, city council has advised the Canadian Olympic Association. Civic officials said Monday one firm has already offered a $5,000 guarantee and others have indicated they will give a similar amount.

Two representatives of the Sports Federation of Israel walked out of the 16th Congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation in London, Eng., Monday when the I.A.A.F. refused to consider their appeal for provisional membership. The body voted 32-14 to leave the question in abeyance.

Alvin Dark, rookie shortstop of the Boston Braves, gained some ground on Stan Musial but his chances of becoming the first freshman since 1941 to win the batting championship of the National League remain slim. Dark advanced to .334 last week but still trails the St. Louis Cards' Musial by 54 points. Third was Chicago's Andy Pafko with .327.

Ted Williams, the Boston slugger, continued to lead the American League batters this week. He boosted his average from .337 to .387. Cleveland's Lou Boudreau was second with .345 and Al Zarilla of St. Louis third with .330.

Juveniles Take Lacrosse Game

Peterborough juvenile All-Stars defeated the Midland Juniors 11-8 in an exhibition lacrosse tilt played in Midland last night. Play was rough and at times threatened to break out in a free-for-all. The slippery floor left both teams sliding around in the early stages of the game and good team work was practically impossible. Tempers flew as checking was close and McMaster of Peterborough received a 10-minute penalty while F. Lewis of Midland received five minutes for fighting.

In the second period the Petes featured a nice passing attack to notch four goals while holding Midland to two. Hickson in goal for the Petes was injured but remained in the game. Quarter ended with Midland still in the lead 7-6.

Rough play predominated in the third with Russell of Petes and W. Lewis of the home team getting minor penalties for roughing. Lumney of Midland then received a five-minute penalty for slashing at Whitnall of the Petes. Petes pressed hard while enjoying the main advantage and the quarter ended with the Petes ahead 9-8.

They held an edge in play all during the final quarter and added two more goals to their total while keeping Midland off the score sheet. McMaster and Boland were banished for fighting early in this quarter to be followed by Lumney of Midland for fighting. As the game ended both Midland players jumped McMaster in the penalty box and a riot almost broke out as players from both sides swarmed in the vicinity and the spectators crowded around. However, cooler heads separated the participants quickly and trouble was averted.

McMaster, Crowley, Whitnall, Vincent and Heffernan each had two goals and Robinson one for the Petes. All the Petes played well, with Hickson brilliant in goal.

King To Have Last Word Among Liberals

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 — (CP). — The old master had the last word.

Louis St. Laurent was the man they elected leader of the Liberal party Saturday, all right, but for coming generations the living voice from the convention will be that of William Lyon Mackenzie King.

Atomic-age enthusiasts of the future successors to swing or re-bop, dipping into their platter collections, may well come up with a 12-inch disc entitled "a message from Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King."

That will be Mr. King's last word. He had it through the pressing of a record that was presented to all 1,299 delegates to the convention that wound up Saturday.

In the transcription, the Prime Minister, dominant figure through most of the convention, set down in permanent form his ideas of the precepts and faiths of the Liberal party.

General Re-statement

It was a pretty general re-statement of Liberal dogma, as seen through the eyes of the man who has sculptured the shape of the party for the last 29 years. It was the re-affirmation of his own faiths.

And in its very creation it added another bit of evidence to the quite obvious convention theme that Mr. King, while bowing out of the active ring, was still the boss.

That note was evident through the gathering. It was Mr. King who got the big ovations—save for the final one on St. Laurent's election as his successor — and it was Mr. King who boosted that crown prince into the succession.

Altogether, except for the closing hours, it was a Mackenzie King convention.

And, through the magic of the waxed word, it may continue to be just that for the Liberals of the future.

We notice from the games that were handed in last night that six of the 11 games were won by the players of No. 2 group That's a shade over 50 per cent. Not bad, eh!

It will be equally interesting tonight to see how Group No. 3 fares against Group No. 4.

We haye received no information as yet, regarding the tournament on Friday night. Maybe they will pass it along this evening.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS ago most of the Lake Simcoe beach front on eastern boundary of Innisfil Township had been bought up for resort purposes. Teachers Meet To Discuss Pension Plans

By KAY REX.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Teacher has come to Ottawa—but the kids don't have to worry. For the next three days she—or he—will have such things as salaries and pensions in mind, rather than reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic.

Close to 100 delegates from across Canada have assembled for the 27th conference of the Canadian Teachers Federation.

Monday night D. C. Munroe of Ormstown, Que., suggested in his presidential address that an inter-provincial exchange of teachers is one means of developing a "national unity" within the profession.

He said certification and pension benefits were two obstacles to the free movement of teachers across provincial boundaries. Perhaps the simplest remedy for the pension situation would be for the Federal Government to assume the cost of teachers' pensions and standardize the administration and benefits throughout the country.

As for certification, Mr. Munroe suggested a "Canadian teacher certificate" which would meet the highest requirements in force in any of the provinces, and "would be acceptable anywhere in the Dominion."

Others who spoke included John Bracken, retiring Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, and Defence Minister Claxton.

Mr. Claxton, in bring greetings from the Government, recalled that the CTE had 55,000 members in its organization, and paid tribute to the Federation for the "amazing job" it had been doing.

Mr. Bracken said that education should have financial support from the Federal Government. However, he felt administration should be left in the hands of the Provincial Governments.

Petes Trounce Scarboro By 18-9 In OLA Contest

The Petes trimmed Scarboro Grads 18-9 before a slim crowd at Miller Bowl last night, their 16th straight OLA senior "B" win this season. It was fairly close most of the way but not too interesting as the Petes' passing made them look superior most of the route. As usual, they finished strong with an 8-4 margin in the fourth. The first was 3-1 for the locals, the second heat 3-2 and the third 4-2. Play was clean throughout.

All the Petes went well, with Foote, Dugan, Bob Breakspear, the Vitarelli brothers and Smith all prominent on the attack. Magee went well both on the offensive and defensively, and Hill was solid in goal. Digby, Gillies, Fairley and Dunne went best for the losers, who are battling to make a playoff spot. They trail the field in the five-team group, four of which make playoffs. It was Scarboro's "home" game.

The teams:

Petes: Goal, Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, Horton; wings, R. Breakspear and Dugan; rover, Foote; alternates, Dundas, J. Breakspear, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Smith, Connelly and Gordon.

Scarboro: Goal, Hayward; defence, Digby and Fewster; centre, Gillies; wings, Harrison and Fairley; rover, Dunne; alternates, Prendergast, Sims, Ballagh, Graham, Poyntz and Holden.

Marines Beat Electrics In First Fray

Outboard Marines edged CGE 5-2 before a good crowd at the Bowl last night in the first game of their best-of-three semifinal series in the Girls' Softball League. It was a fine fixture all the way, with both sides playing heads-up ball. The winners proved a bit better this trip and earned the win. They were outhit 11-10, but fielded in perfect fashion and cashed in on their chances while the Electrics booted a couple. The same squads clash again to-morrow night and CGE must win or they are through for the season.

A. LaPointe and M. Stephenson stood out for the Marines in the field, while T. DeCarlo and J. Hart were best defensively for the losers. Each pitcher fanned 7 and there were few walks. A fielding feature was a catch by M. Stephenson in the fourth. B. Larmer hit a homer and single for Marines as M. Behan and M. Connolly got two singles each. T. DeCarlo led CGE with a double and two singles, and R. Hewitt had a triple and single.

And if the weather is right tonight, the men's softball semi-finals open at the Bowl at seven bells, in a non-nautical sense. Knights clash with Legionnaires in a twin bill to open their four-in-seven serial and, as the N.Y. fight announcer puts it, may the better participants emerge triumphant! Same squads tangle Thursday eve and again Saturday night, if necessary, twin bills in each case. Fresh from a hot stretch drive, which saw Knights finally make a playoff spot behind the second-place Legion club, these teams will be shooting the works now. Elimination is the lot of the loser, while the victor has the doubtful pleasure of meeting B-A in finals. So, the chips are down now.

* * * * * *

Must mention Comstock's in passing. They did exceptionally well, under the circs, and forced the schedule to go overtime ere bowing to the redhot Knights in a final tough tussle. Started out the season in shaky style as De Laval, later switching over to sponsorship by Comstock's. Manager Stew Richardson had trouble all season lining up enough good twirlers in a sizzling race but he kept plugging away and almost made the moneyed spot. He brought up some right promising young talent and fans will hear more from them in another campaign. We hope the team will be back next season under the same banner.

Re OBA Playdowns

OBA announces playdown dates and the draws. COBL winner plays Toronto no later than Sept. 11 in senior "A" while the runner-updown this way goes against Ottawa in senior "B" around the end of this month. Hm, how are they going to work that out? Intermediate Petes play Belleville's winner the same time. Lakeshore Loop junior "A" winner goes against Belleville about Aug. 21 while our juvenile champs tackle Oshawa around the same date. Local midgets mix with Belleville on or before Aug. 21 and our bantams have a first-round bye. Kingston and Peterborough meet in peewee playdowns no later than Aug. 21. Jack Turner of the OBA is convener up this way.

* * * * * *

Kiwanis beat Kinsmen 9-3 in Riverside last e'en to even up the best-of-three Lakeshore League junior baseball semi-final series. The third tilt is slated for tomorrow p.m. at 6.15, we understand—if the park can be obtained. As there must be a winner to go to Oshawa next Saturday to start the two-in-three finals. Playdowns commence a week later. A five-run drive in the ninth clinched matters last night with Stewart's triple with the bases loaded settling it. Fitzgerald hit probably the longest homer ever seen over there, a tremendous drive going 20 feet over the right-fielder's head. Oldtimers there said they'd never seen such a thump. No official protest was lodged on the first game, so the series is now even.

* * * * * *

Some COBL Stuff

Kingston couldn't get the park last night so the Petes will go there Friday, instead. With Batawa here on Saturday. By the way, Gord Muffitt, ace Bata flinger, will be out for a while, having suffered a broken jaw in a shop accident recently. Larry Edwardson is coming along okay now, Lloyd Grose tells us, but will not likely see further diamond action this season. Loop standing now has the Petes in front with 15 wins and six losses, Batawa next with 13 and seven, Kingston in third spot with six and 12 and Oshawa in the cellar with six and 15. League executive meets at the Empress Hotel this Thursday at eight p.m. to arrange postponements and playoffs.

* * * * * *

Marines edged Electrics 5-2 at ye olde Bowle last p.m. in the first of the girls' two-in-three intermediate "A" semi-finals. A nice number, too, all the way, and the CGE-ers might come right back and even it up tomorrow eve under the arcs. They will have to, or else. And Woollens took a 10-5 win o'er Lock Co. in the other game, which wasn't a bad scrap, either. Bill Bennett tells us that Florine Killen of Ashby's, who was injured in a game last Wednesday, goes to St. Mike's today for an operation. It is probable that a benefit game will be staged by the league, as few of these loops carrying injury insurance for the players. Tilts tomorrow are: Lindsay vs. Lakefield and Marines vs. CGE—both playoff jousts. Friday sees CGE against Marines and Lakefield playing Lindsay.

And About Lacrosse

Were we free tonight we'd trek to Oshawa to see the Petes' lacrossers in a hot duel. However, we'll see the same squads back here Friday, and these teams don't fool around when they tangle, nossuh! Locals racked up their 16th straight win of the semester last gloaming before a small gathering with an 18-9 smirk over Scarboro Grads. The latter tried hard and it was close enough most of the route but the Petes looked better and dished up their usual late dash to pile it up. Only 3-1 in the first and 6-3 in the second, but they kept adding up the count. Jack Foote was plenty hot on the attack and the whole gang went well in a so-so sort of struggle.

* * * * * *

HITHER AND YAWN: Junior regatta at Chemong tomorrow aft. . . . No soccer game tonight as Petes can't field a team, and Lindsay can't play this week; executive meets tonight at 7.30 in the "Y". . . . All players interested in the bantam all-star lacrosse team (under 14 by Jan. 1) meet at 7.30 tonight in Miller Bowl. . . . Midgets play at Orillia this eve so regular tilts tonight are cancelled. . . . Juvenile Petes won a rough 11-8 joust in Midland last twilight. . . . Montreal bantams beat St. Paul's 6-2, American midgets edged Cavanagh's 5-3 and peewee Petes took Lions 6-3. . . . East City and southend midgets open their baseball finals tonight in Riverside, as East City and southend peewees go at the Ex. . . . . Grafton's won 6-5 from Shell Oil in a Civic Softball Loop playoff last eve. . . . Girls will charge at the Bowl for playoffs henceforo same as the men have done all season. . . . Wm. Taylor Trophy goes to B-A for finishing first in the men's schedule. . . . In industrial playoffs, Nashua meets Marines at Brinton tonight, winner meeting the Drafting-Quaker winners in finals. . . . Latter two go tonight, also, at 6.30 at Quaker Park . . . The works.

Grafton's Win 6-5

Grafton's won the first game of their three out of five series with Shell Oil last night at King Edward Park. Killenbeck was on the mound for Shell Oil while Riches pitched for Grafton's.

Hits by Bullen and Dummitt and a homer by Pearce in the 6th inning accounted for four runs for Shell Oil.

Jack Byers homered for Grafton's in the eight inning with the score tied 55-all to make it 6 to 5.

These teams meet again Wednesday at Armour Field for their second playoff game. Teams:

Grafton's: Livingston, c; McGillis, cf; Jamison, ss; Conroy, 3b; Riches, p; Godfrey, 1b; Hall, lf; Byers, 2b; Lake, rf; Lewis, rf.

Kiwanis Even Up Series With Kinsmen

By FRED MAYBEE

Kiwanis juniors evened the count with Kinsmen last evening at Riverside in their best of three semi-final series, as they defeated the latter 9-3 in a clean, hard-fought battle.

Jake Jaquith toiled for Kiwanis, allowing nine hits but except for the eighth, was never in trouble. He issued no walks and his mates supported him in errorless fashion. George (Red) Sullivan twirled well also until the ninth, when two walks and three hits, one a triple by Stewart, with the bases, loaded, put five runs over, to salt the game away.

Stewart drove three runs home for Kiwanis with three for four and scored three himself, as Collins and Pagett each drove in two and the latter shone at short, as did LaPlante in the field. Menzies also played a strong game. For Kinsmen, Curry had three for four while Fitzgerald and Legros each had two, the former hitting one of the longest home runs ever seen at Riverside.

Woollens Get A Victory Over Lock Co.

Dominion Woollens defeated Lock Co. 10-5 in a Girls' Softball League fixture at the Bowl last evening. They had an early edge and fought off a threat midway through the tilt by Lock Co. to earn the victory fairly handily in a good game. The losers kicked in with four miscues in the field, while the winners played errorless ball and had a margin in bingles in a free-hitting affair. The game meant little in the standing.

B. Hill and C. Ferguson went best defensively for the victors, while D. Westlake and J. McIntyre were the pick of the other side. M. Derry relieved M. Stewart on the mound for Lock Co. in the seventh, but none of the pitchers showed too much in this joust. C. Ferguson led Woollens with the willow, having two doubles and three singles in six tries. D. Westlake topped Lock Co. at the plate with a double and three singles in six.

Giant Australian Sculler Wins Olympics Singles Championship

LONDON, Aug. 10 — (CP). — With track and field competitions finished, the "forgotten sports" of the Olympic Games are drawing more attention.

More than 20,000 spectators on Monday lined the historic Henley course along the Thames to see Mervyn Wood, giant Australian sculler, capture the Olympics singles championship.

The handsome fingerprint expert came across the finish line of the 1,900 metre course with a safe four-length lead over Eduardo Risso of Paraguay. Romolo Catasta of Italy was third.

In the eights, the United States rowed to its sixth victory since 1920, defeating Britain. California University's eight-oared crew had to fight off the British eight in the last 750 yards to win by two lengths.

Score Doubles

Britain and the United States both scored doubles. Britain won the double sculls and pairs without coxswain. The United States added the fours with coxswain to the eights championship.

A pair of veterans captured the pairs without coxswain for Britain. J. H. T. Wilson and W. G. R. Laurie, both near 40 years of age and who had not been in regular competition for 10 years until the Olympic training started, defeated a Swiss pair by one length.

A pair who teamed up for the first time only a few weeks ago won the double sculls for Britain. Dick Burnell and Bert Bushnell finished the event 1½ lengths ahead of Denmark and were never headed.

In the fours with coxswain a favored United States crew from the University of Washington came in half a length ahead of Switzerland.

Split Championship

The two remaining championships of the seven decided were split between Denmark and Italy. The Danes' pairs with coxswain won by three lengths over Italy and Italy's fours without coxswain finished ahead of the Danes.

While echoes of the protest over Saturday's 400-metre relay were still being heard, a new protest over fixed rudders on canoes of some of the European entrants was laid by Canada, the United States and Britain. But the Olympics authorities rejected the complaint.

Gerard Cote's statement that the Canadian contingent's morale was generally low brought some sharp comment, both favorable and unfavorable. Without mentioning Cote's statement, made in Montreal, the Canadian advisory committee said there must be more enthusiastic support at home of Canada's athletes if they are to get far in international competition.

Two Canadian boxers who fought in the boxing elimination tournament won their fights Monday Armand Savoie, Montreal featherweight, defeated J. Shid Fani of Iran. The Iranian was disqualified in the third round for holding and coming in low after several warnngs.

Eddie Haddad of Winnipeg and Esquimault, B.C., scored a clear decision over Ex El Din Mahmoud Nasir of Egypt in the lightweight division.

HANDS AT WORK . . . for ONTARIO

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security . . . and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. To produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by Ontario industry. They receive ON THE-JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts veterans on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Taught to use their hands in such jobs as routing, etching, stripping, burnishing and finishing, they will eventually become photo engraving craftsmen. Because of the increasing importance of this trade, every effort of these newly-skilled workers helps to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and contributes to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

R. C. Smith, 22, of Toronto, an R.C.A.F. veteran, is shown routing a plate in a large Toronto photo engraving plant. Many veterans subsequently obtain full time employment in the factories wher they receive training.

Slaughter Big Sparkpulg As Cards Down Reds 6-2

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who do you think has been the ringleader in St. Louis Cardinals' current drive to overtake Boston Braves in the red-hot National League pennant race?

Stan Musial? No sir. It's been Enos (Country) Slaughter, Stan's running mate.

Partly obscured by the big shadow of Musial since Stan joined the Cardinals late in 1941, Slaughter, a great player in his own right, has outdone even the mighty Musial with the bat during the last three weeks.

During that stretch, Enos collected at least one hit each contest for 18 consecutive games until last Sunday. In 74 times at bat, he clubbed enemy pitchers for 32 hits for a .432 batting mark.

The fiery slaughter picked up Monday night where he left off Sunday, cracking four hits in four times at bat. He drove in five runs and led the Cardinals to a 6-2 triumph over the Reds in Cincinnati. He now is the fourth leading batter in the league with a mark of .323.

Closing On Braves

The victory enabled the second-place Cardinals to advance to within 3½ games of the idle Braves. They led the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers by half a game.

The Dodgers kept pace with the Cardinals, edging Philadelphia Phils 2-1 in a tight pitching duel between Carl Erskine and Blix Donnelly. Erskine, a 21-year-old recruit recently brought up by the Dodgers from their Fort Worth farm, permitted the Phils only five hits in registering his fourth victory without a setback. One of the Phils' blows was Del Ennis' 17th home run.

Cleveland Indians moved half a game out in front in the torrid American League race as Gene Bearden pitched the tribe to a 6-2 victory over the Tigers in a night game in Detroit before a crowd of 56,586.

Eddie Robinson's three-run homer in the fourth off Freddie Hutchinson, his fourth in his last three games, enabled Bearden to rack up his 10th victory. He has lost only three.

The victory put the tribe half a game in front of the runner-up Philadelphia Athletics, 2½ ahead of the third-place New York Yankees and three in front of the fourth-place Boston Red Sox.

Bespectacled Bob Dillinger banged a triple and two doubles to lead the Browns to an 8-6 triumph over Chicago White Sox in a night game in St. Louis.

All other teams in both leagues were not scheduled.

Cagey Berry Picks Hambletonian Winner

GOSHEN, NY, Aug. 10 (AP)—Cagey old Tom Berry, whom some think will drive Rollo to victory to-morrow in the 23rd Hambletonian Harness Stake, squinted out over historic Good Time Track, and said: "I think it will be between Demon Hanover and Madison Hanover."

"Oh, I think we've got a good chance," he said. "Rollo's a good tough, game horse, but the way Demon Hanover has been racing it looks like he will be the best. I think it will be between Demon Hanover and Madison Hanover."

Size of the Hambletonian field, to be known when the entry box closes to-day, will have a lot to do with it, Berry declared.

"Sympathetic" Parts Fall To Massey

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 10 (AP).—Toronto-born Raymond Massey, here to play a "sympathetic villain" in "The Fountainhead," observes that he nearly always plays heavies on the screen.

"In nearly all of the 200 plays I've done, I've performed sympathetic parts," he said. He can't explain it.

A heavy schedule of film musicals will keep Esther Williams working for a full year.

The curvaceous bathing babe is currently in a non-swimming role in "Take Me Out To The Ball Game." Then it's back to the tank. She'll follow that one with "Duchess of Idaho," "Neptune's Daughter' 'and "Haiwaii."

Actor Producers

Wife Dinah Shore — who's a busy gal with radio, records, etc. —and husband George Montgomery—whose movie career hasn't been breaking any records for activity of late—now are toying with the idea of producing their own films. They would like to co-star themselves in a medium-budget Western, using their Great Falls, Mont., ranch for locations.

Zachary Scott has long harbored a similar idea. He wents to film "The Cattle Baron," the life of his grandfather, R. B. Masterson, pioneer Texas ranger. "Jean Renior will direct," Scott reports, "and the film will be shot on the family ranch, the real background of the story."

$200,000 Shelf

The New Look at RKO doesn't always make sense. The studio paid out $200,000 for Bud Schulberg's book, "The Harder They Fall", then shelved it because there were too many boxing films. Now it plans another fisticuffer, "The Set-Up," to go right away, starring Robert Ryan.

10,000 Legionnaires To Invade Fort Erie Peace Encampment

FORT ERIE, Aug. 10 (CP). — More than 10,000 Canadian and American Legionnaires will invade this historic border town Aug. 12-15 inclusive to commemorate 135 years of peace between Canada and the United States.

The Veterans' International Peace Encampment, largest gathering of United States and Canadian veterans since before the Second World War, will take over Fort Erie and district hotels as well as setting up a "tent city" on the old Fort Erie Citadel grounds

Some 50,000 persons, besides the Legionnaires, are expected to attend the four-day conclave, which also in intended "to give a public showing of concern" over Communistic activities overseas, in Canada and the United States.

Legion members from all parts of both countries will be on hand to hear addresses by Canadian and US. government, military and Legion officials. The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Erie County Committee of the American Legion and the Fort Erie Branch of the Canadian Legion.

"It is high time that we veterans of two great freedom-loving nations remove our blinders and present to the world our united objections to such high-handed methods of conquest as are being witnessed in various part of the world today," said Phillip Dyke, chairman of the Canadian committee.

Plan Resolutions

"We intend to pass resolutions which will go to the proper places telling the world just how the men who helped win World War One and Two feel about such methods of penetration and conquest," he said. "The Communists believe in mass demonstrations So we plan to take a leaf from their book in this respect and show them anti-Communists, too, can rally en masse."

Band and drill competitions for $1,000 in prizes, speeches by well-known men, beauty contests, Vampire jet aircraft demonstrations, parachute jumping, softball games, a special carnival and midway, horseshoe pitching and many other activities will cram a visitor's full day.

The first day, Aug. 12, registration will take place and quarters will be assigned. The second day, Aug. 13, will be National Defence Day. The third day will be United Nations Day, and closing day, Aug. 15, will be marked by huge drumhead religious services.

"Miss Tourist of 1948" will be chosen Saturday evening, Aug. 14, while "Miss Encampment," now being selected from among Buffalo-Fort Erie district girls, will be photographed and her pictures distributed. She will mingle with the crowds Saturday evening and the person who guesses her identity will receive a major prize.

Admiral Hewitt, Guest

Among the notables to speak to the huge gathering will be Admiral H. K. Hewitt, U.S. naval representative on the military staff committee of the United Nations. He will participate in the United Nations Day program.

Other dignitaries to speak are the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Federal Minister of Labor, and the Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Minister of Labor. Thomas E. Dewey, Governor of New York State, and Ontario Premier George Drew, also may be present.

Among the Legionnaires themselves will be James F. O'Neill, National Commander of the American Legion; E. S. Evans, present of the Ontario Command, and Arthur S. Duffy, New York Department Command of the American Legion.

Plan To Open Mine

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 10 (CP) Trade Minister Howe announced Monday that the Federal government plans to spend $7,000,000 to open a new ore body at Steep Rock Iron Mines, 140 miles west of here. He said in an interview "when we work this out, Steep Rock output will be stepped up from 1,000,000 tons a year to something better than 3,000,000 tons."

27-Pound Muskie Caught In Trent

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10 (Special). — An hour-long fight during which his rowboat was pulled off course by a 27½-pound maskinonge resulted in a fishing triumph for Allen Taylor of Campbellford Sunday. Though not a record for Trent waters this year, the fish is one of the largest caught to date Taylor was trolling in Bradley Bay, southeast of Campbellford, using a plug. The muskie measured 46½ inches in length, with a girth of 19¾ inches. Lloyd Taylor assisted with the gaff hook.

Shortages Worry Manchester Business Men

By W. F. TEWSON

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 10 (CP).—Rising costs of raw materials and the threat of shortages are causing concern to Manchester business men, despite their full order books.

The city is not only the hub of the cotton industry, but claims to be the largest engineering centre in the United Kingdom and has a big chemicals industry. In addition, thousands of men and women are employed in newer and lighter manufacturing trades.

Most factories and workshops are fairly well stocked with coal, but the shortage of steel and labor has led to a warning that to maintain full production in factories producing heavy power plant and other essential equipment, it may be necessary to divert supplies from smaller firms on less important work.

Rising costs have been felt particularly in the cotton industry. Cotton goods are nearly four times their pre-war value and some customers—notably Canada—are beginning to complain.

This is causing anxiety here, since producers are doing their utmost to supply Canada with between 80,000,000 and 100,000,000 yards of cloth this year. Shipments are still below this target, running at 2,772,000 yards in May, which was a fivefold increase over the monthly average in 1947.

Apart from price, one difficulty has been the widely-held fear that the Canadian market will not be permanent, and that after two or three years it will no longer be wide open to English textiles. In recent months, however, manufacturers have taken a more optimistic view.

As far as export goes Manchester does not fear competition in quality manufacturers, although producers have been disturbed by the fact that Lancashire mills are being undersold in cheaper grades by the United States.

Marie On Way To 3rd Round Assembly Win

PARIS, Aug. 10.—(CP).—Premier Andre Marie today appeared well on the way to a third-round victory in the National Assembly.

A compromise reached Monday night on a controversial section of a measure designed to help the government to regulate some tax financial crisis led to the general belief the bill will be approved by a substantial majority.

Under the compromise, the recovery measure would permit the governmetn to regulate some taxes either upwards or downwards but such regulatory decrees would have to be ratified by the Assembly. The Communists, opposing the bill, shouted that its passage would sell France to the United States.

The measure, sponsored by Finance Minister Paul Reynaud, also would give Marie's coalition cabinet power to cut government expenses and increase production.

Approve Plan

A solid majority of the deputies approved the Marie government in a vote two weeks ago. Previously they had agreed to give him a chance as premier. The vote on the Renaud plan is the third affecting Marie, but no vote of confidence is involved.

Articles of the Renaud measure dealing with cutting governmental expenses and re-organizing nationalized industry were approved on a show of hands Monday night, a short time after Communist labor bosses pulled some French workers off their jobs in scattered protest strikes.

Reynaud traced an ambitious program Sunday. France must recast her whole conception of economic policy if she wished to survive once the Marshall aid period ended, he said. She must "export or die."

Missing Youth Turns Up Walks Safely Out of Bush

NORTH BAY, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Fifteen-year-old Billy Larochelle arrived home safe and sound Monday while a 100-man search party was combing northern Ontario's bush and swampland for him. He had been missing from his home here since Saturday.

Apparently none the worse for his two-day life in the wilds, Billy walked up to the front door of his home at noon Monday and prepared to play ball on the corner lot as usual. Police then called off their air and land search, which began Saturday night when the lad failed to return from a blueberry-picking expedition.

Meanwhile at Cobalt, 70 miles north of North Bay, another search party found Mrs. George Hines of nearby Giroux Lake, Ont., in an unconscious and semi-paralyzed condition in the bush She had been missing from her home for more than 24 hours.

The elderly woman wandered into the rock and bush country near the old silver town Saturday morning. Police officers, relatives and neighbors hunted all day and night Saturday and were preparing for dragging of Giroux Lake when Wesley Preston of Cobalt found the woman.

Back at home, the Larochelle boy said he hitch-hiked his way to a berry patch on the Callander highway Saturday morning, and failing to find any berries, worried his way back from the road When darkness fell he realized he was lost.

Sees Planes

Billy slept on the ground that night, and when Sunday dawned he pushed on into the bush in the hope of finding a way out. "I kept going all day," he said, "but I didn't see any roads — just bush." During the day he heard planes overhead, but didn't realize they were looking for him.

Sunday night he climbed into a tree to sleep. During the night he had an unwelcome companion — a black bear snuggled up to the foot of the tree and showed no intention of leaving. "It wasn't so bad though, he was just a small bear," Billy said.

Police believe the animal was probably the same one seen from an aircraft Sunday afternoon, leading searchers to believe it might have killed the boy. A party of men armed with rifles was despatched to search for the bear in the hope that the boy might be earby.

Shortly after sunrise the next day, the bear departed, and Billy was able to work his way out to the highway. From there he regained his direction and walked home.

Ever make this simple brake test?

Like this: From 20 m.p.h., come to a full stop within 30 feet. Then answer three questions: 1—Did the steering wheel pull to one side? 2—Did the brake pedal move more than one inch before braking was felt? 3—After you stopped, was there less than one inch of pedal travel left?

Warning Given On City Taxes

Tax arrears are not permitted to accumulate indefinitely until their accumulation levels off with the owner's equity.

"If taxes get behind for three years, the property has to be put up for sale to collect that money," City Treasurer A. S. Couper told The Examiner today.

"We have sent out notices to people who are neglecting their tax payments, and we have had fairly good response. But, others are still putting off paying, and we will have to prepare a list of those properties and announce them being for sale. That is one thing I don't like doing, but it is the new requirement.

"Peterborough hasn't had a tax sale for two years. This is the third year since we have had to make an announcement of that kind. This is a reminder to owners who have let their taxes get in arrears to see if we can arrange things without sale. But, if they don't call in to talk things over, I guess we'll have to go on."

FARMER FRACTURES

Pinned against the wall of his garage after cranking his car which was in gear, Arthur Armstrong, farmer of RR 4, Warkworth, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee and severe body bruises. After first aid by Dr. R. F. Jolliff, of Campbellford, he was rushed to Belleville Hospital.

Thirty Jaycee Volunteers Serve 200 District Resorts

Thirty members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, volunteer workers in the Tourist Information Bureau, Highway 28, deserve great credit for their work in the tourist industry according to letters received from resort operators. Organized early this year the Bureau was erected by the Junior Chamber and opened June 28. To date more than 700 tourists have been directed to accommodation and enquiries total more than 300.

Based on the lowest rate chargeable at resorts, lodge or cabin accommodation to which tourists were sent, the revenue represented in the enquiries, said Doug. Delaney, vice-chairman, would be in excess of $4,800.

Organized by the Tourist Committee of the Junior Chamber under Chairman A. (Doug.) Vaisey, the Bureau now reaching the mid-season mark has attained the degree of service planned by the Committee. First contact with the resort operators came with a letter advising the Bureau was in operation. "At that time we said: 'We are in business to give service,'" Doug. Vaisey told The Examiner. "We are giving that service to tourists coming into the district."

Opens At 8 a.m.

Asked how the Bureau is operated, Doug Delaney said, each Jaycee volunteer reports to the Bureau shortly after eight a.m. The system used at the Bureau is explained in detail, and all matters of reference are pointed. "Where To Say In Ontario", published by the Department of Travel and Publicity is one of the chief reference manuals, supplemented by other tourist publications, including the Canadian Vacation Guide published by the Examiner.

Bureau volunteers maintain a log book of every event that occurs during their tour of duty. Recorded in two sections, the first consists of "incident" items. Highway traffic checks, distinguished visitors, hours of closing and other items. One example entry was the visit of L. (Pete) McGillen, City Editor, and Nick Nickels, photographer, of The Examiner. Complaints and comment from tourists are also recorded here.

Part II of the log is the listing of tourist enquiries. Each item includes the name of the tourist, the address, nature of enquiry, and disposition.

Examples of enquiries are: Address of Art Peeling. Overnight accommodation. Direction to Viamede Hotel. Local swimming sites. Direction to Lift Lock. Tour of industrial sections. Rental of outboard motors. Road conditions on Highway 60.

In this section more than 300 enquiries were handled by the Bureau.

Had Many Problems

Many problems faced the Jaycees in constructing the Bureau and making the site visible from Highway 28. Early in June traffice at the Bureau was slow. It was learned that lack of signing created this condition. Jaycees created highway signs and a large sign over the Bureau. While the sign was being erected four cars drove in. The driver said "We know what it is now. our highway signs are effective, but this sign indicates who you are and what you can do."

Broadening their field the Jaycees now have received written enquiries from Americans interested in visiting the Kawartha District. Herb. W. Buerger, Cleveland, Ohio, will have accommodation in the district. He wrote requesting a four-day reservation in cottage accommodation.

Resort operators have congratulated the Jaycees on their effort at the Bureau. Ernie Bulmer, Indian Head Lodge, worte, "Party arrived and were pleased with accommodation. You are doing a splendid job." J. W. Kipp, Harrisburg, Pa., a vacationer at Irwin Inn, wrote, "We visited the place you referred us to. It is a beautiful location. The best of service and treatment one could ever expect to receive." T. E. Graham, Riverdale Lodge, Buckhorn, said, "We of Riverdale Lodge have proof of the worth of your efforts."

Toronto Man Gets Broken Nose In Brawl One Jailed, Three Others Pay Liquor Fines

"The Battle of Norwood," as Magistrate A. E. Gee described it in court today, resulted in a jail term for one man and fines on liquor charges for three others. Donald Bedore, Norwood, was found guilty and given 30 days on the evidence of assaulting John Shack of Toronto, resulting in a broken nose and blackened eye.

Shack, first crown witness, described the fight which had taken place at Norwood on July 31. A Toronto contractor, he said he had come to Norwood regarding the purchase of a summer cottage. He was accompanied by Miss Alice Robinson, Toronto. While visiting the home of Wilson Webb, Miss Robinson's brother-in-law, the fight had broken out.

Shack said that the accused had been brought to the house by Webb, who also brought the other men. He said that there had been a dispute when someone asked Shack to pay for some more beer. He said the accused struck him twice, breaking his nose and blackening his eye so that specialist treatment in Toronto was required. He said he did not know why the fight had started and that he had done nothing to promote it. He said that several of the men had struck Miss Robinson. At that, he said, he started to look for his hat to leave.

"Why didn't you stay to help the girl?" the accused asked Shack in court.

"Im not a fighting man," replied Shack.

"I must say I'd be mighty proud of a boy friend like you," commented the accused.

Miss Robinson, in her evidence, said that she had seen Bedore strike Shack. She was unable to account for the fight.

Wilson Webb, the host, said that Miss Robinson had entered the room where he and his friends were and had begun to swear at him for bringing them to the house. He said the woman "went at me like a tiger and clawed at me." In defence, he claimed, he had told her off.

The witness said that Shack had come up behind him and he heard Bedore warn the Toronto man to "keep out of this." Webb said he did not see the accused strike Shack, and that he noticed no injuries to Shack's face.

The accused, in his own evidence, said that Shack had crept up behind him with a beer bottle in his hand and that in self-defence he had struck Shack once.

Shack, recalled again by the crown, denied having been behind Bedore or carrying a beer bottle at any time.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Gee told the accused that "there were other more peaceful ways of settling this matter than breaking the man's nose."

Also charged as a result of the same incident were: Victor Ferguson, Toronto, fined $10 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor; Kenneth Williamson, Norwood, same charge and fine; Wilson Webb, fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being in possession of liquor while an interdicted person.

Band Concert Fees Demanded; Council Says No

"I think we ought to give that one a by," was Ald. Grant Miller's proposal of dismissal at the meeting of the finance committee Monday night of a demand from the Composers, Authors and Publishers Association, Toronto, for fees, collectible they say, because the city supports a band that plays park concerts.

City Clerk Outram said the association wanted five dollars a quarter "so that our license may be sent you", plus two dollars paid in advance for free concerts in the parks.

C. H. Matheson, Toronto, of the licensing department of the Association wrote that most of the music used at band concerts was copyright and a license should be obtained authorizing performances "of the copyright music of composers, authors and publishers represented by this association."

"How are we going to know whether the Citizens Band is playing copyright music?" That was one of the questions in the brief discussion ending with Ald. Grant Miller's motion to ignore the letter. Ald. Doug Miller seconded it.

Mr. Matheson's letter informed the council that the association collected fees on behalf of composers, authors and publishers for public performances of their copyright music.

"The license issued by the association covers the music of its own Canadian members, and of the members of the affiliated organizations numbering more than 60,000 composers."

The method of operation and the disposal of revenue was indicated in this sentence: "All fees collected, less cost of administration, are distributed among the composers, authors and publishers concerned, in proportion to the relative use of their music.

Licenses have already been issued covering performances in approximately 3,000 establishments, including many public parks. Fees are irrespective of profit and charge for admission. Our solicitors have informed us that there are many legal cases in which it has been held that the employer of the musicians is liable under the law for any infringements which take place."

"That sounds like Petrillo," Mayor Ovens remarked. The Miller motion was adopted as a recommendation to the council.

Plan New Survey On City Housing

A new housing survey of Peterborough is to be made soon by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Mayor Ovens told the finance committee of the council Monday night.

"They are going to examine every application on their file, investigate them and find out exactly what is the housing prospect in the light of the building that is now well under way," His Worship said. "They are sending a man here for that purpose within the next two weeks. The information should be helpful to the council. We will know whether we are catching up on the demand, and just what the outlook is likely to be in 1949."

LT. COL. NEIL GEMMELL, D.S.O., Croix de Guerre, officer commanding the Princess Pats Light Infantry at Calgary has relinquished the post and will take the next Canadian Army staff course at Kingston. The Calgary unit is one of the three infantry regiments selected to become an airborne battalion.

Col. N. Gemmell Relinquishes Calgary Post

OTTAWA, Aug. 10. (CP)—An old friend from Ortona days was named by the Army Monday to command the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, one of Canada's three regular infantry regiments, and he'll be in the Pats' first class to undergo airborne training.

He is Lt. Col. Donald C. Cameron, 37, DSO, ED, a native of Alexandria, Ont., who was on hand at Calgary Monday when the war-famous Pats were informed they have been picked as the first infantry outfit to take training as an airborne battalion.

Col. Cameron, a quietly inspirational type of officer, was with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment — Ontario's celebrated Hastypees—as a company commander during the fierce fighting around the Moro River that saw the Pats join in the clearing of Ortona. The two battalions were part of the first division that waged there one of Canada's most important battles of the war.

Col. Cameron later rose to command the Hastypees and came home from an occupation job to run the winter experimental station at Churchill, Man., in its initial years.

He has recently been acting chief of infantry training at Army headquarters. In Calgary, he will succeed Lt. Col. W. M. Gemmell, 38, DSO, a native of Peterborough, and wartime commander of Ontario's Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders.

Col. Gemmell will attend the next course at the Canadian Army Staff College in Kingston, starting next month. Col. Cameron is expected to return to Ottawa shortly with Maj.-Gen. C. C. Mann, vice-chief of the General Staff, who gave the information about their airborne training. He will take over the unit later.

M. Turner Wins Stony Lake Event

A new class of small sailing craft made an unsuccessful first appearance on Sunday afternoon at the weekly Stony Lake sailing races held this week at Crowe's Landing. Two Moth class boats, about eight feet long, with a Marconi cat rig, entered, but both dumped before the finish line.

Chuck Pearson, skipper of one, jumped over the side to prevent the complete filling of the boat and managed to finish the race after climbing aboard again.

First place went to M. Turner, sailing a 16-foot Marconi rigged dinghy, while second place was taken by Ted Welsh in a 14-foot Marconi rigged caboat.

PICNIC COMMITTEE MEETING

A meeting of the committee was held last night, but several members including Mr. Torrance were unable to attend.

Finance Committee Rejects Wine Store Application Claim Citizens Opposed

Finance committee of the council rejected Monday night the application of Bright Wine Co. to open a retail store at 170 Charlotte St. The motion by Mayor Ovens was seconded by Ald. H. Dodds. "What a sanctimonious world," was the astringent remark of Ald. Gordon Armstrong to Mayor Ovens' mentioning of many telephone calls which he had received "from reputable citizens, objecting to the proposed store."

Mr. M. F. Jones, vice-president of the company, said the Bright Company was embarrassed by the community impresssions left by the Hillrust Company, who operated in Peterborough some years ago.

"There were 52 wineries and they are now down to 19," Mr. Jones said. "Small companies got us all into trouble. Our company has spent a large sum of money removing the conditions which caused the trouble. The result is that our wines are greatly improved. We are a reputable company, and it is our present effort to have people drink our lighter wines with their meals. We have spent money on varieties of grapes, and our director of research is now in France enquiring into matters of production."

Mr. Jones suggested that the number of objections to the company's application would not be one-half of one per cent.

When the committee later considered the request, Mayor Ovens said: "I don't see how we could conscientiously approve, in the face of all the letters and telephone calls we have received protesting against the store. People still remember Hillrust and its effects. That was pretty sour. If any people want wine they can buy it at the liquor store.

The Ovens - Dodds motion directed that the council's opposition be conveyed to the Liquor Control Board.

Ohio Woman Gets 20-Pounder

Mrs. Winifred Hammond, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, landed a 20-pound muskie after a half-hour battle in Rice Lake near Harwood on Sunday night. Using a bucktail spinner for bait, the fish hit about nine o'clock and fought until 9.15.

This is the 10th muskie for Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, who have been coming here for five years. However, the largest previous muskie weighed only 10 pounds and was one of three caught last year by Mr. Hammond. Planning to change to Stony Lake for fishing, the Hammonds think they'll hang around Rice Lake for a bit longer. They are staying at Holidae Holm.

Chemong Regatta Wednesday At 1.30

Chemong Park junior regatta will be revived this week, and the program is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon starting at 1.30 sharp. Next year officials hope to stage the annual senior regatta along with the junior section.

It was officially reported today that all events for contestants up to 16 years of age are restricted to residents of the Park and of Bridgenorth, but the events for contestants 16 to 20 years of age are open to everyone. A silver cup will be presented to the boy and girl obtaining the most points.

On August 22, the sailing races will be held for boys and girls 16 and under, and will include canoe sailing.

HERON NEAR FALLS

Early traveller along the Lakefield highway noted a big blue heron standing stiffly and solemnly in the water below the filtration plant dam. All alone, the big fellow stood erect and unbothered in about one foot of swift water.

Three Attempted Break-ins Are Reported

City police are continuing their investigations of three more break-in attempts reported Monday, which add to the several which developed during the week-end.

The home of Murray McCullough, 408 Monaghan Rd., was entered by marauders sometime during the owner's absence on holidays, it was learned. Although nothing has been found missing, a thorough search of the place was made. Entrance was made through a cellar window and the exit was by way of the cellar door.

The refrigerator, kitchen cupboards, a writing desk, china cabinet and other items were ransacked. A suitcase and chest in the attic were also forced open and thoroughly searched.

Apparently break-in artists at Burtol's Cleaners, 425 George St., were also unsuccessful in their search, as nothing was taken. The back door of the premises was shoved through to get in there.

PC Don Mackay apparently spoiled the efforts of other would-be lawbreakers when he interrupted what is believed to be an attempt to break in the Card and Paper Works, Limited, 164 Sherbrooke St. Hearing suspicious noises in the back area there, the officer checked the rear entrance of Fannings' Laundry in the next yard, where he thought the noises were. This probably frightened the bad boys, for they disappeared fast.

Says "Tot Lot" At Inverlea Best In Ontario

Peterborough has the most modern and best equipped totlot in the province, according to Recreation Commissioner Jack Dane. Erected by the Kinsmen Club at the beginning of the summer, a white picket fence encloses a half-acre of Inverlea Park.

At the east boundary of the lot are two playhouses in which children finger paint or do cut-ou's. The western section is mostly an asphalt tricycle track where children may pedal without danger of cars. What area isn't taken up by the track is used for teeter totters, swings, and hobby horses.

Also provided for the tots are midget picnic tables, painted boxes used to play store, and the familiar large box of white sand.

Mothers may leave children, between the ages of two and six years, with a girl specially trained to care for them. Thus, while mothers shop, they can be assured of their children being safe. The Inverlea totlot is open and constantly supervised from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. each week day, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Aug. 00—(CP).—Guests at their fashionable wedding in 1928 had their doubts, but the romance of an American asbestos heiress and her Swedish count has endured well.

Countess Folke Bernadotte, the former Estelle Manville, has returned to the Mediterranean Island of Rhodes where her husband maintains headquarters as United Nations mediator for Palestine. But her short visit in New York, while the count appeared before the Security Council, swept away any doubts of friends and acquaintances.

The morning after she arrived from the Middle East, she passed up a chance for reunion with old friends. Instead she hurried to Lake Success to hear the count plead for quick action in the Palestine crisis.

Modest and attractive daughter of the late Hiram Edward Manville who amassed one of America's largest fortunes, the countess has strong ideas about how American and Swedish women can gain equality with men.

She expressed belief women will accomplish much more by making themselves indispensable instead of demanding equal rights.

Fabulous Event

Her marriage to the nephew of King Gustav of Sweden at Pleasantville, NY, was a fabulous event. More than 1,000 guests and hundreds of local residents turned out to see the cousin of much-married Tommy Manville, and Broadway actress Lorraine Manville, marry the tall, handsome Swedish nobleman.

The countess did not, however, provide the same material as her cousins for columnists. She was said to have made this bargain with her parents: If she were allowed to study psychology at Columbia University she would devote her summers to being a debutante.

After marriage, the countess learned to speak Swedish with ease. She became noted as a chatelaine and for her philanthropies, war work and devotion to the cause of underprivileged children the world over. She and the count have two sons—Folke, 18, and Bertil, 13.

The countess was not involved in her husband's task when, as vice-president of the Swedish Red Cross, he carried the surrender offer of Heinrich Himmler to the Allies at the end of the Second World War.

But she has remained close to him through his negotiations as UN mediator and even managed to arrange a family reunion on the Island of Rhodes.

Have You Tried All These Leftover Ideas?

To make the most of the food budget the smart housewife orders her meat very carefully and uses up the leftovers skillfully. New wrinkles to the old ideas will take monotony out of the weekly menu.

FOR SLICES:

Reheat slices of meat in gravy or tomato, barbecue or sour cream sauce.

Serve slices cold with hot vegetables or salad greens.

Use in sandwiches. Use with gracy in hot sandwiches.

DICED:

Add diced meat to white sauce, celery, mustard or other sauce. Allow one cup of sauce for each cup of meat. Serve on toast with rice, noodles or over hot biscuits. Horseradish may be used to flavor the white sauce.

Make meat pies, turnovers or Cornish Pasties.

Use in casserole dishes with extender such as spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or mixed vegetables

One cup dice dmeat, two cups sauce, two cups extender and ¼ cup cheese added to the sauce is good. Vary this by baking with a mashed potato topping at 350 degrees or use baking powder biscuit topping and bake at 425 degrees, 15-20 minutes.

Combine diced meat with diced vegetables and salad dressing for salads.

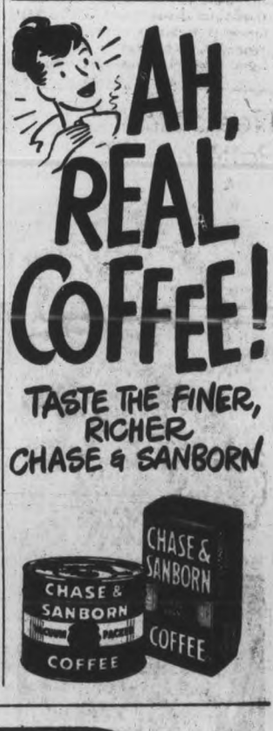
GROUND:

Make into hash, baked or fried.

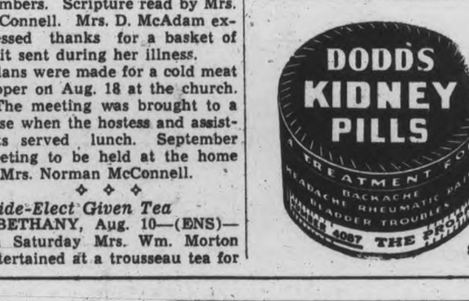
Make into hash folded like an omelet and filled with barbecue or other seasoned sauce.

Use as sandwich filling with salad dressing, pickles, nuts or celery.

Use as stuffing for vegetables—tomatoes, peppers, onions, cabbage or potatoes.



Use in meat loaf, croquettes, salad.



Detailed recipes for these suggestions to follow.

SEES BIOLOGICAL ATTACK

STOCKHOLM (CP).—General Helge Jung, commander-in-chief of the Swedish armed forces, believes biological warfare will be waged by an enemy in the event of another war. He suggests establishments of a special board to investigate how Sweden can best organize defence against such attacks.

Women Urged To Develop Charm For Their Old Age

The dumbest bobby-soxer has enough knowhow to put her best foot foremost when she is trying to snare a date. She puts on a good act and looks pretty and acts pretty and rolls her eyes at any eligible prospect, so she eventually gets her man.

Well, darlings, that's okay. That's fine. And it works out beautifully so long as you are young and have a good line; but, alas, we femmes do not stay perpetual baby chicks. Time creeps on us before we know it, and years before we realize it we have lost our rabbit's foot.

And that is what makes me want to hoist a few danger signals before the women who are getting perilously close to middle age, and who have been so busy being wives and mothers and baby-sitters that they have lost sight of themselves as women. Which is a pity, because there is a long and lonesome stretch of time ahead of Mother after her children get grown up and leave home, if she hasn't prepared herself for it.

Dorothy Dix

Now no woman can carry through life the same assortment of charms with which she started out, and it is folly to attempt it. And if she is a wise dame, she faces the fact that every spring must have its ending and she begins stocking her shelves with a lot of fall and winter attractions.

Cherish Friends

To begin with, the middle-aged woman should always keep her fences in repair. She should never forget that her children are only lent to her for a few brief years and that when they are gone she will be desolate unless she has other interests and contacts. Hence, it is just a matter of self-preservation for her to belong to clubs, keep in the social running, cherish old friendships and make new ones. That is the only way she can keep herself alive.

Next, the middle-aged wife should make a determined effort to get her husband back, if she has been foolish enough to let the children put his nose out of joint. Many a wife never thinks of her husband as anything but a bill-payer, and she has a heck of a time trying to get her man back after she has neglected him for years while she was so absorbed in Johnny and Sally.

Then the middle-aged woman should make herself interesting. A young girl can get by with a very limited supply of intelligence, but when you are growing older you have to flavor conversation with brains. If you want to hold your audience, you have to talk about something else besides the baby cutting a tooth, or about the New Look.

The middle-aged woman must study the art of making friends. She must bind as many people to her as she possibly can. All of us need them when we begin to get old and are not able to go about ourselves and the world has drifted away from us. Then life is desolate enough if there is nobody to whom we can say: "Don't you remember?" Friendship isn't something that you can pick up when you are old and happen to need it. It is something that we have to build up through years of sympathy and understanding and helpfulness and sacrifices.

Believe me, the wisest thing that any woman ever does is to lay in a line of fall and winter attractions.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

For Wednesday, August 11

Although a highly accelerated state of affairs continues to tax the ingenuity, challenge the abilities and thrills and romance to both personal and business life, yet there may be lack of cooperation from promised sources, or other complications attributable to unsound thinking or ill-advised tactics. There is so much at stake that it might be prudent to confer with wiser minds, or to accept support from those in influential places. Weigh carefully in critical moments.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are advised to take into consideration the advice, ideas and friendly support of those in high places, in stations of public authority or prestige, whose aid is vital to the promotion and successful development of unusually clever ideas or models of exceptional inventive genius. The personal judgment on some points could be erroneous, or erratic impulses and emotions might be undermining factors for defeat. With prudence and keen vision there could be dramatic accomplishment with romance as well as conspicuous prosperity.

A child born on this day is excellently equipped for a spectacular, progressive and prosperous career, but its impulse or confused judgment might precipitate loss or danger.

Spoon Bread Taste Pleaser But It Takes Four Eggs

By MARY MOORE

Some kind of a mild epidemic is threatening to spread through our chicken population, and I come up with a mouth-watering recipe for Southern Spoon Bread that calls for four eggs, that at the moment of writing, cost 73 cents per dozen. And I'm supposed to be an "economist" of some kind!

If you are in one, this Spoon Bread will jar you out of your cooking lethargy.

I tried to talk myself out of making it by quoting the price of eggs, but my Southern visitor said "No, Ma'am, it's still worth it." I said "Well, what do I serve it with — is it a first, second or last course?" She said, "All of them." I got nowhere fast.

Then she settled down and admitted it was best as part of the main course, for it was eaten with a spoon from a plate and did contain four eggs so meat could be dispensed with or served sparingly.

To persuade you to make this golden - yellow, light angelic froth all you need is to taste one spoonful . . .

. . . but I hardly need add that we Canadian cooks almost need to be threatened with a musket before we so much as vary one iota our way of making some particular dish our mothers or great-grandmothers have been making just that way since forgotten time.

But I am just as dyed-in-the-wool as you are and I tried it and regretfully sighed to think how many years I'd deliberately avoided making Spoon Bread.

JINNY'S AIRY SPOON BREAD

Have two cups boiling water in top of double boiler. Add 1 tablespoon butter, 1½ teaspoons salt and stir in 1 cup corn meal until it is very thick. Remove from heat to cool off — you may leave it in the top of the double boiler if the pot is big enough for the further additions, or turn it out into a mixing bowl, to cool. Meanwhile beat 4 egg yolks with ½ cup whole milk, and when cornmeal mix is about lukewarm beat the egg mixture into it. Sift together ½ cup flour, 2 tablespoons sugar—don't leave out the sugar —and 2 tablespoons baking powder — yes, 2 tablespoons. Sift this over the cornmeal mixture and beat well. Lastly fold in the four egg whites which have been beaten as stiffly as possible. Butter a large baking dish—large enough that this mix only half fills it for it puffs up double its size when baked — and turn the mixture into it. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for nearly half hour — reducing heat half way if it threatens to get too brown.

Have everything else ready — plates piping hot, and tomatoes in some form, crisp bacon too, and a creamed vegetable OR corn on the cob — and serve at once — of course eat the Spoon Bread with a spoon after having served it with a very large spoon

There, now, is the dish that is meant when any food is described as heavenly.

A WISELY CHOSEN dress takes the wearer through late summer into early fall with perfect confidence and sartorial satisfaction. Such a choice might well be this handsome dress of black crepe deftly moulded through the waistline and fringed in the fabric over the slim skirt. The interesting neckline is banded and finished wtih a V-shaped tab in the center front. This is an excellent background dress that lends itself well to important accessories.

Shower Honors Katharine Morton

BETHANY, Aug. 10 (ENS). — Mrs. Roy Jarvis was hostess to more than 50 guests on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Katharine Morton, Havelock, whose wedding will take place in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bethany, on Aug. 14. The house was attractively decorated with flowers and a large white bell suspended in the centre of the living room.

Miss Doris Driver escorted Miss Morton to a chair beneath the bell and read a message of good wishes. She instructed the bride-to-be to pull the pink ribbon attached to the bell which showered her with confetti. Mrs. Reg. Edmunds and Miss Driver assisted Miss Morton in opening the many beautifully wrapped parcels.

The last to be opened were boxes containing eight-place sets of Cornflower crystal, a combined gift of many friends.

Miss Morton expressed her appreciation.

Miss Morton is the daughter of Mrs. E. Morton and the late William Morton of Bethany and for the past several years has been a teacher in Havelock School.

Cost-of-Living At New Peak Index Climbs To 156.9

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 — (CP). — The official cost-of-living index, spurred by higher food prices, bounced ahead another 2.6 points during June to strike a new historic peak of 156.9. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported that the index climbed from 154.3 at June 1 to 156.9 at July 1. The 2.6 point jump compared with a rise of 1 point in May and 1.7 points in April.

As during May, the increase was attributed to foods, with this index climbing from 193.9 to 201.3 on increases in the retail prices of meats, potatoes and eggs.

There also were moderate increases in the other groups making up the main index. Clothing advanced from 174.8 to 175.4, home furnishings and services from 162.0 to 162.8, fuel and light from 124.3 to 124.5 and miscellaneous items from 122.7 to 123.1.

Rents, still under rigid government control, remained unchanged at 120.9.

Main Index

The main index, calculated on the basis that 1935-1939 equals 100, now is up 55.7 per cent over August, 1939 A year ago it stood at 135.9, and by Jan 2 this year it had reached 148.3 in an upward swing that has brought it to its present all-ttime high.

The imporant food index, now at 201.3, registered only 159.8 at July 2 last year, making the 12-month rise 41.5 points.

The bureau reported that the weekly index of industrial material prices eased from 155.3 for the week ended June 25 to 154.8 for the week ended July 30. Lower prices for oats, steers, and raw cotton outweighed increases in hogs, raw rubber aid sisal.

Security First Before Britain Will Disarm

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Aug. 10. (CP)—Sir Alexander Cadogan said Monday Britain has learned the lesson of "no disarmament without security."

Britain's delegate to the United Nations spoke before the world agency's commission for conventional armament which in 18 months of arguments has failed to agree on a plan for world arms reduction.

Sir Alexander said Russia has failed to recognize this:

"No person on earth can have any confidence in a paper system of disarmament whatever the excellence of its provisions, unless and until there is some evidence in the world about him of international good faith."

Earlier in the bitter debate Russian delegate Jacob Malik told the 11-member commission, which has the same membership as the Security Council, that Britain and the United States are wrecking United Nations plans for world arms reduction.

Postpone Vote

The commission postponed a vote on resolutions presented by Britain and Russia. It will meet next Thursday.

Britain's resolution says disarmament should follow conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany and Japan, creation of a United Nations armed force and International control of atomic energy.

The Russian proposal calls for destruction of atomic weapons as one prerequisite.

The Security Council's military staff committee has long been deadlocked in discussions of formation of an international armed force. The UN Atomic Energy Commission, in which Canada's Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton took a leading part, suspended deliberations because of an impasse caused by disagreement between the majority and the Soviet bloc.

Premier Lauds Hospital Care

EDMONTON, Aug. 10 (CP)—Premier Manning Monday night replied to C.C.F. campaigners in Alberta's was better and there ings who have contrasted hospital care in C.C.F. Saskatchewan with Social Credit Alberta. He said Alberta's was beter and there was more of it.

"What is the good," he asked, "of telling the people they have free hospitalization if you haven't enough beds to put them in?"

For each thousand population Alberta had 7.3 hospital beds to Saskatchewan's 4.5, he said, while fees were $1 a day in Alberta's rural area against Saskatchewan's $30 a year for a family of six.

"The average family doesn't spend 30 days a year in hospital" he added.

Mr. Manning was the first of three Alberta political leaders to address meetings in their own constituency of Edmonton this week. Harper Prowse, Liberal chieftain, speaks Thursday and C.C.F. Leader Elmer Roper talks tonight.

The elections, in which 173 candidates have been nominated to contest the 11th legislature's 57 seats, are next Tuesday.

In a CBC free-time broadcast Monday night Mr. Roper said his party, if elected, would institute a system of "full medical services as in the Swift Current region of Saskatchewan," where, he said they were free "on jayment of a nominal annual fee."

He said the C.C.F.'s hospital and medical scheme would "remove from the minds of Alberta people the great fear of crushing medical bills."

Nail Black Market Charge Is Dismissed

SYDNEY, NS, Aug. 10. (CP)—Four charges against Elman Motors Limited of selling nails in Toronto and Montreal at a price in excess of Prices Board Regulations were dismissed by Provincial Magistrate Col. J. D. MacIntyre here Monday.

The charges were laid two weeks ago by Hugh MacNeil, general investigator for the board. Three Montreal firms and one Toronto dealer were named as outlets in the information but no charges have been laid against them.

Magistrate MacIntyre found there was no evidence that the Sydney firm was guilty of selling nails "at a price higher than was reasonable and just," contrary to the regulations of the board.

Questioned about the number of kegs of nails bought and sold by Elman's Mr. MacNeil said the firm had sold 1,454 kegs between last June and September for $14,682—a gross profit of 33½ per cent. He had not ascertained the net profit.

Canada Making Deal?

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (CP). — The New York Herald Tribune to-day says Canada is reported negotiating with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Prutential Life Insurance Co., and Equitable Life Insurance Society for $150,000,000 15-year loan at 3 per cent interest. The transaction is expected to be concluded later this week, the Herald Tribune says.

Mr. King Keeps Holidays A Close Secret

OTTAWA, Aug. 10 — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King would rather not say where he's going next week. He's keeping his destination a close secret.

The former chieftain of the Liberal party is preparing for a little holiday — just a week — and he expects to slip out of the capital unnoticed.

But chances are his special train will be swarming with reporters when it moves away from Ottawa's Union Station . . . on Monday.

And although not even his secretaries are certain where he wil spend his week of rest, it will be in the United States and either at Sea Island, Ga., or Seal Harbor Me.

Between the two, likeliest place to find Mr. King sunbathing or reading history is Seal Harbor . . . but it's best not to quote anyone.

Plans Conferences

Shortly after his holiday the 73? year-old Prime Minister will go into a steady round of conferences with External Affairs Minister St. Laurent to whom he threw his leadership mantle with good cheer.

Mr. St. Laurent said Monday he will confer with his chief on cabinet matters and probably will complete plans for a slight cabinet shakeup to include Deputy Minister of External Affairs L. B (Mike) Pearson as minister.

Then, the still ruling head of the cabinet will journey overseas, probably in company with Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton to attend the general assembly of the United Nations at Paris in mid-September.

Finally, before he leaves his office of Prime Minister, the office he held for 21 years, he will meet with other Commonwealth leaders at the prime ministers' conference in London.

Work Begins On New Hospital

GRIMSBY, Aug. 10.—Sod was turned Monday for the new $180,000 West Lincoln Memorial Hospital which will replace the structure burned to the ground last Jan 19. A. S. Globe, chairman of the board of directors, said a public ceremony will be held in October when the cornerstone is laid.

Frank Laundry of Beamsville, warden of Lincoln county, turned the sod, but even then, bulldozers were busy in the background.

The foundation is scheduled for completion by the end of September and work on the main part of the building will start as soon as possible after that date. It is expected walls will be up and r roof on before winter sets in so interior construction can continue. The new hospital is expected to be ready for use next spring.

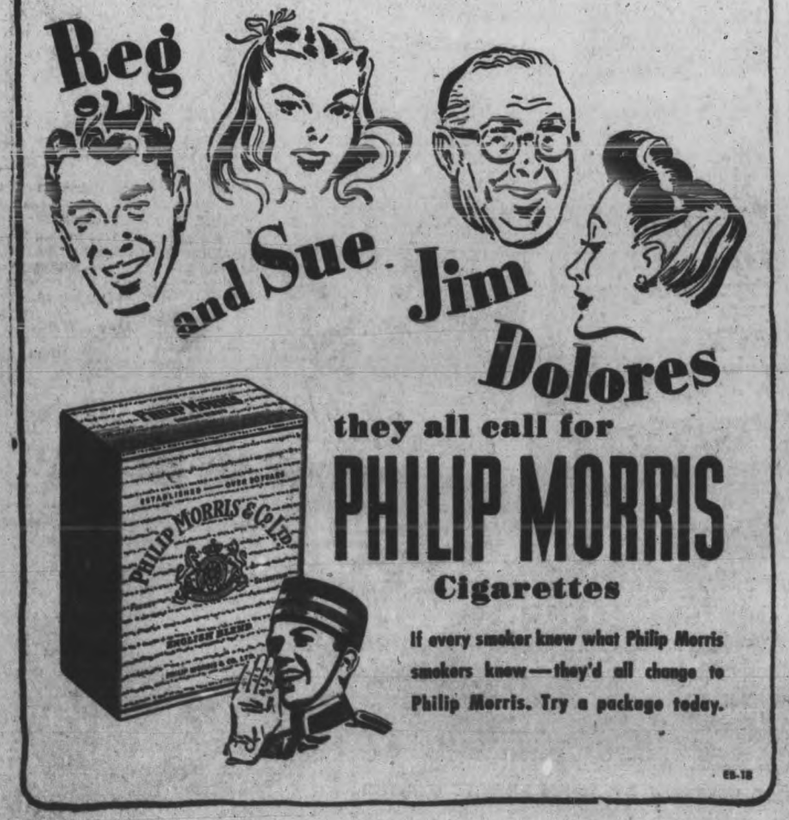
In 1818 John Young, Scottish immigrant, wrote "Letters of Agricola" to the press which were instrumental in stimulating agriculture in Nova Scotia. His two sons, Sir William and George Renny, lawyers and statesmen, were both members of the Executive Council and Speakers of the Assembly. George founded the newspaper "Nova Scotian" while Sir William became Premier of the Province and later Chief Justice, a position he held for twenty-one years. A notable record of a truly distinguished Canadian family.

Great Families Create Great Nations

Distinguished English Statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, Calvert, head of the famous Calvert family, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland early in the 17th Century.



Calvert and his descendants encouraged their settlers to clear and cultivate their land. The Calvert family also introduced principles of freedom and tolerance, hitherto unknown in the New World. These Calvert ideals were perpetuated down through the succeeding generations of the Calvert family.

The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us promote within the great Canadian family, the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family over three hundred years ago.

The Calvert family promoted land clearing and agriculture among their settlers.

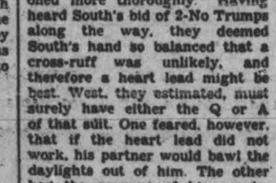
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NERVE NEEDED AT TIMES

Nerve, pluck, courage, or whatever you want to call it, is needed at times in order to obtain maximum results at the bridge table. To observe slavishly all the rules you have learned about certain combinations of cards, and not to violate them ever when special conditions obtain, is to make of yourself a mere machine. The mind of man is so geared up that it ought to recognize situations in which any rule is more honored in the breach than in the observance. But the player who fears upbraiding by his partner if such a move turns out wrong will never rise to greatness.

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable)



West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	5 ♠

Since North had bid one minor suit and South the other, with the declaration landing in spades, most of the opening leaders against a spade contract on this duplicate deal led a trump, hoping thereby to shorten a cross-ruff. If South could trump diamonds and North could ruff clubs, a trump would be the logical lead, they felt.

So, where East opened his spade J, the A felled the K, the diamond Q was a dummy entry, the club finesse lost to East and later North's losing heart was put on the club J. One player comically botched up his chance after that lead. Instead of using a diamond for a dummy entry to make possible the club finesse, he led to the heart A. So when East was in with the club K, he scored his heart K and still retained the setting spade 10.

Two of the East players reckoned more thoroughly. Having heard South's bid of 2-No Trumps along the way, they deemed South's hand so balanced that a cross-ruff was unlikely, and therefore a heart lead might be best. West, they estimated, must surely have either the Q or A of that suit. One feared, however, that if the heart lead did not work, his partner would bawl the daylights out of him. The other had the courage of his convictions and led his heart 3. That knocked out the A. When he was in with the club K, he scored the heart K to assure his eventual defeat of the contract with the spade trick. He had shown the necessary nerve without letting possible partner trouble worry him.

Tomorrow's Problem

What would you consider the best all-around bidding of this odd deal?

6—In Memoriam

HEWITT — In loving memory of Nelson A. Hewitt, who passed away August 10, 1944.
Dear God above
Give my dear son my love
And let him know
That here on earth
We in silence remember.
—Always loved and remembered by mom, brothers, Claude and Bill.

NICE—In loving memory of my brother, Private Kenneth Nice, who died of wounds August 9, 1944.
As one fares forth for just a while,
No thought of staying in the mind
So fared you forth, and left a smile
Of hope and confidence behind
You have not died, there is no death!
Your soul took flight in that last breath,
But well we know who closed your eyes,
We'll meet again, in Paradise
—Remembered by his brother Allan.

Forrestal will go to Ottawa on August 15 on a once-postponed trip to repay the visit made here last winter by Brooke Claxton, Canadian Minister of Defence.

The News says funds are available to start the first stage of a three-phase North American defence set-up and that Alaskan and Canadian defence projects will get priority over plans for the United States mainland.

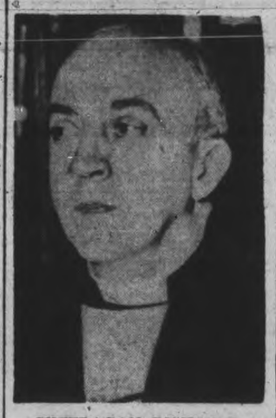
Strict Insurance Laws Protect Policyholders, Rotarians Told

"No policyholder in a Canadian life insurance company has ever lost a dollar through non-payment of the amount guaranteed to him under his policy at death or maturity," said R. Leighton Foster, K.C., speaking at the Rotary luncheon on Monday at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Foster is general counsel of the Canadian Life Insurance Officiers Association.

Mr. Foster said that the life insurance policy differs from almost any other form of contract in that the benefits may not be received for 50 years or more. During such long periods, adequate funds must be accumulated and carefully invested to assure the ultimate payment of the benefits guaranteed.

"The millions of individuals who rely so much on the safety of the companies and the integrity and competence of their managements and field representatives have the co-operation of permanent government officials in guarding their interests during these long periods. Strict insurance laws have been in force in Canada since before Confederation Today these laws are rigidly enforced by experience public officials at Ottawa and in every province and by the courts."

No life insurance company, under the law, is permitted to carry on or solicit business anywhere in Canada, Mr. Foster explained, without obtaining an annual certificate of registry or license from responsible government authorities.



Furthermore, the books of the companies are always open to government actuaries, auditors and examiners. These officials are required by law to visit the head office in Canada of each company operating in Canada under Dominion registry at least once each year.

Invest Four Billion

"Have you ever wondered why your life insurance company seemed to have such large funds to invest?" Mr. Foster asked. He explained that Canadian life insure companies have undertaken to pay more than 12 billion dollars to policyholders all over the world and that they have on hand and invested nearly four billion dollars.

"The company actuaries have calculated on a basis approved by the government's actuaries that this amount, together with premiums and inerest to be received in the future, will provide the money necessary to pay the sums promised under all outstanding insurance contracts. Companies must have large funds on hand now so that they can meet their even larger obligation to you and their thousands of other policyholders in the future."

Mr. Foster explained the policy reserves shown in company statements, in government reports, and elsewhere as being the measure of the companies minimum liabilities on its outstanding policies, such reserve being increased annually by minimum amounts as required by law. Surplus and contingency reserves, which aggregate amount 8 per cent of policy reserves, he explained, are needed to guard against such unpredictable events as possible reduction in interest rates, possible depreciation in market values of securities, and excessive mortality due to wars and epidemics

SUFFRAGAN BISHOP Raymond A. Heron, of the Massachusetts Episcopal diocese, who narrowly escaped death when a discharged handyman fired point blank at him with a target pistol after killing the bishop's chore boy. The alleged slayer, Fred S. Pike, Charlestown, Mass. was captured later in Providence, R.I. He is accused of having shot 18-year-old Paul Zaika in the bishop's home in Bolton, Mass. Pike is a former Concord reformatory inmate.

Resorts Ignore Sunday Closing

TORONTO, Aug. 10—(CP). — Fresh fuel was added to the smoldering Ontario blue law controversy Sunday when amusement parks in most Ontario holiday resorts went back into full swing.

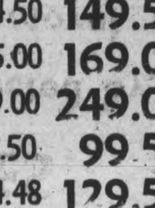
Much to the delight of holiday-makers, the ferris wheels, roller coasters, and side shows opened as usual Sunday morning despite earlier warning from the Ontario Attorney-General's Department that sections of the Lord's Day Act forbidding their operation would be strictly enforced.

At the Lake Erie resort of Port Stanley the amusement centre was its old Sunday self, with rides, games, and side shows operating under a full head of steam. The Port Stanley centre was closed the previous Sunday on orders of Crown Attorney E. W. Haines of Elgin county, who said he was enforcing the Lord's Day Act in response to complaint by local residents.

Storm Of Protest

The Sunday closing of amusements aroused a storm of protest from booth operators, who charged Port Stanley was being discriminated against. This brought a quick denial from W. B. Common of the Provincial Attorney-General's Department, who said it was up to local authorities to prosecute if there is a breach of regulations

But prosecutions were not forthcoming in most centres. Of the major Ontario amusement parks, only Wasaga Beach on Georgian Bay remained closed.



Rides and amusements opened as usual at Grand Bend on Lake Huron, and Crystal Beach on Lake Erie was thronged with tourists making purchases in gift shops, grocery and confectionery stores, and trying their hand at the park's large variety of games.

US Spy Committee Plans To Interview Gouzenko

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—(AP).—The House of Representatives un-American Activities Committee plans to send subcommittees to New York and Canada to question witnesses in its United States spy investigation. This was disclosed today when the committee went into a closed-door session to discuss recessing its hearings here for at least 10 days or two weeks while the sub-committees are away.

Members said the sub-committee sent to New York will question Michael Ivanovitch Samarin and his wife.

They said the other sub-committee—possibly composed of only one man — will go to Ottawa or vicinity to get a statement from Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian clerk who was responsible for breaking the Canadian atom bomb spy case.

Another reason for a recess of the hearings here is that most of the committee members feel they have to leave town on campaign or other business. So some of them figure it would not be too good an idea to have the hearings run on with only a couple of men directing them.

$2,000 Pay

For the moment, the investigation was centred on a reported $2,000 pay-off from Moscow to the woman who says she collected information from government employees for a wartime spy ring.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (Rep.—NJ) said his group has proof that "a high representative of the Soviet government" handed Elizabeth T. Bentley $2,000 in $20 bills in the fall of 1945. He said the time was late October, the place a New York street corner.

That was after Miss Bentley turned on the Reds and told the Federal Bureau of Investigation about her wartime operations. She has testified she agreed to keep her Communist contacts to help the FBI turn the tables on them. The Reds, she said, tried bribes and other inductments to keep her stringing along with them.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 11 — (CP) — Joseph Silverthorn, 34-year-old Englehart truck driver, today was charged with manslaughter in the death of Joseph Ring, 27, last Saturday from injuries suffered in a three-way collision Friday.

Police charge Silverthorn was the driver of a truck in a collision with two automobiles near here. Three other were injured in the accident; Mrs. George Gardiner of Swastika, Ont., whose leg was amputated; Gerald Gorman and Patrick Divine, both of Ottawa, in hospital.

Silverthorn is free on $5,000 bail and will be arraigned tomorrow for preliminary hearing.

8-Year-Old Boy Killed By Car

LINDSAY, Aug. 11.—(ENS).—Eight-year-old Victor Allan Bardeau was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon as he cycled from the laneway of his home, four miles east of Dunsford. The boy had just emerged from the driveway onto Highway 36 when his bicycle was struck by the car of E. J. Quellhost, a vacationer at Pigeon Lake from Willoughby, Ohio.

Dr. W. D. Thomas of Bobcaygeon, coroner, was called. He said that an inquest would be held Friday at either Bobcaygeon or Dunsford.

Provincial Corporal Ralph Taylor and Constable Ray Lawson, Lindsay, investigated.

The victim was a son of Wilfred Bardeau, Dunsford farmer.

Unable To Break Deadlock On United Nations Army

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 11. — (CP).—Informed sources said today there is little hope, in the present international atmosphere of breaking the east-west deadlock over creation of a United Nations army.

The view is held by these officials the long-awaited force can only come into being after a general settlement of major global differences between Russia and the west.

The U.N. military staff committee has laid a report before the Security Council telling of the "latest stalemate" and in effect admitting its failure to reach any important agreement during 2½ years of study.

The committee, comprising the chiefs-of-staff of the Big Five, has bogged down repeatedly because of its unanimity rule. Russia has stood alone on most issues against Britain, United States, France and China.

The big difference centres around Soviet insistence every member of the Big Five contribute exactly the same number of ships, planes and men to the international force. The majority view is that the contributions should be comparable to take care of such situations as China having no aircraft carriers.

Britain takes over the Council presidency in September under the monthly rotation system. A spokesman said any council meetings after Sept. 1 would be held in Paris or Geneva. The General Assembly opens in Paris Sept. 21.

In an all-day Council meeting Tuesday, Russia rejected a United States demand that Trieste be given back to Italy. The Soviet Union meanwhile supported at length the charges of Yugoslavia that Britain and the United States are violating the Italian peace through their administration in the internationalized territory of Trieste.

Girl Pleads Guilty To Abduction

Says She Took Baby To "Get Even" With Hamilton Man

HAMILTON, Aug. 11 — (CP). — Eleanor Fraser, alias Linda Norman, pleaded guilty today to a charge of abducting an 11-months-old Hamilton baby and was remanded one day for sentence.

The 21-year-old girl was arrested Tuesday in Toronto, her home city, shortly after Emerson Griffin of Hamilton was re-united with the chubby baby who was taken from his home 11 days ago. Miss Fraser, known to Griffin as Norman, had been employed by him as a maid.

At today's hearing Detective William Homer read a statement made by the accused in which she said she was born in Oshawa in 1926 and moved to Toronto with her parents as a baby. She was released from Mercer in 1946 on parole after serving about nine months of a sentence on a theft charge. For a short time, she stayed with her mother but left because they didn't get along.

Until April, 1948, she worked as a waitress in Toronto restaurants and then went to Hamilton. Here she took a job as housekeeper for Griffin, who has two children. "The four of us lived together in one large room" and "from the beginning Emerson Griffin and I lived together as man and wife."

Wanted To Get Even

The 700-word statement related differences with Griffin before she took the baby away on Sunday, Aug. 1. She told of staying in Toronto with several diferent men. Finally on Monday, Aug. 9, she read a newspaper story about police tracing her and the baby and she decided to leave it in a hospital. A man with whom she stayed for several days accompanied her.

The statement said: "My reason for taking the baby was that I was very much attached to it. I did not want to leave the baby as I was afraid it would be neglected. I also wanted to get even with Emerson."

Police said the girl, who had been employed at the Griffin home, told them she took the baby for spite. They quoted her as saying Griffin, separated from his wife, talked to her of marriage but "kept stalling."

Griffin told police he believed love for his child led Miss Fraser allegedly to take the child away July 30. He said he would prefer not to lay charges against the girl.

Officers arrested her Tuesday while she drank coffee in a downtown restaurant. A few minutes earlier a man told police he recognized her when he saw her coming from a theatre in which she had spent the early part of the day.

Heavy Fighting Rocks Holy City; Will Crack Down

JERUSALEM, Aug. 11 (AP).—Guns and artillery resounded from midnight to dawn to-day in the heaviest fighting here since the UN cease-fire was imposed.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator, who said he was going to get tough in order to stop the shooting, was here and heard it all. The UN officer has put 50 more American and French observers on the job in an effort to restore peace.

A Tel Aviv source close to the Israeli Cabinet predicted new Jerusalem and its Arab quarters will be annexed to Israel within two weeks. He said the Cabinet already has decided secretly to take the step. The Arabs hold the old city, which is about a fourth of the total area.)

The unofficial battle reached its height in Jerusalem around 3 a.m. Rifle shots and automatic fire broke out by the thousand. Artillery, seemingly from a distance, was audible throughout the city. White and green flares lit up the sky so Arabs and Jews could spot their foes.

Count Bernadotte expressed concern over the shooting.

"I want this shooting stopped," he told a press conference Tuesday. "My position is going to be tougher and tougher. . . . I want to show both parties that I can be serious."

(In Alexandria, a source close to the Arab League said a Jewish invitation to start Palestine peace talks has been rejected. The informant said the League responding to an invitation made by the Israeli foreign minister, Moshe Shertok, through Count Bernadotte, declared the Arabs do not recognize "any such gang as the pseudo-government of Israel.")

The mediator said he had sent a letter to both the Jewish military government and to the Arab commander in Jerusalem.

The 50 additional observers arrived Tuesday. Twenty-five already were on the job. With 75 pairs of eyes checking, Count Bernadotte said he hoped to be better able to have all truce violations spotted and investigated and responsibility for them assessed. If necessary, he informed the Jewish and Arab commanders, more observers will be called.

Won't Object To Margarine

If oleomargarine is found to be the most suitable butter substitute it will not be opposed by the dairy industry in Canada, J. H. Duplan, president of the National Dairy Council, said in Peterborough to-day.

He said it was probable a butter substitute would be needed in Canada by October, but the exact date would depend on butter production in the next 60 days. A shortage of 23,000,000 pounds loomed for the coming winter with production down 13,000,000 pounds from last year at which time a shortage of 10,000,000 pounds existed.

Clarifying the council's stand on the butter subject reported after an interview between the Council and the Cabinet yesterday Mr. Duplan said: "All we are trying to do is have the Government investigate which would be the most suitable and healthful butter substitute and to make the sale of it legal in Canada. We are not advocating either oleomargarine or butterine."

Goes To Russia For Eye Care

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 — (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Lassen, 34-year-old housewife, arrived from Canada Tuesday night on her way to Russia, where she hopes to obtain treatment to prevent her from going blind.

Mrs. Lassen, of New Westminster, B.C., said she will sail from New York Saturday aboard the motor-ship Batory.

Her hopes for saving her sight rest with a world-renowned Soviet scientists and physician, Dr. V. P. Filatov, of Odessa.

For 20 years, Mrs. Lassen said, she has suffered from a little-known eye disease — retinitis pigmentosa. She has undergone two operations in an effort to halt its progress.

Two years ago she learned through the literature of the National Council to Combat Blindness of the work of Dr. Filatov, who has won fame for his cornea-transplanting operations.

Allies May Meet Molotov Fourth Time

MOSCOW, Aug. 11—(Reuters).—A fourth meeting is possible tonight between Foreign Minister Molotov and the Western Powers' envoys, well-informed sources said here today.

These sources considered that if the meeting did not take place tonight it would be held tomorrow.

The British, French and United States Embassies at noon were still awaiting instructions from their respective governments.

The Western envoys have been discussing Germany with the Soviet leaders in their series of meetings but no official statement has been made by either side since the talks began.

Home Run King Babe Ruth, Critically Ill

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Babe Ruth, baseball's ailing home run king, was reported in critical condition today at Memorial Hospital.

The hospital said Ruth had developed a higher temperature and there were pulmonary complications.

Monday he was reported as having a cold. Tuesday the hospital said his condition seemed improved and the temperature had gone down.

Today's hospital bulletin said: "Babe Ruth's temperature again has risen. There are pulmonary complications. Condition critical."

Ruth has been undergoing a series of treatments in the hospital.

He has been ill for nearly two years. Late in 1946 he underwent a delicate neck operation. He left the hospital last year, and was seen in public on a few occasions. In the last few months he has attended baseball games where he received tributes from fans, old and young. His old New York Yankees uniform, bearing No. 3, was retired recently.

Red Anti-Aircraft Shells In U.S. Air Corridor Supply Plane Pilot Reports

Reports Hint Russ Food Shortage Acute Across Their Berlin Zone; Allied Commitments Fully Met So Far

BERLIN, Aug. 11—(CP).—Anti-aircraft shells bursting on Tuesday in the American air corridor at a height of between 8,000 and 10,000 feet were reported by the pilot of a United States Skymaster flying supplies into Berlin, it was disclosed today. Authorities were stated to be studying his report and it has not yet been decided whether an official protest will be made to the Russians. The pilot said the shells burst "at a comfortable distance from my plane" but well inside the corridor. In the same vicinity he saw several Russian planes towing targets.

The report followed announcement by British authorities they plan a formal protest to the Russians against a flight of Soviet Yak fighter planes over western Berlin Tuesday night.

Meanwhile the Russians claimed they have accumulated enough food here to feed the city for 40 days. But at the same time, complaints about hunger came from the surrounding Soviet zone.

Food Shortage Acute.

There have been repeated reports, not denied by the Russians, that food shortages in their zone have become aggravated. The major cause for this is believed to have been the requisitioning of zonal foodstuffs to support the Soviet project to feed all Berlin, including the blockaded western sectors.

The Russians had said they would import this supplemental food from the Soviet Union.

The Soviet-licensed news agency, ADN, to-day accused the anti-Communist city government of hampering Russian efforts to feed Berlin. The agency charged the city food administration with "making insufficient preparations" for handling the unloading of trains and barges carrying Soviet grain to Berlin. It claimed 13 trainloads of grain were standing idle in the city environs.

With the air lift going full speed and steadily increasing the Western authorities said they had at least a three-week supply of food on hand in the Western sector—about the same as when the blockade was introduced.

Ration commitments have been fully met so far.

CCF Convention To Emphasize Policy Aug. 19

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11 —(CP)—The emphasis will be on policy rather than leadership at the 10th national C.C.F. convention opening here Aug. 19.

Party members contend that at the recent national Liberal convention the question of who would succeed Prime Minister Mackenzie King overshadowed study of the party's platform. The same, they say, will be true at the national Progressive Conservative convention at Ottawa next month, with selection of a successor to John Bracken attracting more attention than policy matters.

The C.C.F. convention is expected to re-elect its national leader, M. J. Coldwell, as a matter of course, devoting all of its three-day session — barring the few minutes this vote of confidence will take—to policy.

The agenda will include a minimum of 105 resolutions, covering federal, provincial and municipal fields.

Concerning housing, the convention is expected to pass a recommendation urging federal responsibility for financing a low-rental and low-cost housing program and for assisting housing co-operatives.

Marketing methods for farm produce and minerals are likely to arouse sharp debate, with resolutions on the agenda urging establishment of import and export boards responsible to the govern-

New Zealand To Get Games

LONDON, Aug. 11 — (CP). — The 1950 British Empire Games were awarded today to New Zealand.

The committee to decide the venue of the Commonwealth sports meet voted down Canada's bid, 12-2, to hold the games at Toronto, Bermuda was Canada's only supporter.

Prof. Nelson Hart of London, Ont., general manager of the Canadian Olympic team, represented Canada at the meeting.

He detailed the Toronto offer with a $50,000 guarantee but the committee thought it preferable the games go to the southern hemisphere.

After the meeting Prof. Hart said: "The delegates wanted to spread the games around. We had it before — in 1930 at Hamilton—and this will be New Zealand's first time."

Suspend U.S. Official In Loyalty Check

TOKYO, Aug. 11 (AP).—Harry Alber, $10,000-a-year official in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, has been suspended without pay pending a loyalty check.

Alber, head of the price and distribution division which directs the rationing and pricing of Japanese food and other essential commodities, said:

"I know I am loyal and am confident I can be cleared." He had been investigated twice before while working for government agencies and had been cleared.

Army officials here told him the order for his suspension had originated in Washington.

Dairy Men Request Butter Sub

Rationing Suggested As Alternative; Leave It To Cabinet

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 — (CP). — The government today was faced with a request from the dairy industry that it authorize the sale of a "suitable substitute" for butter if it cannot import fresh supplies or re-introduce butter rationing.

The industry made its request through its representative organization — the Dairy Council of Canada — in a brief presented Tuesday to a cabinet committee by a 16-man delegation headed by J. H. Duplan, council president.

It was the first time the industry had swung its dairy management opinion in favor of a butter substitute. Previously, it had taken a neutral stand.

Makes Recommendations

Offering its co-operation to meet a threatening butter shortage, the Council made these recommendations:

1. The government should take "immediate steps" to import a "sufficient" quantity of butter to satisfy the minimum requirements of domestic consumers.

2. Failing this, the government should re-impose the butter ration, abandoned more than a year ago.

3. If neither of the first two recommendations can be implemented, the government should authorize the sale "of a suitable substitute product" until such time "as the butter supply is sufficient to meet the demand."

4. Once the supply is thus augmented, the government should abolish the present price ceiling.

Promise Consideration

Council officials later told reporters the cabinet promised to consider the recommendations. They said cabinet spokesmen also indicated the government already was exploring the possibility of importing butter. Canada imported 12,000,000 pounds of butter from New Zealand during the war.

While the council did not suggest what type of butter substitute should be provided, it presumably meant margarine.

"We leave what substitute is chosen to government policy," said Mr. Duplan. "All we know is that the industry was so embarrassed by the wave of consumer criticism during last winter's shortage that we feel another must be averted."

The council represents 50 to 60 dairy farms which handle manufacturing, processing and distribution of butter, cheese, milk, cream and other dairy products.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, the new Liberal leader, headed the Cabinet committee which met the delegation. The committee also included Finance Minister Abbott, Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Health Minister Martin, Labor Minister Mitchell and Defence Minister Claxton.

Short 10 Million Lbs.

The brief noted stocks of butter at Aug. 1 this year were almost 13,000,000 below those of a year ago and that the over-all 1948 shortage was 10,000,000 pounds.

It ascribed the expected butter shortage to a reduction in milk production, an increased population, higher prices for milk going into other dairy products, and continued high purchasing power throughout the country.

The report by the dairy industry compared with a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics Aug. 1.

It showed that in nine Canadian cities stocks of creamery butter had decreased 11,000,000 pounds from the same period a year ago. On hand were 27,600,000 pounds. Montreal showed the biggest decrease, while only Toronto showed a slight gain, 4,257,000 compared with 3,812,000.

Lower Price

KITCHENER, Aug. 11 — (CP). — Senator W. D. Euler said Tuesday that oleomargarine could be made from ingredients grown on Canadian farms and that the now-banned butter substitute could be sold at a retail price of 40 cents a pound or less.

The Senator, long a fighter for lifting of the margarine ban, said in an interview that margarine could be made from the oils of soy bean, flower seed, rape seed and perhaps mustard seed. Those plants are all easily grown in Canada.

He said he agreed with a statement at Ottawa by the National Dairy Council urging the government to provide for a "suitable substitute" for butter.

Industrials Leading A General Decline

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (CP)—Industrials led a general decline in all groups in light trading here today. Base metals were easier in spotty action and golds and western oils showed a weaker tone in very quiet trading.

The bulk of the action centred in industrials as the group slid downward for the third successive day. Losses ranged down to 3 points with all groupings suffering. Steels, papers and utilities showed weaker prices. Foods and refining oils also dipped and banks and manufacturing companies had the odd gainer.

Base metals followed industrials in activity and in losses with two issues showing gains in mid-session. Consolidated Smelters dipped a point and Labrador, International Uranium, Normetal, Waite Amulet, Sherrit and Pend Oreille were 1 to 10 cents easier. Base metals rose ½.

Senior golds were inactive and small losses were scattered throughout juniors. Chesterville, Eldona, Kirkland Lake, Leitch, Louvicourt, Madsen and Sylvanite were 1 to 3 cents weaker. Preston, North Inca and Guayana strengthened.

East Leduc was the only gainer in a dull western oils list, rising 2 cents. Calgary and Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian dipped 10 cents and Home Oil, Pacific Petroleum and Consolidated Homestead were down.

Find Crop Yields Vary In Prairies

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 (CP)—Crop yields are expected to be "extremely variable" in Saskatchewan and Alberta but excellent" in Manitoba, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday in a periodic summary of conditions across Canada.

However, there were no signs of bumper yields in any of the larger wheat-growing areas in the Dominion.

The Prairies showed general improvement during the last two weeks, said the Bureau. Rain and near-normal temperatures are helping to boost growth and improve the outlook for late-seeded crops.

Spring crops are late in Alberta, partly due to previous drought conditions and uneven germination. But in Manitoba cutting and combining of spread grains will be general in a few days. Crop prospects in Manitoba are the best of any of the three prairie provinces, the Bureau said.

Kingston Doctor To Stand Trial

KINGSTON, Aug. 11 —(CP)— Preliminary hearing began Tuesday in the case of Dr. R. J. Livesey, charged with the illegal sale of narcotics. He was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

Dr. Lisesey shared offices until recently with Dr. G. W. Blenkinsop, who is also awaiting higher court trial on a similar charge.

The crown called only two witnesses, R.C.M.P. constables Philip Isber and G. L. Newman.

Isber, who posed as a Montreal dope peddler, told the court he had purchased morphine drugs from Dr. Livesey on two occasions last May.

He said he bought 35 white tablets for $75 from the doctor on the first occasion and 63 for $135 on the second.

On both occasions he said, Dr. Livesey told him they were heroin tablets. Following the purchases he met fellow constables, was searched by them and relieved of the tablets.

Suggest $10 Car Tax To Pay For Streets

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (CP)—An annual tax of $10 on automobiles and up to $20 on trucks in the Toronto metropolitan area to pay for street construction and maintenance is recommended in a special report prepared for the Toronto and suburban planning board.

The same report, dealing with a transportation plan for metropolitan Toronto and suburban areas, also recommended that the street-car fare be raised to 10 cents from 6¼ cents.

Norman D. Wilson, the consulting engineer who prepared the report, recommends that money raised by the proposed tax on motor vehicles be used to build and keep in repair arterial and sub-aterial streets, traffic lights, signs and snowplow equipment. He says similar taxes have been levied in Chicago and other cities in Illinois.

Lost Arm, Makes Mechanical Limb

EDMONTON, Aug. 11.—(CP). —Deaf and minus an arm, blacksmith Robert W. Wilkinson of Edmonton and Tisdale, Sask., has invented and produced his own mechanical arm to conquer his handicap partially.

Physiotherapists in civilian and veterans' hospitals are reported as amazed at the appliance, which introduces 11 original features and is said to exploit a hitherto-neglected relative movement between torso and shoulders.

While patented in both the United States and Canada, the arm's chief interest to Wilkinson is that it has enabled him to return to his blacksmithing.

He solved his personal problems and physical handicap while recovering in hospital from the loss of his right arm in a railway accident. Previously he had been permanently deafened in an industrial mishap.

He designed the arm in hospital, then—despite having but the left arm and hand with which to work—built it once out.

Doctors say use of his mechanical arm may enable veterans with arm amputations to return to occupations they were forced to quit because of war disabilities. It also may place Wilkinson in the forefront of medical appliance inventors.

10 Per Cent Power Cut Hydro Plan

Commercial Concerns To Be Restricted; Householder Can Help

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—(CP).—A 10-per-cent cut in use of electric power will be needed in Ontario next fall and winter an Chairman Robert Saunders of the Provincial Power Commission, says only through cooperation of householders and industry can it be obtained without compulsory power blackouts.

Some restrictions, to be announced Thursday, will be imposed on commercial concerns. It is expected these rules governing the amount of lighting will be less severe than those imposed during last winter's power scarcity.

Mr. Saunders told a meeting of mayors and reeves from the Toronto area Tuesday, business men will be asked to arrange their schedules to make best use of the hours when power is most easily available. That might entail working plants between midnight and daybreak or operating on Saturday and Sunday.

But responsibility for the biggest share of voluntary reduction in power use fell on the householder. Unnecessariy use of electric lights and home appliances would have to be eliminated.

"Only the householder who realizes the seriousness of the situation can help us there," said Mr. Saunders.

Light Rainfall

For the second consecutive year, Ontario and Quebec have experienced light summer rainfall. Thus the same factors of low water at generating plants and increased demand which caused last winter's difficulties will be present in the next few months.

During the last several months the Hydro Commission has worked on a plan of voluntary power saving, the chairman said. Under the plan it is hoped to have 125,000 more horsepower than was available last year but new consumers continue to demand still more power.

Mr. Saunders said cutting off power for certain periods of the day was not the answer to the problem.

"Housewives are smart," he said. They know what time the power is shut off. All they do is leave their ironing or cooking for later, or get it done before the shutoff. But this does not decrease the consumption of power."

Damage Claims On Roads Boost Insurance Rates For Counties

COBOURG, Aug. 11 (ENS)—Faced with the threat of cancellation of the road liability insurance due to the number of damage claims, Northumberland and Durham Counties Council held a special meeting Tuesday at which additional premium of $170 was authorized. Council also passed at the session a number of by-laws which had been sent back by the Dept. of Highways for revision in accordance with the new form authorized by the legislature early this year.

Warden Alex Stephen explained that the road insurance, taken out with Port Hope agent at the June session had hit a snag in that the company was threatening to cancel the policy because of the number of claims that had come up. There was a cancellation clause in the policy. Furthermore the company claimed that the policy had been written on a basis of 231 miles and they had since learned that there were 244.2 miles. The actual mileage was closer to 280 miles, said the warden. However, the insurance company felt they could continue to assume the insurance if the rate were boosted from $429 to $600 a year. There were $3,000 in outstanding claims against which the company had built up reserves in the event of judgment.

"We talked it over and as I didn't think I should personally authorize an additional outlay of $170, it was decided that the best thing to do was call a special session of the counties council," the warden said.

The clerk read a letter from the insurance agent in Port Hope, which explained that the experience of the company in the road risk was "disastrous." The company had been in favor of immediate cancellation of the policy but had been persuaded to retain it until a new policy taken out or the premium increased. Reeve E. Seeds of Brighton asked if the roads were in such bad shape that so many claims for accidents had been filed.

Seven Claims Pending

The clerk read from a letter of the underwriters to the insurance agent in question, which pointed out that there were at present seven claims outstanding and it appeared that the counties were not worrying over the condition of the roads because they were insured. Some claims were ridiculous and should be discouraged by the counties, the letter said.

"The counties officials are not careless. We have tried to maintain the roads as in other years. All in all, the insurance company has not had to pay out a great deal," commented the warden.

Reeve A. Wartman of Percy township asked what would happen to the pending claims if the policy were cancelled and he was assured by the counties solicitor, in reply, that the company was responsible for claims prior to cancellation. The clerk said that it might be hard to get any company to accept the insurance. The other tender in June of $419 would only talk business now on a basis of $750 premium. In the three years that the policy had been in force, the premiums had totalled $1,300 and the claims paid were $500.

"However, the company has set aside reserves of $3,000 to cover the claims now being pressed," interjected the warden.

"I think we should submit our correct mileage in getting the rate fixed," suggested Reeve H. D. Bigelow of Millbrook.

"If the council doesn't discourage some of these claims, we'll be paying a higher rate," observed Reeve C. Quinn of Cramahe township.

"I've only recommended one claim since I've been here," declared the road superintendent, J. Jordan.

"I think we have co-operated with his company and there has been no tendency to encourage these claims," the warden said.

On motion of Reeve G. Walton of Newcastle and Reeve E. B. Lingard of Port Hope council authorized the increase in the premium. In the event of further difficulties with the road liability insurance it was left to the finance committee to deal with.

Council then proceeded to redraft nine bylaws of 1946 regarding counties roads to conform to the new bylaw standard, and these were passed at the session.

Nurses Leaving

Reeve C. B. Jandrew of Murray township deplored the fact that nurses with the counties health unit were leaving their jobs for other positions. He mentioned Miss Aylesworth in particular, and wondered if it were a case of inadequate salary. Reeve M. Wight of Seymour said that the nurses liked to work in other health units in order to get more varied experience. Deputy-Reeve Fred Denyes of Brighton said that in the case of Miss Aylesworth, she said she had to have a rest and couldn't put in another winter at her job. She was taking a nursing post in an industrial plant.

Deputy-Reeve R. J. Locke cited the case of a Campbellford war veteran who had started up a snack but because there was no toilet accomodation (there wasn't room for it), the health inspector made him take out the tables and chairs and just use lunch counter and stools.

"I can't see what difference it is going to make whether you stand up, or sit down at a table. Whether it is the law or not, it is not fair," he declared.

The health unit was only carrying out the provincial health department regulations, explained the counties solicitor. Reeve Jandrew commented that there seemed to be too many sanitary inspectors for the number of legimate complaints. Reeve E. Woodyard of Clarke township, former chairman of the counties board of health, said that the provincial regulations had to be carried out and the counties board was the buffer between the public and the department.

Wedding Ring Lost In Garden 23 Years Ago Turned Up By Townsman Hoeing Potatoes

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 11 — (ENS). — Morden McMillan was hoeing potatoes and not looking for a wedding ring which had been lost for 23 years. Consequently, he didn't pay much attention when his hoe turned up what looked like a brass ring, and he was about to put it in his pocket when he took another look at it.

His second look convinced him that it was a wedding ring, and its lack of tarnish made him sure that it was gold. But no one had said anything about losing a wedding ring in the garden, and he was puzzled as to how it got there.

When he took it into the house no one could help him there, either, and the ring was about to be dismissed as another lucky find, when it was remembered that a sister-in-law, who resided at the farm until eight years ago, had lost a wedding ring, but that could hardly be this one, for it was lost twenty-three years ago.

The sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Van Volkenburg of Trent River, confirmed, however, that the ring was hers, the one she had lost twenty-three years ago, and during the interim she had worn her mother's wedding ring.

At the spot where the ring was found, and where it had laid through the years, there had been a tomato patch, and it is now thought that Mrs. Van Volkenburg lost the ring while picking tomatoes, although until it was found the other day, most of the family were under the impression that it had been lost in the barnyard.

Ask Tamblyn's
HOUSEWIFE: I am a housewife who can't leave home to go to work. However, I do have a few free hours each afternoon. Is there anywhere I can get hand sewing or something of that sort that I can do at home?
Answer: Department stores and clothing manufacturers sometimes have piece work which can be done at home. You would need to be quick and expert to make any money. Easier jobs might be mending for bachelors or bachelor girls. Sox, stockings, buttons and such like are a worry to people who can't wield a needle. Women have done well out of mending. Or what about caring for children while mothers shop? Does that appeal to you?
MOSQUITOES: Is there a vitamin tablet that will make me immune to mosquitoes? I've heard there is. If so please give me the name.
Answer: No vitamins so far as we know chase mosquitoes. But have you tried our "Shu"? Rubbed on, it discourages mosquitoes and makes life more bearable.
CURIOUS: What is meant when a D.V.A. graduates in physics from University of B.C.? Is he a medical doctor? For what is he fitted?
Answer: A graduate in physics is called a physicist, not a medical doctor. He is fitted for teaching or for research work in his own line.
PERSPIRATION: What can I do for excessive perspiration? As soon as I put on my dress it's as if I poured a pail of water over my head.
Answer: Take it easy. Don't worry. Don't drink too much liquid or eat too rich food. Sponge the body with a solution of warm water and Epsom salts (one tablespoon salts to one quart water).
CHILD'S CRIB: Where in Toronto can I have a child's crib and mattress thoroughly cleaned and sterilized?
Answer: The mattress people tell me there is no cleaning the mattress once it has been thoroughly soiled. Seems as if a double rubber sheet is the only solution.

The world, which took but six days to make, is like to take six thousand to make out. —SIR THOMAS BROWNE.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1948

"And If By Reason Of Strength . . ."

The days of our years are threescore years and ten. After hundreds of centuries mankind, as represented in the American female, has at last progressed in longevity back to the days of the psalmist David. The Federal Security Agency has lately announced that the life "expectancy" for white females at birth is 70.3 years.

* * *

We on this continent are acquiring with remarkable speed the ability to grow old. In Shakespeare's England a new-born child had an average chance of reaching the age of four. In 1900 in the U.S.A., the life-expectancy of men was 55, and women 60. In 1931 the Canadian baby alive at birth could expect, if male, to reach 60, if female, to reach the age of 62. In 1940 the life-expectancy of American males was 65, of females 68½. Now, basing computations on 1946 figures, the life-span of white American males is 65.1, of females 70.3 years.

* * *

These figures gives us something to think about, if not to cheer about. First, it should be observed that women have longer lives than men. The female is therefore not the "weaker" sex. Or perhaps men kill themselves working and women either thrive on work or do not work as hard.

* * *

The second observation is this. North Americans are growing old, and not merely because of a declining birth rate. The more people who reach 60 or 70 or "if by reason of strength they be fourscore years", the more old people there are. One hundred years ago there were in the United States six times as many children under the age of five as there were adults over 65. In 1940 both groups were about equal in number. A hundred years ago half the American population was under the age of 20. Now only one-third are so young. The Canadian population is affected by the same trends as American. In 1851 half of Canada's 4,324,810 people were under 20 years of age. According to the last (1941) census, only one-third of the 11,506,655 people were under 21. In 1851 there were 3½ times as many Canadian children under the age of five as there were adults over 65. Now there are more adults 65 and over than children under five.

* * *

The social and economic implications of the aging of our people are profound. There are proportionately fewer young people to do the work. Therefore if the work is to be done, the older people must do it. Our old age pension bill and annuity rates will increase, unless we adjust our conceptions of "old" and stop the habit of discarding people because they have reached the age of 65 or 70. Can Canada afford to consider people old and pensionable at 65, let alone at 60? The figures show that they are in the prime of life, not on the brink of the grave.

Deadlock At The "Met"

The Metropolitan Opera Association has announced that the great New York opera house will not open for its 1948-49 season, because the management has not been able to reach agreements with all of the twelve unions whose members are employed there. We know nothing about these wage disputes, and cannot discuss them. We only know that if the Metropolitan does not open in the autumn, several millions of people will be keenly disappointed.

The Metropolitan has only missed two seasons in its long history, and neither of those was within the last fifty years. The Saturday afternoon broadcasts from the great American home of opera have created a huge audience, familiar with the great works of music-drama, and acquainted with the art of the foremost operatic singers of our time. Many of these people will never see an opera, but they are none the less keen students of opera. Through an association connected with the Metropolitan many of them contribute to the support of the opera house and its company. Opera now has the largest audience in history, and if the Metropolitan cannot open that audience will be powerfully affected.

The news of trouble at the "Met" reaches us shortly after an announcement that the British Labour Government has bought the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, and will run it as a state opera, presenting concerts and ballet as well. This is an aspect of socialism which impresses us deeply, and we may say in passing that the C.C.F. is the only party in Canada which has ever shown any real interest in the advancement of the arts. Whether it would be in the best interest of the U.S.A. to nationalize the "Met" we cannot say. We are certain, however, that the American government will not do so in the time of anyone now living.

The arts are to some extent the concern of the state. Great orchestras, opera companies and the like are rarely financial successes. But they are artistic successes, they give deep pleasure to unnumbered people, and they keep high standards of achievement constantly before the nation. It is worth a few thousands of any government's money to keep an opera house open, and every small state in Europe knows it. It is a lesson we have yet to learn on this side of the Atlantic.

Toward European Recovery

Mr. Paul Hoffman, the E.R.P. Administrator, said recently in London that the aim was for a full recovery of Europe by June, 1952, when American aid (E.R.P.) is scheduled to end. That date is not far distant, considering the gigantic task. The word "recovery" as applied to Europe is in itself startling, were our ears not so accustomed to it now. "Recovery" implies a grievous illness from which to recover, and Europe is sick indeed.

The patient is mending as quickly as time, treatment and Stalin will allow. Europe has great resources, natural, industrial and in her peoples. The continent which created modern civilization will withstand much in the way of political doctrine and brute force before it passes into the shades. The chief element in its recovery is its own force and people, and that is recognized by the Marshall Plan. The treatment being given from abroad, even by England, is helpful. For instance, Sir Stafford Cripps has announced the formation of an Anglo-American advisory council to improve the productivity of British industry. Proud British workmen have tended to resent the suggestion that they have anything to learn from American workmen. Canadians who have seen the Britisher at his job and worked in British factories are prepared to believe that the formation of the Advisory Council is a helpful step, if American speed can be added to British thoroughness and dependability.

A great need is to destroy impediments toward recovery. The planned union of the three western zones in Germany, with a capital at Frankfurt, will improve the German outlook, even if the Eastern zone is not included and Soviet Russia does not co-operate. (The plan has now been accepted by the eleven German Premiers in the western zones.) If the Danube is opened to really international trade again, the whole of Europe will benefit. If agreement is reached about Berlin and the Moscow talks have other than a dismal ending, a degree of security will result which will make European recovery more probable.

"Full recovery of Europe by 1952". That is the Western aim. It is to be regretted that it is not Russia's.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Delegates to the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association's annual convention at Windsor expressed alarm at the increased use of barbiturate sedatives by Canadians. There was no alarm over the increase in household headaches.

A dispatch from the U.S.A. tells us of a boy who broke into ten different houses in order to take a bath in each. This introduces a new type for uplifters to worry amout—the juvenile deliquescent.

The Technicolour queen, Mrs. Natalie Kalmus, protests that she cannot live on $47,600 a year. Not in gorgeous technicolour, of course, but she might scrape along in black and white, like the rest of us.

A dietitian gives new support to the notion that it is healthy to go without breakfast. Nevertheless, when we think of the great and various achievements which have been reared upon a foundation of fruit, porridge, bacon and eggs, toast, marmalade and coffee we do not fear that breakfast tables will topple under this new assault.

Cricket and Baseball

By F. M. DELA FOSSE

I HAPPENED to be a spectator a few days ago at a baseball game between the Batawa team and the Peterborough Baseball Club. It was a most exciting contest, well played and well conducted in every way.

Ruminating in my home over the exhibition of skill I had lately witnessed I began to compare it with the good old game of cricket with which I had been familiar in the days of my youth. I had often heard lovers of the pastime wonder why it had not taken a firmer hold on the affection of people on this side of the water, and, after a little cogitation, flattered myself that I had discovered the reason. Before the Americans acquired their independence they were in very much the same position as Canada was a Crown colony. As soon as they severed their allegiance, however, and had welded the various States together they began to set to work to build up their nation. They effected many changes in their laws and also in their sports. Everything had to be started quickly and with a celebrity entirely foreign to the sober British mind because all the material paraphernalia of a body politic had to be thought out, put into shape and set going. A slowly played game like cricket would not have much enthusiastic backing when everyone was in a rush to get the engines of national industry running.

* * *

I REMEMBER, as a young boy being for a short time at a school in Wiltshire where pupils played a game called "Rounders". It was played with a bat and ball and was not a molly-coddling diversion by any means. I cannot call to mind the real rules of the game but remmber very distinctly how we were directed to play it by our own masters. There were four bases, supposed to be guarded by fielders, around which batters when they hit a ball had to run. But, by some strange perversion of reasoning, our teachers had ruled that fielders had to throw the ball at the fleeing boy instead of to the baseman, whenever there was a likely chance of touching his person with the ball before he reached a base. It did not matter if he was hit fore or aft, if touched anywhere he was dismissed as "out". When we occasionally complained about the roughness engendered by the innovation we were told that we should not complain as it would help us to become hardy, brave men when we grew up. Sometimes, indeed fairly often, we got stung up badly as the balls were hard and many of the players could throw with tremendous vim and velocity.

* * *

CRICKET has a much older authentic history than Baseball and, as most Britishers know, a very interesting one. Perhaps Baseball is just as ancient in origin for it certainly was developed from the game of "Rounders", whose history is hard to discover. Cricket, we are told was being played as early as the 14th century and was known as "Club-ball", or "Hand-in, and Hand-out". It was about the year 1685 that it first received the name of Cricket. It has always been held in high regard by Englishmen as calling in all its rules for fairmindedness and strict honesty and really acts as a homily on gentlemanly behaviour in playing. There are many books devoted to Cricket, just as there are to Golfing, and Lawn Tennis, and to the rougher branches of Sport, like Pugilism, and Wrestling, but there do not seem to be many devoted to Baseball beyond lengthy articles in magazines and newspapers. It is a pity that there are not more books picturing Baseball and giving descriptions of its great personalities in the game, for it is undoubtedly one of the finest and most popular of American and Canadian pastimes.

* * *

I ENJOY at odd times looking into past records that I possess, of great cricketers and their achievements: :this article only allows room for mention of one or two, but I hope in a future one to be able to give accounts of several personalities who were great in their day in both Cricket and Baseball.

The first that comes to my mind is W. H. Game, who, I think, played for Middlesex, but of this I am not sure. He was a fine batsman and a terrific hitter and could throw the Cricket ball 120 yards. Then there was Milton, a schoolboy at Marlborough, an ambidextrous player who could throw a full hundred yards right or left-handed. Baseballers would not be overawed by such distances achieved by cricketers, for the name of a man named Crane comes into my memory as I write. He was a member of the old Toronto Baseball Club that had its grounds a few yards across the Don, on King Street East. He was a phenonemal player. He and Slattery, another member of the same team, were my earliest baseball heroes. Crane, when the New York Giants were on a tour of the world, advertising Baseball, threw a ball 140 yards in some place in Europe. Blackham, an old reliable of an Australian championship team of days gone by was looked upon as almost, if not quite as good, as any of these Herculean heavers.

* * *

OF course no mention of cricket is perfect without the names of the three Grace brothers, who for so long were the best known exponents of the game throughout the British Empire. I shall hope to deal with them more fully later. In my opinion there is one weakness about baseball. It is a game that is finished far too quickly. It does not give enjoyment for a full afternoon, whereas the ordinary cricket match provides a whole afternoon's pleasure. Otherwise, both are wonderful sources of enjoyment to those who view them and I always thoroughly enjoy watching either of them.

NO HOMEWORK PLEASE

A teacher received a letter from the mothers of one of her pupils:

"Dear Miss: Please don't give Tommy any more homework. That sum about how long would it take a man to walk 50 times round Trafalgar Square caused his father to lose a day's work. And after he'd walked it you marked the sum wrong."

IN GOOD HANDS

The Man From Quebec

(G. V. FERGUSON IN THE MONTREAL STAR)

HAVE you ever seen the crowd at a baseball game, the last half of the ninth, two men down, three men on base and the last batter up? There was less noise in the Ottawa Coliseum late Saturday afternoon than there is at the Delorimier stadium, but the atmosphere was just as tense as the tellers walked up the centre aisle, holding in their hands the sheet of paper with the results of the first ballot for the Liberal leadership. A minute later it was all over. The St. Laurent landslide, widely predicted all day, had swept Mr. Gardiner to one side, it had engulfed Mr. Power.

In the hour it took to count 1,200 ballots (they do things better in any ward in Montreal) the convention went on passing sundry planks of its platform. For all the attention anyone paid to the business they could have passed a resolution stating that the Liberal party stood four-square for the abolition of Parliament and a doubled rate of income tax. The packed convention hall sat in a buzz of excited conversation, with the chairman bawling lamentably into the microphone, "Order, order, THIS is a VERY important resolution." Nuts, said the delegates. Important to whom?

The rank and file, after a few ineffectual excursions into independence of thought, had decided to settle for a new leader and go home. They would leave the platform to the managers and the machine.

A character from Saskatchewan said the income tax was a racket, based apparently on the desire of men who could read and write to charge fees to illiterate farmers for making out the fatal forms. That, at least, is what is sounded like. A lady with a highly refined voice declared she had come 3,000 miles to listen to the proceedings and it was disgusting that the English delegates refused to listen quietly to the French translations. It was indeed, but strange and sometimes rude things happen inside a pressure cooker.

* * *

THE proceedings had begun with the speeches of the three delegates left in action after six had wished themselves out according to a wooden formula of fervent thanks for the compliment and a re-dedication of their hearts, minds and souls to the cause of Liberalism. Of the three orations, that of Mr. St. Laurent took this reporter's fancy most, with Mr. Power's a close second and Mr. Gardiner nowhere.

The grace and style of Mr. St. Laurent, the little lightness of touch particularly when he was speaking off the cuff and had put his script to one side, the aptness to the occasion of everything he said, all these were remarkable. The huge head of Sir Wilfrid behind him seemed almost to nod in appreciation. This was Quebec in the moment of making one of its vast gifts to Confederation.

Mr. Power, the plain blunt man, spoke his heart. He knew he had no chance. He was there to put himself on the record and he will remain there for years. He fears that the party, long in office, is losing sight of the ancient principles of responsible government. When he spoke of "budgets by radio," the Finance Minister, Mr. Abbott, gave a wry shake of the head. Everyone in the hall admired Mr. Power and his courage. Not a few of them will remember what he said. It would not be surprising if orders-in-council and the importance of their content are reduced in the future.

Mr. Gardiner put matters on the most practical of planes. His record was, he said, that he could win elections. There was more to his speech than that of course, but it was curiously off key. The man and the event had not come properly together.

* * *

THUS it was that the result of the vote, that overwhelming first ballot, brought everybody to his feet. Canadians often seem to think there is something indecent about a display of their emotions. There is, in fact, something almost indecent about the way they hide them. For ten minutes or so there was howling and cheering. As an English writer once put it in describing another such event, "Strong men wept, and shook hands with strangers."

Even to a press corps hardened to all things, there was something moving about the scene. Where now were all the rumours and counter- rumours that had tortured us all for days? Where now the desperate additions and subtractions, problems of political mathematic now swept to one side by the decision of 1,200 men and women.

Mme. St. Laurent, sitting in her box, survived the first burst of picture-taking and then bit her lip hard. Her daughters, in theirs, found handkerchiefs for their eyes and then busily fumbled for their lipsticks. Her husband, their father, slight, erect, stood, his head high, his hand flung aloft, his eyes shining and perhaps offering up a little prayer that the right words would come to him when he was called on to speak.

They did. His impeccable English speech tumbled torrentially from his lips. Speaking in his own mother tongue, his words glowed with the greatness of good language.

Mr. King, whose features had been a mask throughout the day's proceedings, was behind him, his face beaming. He had taken over the leadership after Sir Wilfrid's death. Now, having had his turn, he had watched a son of Quebec receive it once more. This was what he had hoped for and planned; and, since symbols are things not unimportant to human beings, the auguries and the omens opened favourably.

* * *

IT was long before the great crowd quieted down. The chairman, poor soul, tried to recall to it that the business of the day was not yet finished, the platform not yet passed. The platform? The delegates looked at each other queerly. Platform? What platform? Oh, yes! They remembered now. Some of them resumed their seats. An hour or so later the convention folded up. The Party has both Leader and Platform, and if the latter's content was created by a hard-working and competent resolutions committee, it was the rank and file who appointed the Leader.

The opinion was expressed that three days are too short for a national convention. But three days were enough for the slaves of the press and radio. Another 24 hours and they would have been done for to a man.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him....

When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive....

Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? (Ezek. 18: 20, 26, 27, 31.)

Find Wells Unfit

LANSDOWNE, Ont., Aug. 11—(CP)—Tests in 28 wells in this community 21 miles west of Brockville showed only 14 with water fit for human consumption. This was reported to a meeting of ratepayers by Dr. A. E. Thoms of the Leeds and Grenville health unit. Dr. J. H. Locheed of Lansdowne reported the test was made at random but it represented the general situation. Dr. Locheed was named as chairman of a committee to investigate an adequate and safe water supply. A deep well was suggested as a possible solution.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
can rob you of energy and ambition!

WE ALL KNOW people whose stamina and spirits seem always under par — who lack ambition and drive — who look like pale, tired failures. Often, such effects come from a blood condition. They may indicate Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. They may mean that your red blood cells may be too faded and puny to transmit full energy to your body. Many women, men and children go dragging through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

Take Ironized Yeast Tablets if you're too pale, too tired because of this blood deficiency. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells—thus restore vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high"—help restore your color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

*A mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA
why it can make you
TIRED · PALE · LISTLESS

Blood that builds energy! This is how energy-building blood looks under a microscope. Here are big, plentiful red blood cells that can release vigor to all your body.

Blood in Borderline Anemia! Many have blood like this; never know it. Cells are puny, faded. Blood like this can't release the energy you need to feel and look your best.

Knights Beat Legionnaires In Both Ends of Twin Bill

Knights of Columbus swept both ends of a double-header against Legionnaires before a big crowd at the Bowl last night to open their best-of-seven men's softball semi-final series. They waltzed to a 10-3 victory in the opener and then struck savagely in the ninth inning of the nightcap with a seven-run drive to eke out an 8-7 decision in a surprise finish. The same squads clash in a twin bill there tomorrow evening.

Jack Crowley pitched seven-hit ball for Knights in the first fray, had perfect support afield and his buddies hit hard in the first two frames to rack up a 9-0 lead and chase Howie Dalton off the mound. Bob Greenlaw finished up well. Tompkins had three hits for four, one a homer, with Garvey getting a homer and double in three and O'Heron two singles in four. Pagett had two in five for Legion. Catches by Condon, Tompkins and Spencer and a stop by Greenlaw were defensive standouts in a fair tilt. The box score:

SECOND GAME

Legion had a 7-1 lead on Knights going into the last heat of the second game, a five-run splash in the fifth adding it up. But the redhot Knights went wild in the ninth on a walk, a two-base error, a fielder's choice, singles by Garvey, Kumpf and Woods, with a three-run homer by Red Sullivan to score seven and win out. Legion got the tying run on first in their half but he died there. Lefty Reid had a little pitching edge on Terry Woods and the fielding was fairly even, with a catch by Scriver a feature. Sullivan ed Knights at bat with two for five, though Kumpf got one in his only try. Parnell and Walton had two for four each for Legion and White and Harrison two for five, one of the latter's a four-bagger. White and Dalton hit doubles. Box score:

Dit Clapper was called to Boston the other day to confer on puck matters with the Bruins' management. Indicating that hockey is not so awfully far off, at least in the organizing stage. Coach Dit was to discuss players, prospects and the pre-seasonal training sessions, opening in Hershey about Sept. 15. And we note in the Ottawa Citizen where Toe Blake has signed to coach Buffalo Bisons this coming campaign, thus winding up the Old Lamplighter's career with Canadiens. He played 14 seasons in the NHL and scored 235 goals and 292 assists for 527 points, just 21 short of Bill Cowley's lifetime record of 548 points. A fine hockeyist year after year.

On Aug. 26, a week from this Friday, St. Louis Cardinals' scouts open a two-day baseball tryout camp in Belleville's fair grounds. Players between the ages of 17 and 23 are invited to attend the classes, morning, afternoon and evening, bringing their own gloves and spikes. Any boy signed to a minor pro contract will be reimbursed for expenses incurred attending camp. Drills will consist mainly of running, fielding, hitting and throwing, and everyone will get a chance to show his stuff at his favorite position. This is the closest to Peterborough for a pro ball camp yet.

Feudin' And Fussin'

Senior Petes have a practice tomorrow and trek to Kingston on Friday for a COBL fixture, then playing Batawa Shoemen here on Saturday aft. Loop executive meets at the Empress tomorrow night to arrange postponed games and the playoff setup, coming up shortly. We note where Scribes Campbell of Oshawa and Rodden of Kingston are feudin' just as in the old Central League days. George says Mike isn't giving Locos enough publicity and Mike retaliates by scoffing at the Merchants and intimating that they are likely to fall out of the bottom of the league. Yeah, playoffs must be approaching.

Two imporant girls' softball playoffs on tap tonight in the Bowl, weather permitting. Lindsay plays Lakefield at seven, first of their best-of-three finals for an intermediate "B" winner. Marines tangle with Electrics under the arcs, second of their two-in-three finals for intermediate "A" honors, Marines edging out a win in the first. Same squads clash again Friday—provided CGE win this eve—with CGE vs. Marines in the opener and Lakefield vs. Lindsay in the nightcap. Admission charge being made for playoffs. Probably a benefit game will be lined up soon for Florine Killen, Ashby ace, who had her spine hurt a week ago in a collision at first base.

Redhot K. of C.-ers

Knights could end the semi-finals in the City Softball League tomorrow eve by winning two from Legion. They did that last p.m. to open the four-in-seven serial and are certainly hotter than the hinges of a well-known year-around resort. Haven't been able to do anything wrong the last three weeks after being on the ropes and nearly out of the running as the schedule approached its end. They earned the first win handily last evening by 10-3 count before the biggest crowd of the season. And, in a sense, they earned the second game by the 8-7 count, but they certainly put off their big drive till the last minute. Scored seven in the ninth to pull it out of the fire. A dandy to take and a tough one for Legion to lose.

* * * * * *

Crowley pitched steady ball in the opener while Dalton was shelled out early and Greenlaw threw a good game in a losing cause. Tompkins, Garvey and O'Heron led the hitters. A fair scrap with the Knights definitely better this time. Not so in the second struggle. Legion looked better right till the ninth with a comfy 7-1 lead, and then Knights exploded and scored seven runs in a wild finish to yank out the verdict. A terrific windup to a swell duel and it sent the large crowd home talking excitedly. Reid and Woods both pitched good ball and the fielding generally was okay but Knights bunched blows—especially that three-run homer by Red Sullivan—and cashed in on chances to take the nod. Sullivan, Parnell and Walton led the hitters. Don't miss the Thursday twin bill.

Petes' First Reverse

Local senior "B" lacrossers suffered their first reverse of the season last evening in Oshawa, dropping a 13-12 count in a warm struggle. Hard, rugged play all the way with a late drive by the Petes falling just one short of a tie. Three fist fights and 20 penalties passed out as the well-matched rivals shot the works. The Motor Citizens, in second place, are getting tougher every tussle and seem to be the big threat to shake that provincial crown off the Peterborough noggin. Same clubs clash here Friday night and that one should be a honey, too. Foote and Bob Breakspear proved the pick of the Creighton crew last night, with Chambers, Hilson, Christie and Sutherland tops for the winners.

Quakers Victors

Quakers defeated Drafting 13-8 last night in their Industrial Softball League semi-final playoff at Quaker Park. A six-run splash in the seventh clinched matters in a good game, though CGE threatened a rally in the ninth. Hinton hurled for the losers while Shine took over from Horton in the seventh on the other slab. Hinton fanned 11, while but six Drafting batsmen went down on strikes but Quakers drew a lot of walks. None of the latter had more than one safe hit, and Whatley led the losers with a homer and single. The teams:

Quakers—Hay, Horton, Dixon, Beggs, Gunn, Fisher, Lomax, Wesenberg, Ash, Shine.

Drafting — Whatley, Bedford, Correll, Quigley, Murduff, Greatrix, Doughty, Dunford, Ferguson, Hinton.

Oshawa Lacrossers Take 13-12 Thriller Over Petes

Oshawa edged out the Petes 13-12 in a sizzling OLA Senior 'B' fixture before 2,000 Motor City fans last night, it being the first loss of the season for the Creighton crew. A strengthened Oshawa outfit played hard, smart lacrosse to gain the verdict but had to fight off a hot drive in the final four minutes by the scrappy visitors. It was a speedy, tight tussle throughout, fairly rough at times and plenty heated in the second quarter. No less than 14 penalties were handed out then, four majors as McAdam and Foote mixed once and DePippo and Gordon again. Grice and Foote tangled in the first frame. Both sides suffered a number of cuts.

The Petes took an early lead, but Oshawa rallied in the second. One of the Oshawa goals came on a shot deflected off a Petes' stick. Goalie Chambers, Hilson, Sutherland and Christie all starred for the strong Oshawa squad, while Foote and Bob Breakspear were the pick of the losers, all of whom fought hard every minute. The teams clash here this Friday.

The teams:

Petes—Goal, Hill; defence, Horton and Chute; centre, Magee; wings, Dugan and R. Breakspear; rover, Foote; alternates, J. Breakspear, Connelly, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Gordon, Smith and Dundas.

Oshawa—Goal, Chambers; defence, Grice and L. Vipond; centre, Chrstie; wings, DePippo and Cook; river, McAdam; alternates, W Vipond, Hilson, Sutherland, A. Haney, Bush, Robson and E. Haney.

Beaches, Indians Heading West

By WILFRID GRUSON.

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (CP). — Toronto Beaches Indians, moulded together from the best players of Toronto's two senior Ontario Rugby Football Union teams of last year by Coach Ted Reeve, to-night head for the West on a three-game exhibition series and the earliest opening of any Canadian football season.

A formidable outfit without American imports at present, the Toronto club is scheduled to meet the clubs of the Western Canada League starting with winning Blue Bombers August 14, then Saskatchewan Roughriders of Regina August 18, and the Calgary Stampeders August 21.

Reeve, sports columnist of the Toronto Evening Telegram, has built his club around the stars who played with Balmy Beach and Indians last season.

However, the team Reeve will lead out West will not be as strong as the one that he will have available for the "Beachians" city championship game against Toronto Argonauts August 28 and for the start of their ORFU schedule September 11 against Sarnia Imperials.

Several players, notably quarterbacks Bob Porter and Nilo Ciotti, halfbacks Don Crowe, Doug Pyzer, and Bill Douglas, linemen Paul McGarry, Johnnie Widman, and Lorne Parken, cannot get off work to make the trip and Reeve will be forced to juggle his players around for a make-shift line-up.

Red Sox Down Yankees 9-6 As Giants Edge Boston

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nine teams are still in the running for both pennants in the major leagues as the greatest of all baseball campaign roars past the two-thirds mark.

The list includes Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Athletics, Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the American League; and Boston Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates in the National.

Only 2½ games separate the first four clubs in the American, while 6½ separate the first five in the senior circuit.

By splitting a twilight-night doubleheader with Washington while the Tigers were defeating the Indians 7-3 in Detroit, the A's tied Cleveland for first in games won and lost. However, since they've played six more games and could do no better than get an even break in them, the A's trail the Tribe by six percentage points. After the Senators won Tuesday's opener 8-2, the A's came back to win, 11-2.

In Third Place

The Red Sox moved past New York into third place, two games off the pace, by downing the Yankees 9-6 in New York. The New Yorkers dropped into fourth place.

The first-place Braves lost ground to each of their pursuers when they were beaten by the Giants in Boston, 6-5. The Dodgers whipped Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 in Brooklyn to take second place from the idle Cardinals by a fraction of a point. They also shaved Boston's margin to three games. The fourth-place Giants are five games behind and the fifth-place Pirates, who trounced Chicago 5-1 in Pittsburgh are 6½ games off the pace.

In the only other game Tuesday, St. Louis Browns advanced within a game of sixth place by vanquishing the last-place Chicago White Sox 3-1.

Bobby Feller of Cleveland, trying for his 12th victory, went down to his 13th defeat instead when he was clubbed for eight hits and five runs in the six innings he worked.

A crowd of 67,691 saw the Red Sox come from behind with five runs in the eighth to defeat the Yankees. Vern Stephens' double off Vic Raschi with the bases loaded was the big blow.

Trailing 3-0, the Giants scored four runs in the seventh, added two more in the top of the eighth, then staved off a Boston rally in the last half of the inning to win.

Pee Wee Reese's home run with two mates aboard in the first inning was all the Dodgers needed to defeat the Phillies as Rex Barney permitted only five hits for his 10th victory.

Ralph Kiner banged a two-run homer in the first inning, his 29th, to get the Pirates off to a good start.

Feller Admits Losing Old-Time Fast Ball

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—(AP).—Baseball fans now can end a dispute which has been raging for the last few weeks. Bob Feller admits that he has lost his old-time fast ball.

The former boy wonder pitcher of Cleveland Indians sounded the demise of his fireball with this simple statement:

"I throw the ball as hard as I ever did — but it just doesn't travel as fast as it did a few years ago."

Feller, blasted from the mound at Detroit Tuesday made the same statement regarding his celebrated strike-out pitch 10 years ago.

UK Soccer Idol Prefers Cricket

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(CP). — There is bad news in the wind for Arsenal, London's first-division soccer club. Denis Compton, 30-year-old footballer-cricketer, idol of British sporting crowds, may not be able to play for the Gunners during next season.

If he is asked—and there is little doubt he will — Denis will probably decide to accompany the Marylebone Cricket Club team to South Africa from October to March next. He prefers cricket. Compton faced the same problem two years ago, and decided in favor of cricket, going with the England team to Australia.

Greater financial reward comes from a winter of cricket abroad than from football. An all-the-year-round contract with a big football club, at maximum wages plus extras, brings in about £600 ($2,400).

A successful trip with an England cricket team to South Africa would net him about £800 ($3,200). But it's not only the immediate financial reward which has influenced Compton's decision.

There is not much future in football at 30, whereas cricketers usually improve between 30 and 40. And the risk of injury at football is greater.

An unsolved mystery is the disease which attacked the trout in Blagdon Lake, Somersetshire, causing the water to be closed to anglers the last year. Reopening has been set for Sept. 1.

Many trout died or wasted away when the epidemic was at its height. Scientists from Bristol University and ministry of agriculture and fisheries experts were unable to trace some definite parasitic infection.

One theory is that shortage of food for the young trout used for restocking during the war caused weakness and liability to disease.

A big restocking program now is being carried out, with the introduction of some 20,000 five-inch pearling trout from the Bristol Waterworks Company hatcheries.

So fattening is the natural food at Blagdon that five-inchers grow to one pound in a year. Biggest trout caught in the lake weighed 10 pounds four ounces.

The little man at the English Derby couldn't see the race from the free enclosure at Epsom Downs.

"Step up on to my stand," invited a bookie. "You can see the race from there."

After the race, crowds besieged the little man, demanding payment. The benevolent bookie couldn't be found.

Canadian Breaks Olympic Record In Weightlifting

LONDON, Aug. 11 — (CP) — A Canadian to-day broke an Olympic record. He is John Stuart of Verdun, Que., and he did it in weightlifting. It was the first record any Canadian has been able even to approach at the 1948 Games.

But as much hubub and excitement came with to-day's announcement that the United States' protest over disqualification in Saturday's 400-metre relay race had been allowed.

That was no sooner settled than Skipper Bill Gooderham of Toronto filed a protest in the fifth race of star-class yachting off Torquay, Devonshire. Gooderham finished 10th. The Italian boat was first over the line.

The Swiss skipper, finishing seventh, also protested.

Paul McLaughlin of Toronto brought his little Firegly dinghy into second place behind a United States yacht.

John Robertson of Hamilton could do no better than 14th place in to-day's swallow-class race won by Portugal.

John Stuart's record-breaking lift was in what is known as the clean and press. He hefted 236¾ pounds, against the old Olympic record of 231¼ pounds.

The clean and press is one of three lifts a competitor must perform. The barbell is hoisted slowly until the arms are high above the head.

The United States took over the disputed 400-metre relay title when motion pictures were said to have shown clearly there was no illegal changing-over of the baton in the race between Barney Ewell and Lorenzo White of the United States.

The decision of the appeal committee meant that Britain, given first place after the disqualification, was set back to second and all other teams moved down a notch.

It cost Canada a single point in the unofficial Olympic standing, putting Canada's team in fifth instead of fourth place.

Squalor and Majesty Reign In Newfoundland Capital

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug 11 (CP) —Canada's newest provincial capital-to-be, and at the same time one of North America's oldest cities, is a fantastic combination of squalor and majesty, of life born of poverty and unending toil, and of life that goes with wealth.

St. John's, capital of the island which voted last month for federal union with Canada, runs east and west along a hill that slopes steeply up from the mile-long, landlocked harbor. The harbor gate is a narrows between two giant headlands rising sharply out of the sea.

The passage is about half a mile long. At night, skippers thread their ships in by lining up two red lights that stretch back from the harbor front. To starboard, as ships enter, lies Chain Rock beacon. It gets its name from the chain was was fastened to the ledge and strung across the Narrows to Pancake Rock to keep French warships out during the wars between the French and English.

Looming high over Chain Rock is Signal Hill, topped by Cabot Tower, the spot where Marconi first made trans-Atlantic telegraph communication.

At the base of the 520-foot hill are scattered fishermen's shanties and stagings, only a few hundred yards from Water Street, the city's and the country's—commercial heart.

Big Business

On cobble-stoned Water Street is centred the wealth of Newfoundland. Names on storefronts are the names of the big merchants whose ancestors founded businesses that have been handed down, father to son, for decades.

On the harbor side of Water Street are the wharves where the two-masted bankers tie up to discharge their cargoes of fish. On the other side, ranging up the side of the slope, are the small shops, taverns and homes of the poor. At the top of the hill live those who are better off.

John Cabot, some historians say, sailed into the harbor June 24, St. John's Day, 1497, hence the city's name. It was first settled by Devonshire fishermen early in the 16th century.

The city was twice sacked by the French and captured by them in 1762 during the Seven Year's War. The British retook it in the same year. In the American Revolution and the War of 1812 St. John's was headquarters for the British fleet.

The city has been destroyed three times by fire: in 1817, 1846 and 1892. In the last fire 11,000 were left homeless and damage was $20,000,000.

Directors Hold Seaway Talks

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Directors of the National St. Lawrence Association, backers of the St. Lawrence Seaway, met privately Tuesday for an "exploratory" session.

Julius Barnes of Duluth, Minn., association president, said during a recess he did not expect the group to make any statement on the attitude of the association.

"I do not believe any of us are clearly enough convinced for or against the project to make any public statement as to the views of the association," said Barnes.

A mid-western member of the association, Harry Brockel, a Milwaukee, Wis., port director, told reporters the midwest "must be assured of the integrity of the navigation project."

He referred to fears of some mid-western interests that the navigational aspects of the seaway will be sidetracked once a power project is completed.

At the meeting, the directors are considering the possible threat to the seaway project represented by the decision of Ontario and New York State to construct a power project without waiting for informational authorization of the navigation development.

Ontario and New York propose building power facilities on the St. Lawrence river at New Long Sault between Ogdensburg and Massena, N.Y.

Eastern interests are reported primarily interested in power development, while mid-western backers seek a waterway for large vessels which would connect the Great Lakes with the Atlantic ocean.

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children — not only that, but children nowadays spend more of their years getting an education.

These facts have brought significant changes in the family man's financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support everyone in his family longer — including himself!

Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature — a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.

The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

Author To Pay $1 In U.S. Damages Suit

GAINESVILE, Fla., Aug. 11—(AP)—The author of "Cross Creek," Marjorie Kinnon Rawlings, defendant in a $100,000 invasion-of-privacy suit, must pay the plaintiff one dollar in damages—and court costs amounting to $1,050.

The damages were assessed Monday in favor of Miss Zelma Cason, former helper and researcher for Mrs. Rawlings. Miss Cason said the author used her as a model for a character in the novel.

An earlier trial ended in favor of Mrs. Rawlings.

Three Men Escape As Car Hits Ditch

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP) —Three men escaped with minor injuries early to-day when the automobile in which they were riding left Wellington Road south of the city, plowed into a ditch, broke off a telephone pole and crashed into a fence post. Treated at hospital were: Glenn Nesseth, John Bentume, and Harold Totten, all of London. All suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Police said the car apparently went out of control on a curve. The front left wheel of the vehicle was torn off and the front end extensively damaged.

Giant Exhibit Rams Home Britain's Production Needs

By ALAN HARVEY.

LONDON, Aug. 11 — (CP). — Rush-hour throngs pause daily in one of the world's busiest subway stations, arrested by the insistent "tick-tock" of a golden pendulum swinging against a black gackground.

Intrigued, they crowd closer to read yellow lettering on a wall:

"Time and dollars are running out fast..... Every second we spend more than £50 on imports."

Some turn away, brushing off this latest reminder of Britain's fight for economic recovery. Others read on, digesting catchwords and rhyming couplets:

"The nation's bread hangs by a thread...."

"With more and more coal, we'll be out of the hole...."

"Don't be a cuckoo in the nest By taking coal from all the rest...."

"The most important birds are these (coal and steel),

They turn the wheels of industries."

The poetry, and the measured tick-tock of the plywood pendulum, form part of the Central Office of Information's new "Britain in the Balance" exhibit. It covers 1,000 feet of floor space in Charing Cross Station, just out of sight of Waterloo Bridge.

Won't Tell Cost

The Information Office says more than 300,000 people will see the display before it is dismantled in August. It declines to say how much it cost to assemble the intricate graphs, flashing lights, and production charts which go into it.

One wall shows a globe representing the Western Hemisphere. Beneath it, short, pithy sentences punch home the story of the balance of payments in terms a school boy might understand.

Britain, says the text, buys more than one-third of her imports from North America. Foods take £123,000,000; raw materials £91,000,000; petroleum £27,000,000; machinery, tobacco and miscellaneous £26,000,000.

From January 1 this year to June 30, the bill was £267,000,000. Can Britain earn enough to meet it? No. Exports to North America will earn only £105,000,000. So the country has to draw on gold reserves.

The answer..... more production.

At the swinging exit doors, through which more than 150,000 persons have passed since the exhibit opened in April, a pamphlet on the same subject is available. Few take it.

"What's the use?" is a typical reaction. "If words could only solve the problem...."

Toronto Can Strike Has Been Settled

TORONTO, Aug. 11 — (CP) — A strike which began more than three weeks ago at the Toronto and New Toronto plants of the Continental Can Company ended today. Between 400 and 500 men are involved.

The union also gets maintenance of membership, irrevocable checkoff and provision that all new employees must join the union within 90 days.

The strike began when the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) asked for a wage increase of 26 cents an hour. Originally the company offered a seven-cent boost.

Starting in an apartment, the blaze ate into four shops near the corner of Cooper St. The origin was not known. Fifteen persons were evacuated from smoke-filled apartments.

The fire started about 8:30 a.m., delaying traffic on the capital's main thoroughfare for more than an hour.

Closed Session On Libya Status

LONDON, Aug. 11 — (AP) — Deputy foreign ministers of the Big Four today held a closed session to hear United States views on the future of Italy's pre-war colonies in Africa.

They decided Monday to discuss each of three—Libya, Eritrea and Somaliland—separately, so as to avoid having differences on one snarl agreement over the others.

The deputies have less than two weeks in which to report the results of their 11 months of work to decide the future of the colonies. The Council of Foreign Ministers then has until Sept. 13 to agree. If it does not, the whole problem will be inherited by the United Nations Assembly.

Canada Monday advocated the "continuation of outside assistance" to the three former Italian colonies and also indicated that she would support any move to choose the United Kingdom as administering authority for the major portion of the territory.

Charge 60 Teen-Agers On Loose At Resort

ROCHE'S POINT, Ont., Aug. 11 —(CP).—Police Chief Carl Morton of this Lake Simcoe summer resort, about 50 miles north of Toronto, said yesterday 60 'teenagers, children of prominent Toronto families, have been "running loose" here and "conducting themselves in a most disgraceful manner."

The youngsters have been sleeping in barns and on sidewalks and shouting and singing from 3 a.m. until daylight, he said. Five officers were sent to the beach last week-end when one youth was found in possession of an offensive weapon, and another looted a passing milk truck.

Building Change To Cost $199.96 At Burnham's Pt.

Ald. Gordon Armstrong, chairman of the property committee, was given "power to act" by the finance committee of the council last night in response to requests from the residents of Burnham's Point to convert its old warehouse building into a community centre. Cost of materials was estimated at $199.96 by W. H. Mortlock. Insulation indicated protection against winter weather, and Ald. H. Dodds reports gifts of a stove.

"The women of the Point suggest that we might use the building for a kindergarden," Mayor Ovens said. "I spoke to Mr. K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, but he thinks it would be an unnecessary cost when there is vacant space in King George School. It is not the longest distance children in the city have to walk and there is only one main street to cross, Hunter St."

Peterborough Lumber Co. gave the city the deed of the warehouse building in the expectation that it could be devised to the use of the residents.

"They are willing to take it over and run it," Mayor Oven said.

Ald. Hugh Waddell said the only arrangement not yet determined was "if we fix it up will they be responsible or it and take care of it."

Ald. Dodds said three men were named trustees by the residents. It was suggested that lease of that part of the Point property could be given to a responsible committee at the nominal charge of $1 a year.

"I'll be glad to help over there in any way I can," Ald. Waddell said, and volunteered to assist Ald. Armstrong. Details are to be settled immediately. Mayor Ovens' motion putting the community request in the hands of Ald. Armstrong was seconded by Ald. Dodds.

D. J. DELANEY, RR 3, active Peterborough Jaycee, was appointed to the office of 1st vice-president, Region VI, Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the local executive Monday night. Mr. Delaney is vice-chairman of the Tourist Committee and an outstanding worker in the Information Bureau located on Highway 28. Hugh B. Savage, Montreal, is president of the Region, and Arnold Froom, Ottawa, is 2nd vice-president.

Collect $13,466 To Date For Civic Arena

If every man, woman and child of the 34,000 people of Peterborough had contributed $1.03 to the Civic Arena Fund, it would have been all over. As it is, officials have not raised one half of the $35,000 that is the objective. The average monthly donation has been $3,399, or less than 10 cents a head.

The drive began near the end of March this year, and fund officials expected the arena could be finished by this winter. The total of the fund at present is $13,446.06. After a payment of $4,081.74 to the contractor for work done so far, and expenses of more than $1,000 for publicity and office costs, the bank balance stands at $8,175.37.

Another drive for funds will be started in September, Treasurer A. D. Cameron said today. It is expected that people who have already given will give again, as the amount donated is deductible from income tax. This come-on will also inspire others, officials believe.

The statement, as at August 7, is as follows:

RECEIPTS:
Donations	$13,466.06
PAYMENTS:
Payment to Contractor for work done on building to date	4,081.74
Printing, radio and newspaper advertising	971.95
Office expenses, postage and stationery	217.00
	$5,270.69
Bank Balance, Aug. 7, 1948	$8,175.37

Jaycees Ready To Promote Picnic Area Plan

Support to the Recreation Area group in Peterborough interested in the establishment of picnic areas in the district was extended by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night. At a meeting of the executive a motion was passed to contribute $25 to the picnic site sponsors as financial backing for their effort.

Melville Johnston, Reeve of Monaghan, chairman of the group, said the proposed sites were at Eel's Creek, Jack's Lake, and possibly a location in Harvey township.

Members of the Junior Chamber are prepared to volunteer in clearing one of the sites as soon as the exact location is learned from Lands and Forests officials.

It was considered by the Junior Chamber executive that the proposal to build picnic locations is in the interest of expanding present tourist facilities in the district.

Mobile Rustler Seen At Ranch

Residents in the Hastings area are wondering now if the wild days of the early west are returning. Activities on one of the hills near there this morning have given suspicions that some old-fashioned cattle-rustling is contemplated by unknown hombres using modern methods.

A Hastings district farmer, returning to his farm about 3 a.m. today saw what appeared to be a truck parked on top of a hill a few miles away. The hill is part of the property of a rancher who runs about 180 head of cattle.

Suspicious because of the hour and location, the farmer called out the rancher and together they started to trudge towards the hill. By the time they arrived, the truck had disappeared.

Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg, Hastings, following up the occurrence, will try to check the mysterious midnight roamer.

After all, with the price of beef these days, people are liable to try anything.

Readers will recall the hectic days of 1947 when rustlers were active in Dummer. At that time a herd of cattle mysteriously disappeared in the early hours of morning. Local farmers immediately went into action. Herd counts were taken, owners often travelling to remote ranchland areas to ensure their stock had not been "rustled".

It was later learned that the whole story of rustling was a hoax. The owner of the cattle had moved his herd to another section of grazing land.

ORGANIST APPOINTED

Ray Mulhern, organist of the United Church at Fergus, has accepted the position of choirmaster and organist of Cambridge St. United Church, Lindsay. He succeeds Harry D. Moss.

Harvest Earlier Crop Excellent

Alex Huston of Otonabee was one of the few forehanded farmers of Ontario who could have folded their arms in complacency yesterday, and gratefully, too, that they had finished the harvest and it was good. The work was done ten days to two weeks earlier than usual. Conditions of weather were consistently conducive to speed as the grain fields ripened and signalled to the threshers.

Mr. Huston estimated his Dawson's Golden Chaff at 45 bushels to the acre. His wheat went directly from the field to market at $2.15 a bushel, getting in at the top price.

The oat crop turned out well and filling in the picture was the mixed grain, barley and oats, that went into the granary, closing one of the best seasons in years.

In all directions from Peterborough, near and far, farmers were hustling through the harvest work. Binders and combines were the main notes in the metallic chorus. Stook and combine threshing was more general than ever. Few farmers were drawing sheaves to the barn.

From all parts of the province come glowing reports as the season draws to a close. "Grain yields are excellent," says Bruce county. Heavy shipments of winter wheat were leaving Simcoe county at prices considered the highest in years. Elgin says wheat has been yielding 45 bushels and better. Middlesex adds the information that the average turnout of wheat "has been very good."

Huron says harvesting is being completed at one of the earliest dates on record; "yield of fall wheat and spring grains is exceptionally good, both in quality and quantity."

The same reports string across the province. And beyond that it is evident that corn fields are flourishing, mild production continues heavy.

Rain today provided a freshening of the pasture lands, but would hardly dampen the soil for the first plowing. Several farmers have expressed opinion that the seeding of winter wheat may be as extensive as last fall.

Volunteers Work For Year Building Their Own Church

After more than a year of work by a dozen volunteers, the congregation of the Church of the Nazarene finally has a home of its own. First services will be held in the new church on George St. on Sunday, August 15. However, the official opening will not be until September 12, the second Sunday of the month.

"I didn't know much about this sort of work at first," said Rev. Robert W. Coghill, pastor of the church, "so I had to supervise. I've got a little more experience behind me now, though."

For three years, since March, 1945, members have met in various halls in the city, and last year it was decided that a church should be built. Plumbing and electrical work is the only non-volunteer labor that has been done on the building.

Working nights throughout the past year, Rev. Coghill has put much of his spare time into the building. "All the carpentering work has been done by green hands. Although a few did know something about it, they were not professionals."

Estimated at first at $12,000, the cost has been more than halved as a result of the voluntary work done.

Mr. Coghill has been pastor of the church since it began its work in this city, and said they have found it difficult meeting in the various halls and having to carry all equipment about with them.

"It's certainly a relief to think that it will be finished soon. We've waited a long time for this," the pastor said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sands Fly To Ireland

Mr. and Mrs. James Sands, Rubidge St., returned at the weekend from a month's visit to Northern Ireland and Scotland. They made both crossings of the Atlantic by plane.

'Air travel is so fast and you save so much time to be spent on land, that it has everything to recommend it," Mr. Sands remarked to The Examiner yesterday. It is the only way I would wish to go now. Both crossings were uneventful except that it is quite an experience, making a flight in less than 12 hours."

Mr. and Mrs. Sands spent two weeks in Belfast, and the rest of their holiday in Scotland. After in Antrim County had changed the old home town of Portglenone an absence of 37 years in Canada, greatly in its growth and appearance. Eighty buses radiate from it in all directions.

In regard to public opinion of the Atlee Government and its Socialistic program, Mr. Sands said many people were in favor of it and others were opposed. I think it is too soon yet to try to make any general estimate of how One would know more about it its policies are going to turn out in another four or five years."

Rain Makes No Difference At Playgrounds Children Enjoy Themselves At Indoor Games

Even on rainy days children on city playgrounds have something to keep them busy, for all their time is not spent outside, swimming, playing basketball or volleyball. Although not as many turn up on a day such as today, still some can be found working on playwood cutouts, leather belts or sewing cards.

For children old enough, saws and other tools are provided with which they may make small ornaments for lawns, wooden games, and repairs on games already supplied for them. In Dixon House, two boys were busy repairing a crokinole board which had lost all of its pegs and needed several nails to pin down the circular board.

Dixon House is probably the most productive of the playgrounds, said chief supervisor Bill Harle. From shoe boxes they have made picture shows with cut-out comic strips, and maypoles with paper figures drawn by the children.

Most popular of all things-to-do are the wooden cutouts which take the form of birds, elephants, bears, and even the odd human figure, such as the black and white dressed Puritan made at Dixon House.

Finger painting is another favorite, and often more paint gets on the painter than on the paper. Free-hand pencil drawing is done only by a few, but these few are improving after some haphazard first efforts.

Expect Dozen To Be Named PC Candidates

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 —(CP)—As many as a dozen men may be candidates for the Progressive Conservative party leadership as a national convention here next month.

A party source said Tuesday he does not think the fight will narrow down to a battle between Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan.

Nominees from the Commons are expected to be Howard Green, Vancouver South; E. D. Fulton, Kamloops; A. L. Smith, Calgary West; Gordon Graydon, Peel; Donald Fleming, Toronto Eglinton; J. M. Macdonnell, Muskoka-Ontario, and John T. Hackett, Stanstead.

Murdoch Macpherson, prominent Saskatchewan lawyer and a candidate at the 1942 Winnipeg convention which chose John Bracken as leader, may once again be a candidate. Dr. Sydney Smith, president of the University of Toronto and a man who would have contested the 1942 convention if Mr. Bracken had not chosen to run, may also allow his name to go before the convention.

Ivan Sabourin, party leader in Quebec, is another prospective nominee.

1,313 Delegates

While the source was listing the names of probable candidates for the post which Mr. Bracken is giving up because of ill health, Dick Bell, national director of the party, was telling a press conference about plans for the convention.

It will be held Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and Oct. 2—which fall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the same three days of the week as the Liberal convention here last week.

Mr. Bell said there will be 1,313 official delegates and 765 alternates and the plan is to give the rank-and-file delegate a chance to have his say. He criticized the convention procedure used by the Liberals.

"We thought the convention was gagged and that the ordinary delegate was just an automaton," said Mr. Bell.

Animal Odours Used To Repel Rodents, Pests

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

SPARKHILL, N.Y., Aug 11 (AP).—The lady with the mink coat was in distress and in tears.

Coat and all, she had chanced upon a skunk at a country home. The coat no longer was an object of admiration.

"So someone sent her to see me, and a bottle of this did the trick," said Charles V. Sparhawk, a chemist who works with animal odors.

The bottle is a chemical (named Skunkadora) that takes the skunk smell out of anything. It smells sweet, like perfume. Sparhawk demonstrated. First he wet his hands with some skunk-odor liquid, then applied the smell remover. It worked.

This invention came about because a friend had a new car that had harbored a frightened skunk in the back seat. The friend begged Sparhawk to do something about removing the smell.

Sparhawk agreed to tackle the job, and the smell-remover resulted. He also succeeded in using the skunk secretion as a fixative for sivet or alone as an intensifier. Some of the skunk-smell remover is used in the process. It neutralizes the chemicals in the skunk secretion that smell bad.

As a chemist, Sparhawk makes a business of talking to animals through scents. Animals, he explains, talk with their noses. Smells tell a story to them. By duplicating certain smells, man can command animals to stay away, or can invite them into traps.

Only Rats Can Smell It

Rats, for example, are afraid of skunks. So Sparhawk produced a chemical with a slight skunk odor, strong enough to be smelled by a rat but not detected by the human nose. This is used to scare rats away from barns or to frighten them away from containers of food. The chemical is applied to the food containers.

Muskrat trappers in Canada were having trouble with beavers, which built dams that flooded or dried up muskrat homes. But beavers are afraid of otters. So Sparhawk produced an otter odor to keep the beavers away.

Orchardists were having trouble with deer that ate the bark off their trees. Deer ate the fresh young shoots and branches that held the buds. Sparhawk concocted an odor of wolf and fresh deer blood which then was put on the trees. The deer shied away thereafter.

During the war, Sparhawk developed a chemical to keep German dogs from trailing paratroopers. Again it was a combination. The odor was one that would attract dogs. But in it too was an odorless chemical that would paralyze any dog's sense of smell.

A strong extract of deer gland can be used to train fox hounds not to go after deer, Sparhawk added. Each morning the extract is put on the dog's nose. It's so strong that it's sickening. After 10 days, the foxhound is supposed never to want to trail a deer again.

Sparhawk currently is experimenting with smells to help fishermen. The odors of worms, snails, crayfish, or other bait can be duplicated and placed upon lures, he says, and one smell can be substituted for another if the fish doesn't go for the first one. Sharks and catfish, he believes, have a better sense of smell or taste than others.

Car Hits Boulder Topples Into Ditch

A car owned by Kenneth Reynolds, RR 3 Havelock, was towed into Peterborough Monday afternoon, and is almost a total wreck. Reynolds was driving west on Highway 7 Saturday night, and when about a quarter of a mile west of Marmora was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. As he pulled to the right shoulder the car struck a huge boulder and flipped upside down in the ditch. The top was stove in, the door buckled and the glass in the windshield and windows was smashed. Reynolds was not injured. Provincial Constable Archie Grayling investigated and turned the case over to Provincial Police in Dist-9, Belleville.

Continue Fight Against Confederation

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 11 — (CP).—Newfoundland Nationalists are continuing the battle against Confederation despite last month's referendum which favored union with Canada.

In cables to the British and Canadian governments, the Responsible Government League on Tuesday declared its intention to "fight with every legitimate means" every move toward union.

The cables were almost coincident with an announcement the Canadian Government considers Confederation between the Dominion and the old colony would not be "practicable" until at least March 31, 1949.

Newfoundland's tariff regulations will fall when the old colony joins Canada and merchants would stand to lose if caught with large supplies of tariff-paid goods at that time.

Stifle Opinion

The league's messages to Prime Minister King and Philip Noel-Baker, Secretary of State for commonwealth relations, accused the British, Canadian and commission governments of "trying to stifle any expression of opinion from the responsible government movement."

This forced the league to "the conclusion that the three governments concerned are proceeding with a pre-arranged plan to force this country into Confederation."

Some observers here expressed the belief that the messages are the work of a hard core of anti-confederates, and not of the whole league.

Coldwell Says People Fed Up

EDMONTON, Aug. 11 — (CP). — M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. leader, said Tuesday night a C.C.F. victory in the Aug. 17 Alberta provincial election would be a "clear indication" the people are "fed up" with the Federal Liberal government as well as the provincial Social Credit administration.

Mr. Coldwell, the only national political party leader participating in the campaign, joined Alberta C.C.F. leader Elmer Roper in addressing a public meeting attended by about 1,200 persons, the largest gathering at Edmonton in the campaign to date.

The National C.C.F. leader charged "the big shots" have a "stranglehold" on Alberta and that Standard Oil of New Jersey and the Texas company, through their Canadian subsidiaries, have "blanketed" the country with oil leases.

Mr. Coldwell contended Alberta's Social Credit government "has all the earmarks of totalitarian Fascism."

New Ontario Wheat Outproduces Dawsons

GUELPH, Aug. 11.—(CP).—A new type of wheat is outproducing the famed Dawson's Golden Chaff in Ontario.

No. 595, still un-named, developed at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y., and introduced into this province in 1946, has averaged two more bushels to the acre than Dawson's in a five-year test.

W. H. Waddell, wheat specialist here, reported Tuesday specific experiments showed Cornell 595 yielded 36.9 bushels to the acre as compared with a Dawson count of 29.4.

Revolutionary Change

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 11 — (CP). — A Canadian preview of what has been termed the most revolutionary change in music recordings since disks replaced phonograph cylinders was given here Tuesday. The long-playing microgroove record with a two-side playing time of up to 45 minutes, a United States development, was demonstrated for Canadian manufacturers, engineers and newspaper men.

Denies Resignation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 — (AP). — President Truman denied Tuesday that States Secretary Marshall had threatened to resign because of a difference of opinion over the United States policy toward Israel. The New York Star had published a story that the President and Marshall were split over United States policy and that Marshall threatened to quit.

Canada Short 7,200 Teachers Find Immigration Will Aggravate Situation

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Aug. 11—(CP). — Education from the international point of view will occupy delegates at today's session of the Canadian Teachers' Federation conference. Dr. Willard Givens, executive secretary of the United States National Education Association, and L. B. (Mike) Pearson, Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, will address the early meetings.

In his report Tuesday, George Croskery of Ottawa, CTF secretary-treasurer, noted the Federation has played "a prominent part" in the operations of the Canadian council for reconstruction through UNESCO, and the Canadian appeal for children.

He said the allocation of funds, purchasing and distribution of school supplies, food and clothing, will necessitate continued C.T.F. participation for some time.

"Throughout the year we have taken advantage of every opportunity to reiterate our stand that the government should set up a Canadian Commission for U.N.E.S.C.O. and that the Federation should have equal representation with any other national body, Mr. Croskery said in his report.

Need 7,200 Teachers

During discussions on recruitment, training and certification of teachers in Canada, Mr. Croskery estimated the current teacher shortage in the Dominion stood at around 7,200."

Any consideration of this teacher shortage has to take into account the movement of immigrants to this country," George Croskery of Ottawa, CTF secretary-treasurer, told the meeting. "It has been estimated that 15,000 more teachers will be needed in the next five years."

As far as the shortage of teachers in Ontario was concerned C. F. Washington of Walkerton, Ont., reported that the gap was gradually being filled up, "but not by qualified teachers by any means."

From Saskatchewan, Gilbert Eamer of Saskatoon reported that the number of schools or classrooms without teachers next season had been estimated at 200.

Offer Scholarships

From Alberta, Dr. H. E. Smith of the faculty of education, University of Alberta, Edmonton, said that scholarships worth $200 each were being offered as encouragement for more persons to enter the teaching profession.

Dr. Bernice MacNaughton of Moncton, N.B., said that in her province training had been extended to two years at least for a first-class teacher's license.

"We hope in a short time that our teachers in New Brunswick will be compelled to take a four-year for every teacher holding an

From Quebec, Michael Collins of Montreal said that the teachers were asking for an extra $200 a year fo revery teacher holding an academic degree.

Tom Parker of Halifax reported that about 13 per cent of the teachers in that province were university-trained. On the other hand, he said that one out of every five or six held a temporary license.

A report issued to delegates by the CTF disclosed that across Canada the number of teachers with temporary certificates in 1948-49 had been estimated at 3,715, a decrease of more than 1,000 from last year's figure.

The report also said that the number of schools or classrooms which would be without teachers when school opened this fall had been estimated at 820, an increase of 62 from the estimated figure a year ago.

Cutting Achieves Barrel Lines

PARIS, Aug. 11 — (AP). — Madame Carpentier is featuring the barrel line silhouete and exaggeratedly high directoire collars this fall.

Her length for dresses is about 10 inches from the ground, dipping to eight inches for topcoat.

Although her collars are ultra-high, they incline toward floppiness because they are not stiffened.

Skirts often assume the dimensions of a full-sized beer barrel. She achieves the barrel line by crafty cutting, not by stiffening.

Sometimes the barrel silhouette is achieved by horizontal tucks, starting at a point halfway down the side seam of the skirt and widening to a depth of three or four inches at the centre front.

More often the top and bottim of the skirt are cut in two pieces, with the widest part of he barrel formed by a curved seam where the join.

Post Office Jobs Open To Women

LONDON, Aug. 11 (CP).—A post no woman is allowed to fill, at least for the next five years, is that of court postmaster responsible for handling all the Royal Family's mail.

Talks about what posts shall be open to women have been going on between the Union of Post Office Workers and government officials.

Women have had a victory on the medical side— a woman can now become chief medical officer to the post office. Controllers' positions and a number of other important ranks in the London postal service are also open to them.

Pratt-Atkinson Wedding Double Ring Ceremony

DARTFORD, Aug. 11.—(ENS). —A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Atkinson Saturday afternoon when their eldest daughter, Dorothy Mable was united in marriage to Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pratt, of Castleton. A double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. H. G. Lester of Warkworth, in a setting of summer flowers and evergreen. Wedding music was played by Miss Clarice Atkinson, cousin of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by hde father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin, with fingertip veil of English embroidered net, caught to a halo of orange blossoms and she carried red roses. Miss Mona Mason of Sudbury, was bridesmaid, wearing orchid taffeta with matching veil. Miss Betty Atkinson, sister of the bride, was flower girl, dressed in pink taffet. Each carried an old-fashioned nosegay.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Alvin Pratt, of Castleton. Mr. Irvin Atkinson, brother of the bride, sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride's mother received afterward, wearing a grey crepe dress and black accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother wearing navy blue with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Assisting at the reception were Misses Ruth Pratt and Carolyn Atkinson, Mrs. Earl Nelson and Mrs. George Broadworth.

The couple left on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a loganberry gabardine suit and black accessories. They will live at Iroquois Falls.

Bonarlaw Native Married At Greenwood

BONARLAW, Aug. 11 (ENS)— Greenwood United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on July 28 when Mildred Llewella, only daughter of Wm. A. and Mrs. Brown became the bride of Glynn Harry, elder son of George S. and Mrs. Eastwood of Whitby and formerly Bonarlaw.

Rev. A. C. Luffman performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated in shades of mauve and white. The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. L. Pegg, aunt of the bride. Fred N. Brown, brother of the bride sang "The Lord's Prayer", at the beginning of the ceremony and "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in a pale ivory embossed satin gown, made with floor-length skirt, fitted pointed bodice and sweetheart neckline. With it she wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls. Her fingertip veil in halo style was caught with orange blossoms at the sides. She carried an old fashioned nosegay with crimson rose centre and white streamers caught it with crimson rose buds.

Her attendants were: maid-of-honor, Miss Doreen Pegg, cousin of the bride; bridesmaids, Miss Eileen Saddler, Helen and Ruth Eastwood, sisters of the groom and Ruth Anne Eastwood, niece of the groom as flower girl. The attendants were charming in dresses made on the same lines as the bride of flowered organza; Miss Pegg and Miss Helen Eastwood in apricot and Miss Sadler and Miss Ruth Eastwood in pale green. They wore flower head dresses and carried old fashioned nosegays.

John Eastwood was his brother's groomsman.

The reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother wore pale blue jersey with white accessories and pink corsage. The groom's mother was in grey-flowered crepe, with grey accessories and rose corsage.

Mrs. Berta Wilson, aunt of the bride, poured tea from a table centred with the wedding cake which was topped with a small vase given to the bride's grandmother when a small child and used on the bride's mother's wedding cake.

Guests from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown and Audrey from Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McComb and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Baker from Bonarlaw.

After the reception the happy couple left by car for Northern Ontario and west. For travelling the bride chose a blue-grey tailored suit with pink blouse and white accessories. They will live at Greenwood.

COUNTESS ALEXANDRA IVOVNA TOLSTOY, daughter of the late Russian novelist, Leo Tolstoy, and director of the White Russian Tolstoy foundation at Valley Cottage, near Nyack, NY, who claims that Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, Russian dancer, was just plain scared to return to Russia and appealed to her for sanctuary at the Foundation farm. Jacob M. Lomakin, Soviet consul-general in New York, says Mrs. Kosenkina was kidnapped and spirited away to Valley cottage on the eve of her sailing for Russia. She allegedly was "forcibly rescued" by Lomakin and two aides.

Hints on better home canning

1 Do be careful

DO be careful in your choice of cooking kettles. Enamel, aluminum and glass are best. Avoid iron; it causes discolouration. Copper and brass are not advisable either. It's best to work with wooden spoons for stirring.

2 Don't be casual

DON'T be casual about containers. Examine tops of jars and lids to be sure there are no nicks, cracks, and sharp edges. For open-kettle method all equipment must be scrupulously washed, then sterilized.

3 Do allow

DO allow for expansion of contents when filling jars. Pickled products need head room. Be sure there is a complete covering of liquid on top before sealing. Keep rim of jars clean. A tiny seed can make an imperfect seal.

4 Don't gamble on Vinegar

DON'T gamble on vinegar. Vinegar that is too weak may cause your pickles to soften, darken, lose flavour or spoil. Vinegar that is just right, always uniform in strength, sparkling clarity and flavour—in other words, Heinz White Vinegar, specially intended for pickling purposes—is your best assurance of good luck. It is the same vinegar used by Heinz in the famous 57 Varieties. This year your grocer has an excellent supply in both the quart bottles and economical gallon jugs.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Chronic Grouches Reveal Jaundiced Views On Life

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I room with a girl who is a good friend of mine, but I believe she is the most disgruntled person I have evevr met. She has no enthusiasm for anything. She doesn't like movies, books, music, or anything beautiful. She never pays anyone a compliment or admires anything. She is highly critical of everything and everybody. What do you think of this kind of a woman?

Dorothy Dix

A FRIEND

ANSWER: Well, personally, I don't think a woman such as you describe is worth bothering about, and if I were you I think I would let her go her own cold, hard way and look around for a more human companion to share my room.

Your friend is either neurotic, or else she is a poser. I have known people who adopted that kind of attitude towards life because they thought that it showed that they were superior to the general run of men and women who were easily pleased by such a simple thing as a towering range or a gorgeous sunset. They sneered at everything that other people admired and they did this because they thought it smart.

Lack Appreciation

I think you will find that this is the secret of your friend's conduct. She wants to be thought clever, cynical, sophisticated and different. But for anyone not to have enthusiasms, not to be interested in things, never to find any good in anything is not a sign of intelligence, it is a proof of their stupidity, because it shows that they are not capable of appreciation and that they have not the brains to understand.

When a woman is never willing to pay a compliment, it is because she is eaten up with envy, and because her soul is little and and sordid and narrow and incapable of a generous emotion.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Should I marry a boy of whom I know nothing except that he is easy-going and good-looking? I do not love him, but under no circumstances do I want to be an old maid. What do you think about about this?

ELIZABETH H.

ANSWER: I think it is sheer insanity to marry a man of whom you know nothing. Why, you wouldn't buy a dog without knowing its pedigree, yet you will think of taking a man for your husband and the father of your children without knowing whether he comes from a respectable family or not and whether there is tainted blood in his veins.

As for marrying to keep from being an old maid, that is the silliest excuse that was ever given. If you think there is any discredit in being an old maid, you are simply fifty years behind the times in your point of view. Women have left all of that archaic nonsense behind them. They marry, or stay single, just as they see fit, and there is no more dishonor in being an old maid than there is in being an old bachelor.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a 13-year-old girl, unloved and unwanted by my mother and father. I am thinking of running away from home, but the question is where shall I go?

UNHAPPY

ANSWER: Stick to your home, whatever it is, until you are grown and wise enough to take care of yourself. Stick to it until you have learned some trade by which you can support yourself. For a girl to run away from even the worst home is like jumping from the frying pan into the fire.

But you are no doubt mistaken in thinking that your father and mother do not love you and want you. That is a neurotic fancy common to adolescent girls. Doubtless you misjudge everything they do. But if you think they don't love you, why don't you try to win their affection by being loving and dutiful to them? (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 12

It is probable that some tenacious obstacle, postponement, disappointment or congestion may hold up desirable and cleverly planned projects, having regrettable reaction on the reputation and financial standing, as well as conspiring to loss of funds invested, or of capital counted upon for promotion and security. Under this hold-up of active operations, it might be well to revamp and readjust on firmer and more responsible collaboration, where dependability and future security may be counted upon.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find congestions, delays, obstructions or lack of solid support from those pledged to share responsibility of collaboration. Future advancement calls for reestablishing and reorganizing on more dependable and enduring aid in launching objectives of more than passing significance. Dogged determination, faith and sound tactics could work out with surprising success and gratifying rewards.

A child born on this day should be trained and encouraged to carry on against obstacle, limitation and impediment. Faith and fortitude could win splendid rewards for persistent effort, and sound character.

Policewomen Do Good Job In Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 11—(CP)—At home in low-cut evening dress or on uniformed duty, Britain's 1,000 women police are playing an increasing part in law enforcement.

Their job may be mingling with criminals in starched shirts, acting as "bait" to capture men who molest women and children or performing almost any of the routine tasks carried out by male officers.

Since the war, their work has developed greatly. In the words of His Majesty's Inspector's Report for 1947, this section now is established as an essential part of the police service. England and Wales have 938 regular women police on duty, Scotland about 100.

Women police on regular service, as distinct from women's auxiliary police corps, came into being during the First World War. After 1919 they gradually came to be employed by more local authorities but by 1939 they totalled only 246 in England and Wales and 36 in Scotland.

The wartime work of women police received special commendation from the government in the Commons in 1944 and 1945 a women's staff officer was appointed "to assist His Majesty's Inspectors of Constabularly in dealing with matter relating to policewomen and women police auxiliaries."

Deal With Any Situation

Policewomen have the same powers as men constables and in the words of a police authority, any constable must in fact deal with any situation demanding action by the police which may confront him or her.

But men are considered more suitable for controlling traffic and crowds, quelling riots and for night patrols, and women for duties concerned with women and children.

There is a differential of about 12 per cent between the pay of men and women police constables and sergeants, with a wide differential in higher ranks. Allowances for expenses are the same for men and women.

The marriage ban imposed on women police was lifted in July, 1946. Candidates for service must be physically fit and pass a stiff medical examination. They must not be less than five feet four in height and between 22 and 35 years old. After appointment recruits usually attend a training school where men and women train together.

Urges Uniformity In Leather Color

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—(CP)—If a Canadian girl buys a blue handbag in Vancouver, a blue hat in Winnipeg and blue shoes in Montreal, what does she have? Probably a conglomeration of blue accessories that she will be unable to wear together.

But when a Swedish girl buys the same three items in different cities, she finds the colors match perfectly.

This is due largely to Mrs. Aill Pekonen Henshen, who is color co-ordinator for all the leather industries in Sweden.

Mrs. Henshen sailed into this gargantuan task just two years ago. That she has been successful at her job is demonstrated by the fact that color co-ordinating is going to be established through all the fashion industries in Sweden, following the example of the leather industry.

Former Fashion Writer

A fashion writer and foreign correspondent during the war, Mrs. Henshen has just finished a three-month tour of the United States with her architect husband. She is enthusiastic about color co-ordination in the United States and hopes to see it spread throughout the fashion world.

Of her work, Mrs. Henshen says: "I sit in Stockholm like a spider in the centre of a web that reaches out to Paris, London and all the fashion centres of Europe and extends now all over the United States. I travel a great deal, looking at clothes, finding out about color trends and seeing what the fashion industry has done in other countries that we haven't yet tried in Swedn."

For the forthcoming season, she predicts the favorite colors will be sand beige, continental green and burgundy.

Mrs. Fanny Keller of Chicago, above, is shown in New York federal court where she was held on a smuggling charge.

Color Can Change Room Dimensions

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11—(CP)—Because she likes to be a "rugged individualist" the average homemaker tends to scorn such ideas as the scientific use of paint, Ruth Hamilton maintains.

Miss Hamilton is color consultant for a home decorating bureau.

While visiting Winnipeg to lecture on "color dynamics," Miss Hamilton said in an interview that any room can be made to seem warmer or cooler, or can have its apparent dimensions changed, by the scientific application of paint color schemes.

"Depressing and clashing colors in the home can be deadly to emotional stability," Miss Hamilton believes, "and people will seek escape from depressing home surroundings, which may even lead to physical maladjustments if carried to extremes."

Sinatra Thinks Swooning Fans Disappearing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11 (AP)—Is the frenzied, swooning bobby-soxer disappearing from the scene? Frank Sinatra thinks maybe so. The No. 1 hero of the frantic teen-age girls who have been so much in evidence during the war and post-war years says so. If anyone could see a trend in their behavior, it is he.

"Of course, I haven't been out making theatre appearances for a couple of years; I had five years of it and I'm getting too old for that grind," he remarked. "But from what I can determine, there is a definite trend among the bobby-soxers.

"They're growing up. Their outlook is more mature. They still have admiration for certain people in show business, but their admiration takes a more constructive form. They do it by means of mail and fan clubs."

Since knocking Hollywood is a national pastime, this department would like to do a switch and toss a few posies toward those who have added to this town's worth...Gene Autry and Roy Rogers for their loyalty to their fans...Doug Fairbanks, Jr., for his statesmanship and work for the U.N....Abbott and Costello for giving the Eastside L.A. kids a helping hand with their youth foundation...the Robert Youngs, Harold Lloyds, James Cagneys, Robert Montgomerys for proving marriages can last in Hollywood ...Eddie Albert for giving his time and money to making education films....

Remember When . . .

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Argonauts, picture team of the Canadian gridiron, became a war casualty seven years ago today, withdrawing from the Eastern Rugby Football Union for the duration of the war. The withdrawal left the famous scullers without a senior grid team for the first time in 23 years.

Canada Gets First-Place Holder But Time To Tell If Permanent

LONDON, Aug. 11.— (CP). — Canada today had its first holder of an Olympic first place since the 1948 games began unveiling champions nearly two weeks ago, but whether the position would be permanent was another matter.

It took disqualification of the Swedish entry to put Paul McLaughlin of Toronto out in front in the Firefly-class yachting event at Torquay, Devonshire.

With two places to go, McLaughlin has 3,957 points, as against Sweden's 3,944. Holland has 3,329; United States, 3,269; Uruguay, 3,069; Britain, 2,876.

A British protest brought about Sweden's disqualification. The British yachtsmen contended that the Swede failed to keep out of the way when being overtaken.

McLaughlin's favorable position in the yachting shared the Olympic spotlight with the performance of a 29-year-old weight lifter from Verdun, Que.

Breaks Record

John Stuart so far is the only member of the Dominion's team to break an Olympic record — or come near it for that matter. Stuart, a 148-pound weight lifter, lifted 263¼ pounds in what is technically known among weight lifters as the press, to better the former Olympic record of 231¼ pounds.

Despite his record-breaking performance, Stuart had to be satisfied with fifth place in the lightweight division as he failed to equal the prowess of other contestants in the snatch and jerk lifts. I. Shams of Egypt, won the event.

Other Canadian contestants in the games did well, too.

Two Canadian boxers came through with impressive victories in their respective divisions and the Dominion's basketball team, although eliminated from championship competition, registered a decision in elimination play to determine 9th to 16th places.

In middleweight weightlifting, Eddie Gratton of Montreal wound up in fifth place while Joe Sklar of Toronto placed 10th. A Canadian squad was eliminated in the first round of team sabre fencing.

At Torquay, where the yachting events are being held, 14 protests were filed but most of them were for minor infractions of the rules. Canada was among the countries protesting and her protest was upheld.

A Narrow Miss

McLaughlin sailed his Firefly-class vessel into second place for the second time in the seven-race event and took over leadership of the class when the Swedish entry was disqualified. He narrowly missed taking first place, being passed just before the finish line by a United States entry handled by Ralph Evans, Jr.

The Swedish boat finished well back but lost all points when disqualified for not giving enough room.

All classes now have sailed five of the seven required races.

In the Star class, Bill Gooderham and Gerry Fairhead of Toronto crossed the line with a protest flag flying. The protest—that a Swedish entry failed to keep clear as the windward boat—was upheld and the Swedish vessel was disqualified. The protest did not affect Gooderham's 10th-place finish.

John Robertson and Dick Townsend of Hamilton, Swallow-class sailors, turned in their poorest performance to date, finishing 14th. They appeared unable to cope with the tricky winds.

In boxing, Eddie Haddad of Winnipeg advanced to the third round of lightweight competition by taking the nod over E. I. Gray of Ceylon. Armand Savoie of Montreal also reached the third round with a decision over S. C. Colon of Puerto Rico.

Canada defeated Belgium 45-40 in the semi-final of the consolation basketball tournament. In the championship, in which no games were played Tuesday, only the United States, Brazil, Mexico and France remain.

Peewee Lacrossers

Lions were too good for Buffalos in a peewee lacrosse game to win 11-0. D. Sutherland, Hunt and Leach shone for the winners, with Lagana best for the losers. The teams:

Lions—D. Sutherland, J. Sutherland, Hunt, Robins, Leach, Kane, Ketcheson, Morgan and Kearns.

Buffalos—Mills, Lagana, Blodgett, Best, McKimm,, Heffernan and Martin.

Petes and Tigers went to a 9-9 peewee tie, the Petes being short-handed most of the route. Bud McDougall and Gary Kearns were outstanding for the victors with seven points each. Neil Cournyea and Jerry Frizzelle topped Tigers. The teams:

Tigers—Burns, Cairns, Cournyea, Hickey, O'Loughlin, Giardino, Frizzelle, Phillips, Roberts, Barclay and Heffernan.

Petes — Pearl, McDougall, Kearns, Anthony, O'Connell, Trudeau and Ferguson.

JAMAICAN 1600-METRE RELAY runner V. J. Rhoden slips to his knees and hides his head in utter despondency when an accident cripples Jamaican star Arthur Wint in third leg of final, forcing Jamaica to forego high hopes of defeating the United States in the event.

Soccer Games Set By The Executive

President William Gracie of Peterborough and District Soccer Association called an emergency meeting on Tuesday evening to consider the league games that have to be played and the executive went on record that the following games must be played this week:

Tonight—Legion vs. O'Hallorans, kick-off at 6:30.

Thursday evening — CGE vs. Petes, kickoff at 6:30.

Saturday— O'Hallorans vs. CGE.

Lindsay was granted permission to cancel games owing to the holidays in Lindsay, but must abide by the schedule received.

League games must be played before any cup games are played.

Legion was granted permission to allow their players to attend the Canada Packers picnic on Saturday.

CGE was granted permission to play Toronto Irish when they visit Peterborough on their tour of the province. No definite date has been received.

The question of a team to represent Peterborough in the Ontario Cup was discussed, but was held in abeyance until more information is received.

Next meeting is on Monday next in the YMCA a 7:30.

Rochester Wings Trample Baltimore 8-5

By The Associated Press

The clutch hitting of Russ Derry is one of the reasons why Rochester Red Wings stand a good chance to finish in the first division in the International League for the first time since 1941.

Tuesday night, the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics outfielder clouted a three-run homer with two out in the ninth to provide the Wings with a 8-5 triumph over the hapless Baltimore Orioles.

Meanwhile, Montreal Royals whipped Jersey City 8-5 for their 12th straight victory.

Tied at 5-5 going into the seventh, the Royals scored three times to win. The rally was highlighted by a triple steal with Al Gionfriddo swiping home on the front end. Bud Blattner crashed a three run homer for the Giants.

The victory increased the Royals' lead to 13 games over the runner-up Newark Bears who were beaten 7-3 by Buffalo Bisons.

Scoring four times in the first three innings, Toronto Maple Leafs went on to beat Syracuse Chiefs 7-4. Jock Thompson, relieved in the eighth by Nick Strincevich, was awarded the triumph, his ninth.

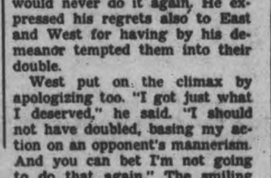
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

APOLOGY AFTER TEMPER

Practically everybody, except some most extraordinary mortal, has given a display of temper at the bridge table. Not only by means of his manner or conversation, but through an intentional act, in bidding, leading or playing, the purpose being to get even with his partner for something the latter had done. Whether such a deliberate move to punish his partner turned out costly as intended, or happened to prove surprisingly profitable, we hope the display of temper is always followed by due apology.

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable).

West	North	East	South
1♣	1♥	Pass	2♦
2♠	4♥	4♠	Dbl.
Pass	5♥	Pass	6 NT
Dbl.



South went away out of bounds, from the standpoint of approved human behavior, when he heard North's takeout of the business double of 4-Spades. Anybody could tell, from the manner in which he bid the 6-No Trumps, that he was trying to punish his partner for the takeout. It was because of that manner that West doubled, rather than because he had such a good lead to set up a club trick in addition to his one sure and two probable winning tricks in spades.

It happened that South was in an ironclad contract, however, no matter what West led. And, when the club K went to his A, he had no problem—to rake in seven tricks in hearts plus five in diamonds to have all thirteen, with an extra trick doubled.

South was duly contrite for his manner and what he did. He apologized all over the place for his exhibition and swore he would never do it again. He expressed his regrets also to East and West for having by his demeanor tempted them into their double.

West put on the climax by apologizing too. "I got just what I deserved," he said. "I should not have doubled, basing my action on an opponent's mannerism. And you can bet I'm not going to do that again." The smiling North and the innocent victim, East, could only stay silent through it all, except to nod acceptance of the apologies.

Tomorrow's Problem

What do you think is the best way for North and South to bid their way into 4-Spades?

Midget Lacrossers Win Over Orillia

Peterborough midget lacrosse All-Stars defeated Orillia All-Stars 9 to 5 in Orillia last night before a slim audience. Despite the score Orillia had a slight edge in play throughout the game, but sensational goal-tending by Nicholls baffled the Orillia marksmen.

The referee appointed to handle this game failed to appear and the substitute was lax in calling rough play. Very little was seen in the way of good passing, as charging, boarding and slashing was let go.

McIlmoyle was strong on defence for Petes, while Carravaggie played a heady game at centre. Robinson with four goals was the leading scorer. Joseph with two goals was the pick of the Orillia team.

Petes—Nicholls, Kimball, Fitzgerald, Carravaggie, Fontaine, Mullen, Foster, Batley, McIlmoyle, Fitzgerald, Robinson, O'Donnell, McConnachie, Buott.

Streamline Opera, Rose Proposal

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP). — Billy Rose wants to streamline the opera.

And if the financially-wobbly Metropolitan will let him try it, he will "personally guarantee it against deficit."

The columnist and showman made his offer as the Metropolitan Opera Association planned to meet this week with heads of the various Artists' and Show Workers' Unions.

The meeting is a last-minute effort to change the association's mind about cancelling the coming season of the Met.

The opera directors have promised to consider Rose's offer at "the first opportunity."

In a letter to George Sloan, the chairman of the board, Rose said:

"I would agree to present the standard operas and cast them with the finest artists available.

"In the belief that a bit of streamlining would find favor with lovers of good music, I would introduce modern lighting, staging, choreography and certain other elements of present-day stagecraft."

Seek Box Car Sunk In River

WINDSOR, Aug. 11—(CP)—A search was continuing today for a boxcar loaded with 40 tons of malt which plunged into the Detroit river Monday following a collision between a freight car carrier and an ore carrier.

United States army engineers who are making the search, under the direction of the lake survey department, said there was a possibility the car may have drifted across the boundary line to the Canadian side.

The Detroit river navigation channel was swept Monday to a depth of 25 feet and today sweeping operations will go to a depth of 35 feet.

The car was one of eight derailed aboard the Wabash Railway Ferry "Detroit" en route to Windsor, when it collided with the E. M. Saunders of the Midland Steamship Company. Both ships were damaged but were able to dock under their own power.

Kitchener To Buy Incinerator Truck

KITCHENER, Aug. 11—(CP)—Plans for establishment of a new civic incinerator advanced a step Monday night when council approved a motion to seek the purchase of a 26-acre tract. The land is in the north ward of the city.

The area was suggested by Dr. A. E. Berry, director of sanitary engineering, Ontario Department of Health.

He also gave a favorable report on the operation of a city dump on Shoemaker Avenue near a new housing project.

"Provided adequate precautions are taken there would appear to be no reason why this dump cannot be operated without detriment to the health of nearby residents," the doctor said.

Canadian Tourist Travel Reaches All-Time Peak

By The Canadian Press

From the Atlantic to the Pacific Canadians are getting to know each other better as tourist travel throughout the Dominion reaches an all-time peak.

The Dominion Travel Bureau reports that tourist trade appears to be better this year than in 1947 when an increased number of Canadians holidaying within their own borders. It is believed that Canadians who might have travelled to the United States for their annual outing are holidaying at home because of currency restrictions.

Americans are also attracted to Canada by the comparatively lower prices, the increased amount of goods they can bring home duty-free and their favorable currency exchange. Most border points indicate Americans from every State are entering Canada in ever increasing numbers since the July 4 week-end.

The Quebec Tourist Bureau says the number of American tourists entering the province are about 25 per cent more than last year, while New Brunswick sources say the figure is up about 20 per cent.

Decrease In B.C.

The only province where tourist traffic is reported lower than during 1947 is British Columbia where a 1.7 per cent decrease was noted up to June 31. The Prairie Provinces are well satisfied with a marked increase in inter-provincial and American visitors. Ontario and Quebec tourist officials are beaming and all major Maritime points except Moncton, N.B., report increases in travel.

Quebec sources say Ontario visitors have jumped in number about 40 per cent over 1947 and U.S. tourists 25 per cent.

Ontario Travel Bureau officials state the tourist business is well up over last year despite the fact traffic dropped slightly during earlier months because of reports of forest fire hazards.

Travel is up about 15 per cent in Alberta. In July, about 1,400 Americans registered at the Provincial Tourist Bureau with about 75 per cent bound for the Alaska Highway.

A drop of 1.7 per cent in tourist travel is reported in British Columbia but inter-Provincial travel is as heavy as usual.

Ball Game Disastrous Prisoner Badly Hurt

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 11—(CP)—A ball game in county jail grounds Monday night sent an inmate to hospital in serious condition and resulted in privileges being cancelled for 87 inmates.

Police said Al Deraspi, 32, Magdalen Islands, suffered head injuries when he was clubbed into unconsciousness by another prisoner whom they identified only as a man named Davis from nearby New Waterford, during a ball game.

Dedaspi was at bat and Davis was catching when the incident occurred. The bat slipped from the hands of Deraspi and narrowly missed striking Davis.

Police said Davis became angered and struck Deraspi over the head with the bat.

Need Patronage To Develop Eire's Culture

By MICHAEL O'MARA

DUBLIN, Aug. 11 — (CP) — Churches and schools do not give Eire "a full cultural life,' Education Minister Mulcahy told a recent gathering at Clonmel. A third influence—which he called "patronage"—is needed.

This was the system in vogue in the Roman Catholic community of Holland, a country which he once visited and by which he had been deeply impressed.

There "the Church is the centre of religious observance, the school is where children are brought up, and the patronage is a place where the adolescent part of the population is brought together into general social work."

It was also the parochial centre for recreation requiring adult co-operation.

"I see vocational committees, secondary schools and primary schools and teachers all working together to take the flower of culture they are developing in the schools out into the open and rooting it in the home life of the people and thus giving it greater meaning and therefore greater strength."

Peat-Cutters Emigrating

The Irish Association of Turf Producers and Distributors wants the Government to order consumers to use at least as much peat as coal in furnaces and fireplaces.

William Pope of Cork, a prominent turf authority, told a meeting of the association at Killorglin, County Kerry, that "emigration is rampant" in the peat-producing areas of Eire. He blamed the government's removal of restrictions on the use of coal.

State Radio Problem

Radio Eireann is short of talent.

Deputy Director Charles Kelly made the admission over his own network, and said low-scale broadcasting fees—often blamed by critics of the National Radio Corporation—weren't the real cause of dearth.

Eire was a country with a small population and the tosk of hunting talent was not easy, but:

"The proportion of talent in Ireland is at least as high as in any other country."

Just On a Visit

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 11—(CP)—Robert Watt, 71, for whom police in the district have been searching, since last Friday, returned home late Monday, visiting friends in the Embro district. Mr. Watt had been unaware of the search and said he forgot to tell his brother, Floyd, with whom he has been living, that he would be away over the week-end.

Find African Natives Catching On Fast

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 — (CP) — Africa has fallen heir to the "pains of growing up to become a civilized country," Dr. James L. Clark of the American Museum of Natural History said Tuesday.

Dr. Clark, back from a 8,500-mile trek through Africa said the "growing sophistication of the African native" surprised him almost as much as the expedition's catch of stalk-eyed flies and giant termites.

The fly, not much larger than a house fly has eyes protruding a quarter of an inch beyond its head and attached to it by a thin stalk.

A cook won't work unless he has an assistant and he won't do anything but cook, Dr. Clark said. A gun-bearer is paid $40 a month, plus food, blankets and tent.

"And try to get a gun-bearer to skin!" Why the natives have become as independent as can be," Dr. Clark concluded.

The natives picked up these inflationary customs because "a boom in hunting has brought sportsmen who pay high wages and give lavish tips," he said.

Air Hostess Saves 11 In Plane Fire

Aircraft Hits Hummock In NS Landing; Bursts Into Flames

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 12 (CP)—An attractive airline stewardess, Miss Rita Meyer, who "didn't have time to get nervous," was proclaimed a heroine today after leading 11 passengers of a flaming Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star aircraft to safety. Damage is estimated at $800,000.

The five other crew members also escaped uninjured when the big trans-ocean plane burned after touching down at the nearby reserve airport at 3.45 a.m. EDT.

The plane, on a regular passenger flight from Montreal to Prestwick, Scotland, struck a hummock of earth at the end of the runway as it landed for an intermediate stop.

Reserve airport, between Sydney and Glace Bay, is a regular stop on the trans-ocean route and the big plane came in for a normal landing.

Touched Hummock

The landing gear touched the unmarked hummock and this caused the accident. Officials emphasized the plane had not crash-landed, had not been forced down but merely met with the accident as it touched down normally. The plane remained right side up even after it sheared off the hummock and caught fire.

Miss Meyer, a native of Kitchener, led the 11 passengers one by one to the emergency exit as flames licked at the opposite side of the aircraft.

Purser-steward Jack Triggs of Montreal stood on the ground below and caught the passengers as they leaped 15 feet to the ground. The collapsible ladder used to descend from the exit would not work.

Miss Meyer took her laurels calmly.

"Everything happened so fast we didn't have a chance to get nervous," she said.

Everything Calm

"The women shrieked but they soon calmed down and the evacuation was carried out in an orderly manner."

Another woman—an eyewitness to the accident—didn't take things so easily.

Claims Aussie Bank Ruling Holds In Canada

TORONTO, Aug. 12— (CP). — Robert Rae, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, said in a statement to-day he believed the principle which moved the Australian High Court yesterday to rule unconstitutional the Australian Labor Government's Bill to nationalize banks also would apply in Canada.

Text of the statement:

While the constitutional relationship in regard to banking in Australia is not on all fours with Canada, no doubt the essential principle on which the judgment was based is common to both countries. This is that government ownership of commercial banking jeopardizes its present impartiality and potentially interferes with freedom of commerce.

That principle applies equally to Canada. Once bank credit accommodation is made subject to steering or direction based on political considerations of a party in power, or even opened to that possibility, freedom of commerce or of any kind of trade is beyond all effective guarantee. Availability of bank credit does not now depend even to the slightest degree on political creed or social doctrine. It never should.

In Australia, too, there was a manifest fear of political intrusions into the money affairs of the private individual. This fear became so potent that the Socialist Government actually sought to allay it by writing a provision into the proposed legislation. My information is that it quite signally failed to reassure the hard-headed depositors and borrowers of Australia.

Receives One-Year Term For Abducting Small Baby

HAMILTON, Aug. 12—(CP).—Eleanor Fraser, alias Linda Norman, of Toronto, today received a one-year term for the abduction Aug. 1 of a Hamilton baby. However, the sentence was a mere formality. Magistrate H. A. Burbidge ruled that it be concurrent with an unexpired term of 19 months she must serve at Mercer Reformatory, Toronto, where she violated her parole during a theft sentence.

The attractive 21-year-old girl wore a red "shorty" coat when she appeared today. She pleaded guilty Wednesday to the charge of abducting 11-month-old Anthony Griffin, son of Emerson Griffin, from his home where she worked as a domestic.

Her counsel, John J. Sullivan, said at the outset of the hearing that he had not been engaged to represent the girl until after her guilty plea. He requested she be allowed to withdraw it and "expand her story" in a trial.

"I don't see how I could do that, after the conclusive document filed yesterday,' said the magistrtae, referring to a lengthy statement Miss Fraser give the police and read in court.

Three Courses Possible

The magistrate said three courses were open to him. He could send her to penitentiary for seven years; to reformatory for two years; or to jail for one year. When he was advised of the unexpired term she had to serve at Mercer he imposed the jail term, concurrent with the 19 months at Mercer.

"But I don't want the situation to arise that somebody else will decide to run off with another's child and expect the court to take a lenient view of it. In the United Staes, in some states at least, it now is a capital offence."

Pair On Duck Touring World

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP).—A 17-foot amphibious "duck" with two persons aboard is reported chugging along far out on the Atlantic on the first lap of a planned trip around the world.

The passengers, an Australian major and his American wife, expect to make the globe-circling journey by both land and sea in their small wartime craft.

News of the hazardous voyage came yesterday from Ware Lynch, an associate of the Australian, who said he had received a message from the United States navy that a destroyer had sighted the duck and its two occupants 128 miles southeast of New York Monday.

He said the Australian, Maj. Benjamin F. Carlin, 35, and his wife, the former Elinore Arone, 29, of Boston, began their voyage from here Saturday.

"He has a radio," Lynch said, 'but he's never been able to contact us. The navy report is the last we've heard. They're in the hands of the Gods now."

The navy said the two travellers hailed a destroyer and asked that "Lynch" at a New York city telephone number be notified that "we're okay."

Flames Bar Rescuers From Doors

Truck Without Lights Makes U-Turn; Struck By 2nd Machine

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—Intense heat drove back would-be rescuers today as four men died in the flaming wreckage of a truck after a collision on the Queen Elizabeth Way eight miles west of Toronto.

All four came from Toronto: John Murrison, 22, the driver; his brother, Ronald, 18; Gerald Weir, 23; Reg Smith, 21.

The four were trapped in the cab of the truck after it collided with a heavy transport-trailer driven by Ken Heslop of Hamilton. The 26-year-old Heslop had his hand on the door of his cab and when it swung open from the impact, he leaped to safety.

Heslop's truck, owned by the Sinclair Cut Stone Company of Hamilton, was en route to Kingston with a 10-ton load of cut stone.

Constable Ed Baker of the Ontario Provincial Police reached the scene almost immediately after the smashup—at 1:55 a.m.

He said he was helpless to reach the trapped men and his eyebrows were burned off in his efforts to get close enough to help. He used a fire extinguisher from his car in a fruitless effort to quench the blaze. Nearest he got to the burning cab was 10 feet away.

Other truck drivers and motorists, who stopped at the scene, also were unable to help.

Couldn't Get Out

The volunteer fire department from the nearby village of Alderwood reached the spot soon after the accident and it was about 5 a.m. before they finally put out the fire.

Bodies of the four men were charred beyond recognition.

One passing truck driver said that shortly after the crash, the driver could be seen trying to get out of the cab.

John Murrison owned the truck. He had bought it for his brother to start a salvage business.

Police said they believed waste-paper and other salvage loaded on the truck contributed to the intensity of the fire.

Joe McKay, 19-year-old friend of the four dead men, missed out on the death-ride because he chose to stop for a cup of coffee when they set out along the highway.

Makes U-Turn

Police said the light Murrison truck, driving without lights, made a U-turn on the four-lane highway at a point where there is no boulevard separating east and westbound traffic lanes. It was

Soviet Consul Refuses To Free Teacher

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—A New York State Supreme Court Justice reserved decision on a writ of habeass corpu brought to free a Russian school teacher secluded in the Russian consulate here.

The United States state department promptly telegraphed Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York asking that any further action against the consul-general be held up for the time being.

Russia's move and the department's action was announced by a state department spokesman.

Soviet Consul General Yakov M. Lmoakin previously defied a New York State Supreme Court writ ordering him to produce the school teacher wanted for questioning in the United States Communis. spy investigation.

The Consul General had been ordered to bring the woman, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, into court at 10:30 a.m. EDT.

Present in the courtroom was Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, president of the Tolstoy Foundation, who was expected to testify in connection with the writ.

Mrs. Kosenkina has been secluded in the Russian consulate here since last week when Lomakin announced he had "rescued" her from a White Russian retreat at Valley Cottage, N.Y.

The retreat is operated by Countess Tolstoy. The Countess termed Lomakin's story a "lot of baloney" and said Mrs. Kosenkina fled to Valley Cottage because she was afraid of being shot.

Serves Extra Papers

Before Mrs. Kosenkina's schehuled court appearance, a man who identified himself as a representative of the United States immigration and naturalization service, visited the consulate briefly to serve additional papers.

He said, however, that the papers did not concern Mrs. Kosenkina or another Russian teacher, Mikail Ivanovitch Samarin, who also is expected to testify before the House of Representatives Unamerican Activities Committee. Samarin's whereabout reportedly is known only to the F.B.I. and federal officials.

Earlier, Lomakin brushed aside reporters' questionsh as to whether should bring Mrs. Kosenkina into court. He said he was "too busy" to answer any queries.

Polite Havana Robbers Take $562,000 In Cash In Canadian Bank Raid

Herd 18 People Into Rear Room Quietly Loot Vault At Their Leisure; Watch All Planes And Ships For Bandits

HAVANA, Aug. 12—(AP).—Cuban police today sought a polite band of robbers who yesterday strolled into the Havana branch of the Royal Bank of Canada and sauntered out again with the equivalent of $562,000 in cash. All airports, ships and trains are being watched for the smooth-working bandits who herded 18 persons into a rear room just after the 3 p.m. closing time, then looted the bank's vault and cashier's cage without being molested.

The robbery was executed by eight or 10 men led by one dressed in a policeman's uniform. Although they were armed with pistols and machine-guns not a shot was fired.

As the group entered the midtown bank, the uniformed leader politely told the door guard in Spanish:

"These gentlemen are coming in with me — and so are you. Kindly take a place right behind me, and don't try to draw your gun or the gentleman behind me will shoot you full of holes."

They then ordered branch manager Esteban Juncadella, 12 other employees, a bank guard and three customers into the rear room.

No Funny Business

Several of the gang escorted the manager into the vault. One warned him:

"Don't be nervous, but don't try any funny business either or we'll kill you."

Juncadella said he did not recognize any of the bandits.

The manager said a preliminary check indicated the thieves took a total of $562,000 in United States dollars and Cuban pesos. The peso has the same value as the dollar. All of it was in bills of $100, $500 and $1,000 denomination, both Cuban and American.

A bank spokesman said the entire loss was covered by insurance. Police said the bank had no alarm system.

Sept. 17, 1930, the Lincoln, Nebraska, National Bank and Trust Company was robbed of $2,268,700 in cash and negotiate securities. C. A. Sorenson, Nebraska Attorney-General at that time, said he still believes that was the biggest bank robbery in history.

Butter Stocks Found Lower Than Expected

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 — (CP)—Booming butter sales and low stocks applied new pressure today on a federal government unable to get the margarine issue off its doorstep.

Fresh statistics added fuel to the contention of the Dairy Council of Canada that something must be done to meet an acute butter shortage this winter, either by importation or rationing of butter or temporary sale of "a suitable substitute."

The council told the cabinet Tuesday that creamery butter stocks probably dropped 13,000,000 pounds between Aug. 1, 1947, and Aug. 1, 1948. It was 1,400,000 pounds too optimistic, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

Stocks on hand were 44,700,000 pounds compared with 59,100,000 a year before. However, they were up from 30,700,000 July 1. Production in the first seven months of 1948 was 164,183,000 compared with 168,446,000 in the same period of 1947, a drop of 2.5 per cent.

A Dairy Council official said July saw record butter sales of 28,200,000 pounds, compared with roughly 26,000,000 in July, 1947. This indicated the possibility that hoarding was starting.

Informed sources predicted sale of margarine would be legalized in Canada within 12 months and possibly this winter. However, the cabinet was unlikely to take any action until the Supreme Court ruled on the question of whether the federal ban against it is constitutionally legal.

Take No Chances With Gouzenko

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Canadian authorities are taking "no chances" in the protection of Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy cipher clerk who broke the spectacular espionage case in 1945.

An authoritative source said Wednesday night this was one reason by the Soviet-born clerk will "definitely" not be going to Washington to answer Russian spy questions.

The same reason, said the source, was behind a statement last week by Commissioner S. T. Wood of the RCMP that no interviews with Gouzenko will be granted with the Washington House of Representative committee on un-American activities.

The source reiterated that the government has received no formal request for such an interview.

3 Ambassadors Visit Kremlin

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—(AP). — British, United States and French ambassadors visited tre Kremlin today for another talk with Foreign Minister Molotov.

Walter B. Smith, United States ambassador, French ambassador Yves Chataigneau and the special British envoy, Frank Roberts, motored together from the American embassy to the Kremlin for the appointment with Molotov at 10 a.m. EDT.

It was the fourth time in two weeks the western representatives have called upon Molotov for talks aimed at ending Russian blockade of Berlin and a solution of other east-west differences in Europe.

Peace Encampment Opens In Ft. Erie

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 12.—(CP).—Delegations from Canada and the United States were settling down to today in three tent cities in preparation for tonight's opening ceremonies of the international veterans' peace movement.

The encampment will be declared open by James F. O'Neil of New York, national commander of the American Legion and E. S. Evans of Toronto, provincial president of the Canadian Legion. It closes Aug. 15. More than 10,000 veterans are expected to attend.

Veterans will be welcomed by Mayor J. Dowd of Buffalo and Mayor Louis Ziff of Fort Erie. Additional entries in the band's competition today brought to nearly 30 the number on file.

Arrest Donald Lloyd

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Donald Lloyd, 33, of Peterborough, was arrested here last night and charged with shopbreaking. Police said he broke into four boathouses and stole five outboard motors.

Canoes With Freak Keels Bewilder Olympic Officials

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, Aug. 12.—(CP).—Bob Gilbert of Montreal, manager-coach of Canada's Olympic paddling team, said today he will recommend the description "Canadian cane" be refused entries in future Olympics unless the canoes have a straight keel and incorporate no freak design.

Gilbert, on behalf of Canada, was associated with the United Kingdom, the United States and Finland in a vain protest against twisted keels and a construction that gives a fixed rudder effect.

This type of canoe has been entered by France, Sweden and Czechoslovakia. The fixed rudder is a projection at the stern and is not detachable.

The unusual construction makes the fish-tail steer-stroke by paddlers unnecessary, allowing them to concentrate on forward motion.

"The committee stood by its interpretation of rudder and said a boat with a twisted keel could be allowed," said Gibert.

"But we hope for the future Olympics there will be a rule that Canadian canoe types must have keels that run true before they are accepted.'

Gilbert said he would recommend to the Canadian Canoe Association that 'Canadian canoe" be defied as a craft built in the traditional Canadian design with only spash-boards followed as additional devices.

He thought the Canadian organization should "make a recommendation to the International Canoe Federation to make sure the name is not used to describe hybrids like we have seen here."

'A man using a Canadian canoe puts perhaps one-third effort of his stroke into steering. The art of paddling, we think, is not only speed but manoeuvring."

Sounds Out Canada On Railway To Alaska

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — (AP). Defence Secretary Forrestal was asked today to sound out the Canadian government on its attitude toward a proposal for a railroad connecting the United States and Alaska.

Senator Warren Magnuson (Dem. Wash.) wrote Forrestal that he hoped the secretary would discuss the project during his conference Aug. 15 in Ottawa with Defence Minister Claxton.

Magnuson said he had been informed that President Thuman recently indicated belief a railway is needed from Prince George, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Taxi Driver Slugged Robbed By Passenger

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—Richard Martin, 28-year-old taxi driver, was slugged over the head and robbed of $15 by an unidentified man. Martin was discovered besides his cab in a dazed condition by passers-by a few minutes after the assault. His injuries prevented him from giving an accurate account of what happened.

Police say he drove a fare to an address in North Toronto and was assaulted from behind when he stopped the taxi. Hospital officials say his condition is "fair."

Two Explosions Burn UN Station

TEL AVIV, Aug. 12 —(AP)—Two explosions today blasted and burned the Latrun pumping station half way between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, wrecking a United Nations plan to deliver water to Jewish Jerusalem by tomorrow.

The pumping station was taken over by U.N. observers yesterday. Technicians were scheduled to make minor repairs and start some operations today.

The station is one of several booster points to lift water through the pipeline from the coast over the Judean hills to Jerusalem. All the other stations are in working order and are held by the Jews.

The Latrun station was held by the Arabs but it was placed in noman's-land by an agreement between the Arab Legion and the U.N.

Col. Frank Begley, chief observer of the convoy and water route who left yesterday for Rhodes with Count Folke Bernadotte, the U.N. mediator, repeatedly has asked for guards at the pumping station to prevent sabotage.

U.N. observers reported yesterday that the Arabs had withdrawn at least 1,000 yards from the pumping station. The Arab Legion had promised not to interfere with its operation.

Steal $1,000 Goods From Parked Cars

ORILLIA, Aug. 12 — (CP). — More than $1,000 worth of articles were stolen from parked automobiles in Orillia and district yesterday by what police describe as a gang of well-organized thieves.

Tourists, many of them Americans, were victims of the looting. One American couple were forced to terminate their holidays because the thieves stole their complete wardrobe and suitcases.

Third Berlin Bureau Faces Split-Up Over Russ Control

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(AP).— A third bureau of the elected Berlin city government was threatened today with a split-up betwen Russian and non-Communis control.

The Communist head of the Labor Department refused to abive by a decision of the City Government to give the anti-Communist faction of the trade union federation rights to negotiate with employers. He insisted that onl the Communist faction, backed by the Russians, had such powers.

The city police and food administrations already have been split by Communist refusal to accept Government orders.

The anti-Communist press said "complete chaos" prevails in the administration office the Russians established to handle their proposed feeding of all blockaded Berlin.

The American military government said it is expanding radio teletype facilities to handle communications should the Russians cut off land lines from Berlin to the west.

United States military police forced the withdrawal today of a squad of Russian military police and Russian-controlled German policemen who had crossed into the American sector to search German houses.

American public safety officials said there was no resistance from the Russians.

The blockaded Berliners had appealed earlier to the western powers to make no compromise in Moscow that might give the Communists control of the city

In another incident, Russian-controlled German police, supported by Russian M.P.'s, crossed into the British and American sectors to arrest Germans in the streets. The forces withdrew when a squad of German police from the western sectors went to the border.

Yearly Meteo: Shower Likely Visible Tonight

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP).—The annual shower of perseid meteors is expected to be visible, beginning tonight, and for the next few nights.

Robert R. Coles of the Hayden planetarium says that as many as 50 "shooting stars" may be counted during a single hour, if cloud conditions are favorable.

Each summer, in the earth's cycle around the sun, it passes through the orbid of the perseid meteors, thousands of which are caught annually in the earth's gravitation and plunge earthward.

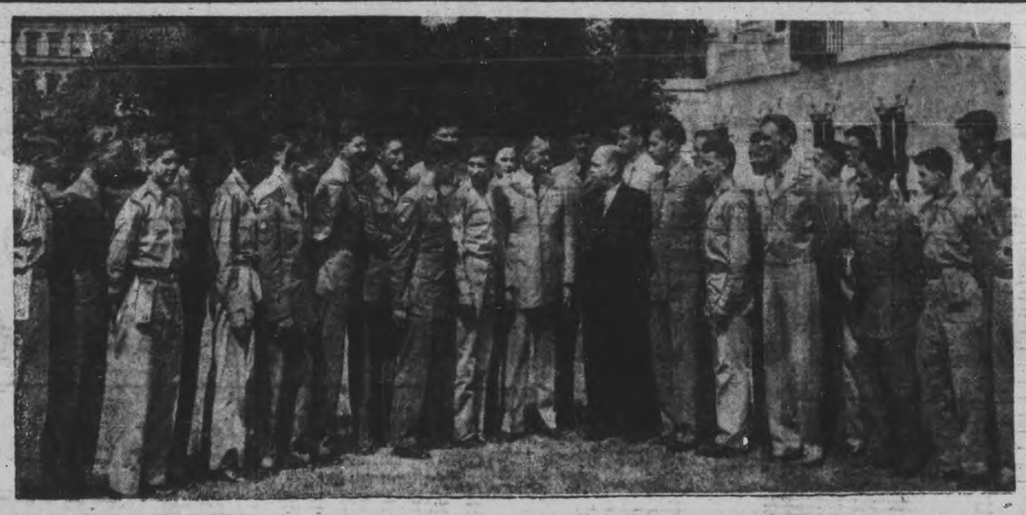
Plan Radar Network In N. Canada

Likely Cost 250 Million To Establish Stations; Still Study Details

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 —(CP)— Probably the most important development in the brief history of Arctic defence was reliably reported today to be under consideration by Canada and the United States—but only under consideration.

It is the potential construction of a network of radar stations across Alaska and Canada's northern wastes. A Washington newspaper, reporting the project, said its estimated cost was $250,000,000 — roughly equivalent to the entire Canadian defence budget this year — and informed sources here admitted the figure was roughly accurate.



High defence officials here said the subject was still very much in the tentative or explorative stage as one segment of any really comprehensive program to defend North America entirely. It had not come down to any close details, such as distribution of cost.

Defence experts, particularly airmen, have long considered such a network a virtual necessity in any program which proposed to throw a remotely complete defence around the metropolitan cities of the continent against aerial attack across the North Pole.

Real Front Line

It would be the true front line, the only system capable of spotting hostile aircraft in time to do much about them. It would tip off combat air strength behind it and tell them where and when to anticipate action. It would be an extension into the bleak and barren north of the system that saved Britain during the Second World War. Its most intimate corollary, of course, would be the fighter strength required to back it up. The R.C.A.F. plans to have its first two regular fighter squadrons set up within the next 12 months.

News of the radar development comes just four days before U.S. defence secretary James Forrestal is scheduled to visit Defence Minister Claxton. Defence officials have denied, however, that they will go very deeply into any particular subject.

Little Boy Run Over Calls To Driver

KINGSTON, Aug. 12 (CP). — A little boy run over by a neighbor's automobile told the motorist of the mishap, police said.

John David Andrews, 3½, was struck Wednesday by a car police said was driven by W. Frank Redden as it turned into a driveway. Redden told police that he did not know of the accident until the boy spoke to him.

"Mr. Redden, you ran over me," he heard the child say.

"Where?" asked the driver.

"Over my stomach," the boy replied.

The lad died a few minutes after admission to hospital.

Big Marihuana Haul Made Near Mexico

The marihuana, if rolled into cigarets, would bring an estimated $70,000 at eastern and Pacific coast points, customs men said. Rogers Burton, 42, San Francisco (negro) was charged with smuggling narcotics.

The New York Herald Tribune quoted Dickstein as saying if necessary he would order the sheriff to seize the teacher, who has been at the consulate since Saturday.

Dickstein was quoted as saying he understood Mrs. Kosenkina was seized for return to Russia "where she claims she will be killed."

Petitioners for the writ said they believed the teacher was being held prisoner at the consulate "through power, deceit and terror" to prevent her revealing conditions in her native Russia."

The Herald Tribune said that Justice Dickstein, when told of Lomakin's refusal to obey the writ, declared that diplomatic immunity granted to the consul general and his staff does not extend to Mrs. Kosenkina.

The unidentified woman, from nearby North Sydney, was to have boarded the plane for Scotland. She stood on the runway as the plane came in.

When the flames burst from the aircraft's right wing she collapsed. Doctors were called to revive her.

It was the first such accident on the TCA Trans-Atlantic service.

The $800,000 machine, of the same type as those ordered by British Overseas Airways Corporation and Canadian Pacific Airlines from Canadair Ltd., Montreal, was believed a total loss.

The pilot, Doug Holland of Montreal, declined comment but airport officials said it appeared that the plane's right wheel, as it came in for a landing, hit a mound of earth about 20 feet off the end of the runway.

Construction gangs, digging at the end of the runway had piled up several mounds of earth.

Splits Tank

Impact of the wheel hitting the earth split the gas tank and the gasoline spilled over the runway. Just as the plane touched down the right wing burst into flames.

The pilot brought the plane to a halt and the passengers and crew were evacuated through the emergency exit.

Department of transport officials arrived at the airport to open a probe.

Airline officials, headed by John G. Maxwell, General Traffic Manager at Montreal, were expected to fly here to open an investigation.

Members of the plane's crew besides Triggs, Holland and Miss Meyers were: Flying Officer Bob Penrose; navigating officer, Gil Evans and radio officer, Bob Wright, all of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Bosworth, Prestwick, Scotland; Miss Helen Cameron, Simcoe, Ont.; William Dennison, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Edmonds, Saskatoon; Murray Harding, Toronto; Miss Hanna B. Johnston, Toronto; David N. Thompson, Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. JP. Waterhouse, Guelph.

Students Watch UN In Action At Lake Success

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 14 —(CP)—Three Canadian students are taking close-up view of the United Nations by working this summer for the world agency.

The Dominion's representatives among 43 students from 32 countries are Suzanne Barriere of Montreal; Mrs. Christine E. Waller of Galt, Ont.; and Allyre Louis Sirois of Vonda, Sask.

Sirois, 24-year-old Canadian army veteran, says he feels the same comradeship with his fellow students from around the world as he felt for the agents of various countries with whom he worked in the French Underground.

Parachuted into France in 1944, he was engaged for six months in hush-hush activities directed by the British Intelligence Corps.

"I am impressed by the co-operation among the diverse nationalities represented on the United Nations secretariat," said Sirois, third-year law and arts student at the University of Saskatchewan.

Leads Study Group

He is doing research in the department of social affairs at U.N. headquarters and taking lectures from top officials on U.N. history and organization. Selected by the Canadian government from 50 applicants for the eight-week "internship" at U.N., he is chairman of the student study group on the Palestine problem.

Miss Barrieres, also a law student, works in U.N.'s legal department. She is studying the sections of the U.N. charter which relate to application for membership, a problem expected to receive wide discussion at the U.N. general assembly meeting this fall in Paris.

A bachelor, of law from University of Montreal, she is studying at Columbia University, New York, for her master of arts degree, in internal jusisprudence. She is considering applying for a position with Canada's department of external affairs.

Mrs. Waller, a post-graduate student of international affairs at Columbia University, has been a teacher in Japan and Britain.

"Now I am going back to school," he said. She is attached to the U.N. department of public information, preparing pamphlets and articles for specialized agencies of the world organization.

The students live at nearby Adelphi College. They receive no pay for their work at U.N. but are given a living allowance.

struck broadside by the heavy truck driven by Heslop and both toppled into the ditch.

Gasoline spilled over the vehicles and the highway and ignited. The road for a time was a sheet of flames.

Fire Chief Fred Mitchell of Alderwood said his men reached the scene 10 minutes after the accident but were unable to get closer than 30 feet for some time.

Some eyewitnesses said they saw two other men besides the driver making frantic efforts to get clear of the twisted cab.

Mrs. Murrison, mother of the two men who were killed, said they drove out the highway to get gasoline which they were unable to buy in Toronto where gas stations were closed. The tragedy wiped out her family. Her husband died a year ago.

Chain Of Circumstances

Weir and Smith were army buddies of the elder Murrison.

The grief-stricken mother, Mrs. R. Murrison, said "I still can't believe it" as she related an unusual chain of circumstances involving the need for gasoline, a burned-out radio tube and lack of change for a $10 bill—all of which contributed to the accident.

The boys usually stayed home at nights and listened to the radio but a tube was burned out, she said. They needed gas for the truck and couldn't get it in Toronto. They had a $10 bill but no change, and Johnny, who works on another job, went along for that reason.

McKay was to go with the four others but decided at the last moment not to go. His mother said it was the second time in two weeks he missed a fatal accident.

Fourteen days ago he was to go to Paisley in Bruce County but changed his mind. The man with whom he was to go was killed when his car struck a horse on the highway.

BROTHER DROWNS

Russell Hill of 62 Olive Ave., received word today of the death of his brother, Alexander, 48, by drowning on Wednesday off his summer home at Lake Simcoe. He was born in Stouffville, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, and had lived in Newmarket for the past 16 years. He leaves his wife, three sisters and his brother Russell of Peterborough. Search parties have been unsuccessful in locating the body to date.

Details Of Sewage Plant, Other Expansions Given Cobourg Town Council By Engineers

COBOURG, Aug. 12.—(ENS).—Estimated cost of the new sewage disposal plant, planned for Cobourg, is $225,000. Specifications of the plant were presented by a firm of engineers at a special meeting of the town council Tuesday night and council passed a resolution authorizing the calling for tenders.

The sewage disposal system has been under consideration for some time and the project is the result of a mandatory order from the Ontario Dept. of Health. Tenders have to be in by Sept. 15 and some of the work will commence this year. Part of the system was started last year with the construction of a trunk sewer on University Ave. at a cost of $152,000, now almost completed and financed by debentures issued earlier this year.

The sewage disposel plant will be located in the west end near the Factory creek. A special sewage pumping station will have to be located south of the business section and this will consist of a small brick building with total outlay estimated at $14,500. The system will dispose of the sewage by up-to-date means instead of it being dumped into the harbor as now, from the creek sewer that runs through the centre of the town. After the process of some seven or eight hours is finished, the sewage will be divided into sludge and clear fluid, the former to be disposed of as fertilizer and the liquid will go down the factory creek into the lake.

At no cost in the form of taxes, will be an expansion of the water supply system by the Cobourg Public Utilities in order to modernize the system and meet the present and future requirements.

At present the water department is finding it difficult to meet the demands of domestic and commercial consumers. An engineer's survey showed that the town has ample pumping facilities but the mains are too small to handle the demand. It is proposed to install about 11,000 feet of new mains, which will encircle the town, feeding all the present small mains with more water.

This will increase the water pressure all over and remove the necessity of pumping at a pressure dengerous to the mains.

The council has authorized the Commission to spend $90,000 on the water mains and it will be financed by the Cobourg Pubic Utilities.

Garage Changes Hands

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 — The service station, formerly operated by Roy Bell has been taken over by Tom and Preston Hall, former Campbellford residents.

The Halls operated a garage on Bridge St. for some years prior to the war, and are well-known here. Since the war until the present they have lived in the Toronto area.

Mr. Bell, a former member of the town council, will engage in another branch of the automotive industry.

50 New Houses For Cobourg Said 'Godsend'

COBOURG, Aug. 12 (ENS). — Contract for 50 houses in Cobourg to be built under the integrated housing plan, has been let and work will start in the near future. Council at a special meeting authorized purchase of land from the Turpin property in the West-end at a cost of $5,500; another tract owned by Dr. A. R. Richards in the East-end for $2,750, and a further area in the same district for $4,000, part of the Drinkwater holdings.

For more than two years the housing situation has become more acute all the time, and it was further aggravated by the need of houses for employees at the new CGE plant here. Since early this year the Mayor and committee have been hard at work trying to get the housing deal through, and the announcement this week of the successful conclusion to their efforts was very welcome to people trying to get along under very confined living conditions.

Utilities services are being provided for the new buildings, but the entire project will pay for itself with no added strain on the taxpayer. In lieu of taxes, the town receives $75 per annum on each house.

"It certainly is a God-send to Cobourg that we finally are going to get these badly-needed houses," commented Mayor Joe Smith to the Examiner yesterday.

The Council Bows To Public Opinion

The Finance Committee of the City Council has refused permission to the Bright Wine Company to set up a store here. There was a good deal of public opinion against it, and some of the reasons brought forward by the opponents of the store were excellent. Too often such stores have been resorted to by drunkards of the worst type, and the stuff offered for sale has been wine in a technical and chemical sense only.

* * *

Of late years, however, the Canadian wineries have greatly improved their wines and their places of sale. In this campaign of reform we wish them well, for we should like to see wine become a popular drink in Canada. The wine-drinking nations of the world are not nations of drunkards, and wine, taken with meals or in the course of a social evening is greatly to be preferred to whisky, gin or rum. Unfortunately, Canada is a hard-liquor country; we are, as a nation, unused to wines, and are apt to suspect them of strange properties. It would be a good thing for Canada if our hard liquor consumption dropped and our consumption of wine increased. When Canadian wines are all of good quality, that may come about. But for too long Canadian wine has been poor stuff, and the "winey" has been the lowest sort of drunkard. Nevertheless, wine in moderation is a more wholesome drink than spirits.

* * *

We were interested by the way in which the Council yielded to public opinion as expressed through telephone calls and letters. Our local government, which seems deaf to public enquiries as to when we shall have a new City Hall, when we shall have a Memorial Centre, and when the disgusting state of the city sewage system will be amended, was quick to hear the call in the matter of the wine store. Perhaps the demands for information on these other topics have not been loud enough. At any rate the Council has shown that it can hear when it wants to do so.

Newspapers As Charitable Institutions

It is extremely interesting to learn that the late Joseph E. Atkinson, publisher of the Toronto Star and the Star Weekly, left the control of his newspapers in the hands of a trust, with strict instructions that they were not to fall "into private hands". His object in doing this is best expressed in the words of Mr. Atkinson himself:

(1) The publication of the papers will be conducted for the benefit of the public in the continued frank and full dissemination of news and opinions, with the profit motive, while still important, subsidiary to what I consider to be the chief function of a metropolitan newspaper;

(2) The profits from the newspapers will be used for the promotion and maintenance of social, scientific and economic reforms which are charitable in nature, for the benefit of the people of the Province of Ontario.

The disposition of the profits of the newspapers will be in the hands of the Atkinson Charitable Foundation.

Newspapers run as public trusts are not unknown. The London Times and the Manchester Guardian are notable examples. But both the Times and the Guardian were aggressive, not to say rambunctious, papers before they became public possessions, and it was in their aggressive days that their reputations were made. It is impossible to avoid the question: will the Toronto Star lose its aggressiveness in its new guise?

If it does so the metamorphosis will be an astonishing one, for the late Mr. Atkinson was perhaps the most aggressive and astute publisher Canada has ever had. He built his papers from very humble beginnings into extremely popular and profitable publications. He comprised in himself much that is meant by the phrase "private enterprise". A trust management will never do for the Star what the personal management of its founder did. The charitable impulse of Mr. Atkinson was a great one and it has been given magnificent expression; nevertheless, we cannot feel that the influence of a trust will perpetuate the spirit which raised the Star to its present position of eminence, and there may be times when its staff will long—for the touch of a vanished hand,

And the sound of a voice that is still!

No Disarmament

The United Nations has a commission to study conventions of armament whose task is also to study limitations of armament if not disarmament. It is preparing a report to present to the General Assembly of U.N. which is scheduled to meet in Paris next month. One of the world's most seasoned and able experts on international affairs, Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British permanent delegate to U.N. did some blunt speaking to the Commission last Monday. He said that any disarmament scheme would not be worth the paper it is written on until it is backed by atomic control and the signing of peace treaties.

That is hard talk in a hard world. There can be no disarmament now. The peoples of the world are tired of the burden of military budgets, but as Sir Alexander said, they are more tired of "the brooding, hopeless atmosphere of international suspicion and unrest". It is Russia's delegates who are talking blandly about disarmament—they of course want the U.S. to disarm itself of the atomic bomb. It is Russia whose attitude and conduct have made the Atomic Energy Commission of U.N. sterile and prevented the conclusion of peace terms with Germany and Austria and the disposition of former enemy colonies. There can be no disarmament until a favourable international climate is obtained, and Russia does not seem to want that kind of climate.

One Peterborough Hotel

The July issue of the "Associated Canadian Travellers Magazine" is devoted specially to Peterborough. The cover carries pictures of the Armouries, the central business block, and the Lift Lock (the shot without water pouring from the pontoon). Inside are other pictures of the Hunter Street Bridge, the Otonabee, the Armouries and the Lift Lock (the shot with water pouring from the pontoon). There is also a message from the Mayor and an article on Peterborough. In fact ,the A.C.T. does Peterborough up brown in this issue of its magazine.

Since the A.C.T. Magazine is also described as "Hotel Directory", there are eight pages listing approved hotels from B.C. to Quebec. There is the prefatory note that "The hotels in this Directory are periodically inspected by officers of The Associated Canadian Travellers, and hold the Association's Certificate of approval". There is apparently only one hotel in Peterborough which meets with A.T.C. approval, for but one is listed. That is the "Albion Hotel".

The Albion Hotel was on Hunter Street east of the bridge. Thirty years ago it was a "Commercial Hotel". It has not been operated as a hotel for a generation. The last proprietor was the late Mr. Pat. Hogan. For many years it has been an apartment block. However, until recently a faded board sign proclaimed from the top (third) storey that this was the Albion Hotel. Perhaps that is what has bamboozled the A.C.T. officials who periodically inspect the hotels in its listings.

We wonder why the inspectors have missed the Oriental Hotel on Hunter Street west—a resplendent hostelry about 1900 (now a furniture shop), or even the Munro House, where this newspaper has long been housed. We would be glad to adorn our walls with the Association's "Certificate of approval" for we, like the A.C.T., have an interest in antiquities. However, we hasten to tell the local Chamber of Commerce that we are no more prepared to supply bed, breakfast and chamber-maids than it seems to be to give its Chamber service to keep the A.C.T. informed about our hotels.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Pondering on a recent batch of divorce statistics we reflect that the modern marriage vow is for better and for worse, but certainly not for good.

Children under twelve are barred from merry-go-rounds in Omaha. To leave them free for taxpayers?

Some anxiety is expressed about the proper pronunciation of Mr. St. Laurent's name. Oh well, they'll get used to it, as they did to "Laurier".

As the Kingston Whig-Standard remarks: "It costs more to live now than ever before—and we doubt if the current excitement is worth the difference".

Uppsala, Nursery Of New Ideas

By SYDNEY CLARK
In The Christian Science Monitor

IN the early months of 1948, Albin Johansson, head of the retail co-operative movement in Sweden, hatched a new idea. It needed a warm nursery and he turned to the University of Uppsala, which has been incubating and nursing new ideas since Columbus was a young man.

* * *

MR. Johansson's idea was to set up a "peace chair," or peace professorship, at the venerable university. The science of peace and how to attain it, or in obverse, the curse of war and how to eliminate it, would be presented in annual courses as an elective study, valid for credits like any other.

* * *

THE new thing about this is not the subject itself, which has been ardently studied for almost as long as has military strategy, but dignifying of it as a regular course of study for enrolled students to pursue as naturally as they would study Latin or mathematics. Mr. Johansson feels that such a procedure might germinate new ideas or new twists to old ideas that could conceivably be of practical help in solving the world's most pressing problem.

* * *

I HAVE talked with authorities in Uppsala and find that the idea is now under active consideration. Perhaps it will soon take definite form, but in any case the university gives its close and sympathetic thought to it. This institution is nearly 500 years old but it has become great and remained great by new ideas.

* * *

OF some dozens of foreign universities I have encountered in my travels, none has fascinated me more than old Uppsala with its young spirit. Its great men have been numerous, though some of their achievements are but little known on our side of the Atlantic.

* * *

HOW many Americans, for example, are aware that Emanuel Swedenborg, the great religious mystic of Uppsala, found time to invent a new cooking stove and a primitive submarine? And how many Americans are aware that Carl von Linne (Linnaeus), Sweden's "Prince of Botany," who organized the modern system of classifying plant life and wrote many botanical works in Latin, including "The Wedding of the Plants," had time also to discover that the whale is a mammal?

* * *

THE present life of Uppsala University is quite as stimulating as its past life. Traditions twine about the student like old ivy; but they do not throttle his initiative or choke new ideas. They seem, rather, to carry him up with their own growth.

* * *

LET us consider a few features of the life of Nels Dahlstrom, the John Q. Student of Uppsala, one of some 5,000 undergraduates. First, he belongs to one side of the 13 "nations" of the university. These take their names and distinctive colourings from Sweden's 11 provinces and the two cities of Stockholm and Gothenburg. He probably hails from the province (or city) of his nation, though he may be merely the son or nephew of a former student from that province.

* * *

IN the European tradition, he has much freedom to forge ahead or to vegetate scholarastically, according to the measure of his own ambition. And in the Swedish manner he has much freedom of companionship with the girl students of the university, for Uppsala is decidedly coeducational. It is entirely permissible—and no trace of a frown clouds any official brow—that he should casually enter any girl student's room and that she should enter his. They may study and talk together as they like. The utter freedom of it kills all furtiveness and is said to make for a healthy under-graduate life.

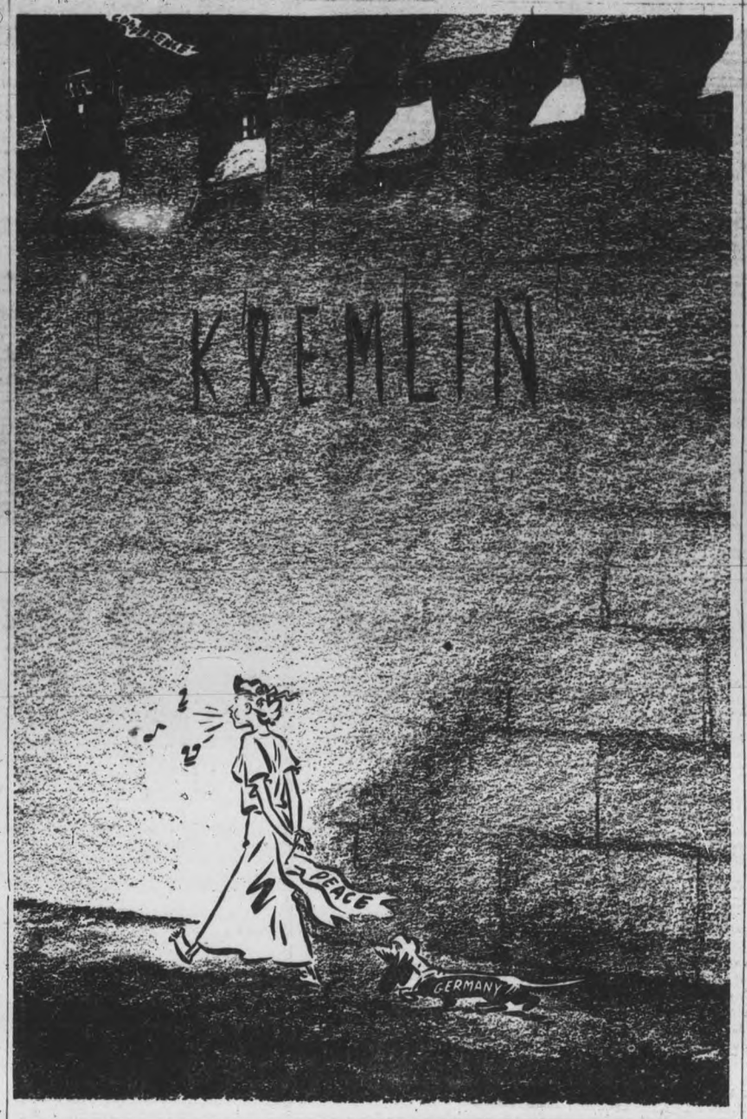
* * *

DAHLSTROM'S day is regulated, more or less, but chiefly less, by the bell of the castle belfrey on the hilltop. It rings lustily at 6 a.m. and 9 p.m. Queen Gunilla Bjelke, the second wife of King Johan III, considered those hours the proper ones for rising and retiring. The Queen passed away in 1588 but she left a fund to support the ringing of this bell at six in the morning and nine in the evening "in perpetuity." The bell-ringer who climbs to the belfrey and does the job is supported by interest from this fund.

Dahlstrom grumbles about the morning bell, then turns over and goes to sleep again. It has been ringing since 1588 and he can do nothing to stop it.

* * *

ON Walpurgis Night, which is April 30, he climbs to the castle with all the other students in a procession organized "by nations." The whole great hillside is a sea of white caps. Student songs are sung for hours. Bonfires burn away the winter and welcome the spring. Walpurgis Night is a student milestone.



* * *

NILS Dahlstrom goes his learning way, perhaps to his ultimate postgraduate work and doctorate. When he receives this honour he climbs the castle hill again, but the bell of Queen Gunilla is not adequate to this occasion. The castle cannons are called into play. At 7 a.m. of the day of distribution of doctorates degrees, cannons bark twice for each degree to be given.

* * *

DURING the ceremony, held in the castle itself, a cannon barks again, once as the laurel wreath is placed upon each recipient's brow. The ordnance is so near now to the ceremonial hall that it gives forth a crash that shakes the earth and the castle on the earth. It seems to say, "THERE! You have your learned title. It means much to you. Go out and use the faculties that earned it. Give Uppsala — and the world — some new ideas."

THE WHISTLER AND HER DOG

Lesson In Bilingualism

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

A NOTABLE feature of the Liberal Convention held in Ottawa last week was the ease with which the great majority of French-Canadian speakers used both the French and English language in addressing their audience—and the regrettable lack of bilingualism in English-Canadian speakers. It would be in the best interests of all Canadians, we think, if bilingualism were as common in all the provinces of the Dominion as it is in Quebec, especially among men prominent in political life.

Canada is a bilingual country, and has been so ever since it became a British colony, it became constitutionally a nation of two languages with passage of the British North America Act. In its official proclamations, in its currency and in other forms, it is scrupulously bilingual today, but as far as the Canadian people generally are concerned, ability to speak the two great languages of the country with facility is largely confined to the Province of Quebec and other areas in which the population is predominantly of French descent.

It is a pity that this should be so, for apart from the questions of courtesy toward fellow-Canadians of French descent and respect for the language which is constitutionally theirs, the ability to speak, read and understand French would be of inestimable value to all Canadians of other than French descent. The ability to speak another language than one's own is usually helpful in achieving a broader, more balanced outlook, and when that language is the other official language of one's country, ability to speak it and read it may very easily result in material gain, aside from the less tangible advantages which are nevertheless obvious.

And if more Canadians of other than French descent were competently bilingual, it would help immeasurably in furthering understanding between the two great lingual groups of the Dominion. It has been said that the more thoroughly people understand each other, the greater the possibility of making lasting friendships, always supposing that a desire for friendly relations exists. We think that desire exists in the majority of fair-minded people in both great lingual groups, and that there is thus an opportunity to strengthen the unity of the nation by an attempt to increase bilingualism appreciably in all its provinces.

'Send These, the Homeless. . .'

We hope it is true, as reported, that Canada will admit 1,000 post-war refugees from Czechoslovakia; and that jobs can be found for them. Love of liberty, if it is to mean anything, must mean willingness to help those who have sacrificed for liberty, who are oppression's victims. And while it may not be possible to accept or care for all who would seek succor from tyrants on our shores, there should be good heart for them, something of the spirit which Emma Lazarus spoke when she penned her famous lines for the Statue of Liberty:

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tossed, to me:
I lit my lamp beside the golden door."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul. (Ps. 23: 1-3.)

* * *

And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day. And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him. And he said, Let me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jacob. And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for as a prince hast thou power with God and with man, and hast prevailed. And Jacob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? and he blessed him there.

And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. (Gen. 32: 24-30.)

Letter To The Editor

CO-OPERATE ON WHEAT PACT?

Sir: It is very curious to see the confident way in which our friends to the south can literally 'count their bushels' while the wheat is still in the field, while in Canada the experts seem to be guided by the farm adage: 'a wheat crop isn't a wheat crop, 'til it's in the bin'? I've seen no figures yet, for our 1948 model of the Canadian wheat kernel.

I would be reminded of this contrast by that one-inch news item from Washington, "Aug. 3 (AP)—The United States Agriculture Department said today the United States may be able to sell at least 450,000,000 bushels of wheat abroad from this year's crop."

With the improvement in Europe's 1948 crop situation, and the likelihood that, without the stabilizing influence of the 36-nation wheat accord, American grain may be pressed on the world market with undue haste (due to political or currency pressures) how can the Ottawa authorities be so confoundedly certain that the international wheat pact can be ratified next year at this year's price?

According to my farm editor, some of the rural leaders in the Canadian west are looking for "a surplus wheat condition" in the world wheat market "possibly within two years". If this factualizes, a half a dollar (or more!) could easily enough be sheared from today's price-level in the so-called open futures market at Chicago?

I see that this international wheat pact ratification, according to Senator Vandenburg, has been handed over to "the next Congress" for attention. It is quite possible that all concerned (farmers and politicians alike) may regret this delay? At any rate, from my viewpoint, a spot of co-operation in this particular juncture of the story of the nations, wouldn't hurt?

STUDENT.

GILES IN UNITED STATES

"Well, folks—when we arrived from England, Wally pointed out that there were other things in America besides skyscrapers."

VLA Official Resigns

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 — J. G. Stocker, resident construction engineer to the local office of the Veterans' Land Act has tendered his resignation from the appointment, he said Wednesday.

Mr Stocker, who has been stationed here for the past year, will terminate his connection with the local office effective Saturday, Aug. 14.

A resident of Campbellford, he will continue to reside in town.

Assault Charges Dismissed By Court

LINDSAY, Aug. 12 — (ENS) — An indecent assault charge against Norman Tracey, R.R. 5, Lindsay and James Donegan, Peterborough, was withdrawn after a short hearing before Magistrate E. A. Gee in Lindsay police court.

His Worship heard part of the case in which there was no evidence that the pair indecently assaulted two 15-year-old Lindsay girls. Following a short recess Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan asked that the charge be withdrawn. W. J. Arthur Fair, Peterborough, represented Tracey and Col. R. I. Moore, Lindsay, was counsel for Donegan.

Judgment Reserved

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Judgment was reserved Wednesday until Sept. 9 when four members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) appeared in court charged with intimidation of crews of the Normac and the Manitoulin of the Dominion and Owen Sound Transportation Co., June 21-24.

7 Cases Of Chickenpox

COBOURG, Aug. 12—(ENS)—Seventeen new cases of communicable disease were recorded in the week ending August 7, it was reported by the headquarters of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. There are seven cases of chickenpox, four of red measles, one of German measles, four whooping cough and one of mumps.

3 Million Loss In 15-Week Sugar Strike

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Five persons dead and a loss of $3,000,000 in export trade is the toll to date of a 15-weeks-old strike of plantation workers on the seven sugar estates lining the Demarara coast of this colony.

Since more than 6,500 workers walked out last April 27 demanding higher pay and better working conditions, sugar exports have dropped an average of 9,000 tons a month. What cutting and hauling is carried on is done by a skeleton crew of non-strikers.

Total export tonnage for the first seven months of 1948 was 62,265 tons, compared with 108,000 for the same period last year. This represents a financial difference of $3,151,000. Producers say the situation is even more serious since the importing season in Europe now is at its peak.

Break Up Crowds

Disturbances broke out on the Enmore estate June 16 and police, sent to break up the crowds, shot and killed five persons. Several policemen have been charged with rioting, intimidation and assault.

Two Belleville Men Jailed For Gas Theft

PICTON, Aug. 12—Found guilty of attempting to steal gasoline at a Bloomfield service station, two Belleville men were sentenced to jail, another Belleville man was given suspended sentence and a fourth was dismissed by Magistrate T. Y. Willis in police court Wednesday.

Robert Orr, 20, was given the heaviest sentence, six months in jail. Donald Fraser, 25, will serve one month. Sam Simmons, 20, got one year's suspended sentence and Lara Guzzwell, 21, was dismissed.

Three of the men were arrested July 29 by County Constable James Lovelace and Earl Marvin at Brummell's Service Station. An attempt has been made to take gasoline from a wrecked car—one in which Constable Lovelace's brother had lost his life two days previous.

An investigation has been ordered.

Principals in negotiations have been the Government, the British Guiana Sugar Producers' Association and three unions—the Manpower Citizens' Association, the British Guiana East Indian Association and the Guiana Industrial Workers' Union. Of these, the last named is not recognized as a bargaining agent by the producers.

Governor Sir Charles Woolley has been meeting daily with representatives of these groups and has asked the Colonial Secretary to send a commission from London to investigate conditions.

Beef Export Ban Likely Lifted Within 1 Week

OTTAWA, Aug. 12—(CP).—Informed sources said Wednesday night they believe the Federal Government will announce the lifting of the embargo on beef cattle exports to the United States market within the next week or 10 days.

The question of when the prohibition, imposed early in the war, should be abolished has been before the cabinet for several months. Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Commons before parliament prorogued June 30 that discussions on its removal had been opened with US officials.

Now, with beef shipments to Britain at a standstill and a large supply of livestock developing on the western plains, the Government is expected to take steps to open the market.

One bar to removal of the prohibition has been the difference between Canadian and American beef prices, with the American prices generally ranging higher than those in Canada. This has meant that the lifting of the ban automatically would mean a rise in retail beef prices in Canada.

Canadian prices, which advanced recently, now are not too far out of line with the American rates, and observers believe the Government may decide to remove the embargo before the US prices again move out of range.

Under the Geneva Trade Agreement signed last year, Canada now is entitled to export 200,000 head of beef cattle to the United States annually. However, Mexico's quota of a similar amount may also fall to Canada because Mexico's herds are fighting an epidemic of foot and mouth disease.

Struck By Tractor 2 Men In Hospital

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 12—(CP).—Two men are in hospital here, one in serious condition, after an accident in which their car was struck by a tractor-trailer early today five miles south of St. Catharines.

Harry Curling, 27, of (RR 2) Welland was unconscious five hours after the crash which tore the top off the car. It is thought he has serious neck injuries. The other injured man, 21-year-old Frank Tiffany of nearby Allanburg, is in favorable condition.

The truck driver, Frank Guzzo of Hamilton, received only minor scratches.

False Alarm Leads Brigade Merry Chase

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 — (ENS).— The Campbellford Volunteer Fire Brigade got another workout on Wednesday just before 6 p.m. when the siren blew for a non-existent ward fire.

Information from the Fire Hall was that the conflagration was on the river bank, close to the town dump, but on arrival of the firefighters there was nothing to be seen in the way of a blaze, other than a small plume of smoke rising from some smouldering garbage on the dump.

The half-mile of fire-wagon-chasing cars had a fine time turning around on the narrow road, without backing into the canal, but there were no spills.

Members of the Brigade were unable to say who had telephoned in the alarm.

ACCORDING TO a Washington report, Laurence A. Steinhardt, present United States Ambassador to Czechoslovakia, may be named this country's envoy to Canada.

Kiwanis Win Series Over Kinsmen

By FRED MAYBEE

Fate dealt a hard blow to both Kinsmen and Kiwanis junior baseball teams at Riverside last evening as she robbed the former of a possible victory in a hard-fought game and the latter of the services of their popular little infielder, "Wimp" Borland, out with a fractured leg suffered in the first of the seventh of the third and deciding contest.

Doug Plunkett opposed Paul Estlick who held Kinsmen scoreless until the fifth, while his mates garnered six runs. With two gone in the sixth and two runs across for Kinsmen, Jake Jaquith took over for Kiwanis and Sullivan flied to Menzies. In the seventh Curry was safe as Borland threw high, advanced to second and scored on Dugan's single. Fitzgerald singled sharply to right and all hands were safe as Pagett dropped Collins' throw to force Fitzgerald at second. Wyatt walked, scoring Dugan and Fitzgerald scored on McGillen's hit to Pagett as the latter's low throw got by Menzies. Ferguson forced Legros at the plate and as Plunkett flied to centre Wyatt scored after the catch with the tying run. On the throw-in, McGillen ran to third and Ferguson to second. Menzies threw to Borland to catch McGollen who came into third standing up. In some accidental manner, due possibly to his position as he received the throw, the popular "Wimp" twisted his leg and rolled over in agony. After the injured player had been attended to, umpire-in-chief Pat Calladine—through no fault of his own—was obliged to call the game, due to darkness.

The final score, therefore, officially stands according to the rules as laid down by the association, as Kiwanis 6, Kinsmen 2. The score reverts back to the previous full inning of play—the sixth.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

As an indication that autumn is not afar off, the senior grid schedules arrived in the mail yesterday. The Big Four starts off on Aug. 31, just two and a half weeks away, with Ottawa at Montreal, and the schedule runs till Nov. 6. The ORFU setup doesn't get underway till Sept. 11, Toronto Indian-Beaches going against Sarnia while Windsor plays at Hamilton. It lasts till Oct. 30 ere playoffs. We used to be in that group, remember? Intercollegiate starts Oct. 9 and runs till Nov. 13, McGill starting against Queen's and Varsity against Western. Likely a few Peterborough chaps in that group, too, same as in the Big Four and ORFU. Western conference gets away Aug. 21, quite early, and runs till Nov. 1.

The lacrosse tidbit of the season is this Friday p.m. in Miller Bowl when the rampaging Oshawa outfit tangles with the loop-leading Petes. The Motor Citizens, who hold the only group victory of the summer over the Creighton crew, have imported half a dozen star players, and they're plenty potent. Came mighty close several times to licking the locals before turning the trick last Tuesday. With the scrappy Vipond brothers aboard, plus DePippo and Bush—with the Petes previously—and such aces as Hilson, Bastien, McAdam, Sanders, Grice, Chambers and others, they'll give the Petes a tough night of it. This one is a "must" for the fans here.

Shoemen And Petes

And Batawa Shoemen mix it upon the diamond with the COBL Petes on Saturday aft at three in Riverside. Another natural as these well-matched clubs battle it out in first and second spots in the league race. Which, by the way, is nearly over, but for several postponed games. Can't say who will do the pitching for either side yet and each team is minus a regular through injuries, but they'll both be in there shooting the works and trying for that victory. The men o' Murphy may be tired enough, too, after the long haul to Kingston this Friday evening.

Another baseball game of interest coming up is the Kiwanis exhibition between Dit Clapper's NHL All-Stars and the senior Petes here Aug. 19. That's a week tonight at 6.15, proceeds for community service. Coach Dit expects to bring such well-known puckists as Syl Apps, Milt Schmidt, Howie Meeker, Don Gallinger, Murray Henderson, Clare Martin, Bobby Bauer, Don Bauer, Porky Dumart, P. Archambault, A. Herchenratter, J. Giffin, Cy Bricker and a few more. The game is an annual playoff for the Moose Ecclestone Memorial Trophy, held now by the All-Stars. Most of these players are in the Inter-County Baseball League during the summer.

Fans Still Talking

Folks are still talking over that wild finish by the Knights against Legion the other e'en at the Bowl, when K. of C. drove in seven runs in the ninth for an 8-7 win. To give them two triumphs in as many starts in their best-of-seven City Softball Loop semi-final serial. Same squads clash tonight in a twin bill over there, Legion vs. Knights at seven, followed by Knights vs. Legion in that order. The K. of C.-ers, if they continue their torrid pace of recent weeks, could wrap it up tonight and rub out Legion. But we don't expect any such thing. Legionnaires are too good to go down in four straight. Play resumes again Saturday eve. Likely another record crowd on deck this evening, if the weather is right.

* * * * * *

Outboard Marines rubbed out CGE colleens 4-0 at the Bowl last night in two straight to go into the girls' loop intermediate "A" finals against Westclox. As the Clockers and Ashby's went to a 3-3 exhibition draw before a goodly gallery. Both good games and the Electrics made it a real battle before bowing out. Eleanor Whittaker hurled three-hit ball for Marines and you can't win many games on three bingles. At that, the victors tallied three of their four runs in the final frame. Tomorrow night, Lakefield and Lindsay open their best-of-three intermediate "B" finals, and we suppose Marines and Westclox will begin play, too, but couldn't get anything definite on it this a.m.

What A Schnozzle!

The most bitter local series since the Petes-Legion puck feud last winter was resumed last eve at Riverside when the two local junior entries in the Lakeshore Ball Loop clashed. It was called for darkness in the first of the seventh with Kinsmen and Kiwanis tied at 6-6. The score reverted to the last of the sixth to give the souh-end Kiwanis a 6-2 win over the East City crew and, apparently, the semi-final series. But Kinsmen have protested it, claiming it was an incompleted game since it was held up too long when "Wimp" Borland had his leg broken in a play at third. His parents refused to let him be moved from the field till medical aid arrived. A tough break for Borland, and a tough way for a sizzling game to end. More will be heard of it again, no doubt. The executive has expressed regret to fans that some of the hotheaded players mixed it up after the fray. Lot of pushing-around, etc.

Canadian Canoeists Qualify For Finals

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Henry Harper and George Covey of Gananoque, Ont., qualified for the finals, to be held later today, in the 1,000-metre kayak doubles in Olympic canoeing competition.

The Canadian pair came fourth in their heat with a time of 4:34.2. Finland won the heat in 4:16.7 to qualify also.

Other countries qualifying for the finals in the 1,000-metre kayak doubles were Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway, The Netherlands and Sweden. The United States team was eliminated.

Just an hour after the doubles event, Harper had to drop out of the preliminary heat in the 1,000-metre kayak singles.

"I had to quit," he said. "I felt a blackout coming on."

After the qualifying heat Covey said: "It may be that our inexperience with kayaks doesn't show so much over short distances as in longer races."

Manager Edgar Gilbert of Montreal was "very pleased" with his boys showing.

Marines Take Semi-Final Over Electrics

Outboard Marines ousted CGE 4-0 last night to take the Girls' Softball League intermediate 'A' semi-finals in two straight. They now meet Westclox in the final series, while Electrics are out for the season. It was a good game before a hefty crowd, with CGE held to three hits by E. Whittaker while M. Perrin threw seven-hit ball for the losers. The fielding was on even terms but Marines finished strong to score three runs in the ninth inning and clinch matters.

A. LaPointe and M. Selkirk went good defensively for Marines in this lively tussle, and M. Sanderson and M. Perrin were best in the field for the CGE crew. M. Behan was the hitting star for Albert Watkins' squad with a homer, tirple and single in four official tries. V. Mitchell hit a homer, too and M. Downer got a triple and single. T. DeCarli got two of her side's three hits, one of them a double.

The teams:

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It is rather unfortunate, in a lawn bowling club like this, with a membership well over 250, that there has been so little interest shown lately in the doings of our club, especially on Wednesday evenings. This used to be a good mid-week night for a mixed rink tournament, but that idea seems to have fallen by the wayside. Over 75 per cent of our bowlers are in town on Wednesdays and surely it is not expecting too much for some one to put on a little "something" for those who want to bowl. Off-hand we would say that last night was the third Wednesday night that the greens were idle. It was a fine night to bowl and the greens were in good condition.

Down in Belleville on Tuesday one of our ladies' rinks came through to bring home first prize. The rink was, Mrs. L. Riley, Mrs. R. Hopkins, Mrs. W. Hepburn and Mrs. J. Caussey, sk. Each received a silver tray.

Up until 8:30 o'clock this morning we had received no word from the boys who took in the doubles at Lindsay and the rinks at Cobourg on Wednesday.

Tonight Groups No. 1 and No. 2 continue with the schedule.

SIMPLE ABC TREATMENT HELPS END ATHLETE'S FOOT
IRRITATING, PAINFUL, BURNING FEET — RAW, CRACKED, PEELING SKIN BETWEEN TOES
RELIEVED OVERNIGHT

Foot Specialists examining thousands of patients have found that many common foot ailments are due to one cause—Tinea Pedis—a virulent infection known as "Athlete's Foot."

If you have peeling, soggy skin and painful cracks between toes; if you are plagued by persistent itching and excessive, malodorous perspiration, start using AERO-PED Powder at once. It contains P.M.N. (Phenyl-mercuric nitrate)—a powerful germicide and fungicide which kills the germs and fungi that cause "Athlete's Foot."

A B C ROUTINE FOR QUICK RESULTS

Make this test:

(a) Wash feet night and morning with soap and warm water. Dry well between toes.

(b) Dust AERO-PED P.M.N. Powder over feet and between toes, also inside socks and shoes. Change footwear daily.

(c) Notice how quickly pain and irritation are soothed, cracks between toes begin to heal, perspiration is checked. Get a tin of AERO-PED P.M.N. Powder and start your A-B-C Treatment today. You'll get fast, lasting relief.

MIRACULOUS RESULTS says C.D.U.; "....I am very pleased to tell you that what we sailors call "Toe-Rot" appears to be completely cured—no itching whatever and the skin quite clean and absolutely healed. This strikes me as miraculous. I've had it since I was Midshipman, 45 years ago and had tried everything else."

A's Come From Behind To Jump Senators 8-3

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Connie Mack's astounding Philadelphia Athletics once again are only a hair's breadth out of first place in the American League's tingling pennant battle.

The A's moved to within .0001 of a percentage point of the leading Cleveland Indians Wednesday night with a thriling victory over Washington Senators while the Indians split a twi-light-night double-header with St. Louis Browns.

Philadelphia jumped on the Indians by coming from behind and beating the Senators 8-3, while the Indians, after downing the Browns 7-5, were crushed 12-4 in the second game.

Sam Chapman and Carl Scheib were responsible for the Athletic triumph. The Mackmen were behind 3-2, going into the top of the seventh, when rain halted the game for 47 minutes.

When play was resumed, Scheib took over from Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, Ont., and set the Senators down in order. The Athletics promptly came to life in their half of the seventh and scored six runs with Scheib doubling home two and Chapman accounting for the remainder with a grand-slam homer.

Gains 15th Victory

At St. Louis, Bob Lemon, with help from Satchel Paige in the seventh, gained his 15th victory for the Indians in the opener. The Indians were leading 7-3 when the Browns drove Lemon from the hill a two-run seventh-inning rally.

Some hefty clubbing by rookies Hank Arft and Dick Kokos ruined the Indians in the nightcap. Arft drove home four runs on a homer, double and single and Kokos knocked in three mates with a pair of two-baggtrs and a single.

The third-place Boston Red Sox remained two games behind the A's, beating the Yankees 5-2 at New York. The Sox overcame a 2-1 deficit with a two-run rally in the fifth and sewed it up with two more markers in the seventh.

Nip Tigers

The White Sox nipped Detroit Tigers 2-1 at Chicago. A wild pitch by Virgil Trucks enabled Dave Philley to score from third with the winning run in the eighth inning.

Boston Braves maintained their three-game lead over Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals in the National League, beating New York Giants 4-3 while the Dodgers and Cards also won.

Home runs accounted for the Boston scoring. Jeff Heath poled a three-run homer and Bob Elliott one with the sacks empty.

The Dodgers' nosed out Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in Brooklyn as Marv Rackley singled home Billy Cox with the winning run with two down in the ninth inning.

At Cincinnati the Cardinals, led by Stan Musial, who hit his 28th home run, thumped the Reds 9-4.

Pittsburgh Pirates moved within half a game of the fourth-place Giants as Rip Sewell exercised his mastery over Chicago Cubs by pitching the Pirates to a 4-2 triumph.

Paddlers Pick Up Six Points To Boost Canadian Olympic Score

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON, Aug. 12 — (CP). — As the 14th Olympic Games hit the back-stretch today the spotlight is shared by the number of records already broken and by the general melee in yachting.

Canadians, however, are more concerned with the latter. Two Canadian vessels were disqualified Wednesday, one of them dropping from first to fourth place, as a flood of protests resulted in a general mixup that still was not straightened out early today.

In other fields, Dominion paddlers picked up six precious points and an Ottawa weightlifter finished sixth to give Canada another point, bringing her total to 25 and leaving her in 20th place in the unofficial standings. The United States continues to pace the field with an imposing 578 points.

Two Canadian boxers saw action Wednesday, one of them moving into the quarter-final round with a convincing victory while the other suffered a third-round technical knockout. A paddling team finished 14th, a Vancouver cyclist finished 15th and Canada's basketball team defeated Belgium 45-40 in consolation series.

Officials in Dither

The flood of protests and series of disqualifications in the yachting events left officials in a dither. The outcome is far from clear but here's what happened.

Paul McLaughlin of Toronto, sailing single-handed in the Firefly class and until his disqualification Wednesday a strong contender for first-place honors, dropped from first to fourth place.

McLaughlin and a French skipper, J. Huberlot, filed protests against each other following a collision. Huberlot's version of the accident was accepted and McLaughlin, visibly affected, left yacht club at Torquay, where the races are being held, without comment.

McLaughlin's only hope is that he can finish first or well up among the leaders in today's final race of the seven-race series.

Second Protest

The second protest against Canada and the second disqualification came in the Swallow class. Norway protested and John Robertson and Dick Townsend lost the 402 points they would have taken for placing seventh.

Their standing is in doubt due to the numerous protests filed in the class. Prior to Wednesday's race, they held fourth place.

In the Swallow class, the United States finished first, Brazil second and Belgium third while in the Firefly class, France moved to second place due to the protest, Holland was placed third and Denmark held first place.

A number of protests also arose in the Star class and in this class, too, placings were uncertain. Bill Gooderham and Gerry Fairhead of Toronto crossed the finish line in ninth place.

Veteran paddler Norm Lane of the Toronto Balmy Beach Canoe Club placed third in the 10,000-metre Canadian-type singles, finishing 2½ minutes behind the winner, Frank Capek of Czechoslovakia, over the 6½-mile course.

Lane's third place, good for four points, came after the Toronto paddler had covered the course in the only "standard" canoe in the race. All the others used the "twisted" or "bent-keel" type of craft, an aid in steering.

Two More Points

The Dominion picked up two more points when Bill Stevenson and Bert Oldershaw of Toronto paddled their way to fifth place in the 10,000-metre Canadian pairs, won by a United States entry.

The Gananoque entry of Henry Harper and George Covey failed to make much headway and wound up 14th in the 10,000-metre kayak doubles. The event was won by Sweden.

G. Frederiksson of Sweden won the 10,000-metre kayak singles. Harper scratched from the event.

The Dominion's other point-getter was Jimmy Varaleau of Ottawa, who picked up a single point by placing sixth in the light-heavyweight weight-lifting category.

Varaleau, stationed with the RCAF at Trenton, broke an Olympic record in one of his lifts—a mark that was soon bettered — and had to be satisfied with sixth place.

In boxing, Adam Faul, Regina heavyweight, moved into the quarter-final round with a decision over Victorio Bignon, of Chile, while Cliff Blackburn, a Montreal welterweight, suffered a third-round technical knockout at the hands of J. Torms of Czechoslovakia.

Forty players have been invited to attend the Toronto Maple Leafs' third annual hockey school opening at St. Catharines September 13, President Conn Smythe announced at Toronto on Wednesday. Invitations have been sent to three goal tenders, 14 defencemen, and 23 forwards. Ray Migay of Port Arthur West-end Bruins, and John Wilson of the Windsor Spitfires declined the offer. One the list is Alex Barilko, elder brother of the Leafs' hard-hitting defenceman, Bill Barilko of Timmins. Alex, also a defenceman, played for the Quebec Senior League last winter. Regulars Turk Broda, Gus Mortson, Cal Gardner, and Sid Smith will also report early. Other NHL squad men will start training September 20.

The Rules Committee of the International Amateur Basketball Federation Wednesday voted at London, England, to double the width of the free-throw lane in an effort to help short defenders overcome the scoring advantage of tall players. The change is one of the most far-reaching rules revisions in the last twenty years.

Despite protests of most Western Canadians, the word "amateur" will remain in the Dominion Football Association playing certificates. A resolution that the word be deleted was rejected at the association's annual meeting in Toronto Wednesday.

The Royal Stable whose race horses have not been in the big money this season, pulled off a "double" Wednesday at Bath, England. Gordon Richards, Britain's champion jockey, won on the King's two-year-old Gigantic in the Fernley Plate of £200 ($800). His Majesty's Royal Blue, another two-year-old, won in the Bathampton Plate, also worth £200.

Toronto's baseball Leafs announced Wednesday that Bill Johnson has been recalled from Utica in the Clas A Eastern League in an attempt to strengthen infield of the International League team.

Adoption of Canada's definition of an amateur hockey player by the International Ice Hockey Association could mean better representation for the Dominion in future world amateur title competition, A. W. Pickard, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association presiden, said in Montreal on Wednesday.

Appointment of Walter (Punch) Scherer of Kitchener as non-playing coach of the Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series was announced on Wednesday at Kitchener. Scherer coached and played with Stratford Indians last season.

Toronto Leafs Nip Chiefs In 2-0 Victory

By The Associated Press

Newark Bears, after a late start, are challenging Buffalo Bisons for the International League's home run leadership.

Buffalo, thanks to a great early-season pace, still leads the league in four-baggers, with 144 to Newark's 129. The absence of Buffalo's two biggest siege guns, Chet Laabs and Anse Moore is the reason for the Bisons' decline.

Both Laabs, who still leads the league with 29 homers, and Moore who has 21 have been out of the regular line-up for some time due to injuries.

The Bears employed their home-run punch in upsetting the Bisons 14-6 and 4-3 last night.

Round-trippers by Johnny Lucadello, Jerry Coleman and Jay Difani highlighted the first-game triumph. Lou (Mad Russian) Novikoff broke up the nightcap in favor of the Bears when he cracked his eighth homer of the season in the ninth inning with the bases empty.

The twin defeats knocked the Bisons from fourth to sixth place, with Toronto Maple Leafs taking over fourth.

Snaps Losing Streak

Veteran southpaw Oscar Judd pitched the Leafs to a 2-0 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. The victory snapped Judd's losing streak at six games and brought his record for the season to 9-8.

Judd, who held the Chiefs hitless June 14, was touched for nine safeties while the Leafs rapped veteran Dixie Howell for 11.

Rochester's third-place Red Wings handed the tail-end Baltimore Orioles their 11th straight defeat as Al Papai pitched the Wings to a 7-0 four-hit shutout.

The scheduled game between the first-place Montreal Royals and the Jersey City Giants was postponed because of rain.

GEORGE HERMAN (BABE) RUTH, home run king of baseball whose condition was reported critical at the Memorial Hospital in New York today. He's shown as he left hospital for Florida last February after long illness.

Carsteels Win First Dominion Soccer Cup

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP). — Montreal Carsteels today held their first Canadian soccer championship in the club's 25-year history—and they gave the credit to their chunky little forward, Marcel Gastonguay.

A 29-year-old veteran of 15 years in senior soccer, Gastonguay scored on an open net which enabled Carsteels to defeat Vancouver St. Andrew's 4-3 Wednesday night in the final game of their best-of-three series.

Carsteels won the opener 43 and St. Andrews took the second game 3-1. The whole series was played here.

THE .22 TARGET RIFLES Dave Clement and son Jim of Peterborough are handling cost $2,500 apiece! Fifteen-year-old Jim, youngest competitor at Ottawa's National Small Bore Matches, has a lot to learn from his rifle-loving father who makes his own shooting irons. It took him more than 300 working hours to complete the masterpieces of gunsmithing shown here. But the investment has paid off, for Mr. Clement has been four times a member of the famed Canadian Lord Dewar team.

Carries Heavy Load

VANCOUVER — (CP). — Built originally for Russia's broad-gauge railways during the First World War, 414 flatcars weighing 7,000 tons are en route to Buenos Aires aboard the freighter Empire Marshal. The ship carried nearly its own weight — 7,000 tons.

Father, Son Competing In Rifle Shoot

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP) —A father-and-son combination, Dave and Jim Clement of Peterborough, shot against each other in the three-day meet of the Canadian Small Bore Association here.

Mr. Clement finished in the Grand Aggregate prize list with a score of 1,918 of a possible 2,000 shooting against a field of approximately 125 marksmen. In three matches he dropped only four points of a possible 600, and placing fourth, fifth and sixth.

His son Jim, with little experience in competitive shooting, finished in the prize money in one match, posting a 190 score of a possible 200 on the 100-yard range.

Father and son shot with rifles made by Mr. Clement, one of Canada's top gunsmiths. Mr. Clement says he is now working on a "secret weapon," a new rifle which he will use at next year's meet.

A third Peterborough man, W. G. Simpson, reached the finals of the Sportsman Match in the first competitive meet he ever attended. Officials said only lack of competitive experience caused him to lose out in the closely contested final.

City To Borrow $16,190 For Township

City Council will borrow the $16,190 it owes North Monaghan in the acquiring of the township's Grove School. Five year debentuers will be issued for that amount, and in the meantime the school section will receive a cheque from the city. The council assumed the unpaid school debentures. The $16,190 covers the sum actually paid by the township ratepayers on the loan that provided for the school cost.

The Grove school board arranged with the Board of Education for the attedance of their children at the school until the section undertakes to build a school for themselves somewhere on the city's western fringe.

Didn't Evade Draft Was Adrift On Raft

WELLINGTON, NZ, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Brought before a court here for failure to report for military service in 1942, Frank Miles, 41, said he was unable to do so because at the time he should have reported he was adrift on a raft in the Atlantic.

Evidence showed his ship was sunk under him while serving in the Atlantic at the time he was called for service in New Zealand.

"Technically he did not report, but it is nonsensical that this action should have been against him," said the magistrate in dismissing the case.

USING GERMAN TRUCKING equipment, men and women laborers start the job of building a new airfield for Berlin. Airlift planes are landing at Templehof and Gatow airports, but with the coming of winter, more supplies will be necessary, and this new airport is being built near the Tegel shooting range, in the French sector. Valuable Barkless Dog Won't Yodel For Newsman

By FRANK LOWE

The voice on the end of the wire asked, "do you want to hear a dog that yodels?"

From this end of the wire there was deafening silence.

"Honest," the voice of the public relations officer continued, going really sincere, "this dog yodels. It doesn't bark. It's name is...."

"Bing Crosby," this end of the wire cut in.

"No, no," protested the PRO. "It is Kleo of Kandira...."

'Spelt with a 'K' to be Kute'," no doubt, this end of the wire added.

By this time the PRO was truly hurt, so he was allowed to continue to say that Kleo was one of those rare animals, a Barkless Besanji, and she was about to leave Montreal for Houston, Texas (By Trans-Canada Airlines air cargo) to be bred and bring some more Barkless animals into the world.

Surprisingly enough, when Kleo was introduced at the airport, she wasn't at all like a pedigreed lass of rare breed. Rather, she was just about the friendliest dog you could meet.

And quiet—she was so quiet you could hear the movie cameras whirr.

She was so quiet, in fact, she never once yodelled. One reason might have been that Kleo, who belong to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Keegan, of Montreal, yodels only when pleased.

At this time, however, she was going through customs and that is enough to knock the yodel out of even a Swiss Alpinist, let alone a dog barely the size of a terrier.

After Kleo visits Houston, she will fly to England to have her puppies there—the purpose being to strengthen the breed of Barkless Besanjis in Britain.

Those Barkless animals—great dogs for an apartment because they seldom yodel and never bark—originally came from Egypt, but now are found only in the Belgian Congo. Of recent years they have been imported into Canada, the United States and Britain where they are found to be good show dogs, good pets and excellent hunters.

And from being the size of a terrier they look like no other dog extant. They are a deep chestnut with white markings, their ears are big but stand straight up rather than flop and their faces are wrinkled in, what, so help up, appears to be 'laugh wrinkles."

Kleo proved this by smiling occasionally in a quite human way.

But the dogs' outstanding physical characteristic, outside of the yodel, is a tail that rests on their back and is as tightly curled as the hair-spring in a watch.

In a few weeks' time, Mr. and Mrs. Keegan will follow Kleo to Britain where they will live and this will mean that the only person raising these Barkless animals near here will be Mrs. N. J. Hamilton of Barrington, Que. In western Canada there is one such animal, and there is another in Toronto.

Perhaps there is a reason for this scarcity, too. When asked what Kleo's puppies would sell for, Mrs. Keegan said, "$500."

Even for a dog that never barks, that is a lot of bite.

KLEO OF KANDIRA, a Barkless Besanji, is shown with her owner, Mrs. Hugh A. Keegan of Montreal. The high-priced canines are rated as fine pets. With no bark, they give a yodel when inclined to let off steam. But they won't perform on order and yodel only when ready.

Urges Linking Languages By Using Number System

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 12.—(CP).—An international system of numbering words is linguist Ivan Petelka's suggestion for linking languages in the interests of world-wide understanding.

As the song says, with his system, "You Don't Have to Know the Language." Lists of numbered words, standard in all countries, can overcome the barriers of difference in national tongues as far as written or printed matter is concerned, Petelka maintains.

Unlike Esperanto or other proposed inter-languages intended for universal use, the Petelka method of communication cannot be used in speaking. But Petelka says that great benefits in convenience and goodwill can be obtained through its use in international correspondence and foreign travel.

"It will help greatly to bridge the difference among the separate national languages and will provide the common people of different nationalities, who ordinarily cannot spare the time for learning foreign languages, with a simple way of making themselves understod to each other, should need arise, by jotting down the numbers of the words they want to say," he said in an interview.

No Pronunciation Worries

The Petelka system is intended to by-pass difficulties of pronunciation, spelling and memorization of quirks of usage in various languages. Here's the way it works:

The pronoun "I" will be numbered one, "You" will be No. 2, "Man" 33, "Democracy" 8730 and so on. Plurals can be indicated by adding 'X"; thus, "Men" is 33X.

"With 'numbered words'" even the daily problem of ordering meals in foreign hotels will be greatly simplified," Petelka said. "The word 'Meal' itself will be found listed as 253. Soup will have international number 364, meat 371, potatoes 283, coffee 489, milk 598 and so forth."

Ringing the changes on "Democracy," 8730, you get 87300 for the verb "Democratize," 873000 for the adjective "Democratic," and 8730000 for the adverb "democratically."

Petelka has great hopes for his system, which he says he has developed to a point where it is ready for general use.

MRS. VICTORIA MANAOLO DRAVES, of Los Angeles, Calif., who became the first woman in Olympic history to win double crowns in diving events, is pictured being congratulated by a fellow diving champion, Dr. Sammy Lee—who won the men's tower diving crown. Miss Draves won the springboard title previously, and later took the women's tower diving championship for the double-crown.

Unionists Concerned At Moral Rearmament

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 1.—(CP).—"Serious concern" at the activities of the Moral Rearmament movement in Birmingham was expressed in a resolution adopted by the Birmingham Trades Council.

The resolution said the council "is seriously concerned at the activities of the Moral Rearmament movement in this city and considers that its increasing influence is not in the best interests of the trade union movement."

Speakers said M.A.A. doctrines were "siding reactionary elements in a bid to stem progressive forces."

Peterborough Man Charged At Lindsay

LINDSAY, Aug. 12.—(CP). — Frederick Immings, of Peterborough, alleged driver who out-distanced Lindsay police in an 85-mile an hour chase through town, pleaded not guilty in court Wednesday and was released on bail of $700. He was charged with dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Decide To Keep NorthCampOpen

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(CP).—City council will reconsider a decision to transfer residents of the north camp at the suburban Malton emergency housing centre, Mayor H. E. McCallum said Wednesday.

City council had planned to close the north camp Oct. 1 and move some 5 families to nearby General Electric Company buildings. This would avoid expenditure of about $65,000 on restoring water mains and other services at the north camp.

The mayor told city council Wednesday he had been informed by the Federal government that if the north camp is abandoned as an emergency housing centre, the Federal government will withdraw financial support for the construction of 50 new housing units planned for the G.E. centre. The city would then have to pay full costs of the units instead of one-third.

A special meeting of the city council has been called for Friday to discuss the matter. The mayor suggested that the north camp will probably be kept open at least through the winter.

London Alcoholics Hold First Meeting

LONDON, August 112—(CP)—The first British group of Alcoholics Anonymous held their first public meeting here and members wore white carnations to distinguish themselves from non-alcoholics in the audience.

Instead of the music-hall conception of red-nosed, bleary-eyed drunks, the wearers of the white carnations men and women, looked the picture of health and contentment.

The chairman, identified only as "Chris," said the group's aim was to "stay sober and help other alcoholics to achieve sobriety." There are 2,000 similar groups with a membership of 72,000 in the United States, Canada, Australia, South Africa, and elsewhere.

"The only qualification for membership is an honest desire otstay sober," the chairman said.

Legion Gains Soccer Win By 4-2 Count

Legion defeated O'Halloran's in the opening game of the second section of the soccer league schedule 4-2 on King Edward Park before a good attendance Wednesday evening. Featherstone was outstanding for O'Hallorans and for Legion, T. Foster, Jr., and Al Downer at full back shone.

Duncan, O'Halloran's, was injured early and had to retire from the game, Paddy Conners taking his place and Boone completed the quota. A little later, Dunn, Legion, connected with a rebound off the cross-bar for the first counter. On the next visit, Newt Downer kicked the ball off his brother Art's foot into the rigging below the bar. A rearranged team by O'Halloran's finally got into action that resulted in Legion having to battle to hold their meagre lead, but G. Downer registered the third on an individual effort. Thereafter, O'Halloran's took the initiative to find Legion goalie unbeatable, although Duffus' cross-bar rocket drive was worth a counter. Just before half-time, Pyle tried hard from a long distance to make an opening.

After five minutes of play, on resuming, O'Halloran's cut down the count when Smart sent a low grounder inside the upright to make it 3-1. They went right back to harrass the Legion full backs and confine the play inside their territory without gaining anything tanglible although Featherstone was brilliant with his dribbling and tricky plays. A break-away by Newt Downer let Jack take possession inside the goal area to make it 4-1. From the centre - kick Featherstone went right through the opposition to make it 4-2.

Legion: T. Foster, Sr., goal; T. Foster, Jr. and Al. Downer, full backs; B. Woodcock, J. Craig and S. Murduff, half backs; H. Fotter, N. Downer, J. Dunn, G. Downer and J. Downer, forwards; B. Grant and E. Murduff, subs.

O'Halloran's: J. Chamberlain, goal; A. O'Halloran and A. Downer, full backs; P. Conners, T. Scott, H. Pyle, half backs; C. B. Smart, E. Duffus, A. Featherstone and E. Boone, forwards; A. Duncan, sub.

Referee, T. Garlan; linesmen, K. Downer and W. Gracie.

Bogart Believes Crime Films Should Be Cut

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (AP).—Now that a new protest is rising about the number of crime movies, Humphrey Bogart — of all people — admits that some of them should be stopped.

Last Winter, the Johnston office quieted a furore of protest by clamping a ban on the making of gangster movies. Today theatres are playing a new crop of films about crimes, and certain commentators and pressure groups are starting to complain again.

Bogart cited the prison film, "Canon City." "It was a story of a bunch of bad eggs who broke out of the stir and finally were put back there where they belonged," he related. "I can see no reason for the picture."

When the late Mark Hellinger called Bogie to see how he liked another prison movie, "Brute Force," the actor replied: "Why did you make it? A picture should have either entertainment or a moral. This one had neither."

"It's stupid to think that movies can foster crime," he declared. "When I was young, we were reading about Billy the Kid, but that didn't make criminals out of us.

"If you want to find out what turns kids to crime, look at their environment and particularly their family life. Parents who let 10-year-old kids stay out at night are the ones responsible for making criminals.

Demon Hanover Wins $32,500 At Hambletonian

GOSHEN, NY, Aug. 12 (AP)—A cheque which almost wasn't sent proved a happy, profitable investment yesterday to Harrison Hoyt, owner of the 1948 Hambletonian winner, Demon Hanover. He took a $200 gamble, and cleaned up $32,500.

The Demon, who proved to be just that yesterday as he zipped to straight-heat victories in the 23rd Hambletonian at Good Time Track, almost wasn't nominated to North America's premier trotting Derby.

Demon Hanover captured the first heat before a record 20,000 crowd, then returned an hour later to repeat the process, even more easily. The son of Dean Hanover led all the way both times, with Colstream stud's Rollo and C. M. Saunders' Egan Hanover second and third on both occasions.

Hoyt disclosed later than when it came time for the initial $200 payment to nominate the Demon for the Hambletonian, he debated whether it was worth the chance. Demon Hanover had cost him $2,600 in the Harrisburg (Pa.) yearling sale, but there was nothing to indicate he was any world-beater.

Takes a Chance.

"I turned it over in my mind, then put the cheque in an envelope and dropped it in the mail quickly before I had a chance to reconsider," he said.

Hoyt, a 38-year-old Bethel, Conn., hat manufacturer, is the first amateur driver ever to capture the harness world's most prized race.

As a two-year-old, Demon Hanover wasn't nominated for most of the top stakes in his division, so the colt earned only $3,810. As a three-year-old, however, the Demon had been sweeping the big ones, and came up to the Hambletonian with total earnings of $17,847.

Demon Hanover never showed a flaw yesterday.

The colt was clocked in the second mile heat at 2:02 flat, after touring the triangular Good Time course in 2:03 1-5 in the initial heat.

Ukranian To Start Music Conservatory

REGINA, Aug. 12—(CP).—To a Ukrainian family recently come to Canada from Europe, the Dominion means a chance to play their music again.

Recent Regina visitors — from their new home in Alberta—were Prog. Dmytro Berczenets, baratone opera singer; his wife, Olena Lozytska, soprano; and their daughter, Valentine Dabrolige, pianist.

They came to present in the Ukrainian National Hall a program of the music Hitler's concentration camps forbade them to play.

For three years prisoners of the Germans in Lemberg, they later were sent to forced slave labor. Relief came when they were liberated by United States soldiers and transferred to a displaced persons' camp in Hamburg.

The professor established a conservatory there and after a year's negotiations his family came to Canada. The three, with the man responsible for their presence in this country, are touring the country to obtain funds to establish a conservatory somewhere in western Canada.

Note In Bottle Travels 1,000 Miles

A "bottled note" thrown in the Caribbean Sea in March, 1947, has been returned to its owner, Robert C. W. Lett, former superintendent of national resources for the Canadian National Railways.

Now residing at Gordon Head, B.C., Mr. Lett said he threw the bottle overboard from the Canadian National Steamships' vessel "Canadian Constructor" during her maiden voyage from Vancouver to Barbados in the British West Indies.

The note was returned to Mr. Lett a few days ago from Homestead, Florida. A letter written on the back of the original bottled note explained that it was found on the Florida Keys.

It had travelled more than 1,000 miles in 14 months at sea and was found by Marie Bell and Easton Anderson, who were on a fishing trip on May 3.

The bottled note written by Mr. Lett said that it was hoped that whoever found the bottle would return it to him. He also promised return of a small sum of money. Mr. Lett was on the voyage with his late wife, Helena.

He has dropped overboard many bottles containing notes in waters all over the world, but this is the first reply he has ever received, said Mr. Lett.

Natives Given Shares In Jungle Estate

By ETIENNE DUPUCH

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 12 (CP). — Rosita Forbes rules a modern "Garden of Eden" on one of the islands of the Bahamas group.

From a Robinson Crusoe beginning 10 years ago, the 49-year-old adventurer, author, explorer and lecturer, who is the wife of Col. Arthur McGrath, war-time British Intelligence Chief, has created a beautiful 100-acre estate out of the jungle on Eleuthera Island, 64 miles from Nassau.

Her home is atop a rolling hill above Grannie Long Pond. Mrs. McGrath has developed a share-basis farm which has introduced a new status of economy for most of the island's native inhabitants.

Rosita Forbes found what was to be the site of her home as she followed a native party which used machetes to hew its way through the undergrowth. She bought the land from the Crown on condition it build a road.

Needed Work

At the time most of the inhabitants of Eleauthera needed work. Wages were then three shillings a day, but Mrs. McGrath increased them and about 50 natives were hired and taught to be masons, plasterers, carpenters and plumbers. Her enormous house was built around a courtyard.

The estate of 700 acres has some of the best farming land in the West Indies. On it grows citrus, banana, acocado pear, mangoes and other semi-tropical fruits, pineapples, onions, tomatoes and other season crops.

To give every workers an interest in the "Unicorn Cay" estate the McGraths arranged that after a certain length of employment every employee gets a percentage of the gross intake from fruit and other crops.

Keep Posters Off Walls, Britons Told

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Aug. 12 (CP). — Britain's householders must guard their outer wall — or go to court.

An offshoot of the Labor Government's Town Planning Act provides control of outdoor advertisements. Effective Aug. 1, posters and other advertisements have not been allowed without the consent of authorities.

This involves the lively "fly-poster," who sticks his advertisement on a convenient wall without telling the owner about it. The new regulations are aimed, first, at this character; he will be punished by fine if found.

Offensive Advertising

A Town Planning Ministry official said the "flyposter" is responsible for one "of the mosts offensive forms of advertising. If the "flyposter cannot be found the owner of the property can be taken to court and made to prove his innocence." After the owner whose goods were advertised will become liable to the intervention of the law.

The official denied the usual law is being reversed in requiring the householder to prove his innocence in respect to posters. A man accused of giving short weight under the present Coal Acts is required to prove his innocence in court. In any event, local authorities responsible for investigating advertising cases would be reasonable in their approaches.

Under the regulations no new advertisements may be displayed without consent, although this consent will be automatic for functional advertisements like "Road Up" and "Bus Stop," and signs such as name of houses, doctors' plates and church notice boards.

Limitations are imposed on the height from the ground where advertisements are displayed and on the size of letters.

Need Higher Output

BELFAST, Aug. 12 — (Reuters). — Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said here Wednesday that Britain must obtain higher output per worker if her economy is to be balanced before Marshall plan aid ends. Longer working hours would not necessarily be required to achieve this goal but a more economical use of labor and new methods would be needed, Sir Stafford told a meeting of linen manufacturers.

BLASTED ROCK and sandy soil are moved by steam shovels and manpower to form channel 50 feet wide, 700 feet long through which rampaging waters of the Nipigon will be diverted during construction of $20,000,000 Ontario Hydro power plant, 90 miles northeast of Port Arthur. Exhibition Quiz Being Prepared By Two Experts

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, is drawing up a list of questions for the Farm Quiz feature of the Junior Farmer section of the Peterborough Exhibition. Between times, he and his summer assistant, Murray McRae, are getting their heads together preparing pitfalls for the juniors who are expected from the neighboring counties of Central Ontario.

This is a new idea Mr. Paterson conceived to test accuracy of knowledge on many practical phases of farming.

Each question has to be answered by yes or no. Several of them were tossed at an Examiner reporter who turned in two correct yes answers out of three specimen questions. That percentage should be an encouragement to the bright young men and women who are coming to the junior fair.

There is enough interest in this quiz examination to recommend it as a half hour feature for a night show, although it is probably too late now to plan it on that scale.

The quiz stunts attract radio audiences, and from that experience it is altogether likely that a night crowd would be entertained and educated in some phases of agriculture if the tests were held wit hthe aid of a microphone in front of the grandstand. As it is no one is going to hear this little feature of the junior except the competing groups who will be off by themselves sometime during the Exhibition.

At any rate the Paterson-McRae sessions, when office opportunity offers, are gleefully sprinkling meanies through the list of questions to put the juniors on their mettle.

A quiz for both seniors and juniors, a new idea, seems to recommend itself to a fair board as an incidental in an evening program that would probably make a hit. It could be easily built up into a real feature with commensurate prizes above the values that are being offered to the juniors.

Would Remove Elm Trees On Lansdowne

Removal of the long row of elms on the south side of Lansdowne St., between Park and Lock Streets, in front of the fence of Exhibition Park, was suggested to the Exhibition Board Tuesday night by Ald. Herbert Young, MD., chairman of the parks committee.

As conceived by Ald. Young, the trees would be replaced by a flower bed which might be arranged to present a floral design setting out the names "Morrow Park" and Peterborough Exhibition with its 1949 date. Maple trees would be planted inside the new wire fence, and expenditure could be adjusted between the board and the committee.

The proposal was heartily endorsed by the directors. The planting of the elms was a mistake of ten or fifteen years ago. As they reached up toward the telegraph wires they were beheaded, and have been a pitiful sight in their mutilation.

More than 20 of the directors attended the board meeting with Hugh Stewart chairman. Grounds were reported in good condition. Various improvements are nearing completion, and the members feel that their long preparations are promising a big show.

BOULEVARD ELMS on the south side of Lansdowne St., between Park and George Sts., are to be cut down shortly. During the past 15 years they have grown too tall and will soon interfere with telegraph lines above them. After their removal it is the plan of the Parks department to landscape the strip. The photo shows a few of the trees at the Morrow Park main gate entrance.

Had Wild Ducks In Lockers Two Men Fined

Two city men were fined $10 and $4 costs each in court today on their pleas of guilty to being in illegal possession of wild ducks. They were Jack Sackville, 22 Maria St., and Andrew Rutter, Jr., 15 George St.

The minimum fine only was asked, as RCMP Constable G. B. Pickering of Cobourg explained that the accused had been unaware of the law in the matter. He said later that "few people know about it."

The accused men, said the constable, had shot the ducks legally in season out west. They had been kept on ice and were still in the frozen lockers after March 31. Under the Migratory Birds Act, this is an offence which can bring a fine of $300.

"Unjustly Dismissed" Union Charge Heard

Judgment was reserved on Tuesday at an Arbitration Board hearing of the case of Frank Robinson, Raybestos employee, who the union alleges was unjustly dismissed. Judge Cochrane, of Brampton, presided, the company's representative was T. J. Carley, K.C., and the union's representative Drummond Wren, of Toronto, director of the Workers' Educational Association.

The case for the union was presented by W. R. Cambers and for the company by D. Pyle, of Toronto. Other members of the union committee were Greg Pearson and Charles Crowe, also representing the company were R. Abbott, president, and A. Woodman, personnel manager.

Mayor Gets 250 Letters Voicing Thanks For Parcels

More than 250 letters of appreciation have come to Mayor Ovens from families in Britain who received special parcels of food supplied from Peterborough's wedding gift to Princess Elizabeth. The latest sheaf of these messages of thanks arrived this week. They are all written in the same spirit of gratefulness to the city and also to Princess Elizabeth.

"They must have had a most efficient committee in charge of the distribution of the monies that were sent from Canada," Mayor Ovens said, "because one of the things repeated in the letters is that the parcels were all in first-class condition."

Mrs. Maude Wyburn of Maisemore, Gloucester, wrote, in part: "I am a widow living on my own. Your parcel will be a great help to me."

Mrs. L. Barns, 26 Claremont Ave., Woking, Surrey: "My aunt, Mrs. Marton of Bramdeau, Hants., who is at present staying with me (July 27) on account of illness received a food parcel yesterday through the kindness of Princess Elizabeth. She wishes to thank all concerned. The contents were in good order. She says she will enjoy and find everything useful. The parcel was sent or. here from Bramdeau. If you know any Canadian who would like a pen friend I would love to be one."

This is an excerpt from the letter written by Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, Tylorstown, Rhondda Valley, Wales: "I am a widow 71 years of age. My husband died three years ago, after being unable to work for 17 years owing to heart trouble.

My only son, 42, is living in Gloucester, but his health was ruined in this last war: I am more than pleased to thank you all for your great kindness, and may God bless you." Mrs. Hopkins added the Welsh phrase—Diolch yn Fawr.

A Widow's Letter

Mrs. Mary Wrightson, Richmond, Yorks: "This is to thank you for sending me one of Princess Elizabeth's wedding gift parcels. The contents will be most useful in these days of food rationing. I am 75 and have been a widow since Sept., 1931."

Mrs. Teresa Boyle, Craigmiller, Edinburgh: "That was a most pleasant surprise when I answered the postman Monday. It was a lovely gift. The children and I will enjoy it very much. We are very grateful for your kindness."

E. Bannerman, Aberdeen, Scotland, July 23: Many thanks for the lovely box of foodstuff. It arrived in perfect condition and was most acceptable. I appreciate your kindness very much indeed.

Miss H. Harris, Higher Sticker, St. Austell, Cornwall: "It was very kind of you to remember me with such a lovely parcel, through Princess Elizabeth. We cannot get much at home here, but we hope the time will come when things may be better. I appreciate your gift so much because I am unwell a great deal of the time."

One letter was from Mayor W. Best of Portadown, Northern Ireland: "My Dear Lord Mayor—I have been requested by Mrs. M. L. Cordner to express to you her sincere thanks for the most useful foodstuffs which she has received through the Princess Elizabeth Gift Fund. I can assure you that this gift is very much appreciated by this lady."

Lilian M. Futter, Great Yarmouth, Norfolk: "Many thanks for the lovely parcel of food which I have received from you and the kind people of Peterborough. I am enclosing a photograph so you can see what an English village looks like. May God bless all your good people of Peterborough."

S. J. Hayes, Wellington, Somerset: "I have just received your gift parcel safely. I should like to express my thanks for your kindness. The contents are most welcome in these difficult days."

Those letters are typical of the large number Mayor Ovens received. He opened and read every one of them.

"We made some mention of earlier letters," His Worship said, "but may be another reference to the gratitude of so many people overseas would let our own people know just how much their gift was appreciated."

Employees Get 4-Cent Pay Boost

Wage increases of 4 cents an hour at Raybestos and up to 5 cents an hour at Ontario Marble have come into effect following publication of the cost of living index at its new high of 156.9.

Under collective bargaining agreements between the companies concerned and Local 527 of UE-CIO, wage opening clauses took into account an expected rise in the cost of living. The new increases are the result of the application of these clauses.

These increases bring the amount of general increases for 1948 to 16 cents an hour in the case of Aaybestos and 20 cents an hour in the case of Ontario Marble. This was announced today by W. R. Cambers, district union representative.

UNIQUE DAHLIA

A double-header, decorative dahlia measuring 11½ inches across was brought to the Examiner office today by G. W. Downer, of 125 Morrow St. The dahlia, a "Ken Luff", was grown from a slip and the same plant has two more blooms 11 inches across and eight buds. Mr. Downer has grown dahlias for many years, but he says he has never grown a double-header so large before, or had a plant with so many buds.

Skirts Getting Shorter Again; No Opposition

Like prices, skirts are going up again. A recent news report from Paris says that skirts will soon rise as high as 16 inches from the ground.

The news story was presented to a group of men and women drinking coffee in a restaurant. All had definite opinions on the subject, but none wanted their names used. In the resultant discussion, most of the opinions came to light, some serious, others only half-so.

The serious note was injected into the discussion by an amateur economist and a thoughtful looking man.

Said the economist: "I believe there is a definite relation between the rise in prices and the rise in skirts. While I doubt that skirts will ever rise relatively as high as prices, it is a sign of some sort, I think."

"If you study a line-graph of the business cycle for the past 30 years, you will note that in 1929 the line climbed to its highest point. Now, tatke a similar graph dealing with the height of women's skirts from the ground during the same period.

"Again you will note that the line was pretty high. In fact, it was the highest ever. And you saw what happened then. I conclude, therefore, that we'd better get back to long skirts, fast."

The thoughtful man said: "Seriously, I believe there can be real economic and moral repercussions as a result of hoisting and lowering hemlines. This up and down business just can't persist without some results."

"I think skirts should stay right where they are," said one handsome girl. "I just bought a new suit."

"There," said the thoughtful man, triumphantly, "is an economic repercussion."

"It's a good thing. They should put a ceiling on skirts. I suppose what I mean is a floor, but they shouldn't be allowed to go any lower than 10 inches from the ground, except for evening gowns. For one thing, it's a waste of material, and for another, I like looking at girls' legs." This was the opinion of the oldest man n the group.

This opinion was greeted with some applause, and a group of other men clustered about the oldster, offering to nominate him for parliament, or at least to petition the government regarding the matter of a floor on women's skirts.

Two girls said: "Well!" and left, while the rest of the group laughed.

Accept Livestock Entries To Aug. 21

Entries of registered livestock for the Peterborough Exhibition may be received up to Saturday, Aug. 21, G. A. Gilespie, secretary, told the Examiner today.

"We don't have to send them any more to Ottawa for checking and verification," he said. "The federal department has decided this is not necessary. So, there may be farmers who would like to take advantages of this extra time, and decide on exhibits."

Mr. Gillespie said he expected a large number of entries especially from the Peterborough district.

"Some of the big breeders from other parts of the province may be going on to Ottawa that week. They likely are, but what of it. We have lots of good stock in this central part of the province if the farmers can arrange to show them. There is a labor problem on many farms, but we are still hoping that an extra effort will be made to bring out a lot of the stock that we know is in this district."

Mervin And Minnie, Mammoth Maskinonge Convort In Otonabee River Disdain All Baits

Among summer residents who visit the city of Peterborough each year are Mervin and Minnie, the Muskies. They must be casual easy-going tourist types for Mervin is a monster over four feet long and his kind do not attain that length until they have lived at least 25 years. A few seasons ago, he picked himself a mate, somewhere on the Trent system, estimated to be about 15 pounds.

This couple have been seen for several seasons in the Otonabee river on the west shore between the CPR bridge and the shunting yard tressle bridge back of the Peterborough Canoe Company. They are the special pets of train crews that work in the yards each day and when it is warm and sunny, the pair fan lazily up and down a prescribed course about a foot under the surface.

It is unique in a district like the Kawarthas that tell the world at large in reams of words and hundreds of photographs about the great muskie fishing to be had in local waters that this couple remain aloof to all lures of hundreds of fishermen and continue about their business season after season and generally enjoy themselves in the Otonabee.

Their patron trainmen watch determined fishermen casting their arms out and probably chalk up victory marks inside the cab engine for each vanquished angler that goes away, in disgust. All the talk that goes around about the large muskies taken at the George St. Wharf, supposedly living on river refuse, is all bosh. Muskies live on live fingerlings, frogs and so forth and Mervin and Minnie are living proof that their bailiwick for many years has been the clean running river. We join with the train crews in saying long may they live.

Rubber Cheque Artist Caught; Victims Unknown

Did anybody get a radio from you sometime in December and give a bad cheque for it? Police believe there must be at least two stores or individuals in Peterborough who were defrauded in this way—and they would like to know who they are.

Apparently, the transgressor has confessed in a wholesale sort of way. Police in Owen Sound are holding a man who has confessed to obtaining more than 50 radios in several dozen centres in Ontario by passing no-good cheques for them. He is going to plead guilty to them all, and get the whole business over with at once, according to Owen Sound authorities.

Peterborough is included in this wandering radio-collector's list of victims. He says that he got three radios here using his unorthodox method of payment in each case. Detectives of the police department have been able to locate one of these, a local Department Store.

They are still trying to find out who the other two were who fell for the fast-talk of the radio-robber.

Charges Local Man Stole From Poles

Samuel Hibib, 390 Queen St., was remanded until Aug. 20 today in court, when he will face charges of stealing $270 from Polish war veterans working near the city by converting it to his own use. Police claim that the accused took the money from the farm workers at their request to have it deposited in bank accounts.

No plea was taken from the accused today.

European Paddlers Used Canoe With Freak Keel To Facilitate Steering

By BOB BUCHANAN

The man whose firm built the canoes for the Canadian and United States Olympic teams said today that the freak craft entered by some other countries is "not a canoe." W. A. Richardson, manager of the Peterborough Canoe Company, was commenting on a Canadian Press dispatch reporting a protest against use by France, Sweden and Czechoslovakia of canoes with twisted keels and construction which gave a fixed rudder effect. The Olympic committee rejected the protest in which Canada was supported by the US, the United Kingdom and Finland.

He agreed with the Canadian contention that in future Olympics the design of canoes should be restricted. The fixed-rudder effect of the freak design makes the fish-tail steer-stroke unnecessary and paddlers concentrate on forward motion.

Mr. Richardson said that for the current Olympics the only restrictions are maximum length, minimum beam, depth and weight. The specifications, laid down by the International Canoe Federation and accepted by the Olympic committee, are: maximum length, 17 feet, ¾ inches; minimum beam, 32¼ inches; minimum depth, 12½ inches; minimum weight, 55 pounds two ounces.

With only these restrictions, designers were free to form the shape of their craft as they wished and this gave rise to the freak twisted keels.

No Skill Required

He mentioned that the angle and area of the non-detachable projection or rudder would have to be adjusted for each canoeist because the power of the paddle thrust varies with the individual. "Undoubtedly this would add to the speed of the canoe if it were properly adjusted to offset the thrust of the stroke."

He added that the new design "would take much of the artistry out of canoeing." The steering twist at the end of the stroke, required with standard craft, was part of the skill of paddling.

Elaborating on this, he pointed out the change in competitions in other watercraft. As long as standard designs and installations were used, it put races and other contests on an even basis. When fancy gadgets, new methods of design, other aids to speed came in with such numbers, it cut the number of people taking part.

Not a small part of this was due to the expense of these new ways, he said, although that is not a prominent factor in canoes. It was also difficult for many of the average part-time hobbyists to keep up with the latest developments.

"Yes, I think the Canadian coach's suggestion that only straight-keel canoes be allowed is a good one. Otherwise, if the design is not limited, such freaks as these will make it most unfair to all."

PLAYER BREAKS LEG

Twisting suddenly to make a play at third base, Wimpy Borland, third baseman for Kiwanis juniors, last night broke both bones in his left leg about halfway between the knee and ankle. He was taken to hospital where Dr. Herb Young examined the injury. The player running from second base did not collide with Borland, but the base bag crumpled from the impact of the player's feet, throwing Borland off balance.

Egg Prices Soar May Reach $1 A Dozen Soon

Although eggs are selling across city grocery store counters for 70 to 77 cents a dozen, storekeepers are encountering little buyer resistance to date. The picture seems to be that prices for eggs are going to increase further.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see eggs go up to $1 a dozen," said R. M. Pearson, general manager of the Peterborough Co-operative.

"The price of feed went up last fall, and this spring farmers refused to buy chicks. As a result, present layers are being liquidated and none are taking their place. I don't see any improvement until November."

The price list for eggs at the Co-op is as follows: A large, 77 cents; A medium, 75 cents; pullets, 66; B, 57; C and cracked eggs, 47 cents.

One city store is selling grade A large eggs at 70 cents a dozen, but it is an exception. The rule is about 75 to 77 cents. Rumors have been flying that the price will drop, go up, or stay steady. Some foundation is given to the last by the fact that eggs at the co-op have been selling at the same price for several days.

One grocer believes that the increased price of chickens had something to do with the egg price increase. Others said they didn't know the cause, but that there were plenty of stories about it.

Another grocer reported that in Toronto eggs were selling at a price well above 80 cents a dozen, and that an increase there seems likely. "That looks bad for us," he added.

A story came from one grocer of a Picton farmer who owns 13,000 pullets, all laying. This farmer, the grocer said, was selling all his eggs to Montreal at 82 cents a dozen wholesale, and making about $500 a day. "The poor farmer," smiled the grocer.

Napanee Muskie Weight Questioned

NAPANEE, Aug. 12 (CP)—The fishing faithful today rallied to the defence of reports of the prize muskellunge catch of the season. When it was reported yesterday that two Americans—George Melon and James McGraw of Rochester, N.Y.—caught a 32-pound muskie, experts in Toronto and Peterborough doubted the story. The doubts were stirred by other measurements — 43 inches for length and 18½ inches for girth.

Today, the local folks maintained the accuracy of weight and length. But they yielded somewhat on the girth. This measurement of 18½ inches was not taken until after the fish was cleaned. They thought the pre-cleaning measurement might have been 21 inches.

BOX 102, EXAMINER

REGATTA DAYS were revived Wednesday afternoon at Chemong when the juniors competed, crowding every event so that heats were necessary in several competitions. Henry Dinsdale, lower right, was named boy champion and Sally Ann Hartman, lower left, was declared girl champion. At top left, is Wendy Collins, runner-up for the girl's championship and one of the youngest competitors in the regatta. Top centre, shows the finish of the canoe fours, and top right, Fred Hills, veteran regatta announcer is at the mike with Dr. Ralph Clark, regatta chairman, looking down the course. Sally Hartman Girl Champ H. Dinsdale Heads Boys At Chemong Jr. Regatta

The junior half of the Chemong regatta, oldest in the Kawarthas, was held for the first time in eight years on Wednesday afternoon. Regattas were held on Chemong as long as 60 years ago, and the interval of the war years is believed to be the largest gap in its history. The senior regatta will not be held until next year.

Winner of the boys' championship and silver cup was Henry Dinsdale with six firsts and one second. Dinsdale's strong point was paddling, in which he picked up all his first place points, the second coming from the open outboard handicap race.

Girls' champion and silver cup winner was Sally Ann Hartman, grand-daughter of Fred Jopling, one of the best paddlers in the Kawarthas in his day. Sally Ann won three first places and two seconds, breaking a tie for first place with two other girls, Wendy Collins and Marguerite Rutherford.

Fred Jopling, watching the races, said:

"I used to win some of the cups here myself. Now, I've watched my sons win them, and today I saw my granddaughter win one. I'm going to try to be here when my great-granddaughter does it."

Number of entries far exceeded the expectations of Dr. Ralph Clarks' regatta committee, and in several events more than one heat was needed to determine the winners. Only the junior sailing races, open to boys and girls under 16, are left to run off, and they are set for Aug. 22.

The regatta was ably handled by a committee headed by Dr. Clark and R. R. Faryon and who were aided by Fred Hills, J. K. Hughes, Gordon Matthews, N. J. Nesbitt, Dr. A. G. Howson, Cecil Wasson, Col. J. A. Dewart, Dr. Bob Young, Dr. Herbert Young, Frank Jopling, Harold Matthews, Ross Pulinkhorn, Henry Dinsdale, Joyce Dewart and Barbara Hughes.

Capture Bear Cub In Haliburton

LINDSAY, Aug. 12—(ENS).—Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Barnum, Redstone, Walter Edwards and several tourist friends while driving along the Haliburton-Guilford road, met a mother black bear and two young cubs.

When the car slowed up to allow a better view of the trio, the mother and one of the cubs fled off into the underbrush along the road, leaving one to fend for himself. The lone cub climbed into the lower branches of a nearby tree and stoutly resisted the attempts which Mr. Barnum made to effect his capture.

Finally he succeeded in swathing the young bruin in his coat. Although the cub resented his confinement in a box, after several days he finally became tamer and accepted food, vegetables especially, and condensed milk. When the tourist friends took him home at the end of the week the bear appeared quite resigned to his fate.

MaharajahLikely To Face Music

LONDON, Aug. 12 — (AP). — The rich Maharajah of Baroda took his ease in England today, seemingly in no rush to get back to India to answer critics who want him to abdicate.

A member of his household at Headley, Surrey, said the Hindu potentate was still asleep at 10 a.m. today. He arrived on the Queen Elizabeth last night from New York and ducked reporters who wanted to ask him about accusations made by the Baroda state legislature that he dipped into the state treasury for $10,000,00 in a six-week spending spree.

The Maharajah's secretary said a statement would be issued tomorrow concerning the Maharajah's plans.

He told The Associated Press yesterday in a ship-to-shore conversation that he would fly back to Baroda "very shortly." In New Delhi, the states ministry of the Dominion of India said the Maharajah was expected there this week-end to discuss the situation.

The Baroda legislature adopted a resolution Monday asking him to abdicate in favor of his eldest son, Fatehsinha, 18. It also asked the government of India to set up a council of regency for the princely state during Fatehsinha's minority and otherwise to safeguard the interests of the state

Prices Investigators Amazed At Profits From Fertilizers

OTTAWA, Aug. 12—(CP)—Amazed Prices Commission investigating prices of fertilizers learned yesterday that a former government - owned ammonium nitrate plant did a whopping $5,700,000 business last year.

The plant, owned by North American Cyanamid Ltd., at Port Robinson, Ont., was built for the Government during the war and operated on a managament-fee basis by a firm associated with the United States parent company, North American Cyanamid. It was bought from the Government in 1946 at a sum approximate to the total business done in 1947. Company officials said the company had paid $4,750,000 plus about $1,000,000 for the value of stocks on hand to the Government.

Last year's output of ammonium nitrate was slightly less than 100,000 tons. "Look at what you're going to do in 1948 if you produce 100,000 tons!" H. A. Dyde, KC, counsel for the Prices Commission, told officers of the company.

He requested information to show the profits involved in the $5,700,000-turnover last year. The firm's price for ammonium nitrate had risen sharply to $70 a ton, after selling averaging about $57 a ton in 1947.

Must Justify Prices

Mr. Dyde warned the officials, in asking them to bring information to justify this year's price advance, that he would suggest their price was too high, although they still operate under a virtual ceiling established by the Prices Board.

Earlier, the commission questioned two officials of Agricultural Chemicals Ltd., on the reasons for the similarity of prices charged by their firm and by Canadian Industries Ltd., on the same type of fertilizers.

Prof. C. A. Curtis, chairman of the commission, remarked to Mr. Dyde that he was not satisfied with testimony explaining how the two firms' prices came to be virtually identical in eastern Ontario.

Frederick Johnston of Port Hope, accountant for Agricultural Chemicals, said that the two companies' costs would be about the same and that his firm had probably seen CIL's price lists. However, he was not definite on the point. He recalled frequent cases where his company's price lists had been issued first.

Hold First Session

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 — (CP). — The Federal cabinet Wednesday held its first session since the National Liberal convention which chose External Affairs Minister St. Laurent as party leader in succession to Prime Minister Mackenzie King. There was no indication what was on the council agenda, but there were some suggestions that the new Liberal platform adopted by the convention might have been discussed.

Upset British Food Subsidies Budget For Year

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Aug. 12 — (CP). — The British Government now paying food subsidies at the rate of £70,000,000 ($280,000,000) a year more than it planned, appears to have a tiger by the tail and can't let go.

Food Minister John Strachey revealed July 12 food subsidies are running at the rate of £470,000,000 annually instead of the £400,000,000 estimated earlier by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, when the year's accounts were being prepared.

Later a government spokesman said it was hoped prices Britain has to pay for food overseas later in the year would be reduced and the ultimate bill for the year's subsidies would be nearer £400,000,000 than £470,000,000.

This viewpoint has been termed "extremely optimistic" by financial authorities who said that unless world prices fell or prices to the consumer were allowed to rise, the subsidies could cost "almost certainly" more than £500,000,000 instead of being reduced.

Wheat Increase

Since Strachey announced the £470,000,000 rate, the price of wheat from Canada— main supplier of Britain's bread— has by agreement risen from $1.55 a bushel to $2.

The United Kingdom also has agreed to pay 18 per cent more for New Zealand meat under a seven-year contract.

Unless the government pays subsidies at whatever rate is necessary to keep down retail prices to present levels the whole intricate structure of Britain's economy may be endangered.

The country generally has responded to the government's request to place a ceiling on personal incomes until the emergency passes. This device to check inflation has been accepted on the tacit understanding that living costs would not rise.

Higher cost of subsidies will upset Sir Stafford's tidy accounting for the year, but there is little that can be done to help him.

Must Hold Own In Russ Talks Marshall Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—State Secretary Marshall Wednesday laid down the principle that in negotiating with the Russians the United States must not seek agreement merely for agreement's sake.

He applied this rule specifically to the international conference on Danube River navigation now under way at Belgrade, Yugoslavia. His words virtually told the failure of this meeting to produce east-west agreement on future operation of traffic on the vital waterway—unless there is a radical change in Russian policy.

Speaking at a press conference, Marshall declined to say whether the principle also applied to current talks in Moscow over the Berlin crisis and other German problems. But from the broad scope which he himself gave his remarks it appeared there was no question but that the rule does apply.

On the Moscow talk Marshall maintained the strict secrecy which the British, French, American and Russian governments all have imposed from the beginning.

Likewise, he declined to say anything about long-continuing negotiations between the United States and the western European countries regarding American military support for western Europe. These talks are going on in Washington under a secrecy agreement.

Two New Ships Will Cost U.S. 50 Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — (AP).—The largest contract ever let by the United States Maritime Commission called today for construction of two passenger vessels costing about $25,000,000 each for the American Export Lines, Inc.

The ships, 683 feet long with a top speed of about 25 knots, will be the second largest merchant ships to be built in the United States and the first passenger ships constructed here since the war.

The contractor is the Bethlehem Steel Corp., Quincy, Mass. The ships are scheduled for service in the Mediterranean trade.

The vessels will accommodate 972 passengers and crews of 551 each. They will contain 360 staterooms.

A commission announcement said that the award marks the first agreement by the shipping industry to participate in the merchant ship-building program jointly with the officials following congress' authorized commission and National Defense officials following Congress' authorization of $94,000,000 in contracts.

The government will pay 45 percent of the construction costs based on the difference in cost of building the vessels in American and foreign yards, as authorized by the 1936 Merchant Marine Act.

Launching of a shipbuilding program will help United States shipyards to regain "serious losses" in experienced shipbuilding personnel, a situation that has caused concern from a National Defense standpoint, the commission said.

Armed Chinese Kill Australian

SINGAPORE, Aug. 12 — (Reuters). — Four Chinese armed with ten guns and revolvers murdered a 48-year-old Australian and wounded his companion in an ambush today about 20 miles south of ipoh, Malaya tin centre.

The Australian, Baden-Powell Wells of Sydney, was cycling to work with 41-year-old James Ritchie of Angus, Scotland, when the terrorists surprised them.

Police have already arrested one Chinese suspect in the widespread combing-out which followed the murder of Wells, ninth European murdered for political motives since the terror wave blamed on Communists, started.

Two Chinese and a Malay special constable were murdered by 30 armed Chinese who raided the Coronation rubber estate two miles south of Kluang Johore state.

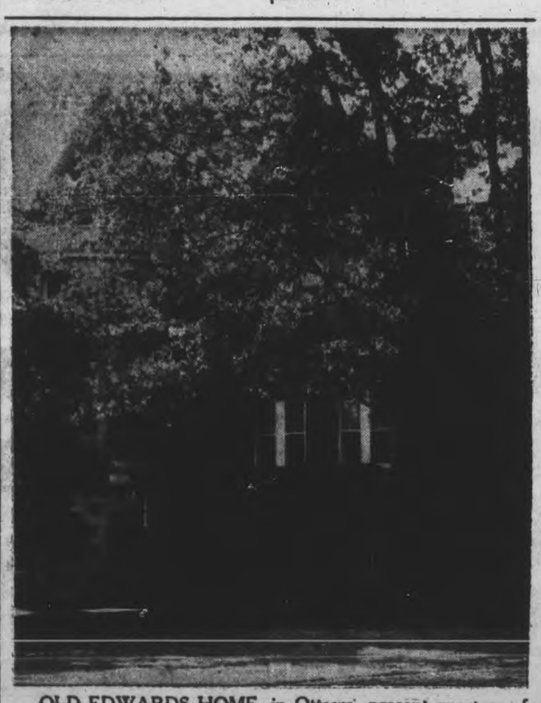
Price Controls Wanted By Labor

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor said Wednesday it has "insisted that the government take immediate action to re-establish price control and halt inflation."

Its president, A. R. Mosher, and secretary-treasurer, Pat Conroy, put forward that assertion in a letter sent Tuesday to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, new Liberal leader, and Finance Minister Abbott.



The letter, made public to-day, said every removal of price control on any commodity "has been immediately followed by an increase in its price.' The cost-of-living index had risen 21 points in the last year to a record 156.9.

Higher prices for soap and shortening would develop from the most recent removal.

The food index had risen 41.5 points in the last 12 months and "the great masses of the Canadian people have been forced to reduce their standards of living to the extent of undernourishment and hardship. The situation is one of compelling urgency." Inflation was in full swing.

'Pops' Cooper Dies Of Picton Race Injuries

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 12 (AP) —Jack (Pops) Cooper, 68-year-old speedboat racer from Kansas City, Mo., died Wednesday night of injuries suffered in a racing accident Aug. 2 near Picton.

Cooper was flown here for an operation after the accident in a race on Lake Ontario.

His boat had flipped out of the water at high speed and overturned on him.

Cooper held three motorboat records. His last race was in Topps III, the boat that carried him to a record of 66.809 miles an hour at Red Bank, N.J.

Cooper for years was one of the world's most famous speedboat racers. He found and provided thrills in a sport usually followed by younger men.

A prosperous Kansas City trucking operator, Cooper's age was almost a family secret—some writers had him 75 eight years ago—but there was nothing secretive about the little man's ability to flash his $3,000 craft across the finish line ahead of boats that cost from 10 to 20 times that amount.

Not Near Water

He was born in Birmingham, Ala. He lived most of his life in Kansas City, hundreds of miles from the nearest body of smooth water large enough to test his 225-cubic-inch hydroplane class boats.

"Pops" became interested in boat racing at the family's summer home in Minnesota in 1929 while he watched son Jack, Jr., creep around the lake in an outboard at no more than 12-miles an hour.

Cooper gave the outboards a try, then in 1936 switched to the inboard type, many of which he built in the garage of his transport business at Kansas City. In the years that followed he held at one time or another every world's record in the 225 class.

His time of 91.8 miles an hour over a one-mile, one-direction course at Salton Sea, Calif., in 1941 still is recognized as a world's record by the American Power Boat Association.

Among the brighter spots in Cooper's racing career were world's records in the National Sweepstakes of 1937 and 1938, the Picton, Regatta in 1941 and the Gold Cup Regatta the same year.

Order Inquest In Highway Death

LINDSAY, Aug. 12 (CP). — An inquest has been ordered into the death of Victor Allen Bardeau, eight-year-old son of Mr. Wilfred Bardeau, of Dunsford, who was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon.

Corporal Ralph Taylor and Constable Ray Lawson of Lindsay, who investigated, said the young boy was riding his bicycle out of the farm lane about four miles east of Dunsford and was proceeding across Highway 36 when he was struck by a car driven by an American visitor, E. G. Quellhorst of Chagrin Harbor Beach, Willoughby, Ohio, who has been summering at Pigeon Lake.

Band Concert Delights Crowd

MILLBROOK, Aug. 12—(ENS) A musical treat was provided for the community on Sunday afternoon, when the West Toronto Salvation Army Band paid a visit to the village, and gave a program of selections that lasted for an hour and a half. Reeve H. D. Bigelow welcomed the Band to the community, on behalf of the Municipal Council, and the citizens general, reply being made by Brigadier E. H. Green who was in charge of the service, and the program.

Bandmaster G. Jones also spoke and to provide variety in the conducting invited Gordon Baker, leader of the local citizens' band, to take his place for one selection; Captain Green, of the Port Hope Salvation Army, spoke briefly, and also conducted the band for one number. Her father, Brigadier Green, mentioned a visit to Millbrook over 19 years ago, and his pleasure in having his daughter now head of the S.A. in the neighboring town. Singing by the large audience present was another feature of the service, and Bandmaster Jones lined up fifteen of the local children to sing "Brighten the Corner Where You Are." John Stinson sang a verse or two alone, and when the young folk finished the applause was prolonged.

In order to help meet the expense incurred, a silver offering was taken, with generous response. The band came by special West York bus for the service, and the local visit was largely through the efforts of Bandmaster F. Brooks of Port Hope, formerly leader of the local band. The trip was initially planned for a program and service at Port Hope, the extension of the musical treat to Millbrook being specially appreciated by music lovers of the village and surrounding territory.

CCF Plans Drive To Enlist Greater Labor Support

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP). — A drive to enlist more active labor support for the C.C.F. party in elections will be undertaken as an offshoot of next week's national C.C.F. convention in Winnipeg.

Elated by the effects of labor backing in the recent Ontario Provincial election, party strategists are planning to use the C. C.F.-Labor co-operation program of Ontario as the basis of strategy for future contests.

In that campaign, the Canadian Congress of Labor for the first time threw the full weight of its organization behind its political affilate. For some years, the C.C.L. had supported the C. C.F.'s political aims but had not actively battled for it at election time.

Both C.C.F. and C.C.L. officials attribute the party's big Ontario gains in considerable measure to the Congress' work.

Since that election, C.C.F. planners have been analyzing the result of the labor campaign on the Ontario vote. They are going to weed out the admitted mistakes and generally polish up the plan of campaign for permanent use.

This task will be undertaken at Winnipeg by the C.C.F.'s National Trade Union committee, which has been relatively dormant in recent years but which has received new life from the Ontario results.

Will Draft Plan

The committee will draft a plan of political action between Labor and the C.C.F. at meetings this Saturday and Sunday. It will report to the main convention opening Thursday of next week.

A possible outgrowth of the new Labor program may be an attempt to obtain the support of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the older of the two trade union congresses. The T. L.C. has refused to associate itself with any political party.

Major issue at the Winnipeg convention will be the "first term" socialization program of the C.C.F., to be defined specifically for the first time.

As set out in a resolution from the party's National Council, the program would call for socialization of chartered banks, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the iron and steel industries, the farm implement and meat packing industries and fuels such as gas, oil and electricity.

Union Claims It Cannot Be Prosecuted

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (CP)—The Ontario Labor Relations Board reserved decision on an application by McKinnon Industries Ltd. for permission to prosecute a local union on charges of violating labor regulations.

The board Wednesday heard C. L. Dubin, counsel for Local 199 of the United Auto Workers (CIO) at St. Catharines, argue that under present labor legislation in Ontario, trade unions cannot be prosecuted for violation of labor rules.

Mr. Dubin also challenged the practice of signing wage agreements separately from collective bargaining agreements. He claimed that employees had a right to strike on issues not covered by a collective agreement.

The case arose from a walkout by 2,600 UAW members at the McKinnon motor parts plant, a subsidiary of General Motors Corp., nearly a month ago. The strikers demanded wage parity with the Oshawa and Windsor plants of General Motors of Canada.

The company sought leave to prosecute the union and the union bargaining committee on grounds that the union is engaged in an illegal strike during the term of its contract and in violation of labor regulations.

Not Comparable

Thomas Cook, president and general manager of McKinnon, said earlier that the company had agreed to consider an increase in rates before the wage agreement expired. This increase was intended to meet the increased cost of living and to bring wages at the McKinnon plant to the prevailing rate in the area.

But, he said, the firm had refused to deal with the differential between McKinnon and General Motors. McKinnon made automobile parts while General Motors made automobiles; the industries were not comparable.

Mr. Dubin contended that because a union is an unincorporated body, it has no legal existence and therefore cannot be brought to court under present regulations.

Sharman Learie, counsel for McKinnon Industries, contended that Mr. Dubin's suggestion that a strike can legally be called on any issue not covered by a collective bargaining agreement could result in industrial chaos. He said Mr. Dubin's argument relating to immunity of a trade union from court prosecution was not upheld by labor regulations.

Black Knights Attend Church

MILBROOK, Aug. 12 (ENS)—St. Thomas Anglican Church was the place of worship chosen for the annual attendance of the Royal Black Preceptory No. 945, held Sunday evening with the LOL Juvenile Band leading the parade to and from the church. In the absence of the rector, Rev. C. M. McLean, who is on holidays the guest speaker was Mr. William Taylor, president of the Lay Readers Association of Toronto Diocese, and who is himself a member of the RBP, and also a past district grand master of the Order.

Guest soloist for the service was Mrs. G. A. Spicer, Miss M. L. Collins accompanist. Lay readers for the lessons included Sir Knight P. E. Hamilton, and an officer from the Port Hope Lodge, who took the place of Sir Knight James Roddy, unable to be present. A pastoral letter from the rector, who is preaching during August at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Eastchester, New York city, warmly welcoming the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, under their Preceptor, Sir Knight William Blair, to St. Thomas Church, was in the printed order of service, and Mr. Taylor added his personal appreciation of their presence, and of the opportunity of adressing fellow members of the Preceptory. Mr. Taylor's father, whose death took place last spring, was the last surviving charter member of the Grand Lodge of British North America, and it was fitting that his son should be the speaker for the special service attended by the Black Knights on Sunday evening.

Basing his remarks upon Joshua's challenge on Israel, "Choose you this day whom ye will serve" and Moses' injunction to God's people, "Ye have not passed this way before," Mr. Taylor particularly stressed the obligation of the vsiiting Order to be true to the vows they assumed when joining the Black Knights, remembering that example far transcends words. Attendance at public worship is a part of this obligation, and "had we Christians at home done our duty, the young folk who came back from the war would not be shunning the church today. Communism is gaining in this country, and would soon stamp out the churches. We have not passed this way before, and never will again, so we need to obey God's voice when He speaks to our hearts urging active consecration in His service."

Upon return to the Lodge room, brief addresses were made by Mr. Taylor and other officials of the Order, including L. H. Winslow and R. I. Falls, representing the rector as the warden of St. Thomas church.

Ford Insurance Plan Accepted By Union

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—(CP). — The Ford Motor Company announced reaching an agreement with the United Autombile Workers (CIO) on an improved insurance plan covering 116,000 Ford employees. The program was part of the recent wage agreement. Union and company committees were then appointed to work out details.

The new program calls for 26 weeks of accident and sickness benefits ranging from $18 to $36 depending on the worker's wage. It will cost the employee $2.07 to $3.44 monthly. Death benefits average $3,000 or about a year's pay.

2 Boys Confess To Break-in; Get Suspension

LINDSAY, Aug. 12 — (ENS). — Dudley Cox, 16, of Toronto, a ward of the Children's Aid Society and the Bowmanville Training School pleaded guilty in local police court Wednesday to breaking and entering with intent, into the summer cottage of Scott Malcolm, of Toronto. He was given two years suspended sentence and allowed to return to the school. A companion, who is 16 this week, was given a similar sentence.

Provincial Constable Art Watson, Minden, said the boys were attending the Department of Education Training School at Bark Lake, when they left the camp and entered the Malcolm cottage at Boskung Lake, Haliburton.

"Mr. Malcolm and family were in swimming at time. The boys asked the owner for a boat ride across the lake to the camp and later confessed to entering the cottage. They then turned back to Mr. Malcolm cigarettes, money and some other articles missing from the summer home. A flashlight was tossed into the lake but can be recovered," said the officer.

Magistrate E. A. Gee admonished the youths severely in giving them suspended sentence.

Identical Costs Of Fertilizer Under Review

OTTAWA, Aug 12 (CP). — The Prices Commission, probing fertilizer costs, today sought an explanation of "identical" prices charged by Canadian Industries Limited and Agricultural Chemicals Ltd.

Prof. C. A. Curtis, Commisison chairman, said the companies charge identical prices for each type of fertilizer they sell.

Two witnesses from Agricultural Chemicals Lt., a Canadian subsidiary of American Agricultural Chemicals Ltd., of New York, were on the stand. They are Frederick Johnston of Port Hope, accountant, and E. A. Kelly, K.C., of Ottawa, a director.

Mr. Johnston said prices last year were raised to cover increases in cost and to maintain the previous year's margin of profit, about 11 per cent. He added, however, that before the firm issues its own price list it would want to know how they tied in with competitors' prices.

"Someone gets out a list and the others all fall in line?" Mr. Dyde asked. "Is that reasonable for the Commission to believe?" Mr. Johnston said in reply that the costs of competing companies were about the same.

FUR CAMPUS GREAT COATS—You don't have to be a student to choose one of the swagger greatcoats above, which give cozy warmth and sturdy wearing qualities at a modest price; any woman with an eye to a good buy (perhaps to take the heavy wear off a very special, dressy winter coat) will see eye to eye with the designers who can meld quality and budgets when they care enough. The all-fur coat, left (and full length) is made in soft silhouette, contrived to cover sports or best-dress occasions, while the model at the right is a wool serge number lined warmly and deeply collared and revered. There is a hood to be had as accessory for this coat, which is curved a bit to fit, and belted behind, polo or trench coat fashion. From the glamor date to the stadium fracas, the fully-furred coat will fill the bill; the other coat has no dressy intent, but is swank.

Teachers Ask Federal Aid To Assist In Education

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—(CP). — The Canadian Teachers' Federation today turned a hopeful eye on political conventions as it initiated a drive aimed at getting financial aid for education from the federal government.

Dr. C. N. Crutchfield of Shawinigan Falls, Que., told the CTF conference that federal assistance for education should be one of the plank put into these new party platforms now being formed.

Earlier, delegates approved a motion that the federation's board of directors become a standing committee to initiate and integrate a campaign seeking to achieve such aid.

C. J. Oates of Vancouver, CTF vice-president, said education in Canada could not be adequate as long as the very great bulk of national revenue was not made available for education. Education was not equipped to compete with the more substantial requests from other public services.

US Problems

Asked for comment on the United States picture, Dr. Willard Givens of Washington, executive secretary of the United States National Education Association, said in his country the evidence was very clear that there are many States that could not provide reasonable education for their children.

Dr. Givens said his association had been working for more than 30 years toward Federal aid to education. A $300,000,000 education bill which the NEA was attempting to have approved asked Federal money for public education without Federal control.

At a luncheon meeting, L. B. Pearson, Undersecretary of State for External Affairs, told the delegates that it was up to teachers to show students how to think clearly.

"Sloppy thinking, the result of bad education, can have disastrous results when applied to international problems," he said.

"Education based on truth, tolerance and understanding is our only hope," he continued. "An alert and informed public opinion must become the mainspring of action in every society if peace and freedom are to be preserved."

No Exaggerations For Junior Miss

PARIS, Aug. 12. (AP)—Jacques Heim's fall fashions for teenagers accentuate casual easy-to-wear clothes for the junior miss.

With a keen eye on what the "grown-ups" are favoring this season, Jacques Heim has designed clothes without exaggerating hip or bust contours.

His show was a complete education in French courtship, taking the audience through the perambulations of a teen-ager from the dress she is wearing when she meets her beau at a cocktail party, subsequently getting engaged, and finally married.

Day dresses have fullness swept to the back with youthful Peter-pan collars and cuffed sleeve. Waistlines travel both up and down.

He uses heather tweed for day wear, marine blue broadcloth and black velvet for more formal affairs.

A pretty ankle-length gray faille dinner dress came with three deep tiered flounces. Realistic-looking roses nestled in the softly draped deep-cut decolette.

A pure-white taffeta pin-dotted satin dance dress had a draped dropped hipline, which finished in two gathered-back panels caught with tiny bows. The front bodice was high, falling low at the back.

The Heim wedding gown was of ivory moire and had a 1948 draping dopped from the front waist below the knee at the back.

NEW FROCK FOR FALL — Never have we seen so many excellent dresses designed to bridge the gap between late summer and the early fall. Taking as kindly to late summer accessories as it does to an early fall hat, shoes and gloves is this urbane frock of black tissue faille. The flounced apron is finished with a modified bustle effect in back, a silhouette that marks the newest clothes. The waistline is tied with self fabric pipings in back.

Develop Health In Industry Nurses' Function

TORONTO, Aug. 12 — (CP) — The nurse in industry today has more to do than just attend to the cuts and bruises of workers.

So says Blanche Bishop, chief nurse at a large confectionery factory here. She is one of three Canadian delegates—and the only Canadian woman—who will attend the International Congress of Industrial Medicine in London, Eng., next month.

Miss Bishop said one of the industrial health nurse's main functions is to help workers develop good health—and a positive attitude toward health.

"It's just as important to point out to the average factory worker that a diet of doughnuts, pie, potatoes, beans and other stody goods isn't good for him as it is to care for his injuries," she says.

Miss Bishop was educated in Medicine Hat, Alta., and was graduated from the Ontario Hospital here in 1937.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Analyze Qualities Needed For Years Happy Marriage

A young woman who is contemplating matrimony asks: "What should an engaged girl take into consideration before she takes the final step?"

The answer to that is easy. It is EVERYTHING. For being a wife is the most complicated job on earth and calls for every possible gift and talent. In marriage a man can get by with a few basic virtues, but even the common, or garden variety of wife is expected to make good as a combination beauty, fascinator, financier, diplomat, cook, laundress, baby-sitter, press agent, etc., and even then her husband wonders what she does with her spare time.

Dorothy Dix

Inasmuch as no woman has ever yet been versatile enough to qualify on all of these points, it is perhaps just as well that the average girl in love doesn't bother her pretty head about them. For it certainly would put a crimp in the marriage statistic if she had any idea of her after they were married and he felt free to criticize her, instead of telling her how beautiful and wonderful she is.

Still and all, it is the wise virgin who sees that her lamp is trimmed and burning before she so blithely promises "I do." For she is due in the natural course of events to get many a surprise in marriage, and it is easier to take them if she has prepared herself for it.

Examine Self

There are three things, for instance, that every girl who is thinking about getting married should take into consideration. The first is herself. The second is the man with whom she is planning to spend the balance of her life. And the third is marriage itself. Yet not one girl in a hundred give these subjects a single thought.

No prospective bride sits down and tries to figure out the kind of a wife she will make. She doesn't ask herself if she has her temper under control so that she can give the soft answer that turns away wrath in a domestic brawl; or if she is going to work at being a wife so as to make her marriage a success; or if she is going to be willing to wear cheap clothes instead of the finery she has been used to; or if she is going to be a good enough soldier to take the hard knocks in marriage without whining. No, she thinks some miracle is going to happen that is going to turn a spoiled girl into a wise and patient wife.

She is marrying a long and prayerful consideration and ask Heaven for guidance before she signs on the dotted line. She should, first of all, try to decide whether she loves him enough to endure poverty and hard times and struggle with him. She should look his faults and weakness straight in the face and not kid herself into believing that she can cure a drunkard of his love for liquor, or make a shiftless man a go-getter. She should ask herself how he will be to live with, whether he will be tender and kind, or a tightwad, or a grouch, or a grinding tyrant who will make her marriage a hell on earth.

And how few girls ever give marriage any consideration beyond the white satin wedding dress and the bridal presents. How few brides ever look into their hearts to find out if they have the love that endures even an unlovable husband and the strength that turns even a poor marriage into a success!

These are things that a girl should consider when she is thinking about taking the final step. If she can okay them, ring the wedding bells.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. For the feverish distress due to gas on stomach or bowels or those common digestive upsets; give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. May Mundy, of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children, three of them prize babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies.

Quickly effective. Sweet-tasting—easily crushed to a powder, if desired. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Get a package today. Sickness often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Much more often a well-dressed woman has good basic models, and a lush assortment of various accessories to set them off anew with every wearing. We show you a clothes-tree trim of new accessories, poised on a winter navy broadcloth suit. The gal's hat is a felt bumper, enlivened with a colorful neck scarf; slide the chosen scarf through the coils of the hat construction to drape it to your fancy. A plain, polished navy calfskin belt accents a neat waist; kid gloves match the belt. A flat, flexible gold necklace has a double-rose pendant, with earrings to match.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, August 13

It is more than likely that congestions and crystallized situations could be rigorously attacked by direct and strenuous endeavors aided and abetted by hidden factors or clever strategies. Pursue a forthright and aggressive policy but with a subtle, perhaps secret, course of action. The element or personality, magnetism or charm, may prove the open sesame to set in motion desired objectives or uncertain propositions.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a constructive and progressive year by not only straightforward and aggressive grasp of major openings, but with finesse and personal appeal enhancing prospects for successful achievement. Plans and projects may be aggressively pursued but with astute, subtle or deep-seated purpose or plan of action kept well under cover. The element of personality, charm or exceptional magnetism, could have material force in promoting propositions of practical scope. Stratagem and tact could be wisely combined with initiative and enterprise.

A child born on this day while energetic and progressive, is also endowed with charm, finesse and personality to advance its workaday ambitions.

Cooked Meats Delicious In These Sauces

Leftover meats can be nicely dressed up for the second meal with tasty sauces that can make it even more appetizing than at first. Here are some new ones to try, and please don't miss the celery sauce which can also be a base for a casserole dish. For that "different touch" do have the raisin sauce on ham or tongue.

Mustard Sauce

4 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk, heated
2/3 tablespoon dry or prepared mustard (taste while adding)

Blend flour, melted fat and seasonings. Add hot milk gradually, stirring constantly to make a smooth blend. Cook until thickened. Add mustard cautiously, tasting between additions. Add one and a half to two cups of diced cooked meat, such as beef, tongue, liver, pork or ham. Serve on noodles, rice, biscuits or toast. Serves four or five.

Celery Sauce

4 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk, heated
1½ cups finely chopped celery
Or ½ teaspoon celery seeds
¼ cup chopped parsley

Blend flour, melted fat and seasonings. Add hot milk gradually, stirring constantly to make a smooth blend. Cook until thickened. When thick, simmer chopped celery or celery seeds in the sauce for five minutes, then add chopped parsley. Add 1½ to two cups diced cooked meat. Serve on toast, biscuits, fashed potatoes, noodles or cooked rice. Serves four or five.

Barbecue Sauce

2 tablespoons onion, chopped
2 tablespoons celery, chopped
4 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups tomato juice
1½ tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon vinegar

Brown onions and celery in fat. Drain. Add flour. Cook until bubbly. Add tomato juice, stirring constantly. Add seasonings. Yield about two cups.

Raisin Sauce

(For Ham or Tongue)

¾ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups broth from ham or tongue (fruit juice may be substituted)
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup raisins
1 lemon sliced thin
1 tablespoon fat

Mix sugar and cornstarch in top of double boiler and add broth gradually, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and cook until raisins are plump and mixture is thickened, stirring occasionally. Serve hot with ham or tongue. Yield, one and a half cups.

Butter Stealing Case Starts; Not Guilty Plea

Part of the crown's evidence against Barry O'Shaughnessy, Charlotte St., charged with breaking, entering and theft of 96 pounds of butter from Silverwood's Dairy, was heard this morning. Magistrate E. A. Gee is continuing the trial this afternoon.

The accused, represented by W. J. A. Fair, has pleaded not guilty. Another city man is also charged with the same offence and a third man faces a charge of receiving the stolen goods. The trials are being taken separately.

George Smith, sales supervisor of the dairy, said the O'Shaughnessy had been an employee of the dairy.

On the evening of July 14, evidence was given, Mr. Smith and Norman Stover, shipper, had returned to the dairy to find the butter box, in the refrigerator room, had been broken open and only eight pounds left of the 104 pounds of butter which Stover said had been there at 6.15 that evening. The padlock on the box had been forced open, he said. The door to the room, also locked, had not been disturbed.

James Pammett, chief engineer for Silverwood's, was key crown witness this morning. He said that, returning to the dairy after getting cigarettes across the street, he had seen the accused sitting in a taxi near the dairy. The witness said that he saw the other accused man emerge with a cardboard box, put it in the taxi, and drive away.

The witness said the only other entrance to the refrigerator room was through a conveyor belt door which led directly to the outside.

Edward Mumford, a taxi driver, said that about 7.20 that evening he had been commissioned by accused and another man to drive them to the house next to the dairy, where he had parked. The men got out and returned later with a parcel. Getting back into the cab, they had been driven uptown, where they got out at a hotel, and gave Mumford a $2 tip. Under questioning by Mr. Fair, the driver said he did not think from the looks of it that the parcel—which was a medium-sized box—did not look too heavy or hard to carry. It had been carried by one man, under his arm, he said.

Fred Dyer, another taxi driver, also gave evidence. He said that he had picked up the accused about 20 minutes to eight o'clock that evening at an uptown hotel. The accused had a box with him, which Dyer told Mr. Fair "definitely wouldn't weigh 100 pounds." He said its weight might have been 40 pounds. He had driven the accused to a lunch bar in the city where the parcel had been left, he said.

Booth Catches Fire In Port Hope Park

PORT HOPE, Aug. 12. — G. Isaac, Roy Cappier and a host of ball players at the Town Park Tuesday night took time out for a few minutes to extinguish a fire which had suddenly developed in the hamburger booth on the park grounds, and which spread up the booth's pole.

The fire was put out, but not before the top of the pole was slightly blackened. Found to be on the telephone pole at the main useless was the fire alarm box gate, which failed to send in an alarm.

TRAPPED—FOR A WHILE

Two boys, playing in a Water street doorway today, each had a pair of shiny toy handcuffs. One locked himself onto the door, and the other snapped a cuff on each of his own legs. The boy attached to the door forgot how to find the release, and was stuck for several minutes until the second lad undid the cuffs around his legs and released his friend.

WILLIAM LUDWIG ULLMAN, former U.S. army major, shown as he denied under oath, before the the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington, that he ever took part in the operations of a wartime Soviet spy ring. Ullman declared that the charges made against him by confessed spy Elizabeth Bentley, who said that Ullman photographed secret documents for transmission to Russia, were false.

Port Hope Plans For Fall Fair

PORT HOPE, Aug. 12—A committee meeting of the Port Hope Agricultural Society was held in the Council Chamber where members rushed through alterations to last year's program for the Fall Fair, and added new notes, new events or improved on others.

Monies donated for prize awards were allocated to events and it decided what amounts the Society would set aside for events not subscribed to by donors.

There will be a class for bulls one year old, for bulls in general, a class for sows, six to 12 months old and others. The members of the Society defined, in some cases, specified areas for entrants, to increase the competitive spirit, but at the same time, protect the run-of-the-mill entrant from the specialist.

Such persons previously wangled ways to enter several events with the same animal and walk off with all the prizes. This practice has to a large extent been squalshed by the re-arrangements made last night and will give more a chance to get in on the money.

Mrs. Jessie Poff, 603 Stewart St., paid a fine of $25 and $9 costs on her guilty plea in court today of charging more than reasonable rates for accommodation and not having the maximum rental rates fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Another charge under rentals regulations was withdrawn.

Close Trenton Plant Over High Taxes

TRENTON, Aug. 12.—(CP).—J. H. Craddock, president of the Benedict-Proctor Company, largest manufacturers of silverplate in Trenton, said today his plant will close tomorrow because of high taxes and wage demands.

The company, which employs 130 persons and as an annual pay roll in excess of $200,000, lost $28,000 on operations last year and $26,000 so far this year, Mr. Craddock said.

He said he would sell the plant and equipment as soon as possible.

Rambling Reporter

GOING HOME.

The young man behind her watched her walk east along Simcoe Street. She was not walking, really; she was staggering, for she had a great dunnage bag hoisted on her left shoulder and a cardboard carton about two feet high insecurely grabbed under her right arm. Twice in the long block from Aylmer to George she lost control of her burdens. People stared at her. The man wondered why she did not take a taxi. Had she no money, was she down-at-the-heel (she wore sandals), was she an old hag He came up to her and saw her face. She was petite, extremely attractive, aged sweet 16 or certainly not more than 21, with the bloom of youth on her face.

"Where are you going?" he asked her.

Panting but smiling she said, "To the express office on Hunter Street.

"I'll carry this for you." He picked up the dunnage bag. It must have weighed 50 pounds. Her thanks were ardent.

They crossed George Street. "Are you sending them far?"

"To Chatham. That is my home."

"Oh."

They walked along Water Street. He said, "Chatham is a nice place," and he wondered where she had worked in Peterborough, and why she was leaving.

She said, "Some people think it isn't very nice."

They waited for the lights at Hunter and Water. She said, "Maybe it isn't as nice as Peterborough, but it's home and I am going home."

He deposited her dunnage bag at the express office. He left her without even asking her name. That is the end of the story. The girl was simply going home.

Bewdley Farmer Has Heavy Loss

PORT HOPE, Aug. 12. —Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the barn of William Hanna, west of Bewdley Tuesday with the loss of 26 pigs, ten calves, purebred bull, ten sows and over 150 hens. Also burned were a mower, farm wagons and harness. The loss also included a considerable quantity of hay and grain.

By the time the light from the flames awakened the Hanna family, the fire was too far advanced to check. Loss of the barn, exclusive of stock and equipment, was estimated at $15,000.

CLEAR LAKE MUSKIE

N. Blake Pearsall, 15 Glenvale Blvd., Toronto, who has a cottage on Fidler's Bay, Clear lake, was quietly fishing for bass off the boys' Camp on Wednesday afternoon with a two-hook lure and 40-pound test line. He suddenly connected with a muskie that tried his equipment severely and he was able to drown the fish before getting it into the boat as he had no landing gear available. Mr. Pearsall sat on the gasping muskie and called across the water for the loan of a hammer which someone took out to him from shore and watched him deal the death blow. The fish scaled 18 pounds and was viewed by many envious fishermen at South Beach Hotel who knew it was rare to take a 'lunge out of Clear lake; it is pickerel-bass water.

Babe's Condition Slightly Better

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP).—Babe Ruth's condition to-day was reported as improved but still critical.

A bulletin from Memorial Hospital stated:

"Babe Ruth rallied this morning. His pulse is stronger. Condition improved, although still critical."

The home-run king, greatest long-distance slugger in the history of baseball, has been unwell for two years. He took a sudden turn for the worse Wednesday after developing a cold.

The Memorial Hospital Centre for Cancer and Allied Diseases said he was suffering from "pulmonary complications."

slightly Wednesday night, but the

The 53-year-old Babe rallied hospital said his condition was "still critical." Early to-day the hospital said there was "no change."

Only members of his immediate family and a long-time friend Paul Carey, treasurer of the Babe Ruth Foundation, were permitted in Ruth's hospital room.

After a visit Wednesday night, Carey said Ruth was "holding his own—definitely."

"He recognized us and spoke to us," Carey added. "He's thoroughly conscious and they are giving him a little nourishment, but let us not kid ourselves. The Babe is a very sick man."

Ruth's second wife, Claire, was at his bedside much of the time.

Savoie Drops Boxing Decision

EMPRESS HALL, LONDON, Aug. 12 — (CP). — Armand Savoie of Montreal today dropped a decision to Ernesto Formenti of Italy in the featherweight quarter-finals of the Olympic boxing tournament.

Eddie Haddad of Winnipeg and Esquimalt, B.C., lost to J. Vissers of Belgium in the lightweight quarter-finals.

Both decisions caused surprise among sports writers.

It was a rugged fight all the way, Savoie always unruffled and constantly side-stepping Formenti's windmill swings. There were no knockdowns.

The decision against Haddad in the other bout brought a howl of disapproval from the crowd, and Haddad was cheered when he left the ring.

Haddad made good use of his advantage in reach to hold off Vissers. Although Haddad landed more blows in the first two rounds, they appeared to lack steam.

-In the final round Haddad alnd ed at least a dozen punches to Vissers' one, moving in with left-hand shots which had the crowd on its feet at the bell. Vissers was wobbling and nearly out on his feet.

The crowd booed the decision lustily.

Kawartha Golf News

By JERRY SEABROOK

Looks like the following eight golfers are all that are left in the running for the president's cup: Mel Akers and Matt King, Ed Riley and Leo Ackford, Les Reid and Earl Hanbidge, Howard Woodcox and Ned Vitarelli. The same for the Kawartha cup are: J. Lucas and Ron Kemp, Doug Chamberlain and Frank Grey, Dave Praskey and Bill Moulton, Bill Edger and T. McCaig. The handicap committee would be much obliged if you lads could finish your matches by the coming week-end. The same goes for the McCaig, Butler, Grey, Raine and the Lucas, Woodcox, Riley and Arksey matches in the men's two ball race. Wouldn't like to see the axe fall.

Will those golfers who qualified for the club championship competition and who are unable to play in the city championshp matches kindly contact "Sandy" Sanderson re the same. It is very important that you do this little chore as the draw is being made at ths time: First match to be played at Peterborough Club August 22nd at 12.30; second matches to be played at Kawartha Club August 29th at same time.

Our club will play host for the Midland League this coming Saturday, August 14th. A large turnout from the outside clubs is expected and the same is expected of our golfers. A good chance to play with some swell guys from the district and to maybe win a prize for yourself, if you keep your head down. Tee off is officially 1 o'clock, although prearranged matches may tee off prior to this time.

Might be a good idea to check your handicaps on the file boys; saw Ned Vitarelli and Les Reid going over a few of your score cards the other eve with scissors in hand.

An appeal for old used golf balls was recently made by Christie St. and Sunnybrook Hospitals to be used by the boys in their psysiotherapy workouts. Your handicap committee are going to install a suitable container wherein you may deposit some of those old crocks you have been lugging around for the last while. Be doing a good turn for someone who is not as fortunate as yourself.

Canada Protests Haddad Decision

EMPIRE POOL, Wembley, Aug. 12 —(CP)—Canada official protested today the decision that cost Eddie Haddad his quarter-finals match in the Olympic boxing championships.

The Winnipeg lightweight appeared to have won easily over J. Vissers of Belgium, and the crowd booed the decision.

Vissers was all but out on his feet at the final bell. Earlier in the fight Haddad went down without a count but in the same round Vissers had points taken from him for holding.

Manager Dennis White of Montreal, grim-lipped, refused to file a protest until all hands in the Canadians' dressing room had a chance to cool off and talk things over calmly.

White filed the protest in writing.

Fire Still Threat On Swedish Freighter

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP) — The crew of the Swedish freighter Axel Salen today ended a night-long vigil in Chesapeake Bay with a fire still threatening in the ship's hold.

No injuries were reported from the fire, discovered Wednesday night when the ship was 12 miles from Baltimore harbor.

The Axel Salen is a sister ship of the Dagmar Salen which was badly damaged by fire off the Delaware coast July 3. Both vessels are operated by the Intercean Steamship Company for Swedish owners.

Smoke still rolled from the No. 2 hold of the 7,500-ton Axel Salen early today as the stubborn blaze continued to smoulder.

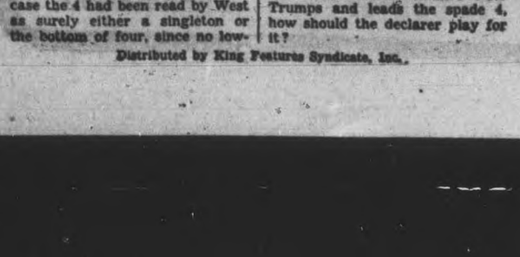
SAVE IT FOR LATER USE

A bit of thought will show you sometimes that one defender is almost surely going to ruff a lead just made by his partner. When that is apparent, there is no sense to putting in a top honor from your own side to have it wasted by trumping. Your job then is merely to be sure that the card led will not win the trick for the other fellowa. That means, you should stick in a card only high enough to be sure that the leadef does not get the trick, and should save the big honor for use later on, when it will do some good.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable).



South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♠

Play began the same at two tables of a duplicate where the spade game contract was reached. West led the heart 7, low being played from dummy and the K felling the Q. East returned the diamond 4 to the A and then West sent back the diamond 2. In each case the 4 had been read by West as surely either a singleton or the bottom of four, since no lower diamonds were out of sight, and the singleton reading was the more logical by far because otherwise East could not have had a clear-cut motive for the lead.

At one of the two tables, South made no such reading. He put in the dummy's K on the trick and East ruffed it off with the spade 2. Later that South had to take a licking, as there was no way for dummy's trumps to ruff out all of his losers.

The other South, reading the situation clearly, knew East would not have made a false-card diamond 4 lead if holding the Q, into the dummy's K-J. Counting up his losers to be taken care of, South saw he could afford to sacrifice the diamond J, in case East had led low from the 10-4 to fool him. So doing, he preserved the dummy's diamond K. Having there also the good heart A and J, plus trumps for ruffing, he made the contract easily after East ruffed the third diamond and returned the heart 10.

Tomorrow's Problem

1r West doubles South's 7-No Trumps and leads the spade 4, how should the declarer play for it?

British Soldier Describes Arabs He Leads In War

By RANALD MACLURKIN

LONDON, Aug. 12—(Reuters) Glubb Pasha, British commander of the Transjordan Arab Legion fighting against the Jews, reveals his personal views on the Palestine trouble in a book, entitled "The Story of the Arab Legion."

"The Jewish tragedy owed its origin to the Christian nations of Europe and America," he writes. ". . . But when it came to the payment of compensation in expiation of their past shortcomings, the Christian nations of Europe and America decided that the bill should be paid by a Moslem nation of Asia."

The 52-year-old desert soldier, centre of controversy since he stayed on as commander when his troops entered Palestine, writes that the "villians" of the Palestine tragedy were not Jews, Arabs or British.

Ironically enough, the Arabs and the British had discriminated against the Jews less than any other races of the West. Other nations of Europe and America, some of whom had discriminated against—and others actually persecuted — the Jews, did nothing whatever to solve the problem which they had created.

"They one and all refused to accept any displaced Jews themselves were were loud in their criticisms of Britain and the Arabs for not doing more.

::Is it an exaggeration to brand such an attitude as cynical and immoral?"

Heavy Influx

Saying that at least 600,000 Jews have entered Palestine since 1920, he estimates an equivalent "invasion" of Britain would have meant an influx of 25,000,000 aliens.

"Would any people in the world have accepted forcible immigration on anything approaching such a scale?

"Yet once the Jews, under European influence, came to look upon themselves as a race, can they be blamed for wanting a country?"

On the Jewish case for Palestine, Brig. Glubb comments that habitation 2,000 years ago can scarcely be accepted as justification for a claim to the ownership of a country today. Would it be practicable, he asks, to hand back North America to the Indians?

"A Jewish claim to the ownership of Palestine, based on the Balfour Declaration, is no less difficult to justify. When that declaration was made, 90 per cent of the people of Palestine were Arabs.

"Now, democracy is the political creed of the British government. By democracy we mean that the majority of the population has the right to decide policy . . . In every country in the world except Palestine, Great Britain advises the adoption of this system. The Arabs of Palestine alone have not been allowed a voice in their own future.

"European Colonizers"

"It was one of the many ironies of the Palestine muddle that the Jews, who seemed in Europe to be an oppressed minority, arrived in Palestine in the buise of European colonizers. Many of the parties which in Europe and America have been the loudest to denounce European imperialism, yet support the forcible colonization of Palestine by military force.

"A movement which to Europeans stands for liberal idealism is thus transformed in Palestine into military imperialism."

Only one chapter is devoted to Palestine in what is otherwise a fascinating account of life in the desert and Arab customs, told by a born story-teller.

John Bagot Glubb, son of a First World War general, first went to the Middle East in 1830 as a volunteer to quell the Adab revolt in Iraq. He has lived among the Arabs ever since.

Speaking Arabic better than any other European, Glubb is loved by the Arabs who call him affectionately "Father of the White Camel."

He, in turn, loves the Arabs, and his description of their wild charges into battle, singing and calling out the names of their sisters—traditional desert battle-cry — is exultant.

"I believe the Arab tribesman to be first-class military material," he writes. "I am convinced that they are the same men who conquered half the world 1,300 years ago.

Allies Barred From Danube Control Body

Austria Can Join After Peace Treaty With Her Is Signed

BELGRADE, Aug. 13 (Reuters) — The Danube conference today excluded Britain, France and United States from participation in the future Danube navigation control body.

The general committee of the 11-power conference accepted by seven votes to three article 5 of the Soviet draft convention limiting the future Danube commission to one member each from the Soviet Union, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, The Ukraine and Czechoslovakia.

Austria will be able to join after the peace treaty with her is signed.

The committee also rejected by the same vote a United States amendment providing for immediate participation of the western powers and Austria in the commission. The amendment urged participation by Germany after the signing of the peace treaty or earlier if generally agreed.

Britain Withdraws

Britain withdrew an amendment on the same lines and the conference threw out a similar French amendment.

This rebuff to the West today made it unlikely, observers thought, that Britain, France and the United States would sign the convention when it is completed.

Andrei Y. Vyshinsky, Soviet delegate, and Ana Pauker, Romanian delegate, were not present at today's session. Mme. Pauker returned to Bucharest Thursday night.

Dutch Honor Canadian

OTTAWA, Aug. 13—(CP). —The Netherlands Government has conferred the award of the Bronze Lion on Acting Brig. Jean Victor Allard, officer commanding the eastern Quebec area, it was announced today. The award was in recognition of Brig. Allard's contribution to the liberation of Holland in the Second World War. The citation accompanying the award said that Brig. Allard, as commander of the 6th Canadian Infantry Brigade, participated in a battle around Beilen and in the capture of Groningen. The capture resulted in the cutting off of important parts of the German armies.

12 Die In Crash Of Superfort; 8 Others Hurt

ROSWELL, NM., Aug 13 (AP). —Twelve crew members were killed and eight others were injured critically Thursday night in the crash of a B-29 Superfortress, the Roswell Record says to-day. The ship crashed three miles south of Walker Air Force base near here.

Col. John D. Ryan, Field Commandant, announced that eight men escaped, but declined to say how many were dead pending notification of relatives.

The Record says its count on the death toll comes from a responsible source, but one which can not be quoted.

The plane was on a routine training flight. A board of officers has been appointed to determine cause of the accident.

Russ Teacher Jumps Out Window

Vice-Consul's Offer To Change Hospital Refused By Patient

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (CP)— Mrs. Aksana Stepanovna Kosenkina today rejected the suggestion of a Soviet vice-consul that she be moved to another hospital, saying "you kept me a prisoner, you would not let me go."

The suggestion was made by Vice-Consul Zot I. Chepurnykh who visited the police-guarded hospital room of the Russian teacher, seriously injured Thursday when she jumped three storeys from the Soviet Consulate building.

Detective William Dyczko, a Russian-speaking officer who was in the hospital room during the vice-consul's visit, said Mrs. Kosenkina said, "No!" when Chepurnykh advanced his suggestion.

The vice-consul, the detective added, then told her in Russian that the Soviet consul general wanted to see her. Mrs. Kosenkina replied, "I do not want to talk to anyone. I do not want to see anyone."

"Kept Me Prisoner"

Then, the detective said, came the vice-consul's suggestion that Mrs. Kosenkina consent to be moved from the hospital to another hospital, and her refusal with the accusation that "you kept me a prisoner, you would not let me go."

The vice-consul was accompanied to the hospital by Lomakin's secretary and an unidentified man.

Mrs. Kosenkina, the 52-year-old teacher, was in critical condition in hospital with a strong New York police guard.

Police said Mrs. Kosenkina expressed fear of Consulate officials who went to the hospital and tried to see her.

"I do not want to see anyone from the Russian Consulate," a detective quoted her as saying. "I'm afraid to see them. I fear them and I will not see them."

Pawn in a cloak-and-dagger struggle between Communist and anti-Communist Russians, Mrs. Kosenkina suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries when she flung herself from the window after five days alleged imprisonment in the consulate.

Denies She's Prisoner

Yakov L'omakin, the Soviet consul-general who led a band of Russian officials on a self-styled "rescue" of the woman last Saturday from a White-Russian (anti-Communist) camp, vigorously denied she had been a prisoner in the consulate.

Excitement ran through the fashionable neighborhood when the teacher leaped at 4.20 p.m. (EDT) Thursday from the ornate consulate on East 61st street, a few steps off Fifth avenue. The building had been a centre of attraction all week as scores of po-

United States Cattle Market Open To Canadians Prices Up About 30 Per Cent

Immediate Price Rise Likely G. Matthews Says

Price effect of the lifting of the bars against export of Canadian beef cattle is likely to be reflected here immediately, Gordon S. Matthews, general manager of Canada Packers, told the Examiner today.

Farmers have been keeping their cattle in their own hands, expecting some action from Ottawa, and as a result stocks of beef in packing plants are light, and the domestic market is all the more sensitive to the opening of the outlet across the border.

"Our beef prices are bound to be higher, but just how much they will be affected is more than I can say now," Mr. Matthews commented. "They may settle down at the American price, less the duty of 1½c a pound and the freight costs of another cent on live cattle and three cents on dressed beef.

It is altogether likely that packers will try to sell dressed beef in the United States. It has been expected that beef prices will rise considerably, following the lifting of export restrictions. That will probably react on the price of pork, and we may see advances in those products, but I don't think there will be much change in the price of lamb."

Long Agitation

The announcement of Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, is the outcome of long and persistent agitation by beef farmers in western and eastern Canada for the removal of the export barrier along the U.S. border. It was one of the subjects in lively discussion at the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture in Toronto last January. The group of beef producers contended that they should not be deprived of the advantage of the higher prices they could obtain in the United States. Large centres of population to the south were close to the sources of Canadian production in both the east and the west, it was argued. General sentiment of the delegates then supported the agitation of the beef cattle men, but there was some foreloooking question raised as to the ultimate effect on the agricultural economy of this country.

The right of the producer to sell his cattle in the best available markets was the nub of the farm demand.

The other side of the picture, the consumer's interest, is the injection of new competition for the supply of Canadian beef. The market across the line is at a higher price level than in this country. One of the factors supporting those prices is the higher level of earnings and income in the United States. That is what the Canadian beef farmer is aiming at, and reaction in this country is bound to boost the prices of steaks and other beef products

Ban Now Removed After Six Years; US Quota Up

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced today the lifting of export control of beef cattle and calves, effective next Monday.

The relaxation applies to beef and veal, dressed and other edible beef and veal products, canned foods containing meats, and meat pastes, as well as to livestock on the hoof.

It means that the United States cattle market, closed to Canadian beef producers for six years, again will be open.

It also means that retail beef prices in Canada will shoot up, possibly by as much as 20 to 30 per cent.

The ban on exports was imposed in September, 1942, to maintain supplies of beef for Canadian consumers and to aid in the enforcement of price controls. Had it not been put into force, beef supplies would have drained into the higher-paying American market.

Mr. Gardiner also announced that export permits now will be issued freely to anyone wishing to export oats and barley from Canada. Since Aug. 1, equalization fees formerly charged on the export of oats and barley have been discontinued.

400,000 Head

Officials said that while the United States has no restrictions on the number of cattle to be imported at the minimum duty of 1½ cents a pound liveweight, the total quota under the new agreement is 400,000 head annually for cattle weighing more than 700 pounds, against the old total of 225,000 head.

In addition to live cattle, Canadian beef and beef by-products also may find a market in the U.S. under the new duty rate of three cents a pound established by the Geneva agreement, compared with the old rate of six cents a pound.

As to the number of cattle which might be exported to the United States, officials noted that in 1944 exports of beef, mainly to Britain, were equivalent to more than 600,000 head of cattle. Since then export surpluses have drop-

Two Russ Teachers Offered Asylum In United States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(AP).—The United States State Department today promised asylum for two Russian school teachers who have figured in current Congressional spy investigations if — as expected they want to remain in the United States. At the same time, the Department disclosed that the Russian government's claim that official agencies of the United States were involved in "kidnapping" at least one of the teachers have been denied directly to Foreign Minister Molotov by Walter Bedell Smith, United States Ambassador to Russia.

Demand Return

MOSCOW, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Soviet Union has officially demanded that the United States turn over Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, a Russian school teacher, Samarine, a Russian school teacher and his family to the Soviet Consulate in New York.

Foreign Minister Molotov summoned the United States Ambassador, Walter Bedell Smith, to the Kremlin Wednesday to convey the demand, Tass disclosed Thursday night.

The official Russian news agency said Molotov also protested what he described as the "kidnapping" of Samarine and another Russian teacher, Mrs. Stepanovna Kosenkina.

Tass said Smith "promised to bring to the attention of the United States government the statement of Soviet government and assured . . . Molotov that American authorities would investigate the facts set forth in his declaration."

Jury Decides DeLuca Killed

TIMMINS, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Mystery still shrouds the May 4 stabbing death of Frank DeLuca, gold town gambler and one-time highgrader.

An inquest jury Thursday returned a verdict of "murder by persons unknown" but the four-hour public hearing shed little light on the motive for the killing.

Witnesses said they heard a scream from the direction of DeLuca's expensive house on Riverside Drive in suburban Mount Joy township but paid little attention. They thought it connected with a drunken spree.

Laurent Mongeon, a neighbor of the slain man, said about the hour police believe DeLuca was stabbed, he saw two men carrying or dragging a third man.

"I figured the three of them were all drunk," said Mongeon. "The middle man seemed to have passed out and the other two were dragging him into the house."

Mrs. L. Pacquin, another neighbor, said she heard low moans coming from inside DeLuca's house and Girard Chartier said he saw two strange men come out of the DeLuca home about the time of the slaying.

Maharajah Will Fly To India At Weekend

PARIS, Aug. 13 ((AP)—Trans-World Airline officials said today the Maharajah of Baroda has booked plane passage to India for tonight.

The 42-year-old ruler, one of the world's richest men, dismissed as "absurd" Thursday night in London charges he misappropriated almost $10,000,000 in Baroda State funds.

Officials in Baroda said, however, they expected the Maharajah to return this week-end to answer the charges.

Resting at his Headley, Surrey, home in England after a trip from the United States, the ruler let it be known he was not angered by demands for his abdication.

"Why should he be?" said his secretary, Chotalal Bhatt. "These charges and allegations are not news to us. It is repeatedly going on. It is what happens in India."

Police Hold Father In Son's Stabbing

VITA, Man., Aug. 13—(CP).—John Hrynyk, 34, of Vita, Man., today is in serious condition in hospital here, allegedly following an argument which led to a knifing. His father, George Hrynyk, 69, has been charged by RCMP with wounding, causing grievous bodily harm.

The argument occurred Wednesday night, police said. Following the quarrel John Hrynyk left his father and went to the home of a neighbor near this town 55 miles southwest of Winnipeg.

Police say he was followed there by his father, who apparently stabbed him in the stomach.

Scares Off Attacker

BOLTON, Aug. 13 — (CP) — Screams of a 42-year-old Bolton farm wife scared off a man who, police said, assaulted her Thursday in her home. Mrs. Lloyd Rutherford told police a man drove to the farm and filled his automobile radiator with water. Later he returned and beat her when she said she knew nothing about some money he claimed he dropped.

Ask Police Chief To Resign Post

THESSALON, Aug. 13 (CP).— Members of the Police Committee of the Thessalon Town Council asked for the resignation of Chief Constable Richard Boath following two closed meetings held this week. The action against Boath was the outcome of a charge that he was intoxicated while in uniform on Saturday night.

This leaves Thessalon with only one police officer on duty, in place of a normal complement of three. Several weeks ago, Constable Michael Scanlon was dismissed from the force following an episode in which a car, which had been stolen and recovered, was stolen a second time from beside the town jail. He was not replaced.

Constable Neil Montgomery, formerly with the Sudbury Police Department, has been appointed acting chief constable, pending a decision as to whether Provincial Police will be brought into the community.

Expect 3 Allies To Ask New Meeting With Stalin

LONDON, Aug. 13 (Reuters)— Representatives of the three Western Powers in Moscow are expected to bring the long-drawn-out discussions in Moscow to a head by asking shortly for a further interview with Prime Minister Stalin, diplomatic observers here said today.

The report on Thursday night's meeting between the envoys of Britain, France and the United States and Foreign Minister Molotov, has reached London.

The three Western envoys may have another meeting tomorrow with Foreign Minister Molotov on the German question if they receive further instructions from their governments in time.

Today was a quiet day for the envoys—Frank Roberts of Britain, Yves Chataigneau of France and Walter Bedell Smith of the United States—as they awaited a reply to their reports on their fifth meeting with Molotov.

The foreign office here continued its news blackout on the progress of the talks but it was learned that Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor in Germany, will fly to London from Berlin to advise on the technical aspects of the Moscow talks as far as they concern the situation in Berlin itself.

The United States Ambassador, Lewis W. Douglas and French Ambassador Rene Massigli called at the foreign office today, soon after the report on Thursday's meeting with Molotov had been received, to study the dispatch together with Sir William Strang, British representative on the three-power Berlin emergency committee.

Diplomatic observers thought Sir Brian's summons to London was an dincation the Berlin currency problem was the main subject of their deliberations and possibly also of Thursday's talks in the Kremlin.

Russians Evacuate Beriin Kommandatura

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—(AP).—The Russians evacuated the Allied four-power Kommandatura building in Berlin today and hauled down their flag.

This action appeared to complete the division of Berlin between the east and west—at least as far as the Russians are concerned.

The Russians withdrew July 1 from the Allied Kommandatura, which had provided four-power administration for this city for three years. They pulled out with the comment that "the Kommandatura no longer exists."

They then announced they would retain their sentry and flag at the building until their archives have been removed. The Kommandatura is situated in the American sector of the city.

Jews Turn Down Latest UN Peace Proposal

ROME, Aug. 13 — (AP). — Count Folke Bernadotte said today the Jews have turned down his latest try to bring peace to Jerusalem. "They are taking an enormous responsibility," he commented.

The United Nations Palestine mediator had asked Arabs and Jews in Jerusalem not to return any fire directed at them after 2 a.m. E.D.T. today. He received a cable from the Jews rejecting the order a short time before he left Rome for Red Cross conferences in Geneva and Stockholm. The Arabs had agreed to the request.

The cease-fire was the first step in Count Bernadotte's latest attempt to bring about the demilitarization of Jerusalem.

Count Bernadotte said Thursday night he thought Arab irregulars were to blame for Thursday's Latrun pumping station blast.

The act, which has held up Jerusalem's water supply, enraged the Jews and further endangered the Holy Land's shaky peace.

"I am very disappointed with this destruction," he said. "I repeat once more that if I had received United Nations guards, I only asked for 40, who would have guarded the place day and night, this would not have happened."

The station had been held by the Arabs, but was placed in a "no-man's-land" Wednesday by agreement between the Arab legion and the U.N. Control was taken over by U.N. personnel and the Arabs had withdrawn about 1,000 yards away.

Name Steindhardt Envoy To Canada

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 — (CP)J. — President Truman today named Laurence A. Steinhardt to be Ambassador to Canada.

Steinhardt, a veteran career diplomat, succeeds Ray Atherton, recently named as alternate delegate to the forthcoming United Nations general assembly meeting at Paris.

The White House announced that the President is giving Steinhardt a recess appointment, subject to confirmation by the Senate at the next Session of Congress. Steinhardt's last assignment was Ambassador to Czechoslovakia.

Two Supply Planes Crash

Both Crews Escape Without Serious Injury

BERLIN, Aug. 13—(AP).—Two United States four-engined "Flying Coal Man" planes spanning the Soviet blockade of Berlin crashed while landing during a heavy rainstorm at Tempelhof airdrome today.

One smashed through a fence and burned but the crew of three escaped through an emergency hatch without serious injuries.

The other plane, coming down through clouds a few minutes later, landed on a half-completed runway and was heavily damaged. The crew was unhurt.

It was first reported that the C-54 which crashed and burned was carrying food and that the crew was trapped. Later it was learned that the plane carried coal.

This plane careened through a fence a few yards short of one of Berlin's busiest streets. One wing and part of the fuselage and cargo burned before firemen put out the blaze.

This morning's crashes brought to five the number of crashes since the air lift to Berlin was started. Five Americans have been killed in these accidents, but there have been no fatalities in the RAF.

Scotland Blitzed By Flood

Cattle, Crops And Factory Losses High

EDINBURGH, Aug. 13 (CP) — Flood damage running into thousands of dollars affected crops, livestock, race horses and factory equipment in Scotland Thursday night and early today after torrential rainstorms described as the "wors tin memory."

Dozens of Edinburgh families were evacuated from their homes. Horses, sheep and other animals were swept to their death in the open sea while carcasses and whole hay stacks were seen floating down some of the swollen rivers in the east of Scotland.

Stable boys stranded in a racing stable tried to pacify terrified race horses. At a greyhound stadium which went under about four feet of water about 20 dogs were drowned and much damage done.

Hardest hit was the east country town of Dunbar which was completely cut off by road, rail and telephone. Trains into Scotland were badly delayed by rerouting and the Flying Scotsman, one of the country's fastest express trains took 18 hours to travel the 350 miles from London to Edinburgh.

In England, harvesting hopes which rose earlier this week after a rainy week-end fell again as rain drenched grain in many counties.

Cattle Market Very Active During Week

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (CP). — The Toronto Livestock Market this week was generally active on all grades as improved-quality cattle early found buyers after the previous week's low-grade run. Prices for good-quality animals advanced 50 cents and in spots as much as $1 on all grades of brandable cattle.

The cattle run of 7,317 was some 1,800 more than the previous week and about 200 more than for the same week in 1947. Cows and bulls closed steady to last week's close and good quality stockers were slow at prices steady at last week's close.

One spot of interest was a lot of five polled Angus which sold Tuesday for the unprecedented top of $26 a hundredweight. These calves averaged 507 lbs. each and were bred in Peterborough County.

The top on weighty steers was $24 against last week's top of $23. The general price increase was in keeping with the increased quality over last week.

Weighty steers sold from $18-$23.50 with one load at $24 a hundredweight. Butcher steers sold from $19-$22. Heifers ranged from $16-$20.50 with one load at the extreme top of $21. Good butcher cows sold from $13-$14, with a few light heifery cows up to $15. Common to medium cows sold downward to $11 and canners and cutters downward to $5. Bulls, most of which were common quality, sold steady. Good bulls sold up to $15, with commoner kinds selling downward to $10.

Close Strong.

Fed yearlings closed strong at $20-$24 with an odd top of $24.50. God quality stockers sold steady at $15-$17.50 with a few loads of short keep feeders selling up to $18.25. Common stockers were slow, selling downward to $12. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $100-$160 each. Grass cows sold from $8-$12 a hundredweight.

Calves totalled 1,956 head. Good quality stockers sold steady for the week on an active market at $21-$23. Common to medium calves gained $1 selling downward to $15. Actually good to choice veals gained $1, although the top was unchanged from last week. The bulk of sales this week were at $23, while last week the bulk of calves sold at $22. Thin grass calves sold for slaughter at $9-$12.50.

Hogs totalled $1,688 head. The prices advanced 50 cents a hundredweight on hogs and $1 a hundredweight on sows. Grade A hogs closed at $33, Grade B1 at $32.60. Sows were $23 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 3,167 head. Lambs opened to small local buyers at $24.50 for good ewes and wethers with $1 discount on bucks. Monday afternoon they dropped another 25 cents. At the close, off car lambs were selling at $24.25 and off truck $24. Demand has eased off and it is expected that lamb prices will drop slightly next week. Sheep sold at $5-$9, with a few at the extreme top of $9.50. Cull lambs sold at $15-$20, according to quality.

Free Constable From Assault

TORONTO, Aug. 13. — A 25-year-old Toronto police constable was freed of a charge of assault by Magistrate F. C. Gullen yesterday. PC Norman Caskie of Pape Avenue station had been charged by workman Robert W. Porter with having beaten him shortly after midnight August 3.

Porter, 32 years old, is serving a 30-day term on an assault charge which had been laid by Constable Caskie. The constable admitted he had struck Porter "three blows" and knocked him to the pavement, but only after the later had struck him.

Magistrate Gullen said, in dismissing the case against PC Caskie, that the policeman had acted in self-defence and that he had not gone to extremes in subduing Porter.

Porter, who arrived in court yesterday morning with two healing black eyes, told the magistrate that Caskie "hit me with his fist and gave me the boot" while both were in the rear of a police cruiser. "My hands were handcuffed behind my back," said Porter. "I am quite sure another policeman, or even policemen, struck me, and if I only knew their names I would have charged them, too."

The 1½-ton lifeboat, powered by an inboard motor, can carry food and medical supplies for a 500-mile cruise.

Welcomes Move

At Toronto, Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario welcomed the announcement the Federal government is removing restrictions on export of beef cattle and calves.

"Speaking from a farmer's point of view, it's a good thing," said Col. Kennedy who operates a farm near Toronto.

He forecast an immediate increase in prices to producers ranging from $25 on a low-grade beef animal to $100 on a top-quality steer.

Norman McLean, general manager of the Canada Packers plant here, said he would guess lifting of the embargo would raise beef prices 20 to 25 per cent "or in some cases as high as 30 per cent."

'If Canadian consumers are not willing to pay the equivalent of United States prices farmers will ship their cattle to the U.S.," he said. There were enough cattle to supply the Canadian demand unless housewives balked at high prices and producers diverted supplies from the Canadian market.

Millburn Approves

V. S. Millburn, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said the move was a boon to farmers. With no market for beef in Britain, they faced a possible glut of cattle this fall and that would have probably brought down prices to producers. He said effect of the move would be to increase beef cattle prices in Canada to, or almost to, U.S. levels.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, in Toronto today on his way to his Saskatchewan farm for a holiday, said "the embargo is being lifted on my recommendation."

licemen and reporters were posted outside, during the rapid-fire developments in the controversy over Mr. Kosenkina.

Vice-Consul Zot I. Chepurnykh said "the whole incident is being taken to the highest level," as the dramatic leap heightened United States-Russian tension against a background of alleged espionage.

Had To Get Out

Mrs. Kosenkina summoned Vladimir Zenzinov, an anti-Communist White-Russian friend, to her bedside Thursday night, and he quoted her as saying:

"I was struggling to break out . . . I was like a bird in a cage. I had to get out."

Mrs. Kosenkina was guarded by two policemen in her room, six detectives on the floor and six patrolmen and a sergeant at the hospital entrances.

White Russians have said Mrs. Kosenkina has been fighting against returning to Russia after a teaching assignment here because she fears she would be killed.

When the teacher leaped and landed in a courtyard police on guard outside the consulate climbed a fence to help her. Consulate employees carried her inside as she moaned "leave me alone." She was taken to the hospital 40 minutes later. Police radio orders cleared the streets for the ambulance trip

The vice-consul said the woman had been "extremely nervous" since the alleged abduction by White Russians and her "rescue" by the Red Russians.

Want To Take Care of Her

She had "complete freedom" at the consulate, he said, and could have gone out. He added that "she was definitely depressed by the public attention, which disturbed her too much."

Mrs. Kosenkina is a Soviet citizen, the vice-consul said, and "we want to take care of her and we are responsible for her."

The woman's plunge brought these other developments:

1. A demand by Representative Karl Mundt (Rep.-S.D.) of the committee on un-American activities, Mrs. Kosenkina's leap be investigated fully as to whether she "jumped or was thrown."

2. An assertion by Common Cause, Incorporated, the anti-Communist group which tried to have her produced in court, the jump "proved its charge she was being held against her will."

3. A statement from Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.-N.H.) the "tragic and dramatic escape" of Mrs. Kosenkina 'highlights the immediate necessity of limiting Russian activities in the United States."

Demand Punishment

Tass said Molotov demanded "punishment for all persons participating in the kidnapping of the Soviet school teacher Kosenkina" and protested the "laxity of United States authorities in permitting these criminal actions regarding Soviet citizens."

Molotov was said to have repeated Soviet charges that Mrs. Kosenkina was kidnapped with the participation of the Tolstoy Fund, a White-Russian group, and was held at the Tolstoy Farm against her will until her "rescue" by the Russian Consul-General.

(The Tass announcement came as Mikhail Mikhailov, one of the Moscow radio's top commentators, charged that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was implicated with the "White Guard" in the current cases. His broadcast was heard in London.

(Mikhailov said the Russian public is "deeply indignant" over the Samarine and the Kosenkina cases.)

HAVANA, Aug. 13.—(AP). — Police announced Thursday night the arrest of three men as suspects in Wednesday's $562,000 robbery of the Havana branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The announcement said two other persons had been detained as material witnesses. The announcement said the three suspects answered generally the descriptions given by employees of the bank who had a chance to see some of the robbers.

One of the three suspects was described as a former policeman. Another was said to be the acting chief of police of one of the government ministries. In Cuba the various ministries maintain their own police which keep order and act as watchmen.

ped off until, in the first seven months of this year, exports amounted to the equivalent of only 35,000 head.

"However, in recent weeks cattle marketings have been on the increase," they said, "and there is no doubt that there will be a substantial seasonal surplus of beef in Canada during the remainder of this year."

Don't Have Tests

To meet requirements of the U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry, cattle and calves for export to the U.S. from Canada in carload lots for slaughter do not have to be tested but must be accompanied by an official veterinarian's certificate.

Range cattle and calves for export to the U.S. from Canada, for purposes other than slaughter, must have passed a negative tuberculin test within 30 days prior to export.

Cattle, (and calves, if over six months of age), other than steers and spayed heifers, must also pass a negative test for brucellosis (Bang's disease) within 30 days prior to export and be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian government.

All cattle and calves entering the U.S. are subject to inspection by a veterinarian of the U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry at port-of-entry and may be rejected for physical defects, abnormalities or evidence of disease.

The bureau will not permit transportation by motor in truck into the U.S. of cattle intended for slaughter unless the cattle are accompanied by tuberculin and blood-test certificates as required for Canadian cattle entering the U.S. for breeding or dairy purposes.

Effect Slow

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(CP) —Lifting of Canadian export control of beef cattle and calves will have little, if any, immediate effect on meat supplies and prices in the United States, officials here said today.

Canada has no great numbers of cattle available for immediate export, United States officials said in an announcement.

The announcement said it is believed Canada may be able to ship the United States about 100,000 head by the end of the year.

Most of the cattle will be of a type commonly called "feeder"—that is, cattle which usually are kept on feed for a while for further fattening.

Ottawa Plans Inquiry In TCA Accident

By DON MACKENZIE

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 13 — (CP). — All but one of the 11 passengers that escaped unhurt Thursday when a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane from Montreal caught fire as it touched the ground, continued their journey Thursday night to Prestwick in a substitute airliner.

The one exception was David Thompson of Montreal and Toronto whose passport and other papers were lost in the fire.

Today, the fire-gutted fuselage from which six crew members also made good their escape, was the subject of an investigation by transport department officials.

Pilot Doug Holland of Montreal brought his machine in for a normal landing at nearby Reserve Airport at just before 4 a.m. E.D.T.

Everything was in order; there was no hint of danger. Stewardess Rita Meyer of Kitchener had given the "fasten your straps" instruction to the passengers.

Suddenly, just short of the runway, there was a terrific bump as the starboard wheel of the North Star encountered an unseen object.

Split seconds later the machine was on the ground and Pilot Holland was fighting desperately to keep a straight course and prevent a crash.

Tank Punctured

Flames belched from the starboard wing and licked along the fuselage, fed by a spout of gas from where a tank was punctured by the damaged undercarriage. The plane left a path of fire in its wake as the gas gurgled out.

When the plane came to a halt about a mile down the runway steward-purser Jack Triggs of Montreal opened the aircraft door and leaped the 15 feet to the ground. There he broke the fall of the passengers as they were bundled out into the darkness by Miss Meyer, Co-Pilot Bob Penrose, navigation officer Gil Evans and radio officer Bob Wright.

Airline officials said the accident was caused by the aircraft striking a mound of earth, where men had been working during the past week on airfield installations, about 20 feet off the edge of the runway.

To this theory transport department investigators did not subscribe wholeheartedly.

Baby Contest Highlight Of Lawn Social

COBOURG, Aug. 13 (ENS). — Annual carnival on St. Michael's Church lawn, held Thursday night, was the most successful in its history. The supper, 5 p.m. until 7.00 was attended by a large crowd and the carnival that followed was well patronized. Threat of rain and rumblings of thunder, late in the evening, did not discourage the crowd, which remained until the carnival was ready to close. Much of the preliminary work was arranged by Rev. Father G. J. Maher.

The baby popularity contest created much interest, the big wheel was well-patronized during the evening and the crowd was so large that serious consideration is being given to extending the booths further west towards the convent building next year.

False Alarm Not False; Fire Doused

CAMPBELFORD, Aug. 13.— (ENS). — Information received Thursday from the Campbellford Fire Department indicated that what was thought to be a false alarm on Wednesday evening was actually a serious fire.

The brigade was called out to an indicated location on the canal road, in the vicinity of the Ayrhart storage shed, and there being no fire apparent, returned to base.

At the same time, on the other side of the trees, employees of the Gair Company's pulp mill had just succeeded in extinguishing a blaze in the Rosser house at the foot of the large conveyor, and very close to the big pulpwood pile.

There was some damage to the interior framework of the metal-covered building, and considerable damage to a 15 h.p. motor, which is now undergoing inspection.

The fire was extinguished by a team under the direction of Gilbert Winstanley, who also notified the town fire hall of the occurrence.

Heavy Rain Hits Campbellford Area

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 13 — (ENS). — The town was treated to a first class rainstorm at 5 p.m. Thursday, when a heavy downpour flooded the streets for the better part of half an hour.

The rain was accompanied by a high wind which caused the rain to sweep down the streets at such a rate that the heavily taxed gutters were almost flooded on Front Street.

The only damage reported from the wind was a damaged cotton banner announcing the Rotary Club Carnival, and two heavy limbs blown from a tree on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Thomas Brennan, on Mill Street.

The thunder and lightning remained in the distance during the storm which darkened the streets to the point that lights were burning in all the stores.

16 Officers Promoted Navy Has Announced

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP).— The Navy to-day annonuced promotion of 16 officers. The list includes 11 Reserve-Force lieutenants promoted to lieutenant-commander, one RCN commissioned officer promoted to lieutenant, and four warrant officers promoted to commissioned rank. Two of the promotions are those of the commanding officers of H MCS Chippawa, Winnipeg, and HMCS Cataraqui, Kingston.

Church Stresses Moral Leadership

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (CP)—Besides overcoming complete paralysis from poliomyelitis, George Brigden, while still confined to bed, dictated two senior matriculation subjects to an examiner and obtained first class honors.

After being stricken with polio while on vacation last summer George was unable to move his fingers. Movement was gradually restored while he studied with a special teacher. At the end of the school year he dictated his two examination papers and came through with flying colors.

NO END OF VARIETY

Experts estimate that it is possible to make 63,000,000,000,000,000 different billiard shots on a standard table.

OBVIOUSLY NOT HAPPY about the whole thing, H. F. Albers, one of General Douglas Macarthur's key advisers in Japan, is shown after he was ordered suspended and returned home for a loyalty investigation. Mr. Albers was chief of the Allied headquarters' price and distribution division. He was suspended on August 6 by a U.S. army department order "pending an investigation for separation by removal warranted by the demands of national security."

Political Realism

The resolutions passed at the Liberal Convention last week do not make exciting reading and in the aggregate they do not provide a brilliant handbook for party action. Some commentators in the Conservative press have suggested that they mean nothing at all. We do not share that opinion; we feel that the colourless, cautiously-worded Liberal resolutions cloak a great deal of political sagacity. The Liberals have committed themselves to nothing which they cannot accomplish and they have carefully weeded anything of an inflammatory nature out of their undertakings. In this they differ from both the Progressive Conservatives and the C.C.F., for both of those parties are lavish with promises of spectacular change. But the Liberal party, which has governed for so long, has a tradition of political realism which forbids such extravagance. To promise something which cannot be done, or to undertake to do something which is inflammatory in effect but not in essence worth doing, is the way to political ruin, and the Liberal Party knows it.

* * *

Consider a single incident at the Convention: the last clause of the resolution on national unity read "As a symbol of national unity the Liberal Party favours a distinctive Canadian flag". The younger men and women of the party were greatly exercised by this suggestion, and speeches were made from the convention floor demanding that a flag containing neither the Union Jack nor the fleur de lis be evolved; there were hot demands for a Canadian national anthem; some speakers wanted a party plank demanding the right to amend our own constitution. But when the resolution finally was passed the clause about amending the constitution was dropped, and so was the national anthem; and "an exclusively Canadian flag was advocated". Weasel words? Perhaps. But nothing has been promised which cannot be delivered, and nothing has been undertaken which, for a trifle, will provoke a national wrangle. The Liberal Party declares itself to be the party of national unity; it will not jeopardize national unity for a wrangle about a flag or a song.

* * *

"Politics is the art of the possible, the attainable". This famous dictum of Bismarck has been for many years the guiding principle of Canadian Liberalism. It is neither noble nor spectacular, but it gets things done. And the discipline which the Liberal Party has placed upon itself—the refusal to push lost causes and impossible loyalties, the refusal to promise schemes of economic and social reform which a slight change in the temperature of the world may blight, the refusal to make unqualified statements of any kind—is the outcome of many years of responsibility.

* * *

This sort of caution might be contemptible if it were not balanced by the remarkable record of national advancement, social reform and effort in war which the Liberal Party is able to lay before its detractors. The Liberal Party is the least adventurous of Canadian parties when it comes to committing its intentions to paper: it is the most adventurous of Canadian parties in trying new social experiments and in those rapid improvisations which the government of a young country calls for. Political realism is never a stimulating spectacle at conventions, but it works remarkably well as the mainspring of a party in power.

The Dud Nickel

The Canadian five-cent piece is bad money. That may be a treasonable thing to say, though it is not the King's effigy on the coin but the stuff underneath which riles us. It (the coin) is not nickel, it is not even coin; it is made of some muck called "tombac". A person goes into a restaurant for a cup of coffee, and bangs down a five-cent piece (pardon, two of them) on the counter. What happens? The so-called coin drops with a dead thud—no bounce, no ring, no pleasing tinkle. It is utterly false, for it looks like a five-cent piece and shines honestly, but below the surface is a heart of mud. It is just a cheap four-flusher. Perhaps that is why a cup of coffee costs two nickels instead of one and why the cashier likes to be presented with a silver dime rather than two dud nickels.

Honest money is very important to the spirit as well as to the economic health of a nation. Consider what happened in countries like Holland and Italy during the war. First the honest silver money disappeared and was replaced by wooden, plastic or baked mud coins. By that time, times were bad. Then these disappeared and were replaced by paper money—coinage ceased to exist. By that time, times were really bad. If a nation is to feel confident in itself it must have good coins. Our five-cent piece is not a good coin.

During the unholy depression of the thirties it was common to hear the expression about not having one nickel to rub against another. That was in days when people believed in nickels. Now the proper expression of penury would be "I have one nickel to rub against another". Even children know that they are down-and-out when they have merely two of our false five-cent pieces. (What can they buy with them anyway?)

People wail about the high cost of living. If things are to take a turn for the better, the first step toward the turn might be to give us proper, honest five-cent pieces again. We can even believe that the chief reason for the new all-time high cost-of-living index of 156.9 is that the tombac five-cent piece is a dud, worthless as real meal money.

The Recruiting Campaign

The Honourable Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence, has announced that in September a formal recruiting campaign will be initiated. Canada has now 17,000 men in the army, 12,500 in the air force and 7,000 in the navy. This strength is much greater than it was three years after the First Great War. Then there was no immediate large threat to world peace; now there is. Our defence services must be as adequate as our means permit in both equipment and man-power. If the defence experts and the Government think that we should have more men in the services, then they should be secured.

The life and pay of a serviceman is now greatly improved from what it was in 1921 and even during the last war. The three services offer excellent opportunities for educational, economic and professional advancement to young men of ability.

High service pay and a great expansion of our three armed services cost money. As the Montreal Star remarks:

> Let the fact be mentioned now lest those who advocate a great increase in our defence strength later on complain about the cost and the high level of taxes. We cannot have it both ways. In matters of preparedness we must be prepared to meet head-on not only those who call us warmongers but also those who complain that the defence they demanded costs a lot of money.

It is an exacting question how much we should afford to pay in times of peace for our defence. There are powerful forces urging a really huge increase of our defence expenditures. It would be wise to listen to the people who believe that Canada has a duty to cultivate the arts of peace and that it cannot be done by a country crippled by large expenditures on armament and by vast numbers of its men committed to cultivating the arts of war.

What Substitute For The Maharajah?

The Maharajah of Baroda has been accused of spending $10,000,000 on his personal pleasure during a period of six months, although many people in his domain are suffering from want of common necessities. There is a demand, in consequence, that he should abdicate. The Maharajah denies the allegation, and is returning to India to deal with it.

Although nothing has yet been proved against the Maharajah a great many North American moralists have hurried into print, condemning the Indian Princes wholesale and insisting that their day is done.

Perhaps the day of the Indian Princes is over; we have no means of judging these things. We wonder, however, what system of government could be substituted for autocratic rule in a state where a majority of people are desperately poor and illiterate. Take away their prince, and what have they? Certainly not democracy.

Nor are Indian princes invariably scoundrels, by any means. The grandfather of the present Maharajah, the Gaekwar of Baroda, was a very great humanitarian, who did much in his lifetime to relieve the distress of his people. If the present Maharajah is to be turned out, is there a government which can carry on the work of reform which the great Gaekwar began?

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Our readers are invited to send questions, either of general interest or related to local lore, to this column.

ARE there any negroes living in Peterborough?

ANSWER: During the last year one family of coloured people has come into the district and operate a restaurant on Highway 7 beyond the Lock's Bridge and outside the city limits. There are no negroes living in Peterborough. The city has a remarkably homogeneous populace. According to the last (1941) Dominion census, 99.5 per cent. of the population was of British origin. People of Irish origin used to predominate, but now those of English extraction are in the majority. The proportion of Canadian-born is very high—85.15 per cent. These 1941 figures now need revision, in view of the recent immigration into the city and district. The 1945 preliminary report of the City Planning Committee is already outdated when it says "Immigration as a factor in the growth of the city is decreasing in importance".

ALPHA: I shall not say "Dear Alpha" because I think it is scandalous the way you wrote about gracious Queen Victoria's father last week. I am sure that you invented the story about the Duke of Kent, her father, having a mistress, and invented her name. You are probably just a Tory, and a wicked one at that. This is not a question for you to answer. I just want to say I think you are quite ungentlemanly and indecent.

ANSWER: Dear Lady. I shall call you "dear" even though I resent your slur about my being untruthful. I do not invent stories for this column. The Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, did have a mistress. Her name was St. Laurent. She was a Canadian. The Right Honourable Louis St. Laurent would probably be pleased to claim kinship with Madame St. Laurent, if he could. She was a fine lady. When the Duke of Kent decided that he had better marry so that there could be an heir to the British throne and to get a bigger income to reduce his debts, he was very anxious that Madame St. Laurent should be fittingly provided for. He assured a British official to whom he communicated the news of his willingness to marry (since his brothers had not produced an heir), that Madame St. Laurent was of good family and not an actress.

He said: "I am the first and only person who ever lived with her. Her disinterestedness, too, has been equal to her fidelity. When she first came to me, it was upon 100 pounds a year. The sum was afterwards raised to 400 pounds, and finally to 1,000 pounds, but when my debts made it necessary for me to sacrifice a great part of my income, Madame St. Laurent insisted upon returning to her income of 400 a year. If Madame St. Laurent is to return to live amongst her friends, it must be in such a state of independence as to command their respect."

When the Duke of Wellington heard that Edward, Duke of Kent was prepared to marry, and the reasons, he laughed. "Nothing could be more first-rate than royal Edward's ingenuousness. One does not know which to admire most—the delicacy of his attachment to Madame St. Laurent, the refinement of his sentiments towards the Duke of Clarence (the Duke of Kent's elder brother who seemed unwilling to marry), or his own perfect disinterestedness in pecuniary matters". As I said last Friday, Madame St. Laurent, who was thus rejected in order that an heir might be provided for the throne (she turned out to be Victoria) and to reduce his debts, retired to die in a convent.

DEAR ALPHA: On Saturday night the moon was nearly new, but you could still faintly see the whole circle of the moon as well as the bright bow of the new moon. Why is that? Has it any special meaning?

ANSWER: The phenomenon is not uncommon. It is sometimes called "earth-shine", or more poetically in the ballad 'Sir Patrick Spens':

> "....the new moone
> Wi' the auld moone in hir arme"

The light we ordinarily see on the moon is sunshine reflected from the moon's surface to the earth, but occasionally as last Sunday evening all of the moon is faintly lit up. That light is sunlight shining on the western part of the world (which has still daylight) which is reflected to the moon, and then back to the earth. That is why it is called "earth-shine". I am not aware that there is any special significance to it, but some people say that it forecasts a change of weather.

WHY is Peterborough called Peterborough?

ANSWER: It is named in honour of the Honourable Peter Robinson, Superintendent of Immigration for Upper Canada and a brother of John Beverley Robinson, Chief Justice of Upper Canada. In the late winter of 1825 he went to Ireland under the auspices of the Upper Canadian and British Governments, set up an immigration office at Conway's Hotel, George Street, Cork, and sorted out applications from 60,000 Irish paupers and would-be immigrants. One of the shorter applications interesting to read came from a Peter Fane: "Sir: I beg leave to represent y'r Honour that I, and an intended emigrant for Upper Canada, am fully satisfied to Embark for the same, with the exception of my children. Being arrayed to bear any if the Frigids. Nor am I provided with any farming utensils and in fine I am not able to defray any Expense to the beach. Sir, I am Anxious to know whether I am to be provided with any of the above. Honoured Sir, I remain, Yours exceptionally, Peter Fane."

Nine ships sailed from Cork in April and May. The voyage took 31 days. In all 2,034 Irish immigrants settled in this district. Before the 1825 Peter Robinson immigration the total population north of Rice Lake was less than 500.

HEY!

Dickens' "Dismal-Fronted Pile"

By John Reddin in the Milwaukee Journal

A GLOOMY landmark, the fortresslike old Tombs prison and the adjoining criminal courts building—standing empty and foreboding on Lower Manhattan's Centre Street since 1941—will be completely razed in six weeks.

For what purpose the site will be utilized remains as moot a question as it was 160 years ago when local authorities pondered and then rejected the idea of converting the region, then known as "Colleat Pond," into a park because it was too remote for the city's 53,000 inhabitants.

Perhaps as city planners weigh such current proposals as creating a park on the site or erecting there a new and enlarged police headquarters, the grim memories of the two municipal eyesores, and an equally infamous predecessor known as "The Halls of Justice," will gradually fade from mind.

Since February, methodic wrecking crews, wielding forty-five ton steam shovels, towering crane booms and squat bulldozers, have been reducing to heaps of rubble the red stone courthouse with its marbled pilaster interior. Now other wreckers have moved on the old granite city prison, have breached its north wall and are cutting it down stone by stone.

* * *

BELATEDLY, the workmen are carrying out the wishes of generations of New Yorkers going back as far as 1858 when the original courthouse and prison was opened. Its builder had patterned the structure after an Egyptian mausoleum.

The tomblike pile was in the form of a parallelogram, 253 feet long and 200 feet deep, and had cost $430,000. The public, however, viewing it with a jaundiced eye, urged that the main building be torn down immediately.

To the journalist, James Gordon Bennett, the structure was a "loathsome and dreary charnel house." Charles Dickens, recalling in his "American Notes" a visit there, wrote:

"What is this dismal fronted pile of bastard Egyptian, like an encnanter's palace in a melodrama! — a famous prison called the Tombs.

* * *

BECAUSE of the filled-in marshland which comprised the foundation, the courthouse was the source of constant criticism and was condemned by successive grand juries as "unfit for its purposes."

Not until almost the turn of the century was the original structure demolished and the courthouse now being razed opened for business. In 1902, the Tombs resembled a medieval castle, was completed on the block bounded by Leonard, Centre, Lafayette and Franklin streets.

Wooden pilings had been sunk into the marshy earth beneath the courthouse building but as they settled unevenly foul odours seeped through the crevices of the floor and gaping cracks appeared in the walls of the courtrooms. By 1916, conditions had so deteriorated that an official report was issued condemning the building.

But despite its precarious underpinnings, which once caused the late Mayor F. H. LaGuardia to observe that the building "was held together by adhesive tape," its courtrooms were the scenes of many of the most notorious and publicized trials in the city's history.

* * *

WHEN the late Harry K. Thaw was on trial for the fatal shooting of Stanford White, curious spectators anxious to view the proceedings paid $25 to obtain tickets of admission to the courtroom.

The trial was one of the most spectacular that the late William Travers Jerome—who as district attorney was for eight years a staunch crusader against gambling and vice—had served as prosecutor.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey first gained national prominence in the old criminal courts building when he smashed an alleged "loan shark" ring in 1935 and won stiff sentences for twenty-three convicted usurers.

In 1938, in one of the last major trials held in the structure, Gov. Dewey, newly elected district attorney of New York County, presented sufficient evidence to convict James B. Hines, Tammany district leader, of a charge that he was the political "fixer" for the policy racket operated by Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer.

The millionaire playboy, Thaw, and the political bigshot, Hines, were only two of 500,000 men and women accused of felonies and misdemeanors, from murder down to peddling, who walked the drab and narrow Bridge of Sighs that linked the court with the Tombs.

* * *

SPANNING Franklin Street, fifty feet above the pavement, the steel barred passageway was torn down in 1942, and its steel used in the war effort. Another covered steel bridge, spanning White Street from the north side of the old courthouse to the former district attorney building at White and Centre streets, was known as the Bridge of Hope. Constructed in 1917, it was razed last month.

The Tombs during its four decades of use was no more invulnerable from criticism than was the adjacent courthouse. As depressive appearing within as it was without, the building was the frequent target of charges that it was unsanitary and overcrowded.

Once termed a training school for criminals, the old Tombs was described in a survey twenty years ago as one of the four worst prisons in the country. Because of its site, in which its cell windows overlooked busy streets, and also because of its internal setup prisoners were encouraged to try to escape.

The most daring and fatal try for freedom occurred in 1926 when three criminals, armed with revolvers, made a break. In the ensuing gunfight, the warden, a keeper and two prisoners were dead and the third prisoner fatally wounded.

An investigation which followed revealed that within the years previous to the attempted break by the trio twelve other trios for freedom had been made and had been thwarted.

* * *

OF escapes that were made good, one of the most remarkable was accomplished in 1912 by Reynolds Foshery, awaiting trial on charges of murdering a jeweler and cigar store clerk. He got out of his cell by crawling through a ventilator and then clambering over the fifty foot outside wall.

Vincent Gaffney, a Hells Kitchen hoodlum murdered by gangsters in 1931, made his way out of the Tombs by a series of leaps that covered seventy-five feet from the seventh tier to Leonard Street. Three other inmates, in 1933, got out by way of a dumbwaiter shaft in which they let themselves down to the ground with the aid of a rope fashioned from bedsheets.

No one has escaped from the new Tombs located in the modernistic seventeen story structure facing the old buildings. On one occasion a prisoner on his way for trial managed to walk from the line in which he was marching and strolled out of the building, but that occurred in the court part.

Oddfellows Began At Waterloo

All this stems from a sabre stroke at the Battle of Waterloo.

When his service as a soldier in the Napoleonic wars ended with a head badly mauled, James Reid a pensioned-off invalid, lived in a little English cottage near Hawarden, the family home of Prime Minister Gladstone. Time was heavy on his hands. He began to interest himself in a lodge, the Grand United Order of Oddfellows.

When he packed his luggage to come to Australia in 1846, his sea-chest contained a charter to establish the Order in this country.

For two years he found convivial companionship in the old Star Inn, in George Street, Sydney. One night in October of 1848, he called his friends to the taproom of the inn, founded that night the Travellers' Home Lodge No. 731, which is still in existence. Until 1853, Bro. Reid was Grant Master of the Order in NSW.

In October of this year the centenary of the Order will be held in Sydney. Surveyors have found the site of the Star Inn. It is now the staff club of a large store. First anniversary function will be held there; attending will be Bro. Shaw, Past Grant Master of England. He'll bring with him as a gift from English Oddfellows a set of memorial gates, to be erected at the Oddfellows' new community settlement on a 70-acre bushland site at Northmead—homes for aged people and a war memorial hospital in memory of the 700 members who fell in two world wars. It's the pay-off for the money NSW members sent during the blitz to aid suffers from Luftwaffe raids.—Sydney (Australia) Sun Columnist.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And all the days of Enoch were three hundred sixty and five years: and Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him. (Gen. 5: 23, 24.)

* * *

And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. (Ex. 33: 11.)

* * *

And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities. (Matt. 11: 1.)

* * *

And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore . . . And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. . . . Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive: for this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear. (Matt. 13: 2, 10, 11, 13-16.)

Reading in Bed

"TOPICS of the Times," I note with considerable ruefulness, can discern no virtue in that age-old habit—reading in bed. The thought occurs to me that your learned essayist has not surveyed all aspects of a matter upon which he expatiates with more dogmatism than understanding.

Is it not generally known that reading pursued in a horizontal position doesn't invariably constitute a prelude to slumber? There are those of us—admittedly an indeterminate number—who indulge in such mental exercise during the early morning hours.

Lacking the ability to woo Morpheus with the tenacity displayed by some of our fellows, we may envy them their good fortune. In fact, were we not so addicted to reading in bed, we might be tempted to make our wakefulness a source of annoyance.

Any number of ways by which those early morning hours might be made hideous come to mind—mowing the lawn, clipping the hedge or, as some are wont to do in the evening, turning our radio on at full volume.

The time-honoured practice of reading while in a reclining position, it seems to me, deserves to be cultivated rather than discouraged. The human mechanism, relieved of the necessity of supporting its own weight, can then devote its full potential to developing what is referred to—not mistakenly, I hope—as the intellect.—Letter to The New York Times.

Police Brutality Charged In Car Trial

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP) — Charges of police brutality and references to a mysterious "Mr. Shrimp" were heard Thursday at the trial of four men who police claim were members of a $500,000 stolen-automobile racket.

The four, all committed by Magistrate Glen Strike for trial on charges of theft, are William Olsen, 36; John Selignan, 38, and Charles Spivak, 21, all of Montreal, and James Casey, 38, who told police he comes from Cherry Beach, Ont.

Olsen and Selignan testified that Montreal police threatened and beat them after they were arrested in that city.

In the witness box in his own defence, Olsen said that statements he made in Montreal are not true.

"I would have said anything to get away from the Montreal police," he testified. "The Ottawa police are all right. But I made that statement in Montreal to stop the police from beating me."

Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier asked: "You lied to the police in Montreal so as to get to Ottawa?"

"Yes," said Olsen.

"At least that is your story," Mr. Mercier commented.

Olsen referred to "Mr. Shrimp" and "Mr. Sully" of London, Ont., but neither person was identified to the court. Olsen contended they are responsible for much of the theft-ring activities of which he and the other three are accused.

The four were arrested in Montreal last July 16.

Nobody Seems To Suffer Much In Espionage Investigations

By CYLDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (CP) —When the House Committee on Un-American Activiites goes to work on a group of Communist suspects it is like tipping over a hive of stinging bees and the current "espionage" investigation is no exception.

The committee, headed by the red- (and often purple)-faced Representative J. Parnell Thomas (Rep. N.J.), has heard this week such an amazing string of espionage charges and denials involving present or past high public officials that its members are screaming to the Justice Department for perjury prosecutions.

The same thing has happened before and although there are a number of contempt indictments awaiting appeal nobody has suffured much.

Advice of Counsel

The suspects who are refusing to answer questions about their Communist party affiliations or even about their acquaintance with others accused are doing it under advice of counsel and with the full protection of their constitutional rights not to testify against themselves.

Hopeless," the disgusted chairman snorted when one suspected former State Departmnt official refused to answer whether or not he (a Reserve Army officer) was a member of the American Legion on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me."

"Liar or Worse"

Most of those already examined, among the 30 or more named by Elizabeth Bentley have called her a liar and worse, under oath.

Either Miss Bentley is a remarkable liar or the Federal Bureau of Investigation is inefficient or there has been wholesale perjury. She told the FBI her story in August, 1945, and worked on as an agent under surveillance for another year and a half.

It is on the record that in the three years since she told her story the FBI has been unable to find any discrepancies in it.

In any event the stories have been so diametrically opposed that the peppery "Cajun" representative from Louisiana, Democrat F. E. Hebert, angrily shouted "perjury" and called on the Justice Department to act.

Smiling Accuser

Miss Bentley, guarded by two husky secret secrvice men, takes it all with a smile. She has told her story so often she repeats it without nots. She smiles winningly at stony-faced witnesses she has accused of personally giving her secret information, even when they are swearing that she is a liar.

In any event, Miss Bentley, in 1945, acting under instructions and under surveillance of the FBI, received $2,000 and the Order of the Red Star for distinguished service to the Soviet Union, and the FBI is keeping them for her.

Fatally Injured

TORONTO, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Alexander Gushall, 78, was fatally injured and Esther Ealey, 70, was severely hurt when they were hit by street cars on the same street Thursday night. Both accidents happened at about the same time. Gushall and Ealey both suffered fractured skulls. The man died in hospital shortly after his accident.

2 Montreal Papers Raise Price To 5 Cents

The Montreal Daily Star increased its price from three to five cents last Monday.

When the latest increases become effective five of Montreal's eight dailies, including the Gazette and Le Devoir, will be selling at five cents.

Newspaper selling for three cents are the Herald, Montreal Matin and Le Canada.

Oshawa Pioneer Spirit

OSHAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP). — There's still a bit of the pioneer spirit left in this district. Thursday 200 farmers gathered at the farm of T. C. Glaspel for an old-fashioned barn raising. They had the barn up in less than four hours.

Chinese Get Planes

GODERICH, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Surplus Harvard aircraft, bought by the Chinese government, will soon leave here for Los Angeles, California. Twenty-five pilots arrived Thursday to take charge of the planes, now being tested here by Sky Harbor Air Services pilots.

MEAT BOYCOTT—When Mrs. R. D. Vaughn of Dallas, Texas, began telephoning to friends and neighbors asking them not to buy fresh meat this week in an attempt to force prices down, she started something that has now spread throughout the big cities of the United States. Here Mrs. Vaughn has the moral support of her husband as she crusades among Dallas housewives by phone. Many big cities, including New York, have followed her lead and gone one better by picketing butcher shops.

Polio Research Underway Emphasis On Rural Areas

The spotlight of this year's poliomyeltiis is swinging to rural areas away from urban centres as the survey begun last year at the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children and the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories is intensified and extended.

The object of the survey, financially supported by the life insurance companies operating in Canada, is to trace to the source the poliomyelitis virus and to find out in what way the child contracts this dread disease.

Immediately a case of poliomyelitis is reported in certain rural areas, research workers are despatched to the scene and an intensive ivestigation is undertaken. This enquiry examines possible sources of infection, hygienic conditions of the home and any fact that might provide a clue as to how the poliomyelitis virus attacks the child.

In concentrating their work in rural areas, the research workers beleive that, because of the fewer contacts a rural child has with other humans, they will be able to map accurately the course of the virus from point or origin to the point where the disease attacks the child. They have found in the past that urban children have a wider variety of contacts than those of rural sections and that it is much more difficult to trace such contacts. They believe that the rural child, coming as he does in contact with fewer people but the same sources of infection, may lead them to the source of the disease whose pathway can be traced. Officers of certain rural health units and country medical practitioners are cooperating with the research workers.

One of the interesting features of this year's stury will be the investigation carried out by the Connaught Medical Research Laboraties with the poliomyelitis virus.

Dr. Nelles Silverthorne, of the Hospital for Sick Children, under whose direction the study is being conducted, said today that those investigating the disease were greatly encouraged by their findings of 1947 and that this year they hoped to benefit from their previous year's experience.

The number of poliomyelitis cases reported so far this year are comparable to the number reported up to this time in 1947.

Legionnaires Beat Knights In Twin Bill To Tie Series

Legionnaires beat Knights of Columbus two games at the Bowl last night to even up their four-in-seven men's softball semi-final series at two wins each. They clash again Saturday there in a twin bill, the winner to meet B-A in finals. Nearly 2,000 fans saw Legion nose out a 5-4 victory in the opener last eve[illegible] and cop an 8-3 decision in the nightcap in two interesting jousts. They played good ball to earn both wins.

Crowley and Greenlaw pitched on pretty even terms in the first fray, the former allowing fewer hits but walking more, and the fielding was fairly even. Legion bunched blows in several frames and Knights left a lot stranded after a two-run start in the initial innings. Bud Harrison sparked the Legion attack with a triple, double and two singles in four tries, and Greenlaw hit a two-bagger. Red Sullivan had a homer, double and two singles in five for Knights, as Tompkins got a homer and single in three, and O'Heron three for five. Two double-plays by Legion pulled them out of tight spots and Tompkins and Spencer had good catches for the losers. The box score:

SECOND GAME

Again in the second tilt, Legion bunched their blows while Knights could only get going in one chukker for three runs. They were a bit looser in the field, too, as Woods had a little edge on Reid in the pitching department. Legion backed Reid well and had six extra-base blows to roll up the count. Harrison again led the hitters with two doubles and two singles in five. White hit a homer and a double in four, Lewis a double and single in five, and Dalton a triple. Tompkins topped Knights at bat with four for five, one a double, Wade getting ttwo for three, Sullivan two for five, and Spencer having a homer. Scriver pulled off a neat running catch as a fielding feature. The box score:

Referee Awards Soccer Tilt To CGE, 5 to 0

CGE defeated the Petes in a league soccer game 5-0 on King Edward Park Thursday evening, before a good attendance. With 15 minutes to finish the game, referee Harris awarded the game to CGE because the Petes players who had been ordered off came back on the field to play after being cautioned twice. Captain Dalton Downer, Petes, deserves credit for his efforts in endeavoring to carry out the play.

Both goals went under a steady seige, in the early stages. Dalton Downer brought down Strong inside the penalty area. Welland skied the ball over the cross bar from the spot kick. Petes retaliated with a succession of combinations to test the CGE goalie, in fact, he was lucky saving Don Downer's drop shot from long range. After 20 minutes of play, Strong placed a corner kick into goal. Dal Downer cleared upfield where Welland connected with a rocket drive to beat the Petes goalie. On the next visit, Harold Payne diverted the ball into his own goal to make it 2-0 at the interval.

On resuming, Petes forced the issue to make CGE go on the defensive for a continued period. At this point the referee cautioned many of the players for ungentlemanly conduct because of their method of dangerous play. A succession of fouls finally terminated in two players of the Petes being ordered off and they repeatedly kicked the ball off the field which is against the rules. The referee again had to stop the game because they had put two subs on the field of play. Once a player is ordered off, that team plays that number of players short, but they defied the official. He finally called the game because of their tactics and dangerous play, therefore giving CGE the full verdict, CGE 5, Petes 0.

Petes — G. Foster, goal; K. Downer and D. Downer, full backs; W. Post, H. Payne and N. Lane, half backs; J. Byers, E. Woodcock, J. Whitnall, L. Payne and E. Lane, forwards; Don Downer, E. Downer and J. Hennessy, subs.

CGE — J. Greenhorn, goal; S. McGann and S. Murduff, full backs; H. Steel, J. Welland and F. Booth, half backs; R. Strong, E. Cotton, F. Attard, A. Turner and A. Wilson, forwards; T. McPhate and A. McArthur, subs.

Referee, W. Harris; linesmen, J. Adams and P. Conners.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

This is Friday the 13th and no doubt bad luck will attend either the Oshawa lacrossers or the Petes when they tangle at nine tonight in Miller Bowl. Ought to be the toughest tussle seen here this season and before the biggest crowd. Fans attending the last four scheduled games here will have tickets punched to assure 'em of no waiting for playoff tilts. Box office will be opened for them the night before each playoff. Here's the Oshawa lineup and numbers: Chambers (1), E. Haney (2), Grice (3), L. Vipond (4), W. Vipond (6), Cook (7), Christie (8), DePippo (9), Jantzen (10), A. Haney (11), Sutherland (12), Sanders (13), McAdam (14), Bush (15), Bastien (16), Hilson (17) and Bradley (18).

At Riverside tomorrow aft at three, Batawa Shoemen tackle the senior Petes in a COBL contest. The second-place Bata bunch are crowding the loop-leading Petes as the race moves into a stretch drive. These teams have served up the best baseball seen in the circuit so far this summer, every game a thriller. And the one tomorrow should be another nifty number, rating a hefty gallery. Eddie Murphy has made no announcement of his starting pitcher, no doubt waiting to see what happens when Petes play tonight down in Kingston. Peacock may get the mound call for the Shoemen on the morrow as Muffitt is still out.

Some Changes Made

Alex Kay advises us of some changes in the OBA playdown draw. All minor winners must be ready to go by Aug. 21. Intermediate Petes meet Belleville first, our juniors are in against Toronto, the juves play Oshawa, midgets meet Lindsay, bantams are drawn against Trenton and our peewees play Kingston in the opening round. COBL victors are paired with Toronto. Minor certificates should all be in. East City and southend midgets play at 6.30 tonight in Riverside the second of their their three-game finals, easterners being one up. Peewees go there Saturday a.m. while the west and east bantams settle their finals there at 6.15 p.m. Saturday. Juvenile setup is obscure and the junior tangle is still that.

* * * * * *

There's no war as bitter as a religious or a civil war, they say, and the same goes in sports, one supposes. Like the two local puck clubs' feud of last winter—Petes and Legion—the two local junior ball squads have been battling for keeps in loop semi-finals. Good friends off the field, they're bitter enemies during play and pull no punches. At the moment, the southend Kiwanis would appear to have won the series but the East City Kinsmen have lodged a protest on the third game, and there it rests for the moment uneasily in the laps of the league officials. Winner is to meet Oshawa for the loop title.

Back In The Groove

Legionnaires took Knights twice in a row at the Bowl last eve to tie up their men's softball semi-final serial tighter than Soviet censorship. Two wins each in the four-in-seven scramble and they go back at each other in another Saturday night double-header. Knights are still hot and they played good ball last p.m. but Legion got back in the groove this time and played a bit better in both games. It's a swell windup to a big season for the men softballers and no gambler will bet too much on any game from here on in. Nearly 2,000 fans saw the twin bill last night and another huge crowd is expected Saturday.

* * * * * *

Knights came close in the opener and had the winning run aboard in the ninth when a double-play cut 'em down. Pitching and fielding were pretty even but Legion bunched blows. Same as they did in the second tussle, also fielding better this fray. Bud Harrison got down to business for Legion these two games and not only hit like nobody's business but fielded in fine style. Red Sullivan hit and fielded well the first fixture for Knights and Tompkins was bingling them hard in both games for them. He, Spencer, Sullivan and White all hit homers. It is definitely anyone's series yet as they're all even now, but Saturday night could clean it up. Better not miss that double-header, folks.

* * * * * *

Tossed Aitken Out

COBL executive last night banned Aitken of Kingston Locos, who played here last Saturday, for the rest of the season—having been signed too late. Oshawa had protested. That game will be replayed, if necessary, on Aug. 26. If not, then the playoffs open, second and third teams in three-in-five semi-finals, winner to meet the top team in best-of-seven finals. And Locos said they couldn't get the park for tonight's game with Petes, so the locals will likely play there about Monday. That game, the one here Saturday and one more in Batawa winds it up for the Murphyites.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Here's the information given to us: Tonight at 7.30 o'clock sharp, it will be men's rinks tournament, draw from the board.

That heavy downpour around 4.30 yesterday afternoon settled the bowling for Thursday.

This information was handed to us on Thursday, but too late to catch this column:

Our ladies sent four rinks down to Port Hope on Wednesday, and one reached the money section. Each of the rink received a Chesterfield cushion. The rink was Miss B. Dawe, Mrs. F. Dawe, Mrs. R. Hendry and Mrs. H. Beatty, skip.

Up at Lindsay on the half-holiday, there were six rinks of trebles from our club. Two came away with prizes.

1st for 3 wins—B. Hogg, R. Gamble, W. Jeffries, skip—each a blanket.

High for 2 wins, C. Williamson, Judge S. Smoke, G. Gimblett, skip—each a sport shirt.

And on the half holiday, six men's rinks took in the tournament at Cobourg. Our boys came close, but that's all.

Now don't forget the big weekend attraction, the "family hour."

Mixed rink tournament on Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Lots of bowlers and lots of fun.

Heads Mine Association

TORONTO, Aug. 13—(CP). — Ralph L. Healy, general manager of Wright-Hargreaves Mines, has been elected president of the Ontario Mining Association. Born and educated in Minnesota, he has been with Wright-Hargreaves since 1935, first as assistant to the manager and later as general manager.

A PAIR OF 69's

A pair of surprising 67s, something that wasn't figured to happen, boosted Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Henry Ranson, Ravinia, Ill., into a first-day lead in the $13,500 St. Paul, Minn., open golf meet Thursday. Because heavy rains had promoted heavy growth of grass, the boys weren't supposed to assault par of 72 easily. But Demaret and Ranson proved otherwise.

Here And There In Sports . . .

BY CANADIAN PRESS

Flashy Kid Gavilan, Cuban contender for Ray Robinson's welterweight boxing crown, Thursday night turned in a spectacular winning effort against Buster Tyler, Newark, N.J., gamester, in a furious New York Madison Square 10-rounder marked by frequent toe-to-toe slug fests.

Gavilan weighed 148, Tyler 143¾.

Sol Strauss, acting promoter for the Twentieth Century Sporting Club who is trying to match Gavilan with Robinson in an overweight match, immediately hustled to the dressing room to resume negotiations.

Note to Johnny Metras of the University of Western Ontario and othe. intercollegiate football coaches:

Bob and Don McFarlane are "looking forward" to playing football again with Western this year. They said so Thursday at London, Eng. With Olympic games finishing, they are ready to return to the gridiron.

Canada's Record At Olympics Boosted In Canoeing Events

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Canada's record in the 14th Olympic Games has received a belated boost in the canoeing events at Henley-On-Thames.

Doug Bennett, 28-year-old paddler from St. Lambert, Que., placed second Thursday in the 1,000-metre singles. Then he teamed with his fellow townsman, Harry Poulton, to finish fourth in the 1,000-metre doubles.

Bennett thus turned in the best individual showing among the Canadians to date. His second place, good for five points, is the highest placing Canada has obtained.

Elsewhere on the Olympic scene, Canada's once-promising position in the yachting at Torquay ended with only minor success after the tangle of protests and disqualifications was ironed out.

The final tally showed Canadian helmsmen placed fifth, seventh and eighth.

Paul McLaughlin of Toronto who, until he was disqualified Wednesday had been given an excellent chance of finishing first in the Firefly class, wound up in fifth place.

John Robertson and Dick Townsend of Hamilton finished out of the points in seventh place while Bill Gooderham and Gerry Fairhead, both of Toronto, were ranked eighth in Star-class competition. Robertson was in Swallow-class events.

Other Successes

On top of Bennett's success in the canoeing, Canadian paddlers did well in the 1,000-metre kayak doubles. Harry Harper and George Covey of Gananoque, Ont., qualified for the finals by placing fourth in their heat. But in the big race, seventh place was the best they could do.

Bennett, a telephone lineman at St. Lambert, across the St. Lawrence river from Montreal, earned his place the hard way. Besides fighting strong cross-winds, he also had to contend with the "twisted-keel" type of craft used by all his opponents save one.

The twisted or bent keel is an aid in steering and was strongly protested. Officials decided to let it go this time but it probably will be banned in future Olympics.

Beating off a challenge by R. Boutigny of France, Bennett finished only 11 second behind the winner, J. Holocek of Czechoslovakia. Bennett was timed in 5:53.3, compared to 5:42 for the Czech.

After the race, Edgar Gilbert of Montreal, coach of the Canadian canoeing squad, said that Bennett would have won if he had used the "twisted keel".

In the 1,000-metre Canadian-type doubles, Bennett and Poulton were among the leaders for the first 350 metres. But they trailed the ultimate winner, Czechoslovakia, and the United States at the 500-metre mark.

A French team shot ahead of the Canadians almost at the finish line to take third place. The Czechs finished in 5:07.1, the Canadians in 5:20.7.

Trail Field

Harper and Covey trailed a field of eight in their event but moved into seventh place when Hungary's canoe was disqualified for paddling in the wake of a Danish boat. Sweden was the winner.

In other canoe events, Sweden took the 1,000-metre kayak singles—in which Harper scratched—and Miss K. Koff of Denmark won the women's 500-metre kayak singles.

The yachtsmen experienced their roughest weather in a week of sailing. McLaughlin, who earned two points for Canada with his fifth-place final standing, crossed the line Thursday in the seventh and final race in seventh spot.

J. B. Elvstrom of Denmark was race and championship winner in the class.

Canada's basketball squad, eliminated from championship competition earlier in the series, came through with a 49-43 decision over Peru to wind up in ninth place.

Canadian boxers fared badly. All three remaining in various classes bowed out of the picture although a protest—later disallowed—was lodged with officials in one case.

J. N. DE PIETRO of Patterson, N.J., who stands 4 feet 10 inches and is the smallest muscle man in Olympic competition, is shown in action as he was credited with one world record and an Olympic mark. He hoisted 231¼ pounds in the bantamweight division's two-hand clean and press; then went on to better his own world record of 661½ pounds by lifting 677½ in the three different sections of the competition.

Tribe Out of First Place Despite Massacre of Browns

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians staged one of their biggest games in history Thursday night, yet were knocked out of first place in the whisker-close pennant race in the American League.

Held to a split in their doubleheader with the lowly St. Louis Browns, the Indians dropped into second place, two percentage points behind the idle Philadelphia Athletics.

Beaten 8-4 in the first half of the twilight-night twin bill, the Tribe bounced back to bury the Browns under a 26-3 avalanche.

Aroused by the first-game defeat which bumped them out of first place for the first time since Aug. 2, the Indians went on the warpath once the lights were turned on, scalping five St. Louis hurlers for 29 hits, good for 48 total bases.

It was the biggest hit total ever made by a Cleveland club since the turn of the century, and fell only two short of the major league record of 31 set by New York Giants in 1901.

The Tribe exploded for nine runs in the first inning and scored almost at will thereafter. They were held scoreless in only the second and ninth. Four home runs were hit by the Indians.

Gain Full Game

Boston Braves gained a full game on the pressing Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals by defeating the Dodgers 2-1 in a thrilling pitching duel in Boston. They now lead the Dodgers and Cards by four full games.

The Cards were beaten 3-2 by the Pirates in Pittsburgh when Wally Westlake singled with two out and the bases full in the last half of the ninth to drive in the tying and winning runs.

The Braves also won in the ninth. Tied at 1-1, the Braves counted the winning run when Ralph Branca let loose with a wild pitch to allow Sisti to cross the plate.

The only other scheduled game —Boston at New York in the American League—was postponed by rain.

Ruth's Condition Still Improved

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 — (AP). — Babe Ruth's condition remained improved today, and baseball fans throughout the world were rooting for him.

The latest hospital bulletin said last night that his condition remained unchanged, after he rallied yesterday morning.

The home-run king still was on the critical list, but his wife, Claire, told reporters: "He's feeling better."

Ruth, the idol of two generations of baseball fans, has been in the hospital since June. He has been sick for the last two years, but his condition suddenly became worse Wednesday morning after he contracted a cold.

His physician said the cold developed pulmonary complications and his temperature climbed alarmingly.

Yesterday morning, outside the Memorial hospital centre for cancer and allied diseases, a host of friends, young and old—clustered under cloudy skies waiting for word about Ruth.

FORBIDDEN PRACTICES

Taboo is a word meaning forbidden, and, as much, is applied to prohibited practices in religion or magic.

Reeder Leads Red Wings To Twin Victory

By the Associated Press

One of the most promising pitchers in St. Louis Cardinals' farm system is Bill Reeder, 27-year-old right-hander of the Cards' Rochester International League team.

He hung up his 14th victory Thursday night as the Red Wings swept a doubleheader from Newark Bears, 3-2 and 2-1, to move within 1½ games of the second-place Bears.

After the Wings won the opener by scoring twice in the seventh and final inning, Reeder pitched the Wings to a two-hit triumph in the second game which was halted in the seventh because of rain.

Montreal's pace-setting Royals stretched their winning streak to 13 games, beating Syracuse Chiefs 4-3 in the first game of a twin bill. The second game was called because of rain with the score tied at 2-2 after six innings.

Sweep Doubleheader

The fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs remained half a game behind Rochester, sweeping a doubleheader from the fading Jersey City Giants, 3-2 and 6-2.

Trailing, 2-0 in the opener, the Leafs tied the count in the second on Ed Sanicki's two-run homer and won out in the third when Barney Lutz tallied from third on Red Sinram's error.

The Leafs tallied three times in the first two frames of the second game and were never headed as Al Porto scattered eight Giant hits in going the route. Jack Kraus was charged with the loss, his seventh straight and 12th of the season.

Baltimore's tail-end Orioles ended their 11-game losing streak, downing Buffalo Bisons 8-4.

Three Marksmen Close To Medal

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGE, South March, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP) —Three crack marksmen face an elimination shoot-off today to determine the winner of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association silver medal for first place in the qualifying match of the Governor-General's prize competition.

Maj. Desmond T. Burke of Willowdale, Ont., Flt. Sgt. T. W. Gregory of Ottawa, and Maj. D. H. George of Kingston are tied with high scores of 103 of a possible 105 in the match, main event in Thursday's DCRA meet here.

Today's main match will be for the famed King's Medal, one of eight competed for by Army personnel in Great Britain and throughout the Empire.

Riflemen will advance on the targets, firing at distances of from 600 to 100 yards in a match designed to simulate an actual wartime attack.

Capt. R. W. Hampton of Ottawa Thursday won the gold watch for first place in the famed City of Ottawa match, posting a 98 score of a possible 100.

The Kirkpatrick trophy was won by a four-man team of Toronto's 48th Highlanders. The team ran up an aggregate score of 1,123 of a possible 1,200 in four matches—the Connaught, Tilton, Bankers' and Macdougall.

Protest Player

LINDSAY, Aug. 13— Cambray, runner-up in the Tri-County Baseball League, has protested the recent play-off series when Little Britain won two successive games. Cambray claims that Murray Shill shortstop for Little Britain, cannot qualify under OBA residence rule.

CANADA'S GIRLS on the Olympic team won no gold medals but they are putting up a good contest. Here is P. Jones winning the women's 400 metre relay race at Wembley Stadium. Second was J. A. King of Australia.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 13 (AP). — Hollywood is invading Reno, but it's not for the usual reason. The Nevada town has been found ideal for college locations.

Within a month, 20th-Fox will have film companies shooting at the University of Nevada for campus scenes of two pictures. One is "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College" with Clifton Webb continuing as he brash baby-sitter. The other: "Mother Was A Freshman" with Loretta Young and Van Johnson.

With Hollywood apparently due for a run of college pictures, one wonders why the studios don't shoot at the many California universities. Are they unphotogenic or do they look too much like California colleges?

Young Gets Spurt

Allan Young, the Canadian comic from Vancouver, is getting a career spurt after a brief lull. He'll play Webb's room-mate in "Belvedere." He joins Jimmy Durante in a fall air show and may have another program all his own. It has taken Allan a bit of time to get started here, but my guess is he'll hit the big time before long.

Errol Flynn is expected back next week to prepare for "Montana." He will be as intrepid as ever in a story about conflict of sheep and cattle ranchers. Oddly enough, part of the picture will be made in Montana.

Cornell Wilde and 20th-Fox are lining up for a battle . . . Fantastict, but maybe true: the rumor that Betty Hutton might start in the life of Clara Bow.

Increase Acreage

LONDON — (CP). — Land devoted to food production in Britain has increased by nearly 500,000 acres since last year, Agriculture Minister Williams said recently.

LIP SERVICE FOR GIANTS - By Alan Mayer

The next to disappear?

The Big-horn has been hunted out of much of its former range in the United States. In Canada too, the Rocky Mountain Sheep is decreasing because of over-hunting and outright poaching; a set of its magnificent horns is a prized trophy. If we in Canada are to preserve this stately "sentinel of the rimrock" we must do all we can to see that conservation measures are strictly observed.

The Carolina Paroquet was slaughtered just for its brightly coloured feathers. It is now extinct, a bitter lesson to us to preserve what we can of our vanishing wildlife.

22 Span of Powerful Horses Required To Haul Mast Timber From Woods

By HARRY THEOBALD

Peterborough county's virgin timber measuring up to 7½ feet in diameter at the stump, still stands in a pioneer's recollections published here in October, 1902.

These glimpses of pioneer life more than a century and a quarter ago were written by Robert Harrison, Sr., of Asphodel, and read by his son, Robert Harrison, Jr., at a meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society. Introductory comment suggesting implications of the forest wealth with which nature endowed this district and its pioneer people tends to detract from the graphic merit of the narrative. The following quotation is taken from the central paragraphs of the story.

"In those early days the timber easily obtainable in Asphodel was of a great size, and much of it was of the finest quality," Robert Harrison, Sr., wrote for the Historical Society of 45 years ago, and without thought that it would be republished many years after his death.

"Let one or two instances in the experience of the narrator be cited in illustration of that statement. Shortly after the erection of Walker's Mill (on the Ouse River) we were engaged taking out sawlogs on the high sandy ridges a mile westward, known as "Walker's Mountains", when from a pine tree little more than three feet in diameter at the ground we cut 11 12-foot sawlogs. The top end of the top log was a foot in diameter, and showed but a few small knots. That was in 1832.

On another occasion we took out a mast from lot 15, concession four, that measured 120 feet in length and had a diameter of 42 inches at what was known as the "first partner" which, in that instance, would be 40 feet from the "rub", one-third of the entire length.

The largest piece of square timber ever taken out in Asphodel was cut on the west half of lot 12, concession 3, by the men employed by Foley and Grover of Norwood. The stump of the tree where cut was seven feet six inches in diameter. The piece contained 960 cubic feet of timber. Every man in the shanty, cook included, got on the piece and danced jigs, reels and hornpipes on its surface to the music of the fiddle for the two miles distance between the shanty and the landing place at the forks of the Ouse. (Presumably, timber was floated down the Ouse River to the Trent.)

The hauling and landing of masts, while at times very laborious work on the men and horses, had, withal a spice of real danger to limbs and lives to make the work of the mast gang lively, exciting and dangerous; being ever surcharged with the spirit of daring amounting to fascination. To command 22 span of powerful horses hitched to a "bridled" mastsleigh was quite a responsibility.

(Mast timber was floated down the Trent River to Lake Ontario for ultimate delivery to shipbuilding yards in Great Britain.)

We had to prevent the possibility, while crossing steep ridges, of the sleigh being "jacked" as the mast broke over the hillcrests and rushed headlong towards the valley beneath, with teamsters mounted and every horse galloping for life at full speed; usually on a crooked road, frequently keeping the lead-chain" sideways to avoid being caught and thrown. It was not a sinecure, and furnished numerous experiences in the life of the narrator not easily imagined or described.

So much for the road; now for the landing.. Delaney's was a splendid landing on the Trent, two miles below Hastings. A long but not too steep slope formed the north bank of the river at this place. Winter was rapidly becoming a thing of the past on this occasion in question. Snow was melting and bare spots of ground were appearing. The last monster pine was yet lying prone in the mast-road at the foot of a ridge, where at 1 o'clock in the morning the sleigh bridle had given way, and the sleigh was jacked. This mast must be landed the next morning, for the ice at Delaney's was becoming honeycombed. Every horse and every available man was requisitioned at daylight. Tacklings were all made ready. The mast was rolled over. The jacked sleigh was turned right side up and right end ahead once more.

Soon the giant was loaded and again slowly moving for the trusty 44 men were obliged to test their firm muscle to the utmost. The hilltop was gained. The hundreds of broad acres of clearing were passed, the brow of the long slope to Delaney's was at last reached. The sun shone with all the brillancy of early April. The flanks of the horses were heaving with the long and strenuous work. A 10-minutes' rest was taken. Teamsters then brought forward their peeled skids before the big stick would begin his headlong rush for the landing berth of his fellows. The preliminary order "tighten up", then the command "all together". Gradually the mast sleigh with its ponderous load began moving, and with increasing momentum. It meant destruction to anything caught in its path.

Urton Hill, my trusty lieutenant, had daringly mounted the mast, immediately in rear of the chain, and was carrying a keen-edged, six-pound blocking axe, which he used in lieu of a balancing pole. Every horse had soon reached the ice. All were galloping at the top of their speed. The mast was well nigh full length from shore when the ice broke under the great weight, and mast, sleigh and 12 span of the rear horses were in a moment, with their riders, floundering in a mass of broken ice and water.

Ten span of the forward horses were yet on sound ice. Not a moment was to be lost; otherwise all might be lost with it. Instantly the command, "Cut the mast chain" was given, and Hill's axe swept down on it like a flash, completely severing it at one blow. Then, almost as quickly the order "heavy on the lead" was followed by descending whips on the flanks of the horses that were still out of the water. Though not another word was spoken by anyone each man and horse seemed to work instinctively, with a will. In less time than it takes to tell the story of their escape, men and horses were all standing on the unbroken ice, very little the worse for this their last adventure of the season before disbanding for our homes on the nearby farms.

Blue and white oak were frequently found with a diameter of more than 40 inches, and at a height of 60 to 70 feet without a branch.

As the forest rapidly receded before the woodman's axe, the industry of making pot and pearl ash was introduced in the neighborhood of the west branch of the Ouse by the late Henry Fowlds. Wheat, too, began to be extensively raised and prepared for market, not only at Cobourg but at Keene and other points of increasing interest.

Prices of grain increased with the steadily growing demand. Labor by hand became every year a little higher in price. Farm hands eagerly took up land, making homes for themselves. Flail thrashing was a tedious, expensive and unsatisfactory method, largely because the chaff could not always be effectually removed from the grain. In the rank condition in which wheat usually grew in those days, the flail left great quantities of chaff known as "white-caps", which was objected to by wheat buyers."

Robert Harrison, Sr., was born in the parish of Grenshough, county Down, Ireland, Sept. 12, 1815. This quotation is from his preface. "The vicissitudes of the Napoleonic war, and the great victory at Waterloo, was cunningly utilized by the Rothschilds to their own pecuniary and selfish advantage on the London money market, and thereby many an honest man was in a few days financially ruined; this ruin and distress, brought about by their insatiable greed of gain, made itself felt everywhere throughout the realm.

The prosperous city of Belfast shared a similar fate, and shrewd business men suddenly became, through stringency of the money market, in hampered financial circumstances. My father, Joseph Harrison, was one of them; but bravely facing the inevitable he met and satisfied his creditors to the last ha'-penny. Returning to the time-honored homestead he sold his land to my uncle, James Harrison, and took passage for himself and family with Captain Herbeck on board the "Catherine of Leith", a staunch Scottish ship of first-class rate, bound from Belfast to Quebec. Shortly everything was in readiness for departure from the birthplace of 10 generations.

This occurred in the year 1820. Although I was then not five years of age this is a circumstance I remember quite distinctly. Arriving at Quebec after a stormy passage of fully 10 weeks we were quarantined for a short time. In August we reach By-town, now Ottawa, where all passengers and their effects were transferred to Durham boats, and forwarded by the Rideau Canal to Lake Ontario. Thence we went by schooner to the vilage of Demorestville in Prince Edward county.

My father died of pneumonia when but five months in Canada. Because we were left penniless I stayed four years under the care of Captain Demorest ,helping to attend to his horses and gaining valuable knowledge about feeding, riding and driving them. I had the privilege of attending the village school for six weeks, it being the only opportunity that I ever utilized of gaining a common or public school education. Such schools were few, and at best were poorly conducted. They were presided over largely by half-pay officers of the British army or navy, or by crippled and schoolmaster for any boy whose maimed veterans of the Peninsular War. But, experience is a good lot is pioneer life in the backwoods of the county of Peterborough.

In March 1825 I first came to Asphodel. The only settlers in the township when I arrived were: Richard Birdsale, John Cameron, Job Humphries, Robert Humphries, Captain Howson, William Fortune, Walter Scott, Hugh McColl, Alexander McColl, Peter Anderson, Charles Parker, John Comstock, Mr. Hicks, Mr. Johnston, Nathan Drury, then miller at Keeler's mill (Norwood)."

The long Harrison narrative recommends one or two later chapters from it. Mr. Harrison lived on the farm now owned by John McColl, a former reeve of Asphodel, and Warden of Peterborough.

The pioneer settler, Robert Humphries, was the great grandfather of the present reeve of the township, Warden James Humphries.

Teachers Urge Government Curb Skyrocketing Prices

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Canadian teachers who gathered here Monday to ponder how the teachers can best help Canada attain complete national unity swung their attention to the cost of living Thursday and urged the government to curb rising prices.

The Canadian Teachers Federation wound up its four-day conference with a resolution urging the Federal government to take steps to remedy the skyrocketing costs by whatever means "at once."

The teachers also pointed to the need for government-aid of Canadian education and approved of a motion the Federation's board of directors become a standing committee "to initiate and integrate" a campaign seeking such aid.

The country-wide gathering earlier in the week heard discussions on national unity by John Bracken, retiring leader of the Progressive Conservative party, Defence Minister Claxton and L. B. Pearson, Deputy Minister of External Affairs.

Federal Aid

But the principal topic of discussion was Federal aid for education. It was to continue means of obtaining such aid that delegates approved of the motion for a standing committee.

The conference swung from the need for Federal assistance for education to the Federal need to curb prices when a resolution was introduced by the British Columbia Teachers Federation. The resolution was seconded by Edith Baker of Montreal.

The delegates also approved of an invitation to the teachers of Newfoundland to join their federation. The resolution to that affect was moved by the newly-elected president, C. J. Oates of Vancouver, and second by G. E. Tingley of Halifax.

Dr. Bernice McNaughton of Moncton, N.B., was elected vice-president.

The board of directors: J. A. S. Williams, Charlottetown, PEI; G. E. Tingley, Amherst, N.S.; R. J. Fournier, Edmundston, N.B.; K. H. Oxley, Montreal; Dr. J. O. Proulx, Rockland, Ont.; Mrs. E. J. Mollard, Shoal Lake, Man.; S. T. Fowler, Birch Hills, Sask.; E. T. Wiggins, Didsbury, Alta.; T. M. Chalmers, Vancouver.

Speakers Urge Anti-Red Fight As Veterans Encampment Opens

FORT ERIE, Aug. 13.—(CP).—War veterans of Canada and the United States today camped together near this Niagara Peninsula border town and celebrated 135 years of peace between the two countries.

The four-day encampment which started Thursday also constituted a rally of anti-Communist forces and speakers Thursday night called on the veterans to stand as a strong bulkark against Communism.

The vice-commander of the American Legion, Albert A. Cree, of Rutland, Vt., urged the veterans to give their undivided interest and unceasing energy to a campaign "to stem the tide of dictatorial Communism." He added:

"Any incident at any time may loose the sword of war and bring devastating strife throughout the world . . . our governments, our peoples, our defences must be on a momentary stand-by status so that the element of surprise an unpreparedness will not be overwhelming."

E. J. Evans of Toronto, president of the Ontario Command and vice-president of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion, told the gathering Communism has no place in Canada and the United States.

Time To Act

"We as ex-service men, believe that the time has come when we must again set ourselves up as men who are willing to meet and defeat those who would disturb our economic, social and industrial form of life."

Mayor Bernard J. Dowd, of Buffalo, N.Y., also sounded the anti-Communist call.

"Our countries stand on common ground in our defence against another vicious international violation of the principle of the golden rule among nations," he said. "From behind the totalitarian iron curtain of Eastern Europe come conscienceless spies bent upon overthrow of our duly-constituted governments.

"Fortunately, our governments of Canada and the United States have been alert to the devastating threat of Communism. Both our countries stand shoulder to shoulder to protect liberty-loving peoples against ruthless domination."

Mayor Louis Ziff of Fort Erie said the 135 years of peace between Canada and the United States arose from "the fact that we both believe in, and practise to the best of our ability, the democratic way of life."

Upwards of 50,000 veterans are expected to attend the encampment in the tent ciy which has sprung up beside this community of 6,500 population.

Perform 75 Plays In London Pubs

LONDON, Aug 13 (CP)—In 10 years the Taverners Company has produced 75 plays, including many of the classics, for performance in hundreds of public houses. Members say plays in public houses are becoming increasingly popular.

"We have had so many requests from publicans in the Greater London area for next winter that second and third companies may be started," said Henry McCarthey, the Taverners' organizer.

"We have just completed a successful run with 'Knight of the Burning Pestle,' performed in more than 30 London and suburban pubs. Our next show will be 'The Taming of the Shrew.'"

Torpedo Just Missed Ship Carrying FDR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—In the midst of war, No. 14, 1943, a torpedo just missed a battleship, the U.S.S. Iowa, which was carrying President Roosevelt and the United States chiefs of staff to the Cairo and Teheran conferences.

The incident is told in the current instalment of "The Secret Papers of Harry L. Hopkins," appearing in Colliers' Friday.

When the torpedo was sighted, President Roosevelt was on deck watching an anti-aircraft drill. Suddenly a sailor yelled, "It's the real thing," and all the ship's guns let go at a torpedo 600 yards away. It passed astern of the Iowa.

No further explanation of the incident is made other than the one offered at the time: the torpedo came from a United States destroyer and "must have been unloosed because of the heavy seas in some unaccountable fashion."

Says Rhodes Scholar Must Watch His Step

WANGANUI, N.Z., Aug. 13 (CP). — Rhodes Scholars from the Dominions have a hard road to hoe, according to J. S. Rumbold, who has returned to New Zealand after attending Oxford University as a Rhodes Scholar.

On completing their term, he says, they can do one of three things. They can stay away from their country, in which case they are written off as a complete loss. They can come home with a decided accent and fancy ideas, in which case people say, "if that's what Oxford does, why did you ever go there? Or they can return home just as they left it, in which case people ask? "What was the use of sending you?"

3,000 Human Skulls For London Museum

LONDON, Aug 13 —(CP)—Nearly 3,000 human skulls from many parts of the world have been presented to the Natural History Museum, South Kensington, by the president and council of the Royal College of Surgeons.

Hampshire county council presented the Cotton collection of British birds, formed in the 1880s and consisting of about 200 exhibition cases.

Capt. N. B. Blood has presented a male specimen of the ribbontail bird of paradise in full plumage. The bird was not previously represented in the museum.

Israel Flag Flies Over Sussex Hotel

HASTINGS, England, Aug 13—(CP)—The flag of the State of Israel—blue and white with the golden star of David— flew over the Netherwood Hotel during a conference of the Anglo-Palestinian Club.

"I am not a Jew, but I am proud to have the flag of Israel fly over my hotel," said proprietor Vernon Symonds. "I would welcome an Arab conference here, too. The Communists are coming later this year."

Theatre Offers "Sitter Service"

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 13 — (CP).—Movie house proprietor at Wagga Wagga, a wealthy town in the southern sheep district of New South Wales, noticed that the attendance of young couples at his theatre had fallen off.

Learning the reason was the inability of the couples to get sitters to mind their youngsters, he organized a team of sitters and added them to his staff. Townfolks now phone in for tickets and a sitter.

4 New Churches Being Built In South End

Four new churches are being built to meet the needs of the rapidly expanding community in the south end of the city.

It is expected that St. Alban's Mission in St. George's Anglican parish will be completed in about a month's time. The new building which is being built at the corner of Cameron St. and Monaghan Road will accommodate 200 people. The mission is in the charge of E. C. L. Moore, son of the Rev. E. C. Moore Mr. Moore is a divinity student at Trinity College.

The foundations are practically finished of the pre-fabricated building, at the corner of Howden Ave. and Monaghan Road, which will be the new United Church in the south end. The lot for the new church, which will open in September, was donated by G. N. Gordon.

Work on the Church of St. Alphonsus, on Frank St., near the corner of Western Ave., began last month. It is expected that the new church will open in December. It will hold 270 people and will be run by the Redemptorist Fathers. Another new Roman Catholic church is the Church of the Assumption in Otonabee township on the Keene Road. Work has not yet started on the church itself, and the parish hall is being used at the moment by the congregation. The Rev. C. McCarney is the parish priest.

Prisoners Not Bible Readers

All prisoners at the County Jail read the daily newspapers but few read much else, and when they do, it is usually the Saturday Evening Post, Maclean's or the comics. Colonel Dalton Johnston, jailer, says that people read "inside" what they read "outside", but that prisoners are not allowed to have magazines contain crime stories, so that a detective fiction addict would have to change his reading.

A small selection of books is available at the jail, but there is demand for them. Prisoners who want books usually make arrangements to have them sent. Bibles, presented by the Gideons, are not given out unless asked for and that only happen very occasionally.

Although most prisoners are very far from being bookworms, they have plenty of time for reading. Supper is at 5 p.m. and they are locked in their cells at 8:00 p.m. Between the end of supper and eight o'clock, their time is free to read or write letters. The lights go out at 9 p.m., but as the light in the cells is not sufficient for reading they can't do much once they are locked in.

HOOTS, TOOTS, AND CABERS

For the expatriate Scot, Fergus is holding its annual highland games, featured by individual piping contests, full pipe bands, caber-tossing and hammer-throwing. In the dancing there will be contests in the highland fling, sword dance, sailors' hornpipes, not to mention the sean triubhas. The date is Saturday, August 21.

Lions Carnival Starts Tonight

Leading the Lions Club parade to Riverside Park tonight will be the CGE Pipe Band, followed by horses, clowns, floats, and anybody who likes walking in a parade. The parade begins at the CNR freight sheds at 7:30, turns onto Charlotte St., then up George St. to Hunter, and from there to the park. Tomorrow night the parade begins at 7 o'clock.

During the past year, the Lions have spent $14,000 on community work, including Riverside Park, the Community Chest, Children's Aid, hospitals and tonsillectomies for underprivileged children.

The draw for the refrigerator will be made tonight, and tomorrow night's draw prize is a boat and motor. The CGE pipe band will give exhibitions each night, and another attraction will be games of skill.

25 Years Married Gets 25-Lb. Muskie

Accent is on the repetition of the number 25 in this quick fish story told by Don Marshall of Kenmore, NY. It happened to be the 25th anniversary of their wedding when he and his wife arrived at Bewdley Hotel last Saturday. They came to fish and 25 minutes after they had pulled out from the shore on Rice Lake they hooked and hauled into their boat —you've guessed it, a 25-pounder. To top it all, it took Mr. Marshall 25 minutes to land the maskinonge.

Want New Water Main To Serve Downer's Corners

Peterborough is beginning to strain another seam, switching from the south, west and north to the Otonabee front, from the Locks Bridge on to Downer's Corners. That was the indication at a meeting Thursday night of representatives of the township and city discussing fire protection service on the southeast front. Ald. Doug Miller was chairman of the special committee which decided to ask the Utilities Commission to lay an 8-inch watermain extension from the end of Lansdowne St. to Downer's Corners. Approximate cost is $15,000.

This would be a fire protection project instead of the ordinary domestic water service which the Utilities Commission does not usually undertake unless sufficient revenue is in sight. It was suggested that as domestic and commercial connections were made to the main, the revenue be credited to the city's fire protection account.

With Ald. Miller last night were Mayor Ovens, Aldermen Sands and Anglesey, Fire Chief George Smith, City Engineer Chalmers, City Clerk Outram, Reeve W. W. Dawson, Councillor Dick Stewart and Thomas Weir, township clerk.

Otonabee's concern extends through the increasing community east of the Locks, including the section down the River Road, and the properties on the "angle road," reaching southwest from Downer's Corners. New building has invaded that area as it has done in the other suburban directions. In regard to that growing problem it was understood that Otonabee Council would ask the Ontario fire marshal to send a man here to investigate the requirements of that locality, with Chief Smith, and to prepare a report to be presented to a meeting of the ratepayers.

The expedient of putting in water resrvoirs, two of them at $4,000 each, did not appeal to the committee.

Dog Was Loose Charge Dismissed

A charge of permitting his dog to run at large was dismissed against E. J. Gooley, Romaine St., on a technical point. The accused pleaded not guilty and questioned the complainants—Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neill, neighbours of his—on the matter of his dog's behavior.

The charge was dismissed, said Magistrate Baxter, because evidence had not proved that the dog had been running at large on the specific day charged in the information. He told the accused that, having now been told of the law in the case, there would be no further excuse to have the dog running loose again.

Irate Tourist Says Was Charged One Dollar For 20-Cent Block Of Ice By Apsley Man

A tourist from Toronto named Robinson who is fighting mad at the Kawartha Lakes vacation district is planning on blowing off steam back at Toronto to his friends and has also warmly promised to see that the story gets to the Toronto papers.

Apparently this visitor, who is making his first trip to this area, has been staying at Apsley. This week, he went to a dealer near there to buy a block of ice.

He reports that he was charged the incredible price of one dollar for a 20-pound block of ice. (In Peterborough today, the block would have cost him 20 cents).

"If this is the way they treat tourists here, I don't want to see the place again," said the justifiable outraged tourist.

HE'S MAD, MAYBE

One irate Toronto motorist apparently does not take too kindly to Peterborough's traffic law enforcement. Fined $2 and $1 costs in court today for overtime parking, his written plea of guilty was accompanied by this note:

"So it costs me $3 to spend $100 with the merchants of Peterborough. Fine laws you have down there. That will be the last $103 I will spend in your town."—RB.

No Authority For Placing Parking Signs

There is no legal authority for the placing of the many "No Parking—Police Order" signs outside theatres and other buildings in the downtown section of the city. Although such signs are not strictly legal and no police permission is given for placing them, there is considerable justification for them in many cases when they are placed at no-parking areas scheduled in By-law No. 4504, "A by-law to regulate traffic on highways."

Section II (2) of the by-law states: "No vehicle shall be parked in front of the entrance to a hotel, office building, any place where goods or merchandise are regularly delivered or removed, or so as to prevent ingress or egress to or from a public or private lane or private driveway, at any time, or in front of the entrance to any hospital at any time, in front of the entrance to any theatre, auditorium or other building while large assemblages are being held in such theatre, auditorium or other building, or for a reasonable time immediately preceding and following such assemblages"

There is therefore no justification for the signs being outside local theatres in the morning, when there are no shows. A motorist parking between signs at a time when there was no show, or a considerable time before and after a show, would not be committing an offence. Custom or laziness are the probable reason for these signs being perpetually on the street.

Certain people placing these signs might be regarded as the modern equivalent to the robber barons of mediaeval times, who regarded highways as their own property and extorted illegal tolls. While no tolls are demanded today, like the robber barons they regard the street adjoining their property as belonging to them, for the by-law certainly would not appear to justify their signs.

American Gets Big Bass Near Birdsalls

"He fought pretty well, I guess, but of course I'm not a fisherman," said Roy Ernst of Buffalo, describing the five-pound thirteen-ounce small-mouth black bass he landed Thursday afternoon after a half-hour battle.

The fish was caught in a bay near Birdsall's Point on Rice Lake, near the summer camp of Mr. Ernst, and measured 19¾ inches.

Entered in the Examiner-Lucky Strike fishing contest, it is the largest small-mouth to date, the closest being a five-pound twelve-ounce black captured by a Pennsylvania angler.

2 Nights' Rain Badly Needed

Those last two nights' rain, combining for .64 inches, gave the trees today a fresh-tubbed appearance, a gleaming green. Lawns and gardens, pastures and corn fields were bright in revival. Root crops should show immediate effects from the moisture pick-up to carry them through mid-August.

The tail end of the harvest will be delayed, including a considerable volume of combine threshing, but the country needed rain. Those farmers who were relaxing from the strenuous work of taking off their grain have dampened fields for plowing as plans for fall seeding get under way.

The drawing of water off the city's mains for lawns and garden will be lighter than usual this month at the present rate of rainfall.

Artillery Unit Plans Program For Army Week

Fresh from an excellent record at summer camp training, the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (PWR) RCA, Petrborough's Reserve Force regiment, is now busy readying equipment and details for the opening of fall military training in this city.

The regiment, which accepted more than 100 recruits in its campaign last year, will open the season early in September in coordination with the recently announced "Army Week", and already plans to participate in this event are rounding into shape. "Army Week" which will be operative from September 20 to 26, will feature recruiting for the Canadian Army's Active and Reserve Forces and will include demonstrations in all major cities of Canada.

Peterborough will see a model heavy anti-aircraft gun-site set up on the Armoury green, north of Murray St., and the site will be equipped with the modern equipment of the 50th HAA Regiment will take place during Army heightfinder, two types of radar, a complete signals and wireless net, and a semi-automatic plotter for following aircraft through the sky. Demonstrations of the equipment wil take place during Army Week, and citizens will have an opportunity of seeing the regiment's long parade of heavy operational vehicles which have recently been brought up to a high peak of strength. These vehicles will include a number of gun-towing 6-wheel Mack trucks, radar towing vehicles, trucks specially fitted for high-speed wireless transmission and control.

Plans are also being made for the showing of special Army films of considerable interest to defence-minded citizens.

A recruiting booth will be set up in the Armoury and will be staffed by Army representatives who will be able to answer the many questions of those interested either in a permanent Army career, or in service with the Reserve Force.

In this connection, a sight soon to be seen by Peterborough citizens for the first time will be the radar equipment of the regiment, which will be readied for the winter's operations within the next two weeks, at the Armoury field.

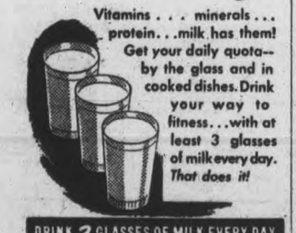
May Rid Lignite Water Content

SASKATOON, Aug. 13 (CP).—Experiments conducted at the University of Saskatchewan are seeking to rid lignite coal of its 30-per-cent water content.



Dr. W. Graham, assistant professor in chemical engineering, is conducting the experiment in view of the fact Saskatchewan's coal fields at Estevan in the Southern half of the province produce only lignite.

In tranportation excess weight of the water adds to cost. Drying by hot air causes coal to crumble.

BACK HOME . . . AT PEACE—Members of American Legion in Canada stand rigidly at attention as the body of their former comrade, Pte. Harold D. Deer, full-blooded Caughnawaga Indian, is carried from Montour Funeral Home, Caughnawaga, near Montreal. Pte. Deer served with the 305th Engineering Battalion of the U.S. Army and was killed in Germany Feb. 8, 1945. He was buried in the cemetery of the reservation with his ancestors and is the second Indian of Caughnawaga whose body has been brought home from Europe. The first was Pte. Peter Montour, whose grave is alongside that of Pte. Deer.

Composer's Severed Head May Be Returned To Body

VIENNA, Aug. 13 — (AP). — The head of Franz Joseph Hadyn, one of Austria's greatest composers, may soon be returned to the body from which it was severed nearly 140 years ago.

Haydn, a protege and a close friend of the wealthy Duke of Esterhazy and for many years court musician of the Hapsburgs, died in Vienna in 1809, the year in which Napoleon conquered the capital of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy.

The times were troublesome, and the country was unsettled. So Haydn was not buried on the Esterhazy estate where he had lived for many years, but in Vienna.

Probably nobody ever would have thought of the body again had it not been for the curiosity of the Duke of Cambridge, a son of George III of England. While a dinner guest of the Duke of Esterhazy at Eisenstadt, he asked to see Haydn's grave and was astonished to learn the famed composer was not buried at his friend's and sponsor's estate.

Cambridge convinced Esterhazy that Hayan's body should be exhumed and brought from Vienna to Eisenstadt. The plan was carried out, the grave at Eisenstadt made ready, the body exhumed and transported to its new resting place. But when the coffin was opened, Haydn's head was not with the body.

Police immediately started investigations, but to no avail. The head could not be found.

Twelve years later a secretary of the Duke of Esterhazy confessed on his deathbed that 10 days after Haydn's death he had bribed the gravedigger, open the grave, and severed the head from the body.

Wanted to Prove Genius

The secretary had turned the head over to a group of physicians who wanted to prove man's potential genius by comparing the measurements of human skulls. Haydn's head was important to these scientists and they paid a lot for the skull.

The physician named by the secretary as the actual purchaser of the head was questioned by police. He swore he was innocent. Only after his death, when his will was read, did it become clear that he was the owner of Haydn's head. He had willed it to the Vienna Academy of Music, but it was missing from his effects.

It was not until 30 years later that the head turned up again, this time in the will of another doctor, who confessed he had stolen the head from his friend's flat on the day he died. He willed it to the Pathological Museum of Vienna University.

Now there were three claimants to the head: The University, which took possession; the Academy of Music; and the Duke of Esterhazy, who wanted to restore the head to the body in the grave of his estate.

After many court actions the will of the first physician was declared legal and the head was turned over to the Vienna Academy of Music.

In 1932, negotiations for the return of Haydn's head were nearly complete, and the present Duke of Esterhazy built a magnificent mausoleum for the composer's remains. Then the negotiations broke down.

But now negotiations once more have been nearly completed and the head may soon return to its proper place.

Nearing End Of Inquiry On Fertilizers

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP) — The Prices Commission ended its second week's hearings Thursday and neared the end of its first commodity investigation, fertilizers.

Two companies, Agricultural Chemicals Ltd., and North American Cyanamid, whose officials appeared before the Commission during the week, still have to provide further evidence. The Commission plans to hear them on Aug. 17, if possible, and then turn to leather and footwear.

The Commission Thursday heard evidence from E. M. Grose of Toronto, manager of the United Farmers' Federation's Fertilizer division. The Federation, which operates in Ontario, has 15 local co-operatives affiliated with it, some of which, Mr. Grose said, do a $2,000,000 business in commodities ranging from fertilizers to, in some cases, groceries.

The chairman, Prof. C. A. Curtis, questioned Mr. Grose in methods used in the industry to decide on the prices of fertilizers, a line of questioning he has put to most witnesses, with emphasis on the similarity in the prices of various firms.

Intelligence Corps

Mr. Grose said small firms usually waited until larger organizations had set their prices, then followed suit, and indicated most producers knew fairly well what competitors were likely to charge. When he was asked how they knew, Mr. Grose replied:

"It's a caution what a wonderful intelligence corps they all have. If you've been in the business 30 years, you're pretty high up in the service."

Other witnesses testified competing firms usually obtain each other's price lists. The Commission sought to find out how the firm issuing the first price list decides what competitors are likely to charge. Mr. Grose's reference to "a wonderful intelligence corps" was as specific a clarification as the commission has received.

Kurt Meyer Model Convict In New Brunswick Prison

By IRVING C. WHYNOT

DORCHESTER, N.B., Aug. 13.—(CP).—His back was straighter, his dress seemed more meticulous and his manner more precise. But aside from this, prisoner No. 2265—Kurt Meyer—was indistinguishable from 546 others in the Maritime Penitentiary here.

Meyer, a Nazi SS major-general serving a life sentence for responsibility in the shooting of disarmed Canadian war prisoners, is a model convict.

On a tour of the prison I found Meyer had an air of efficiency and capability as he worked quietly in the prison library.

His military bearing was much in evidence. Visitors are not permitted to talk to convicts, hence no interview.

Meyer, observing regulations with correctness, didn't even glance at the reporter and went on with filing and cataloguing books.

"Well-Behaved"

Prison officials described Meyer as "well-behaved."

When he entered the penitentiary in May, 1946, an assignment board put him to work in the library. About 15 other convicts, all described as of "superior intelligence," work with him.

Some library convicts are used to teach others, but as yet Meyer hasn't been used for this task.

Warden George T. Goad explained that Meyer isn't yet able to speak English fluently enough for this purpose.

Clean-shaven and with his blonde hair combed back, Meyer seemed disinterested but content. 'His behavior is good because he knows the meaning of discipline," the warden said. "If I told him to scrub the floor he would do it without question."

Meyer receives no special favors or punishment. He lives, eats, exercises and works under the same conditions as other prisoners. His job entails the checking in and out of the library books and delivery of books to cells.

He receives and sends letters regularly and, under prison regulations, is allowed an extra letter monthly because he receives no visits from relatives. His letters go to his family in Germany.

His only visitor is the Protestant padre of the military district who calls monthly.

Church Asks Moral Leadership

TORONTO, Aug. 13 — (CP).—A United Church report prepared for its 13th General Council in Vancouver in September looks on the age of atomic power as a "call for intellectual and moral leadership."

The report on the church and international affairs, issued today, was prepared after two years study by a committee headed by Henry Langford of Toronto.

Of atomic controls it said: "The situation resulting from fundamental disagreement on a method of dealing with a threat to the survival of all concerned, is a commentary both of the complexity of the problem and on the selfishness and stupidity of man . . . . fear of war is translated into hostility to the potential enemy and making more likely the realization of what is feared."

The report recommended that the church "should seek to create in her own membership an awareness of the urgency of the isues at stake and of the responsibility of Christians to give social leadership, in the light and strength of their belief in love and truth and freedom which is part of their faith in God."

It asks that members of the United Church rededicate themselves to the promotion of peace and goodwill upon earth.

IN SPY PROBE—Princeton graduate and former executive in the U.S. state department's office of co-ordinator of inter-American affairs, Robert T. Miller is pictured testifying before the House Un-American Activities committee in Washington. Miller admitted knowing Miss Elizabeth Bentley "socially" during the war but told the committee that he had never furnished her with military information. A witness before the House Un-American Activities committee in Washington is William Ludwig Ullman, a wartime major in the air forces. He had been identified by Elizabeth Bentley, admitted Red spy courier, as an alleged member of one of the spy rings which provided military and other data to her. He denied that he delivered information to Miss Bentley. Ullman called her "a liar." Former official in the office of strategic services, Duncan C. Lee, is shown as he testified in Washington before the House committee on Un-American Activities. He appeared before the group in connection with charges, made by Elizabeth Bentley, that he was a contact for the Soviet spy ring, of which, she says, she was a member. Lee vigorously denied Miss Bentley's charges.

Wheat Selling Below Floor In Many Places

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP) —Despite generally increasing prices, wheat is selling today below the government's theoretical "floor" in most parts of the United States. Efforts to hold up the price have bogged down under the weight of heavy sales and lack of storage room.

Recent support efforts have included increases in scheduled exports for September, an official statement that the crop year's export goal will be raised above original intentions, and a campaign by the agriculture department to get producers to hold wheat on farms.

But the price of wheat continues below the "support level."

The government supports wheat mainly through a loan, based on 90 per cent of parity.

Prices of wheat Thursday compared with the government loan for the grade of wheat on which the price is quoted were:

Terminal	Price	Loan
Chicago	$2.21½	$2.28
Kansas City .	2.14 -$2.18½	2.23
Minneapolis .	2.18⅞-$2.24⅞	2.25

Major cause for the slump of wheat below the loan, grain men said, appeared to be inability to obtain storage room. To get the loan, wheat must be stored to meet government specifications. With storage space filled, some wheat has had to be dumped on the market.

Meanwhile, President Truman held out little hope for a drop in the general cost of living as he prepared to act on the Republican anti-inflation bill.

The president took issue at his press conference Thursday with a prediction by Senator Taft (Rep.-Ohio) that prices may level off soon in the United States.

The expectation in Washington was that Truman would sign the credit-curbing bill passed by the special session of Congress which refused to give him the price-wage controls and rationing authority he asked.

Tonight, Daniel Johnson, member in the Quebec Legislature for Bagot, will unveil a monument at Plats Rapids commemorating the first landing in this area.

A SHY YOUNG Scottish peer arrived in Montreal recently aboard the Empress of Canada, and admitted that his family is cherishing a collection of Montreal stones. Andrew Bruce, 24-year-old great-great-grandson o fthe Earl of Elgin, Governor General of Canada a hundred years ago, said: "Yes, my great-great-grandfather ended up the most popular man in Canada, but at the beginning, he had a spot of trouble. Angry Montrealers threw stones at him for his sanction of the Rebellion Losses Bill." He added with a laught: "At our home in Dunfermline, we still have some of the stones which you Montrealers flung into his carriage." Lord Bruce, a direct descendant of King Robert Bruce, who gained wisdom from a spider is on a three-week visit in Canada. He will stay with his cousin, Betty Newton, in Calgary on a reciprocal visit, and will then tour Chicago, Washington and New York before leaving for Scotland on the Empress of France. Committee of 13 Defies All Jinxes On Friday 13th

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP). — Today, Friday the 13th, the Committee of 13 lets fly with a haymaker at the chin of Old Man Superstition.

One blow isn't going to kayo the sturdy old man, but this is an usual one. It's the first American Exhibition on superstition, prejudice and fear. It opens today — to run for 13 days — at the American Museum of Natural History here.

To get in, you walk under a ladder. Then you're under a canopy of opened umbrellas. There'll be the tinkle of breaking mirrors. There's an ashcan to receive your four-leaf clovers, lucky charms, rabbit's feet "and other refuse." A black cat may wander in front of you.

"A black cat can't hurt you; superstition and prejudice will," a sign declares.

New Calender

One display shows a new kind of proposed calender, having 13 months and 28 days days each month. Every month would have Friday the 13th. Then, the committee feels, people would get over the idea that it was unlucky.

The exhibit marks the second anniversary of the National Committee of 13 against superstition and fear. Nick Natsoukas (13 letters), the founder, says he was born June 13, the 13th child in a family of 13, and that he first saw the Statue of Liberty on the 13th of the month 31 years ago.

For two years, he explains, the committee simply enjoyed itself poking fun at superstitions. But then the members began to feel that many superstitions, prejudices and fears cause real trouble, including neuroses, and racial and religious hatreds.

The exhibit knocks in the head such notions as: That the white race has created all great civilizations; that high foreheads indicate intelligence; that "white" blood differs from "colored" blood; that a large brain always means a good mind.

Employment Hits New High During June

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP).— Industrial employment in Canada hit a new June high this year and the weekly earnings of persons in recorded employment were higher than in June a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics said Thursday.

Based on the 1926 average as 100, the index of employment rose from 186.5 at May 1 to 191.7 at June 1. This compared with 184.5 at June 1, 1947. The previous peak index for the beginning of June was 181.2, recorded in 1943.

Employees of 18,908 larger firms in eight major industrial groups numbered 1,984,974 at June 1, an increase of 2.8 per cent over the May 1 figure.

The general trend of employment was favorable in all provinces except New Brunswick, where there was no general change, and in all main industrial divisions.

The weekly earnings of persons in recorded employment average $39.31 at June 1, compared with $39.70 at May 1 and $36 at June 1947.

There were moderate increases in employment in manufacturing plants. Among the non-manufacturing classes, there were large advances in logging, partly due to river-driving operations and partly to fire-fighting operations in the forests.

Mining, communications, transportation, hotels and restaurants, trade and construction showed important expansion in employment. The largest percentage increase was in construction, where the seasonal advance of 11.5 per cent was considered less than average.

Raise Pie Price

TORONTO, Aug. 13 — (CP). — Some Toronto restaurants have raised the price of pie to 15 cents a cut from 10 cents. Their operators claim increased costs of shortening and flour have made a pie price rise necessary.

Butter Theft Brings Term In Reformatory

Twenty-one-year old Barry O'Shaughnessy of Charlotte St., was sentenced to six months in reformatory by Magistrate A. E. Gee Thursday afternoon. He was found guilty of theft of butter from the Silverwood's Dairy on Aylmer St. The charge was reduced to one of straight theft from one of breaking, entering and theft.

Another city man, Gordon Scriver, Rogers St., was bailed for trial on a similar charge to the next court. The preliminary hearing was held before Magistrate Gee following O'Shaughnessy's conviction. Scriver is on $1,000 bail. W. J. A. Fair, who represented the convicted man, is also counsel for Scriver.

O'Shaughnessy's hearing in the afternoon, continued from the morning, was highlighted by an oral statement which PC Claire McGillen testified was given to him by the accused. He said the accused had refused to make any written declaration.

Over the objections of Mr. Fair, the statement was given by the officer and admitted by the court.

PC McGillen said that the accused told him that he had gone to the dairy on the evening of July 14 with Scriver and that the two had taken the butter and sold 50 pounds of it to Talbert Battle. (Battle faces a charge of receiving stolen goods). The policeman said they found the butter at Battle's lunch stand.

Mr. Fair argued that the crown had proved "no case at all." He pointed out that "the crown witnesses have an amazing spread in their evidence—there is a tremendous amount of conflict on important details."

In sentencing, the magistrate said that he hoped that the accused could be sent to one of the newer reformatories.

"I think you could learn a trade there and start things new when you get out."

Reddick-Colby Wedding In St. John's Church Setting

In St. Johns Anglican church this afternoon marriage vows were pledged by Ella May, only daughter of Mrs. May Colby, Peterborough and the late George W. Colby, Ottawa, and Mr. Norman Charles Reddick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Reddick, Apsley. The ceremony was solemnized by Archdeacon C. W. Balfour.

Basketts of beautiful colored gladioli decorated the chancel. F. G. Mann played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Marjorie Turner who sang "Blest be the tie that binds" during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. W. J. Gordon. She wore a lovely gown of white silk crepe fashioned in the princess style with cap sleeves, a low sweetheart neckline and bustle fullness at the back. Her veil of white silk fell from a heart-shaped tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli. Mrs. Walter McGregor as matron of honor, was her only attendant. She was in a frock of pale blue designed with bodice and peplum of silk jersey and the full skirt of net. She wore a Dutch bonnet of white lace trimmed with blue and carried pink gladioli.

The groomsman was Mr. Gerald Reddick and the ushers Mr. Robert Reddick and Mr. Walter McGregor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Colby wore a dress of dove grey silk jersey with accessories in white and a corsage of gladioli. The groom's mother wore turquoise silk crepe with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

After the reception held at 566 Gilmour St., the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon at Lake St. Peter and Ottawa. For travelling Mrs. Reddick wore a black and white checked wool suit, black accessories and a white flowered bonnet. Her corsage was of pink roses.

They will live in Apsley.

Warner-Hittle Two-Ring Nuptials

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Hastings, Saturday afternoon, when Marguerite Eleanore, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Hottle of Chinook, Alberta, was united in marriage to Donald William Russell, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Warner of Warkworth. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles A. Mullin.

Given in marriage by Mr. William E. Bonney, the bride was gowned in ivory slipper satin, styled with bow drape back and crinoline front. A row of satin ruching formed a rosette at the front of the nylon yoke and tiny satin-covered buttons fastened the waist back. Her full length veil of embroidered silk net which fell in a train, was caught to a headdress of calal lilies and she carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by Miss Betty Warner, sister of the groom, who was gowned in pale blue net over taffeta, with embroidered satin bodice, matching gloves and crownless hat, and she carried a nosegay of roses and sweet peas.

Ronald Warner, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. Billy Warner and Herbert Weese, brother and brother-in-law of the groom, acted as ushers.

The church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Wilson, organist, says "Breathe on me, Breath of God," and "O Perefct Love" during the signing of the register.

The reception was held at the home of the groom. To receive her guests Mrs. Warner wore a navy flowered silk crepe dress with navy accessories and corsage of white gladioli. Assisting was her sister, Mrs. W. Laverne Davis of Elnora, Alberta, who wore a blue silnk crepe dress with black accessories and corsage of pink gladioli.

The bride and groom left on a motor trip to Muskoka Lakes and Alganquin Park. For travelling the bride wore a blue tailored suit with navy and white accessories.

Out-of-town guests were present from Thamesville, Campbellford, Peterborough, and Elnora, Alberta.

SHADES OF AUTUMN—Navy blue continues to hold its high place on the color card, and in fact, emerges as a major hue for fall daytime and evening wear. Here is a suit of navy blue gabardine designed for autumn town wear. Cut on slim, yet easy lines the double-breasted, eight-button jacket has curved slot pockets set high to accentuate the rounded revers of the large collar.

Points To Watch For Good Meal Planning

Better balanced meals and greater variety will be the result if meals are planned several days or a week in advance. You will actually save time in shopping and in food preparation too. Check Canada's food rules for the daily requirements of basic foods by each individual. After the recommended foods have been included, add any of the family's favorites that the budget permits.

For good meal planning you should watch the eye appeals—contrasts in color. Bright red tomatoes, fresh green lettuce! How tempting they look. Contrasts in textures are something else to keep in mind; crunchy salads add intreest to soft foods. And watch for combinations of bland and savoury foods. Avoid serving more than one strong flavored food, such as turnip or onion, at a time. Flavorings and seasonings play an important part in dressing up meals.

Avoid monotony in the meal plan. It is discouraging for the family to know that on Monday there will always be vanilla blanc mange for dessert because mother is struggling with the family wash. At least take a few seconds to reach for orange or lemon flavoring and give the folks a change. And remember too: serve hot foods hot; cold foods cold.

The result of careful planning is better eating at lower cost. Too much money is being spent on foods that do not justify their cost in terms of food value. Such foods commonly used are cornflakes, bacon, white bread and rolls, expensive cuts of meat, pies used repeatedly, store cookies and pickles. The following lists will help the shopper avoid pitfalls. Extravagant foods are those that do not provide their share of good essentials in proportion to their cost. Economical foods are those which yield your money's work in food value.

Extravagant Foods

"Store" cakes and cookies.
"Store" catsup and pickles.
Ready-to-eat cereals.
Prepared mixes (pancakes, pastry, gingerbread, etc.)
Special cake flours.
White flour and white bread used exclusively.
Canned soups.
Nuts.
Outof-season fruits and vegetables.
Expensive cuts of meat.

Economical Foods

Milk, whole and skim, and buttermilk.
Evaporated milk, depending on local price.
Cheaper cuts of meat.
Liver (beef, pork), kidney, heart.
Whole wheat flour and bread.
Wheat germ.
Rolled oats, oatmeal, cracked wheat, flaked wheat.
Vitamized apple juice.
Dried prunes, peaches, apples.

Plan before going to the store and make out a definite market list. This is a time saver as well as giving better balanced meals wth great variety for less money. Take advantage of any special sales and remember that bulk packages are usually cheaper than those foods put up in small fancy packages. On canned goods money can be saved by purchasing "standard" or "choice" quality rather than "fancy" quality. The food value does not incraese with the grades. Make a practice of studying labels. Fully as much nutrition is contained in cheaper cus of meat and with proper cooking they can be made just as palatable as expensive cuts. Foods that are in season are a good buy because they are at their cheapest in price and highest in food value. Always be sure to store fresh fruits and vegetables in a cool atmosphere to cut down the loss of vitamins.

London Favors Feminine Look In New Styles

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP)—London's Fashion Fortnight held last month, proved beyond doubt that the soft-shouldered, tight-waisted and full-skirted silhouette is firmly established in Britain for another season at least with skirt length unchanged.

Jackets, however, are no longer very short but smoothly fitting and hip length with a different basque treatment in different houses. Skirt fullness is modified to great advantage, now being smoothly fitting over the hips but tapering out from there to a flared hem.

As a foil to these there are skirts with fullness varying from the all-round box pleats or knife sections (usually back and front, leaving a smooth panel at the sides), loose unpressed pleats and gores. There are plenty of slim skirts, some showing a curved wrap-over.

Newcomers for 1948-49 are sweeping, full length capes, elbow capes and caped coats, both occasionally with double tiers. Few loose back coats appear and those that are shown are less tent-like and sometimes have a negligee effect in back fullness.

Tight-Waisted Coats

The majority of formal coats, however, are fitted closely to the waist with every full skirts often highlighted with bands of fur trimming. Collars are high and important, often with a Regency effect, sometimes stiff and military in look.

Tweeds are predominants in soft color combinations in striped, checked and flecked designs and in small indefinite patterns. Velours, soft woollens, velvets, corduroys and suiting are popular and the lightweight woollen suit with a matching heavies weight top-coat is a definite feature.

Molyneux favors the very slim narrow shouldered silhouette with hip folds at the front and back interest. He, like Mattli, suggests the lower hip line on many of the day dresses shown. The Digby Morton collection is notable for a slightly higher waist and for much back detail, collars running to a point at centre back and panel seaming above the waist.

The princess line is important in the Peter Russell collection and slim elegant dresses are worn with matching or contrasting coats in heavier weight woollens with elbow or three-quarter turned back sleeves.

DOROTHY DIX

Steady Drinker Poor Risk Despite Pledge To Reform

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl 26 year of age and have been going steady with a man of 29 who wants me to marry him. I told him that before I did I wanted to ask him a few questions: (1) What was his weekly salary? He said $65 a week, but I have found out that he only gets $35 a week. (2) If he was willing to allow me to manage his salary the way I thought best. He said yes. (3) How long had he worked and how much had he saved? He said that he had worked 8 years and hadn't saved anything and that he never had more than $8 when payday came around.

Dorothy Dix

(4) Was he in debt? He said yes, to the tavern. (5) Did he drink? He said yes. But he said that if I would marry him he wouldn't drink and he wouldn't go in debt. What do you think of my chances of happiness if I married him?

READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, miracles do happen. Sometimes a loafer is spurred into activity by an industrious wife. Sometimes a drunkard reforms. But any girl who marries a man who has drifted around for 29 years without acquiring anything but a thirst for hard liquor is certainly taking a long shot at having a happy married life.

This chap seems to have about every trait that disqualifies him for being a husband. He is shiftless, improvident, is allergic to steady work, and all that he can offer you as an inducement to marry him are his promises to reform, and you would be the world's greatest optimist if you put any faith in them.

Propaganda

They are the standard propaganda that men always hand out to the girls they are trying to get, but never make good on them, because a man who will not act the part of a man for his own self-respect is never going to do it for his wife.

Your trying to find out before marriage about the young man's suitability as a husband shows you have some common sense. Use it in making your decision.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married 9 years. My first 5 years were happy. Then I was drafted into the army where I served three years and came home to a wife who was sweet until she spent all the money that I had saved up, and then she turned against me because I couldn't give her the dresses and coats and shoes she wanted. Her constant nagging is driving me mad. Often she won't speak to me for weeks at a time. I am tired of being accused of going with other women when I don't do such a thing. I am tired of coming home from work to a house that is as empty as a tomb.

I am determined to save some money to go into business for myself. I have done all I can to make my wife see what would be the best for us, for we have two children whom I must consider, and their future depends wholly upon my success and good judgment. What shall I do?

W. D. A.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It looks as if your wife was getting ready to solve the problem herself by leaving you for somebody with a bigger checking account. Or perhaps she is going to get a job, which would be the more decent way out of the difficulty. During the war many wives, who had been accustomed to living on a small income and being contented with it, got delusions of grandeur when they got their husbands' allotments, and they are not willing to go back to wearing basement bargains instead of smart little numbers from specialty shops.

I get many letters like your asking what to do with wives who have developed a spending complex, but, I don't know of any cure for a woman who has gone clothes mad. You will have to work that one out for yourself.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a school teacher, but like all girls I am interested in marriage. I have average looks, a jolly disposition, and would like to meet some young man who wouldn't freeze up when he learned of my profession. Can you suggest a way of doing it?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Horace Greeley's advice to young men in search of fortune was to go West. That tip is equally good for girls in search of husbands, for the West is the only place where there seems to be a preponderance of young men with marital intentions.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, August 14

In the face of some strange, unforeseen and dramatic turn of events, it is urged that most important developments should be wisely and avidly grasped, less this surprising opportunity for unique adventure or achievement be frittered away. There is every indication a proposition or plan of exciting and radical significance might stem from influential sources, ready to support with capital and prestige if acumen, wise planning and good grace be combined. This is true in personal as well as professional life.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a sudden twist of the dial, unfolding quite unpredictable and curious openings of propositions of adventures, romantic, creative or public nature, at once dramatic and exciting. If matters are wisely manipulated, with funds and endorsement from influential quarters, quite an unforeseen opportunity may materialize. Elders and superiors are in the picture, as well as romance and drama, but in all maintain a degree of rationalization and calm.

A child born on this day should be thrillingly endowed with ingenuity, versatility, skill with exceptional urge for adventure and romance, in which it will find encouragement from high places.

Early Morning 'Push-Ups' On Menu Again

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 — (CP) — Better start in again on those early morning "push-up." The health and welfare department has begun a drive to take the sag out of round shoulders and reduce the girth of bay windows.

In a pert little 23-page booklet called "Daily Does It..." the department's physical fitness division has lined up a series of exercises for the lady of the bulging hips, and the man with the kewpie doll figure.

In fact "if you're physically fit —you'll be a big hit..."the department quips throughout the booklet which is composed of a series of exercises destined to test every muscle from head to toe. And in case you're not good at reading instructions, there are figures illustrating the different positions.

For that streamlined reconditioning it's best to begin by "sitting pretty."

First back up your hips in your chair so that the body is vertical to the chair seat. At the same time make sure your chest is up, and in line with your hips. Centre your head over your hips and chest, and pull in your chin and hold your head high. When you bend, lean forward from the hips, keeping the chest up, but the shoulders down.

After Shopping

For the woman just back from a day's shopping:

1. Stand with the back against the wall, and try to make the small of the back touch the wall.

2. Relax the body forwards and downwards as far as it will comfortably go.. The lower part of the hip now is touching the wall.

3. Slowly uncurl the body, gradually returning to an erect position against the wall. Press the small of the back against the wall while straightening up.

For the man who has been sitting all day—here's an exercise which should make him feel as if he has just come in from a round of golf.

Standing erect, he should choose a chair-back or wall for support, and holding on to this with the left hand he should stand on the left leg—on tip toe. Once in a position he should swing the right leg forward and backward, swinging as far as possible and keeping the body still while the leg is moving.

The next move is to face the opposite way and swing the other leg.

"Be kind to your feet, so they will be a support to you in your old age," suggests the booklet's section headed "Watch your step!"

For correct walking toes should be pointed straight ahead—in fact the big toes should just miss each other. Socks or stockings should be the right size."

"Don't fence them (the feet) in," says the boklet. Then, tactfuly "Men perhaps, need no reminder, but a word to the fair sex: a sensible, but attractive pair of shoes for everyday is a wise investment."

Truman Lauds Scout Movement

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y., Aug. 13 —(AP)—President Truman lauded the Girl Scout movement today as one providing a basis on which "girls of all nations can work together for international peace and understanding."

The President joined Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada and President Enrico G. Dutra of Brazil in sending messages of greetings to the opening of the 12th World Conference of Girl Scout and Girl Guide leaders.

More than 100 delegates, visitors and committee members from 27 countries, headed by Lady Baden-Powell, are attending the conference which continues through Aug. 20. Lady Baden-Powell, is world leader of the Girl Scouts and Girl Guides and is the widow of the founder of Scouting.

Mackenzie King declared the Scout movement was "of special significance in fostering international co-operation, helping as it does to remove barriers of race, religion, creed and color.

"Today, as never before, too great stress cannot be laid upon character training."

The Canadian Girl Guides, the United States Girl Scouts and the Brazilian Girl Scouts are joint hostesses for the event.

Frustrated School Teacher Can Ruin School Children

LONDON, Aug. 13—(AP). — What makes a frustrated school child frustrated? Psycriatrists think it's a frustrated teacher.

That's what the international conference on child psycriatry was told here today. The news was in a paper written by Dr. Gordon Stephens, chief psychiatric consultant at the Winnipeg Child Guidance Clinic. It was read for him by John R. Seeley, executive officer of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

A frustrated teacher, the paper said, is like a bad apple in a barrel. The teacher's personality is taken up by the pupils. A drab teacher increased the drabness of an old schoolhouse and many such teachers were incapable of paying even lip service to the modern concepts of human behavior.

Such teachers, the paper declared, regard spontaneity, humor or emotional disturbances — except their own — as highly immoral. The great concern of phycriatrists today was the teacher who thwarts her pupils, their initiative and other evidences of growth "to the extent that pathological submission is the only acceptable behavior reaction."

Kills Initiative

Such a teacher would kill initiative, enterprise and any other outward growth in a child in order to make the child obedient.

One big trouble was that the teaching profession is placed on the same "exalted" plans as that of the clergy and the medical profession, and "possibly this is the reason why we find that children more frequently comply to frustrating teachers than they do to frustrating parents."

And why are teachers frustrated? Probably, Stephens thinks, because their initiative is smothered by too-rigid supervision. Public meddling in a teacher's personal life also is a cause. Many teachers cannot relax with a cigarette because prejudiced school trustees frown on smoking by teachers.

At the same time, however, too many teachers are inclined to choose their profession as a means of escape from "aggressive and more mature adult environment," Stephens said.

"The same," he added, "can be said about some psychiatrists."

By The Canadian Press

NEW YORK—John Davis, 66, Brooklyn lawyer who taught himself to speak without a larynx, then taught nearly 3,000 others free of charge, died. In 1930 Davis had his larnyx removed because of a throat condition which necessitated an operation. He learned to speak by forcing air through his esophagus, claiming the idea came to him in a dream.

MIAMI — Everybody's Tabernacle, valued at $75,000, will be sold, a court ruled, and the proceeds divided between Evangelist Ethel R. Willitts and members of her congregation who alleged she "squandered and dissilpated" the assets of the edifice. Parishioners wanted the building turned over to them under a federal receivership.

MINNEAPOLIS— A five-year-old girl who bought to get a drink out of a faucet while taking a bath was nearly drowned when her jaws locked on the faucet. Her father freed her with difficulty and took her to hospital, where she was reported in good condition.

AUDUBON, N.J. — A bolt of lightning bounced crazily between two floors on the Audubon hospital but injured no one. After striking a second-floor window, the bolt glanced off into a first floor diet kitchen where it upset a pot of soup and knocked a spoon out of the hand of the woman who was stirring it.

PORTLAND, Ore. — George Warrent Weatherly, 80, an early-day creamery owner who pioneered the ice cream cone, died.

50,000 Veterans Will Swell Tiny Fort Erie

FORT ERIE, Aug. 13—(CP).—This week-end, picturesque Fort Erie will swell from its normal 6,500 population to a city of 50,000 as American and Canadian Legionnaires pour in for the four-day veterans' international peace encampment. Unofficial mayor for this new "city" will be Philip R. Dyke, Canadian chairman of the encampment.

Dyke, 33, has all the responsibility of any mayor of a 50,000 town, with problems of fire control, policing, traffic and housing, intensified by the temporary nature of the cinclave. Since May, Dyke has been organizing the administration of the encampment and its sprawling tent town by working a 12-hour day. He still holds down his regular position as immigration inspector on the Peace Bridge from midnight until 8 a.m.

His committee of 50 members of the Fort Erie Post 71 of the Canadian Legion, all call upon "Chairman Phil" for leadership and advice in administration of the encampment. In addition to the problem of accommodating and controlling the 50,000 visitors, the encampment committee has to make plans for the entertainment of the Legionnaires in carnivals, air shows, beauty contests, baseball games.

Past president of the Fort Erie Legion Post, Dyke enlisted as an AC2 in the RCAF in 1939. He rose to the rank of station sergeant, then transferred to Flight Engineers' School. Upon his discharge, he was a pilot officer and reported to duty as an immigration inspector the day after leaving the Air Force.

St. Catharines born, Dyke is well-known throughout the Niagara Peninsula, and in fathering the veterans' international peace encampment is well-known in official circles in Ottawa.

4 Seamen Jailed For Six Months

WELLAND, Aug. 13—(CP). — Four Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) members have been sentenced to six months on charges of obstructing police during an incident at Thorold docks last June 9.

The seamen were charged after pickets attempted to break through police lines while a crew was being put aboard the Canada Steamship lines vessel Battleford.

Sentenced Thursday were Michael Delano, 27, of Vancouver; Clifford Heibert, 20, of Fort Erie; Clifford Gunter, 20, of Trenton, and Arthur Donald, 21, a CSU organizer.

Three other seamen, Louis Scmaltz, 26, CSU organizer at Thorold; Nick Sawchuk, 23, now serving a six months term on a charge arising from the CSU strike against four shipping companies, and Joseph Miller, 18, of Palmerston, were remanded until Aug. 18 on charges of illegally boarding the ship.

Piano Industry Slumps

HAMBURG, Germany — (Reuter). — Germany's world-famous piano industry is in the doldrums. Until 1926, German production was about 100,000 instruments a year. Now it has shrunk to an annual output of 2,400 from the only two factories that survived the war.

Truck Dives In Water Two Get To Safety

TORONTO, Aug. 13 — (CP) — As a truck he was driving plunged into the water of the bay today, Harold Fryers, 40, smashed the door window with his fist and pulled a woman companion to safety.

The two-ton truck failed to make a turn and hurtled into 15-foot deep waters of a turning basin. Fryers hauled Mrs. Cecile Belanger to the top of the truck and the pair swam to safety.

Police said a derrick and diver will be required to raise the truck and its one-ton cargo of potatoes.

ROBERT E. STRIPLING (standing), chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities committee in Washington, is asking Duncan C. Lee to identify a photograph of the late Jacob Golds, named by Miss Elizabeth Bentley as head of the wartime Soviet spy ring that has been making headlines. Lee, a former employee of the office of strategic services, is accused of aiding the ring. Asked if he knew Miss Bentley, he said he knew her as a "lonely and frustrated" and hysterical person. He denied he had ever given her confidential information.

Super-Structure At Marmora Now Underway

MARMORA, Aug. 13 — (ENS). — The first arch of Marmora's new skating rink went up on Thursday to be followed later by the second. The work was under the supervision of G. H. Maynard of Markham whose six sons were among the number of workmen thus engaged. It was, as one of the village's tradesmen remarked "an historic occasion". The arches will be twelve in number. They have been constructed on the ground and in their raising, several extra men are needed as helpers for each weighs about twelve tons. It is now seen how high the roof will be. The peak will be about thirty feet from the ice. In addition to progress with the carpentering, it is noticed that the furnace room is about ready for the heating and plumbing units. These are to include a modern furnace, a deep well pump and motor, a pressure tank, lavatories and shower baths. With the necessary dressing rooms waiting rooms, office, and the refreshment room being also furnished, the rink promises to be one of the best for a place of the size of Marmora. Members of the Marmora hockey team are most happy to see this vision of several winters materialising for their home ice next season will be home ice indeed. The treasurer, Alex Fraser, manager of the Dominion Bank in Marmora is hoping that all pledges will be met at the promised time and that other donations from former Marmora residents will be forthcoming so that the opening of the new rink will take place with its being free of debt.

Boxing Jury Member Disgusted At Displays

LONDON, Aug. 13—(CP).—H. G. H. Chandley, a British member of the Olympic boxing jury of appeal, said today he was "disgusted" with the displays of some managers and coaches during the boxing tournament.

"I have had experience in Olympic Games since 1924 and have come to the conclusion that the vast difference in national temperaments and excitable nature of some nationalities make it impossible to retain anything like amity," he said.

"It makes me wonder if it is worthwhile to continue with international sport if this kind of thing is always going to happen. The boxers have shown true sportsmanship; the officials are the ones to blame."

Rain Fails To Halt Reception For Cadets

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 13 (CP) —Pouring rain failed to halt a reception here Thursday for 25 British air cadets. They arrived aboard Capt. R. Scott Misener's yacht, the Ventia, coming from Port Colborne.

Also on the yacht were eight English Sea Cadets, but they did not come ashore.

The Air Cadets were welcomed by the Air Marshal Bishop Squadron of the Air Cadets, taken on a tour of the city and entertained at a dance before they returned to the yacht and sailed for Manitoulin Island.

ROME — A 24-hour strike of Rome hotel workers, which forced tourists to look after themselves, ended wage settlements between the workers and hotel proprietors was reached after the government had intervened.

Minor Offences Numerous In City Court

The minor offences in court today before Magistrate R. B. Baxter ranged from careless driving to permitting dogs to run at large.

A. J. Brown of Lakefield paid $5 and $2.50 costs on a charge of careless driving.

Overtime parking cost fines of $2 and $1 costs each for four offenders. They were James Matthews, 526 Hunter St., West; Arthur Metcalfe, 1135 Queen St., West, Toronto; W. D. Ainsley, 750 Dovercourt Rd., Toronto; M. Lillian Elliott, Arnprior.

Four motorists were fined $2 and $1 costs each for driving with inadequate lights. They were Jake Titus, 194 Hunter St., East; T. D. Plewman, Royal Bank Building; Thomas Hendry, 37 Armour Rd.; William Dunbar, R.R. 7, Peterborough.

Beyaert Wins Cycling Title

WINDSOR PARK, England, Aug. 13—(CP). — J. Beyaert of France today won the long Olympic cycling marathon of 120 miles, 1,647 yards, in the grounds of Great Windsor Park.

G. O. Voorting of Holland, leader for part of the long grind, was second and L. Wootens of Belgium third.

Less than half the starting field of 59 finished, most of them out because of tire punctures. A few had bad spills.

Florent Jodoin of Montreal was the first of Canada's starting four to leave the race. He was bumped accidentally by another rider on the ninth lap, about half-way through the race.

Jodoin fell heavily and injured an arm. He remounted his bike and went on for another half-lap when he suffered stomach cramps and had to quit. At the time he was less than three minutes behind the leaders.

Lorne Atkinson of Vancouver, Lance Pugh of Oshawa and Laurent Tessier of Montreal were all out by the end of four laps because of tire punctures. It was hopeless for them to try to overtake the field.

Beyaert's winning time was five hours 18 minutes 12.6 seconds.

Fight Over Girl Brings $5 Fine

Arden Dracup, 17, of Lakefield, was fined $5 and $6 costs in court today on his guilty plea to a charge of creating a disturbance in a public place. The accused youth told Magistrate Baxter the affray had been "a fight over a girl." Lakefield Police Chief Garnet Samis said Dracup had been drinking that night.

George McLacklan, no given address, was fined $5 and $2.50 costs on a charge of vagrancy.

Inoffensive Little Man Can't Hold His Liquor Magistrate Orders Him Put On Indian List

"An inoffensive little man who doesn't seem to be able to hold his liquor," was given a month to try to straighten himself out in court today. Police Inspector James F. Reid told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that the accused was John Cahill, no fixed address, and gave the above description when the meek-looking Cahill appeared charged with being drunk in public as a third offence. He pleaded guilty.

The slight prisoner told the magistrate that he was born in Peterborough and has been working at one place in the city for the past 12 years.

"I've never been in any trouble until about three years ago, your worship," he said sadly, "and since that time I haven't been out of trouble. I don't know what's the matter, even a glass of beer seems to effec me."

"The other magistrates don't know what to do about him, either," commented the inspector as Magistrate Baxter mulled the problem over in his mind.

Cahill was remanded out of custody for sentence to Sept. 17 and the magistrate said he would be placed on the interdicted list.

"It'll be a few days until the prohibiting order comes through," he told the accused, "but as far as it goes between you and me, I'm considering the agreement to be in force right now. Leave it alone and behave yourself. Do you think you can? According to your past performances, you haven't been able to do it yet."

"Yes, your worship," said the humbled man, "I'll stop. There's got to be an end to everything, you know."

One Killed In Jeep Crash Three Other Men Missing

SIMCOE, Aug. 13 — Stephen Holinaty, 29, of Tillsonburg, was fatally injured Thursday afternoon when a jeep went out of control during a rainstorm on No. 3 Highway, five miles east of here, and piled up in a ditch.

The jeep was going uphill when it skidded around and crashed into the ditch, facing in the opposite direction. It had been eastbound and Mel Howden, resident of the area, said there were four men in the vehicle when it passed his farm. When police arrived, they found only one unconscious man, who died a short time later.

First on the scene was Mrs. E. J. Bradley, a registered nurse from Geneva, N.Y. A short time late Dr. E. S. Coperman gave first aid before Holinaty was taken to the hospital. He was dead on arrival. He died of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Provincial Constable Bert McKie is investigating. The windshield of the jeep was smashed and one front wheel almost torn off.

Holinaty was born in Manitoba and had lived in Tillsonburg for two years, after moving from Port Colborne. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holinaty of Windsor, and was a construction worker.

A brother, Peter Jr. said he had left here bound for Welland and was alone when he left. It is believed the other three men seen in the jeep were hitchhikers.

Police Believe Body Missing Cabin Maid

SARNIA, Aug. 13 (CP)—Provincial police said today they are investigating the possibility that a body found near Alpena, Mich., may be that of Sally Bryan, about 59, who disappeared from the steamship Noronic last Aug. 1.

Miss Bryan, who was employed as a cabin maid aboard the Canadian Steamship Lines ship is believed to have jumped overboard somewhere in Lake Huron.

A brother, Percy Bryan, who is employed by a plastic manufacturing firm in Toronto left Thursday for Alpena at the request of a coroner to identify the body. His employer said Bryan was reasonably sure from the coroner's description that the body was that of his sister.

Citizen Takes Prank For A Real Holdup

TORONTO, Aug. 13—(AP).—A Shallow Lake man is in custody today because a citizen mistook a prank for a real holdup threat. Shallow Lake is 10 miles northwest of Owen Sound.

Police said the accused had been drinking and jokingly told a trainman in Union Station he might hold him up. The citizen overheard and went to the trainman's assistance. In the scuffle the citizen was knocked down. He summoned police.

Police took accused to the railway police for questioning. During the interrogation the man suddenly swung at the policeman. He was overpowered and locked up.

Mr. Logan was born at Niagara Falls, and he was well known in Sudbury where he worked for several years. He returned to Niagara Falls in 1938 and became a customs officer on the Canadian side of the border.

His wife, Lillian, and one son survive him.

Liquor Problem Discussed At WMS Meeting

ROSENEATH, Aug. 13 (ENS). —A temperance program, introduced by a devotional period on the theme, "The Christian's Responsibility towards the Liquor Problem Today," and a business session devoted to plans for an open thankoffering service on September 14 made a full agenda at the WMS meeting Tuesday.

The temperance program led by Mrs. A. J. Campbell, department secretary, revealed that according to statistics, 6,543,000 gallons of spirits, 146,987,000 gallons of beer and 5,584,000 gallons of wine were consumed in Canada in 1946 at a cost of: Ontario, $135,776,068; uebec $88,358,672; New Brunswick, $16,628,760; Nova Scotia, $23,316,246; Manitoba, $20,267,473; Saskatchewan, $20,602,365; Alberta, $27,351,965; B.C., $38,743,456.

Mrs. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. A. Holstead, Mrs. D. Brisbin and Mr. F. Lewis presented a playlet illustrating what can be done by individual women. to "alert" others to the dangers of individual drinking and "to put teeth," and something new and convincing into their protests to government.

Mrs. R. C. White, president, conducted the devotions, assisted by vice-president Mrs. D. Brisbin and Mrs. F. Lewis, with prayer offered by Mrs. R. Crego.

Regarding the open meeting it was decided to hold it in the church, to invite several sister societies to attend, and to have a guest speaker and a program of musical numbers.

Committees of management appointed included: dining hall, Mrs. R. Crego, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. G. Mouncey, Mrs. F. Lewis and Mrs. D. Coyle.

Refreshment: Mrs. Andrew Brown, Mrs. J. A. Nichol, Mrs. E. Waldie, Mrs. A. Holstead, Mrs. J. W. Pacey and Mrs. F. Derry.

A letter of thanks from Mrs. Perry Brisbin (nee Mary Maunder) acknowledging the society's gift, was read by Mrs. C. W. Varcoe, corresponding secretary, who announced also the date and program of the School for Leaders.

Mrs. F. Lewis, program leader, had arranged for two numbers: a contest by Mrs. C. W. Varcoe, won by Mrs. R. C. White and Mrs. G. Mouncey, and a duet by Mrs. D. Coyle and Mrs. A. Nill.

The meeting was held in Mrs. Andrew Brown's home, she serving supper after the benediction pronounced by Rev. R. C. White.

MOULDERS OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

Life blood for a nation flows through Canada's steel arteries—her railroads. The railway men of Ontario—and Canada—help supply the East with the produce of the West . . . and help the West produce their crops with machinery from the East. Because they are the link between the East and West, Canada's railwaymen are moulders of "Canada Unlimited".

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

UNFORGETTABLE THANKS

Can you remember the first time you ever bid and made the highest possible contract — 7-No Trumps? Can you also remember the first time you ever consciously developed and executed a squeeze play? Most bridge players — even veterans of many years experience — can recall such thrills, and recall them clearly. Suppose it happened also that one of your opponents had done something which made both of those thrills possible on the same deal. Wouldn't you have unforgettable thanks toward him?

South said later that he would have bid the grand slam anyway, but in hearts, if North had shown no kings in response to the Blackwood 5-No Trumps. As it was, he got into the maximum contract and with aid from West made it.

The spade 4 was the lead. Before playing any, South counted. Six tricks in hearts, two in spades, two in diamonds and one in clubs made only twelve. A winning club finesse could make the needed thirteenth, but the double marked that as a loser. Necessity being the mother of invention, South definitely planned a squeeze for the first time in his life. Its format was to have, when the last heart was led, the diamond 9 and club J, and in the dummy the diamond K-10 and club Q. Then, if West held the diamond Q-J and club K—as was probable from his double—he would be squeezed.

That's just the way it worked out. Three tricks in spades, the minor aces and then the heart tricks were run. When the last was led, West was stuck. If he discarded the club K, the Q would become good. So he threw off the diamond J. The club Q was then shed from dummy, the diamond 9 was led to the K, dropping the Q, and the diamond 10 took the final trick.

The happy declarer, who remembers this deal from nearly two decades ago, is Halsey Raines, now a brilliant public relations man with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion pictures. But please don't ask who it was that doubled him.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ Q 10 ♥ Q 9 7 5 ♦ A J 5 ♣ A K J 6

In 4-Hearts, if West leads the club 7 to the J, the heart K wins and the spade 2 is returned, why should South play the 10 and not the Q?

Soviet Admits Food Short In Germany

Moscow Has Promised 10,800 Tons Of Fat For Eastern Germany

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—(AP). — The Russian-controlled press admitted today for the first time that serious shortages exist in he Soviet-occupied zone of Germany.

Commenting on a promise from Moscow to deliver 10,800 tons of fat to eastern Germany, Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party, said the poor harvest has "had severe effects in recent weeks."

"Well informed experts have recognized there would be a serious shortage of fat because of the below average 1948 harvest," the paper declared.

Friday the Russians pulled down their flag over the Allied Kommandatura building and walked out. They had proclaimed the four-power commission no longer existed six weeks ago.

Promise Food

The Soviet-licensed news agency Adn saaid Friday night the promise from Moscow came in answer to a request by the Soviet military administration "to ensure the supply of foodstuffs" in eastern Germany. There have been frequent reports lately of food shortages in the Soviet zone.

The western-licensed German press in Berlin speculated that the food shortages have been caused by Soviet requisitioning of food from its zone to meet the announced plan to feed all Berlin, including the blockaded western sectors.

The American zone has been having its own food troubles, although of a different nature.

Some 300,000 Germans took part Thursday in mass demonstrations in the United States zone against high food prices and policies of the American military government.

Run Over By Truck

GRIMSBY, Aug. 14—(CP). —A 17-month-old baby boy was killed Friday, under the wheels of a heavy ice delivery truck, while his mother looked on, too far away to save him. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Norman Ball. Paul McLean, 19, truck driver, had just delivered ice to the Ball home and was pulling out of their driveway when he heard the mother scream. The right rear wheel of the truck ran over the child's head, Police said they believed he ran out beside the truck and fell under the wheel.

Claim Policeman Involved In Bank Holdup

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 14. — (AP).—Police reported Friday arrest of three more suspects, including a policeman, in Wednesday's $500,000 robbery of a Royal Bank of Canada branch office.

Three other suspects, detained Thursday remain in jail although they have denied knowledge of the hold-up. They said witnesses of the daylight robbery of the bank failed to identify them.

Meanwhile, newspapers which for months have been criticizing the police department demanded action.

The policeman detained was listed as Sergio Gonzalez.

Enrique Coluzo, a leader in student affairs at University of Havana, was reported missing from home by relatives. They said eight men in street clothes, but displaying police cards, took him from home.

Police said later he and Ernesto De La Fe, an anti-government newspaperman, also were held as suspects.

Police gave no reasons for the new arrests.

Newspapers attached importance to an interview Thursday night with President Ramon Grausan Martin, by Carlos Santana, assistant chief of the secret police robbery bureau, who witnessed the hold-up. He had gone to the bank to investigate a bad cheque when the bandits entered.

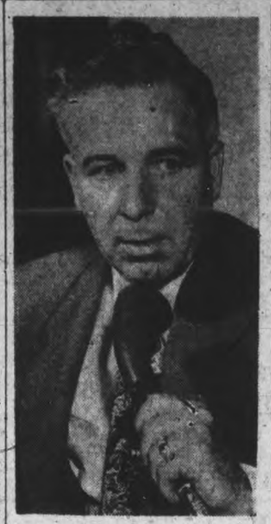
The newspaper Alerta in a front-page editorial column said many people thought a "lack of authority and tolerance of officials with crime" was responsible for the robbery.

Fenelon Falls Man, Guest Die Instantly

Accident Occurs 7 Miles North Of Town Of Lindsay

LINDSAY, Aug. 14 — (ENS).—A Fenelon Falls man, Fred Worrell, and his guest from Detroit, Edward C. Cass, were instantly killed seven miles north of here Friday night, when their car careened dizzily along the road shoulder, turned over, and then landed right side up. Both victims were thrown clear of the totally wrecked car.

The accident happened about 8.45 Friday night, although identity of the two was not established until after midnight. Scene was just south of the village of Cameron.



Mrs. Richard Westaway, in front of whose home on No. 35 Highway the fatality happened, said the car came into a curve in the road at high speed. It skidded along the west shoulder, struck a hydro pole, plunged into the ditch, then out to come to rest upright near the shoulder again. The path of the car was traced by provincial police from marks at the scene.

Worrell was 45 years old, married with three sons living. Cass, 33, was also married and had been vacationing at Fenelon Falls with his 10-year old son. He lives at 1127 West Forest Ave., Detroit. The two men were going to Lindsay.

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan, Lindsay, said this morning that no inquest would be held. He said there were no full eye-witnesses to the crash.

Provincial Cpl. R. L. Taylor and Const. Douglas Dennison of Lindsay investigated.

The bodies were removed to McArthur Funeral Home at Lindsay. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Russian Teacher Becomes 'Property Of Congress' After Subpoena Issued

Woman Refuses To Give Consul Affidavit She Had Complete Freedom; Won't Permit Patient Moved To New Hospital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—(AP).—The United States Congressional spy probe shifted today to the New York bedside of a Russian teacher who jumped from a third-floor window to escape "rescuers" in the Soviet Consulate. Armed with a subpoena, Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the House of Representatives un-American Activities Committee, went by midnight train to New York. There he planned to pin a "property of United States Congress"—in the words of Representative Karl Mundt (R—SD),—on Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina.

The 52-year-old Russian teacher is in hospital recovering from injuries received in her spectacular liberty leap Thursday.

To back up Mrs. Kosenkina's wish to remain free of Soviet custody, the House committee decided Friday night to put her on its own custody with a subpoena which, committee members said, makes her legally the ward of the committee until she is released.

Further Protection

To give her further protection, Mundt said, the committee is asking the immigration bureau not to issue an exit visa for her until further notice, and to cancel any visa that might be outstanding.

Without such a visa Mrs. Kosenkina cannot legally leave the country.

The committee's action coincided with a state department promise to asylum in the United States for Mrs. Kosenkina and another Russian teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarine, also under under committee subpoena.

Samarine already has testified before the committee. But members said he gave little information "pertinent" to its probe of a wartime Communist spy ring alleged to have wormed its way into official Washington circles.

While Mrs. Kosenkina's leap Thursday from a third-floor window of the Russian Consulate grew to the proportions of a major Soviet-American diplomatic incident, she told a Russian Consular official at her hospital bedside.

"You kept me a prisoner. You would not let me go."

United States officials said Friday Mrs. Kosenkina and Mikhail Ivanovich Samarine, the other Russian teacher, were free to go where they wished but would be protected by the United States government if they stay in the United States.

The New York Times Friday night disclosed some of the information gleaned in the American investigation of the amazing melodrama.

Refuses Affidavit

The newspaper said that Alexander S. Panyushkin, Russian ambassador to the United States, sought to obtain an affidavit from Mrs. Kosenkina to the effect she was not being held a prisoner in the Soviet embassy, that she was in good health and had the utmost freedom.

The 52-year-old teacher refused, despite the ambassador's personal promise of future im-

Storms Batter Europe; Britain Hit Worst

LONDON, Aug. 14 —(AP)—Storms and floods spread extensive damage and hardship across much of Britain and continental Europe today.

Britain was the hardest hit. Rivers swollen by heavy, unseasonable rains spilled into farmlands, villages and towns. Five main-line railroad bridges and at least four highway spans were swept away by floods in the English-Scottish border country.

In some 1,000 square miles of north England and southern Scotland, roads were blocked by landslides. Homes and farm buildings were carried away, livestock lost, crops and industrial property and machinery were destroyed or damaged by the swirling waters.

Scores of persons — from an eight-week-old baby to a 76-year-old man — were marooned on rooftops for hours.

Property damage was estimated at $4,000,000 or more. But agriculture ministry officials said crops still would be good if the weather improved. Farmers took a less optimistic view. Some described crop losses as "catastrophic."

In France, weather experts said the first 10 days of August were the wettest in 10 years. A storm blew 350 sheep over a cliff—to death—in the French Alps. Frost was reported in the Seine and Manche departments.

Downpours, high wind, hail and severe electrical storms damaged crops in northern Italy. Floods threatened.

Britain Given Most ERP Aid

PARIS, Aug. 14.—(AP).—Britain got the biggest portion of American aid the first four month of operation of the European recovery program, but France was close behind.

Since April 3, when the program began, Britain has received $240,600,000 worth of aid. France got $240,600,00 worth and Italy was third with $117,200,000.

The total figure of $882,400,000 had been previously announced in Europe.

More than one-fifth of Britain's supplies, or $36,500,000 worth, were wheat. Another $14,800,000 worth went for wheat flour.

Once Jailed With Stalin Farmer Aids Russ Teacher

FREEHOLD, NJ, Aug. 14—(AP).—A story of intrigue that surrounded the nine-day disappearance of a freedom-seeking Russian school teacher has been unfolded by an elderly chicken farmer who befriended him. The school teacher was Michael L. Samarine. The farmer, tall, big-handed Harry Schibanoff, who said he was imprisoned with now Soviet Premier Stalin when both were revolutionaries in Russia more than 40 years ago.

Schibanoff said he turned his farm into a refuge for Samarine, his wife and three children at the request of Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, who operates a White Russian retreat in New York State.

The six-foot-one farmer, a naturalized American, said the Countess told him a Soviet teacher — Mrs. Oksana Stepanova Kosenkina—also sought her help in staying in the United States.

Schibanoff, in an interview, recalled the Countess feared one of the two teachers might not really be sincere.

Feared Phoney

"She told me they were afraid to put the two together for fear one or the other might be a (Russian) spy," Schibanoff related.

Samarine convinced Schibanoff he really wanted to sever his Soviet ties at a meeting in a New York City cafeteria.

"He looked at me with tears in his eyes and said: 'Mr. Schibanoff, if I can't stay here I won't go to Russia. I will kill myself and my family.'"

Schibanoff said he agreed to

Friday Unlucky For Hastings Man

HASTINGS, Aug. 14.—(ENS). —Friday the thirteenth certainly proved unlucky for Mr. Arthur Taylor, 39, of Hastings, when at 11 o'clock on Friday morning he fell off a scaffold in a barn owned by Mr. Scott Fife and landed on a hay fork.

Dr. Atkinson attended the injured man, who received serious in the groin and was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital in Peterborough.

Arrest Mill Worker In Baby's Murder

BLACKBURN, Lancas., England, Aug. 14 — (AP). — Peter Griffiths, 22, a flour mill worker, was charged today with the murder of three-year-old June Ann Devaney, who was seized from a cot in the children's ward of Queen's Park Hospital last May 14.

The battered body of the child, who was recuperating from pneumonia, was found in the hospital grounds.

Griffiths was arrested Friday night after police had checked 40,000 fingerprints of men in the Blackburn area and compared them with prints found on a hospital window.

Driver Not Blamed In Bardeau Death

LINDSAY, Aug. 14 (ENS)—An inquest jury at Bobcaygeon Friday night attached no blame to the car driver whose vehicle struck and killed eight-year-old Victor Allan Bardeau Tuesday afternoon. The boy died as a result of injuries received as the car of E. J. Quellhost of Willoughby, Ohio, hit him as he was driving his bicycle from the laneway of his home, four miles east of Dunsford.

The jury recommended that the trees lining the highway near the scene of the fatality be trimmed and that mail boxes be moved further from the road to aid visibility.

Member Czech Team Girl Dies From Polio

LONDON, Aug. 14.— (CP) — Miss Elishku Misakova, 23, member of the winning Czechoslovak Olympic gymnastic team, died in hospital during the night from poliomyelitis.

The dead girl's sister, Miss M. Misakova, performed with the team this morning when, with tears in their eyes, they gave a demonstration with the other winning teams on the last day of the games.

The Czechoslovak women's team had at first decided not to take in the demonstration but in order not to disappoint the several thousand who had gone to see them after their great victory in the team event Friday, they agreed to go on with the performance.

"This is very sad news for us all," said a spokesman of the Czechoslovak embassy. "She was one of the best members of our gymnastic team and she did not live long enough to know her team had won a gold medal."

Parents Can't Agree On Saving Baby's Life

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—(AP).—A 22-months-old baby girl played happily today as legal and medical authorities sought to decide whether or not to perform an operation that might give her a chance to live.

The girl is Pamela Frances Lamphere. She was born with a rare deformity—her bladder is outside her body—that requires major surgery to correct. Doctors have given the child two to three years to live without the operation.

Her parents, estranged over the question of the operation laid the problam in the lap of Judge Walter R. O'Malley.

The father, Fred, 23, a shipping clerk, filed suit to compel the mother, Irene, 21, to agree to the operation.

Said the mother in court:

"I live for my child I want her as long as I can have her. I'd lose her forever if she were operated on."

Judge O'Malley, said he couldn't do anything "without full medical advice," appointed the deans of several medical schools to investigate and report to him.

Talks To Continue

LONDON, Aug. 14 — (AP). — Talks between Soviet officials and envoys of the three Western Powers will continue in Moscow, the Foreign Office announced today. It did not disclose what headway has been made toward resolving the Berlin crisis. "There will be a further meeting," a spokesman told a press conference but he did not say when it will be held.

Holy Land Peace Hope Held Out By UN Mediator

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 14 (AP). —Count Folke Bernadotte held out hope today of a Palestine settlement even as Arabs and Jews battled in Jerusalem.

The United Nations mediator said if the truce can be maintained for six more weeks in Palestine "the conflict might be solved peacefully."

Arriving here to attend the International Red Cross convention, Count Bernadotte said definite results toward settling the Holy Land issue might be expected by the middle of October.

Maintaining the truce "is by far the most difficult part of my job." But if the truce can be kept "we can be very hopeful that the war is finished."

Friday the government of Israel urged the U.N. Security Council to put an early time limit on the Palestine truce. It maintained that "none of the problems created by this war can be solved within the framework of the truce."

Fighting Rages

Meanwhile fighting raged in Jerusalem Friday—the day Count Bernadotte had set for a ceasefire which he had hoped would bring peace to the Holy Land.

Jewish sources said three Jews were killed by Arab sniper fire. A spokesman for the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion in Amman said Legion troops were under heavy Jewish fire for three hours when the Jews attacked Thursday night.

In Tel Aviv, Israel's provisional government appeared headed toward its first cabinet crisis. The issue boils down to this: whether the new state will lean toward the United States or Soviet Russia.

Premier David Ben-Gurion insists that Palmach, commando force in the Israeli army, be dissolved as a separate military organization. Ben-Gurion's political party is the Mapai, general Labor party which corresponds somewhat to the British labor party.

UN Cease-Fire Plan Proposed

NEW DELHI, Aug. 14.—(AP). —A United Nations commission today proposed a cease-fire agreement between the Dominions of India and Pakistan to open the way for a settlement of the fighting in Kashmir.

Pakistan has denied she has troops fighting in Kashmir, which now actually is part of the Indian Union. India has charged that Pakistan has an expeditionary force in that northern state.

Pakistan, the Moslem dominion, and Hindu India both have claaimed the fertile Kashmir province since the partition last year.

For months Kashmir has been the scene of open warfare. August 6 the Pakistani government officially denied reports that Pakistani forces were fighting in Kashmir. A statement issued in Karachi said: "These reports are based on speculation and are wholly unauthorized."

If a cease-fire agreement is reached, no one seems to know what next step can be taken. Both sides have reservations about holding a plebiscite to let the residents of the state decide which dominion they want to join.

Canada's Population Soars Ontario Leads With 108,000

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — Canada's population is slipping ahead in numbers, at a faster rate than ever before.

The Dominion—aided by both natural increase and immigration —gained a record-breaking 301,000 persons during a 12-month period ending June 1, and Ontario led the way.

The country's population now stands at 12,883,000.

With an estimated rise of 108,000, Ontario showed the greatest increase, outstripping Quebec with 80,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Friday.

All provinces but Prince Edward Island showed population gains during the year.

Births were at the highest level, while deaths were reported low, the bureau said.

The 301,000 increase compared with the former record of 275,000 between June 1, 1946, and June 1, 1947. Of the 301,000 boost, 211,000 were due to natural increase and 90,000 to immigrants.

Together Ontario and Quebec supplied more than half of the total boost. Next came British Columbia with 38,000. Alberta pitched in with 24,000, Manitoba and Nova Scotia added another 14,000 each and New Brunswick and Saskatchewan came in last with 12,000 each.

Canada's northern areas added nothing to her population boost. The Yukon reported 8,000 the same number as in 1947, and the Northwest Territories 166,000, also the same as reported in the previous period.

Prince Edward Island's numbers at 93,000, declined 1,000 from the numbers reported a year ago.

Discover Rich Ore Deposit In Quebec

Predict Ore Body To Break Indian Monopoly, Save 4 Million Yearly

QUEBEC, Aug. 14—(CP). — A great industrial future was forecasted for Quebec today following the announced discovery in eastern Quebec of what may prove to be the world's largest deposit of titanium ore.

Premier Duplessis, at a press conference Friday, announced the titanium discovery near Lake Allard, 400 miles northeast of Quebec City, and disclosed plans for a $25,000,000 project to develop it.

A Government mine authority in Ottawa Friday night confirmed the discovery and said it would have a tremendous influence on Canada's mineral future.

At the same meeting, the Premier also announced plans for construction of a $2,000,000 power dam 90 miles up the Ottawa River from Ottawa.

The deposits, the Premier said, were controlled by Kennco Exploration Limited, a subsidiary of the American-owned Kennecott Copper Corporation. Operating under a license from the Quebec Government, the company will build a 27-mile railway from the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence into the mineral area.

The discovery was announced at a time when other exploration companies are seeking the limits of iron ore deposits farther north.

In setting $25,000,000 as immediate costs for development, Premier Duplessis estimated cost of the railroad at $10,000,000. He said the company also will build a refinery at Sorel, Que., to treat the ore electrolytically at a cost estimated between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

Total expenditure in developing the deposit would run into a figure six times the first outlay, or roughly $150,000,000, he said. The project will eventually require a minimum of 500,000 electrical horsepower.

Break Monopoly

Company officials predicted the deposits would eventually break the monopoly India holds on the mineral, thus making it no longer necessary to import annually $4,000,000 worth of the mineral from that country.

The officials, in calling it the world's largest deposits of the ore, report millions of tons of titanium of commercial quantity in that region.

Besides being used in paint, the Premier said, titanium can be mixed with other elements to produce a metal as strong as high grade steel.

The deposits, he said, were found in Tetu county, on the shores of Tio Lake.

Policeman Wields "Mean Lasso"

COBOURG, Aug. 14—(ENS)—Constable Harry Wilson of the provincial police, Cobourg, wields a mean lasso. Yesterday he was called out to an accident east of Cobourg where a truck and nine cattle were in the ditch. Driver of the truck was Charles Rivers of Bristol, Vermont.

After the truck went into the ditch, the cattle scrambled out of he upset vehicle and endeavored to put as much distance as possible between themselves and the scene. They were achieving a fair measure of success until Rivers and Constable Wilson, wielding lassoes, roped the critters and got them coralled in an orchard.

After the termination of the impromptu rodoe, the truck was pulled up on the highway and the cattle spent the night in the orchard until they could continue their journey.

Raise Pensions Lift Gas Tax Liberals Promise

EDMONTON, Aug. 14—(CP)—The Liberal party promises to increase old-age pensions and wipe out the tax on gasoline for farm use, if the party obtains a majority in the Aug. 17 Alberta general elections.

The party platform, issued by its youthful leader, J. Harper Prowse, says a Liberal Government would raise old-age pensions to $40 monthly. The maximum in Alberta now is $37.50 a month.

At present here is a one cent a gallon on "purple" gasoline sold only for farm use. The Liberals would remove this tax. The tax on gasoline for general use is nine cents a gallon.

The Liberals also promise to:

1. Pay a percentage of the Government's royalty on oil to owners of surface rights. This payment would be made in those instances where the Government holds the mineral rights.
2. Reorganize the provincial service "on a business-like basis."
3. Guarantee second mortgages not exceeding $1,250 to permit lower-income persons to become home owners.
4. Lighten the municipal tax burden by having the province pay at least 50 per cent. of the overall cost of education.
5. Press for implementation of health insurance, extension of provisions of the old-age pension act and the unemployment insurance act.
6. Draw up a long-range highway construction plan stressing "permanent, all-weather" construction of main roads and greater attention to secondary and market roads.

munity from Soviet punishment, the Times said.

Mrs. Kosenkina was visited Friday by Soviet vice-consul Zot I. Chepurnykh in her hospital room, when she made the statement.

A police detective, William Dyczko, who speaks Russian, gave this translation of the conversation that ensued after the vice-consul and a secretary entered the room:

The detective: "I have two people from the Russian consulate."

Mrs. Kosenkina: "I don't want to see any one."

The detective: "This is Mr. Chapurnykh. Do you know him?"

Mrs. Kosenkina: "Yes, I know him."

Chapurnykh: "Would you like to go to another hospital?"

Mrs. Kosenkina: "No."

Chepurnykh: "How do you feel?"

Mrs. Kosenkina: "All right. I don't want to talk to you."

Kept Me a Prisoner

Chepurnykh: "Did you make a statement that you didn't want to see any one from the Soviet consulate?"

Mrs. Kosenkina: "I don't want to see any one. You kept me a prisoner. You would not let me go."

At this point, police suggested that the interview be ended. Chepurnykh later gave this version to reporters:

"I saw her for a minute. Her eyes were closed. She did not want to see or speak to any one."

He said that "it is possible the consul-general may have her moved to another hospital so a Russian-trained nurse or observer could be on hand."

Then he asked a hospital official if a Russian nurse could be put in Mrs. Kosenkina's room, and was told:

"I don't think that's possible. You know we are short of beds."

MRS. OKSANA STEPANOVA KOSENKINA, Soviet school-teacher alleged to have been kept a prisoner in the Soviet consulate, New York, jumped from a window of the consulate as newspapermen and photographers were gathered about the front door anticipating a news break on the heels of refusal by Soviet Consul General Lomakin to answer a supreme court writ of Habeas Corpus served on him to produce Mrs. Kosenkina in court. Resident of the house next door to the Consulate yelled to newsmen who rushed into the house and made dramatic picture of Mrs. Kosenkina, left, lying in the rear courtyard. A third storey rear window of the consulate was open. Still alive she was carried into the consulate, right. Mrs. Kosenkina has become the centre of a bitter diplomatic dispute, white Russians (opposed to Communists) insisting she came to their Rockland county rest home for refuge, and the Soviets, in an unprecedented press conference, claiming she had been "abducted" and later rescued. Mrs. Kosenkina later told police she jumped deliberately. "I was like a bird in a cage. I had to get out" she said.

350 Immigrants Arrive In Two Years

In the staid southern Ontario city of Peterborough where English, Irish and Scottish racial stocks originally settled and lived for the first 120 years, the population has been increased since the first of 1948 by more than 350 men and women from a dozen countries. They are the result of War and its aftermath of unrest and rehabilitation programs and, though many of them speak several languages, they are handicapped at first by little or no knowledge of English.

As small groups detrain at the railway stations with meagre baggage, strangers in a strange land, they bring the knowledge of many crafts and trades from the Old World. They give their stories haltingly to officials of the National Employment Service who place them to work in institutions, farms, factories, hotels and private homes. They become acclimatized quickly, acquire English through group class instruction and are soon able to talk fluently of former days and how they earned their livings. They are not peasant immigrants, by any means.

In group of 28 Polish Veterans, was a shoemaker and a student whose father was a professor in a Polish University and his mother, a doctor. The Ukrainian section of nine men included a professional cook and of the three Estonian women, one was a former kindergarden teacher and her sister and artist. There are two Latvian couples, the husband in one a ceramic engineer and sculptor and his wife a designer of fine china. A man in the married Hungarian group holds a degree in Field Husbandry and the one and only Lithuanian couple are both accountants.

Eight Dutch families have been located on district farms and are fitting into the picture well; they were all of farm stock in the Netherlands. A Jamaican from the West Indies is a draughtsman at a large factory. All these people might be termed as belonging to the Continental group and all others are English-speaking from Great Britain or her colonies.

There are 167 Englishmen settled and working in Peterborough factories and are trained tradesmen in draughting and electrical work and carpentry. Of the 24 Scotsmen settled here, most of their section runs traditionally to the machinist trades. One of the oldest British colonies has sent 15 Maltese who are experts in electrical and structural steel work. Most of the English speaking group are gradually bringing out their families and settling in the city whenever housing becomes available to them.

Long before the new immigrants arrived other races settled in Peterborough starting back when the city was active in lumbering which attracted Canadians from Quebec with solid Norman names. When railroads and building tooks its first upswing in the district many Italian workmen found it good to settle in Peterough and the third generation today are successful merchants. There is also a sizable Chinese population which have been associated for many years in the restaraunt and laundry business. The city is gradually becoming cosmopolitan.

CENTRE OF THE EARTH

At Delphi, a Greek town, the ancient Greeks guarded a sacred stone which was supposed to mark the centre of the earth.

Main Street Topics

"SNOW-STORM"

An overzealous housewife in a second-floor apartment on Water St. raised a slight atmospheric disturbance today. For the moment, pedestrians on the street were bewildered as a shower of fluffy particles filled the air. The good lady was just shaking the floor mop out the window.

INTERNATIONAL NOTE

Peterborough must be becoming famous throughout the globe. At the congested corner of Simcoe and Water Sts. today, at least one tourist thought it unique in an uncomplimentary way. As she waited impatiently to make her way across the crowded intersection, she assured PC Leo Murphy standing at the corner: "I've been all over the world, and I've never seen anything as bad as this corner."

CHILDREN'S QUIZ

More than forty children took part in a quiz contest on Friday afternoon at King Edward Park. Prizes were given to contestants who answered five questions correctly. As an added attraction, a group from Confederation playground presented the play, 'Little Red Riding Hood."

FINE POLICE WORK

Only one large outboard motor is still missing of the motors and fishing equipment stolen from the Lakefield district earlier this summer. Combined work of Lakefield Police Chief Garnet Samis and Provincial Police here and in other parts of the province have resulted in recovery of about $550 worth of the total lost goods, estimated at about $800.

PASS EXAMS

Seven boys and girls passed their senior Red Cross water safety examination at Inverlea recently after instructions from Miss Beverly Martin. Their examiner was Al Clarke, physical director at the YMCA. Following are the names of the successful students Elaine Rutledge, Don Stewart, John Boorman, Stewart Brooks, Ralph Woods, Margaret Martyn, Don Cook.

NOT FINAL CONCERT

This Sunday's outdoor concert by the Salvation Army band will not be the final one of the season, although it is the last one for the Salvation Army. Three concerts remain after Sunday, two by the Peterborough Citizens' and and one by a Belleville band. The Citizens' Band concerts are on Tuesday, August 17 at Tilco field, and on Sunday, August 29 at Nicholls Oval. The Belleville band concert will be on Sunday, August 22.

OLD FASHIONED FENCE

Almost a rarety these days is a new high fence between houses that some one has built down in the southwest end. It stands between comparatively new houses, and apparently is merely an expression of a wish for exclusiveness in the midst of the community. Anyway it's a trim

RINK PROGRESSES

All foundation work on the new Lakefield Memorial Arena has been completed. Volunteer labor, which prvoided most of the "elbow grease" going into the community enterprise, will be used for a considerable amount of the remainder of the work. Under Tom Staves, the unpaid workers are now starting levelling and landscaping around the big building. Carpenters, to work on the main structure, are expected by early September.

NO FIRST-AIDERS

Quite a number of baseball fans attending the Junior baseball play-off at Riverside earlier this week, when a ball player fractured his leg, commented on the fact that there were no St. John Ambulance men on duty. As it happened there were no doctors, nor skilled first aid men in the crowd—at least they didn't make themselves known.

EXHIBITION FEATURE

Hugh Stewart says the new starting gates for the harness horse racing has given the old track sport a new lease on life, largely accounting for the big increase in attendance all over the country. The report of 17,000 at New Hamburg, a little town up in western Ontario, was an actuality. Mr. Stewart, president of the Exhibition, is confident that once Peterborough finds that the delayed starting has been corrected the people are going to like the sport. It has already been used here several times, but it has not yet been seen by a big Exhibition crowd.

He Can't Understand Abdication Demands

PARIS, Aug. 14 (AP) — The Gaekwar of Baroda said Friday night he didn't know why his people wanted to kick him off his throne.

"I have heard all these stories," he said, "and I am returning to find out what it is all about."

The 42-year-old Maharajah, jaunty and apparently untroubled, did not appear too greatly concerned about the charges made in his home state that he had dipped into the treasury to the extent of $10,000,000 for his personal use.

"Why should I do that," he asked. Then he indicated that he had plenty of private resources.

'To abdicate would affect my income, but it would have no affect on the manner in which I live," he said.

Historic Village Holding Centennial

DOUGLASTOWN, Que., Aug. 14 (CP)—This is centennial year in the nearby fishing village of Carleton, once known as Tracedigeche, a Micmac word meaning "home of the herons," and many summer visitors are helping villagers celebrate.

Most of the villagers are descendants of a handful of Acadians who sought refuge from English soldiers in his hamlet fronted by the sea and backed by the Tracadigeche Mountains.

Major landmark in Carleton is a cross, said to have been erected by Jacques Cartier, discoverer of Canada, when he landed on the spot in 1534.

Tracadigeche took the name of Carleton late in the 18th century in honor of Sir Guy Carleton, governor-general of Canada under the name of Lord Dorchester from 1786-96.

Suspense Runs High

WATERLOO, Ont. — (CP). — When Kitchener Panthers visit Waterloo Tigers at the ball park here for an Inter-county League baseball game, rivalry is so intense that pop and peanut sales take a beating in the grandstands. Vendors say that when the twin-city teams slug it out, spectators forget refreshments.

Italian Colonies Problem For St. Laurent

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP). — Around the External Affairs Department this week there were hollow chuckles about the story of Miss MacCallum and the Italian Colonies.

It was Sunday, the day after Mr. St. Laurent had accepted the leadership amid wild convention jubilation. Miss McCallum—Miss E. P. McCallum of the Commonwealth and European division — was on duty alone, a skeleton week-end staff of one.

Off the cipher wires came message from London asking for an official statement of Canadian view on the disposal of former Italian Colonies in Africa. It was slugged urgent.

Everybody Away

Miss McCallum went to work. She tried Mike Pearson the undersecretary, and couldn't find him. She tried Escott Reid, the chief of her division, and couldn't get him. She tried Walter Harris, parliamentary assistant to the minister, and couldn't get him. She tried others. All around, it was no go.

The name St. Laurent kept flitting across her brain, but she drove it back and tried more names. Then finally, with an empty desperation, completely against a wall, she called Mr. St. Laurent's apartment.

"Is it urgent?" he asked.

"Yes," she said.

He sighed: "I'll be right down."

All's Well

When he got to the office, he asked: "Who is there to advise me?"

"Only myself," she said.

So they went to work, the next Prime Minister and the tall, slender woman. They worked for two or three hours and they finally wired London what they thought about the Italian Colonies.

The next day a formal statement was released to the press. One news story started: "Canada today advocated 'the continuation of outside assistance' for three former Italian Colonies. . ."

Air Marshal Warns Vets About Reds

FORT ERIE, Aug. 14—(CP).—Speeches by Labor Minister Mitchell and by US Admiral H. K. Hewitt were scheduled for today's United Nations day program at the Veterans' International Peace Encampment.

Principal speaker Friday evening was Air Marshal J. A. Sully of Ottawa, who said it was fitting that veterans should take leadership in setting up resistance to Communist influences which sought to disrupt the Canadian and US way of life.

"The things that are happening every day under our very noses are almost unbelievable," he said. "These operations are carried on by a group of people who have their distorted and fanatical ideas or are maliciously determined to overthrow our responsible government and, when the 'revolution' they plan takes place, they will 'get on the bandwagon' and enjoy the special privileges which now are handed out to members of the Communist Party in Russia.

"These people, while enjoying all the benefits and privileges of our citizenship, recognize no allegiance to Canada and the United States. Secretly and furtively, they work to infiltrate into our reputable organizations."

England Loses Four Wickets

LONDON, Aug. 14 (Reuters)—England today lost four wickets for only 29 runs by lunch time on the opening day of the fifth and final cricket test match against Australia.

The start was delayed for half an hour because heavy rains this week had saturated the wicket. Norman Hardley, England's captain, won the toss and decided to bat first on what seemed a dead wicket.

Keen Australian bowling and fielding soon had the wickets falling. Both Bill Edrich and Denis Compton went out as well as J. G. Dewes, playing in his first test, and Jack Crapp.

Today's match has no effect on the over-all result of the test, since Australia retained possession of the mythical "Ashes," symbol of cricket supremacy, by winning three of the matches. The fourth was drawn.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14 — (CP). — Announcement by Agriculture Minister Gardiner that the cattle embargo to the United States would be lifted next Monday and export permits would be issued freely to those wishing to export oats and barley from Canada, yesterday simulated buying in coarse grains nn the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Officials said, however, that the issuing of export permits doesn't change the situation here to any great degree as they were being issued freely in most cases.

Trading in coarse grains was extremely active and featured good export demand in barley. Shippers were active buyers in both grains. Some Americans buying came into oats. Moderate offerings in barley were well absorbed, although there were some recessions from the highs.

Discover Skunk Asleep Behind Radio

LINDSAY, Aug. 14.— With a heart not too strong and nerves a wee bit jumpy, Mrs. J. W. Griggs of Little Britain, believes in the luck of Friday, 13th.

When she let the family dog in Friday morning it began to bark furiously in front of the cabinet radio. Looking behind the radio Mrs. Grigg almost collapsed when she saw a skunk curled up on the floor. Mrs. Grigg ran to get her brother to shoot the animal when some one said, "chloform it." Dr. G. R. Hall supplied the dope and a saturated rag was tossed in beside Mr. Skunk.

Later Mr. Grigg carried the animal out on a shovel without any harm being done. The skunk had apparently entered by an open window and mounted the stairs to the living room. It had inspected the premises as a flower pot was found on its side.

Balloting In Alberta Elections Has Declined Since 1935 Vote

EDMONTON, Aug. 14—(CP).— Ballots cast in the 1944 Alberta general election were 26,758 fewer than in 1940 and 19,646 fewer than in 1935. A factor in the decline was lack of interest because the Social Crediters were odds-on favorites to be re-elected.

Here is The Canadian Press compilation of the vote by parties in the 1944 and 1940 elections (bracketed figures indicate members elected):

Social Credit — 146,367 (51); 132,869 (36).

CCF—70,307 (2); 34,316 (0).

Independent—47,239 (3); 130,-603 (19).

Labor Progressive—12,003 (0); (0).

Liberal—(0); 4,109 (1).

Others—6,190 (1); 6,967 (1).

Totals — 282,106 (57); 308,664 (57).

Since the 1944 election there has been only one provincial by-election, Social Credit retaining the seat. The vacancy occurred when Solon Low, national Social Credit leader, resigned and won a House of Commons seat. One Social Crediter was expelled from the party. One vacancy was caused by the death of Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

Following the 1944 election, each of the armed services elected a member to bring the total number of seats in the Legislature to 60.

Standing of the parties at dissolution, July 16, was: Social Credit, 49; Independent, 3; Armed Services, 3; CCF, 2; Independent Social Credit, 1; Veterans, 1; vacant, 1; total, 60.

Camp Borden Takes On New Look As Soldier's Families Move In

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Aug 14 (Special).—Five hundred wives have moved in, lock, stock and barrel, on soldier-husbands stationed here. Their arrival, complete with kids, furniture and the family pet has given the camp a decidedly New Look.

"Wifie" now strolls unconcernedly and almost unnoticed past parade squares which once would have echoed to the world's loudest and longest whistle. But no more. The weaker sex plus the inevitable baby buggy have come to stay and have been accepted.

Throughout the camp children play sandlot ball or cops and robbers and their games are barely interrupted by passing convoy of tanks and other military vehicles, so commonplace has the sight become.

At every Interesection in camp women wait, many of them with small children, for the hourly courtesy bus which will take them to the store, to visit friends in the camp hospital, to the riding stables, the bank, the golf course or swimming pool, or merely "home."

"Home" just now is in emergency quarters in reconditioned Army H-huts, but most families hope to move soon into new cement-block "PMQ's" — permanent married quarters now under construction.

If naything, the wives are more excited about the "PMQ's" than are their husbands who have been waiting and hoping since Capt. P. R. Jack, RCE, of Ottawa and Borden, was given the "go-ahead" on the construction job in 1946.

Dream Home

These days, as the first group of dwelling nears completion, a favorite evening pastime of the women is taking hubby for a walk past what they hope is their particular dream home.

There are two theatres in camp and almost everyone sees a show once or twice a week. There's no fuss or bother about locating baby sitters. Junior, carriage and all, goes along. Parked in the aisle, he can either watch the screen or sleep. His unworried mother can enjoy the picture.

Since the women invaded camp, messes and canteens are not the convivial centres they used to be. Those who do feel the need of a short one after a busy day on the parade square or in the lecture room don't hang around too long. "Gotta make this fast," they say. "The Missus has supper ready and I'll get skinned alive if I keep her waiting." The "Missus" is permitted in the mess Saturday evenings or on infrequently held social evenings designated "Millionaire's Night" or "Bingo Night."

Swimming Pools, Too

There are several swimming pools in camp but the best is a heated, indoor affair which set the Army back something like $80,000. Here whole families gather nightly, winter and summer, for a swim.

There's branch office of a national bank right in camp so people can save money, and two well-stocked grocery stores so they can spend it without the added expense of travelling miles to the nearest shopping centre. "Wifie" may be isolated but she is not out of touch with current affairs and rising prices in the big city. Both stores reported a heavy run on soap and lard in the few days after controls were eased, just as in other centres across the Dominion.

The Camp Borden Public School now is being readied for opening day, September 7, and approximately 375 pupils are expected to enrol ,topping last year's total of 315. Modern in design, the school has a teaching staff of 14 and a principal. All are civilians, despite the fact the school is operated by the Department of National Defence. An interesting feature is the radio in every class room.

Even in an Army camp a woman must look her best, and to help her an up-to-date beauty salon has been opened. The proprietor of the establishment reports business as "good."

Yes ,the women have been accepted at Camp Borden as at other camps across the country, but a few hardy old soldiers still are polted by the sight of flimsy feminine unmentionables hanging side by side with khaki drill shorts and shirts on clotheslines on washdays. But they're trying to get used to it. . . .

Canada's Economic Dependence On The U.S.

If outward appearance and economic facts alone were taken into account, Canada would seem to be merely another State of the American Union, or even an American dependency. Over the radio, on our billboards, in our shops, in our cars, in our dress, in our food, the U.S.A. is ever-present. The wonder is that there remain such concepts as "Canada" and "Canadian". The wonder of the Canadian anomaly grows when economic facts are considered.

* * *

Between January, 1946, and April 30th of this year Canada exported to the U.S. 2 1-3 billion dollars' worth of Canadian goods. In the same period we imported from the U.S. four billion dollars' worth of American goods, three-quarters of it fully or chiefly manufactured. We are the debtor, the dependent, to the tune of $1,620,839,332 for the short period of two years and four months. (Incidentally, is it to be wondered at that we welcome E.R.P. and American tourists with their dollars, that we had to impose embargoes and restrictions against American imports last November, that we had to float a huge loan in New York a couple of months ago, that we have taken steps to prevent Canadian tourists from spending eighteen times as much per head in the U.S. as Americans do here?)

* * *

That is one side of our economic dependence. The other is revealed by public accounts. Eleven per cent. of the twenty-two billion dollars of Canadian bonds outstanding are owned by Americans. American money is invested in 2,000 different Canadian concerns. Direct American investment in these concerns amounted at the end of 1945 to $2,300,000,000. United States-controlled companies in the manufacturing field represent one-third of the total investment in manufacturing companies in Canada. The total direct American investment in Canada at the end of 1945 was $4,982,000,000.

* * *

Despite all this, Canada is an independent nation, it flies a flag which is more-or-less its own, and the greatest goodwill exists on this side of the border toward our American friends. It is perhaps comforting to know that the U.S. with such a heavy financial interest in Canada will not leave us forlorn and desolate in times of need. Canada is the United States' most important foreign commitment.

Travelling Students

The session of a special summer school in Scholss Ploen, British Zone, Germany, ends today. We mention the fact because the school should interest all Canadians who have hope that the international future will be better than the present. It was a six-week international seminar sponsored and directed by the Canadian Committee of the International Student Service. It was attended by 49 Canadian students selected from nineteen Canadian universities, by fifty German students and thirty other European students. The Canadians' expenses were largely met by grants from the universities, Student Councils and the Provincial Governments. UNESCO made financial grants. The British section of the Control Commission for Germany provided accommodation and travel facilities in Germany, and it was at the invitation of the Educational Branch of the Commission that the Seminar was held.

The purpose of the international summer seminar was to bridge the intellectual gulf between European and North American students created by the war and political indoctrination. Much information was undoubtedly acquired and exchanged in the formal lecture periods but the great value of schools of this kind is that young people of various nationalities come to know each other personally, exchange views on their own and their countries' problems, and travel in foreign countries with open minds and eyes.

Such gatherings of students and professors promote intellectual freedom. They do more: they lay good foundations for abiding international tolerance. There will not be peace on earth if the people of a country are hemmed in psychologically and physically by their own national boundaries. Since all people cannot travel abroad, they can have no better emissaries than young students of intelligence and ability who return to their own countries, towns and universities nurtured by their experience and prepared to pass the benefits of their experience along.

Before the war a good beginning was made in international co-operation through travelling scholarships and student exchange. There were the Rhodes Scholarships, the I. O. D. E. Scholarships and the 1851 Exhibition bursaries and other lesser endowments to permit selected students to study in the British Isles. These scholarships have been resumed. There were "exchange students" from and to France and Germany. There were various international schools, notably the summer school at Geneva conducted by Sir Alfred Zimmern, Professor of International Relations at Oxford, which numerous Canadian students were able to attend through the munificence of private citizens or grants from universities. At such schools where seventy or eighty young people of twenty different nationalities bandy words, jostle ideas and live together for two months, a degree of international concord is achieved far beyond the limits of the hundred people taking part.

A resumption and large extension of travelling scholarships, international schools, and student travel to Europe and this continent, whether by cattle boat or air liner, is highly desirable in this world which has been termed "One" but is more divided than security and peace can endure. The value of young people travelling is shown by the international outlook of our alert ex-service people who were world travellers during the war years. It is being revealed on a limited national scale by the "Visites Provinciales" now being arranged each summer so that high school pupils from Ontario can live for a summer with Quebec families and French-Canadian children with English-speaking families in this province.

Dog House For Bad Drivers

A report comes to us that Toronto drivers are becoming more courteous and careful as a result of the cash prizes for safe driving being offered monthly by the Kiwanis Clubs of Toronto. It is amazing what people will do for money; parents find that out when they bribe children to be good.

There is something topsy-turvy about giving cash rewards to people for driving carefully. It seems silly to reward drivers and children for doing what they ought to do. A sensible system is not to pay people for being good but to punish them for being bad. Of course, the law does punish drivers for major careless acts, as even the most inveterate child-bribing parents resort occasionally to the big stick. Could there not be for drivers, as for children, minor social punishments for bad behaviour? A child who is naughty is sent to bed. Could not drivers be put into the dog-house by the citizens whom they have carelessly alarmed, though not injured physically?

The General Electric plant in Peterborough has a "dog-house" inside its gates for all to see. If Department 'B' or '2-4/D' has an accident during the week, it is put, metaphorically, in the dog-house. Workmen in other departments passing by and seeing the dog in and the sign out can smirk and point a sneering finger at Department 'B' or '2-4/D'. "Ah! Old 'B' in the dog-house again. Well, well! You never know, you never know. It just goes to show".

Peterborough could have a dog-house for its careless drivers. One might be set up in the windows of the shop on George near Charlotte (when the Civic Arena Committee vacates). Then all the citizens could see who was being mortified by his fellows and betters (better drivers). When the dog was in the house there would be signs outside it: "Dog's In, due to the frightful carelessness of Mr. X, well-known merchant; Mr. Y, the clergyman; Miss C, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C of Blank Street".

In fairness to the drivers, the other window of the shop should be equipped with a similar dog-house for careless pedestrians.

Smallpox, we learn, is now approaching extinction on this continent. Only 173 cases were reported in the U.S.A. last year; Canada had no cases in 1944, and only five cases in 1945. Thus one of the great plagues of the past bows to modern hygiene and preventive medicine.

Diary Of The Liberal Convention

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Was talking with some people who plan to repaint their house, as soon as they can hit upon a colour scheme which pleases them. They were toying with the notion of painting the house dead black, and planting a garden entirely of white flowers; their only fear was of their neighbours, who might think such an arrangement verged upon the extreme, and was intended as a sly reflection upon their own pretty arrangements of white and green. My personal feeling was that a black house with a white garden might be very tasty in summer, but that a black house among the winter snows would fall somewhat short of cheery domesticity.

◆ ◆ ◆

MONDAY: Had made up my mind to have nothing whatever to do with the Liberal Convention at Ottawa, but Marchbanks proposes, Boss disposes. A memorandum lay upon my desk this morning, saying: "Hold yourself in readiness to attend convention, sending hourly reports, feature stories, interviews with possible and impossible leaders, and human interest stories about lost dogs, lost delegates, lost property, etc. Consider this unique opportunity for you so will regard it as your summer holiday. You will therefore pay all expenses yourself. Boss." Sighed and began excellent series of Yogi thumb exercises, preparatory to hitch-hiking my way to the Capital City.

◆ ◆ ◆

TUESDAY: Summoned by my Managing Editor first thing this morning. "Bad news for you, Marchbanks," said he, biting the end off an iron ruler which he had mistaken for a cigar; "you're not going to the Convention. Political reporting is a young man's game, Marchbanks, and you are an old, beat-up, half-blind, fallen-arched newsroom rat, barely able to earn your keep by writing obituaries". "Have a heart, boss", said I, trying to look keen and eager; "remember those stories I sent by ox-cart when they chose Sir Wilfrid, and those flashes I sent by carrier pigeon when they picked W.L.M.K. Gimme just one more chance, boss'. At this point I was speaking from the floor, where I had fallen while trying to jump in the air and click my heels together. "Get out of my sight", cried the M.E., but I could see tears in his eyes....Packed a clean handkerchief tonight, but no clean shirts; no use making myself conspicuous at the Convention.

◆ ◆ ◆

WEDNESDAY: Arrived in Ottawa today, and found myself in a milling throng of Liberal delegates who had come from the end of steel, the end of dog-team, and even from the end of snowshoe. Picked up my press badge, which was so large and heavy that it makes me walk with a strong list to starboard. Took a preliminary look around Lansdowne Park, which smells of animals, and then retired to my hotel room (which smells of people) to fortify myself with sixteen hours of health-giving snooze.

◆ ◆ ◆

THURSDAY: To the first spasm of the Convention, and after a forty-minute wait a procession of Liberal grandees appeared, led by two pipers playing "Bonnie Dundee". There is a superstition, fostered by the Scotch, that Canadians are affected by the sound of pipes as Harpo Marx is affected by the sight of a blonde, but there is no truth in it....Found myself sitting next to an aged delegate with a deep voice, and whenever a vote was taken he groaned "Aye" like a ham actor playing the Ghost in "Hamlet". When we showed our loyalty by singing the national anthem the Ghost performed a dreary descant all his own; or maybe it should be called a sub-cant, for instead of wandering high above the tune his voice scraped and gurgled far below it....Was fascinated by the crowd, which included Westerners in funny hats, politicians trying to look colourful, Maritimers in their old clothes, and all sorts of women including, to my intense astonishment, a few young and pretty ones.

◆ ◆ ◆

FRIDAY: This afternoon heard Mackenzie King deliver his address of farewell to the Liberal party. Of course I could not see him. Too many news photographers were standing on scaffolds on all sides of him for that. However, I could tell from the expressions on the seats of their pants that the occasion was a deeply moving one. There will come a day when some enraged politician will shoot a photographer. The press will probably try to ruin his career, but an approving populace will erect his statue in pure gold... This was one of my days for reminding people of other people. "Good morning Pastor Hogboom!" cried a moral-looking man to me this morning. "Ain't you Senator Clapsattle of Dirty Vest, Saskatchewan?" asked a hobbling ancient this afternoon. "Bon soir, Monsieur Volauvent!" cried a Laurentian type in the Chateau. Had to look in the mirror to remind myself of myself....Rumours fly about the Chateau this evening. "Free whisky at Claxton's!" somebody says, and away sweeps the crowd. St. Bernards rush through the lobby with rum-kegs around their necks, labelled "Vote For Gardiner!" The cry goes up that Paul Martin is giving free bathing girls to all visitors to his committee rooms, and their is a male stampede. Then it is learned that C. G. Power is giving away New Testaments, and there is a female riot. By dint of hard work I get one of everything, and as I write my bathing girl lolls at my side, drinking my rum and reading my Testament.

◆ ◆ ◆

SATURDAY: Frightful uproar at the Convention when the Young Liberal Association presents the following resolution from the floor; "Resolved, that as we favour a new flag for Canada, bearing neither the fleur de lis nor the Union Jack as symbols of domination by France or Great Britain, this convention favours the invention and adoption of a distinctive Canadian Musical Instrument, to be used on great occasions in place of the bagpipes, which imply domination by Scotland". This suggestion was hooted down by crowds of Frenchmen and Indians, all of whom bore Scottish names and could quote Burns. The resolution was moved from the floor, and as it proved highly unpopular to the elements named, it was allowed to sink back upon the floor again....The election of the Liberal Pope was accomplished amidst great excitement, and before I left the Convention hall I shook hands with Monsieur St. Laurent six times, in six different disguises ....Returned to the Chateau Laurier, and rode for half an hour in an elevator with several provincial premiers, all of whom were blowing St. Laurent hooters....Finally retired to my room, opened my souvenir set of gramophone records of Mr. King's last speech to the party, and sadly played them with a pin far, far into the night.

Fifty Army master cadets from all parts of the Dominion are spending three weeks at a special cadet camp at Banff National Park, where they are enjoying the comforts of a model camp amid the scenic grandeur of the Rockies. On one of their all-day tours, the fifty cadets from all parts of the Dominion saw the beauty of the Alpine set Lake Louise.

In a sanctuary set aside for wildlife, army cadets see buffalo from the windows of their touring army bus. Due to the regulations the cadets could not leave their vehicles because of possible danger. This stop was one in a tour of places where wild animals abound. Despite inclement weather, the trip was one of the highlights of the camp. In this group from Central Command are cadets, from left to right: RSM A. Steinberg, Kitchener, Ont.; Maj. G. Moore, Owen Sound, Ont.; Lt. D. Gilbert, St. Thomas, Ont.; Maj. T. Letter To The Editor

TO LOWER THE COST LIVING

Sir: I am taking the liberty of writing you on a question that is uppermost in most people's minds. Perhaps I'm all wet, as the saying goes. But I really do some thinking, when we hear nothing else these days but the high cost of living. What can be done about it? Are the unions and strikes to blame? Partly, I think, as the working man cannot make ends meet if he does not get the increase to keep up with living costs. Now if we could do away with these strikes, it would be better in the end for everyone concerned. But how? We were much better off on a question that is uppermost in most people's minds. Perhaps I'm all wet, as the saying goes. But I really do some thinking, when we hear nothing else these days but the high cost of living. What can be done about it? Are the unions and strikes to blame? Partly, I think, as the working man cannot make ends meet if he does not get the increase to keep up with living costs. Now if we could do away with these strikes, it would be better in the end for everyone concerned. But how? We were much better off when earning 20 and 25 cents an hour. Why not have it again. Some will say impossible. As according as wages are increased, so must the cost of products. Advance and where is the top?

Our government has power to put on ceilings, also to lower or ease them. Here is a suggestion: how would it be if our government gave a notice on the first of the month that the ceiling would be lowered 10 per cent. giving merchants a chance to get rid of goods bought at present ceilings, wages to be reduced accordingly. In the course of a couple of years we would be back to normal cost of living. I think everyone would benefit in the end. If something is not done along some line or other, it's going to be just too bad for a lot of people past the age acceptable in the factories and other lines.

Hoping I have not tired you with this letter, but would very much appreciate your opinion along the lines.

I remain, Yours respectfully
F. C. BUOTT.

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people....He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations....And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant....

He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.... He spread a cloud for a covering; and fire to give light in the night. ....He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.

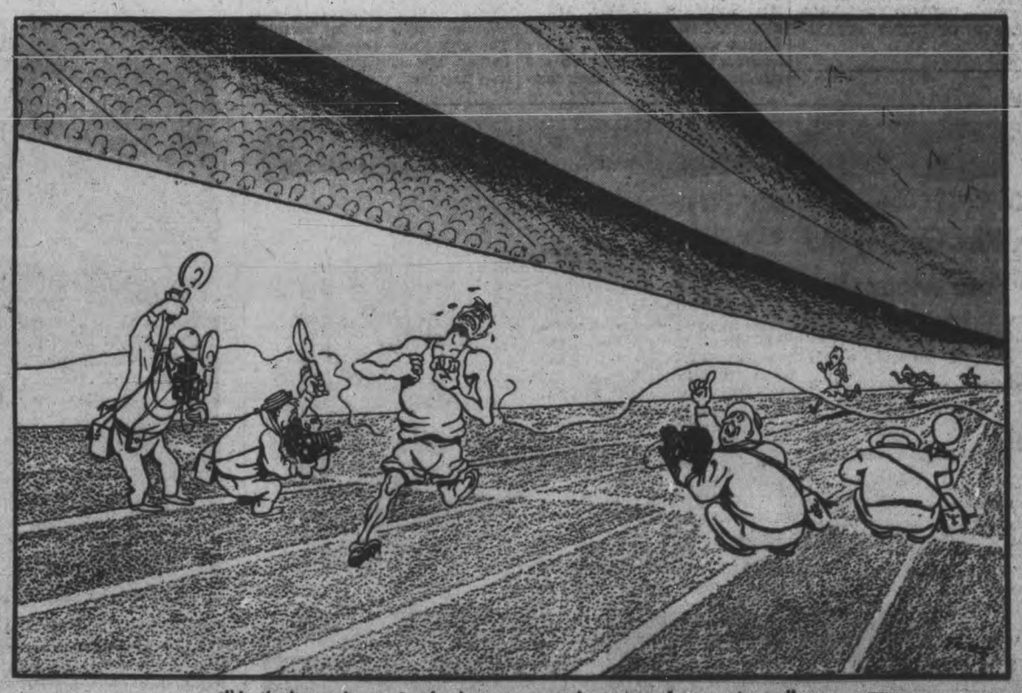
For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant. And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness. (Ps. 105: 1, 8, 10, 37, 39, 41-43.)

Last Resort

In summer when the winds blow hot
The city dweller starts again
For some gay holidaying spot
Where joy is sure to reign.

There, after dinner by the hour
He'll hear dear Mademoiselle
Crescendo
Pound the piano till it wails
Unstrung, and san diminuendo.

Oh happy haven where the young
Unwary bachelor comes to grief
Where nights are long, and shorts are short
And sarongs bright beyond belief.



Here fishermen with creels and reels
Faces and foreheads red as roses
Can buy their legends by the yard,
Pay for them through their noses;

At evening here the loony loon
Across the bay his laughter shakes
But is not heard above the noise
The well-fed juke-box makes.

And so to sleep, on beds unbending
To waken in the dawn and stare,
While childish screams next door are rending
The dearly purchased summer air.

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

SUMMER IS MARCHING ALONG. Fall fairs are in the news, peaches peak from baskets along the main street, and in late afternoon the horizon is obscured by haze, all heralds of approaching autumn. Fields are yellow with stubble, with the odd patch of stooked wheat adding a touch of gold to the rural tapestry. The countryside is like a patchwork quilt, second growth alfalfa and red clover providing the deeper tones of green, with here and there a stand of corn, stately and lush. Pasture fields show the first touches of late summer's searing heat, adding a lighter emerald tone to the picture. Harvest is early and farmers are happy in the prospect of heavy grain yields. Oats, barley and rye patches are clothed in light, yellowing ripeness, ready for the binder. Slate-blue turnip leaves flip back and forth, disturbed by warm breezes, and motorists look enviously at apple trees, heavy with fruit.

BIRD SONGS for the most part are not heard, but in this facet of nature's program, there is contradiction. Robins are feeding their fourth broods of the year, a phenomenal thing. Perhaps nature demands more insect eaters, and the birds guided by some unseen power struggle with their domestic labors, looking foolish at such tasks as they moult. Some tree swallows already have started winging southward to Cuba, the Bahamas and Florida. The goldfinches, wood peewees, and flycatchers, none of them songsters, break the silence of the countryside with their cheeping and chattering. Groundhogs are plump, lazy and indifferent, and already the shrill whistle of the raccoon is heard at night. Along the marshes, mallards and black ducks, are grouping, and testing their new strength in exploratory flights along the lakes where they were hatched in June. Hawks, cut graceful circles high in the blue. Nature's cycle of replenishing and restoration is near another fulfillment.

FOR CENTURIES Indians have plied their birchbark canoes along Canadian waterways. Paddling is a science, an art, an accomplishment as essential almost as the ability to hunt and fish—and now time marches on, bringing a change. Olympic officials received a protest from Canada that European paddlers were using a canoe that had an extension on the keel, which served as a rudder, and made it unnecessary for a stern paddler to flip his paddle and thus counteract the turning of the canoe which follows the forward stroke. In Indians this paddle flip is so marked that one can spot an Indian a mile away, because they swing their bodies in a peculiar rolling rhythm as they paddle in the middle of a canoe. Why did not some Indian think to extend the keel, why did this evolution in canoe building have to come from Europe? It seems almost sacrilege. But it will make little difference, a canoe is still a canoe, and a boat with such a keel is something else again. It will be interesting to see what influence this innovation will have on Canadian canoe building.

MUSKIES HAVE SORE JAWS this month. The larger outer row of teeth is loose, the jaws inflamed, new teeth will soon grow in. And the old bogey that this condition stops muskies from hitting baits continues, like an old woman's tale, unending, repeated from one generation to another, accepted as gospel truth, because people don't want to question it. It's a convenient story, an alibi. But a phoney, none the less. The muskie still has two other rows of short, sharp teeth, undisturbed, healthy. These it uses to kill and tear its prey if hungry during the sore jaw period. While it is true the mighty maskinonge can, and often does, go a week without feeding, it will still take minnows, and adult fish as the spirit moves it. The muskie will hit baits, both natural and artificial as news stories will verify throughout the month of August. So where is the truth in the old story. Any fisherman who has caught these bruisers and examined the mouth has wiggled the loose teeth, but the muskie still hit his bait. Let's put this age-old belief where it belongs....in mothballs.

FROM NAPANEE comes a story that a 32-pound muskie was caught in Hay Bay, the largest so far this year. It was 43 inches long and had a girth of 18½ inches. Ah, ah, easy gentlemen, there's something wrong. Those are the dimensions of a 22 pound muskie. A fish weighing 32 pounds should be 48 inches long and have a girth of at least 21 inches, or if shorter the girth would be larger. Not 43 inches and 18½ inches, no sir. And then when the story was questioned the diehards rallied with a new story, that the girth measurement had been taken after the fish had been cleaned—it could have been 21 inches so they claimed. Why didn't these gentlemen take the easy way out, by having the fish weighed on a government-tested scales, instead of guessing, and writing a story that smacks of straight publicity. Tsk, tsk, after all, a lot of people catch muskies in the Kawarthas, and records have been kept for the past five years. Enough of this silly enthusiasm, a dead fish doesn't grow — except in the mind of the lucky angler.

NOT ONCE IN 20 YEARS have I seen as many Ohio cars in this district. Still the resorts aren't filled. What's the answer? It's simple, the Ohio people are taking housekeeping cottages or else they have purchased cottages of their own. I don't see eye to eye with the man who takes his wife on a vacation, then obligingly lets her cook the meals the same as she does 365 days of the year at home. Still, if that's their idea of a nice holiday, why should I complain? There is a degree of freedom in a cottages, not found in a lodge. There is no fixed meal routine. The visitor can sleep as long as he likes in the morning. He can whip up a midnight snack if he wishes. He can drink and whoop it up as he pleases; in short there is no restraint on his actions or behaviour, and after all that's important. The Kawartha resort owners haven't much to kick about this year, and the people who own cottages and rent them haven't been able to keep up with the demand. All in all, it has been a healthy tourist season. Then too, there should be quite an influx of muskie fishermen in September, because that is the month to get the big ones.

PLEASURE CRAFT cruising the Trent Waterway are numerous this year. One day last week, eight boats, all American, were tied up at the George St. wharf. A few days later six others had arrived. The skippers have nothing but compliments about the service and the condition of the channels. A troublesome reef in the lower Trent is so marked now, that all boats miss it, and up in Stony lake, the canal officials have put strips of reflectors on the buoys. These reflectors are picked up readily even by a flashlight beam, and the boat owners regard this move as a step in the right direction. There is a lively possibility that a power cruise of craft from the various yacht clubs on Lake Erie will be organized for next summer. If this is done, and about 15 craft come through, the City Council and service clubs would in all probability do a fine job of entertaining the visiting skippers and crews.

MUSKIES ARE FRISKY FELLOWS, and one never knows what will happen once the maskinonge is hooked. Fred House, Peterborough, was casting from Gannon's Narrows bridge using a large chub minnow when a muskie grabbed it. Unfortunately for Fred, the muskie swam under the bridge, and almost caused a panic on the opposite side when it broke water. Three Americans still-fishing reeled in furiously, all thinking they had the muskie on. When the fish swam back the line snagged on a bridge chain and Mr. House had to break his line.

Stubborn Motorists Irk Ambulance Men Won't Pull To Curb When Siren Sounds

People who unnecessarily call an ambulance in the middle of the night, the refusal of many motorists to give right-of-way when the siren is sounding, and first-aid kibitzers at the scene of an accident — there are the chief complaints of ambulance drivers in Peterborough.

While the average worker knows he can sleep through the dark hours undisturbed, the ambulance driver is less fortunate. Accident and illness do not observe the eight-hour blackout.

Peterborough's dean of the small group who ride in all hours, through all types of weather is Ken Hogg, a driver for Belleghem's for 20 years. Max Comstock of Comstock's has handled the wheel off and on for 15 years. R. K. Russell and Ralph Carey, Belleghem drivers, have seen five and one a half years' service respectively. Joe Finnie, a former fireman, is another veteran driver for Comstock's. Jack Robinson and W. Wildman round out the Comstock driving staff.

"The main thing," Ken Hogg said, "there's very little courtesy shown to ambulances by many motorists. We don't sound that siren in order to get home for tea in a hurry. When people see that blinker light working or hear the siren they should give us undisputed right-of-way because we're really in a hurry."

The drivers point out that careening through city streets at break-neck speed is no fun to them and they don't step on the accelerator or start the siren shrieking unless they have an emergency case on their hands.

In fact one of the things that frightens some timid souls from travelling in an ambulance is the fear of a top-speed, bumpy ride to the hospital. "Don't go too fast, driver," is said to be a frequent cautionary remark made by conscious patients when admitted to the ambulance.

Praise Police

All of those interviewed were loud in their praise of police assistance in helping to get sick or injured persons swiftly removed to where they could obtain medical attention. And the fire department was also commended for helping out on several occasions.

Often, they say, excited bystanders at the scene of an accident rush to the nearest telephone to call for an ambulance when the person injured is perfectly able to proceed to hospital for medical attention in a private car. Too often, they arrive to find the accident victim removed by the time they get there.

Even rapid removal has its dangers. The willing by-stander, often ignorant of even elementary first aid, shifts a person who has a broken bone and does more ultimate harm than the original injury.

Nowadays there are many people who know something of first aid and consequently keep up a steady flow of advice to the competent ambulance men — all of whom are trained and soon acquire a practical working knowledge of first aid

No worker likes a kibitzer and these men working swiftly to save a possible life are no exception. "Give us credit for knowing our business," is all they ask.

Must Move Carefully

Most of the crews have two favored methods of picking up a person whose injury may become seriously aggravated if he is not moved carefully. If there is only a two-man crew, one of them picks up the patient by supporting the legs with the palm of one hand and the buttocks with the other; the second man places his one palm under the shoulders and the other under the small of the back. Most difficult part of the transfer is to keep the person perfectly stiff.

An even more careful method is to fold a blanket in two and try to work it under the body of the patient until it can be grasped from the other side. If the four corners of the blanket are then grasped and held tightly the body should not sag; and if two more persons can hold it in the middle on either side, it becomes an ideal method of moving the patient.

The first accident encountered by one driver was in London Ontario. A car containing six people crashed into a bus and all six were seriously hurt. The driver, apparently still aware of his responsibility for his passengers safety asked solicitously after each one as he himself was being driven to the hospital He carried on a brief conversation in a rational manner and then lapsed into unconsciousness and died. Although he didn't have a mark or bruise on his body he died as a result of internal injuries

Some Strange Stories

Strange stories of victims receiving crippling or even fatal injuries and yet able to discuss them in a composed way can also be told. One young man had his left leg severed when he fell under a moving train. On the way to the hospital he chatted freely; his chief worry was whether his golf game would be affected.

This is apparently no novelty to those who deal with these injuries every day. Another driver also told of a man who had his leg cut off between the knee and thigh by a freight train On the trip back from Havelock to Peterborough he described in considerable detail how the accident happened and did not seem to be suffering much pain. He died later.

Unlike the taxi drivers none of the local ambulance men have had visits from the stork while racing to the maternity ward. One young man answered a "stork call" one night and got more than he bargained for When he arrived the baby was being born and he was pressed into service as a midwife to help the doctor

The harassed husband was asked by the doctor to go find some thread as a temporary measure for tying the umbilical cord. And the driver still laughs when he thinks of what the husband return with — a length of gaily-colored string from the package of a well-known candy firm.

On another occasion he rushed to the residence of a frantic caller only to learn he was too late. The baby had been born on the verandah. Both were taken to the hospital and were perfectly all right.

Trouble is sometimes encountered from old people who while not desperately ill, are nevertheless hospital cases. They stubbornly refuse to be moved—either into the ambulance or into the hospital.

According to these men, neither sex has a monopoly on stoicism. There is no real difference between the reaction of men and women when they become accident victims. One thought that women might ask for a little more attention that was all.

Asked it it weren't hard on the nerves to witness so much human suffering and tragedy, they replied philosophically: "You get used to it."

But another ambulance driver added: "You just have to get away from it all every once in a while or you'd go crazy."

Gore's Landing Early Home Of Three Great Canadians

By L. J. DELANEY

"What a beautiful church!" often a summer tourist is heard to say. Many come up the steep hill to visit the church, to rest and to pray in it. By going up higher through the field behind the church one can see far across the country and up and down the lake. From there may be seen in the foreground St. George's Church among the pines of the woods and the ancient oaks of the churchyard. It is a fieldstone church of exquisite beauty, a gem, worthy of its glorious setting.

It is not for sentiment alone that we go back and live again the adventures of former days. There is something impelling, a strong call to disclose the sacred past, gently and reverently, in order that its lessons, its message and its spirit may touch ours, and enrich and ennoble us.

We find that there was here a way of life that has passed almost beyond recall. No doubt there were abundant grace and virtue that dignified those early days. The quiet devout lives of these people have not been without profit to the rest of the world.

The countryside has given a steady stream of citizens to town, city and national life, and this community has given its full share. The children of these early families went into all walks of life, especially into public service. Some went to the cities, some to the new frontiers of the west, to the United States, and overseas. Among them are a painter of royalty, a famous poet, and a national leader in the church.

Alfred Hayward was once hailed as the greatest living flower painter. His brother, Gerald Sinclair Hayward, painted many of the royalty of Europe and many of the public figures of Canada and the United States. (Gerald Hayward was Churchwarden when the present beautiful St. George's was built in 1908). One of the poets who had been inspired here was Archibald Lampman, Canada's leading nature poet.

Among the men and women who worshipped here was Derwyn T. Owen, the late Primate of all Canada of the Church of England.

A search of the earliest records reveals a story of excitement and adventure. Champlain, the Indian Wars, the French Sulpician traders, and above all Charles Fothergill have each added a romantic chapter to the account. Fothergill came to this naturalist's paradise (1717-22) to gather data for his "Natural History of the British Empire." He dreamed of a Utopia here. As he wrote the governor, "I trust that much may be done by a few ardent, enterprising minds acting upon a body of chosen settlers in so fine a country."

In the 1840's such a dream began to come true. Judge Falkner, Capt. Hayward, Col. Robert Brown, Capt. Gore, George Ley and Lt. Traill selected this locality for their homes. They were members of St. Peter's, Cobourg, but they had their families soon sought a church in the neighborhood. Archdeacon Bethune first mentions coming out to the 'Rice Lake congregation" for Holy Communion on October 12, 1845.

With the building of the Plank Road (1847) which was for a time the main route from Cobourg to Peterborough a village sprang up around Mr. Gore's 'Landing'. A church was begun in 1846 and the first service was held in the unfinished building on June 1, 1846.

The first rector was the Rev. Alexander Macnab, DD, former president of Victoria College, Cobourg, and later rector of Darlington (Bowmanville). He came in 1851, and was succeeded in 1852 by the Rev. J. W. R. Beck who later became rector of St. John's, Peterborugh.

From 1867-74 the Rev. Archibald Lampman was rector. His eldest child. Archibald, went in time to the F. W. Barron Boys' School at 'Glenavy', across from the church. F. W. Barron, MA, former headmaster of Upper Canada College, had married the widow of Mr. Gore and for many years they ran a boarding school for the sons of wealthy parents. The most apt scholar, however, proved to be the rector's son. Young Lampman's years at Rice Lake, from six to 13, spent amid such lovely surroundings and in the literary atmosphere of the society, left a permanent impression on him.

In later life he wrote: "I remember a lake with a long midwinter road running across its frozen surface marked with young cedars fading into the distance, an infinite dotted line, and I remember the jingling teams that would come by ths track on the crystal Christmas morning, bound for the little rough-cast church on the hilltop above the Landing. I remember the rough-voiced farmers, bearded white with hoar frost, and the cheerful ruddy-faced women, and the good words they had, and the presents they always brought with them for the parson—a turkey, a goose, a side of pork, a couple of bags of oats, some pairs of knitted socks and many another thing. I remember how the lake roared under the moonlit Christmas night as if all the northern genii were gathered like Merlin's chained friends at Caermarden under that gleaming band of ice, and all night long the imprisoned waters groaned and struggled, now with reports as of pistols and now with a thunder as of a hundred cannon."

'Tomatoes' On Potato Plant No Mystery To Experts

When is a "tomato" not a tomato?

When it grows on the stem of a potato plant and takes its proper name—potato ball—a form of seed common to farmers but unsuitabel for planting.

This question, being asked by farmers scattered across the Dominion, popped up on the outskirts of Montreal in Ville St. Michel over the week-end where a resident, Lawrence Presknisky, 7078 Seventh avenue, discovered what he took to be tomatoes growing on the stems of his potato plants.

Confusing to say the least!

But this reporter was somewhat dubious as to the origin of the tomato-like fruit (yes it is a fruit, according to botanical experts) and made some enquiries.

The experts explained that the seed formation depends on the type of soil, weather conditions, depth of seeding, type of potato eyes used and similar conditions.

While the potato ball closely resembles a tomato, either externally or when cut with a knife, it usually grows to the size of a goose-berry, turns brown and dries out late in the fall. When planted, the seeds from the ball will grow potato plants but neither the vegetable nor the plant will be of uniform size or strength.

And so the riddle of the tomato growing on the stalk of the potato plant will be solved for a time at least, until someone in a different locality finds "tomatoes" growing on their potato plants and thinks the atom bomb was responsible and they are about to revolutionize the farmer and his garden.

In Peterborough this same strange situation has been found. Peter Goselin, 30 Ware St. brought a sample into the Examiner office, while Mrs. W. W. Blewett, Lakefield, planted certified seed potatoes only to find the small green 'tomatoes" growing on the potato stalks.

Oshawa Lacrossers Win 8-6 Game Against Petes

Oshawa lacrossers beat the Petes 8-6 before a big crowd at Miller Bowl last night, the locals' second OLA Senior "B" loss of the season, and the first reverse at home. Both defeats were at the hands of the strong Motor City squad. The visitors played sound lacrosse, checking closely, breaking fast and stalling during the final frame. The count was 3-2 for them in the first quarter, 6-2 at the half and 7-5 for the Oshawa bunch going into the 1-1 fourth chukker. Checking was hard throughout and there were a few minor fights. The homesters drew eight of the 13 penalties in a tight tilt.

Lou Vitarelli was in on three of the Petes' goals while Ron Horton and Rowan Chute both turned in a good defensive game. The rest of the Creighton crew worked hard all the way but were outplayed a bit over the route by the Motor City crowd. Cook, Bill Vipond, Sutherland and Chambers starred for the winners, and the visitors all turned in a smart effort.

Marines Take Third One Over Electrics

Marines defeated CGE 5-3 at the Bowl last night to win the Girls' Softball League semi-finals in intermediate "A" and go in against Westclox in the finals. It was their third straight win in as many starts of the best-of-five series, and a good-sized crowd saw a neat number. J. Hart hurled five-hit ball for the Electrics and fanned five, but a few walks and several errors hurt their cause, while Marines went better in the field. E. Whittaker gave but two hits as she fanned three, and M. Connolly took over in the sixth to finish well.

T. DeCarlo and A. Collins went best defensively for the losers, and M. Behan and A. LaPointe stood out in the field for the Marines. A. LaPointe led them at bat, getting wo of their five hits, one a three-bagger, in five tries. T. DeCarlo topped Electrics at bat with a double and single in four appearances, and M. Romanoff crashed out a three-bagger as CGE threatened hard in the ninth, but they were held to one run.

Kinsmen And Kiwanis

Lakeshore Junior Baseball League executive has ordered the deciding semi-final playoff between our Kinsmen and Kiwanis to be replayed at 5.45 p.m. in Riverside on Monday. A nine-inning game with outside umpires to settle which squad meets Oshawa in league finals. Each club will supply four balls, and it wouldn't hurt to have a limb or two of the law available, also. No love lost betwixt these scrappy and well-matched teams. They should pack in a big crowd for this struggle. Probably Doug Plunkett or Red Sullivan will pitch for the Turner team of East City with Brian Wade or Jake Jaquith likely to get the call for Art Pagett's southend Kiwanis.

Legionnaires play Knights at seven tonight in the Bowl d'Ashburnham, weather permitting, and then it's K. of C. vs. Legion in the nightcap. Yeah, a twin bill and a double win for either club would wind up the men's softball semi-final serial. If they split evenly tonight, the deciding joust will have to be staged at seven bells next Tuesday night. Winner then going in against B-A for the city championship. Knights swept both ends of the first playoff double-header last Tuesday, but Legion came back to take two games Thursday and tie it up tightly. A great series before crowds of close to 2,000 excited fans.

Marines Take Series

Marines rubbed out CGE girls 5-3 at the Bowl last night in intermediate "A" semi-finals, three straight, and Lindsay edged Lakefield 9-7 in the first of the best-of-three intermediate "B" finals. Two good games before a nice crowd. At least, we think they were all nice folks! Yeah, tight tussles, especially the Marines-CGE one, as Lakefield didn't threaten till they really went to work in the ninth against Lindsay. The setup Monday will likely have Lakefield and Lindsay right back at each other again while Marines will go into the "A" finals against the loop-leading Westclox. We may get the definite dope on it ere column's end.

Down at Miller Bowl last gloaming, our senior "B" lacrossers were handed the lemony side of an 8-6 count by Oshawa's improved club. Before a crowd we figure must have been nudging 3,000 pretty hard. A fine fray and don't start saying: "What's wrong with the Petes, as they've droped two in a row to Oshawa now?" On account of (a) a lot of you fans figured the group was getting too one-sided lately with easy wins all the time for the Petes, and (b) Oshawa is working hard for the title this year. They're plenty potent, too, and will be no soft touch for the Creighton crew. But the Petes aren't powder puffs, either, and still lead the loop.

Earned The Victory

Last night, the Motor Citizens—minus one of their aces, Hillson—earned the win with quick breaks, close checking and smart stalling in the final frame. The Petes worked hard but trailed a bit all the way. Goalie Chambers, Sutherland, Cook and Bill Vipond looked best to us for Oshawa, while Lou Vitarelli, Ron Horton and Rowan Chute were good consistently for the homesters. They all worked hard, from Bun Hill out, but it just wasn't their night. A rugged game but not too rough as both sides tried hard for that win. What a playoff series they'll be having later!

Thorpe Demands Trophies Back

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 — (CP). — Jim Thorpe, the great American Indian athlete, is on the warpath. He wants his trophies back.

Thorpe, now 60, was the standout of the 1912 Olympics at Stockholm, winning gold medals in the five-event Pentathion and 10-event Decathlon — a performance never matched — and special awards from Russia and Sweden.

But no sooner had he won them than they were taken away. A blot on his amateur record was discovered and he had to return the trophies to Olympic headquarters at Lucerne, Switzerland.

Now, 36 years later, Thorpe is trying to have his tokens returned. His plan is simple: he wants Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympic committee and vice-president of the International Olympic Association, to take up his case.

"If Brundage tells 'em to give me the trophies, they'll give 'em to me," old Jim frowns.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

We motored down to Port Hope last evening to see the finals in the doubles play-off for provincial district No. 14, between C. Littster and J. Hunter of Oshawa and R. Gamble and W. Jeffries of our club. It was a fine night for bowling and the green was in fair condition. For the first seven ends it was all Oshawa. They were playing a beautiful draw game and took quite a lead.

The local boys then began to click and scored two 3-ends to make it a little closer. The next few ends were see-saw, with honors about even. During the last half the Peterborough pair had the edge and with just a little luck might have pulled the game out of the fire. At that they only finished six down. They fought an uphill game all the way. The winners now go on to Hamilton on Labor Day to play off with other group winners for the provincial championship, and our boys are wishing them the best of luck.

Oshawa		Peterborough
C. Litister and J. Hunter	25	R. Gamble and W. Jeffries	19

At the time of writing this column the sky is clear and the sun is high in the heavens. It does look as if it is going to be a real fine day and that means a goodly crowd out tonight for the week-end mixed tournament at 7.30 p.m.

Lindsay Girls Take Win Over Lakefield

Lindsay lasses edged out a 9-7 victory over Lakefield in the first of the Girls' Softball League best-of-three finals at the Bowl last night to declare an intermediate "B" winner. A hefty gallery saw the Lakefield girls, trailing throughout, rally for six runs and make it close in the ninth chukker. They'll meet again Monday in the second struggle as a winner must be declared shortly for PWSU playdowns. Likely Marines and Westclox will be on the same card in intermediate "A" finals.

Both sides last night had 14 hits, while Lindsay played errorless ball in the field as Lakefield had two miscues in a good game. P. Graham and M. Chase were strong in the field for the winners, and R. Maloney and I. Bullock were best for Lakefield. Seven Lakefield batters went down on strikes and eight Lindsay hitters whiffed. J. Bryans led Lindsay at bat with two for three, as M. Owen got two doubles in four. N. Clements topped Lakefield with three for five.

The teams:

Lindsay—H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; D. Hunter, c; M. Chase, ss; D. Madill, rf; M. McDonald, rf; M. Owen, 3b; D. Wood, cf P. Richards, lf; M. McGill, lf; J. Bryans, p.

TORONTO, Aug. 14 — (CP). — Freddie Mildon of Toronto and Bud Piper of Oshawa, fought to a five-round draw Friday night in a recent athletic club boxing show. Mildon connected with several solid lefts in the first and second rounds but Piper came back in the final.

Paige Hurls Cleveland Back To Top Spot, Wins 5-0

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old Leroy (Satchel) Paige, who waited 25 years for his chance in the major leagues, is making up for lost time in a hurry.

The famous Satchel of negro baseball fame gave 51,013 Chicago citizens a sample of his old-time brilliance Friday night when he shut out the White Sox 5-0 to pitch Cleveland Indians back into first place in the hot American-league pennant race.

The Tribe victory, coupled with New York Yankees 8-5 victory over Philadelphia Athletics, pushed the Indians back into first place by a half a game, and eight percentage points over Connie Mack's A's.

He dealt out only five singles and did not issue a single base on balls as he hurled his first complete game in the majors. It was only his second start since he joined the Indians July 9. At the time he was counted upon "only for relief." He has won four and lost one. He has made nine relief performances and the Indians were victorious in seven of them.

Against the White Sox Friday night he had a three-hitter until the last frame, but gave up singles to Luke Appling and Pat Seerey.

Drop Heart-Breaker

The Athletics dropped a heart-breaker. They were ahead 5-0 as Lefty Lou Brissie went into the last half of the eighth with a splendid three-hitter. But the Yanks, on five walks, four hits and an error off Brissie and two relief pitchers, scored eight runs to take the game.

Pitching no-hit ball for 6 1-3 innings, lefty Mel Parnell hurled the third-place Boston Red Sox to a 6-2 victory over the Senators in Washington to push the Sox up within a game and a half of first place. Parnell who registered his ninth victory didn't allow a hit until Mark Christian doubled with one out in the seventh.

Young Ned Garver outpitched the mighty Hal Newhouser as St. Louis Browns defeated Detroit Tigers 4-1 to move past Washington into sixth place. The only Tiger run was unearned.

Turn Back Redskins

Brooklyn Dodgers climbed to within three games of the league-leading Boston Braves in the National League by turning back the Redskins 6-3 in Boston. The Dodgers' triumph, coupled with Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals, gave the Dodgers undisputed possession of second place. They boast a full-game advantage over the Redbirds.

The Pirates win was their seventh straight over the Cards and sent them into fourth place, a full game in front of New York Giants.

Scoring 10 runs in the first inning as 14 men went to bat against Ray Poat, Alex Konikowski and Swede Hansen, Philadelphia Phils went on to outslug the Giants 12-7 to dump the Giants into the second division.

Johnny Schmitz chalked up his 12th victory against 10 losses as he pitched Chicago Cubs to a 10-4 victory over Ewell Blackwell and Cincinnati Reds.

The Man Who Brought Others

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Matt. 4:18; Mark 1:16-21, 29; 3:18; 13:3-7; Luke 6:14; John 1:37-48;

When John the Baptist pointed out Jesus to Andrew, he followed Him home, and was convinced He was the Messiah. Andrew sought Peter, his brother, and brought him to Jesus.

After calling Simon and Andrew to follow Him, Jesus taught in the synagogue and then went to the home of Simon and Andrew, and James and John went with them.

Seated on the Mount of Olives, Simon, Peter, James, John and Andrew questioned the Master as to when the kingdom of heaven would come and what would be the signs thereof.

After the Resurrection, after Jesus had been taken up to heaven, His disciples, the women and Mary, His mother, met for prayer and supplication.

MEMORY VERSE—Mark 519.

Andrew's Great Example Brought Brother to Jesus

Scripture—Matthew 4:18; Mark 1:16,29; 3:18; 13: 3-7; Luke 6:14; John 1:37, 43; 6:8, 9; Acts 1:12, 14.

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Another humble, but good, industrious, honest and useful man is brought to our attention in this lesson. He was Andrew, one of Christ's first followers.

Andrew brought his own brother, Simon Peter, to Jesus, telling Peter that he, Andrew, had found the Messiah. It came about in this way: John the Baptist was preaching the coming of Christ, and one of John's disciples was this name Andrew. He and a companion were near when John the Baptist pointed to Jesus, who was walking nearby and said, "Behold the Lamb of God!

Hearing this the two men followed Jesus, and when He asked them what they wanted, they asked Him where He lived and went with him to His abode. After talking with Jesus for some hours, Andrew sought out his brother, Simon Peter, and said, "We have found the Messiah," and he brought Simon to Jesus.

MEMORY VERSE

"Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee."—Mark esvt.

Jesus looked at Peter, saying, "Thou art Simon, the son of Jona, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is a stone."

This was Andrew's role in life. He never put himself forward: He was content to work for Christ, to bring others to His notice. He was the first missionary. His first thought on discovering his Master was to tell his brother—someone near him— and to have him share his joy.

Missionaries have for years been sent to faroff countries to spread the gospel. They do wonderful work, aiding their converts to a better way of life physically, as well as spiritually, and caring for them in sickness of body as well as of mind.

About a year later, after Andrew brought Peter to Jesus, the Messiah was walking by the Sea of Galilee, and again saw the two brothers, Peter and Andrew. The two men were casting their fishing nets into the sea, and Jesus said to them "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men." "And they straightway left their nets and followed Him."

Mark tells us of the time Jesus chose His apostles and gave them power to perform miracles. Simon Peter was the first mentioned, then James, next John and fourth Andrew. John really tells us more about Andrew than any of the other scriptural writers. Andrew himself never wrote about his experiences. He let others do the work that most impressed the world.

John tells us of another incident in Andrew's life. It seems there were some Greeks (Galilee was full of Greeks) who embraced the Jewish faith and came up to Jerusalem to worship at the Jewish feast. They had heard of Jesus and came to Philip, one of the twelve, and a Galilean, and said, "Sir, we would see Jesus."

Philip seems not to have known just what to do, so he spoke to Andrew, and it was Andrew who went to Jesus.

Another episode was that of the miracle of feeding several thousand people with five barley loaves and two small fishes. Andrew did not perform the miracle of course, but he was the man to notice the boy who had the food and he called Jesus' attention to the lad.

Andrew seemed always keen to see things that needed to be done —and to do them or see that they were done. They were not necessarily big tasks in themselves, but often they led to something important, as in this last case.

Andrew never was jealous of others who were put before him. His brother Peter was the leader, and Andrew willingly and cheerfully conceded that place to him with no thought for himself.

His was the same task that Jesus gave to the man possessed of a devil which the Lord cast out. Mark tells us that Jesus said to him "Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee." That was Andrew's mission in life.

That is also the mission of each one of us, individually, and of our great country in these troubled times. If we forget ourselves and remember how blessed we are and try to show everyone with whom we come in contact —here and abroad in foreign lands—that we are not self-seeking, but desirous of bringing the understanding and freedom—which we enjoy— to them, surely we will help to bring about that peace for which we all pray.

VOL. XCVII, No. 37 — SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1948

MAIN ST. TOPICS

PETERBOROUGH FACTORIES PICNICS

Canada Packers Limited is holding the annual employees picnic today at Couchiching Park, Orillia and the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. is having an outing at Cobourg.

MOTORCYCLISTS ACTIVE

A weiner roast is planned this Tuesday by the Kawartha Motorcycle Club. On Wednesday, the club has been invited to participate in a parade at Lindsay at which prizes are offered for best machine and rider. The following Sunday, riders will be guests at a Pot Luck Supper at Pleasure Valley Ranch near Oshawa.

GRADUATES GET WINGS

The first group of flight cadets to graduate from the RCAF Centralia air station received their wings Friday in a ceremony held on the parade grounds. Topping the cadet graduates was Flight Cadet Grant H. Nichols of Sarnia. Other graduates included: Flight Cadet G. M. Cridland of Peterborough.

CHILDREN'S DRAMA STARTS

A group of travelling actors from Fleming Place playgrdund played Goldilocks and The Three Bears before an audience of 100 children at Riverside playground on Thursday afternoon. This is the first of a series of such dramatizations which will be carried out by children from the various playgrounds.

BEGIN WESTERN HARVEST

Estimates of the western wheat crop have increased recently with cooler and moist weather that helped fill the grain, the CNR reported today from Winnipeg. Rye cutting is general, and the wheat harvest will be begun in Manitoba next week, but not for two weeks in northern Alberta. Warm weather is needed for bringing the crops to maturity.

EARLY SPEED STOPPED

Alparka comment, and not unfriendly, suggests that for all practical results the rink committee could have deferred their concrete foundation work on the Park St. ball diamond and left it for the usual schedule of ball games that would now be nearing the fipals.

HORSETEAM-CAR COLLIDE

Damage of about $15 was done to the car of Harold Lumsden when it was parked in the lot of the City Auto Electric Co. on Hunter St. Friday afternoon. It received the dents from a horse team driven by Joseph McCabe, 265 Sherbroke St. PC Louis Rodregue investigated.

MARKET CROWDED

The farm produce market this morning had reached the season stage of Yellow Harvest and Red Astrakan apples. And when they are showing black seeds you know the year has begun to go down hill. The outdoor space was fully occupied with fruit, vegetables and flowers, but there are many Saturdays in the year when the tenancy is decidedly light.

BUBBLE BLOWING CONTEST

Thirteen children at Riverside Park on Friday afternoon competed in a bubble blowing contest, which was won by Helen Minicola, with Rose Barker second. Bubbles varied in size from ½ inch to 8¼ inches. A talent contest which followed the bubble blowing was won by Joan Bourrie, 13, who sang, "Bye, Bye, Blackbird." Five-year-old singer Ruth Quinlan, was second and seven-year-old dancer, Nancy Curtis, third.

FLOWER WITH GIRL is especially apt in the case of Irene Birnie, Rogers street, who examines a unique double-headed golden-orange dahlia brought to the Examiner newsroom on Thursday by G. W. Downer, 125 Morrow St. This bloom, 12 inches in diameter, came from a monstrous plant, that has two more 11-inch blooms and eight buds; it was grown from a slip.

Store Changes Downtown Are Numerous

A survey of stores along George and Charlotte Streets shows that there have been many changes in ownership and that several new businesses have opened this year.

North on George at the corner of Brock St., there is the Downyflake Coffee Shop, the only new snack bar to open this year in the downtown section of the city. It occupies what was originally Rogow's Ladies' Wear which has moved a few stores away to Cavanagh's electrical store, now on Charlotte near Bethune.

In the same block on George St., Toddletown has opened in the store formerly belonging to Peterborough Credit Jewellers, which moved more than a year ago to below Charlotte, and Herb's Men's Wear now occupies Archie Campbell's barber shop. Also on the east side of the same block, the Althouse Beauty Salon has been taken over by a new management and is now in addition a barber shop, and Florence Leach has taken over Ward Smith's optometrist's office. On the west side of the street, The Georgette Shoppe has taken over Edwards butcher shop, which has moved next door into what was formerly Gainey's barber shop.

Ostranders Jewellers is the only new store to open on George St. between Hunter and Simcoe. They occupy what was formerly Schneider's. The Mayfair restaurant on the same block has gone out of business and has been taken over by Isadore Black for his men's store which is moving from the Capitol building.

Between Charlotte and King, many changes have taken place on George St. Three stores next to the C. D. S. have been pulled down. They were Theo Demos, hat cleaner and shoe shine, who moved to Charlotte, and branches of the Capitol Taxi and Dependable Cleaners. The Odeon Theatre has opened up in this block, and is the largest of all new businesses in Peterborough's shopping centre this year. In the Capitol theatre building, the Tem Ticket Agency has taken over the Capitol barber shop.

New businesses along Charlotte St. between George and Aylmer are the Modern Smoke Shop, formerly the Novelty Shoe Repair which now occupies Ferguson's cleaners which has moved from the block to near Bethune at the former Whiteway Hamburger, and the Charlotte Paint and Wallpaper, which occupies Sam Jordan's florist shop.

Other changes on the block include the opening up of a new branch by Hooper's bakery in what was formerly Hall's barber shop, the United Cigar moving off George into Plaza Billards, and Sunrise Bakery moving further west in the same block to what was formerly Hop Sing's laundry.

YOUNG HORTICULTURISTS, members of Peterborough's Junior Horticultural Society, are in some doubt about their gardening abilities; the 1,174 members who received seeds from their schools in Spring are typified in the above photos. Oryce McIlraith, 277 John St., Left, does not seem too happy about her larkspurs while Beth Powell, 14 Cricket Place, grew some marvellous dahlias that have almost passed their prime.

Horror Pictures Not Justified Readers Claim

Horror pictures do not contribute in any to a newspaper, several Peterborough men believe. Recently, a picture showing the bodies of two of the four men killed in a recent Toronto truck accident was printed in a Toronto daily newspaper.

"Some people claim these pictures reduce the number of traffic accidents. They don't, in my opinion. Insurance companies found some time ago that the fear angle will not work in a safety campaign. The only feeling produced by that picture is one of revulsion," was the opinion of R. R. Faryon, president of the Quaker Oats of Canada.

"Today, too many newspapers, inured by war to such scenes, turn to sensationalism rather than hard news for their main stories. In some stories, there is a combination of both, as in this morning's story of the Russian woman jumping from the window of a Soviet embassy," Mr. Faryon added.

"That picture gives me the shivers," said Ed. Riley. "It certainly doesn't do the newspaper any good to print it. It reminds me of some U.S. magazines which turn to that stuff for sensationalism."

M. R. Knox, jewellery store manager, agrees with the other two, saying: "My wife and I and some friends were discussing this very picture last night. The women didn't want to look a it, and I didn't like it much. Viewed in the light of preventing accidents, that sort of picture might help. But it contributes nothing to a newspaper."

"It's too gruesome," said Bob Gamble. "I can't see that it would reduce accidents at all."

A number of men believed that the picture had little value in accident prevention. One said that today people drive more or less automatically, and that they are more careless.

"The trouble is that people just don't believe it could happen to them. As you see from the picture, it can, but people still don't believe it," said one man.

1,174 Jr. Flower Growers Can Compete In 3 Shows

Peterborough Junior Horticultural Society is open for membership to all pupils of the public and separate schools and to pupils attending high school or collegiate who have not attained their 16th birthday on June 30.

The aim, under direction of the Senior Horticultural Society, is to develop and create in the young people, a desire and a love of growing flowers thus helping to beautify their homes. Instruction is also given in growing vegetables. These useful habits it is hoped, will carry along until these young people have homes of their own.

This year, 12 different varieties of vegetables were offered to members at a special price of five cents per packet.

This year also, Gladiolus was introduced for the first time and in this we had the cooperation of the Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society.

As an incentive to the young people to carry through their program to completion, two opportunities of exhibiting their produce are provided:

1. A junior section in the mammoth flower, vegtable and Gladiolus show which is being held this year in the Peterborough Armouries on August 20-21.

2. The Junior Society flower, vegetable and crafts show to be held in the Market Hall on Sept. 15-16.

This year in addition, all young people of school age, both in the city and county, have a further opportunity of exhibiting in the juvenile section of the Peterborough Exhibition flower show.

This year the Junior Society have a record membership of 1,174 and distributed a total of 2,958 packages of seed as well as 178 lots of six, gladiolus bulbs.

Rambling Reporter

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS

A man entered a city restaurant Friday night, sat down, studied the menu. He gave an order of roast beef to the waiter.

And then he unfolded The Examiner, read the big letters which told the prediction of a 30 per cent jump in the price of beef come Monday.

The man gulped hard. Calling over the waiter, he said: "Make that a double order of beef."

As the waiter ambled away, the man muttered unhappily: "Might as well have it now; I won't be able to afford it later."

W. E. Thompson Wins Refrigerator

More than two thousand people attended the first night of the annual Lions Club carnival at Riverside Park. The carnival opened with a parade through the main streets of the city. The CGE Pipe Band led the parade which included horses and riders from S. H. Preston's Diamond P Ranch, a decorated car drawing the motor boat to be drawn for today, and a truck with the refrigerator which was won by W. E. Thompson, of 125 Hazlett St.

Two special attractions which were highly popular with the children were the mery-go-round and pony rides. For adults, there were baskets of fruit, canned goods, chickens and many other prizes to be won at the various games of skill. A special feature was the auction which included anything from a child's tricycle to a box of table silver, and tins of paint to bath towels.

Pat Scollard, past president, is chairman of the committee organizing the carnival.

Camp Kawartha Closing Today

Last week for boys at Camp Kawartha ends today. This weekend the camp is to be taken over by the Y's Men's Club members who are having their family picnic at the camp on Sunday.

Thursday evening, a special exhibition of swimming and canoeing followed by a camp fire was given for visiting members of the Rotary and Y's Men's Clubs. W. J. Hamilton, president of Rotary, today praised the fine work of the camp staff under their director Don Duncan and made particular mention of the excellent cooking of Meryl Morris.

Bill Moorehead, president of the Y's Men's Club, says, "The whole camp has run like clockwork this year. There has been no trouble of any kind and Don Duncan, the counsellors, and "Abbie" Hill—program director, deserve special credit for their work this year.

Before the camp is finally closed down, four individual huts accommodating eight boys and a counsellor, are to be built to replace one old bunkhouse. It is intended to eventually replace all bunkhouses with individual huts.

Peterboro' New Hamshire Has Oldest Free Library

Greetings from the Mayor of Peterborough, New Hampshire, were conveyed to Mayor Ovens this morning by Mr. S. J. Richardson, King St., who with Mrs. Richardson returned this week from their annual holiday at Hampton Beach.

On their way home they visited Peterborough, where Mrs. Richardson wished to see the Edward MacDowell Colony, created as a memorial to the great American composer of music. It was established as a congenial place for poets, authors, sculptors, composers and other artists to work in pleasant and inspiring surroundings.

"They are most hospitable people in that New Hampshire Peterborough," Mr. Richardson said. "It is town of some 2,500 people, attractively trim and tidy, and is a most friendly community. It is quite a cultural centre for a small town. They have the oldest free public library in the world supported by taxation. The Peterborough Players provide entertainment during the summer evenings, and the MacDowell Colony has had associated with it at one time or another such names as Thornton Wilder, Elinor Wylie, Wila Cather, Dubose and Dorothy Heyward, Stephen Vincent and William Rose Benet, Edwin Arlington Robinson and many others.

Never Heard Of Us

At the Town House there municiple headquarters, a building of colonial design, they know quite a lot about us up here. But, at luncheon I happened to mention to a man at our table that I was from another Peterborough. He said he had never heard of us up here in Ontario. Then he said: "Is that the place the boats come from? I've got a Peterborough canoe. I never thought of it before as being made in Ontario." We had supper at Keene, another small place in New Hampshire."

Mr. Richardson said his Ontario car was the only one from this province at Hampton Beach. It is a summer resort on the Atlantic, two miles from the town of Hampton.

"We first went there about twenty years ago. We stay at a place overlooking the sea. Rates are moderate, and everything is most agreement. More of our people ought to go down to the New England States. One result would probably be a fresh conviction that Americans have grand scenery of their own and most of them who come up here must be attracted by the fishing and because they like to come up to Canada. We would learn more, too, about the importance of the tourist business."

Bicyclist Hurt Struck By Car

Seventeen-year-old Mildred Rowe of 310 Louis St., received injuries to both legs and suffered from shock when she was knocked from her bicycle about 7:30 p.m. Friday. The collision, which was with a taxi driven by J. Christopher Cummiskey, 78 Sophia St., was at the corner of Water and Simcoe streets.

The girl was carried into the nearby police station and later received treatment from Dr. C. F. Cahill. PC Allan Edmison investigated.

Took 42 Years To Get Baskets

It took Peterborough 42 years to carry out a suggestion offered editorially by The Daily Review of August 3, 1906. The Review suggested waste paper baskets for city streets, citing the cases of several other Ontario cities which imposed heavy fines for anyone littering the street, with paper or similar garbage.

But though the streets were messy, coal cellars were full. Scott and Hogg offered coal at prices varying from $6.50 to $7 a ton.

In the classified ads, Mr. McCallum, proprietor of a restaurant, offered $25 as a reward to the person who brought back a silver cream pitcher, sugar bowl and two lids.

Offered for sale was an eight-room house on a lot 41 by 200 feet, all modern conveniences, for $2,650.

Truck Runs Away Plunges Into Lake

Hearing screams on the street, truck driver Gerald Schweit of RR 6, Peterborough, rushed from a house on Wallace St., Burnham's Pt. Thursday evening in time to hear the lumber truck he drives plunge into Little Lake at the foot of the street. The truck had been parked on the street while a call was being made. The excited yells came about seven o'clock.

The truck, owned by the Chas. V. Wood Lumber Co., was nearly completely submerged in Little Lake, damage estimated at $40. It was hauled out of the lake Friday afternoon.

PC Edward Niziol investigated.

WON'T BE LONG NOW

Peterborough children will have a longer summer vacation than usual this year but all good things must come to an end and both primary and secondary school will open their doors on Sept. 7, the day after Labour Day.

Inverlea Swimmers Dominate Events

Inverlea edged Riverside in a swimming meet held Friday afternoon at Riverside playground in connection with the summer swimming program sponsored by the recreation commission.

Don Boorman and Stewart Brooks stood out for Inverlea in the boys' section, while Jim Heffernan and John Cusimano swam well for Riverside. In the girls' section, Beverly Rowley won three firsts for Inverlea, with Marilyn Vint of Riverside placing second in each of those three.

The results:

12 and under, 40 yards free stye—John Boorman (I), Jimmie Starr (I); 20 yards breast stroke, Jim Heffernan (R), Stewart Brooks (I); 20 yard backstroke, John Cusimano (R), Jimmie Starr (I); relay, Riverside, by default.

HE WAS ROBBED

J. E. Girven, assistant works manager of the C.G.E. completes 25 years with the company this year. It is a momentous event because it means he now gets three weeks vacation with pay. But here's the irony of the thing. This year the company policy changed, now men who served 20 years get the three weeks vacation. Tsk. Tsk. Mr. Girven should sue somebody.

AN EXPENSIVE BUMP

Bricklayers are busy replacing the west wall of one of the C.G.E. building which was damaged by a shunting train several weeks ago. The collision pushed out a section of the wall, and it was necessary to demolish and rebuild the wall, from the ground to the top level. In the meantime workers in that section are getting a lot of fresh air, and hope the gap will be filled before Jack Frost moves in.

VARIETY AT MARKET

There was plenty of fruit, vegetables and flowers for sale at the market this morning. Apples were selling at 55 to 60 cents a basket, cherries at 1.75, blueberries at 2.25 and tomatoes at 80 cents to 1.25 a basket. Gladiolus were selling at 5 to 10 cents each or 50 cents a bunch. Grade A large eggs varied from 65 to 70 cents a dozen.

Fire Chief Warns Chimney Cleaners

Fire Chief George Smith warned today that prosecution may be taken soon of unlicensed persons who are contracting to clean pipes and chimneys in the city.

The offenders, mostly out of town firms, have been charging such exorbitant prices that many complaints have reached the fire department. The Chief has no desire to interfere with legitimate enterprise but he wants it made plain that all such operators must be properly licensed by the city. Moreover, he wants such jobs supervised or at least inspected by some member of his staff, in the interests of fire prevention.

This he explained is just a friendly bit of advice. If the operators do not comply with existing licensing regulations, more drastic and unpleasant steps will be taken.

ALL-STAR GAME

An all-star team of softball players from the C.G.E. plant in this city will meet an all-star aggregation from the various Toronto plants and head office of the same firm. The game starts at three o'clock this afternoon in the Ashburnham Bowl.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Chimney Must Extend Past Highest Point of House Roof

Chimneys and fireplaces are likely to be pretty eccentric if not constructed according to rigid and scientific principles. For example, where homes are close to sea level greater draft is needed because of the relatively sluggish atmosphere caused by density of the air. In high elevations, the air is rare and the chimney can be smaller.

It is recommended that fireplaces and chimneys be built by experienced men. The reason for this is obvious; the technical details of chimney construction demand a broad knowledge of draft peculiarities.

The chmney should extend beyond the highest point of the roof and should be fairly free from obstruction by overhanging trees. The throats of fireplaces should be equipped with a smoke-shelf above and back of the throat, to turn downward the flow of fresh air which is common to most chimneys.

Metal heat circulating units have many advantages, one being a guarantee of proper design, since the fireplace is built around a scientifically planned form.

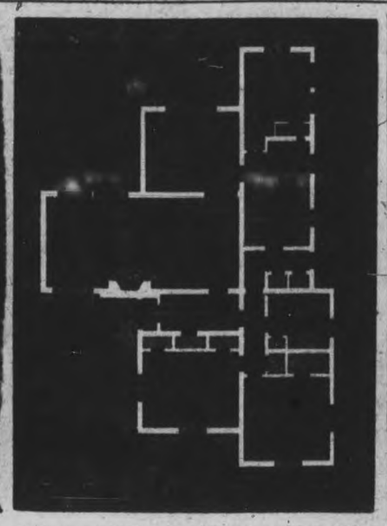
Dampers For Fireplaces

The use of dampers is recommended for fireplaces, as they help overcome physical conditions which often cause the fireplace to smoke, by providing a throat of uniform size the full width of the fireplace. Other advantages of dampers are: They provide fire control by cutting down the flow of draft, keep room heat in when the fireplace is not in use, and vent the home during the summer.

All chimneys should be lined with close fitting, vitrified clay flue lining. The smooth surface gives a better draught—but more important, it reduces the fire hazard.

Simple lines should be used in fireplace and mantel for the small home. The ornate is distinctly out of fashion. The modern fireplace, often without mantel, is actually just a hole in the wall.

Outside chimneys are often incorporated in the design of a home as a distinct decorative feature. Again duplicity is desirable so the chimney will blend with the house as one architectural unit. A chimney which serves an inside chimney usually has flue lining extended well above the cement cap. Below is a cement cap, usually painted black so smutting will not be noticed, while at the point where the chimney passes through the roof is the metal flashing needed to make the point watertight.



Likely To Settle

Contrary to common belief, a chimney is not a prop or a structural column to give support to framing members of a house, such as joists and studs. Due to the weight of the materials used in its construction, practically any chimney built on the average soil is likely to settle slightly. If the framing members of a house are attached to the chimney, settling will cause the framing members to settle also, resulting in cracked plaster and sagging floors. Furthermore, the masonry may become very hot when the furnace or other heating-unit fire is burning.

Cracks in the masonry due to settling may develop especially when the framing members are built into the chimney in order to give some support to the upper portion of the chimney. Cracks may permit the passage of flames or air currents of high temperatures and result in a fire starting in the walls, floors, or roof around the chimney. It is essential, therefore, that the chimney be self-supporting and constructed as to be absolutely independent to the house framing.

It should rest on a solid foundation. Its base should extend below the frost line. The looser and less compact the soil, the larger should be the footings.

HOUSE NO. 128—Don't you like the way the entrance is tucked in beside the stout chimney and the wing formed by the living room? There's nothing commonplace about this house . . . even its front door shuns the conventional spot! Naturally you've already noticed those whopping big windows. There are lots more that you can't see. Look at the floor plan shown and you'll discover them. Most spectacular of all the rooms is the huge living room with the open fireplace. The latter is rather unique, being panelled and without mantel. It has book shelves on either side. The house is heated by a forced air conditioner, which is fired by natural gas. The owners say they make good use of the air conditioning unit during the warm summer months. Lovers of all-on-the-one-floor homes will like the layout of this house. The bathroom is well placed for convenience, and there are good-sized closets throughout. If your lot slants from its frontage to a low back or side, here's a house designed for such a site. The garage is in the basement, together with a recreation room with fireplace, and a washroom. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

50 Durham County Farmers Make Day Inspection Tour

BETHANY, Aug. 14 — (ENS). — The Durham County 500 Bushel Club chartered a bus recently for a day to journey into other parts of the province to inspect conditions and developments.

More than 50 members took the trip, which was in charge of E. A. Summers, Agricultural Representative, Bowmanville and R. E. Goodin of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto, with Reeve Ernest Cavano, of Manvers Township in charge of the local arrangements.

First point of interest was the wholesale fruit and vegetable market, where observations were made of active trading under present congested conditions. George E. Caldon of the markets service, Dominion Dept. of Agriculture spoke to the group about collection of daily market prices for press releases.

Stops were made at the Canadian National Exhibition, and at the site of the new Food Terminal at West Toronto.

(At Aldershott they inspected the Co-Operative cold storage plant, and afterwards at the farm of Orlie Marshall, Waterdown they saw dusting, digging and grading operations in progress. A block of 160 acres of potatoes is grown by Mr. Marshall and neighbor, Thomas Organ. The afternoon was taken by a stop at a Galt plant.

At the Ontario Agriculture Potato Farm, Hespeler, Norman Thompson, Supervisor of Investigations explained the work being carried on there, giving particular attention to nutritional studies and variety testing.

The group was especially interested in the 60 acres of potatoes grown on the farm of E. G. Snyder, Preston. Mr. Snyder demonstrated his 16 row, 500 gallon power take-off sprayer, also his irrigation system and his power potato digging and picking unit. Potatoes were dug, picked, graded and bagged at approximately one bag per minute. Afterwards the party were shown through a potato chip factory.

A short tour of the Ontario Agriculture College grounds at Guelph completed the full day.

Fire Deaths Rise Sharply In N.S.

HALIFAX, Aug. 14 (CP). — —Fire deaths have risen sharply in Nova Scotia during the first six months of 1948, Col. S. S. Wright, provincial fire marshal, said in his semi-annual report issued recently.

In the six-month period 27 persons perished in fires — just two less than the number of victims in the entire year pervious. In the same period 58 persons were severely injured compared with 100 in the whole of 1947.

Seven persons died in a tenement house fire in Halifax last February, the greatest toll in one fire in a decade.

Property loss during the six months was more than $1,000,000.

LONDON — (CP). — Doctors and medical students from all points of the Commonwealth are receiving guidance at the Empire Medical Advisory Council opened recently by the British Medical Association. Plan 35-Acre Museum Of Trees

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14 (CP).— A $40,000 aboretum, a museum of native trees and shrubs, will be developed here by the pulp and paper industry of British Columbia.

It will extend over some 35 acres on the north and northeast faces of Little Mountain, suburban Vancouver district. Eight to 10 years will be required to develop the project.

Purpose of the arboretum will be to constantly remind the public of the importance of its forests as well as to provide correct information about native trees.

It will be presented to the citizens of Vancouver and the board of parks commissioners has agreed to appropriate $150 an acre annually towards its maintenance.

A statement announcing plans for the project said:

"Vancouver is the chief city in an area of great forest wealth and should have at hand suitable means constantly to remind the public of the importance of its forests as well as to provide correct information about native trees.

"The arboretum will provide all school children, students, and the public in general, with the means to learn how to identify at least those of our native trees most commonly in use.

"It will develop, with trees and native shrubs, an area of great public attraction and civic value that may be passed on from one generation to another as an important cultural asset. It will also provide and develop channels for the collecting of rare tree specimens for placement in the arboretum. The industry's foresters will aid this work."

Within the bounds of the arboretum it is planned to display effectly trees and shrubs under natural conditions. They will be labelled and essential descriptive data will be available.

'Cannibal' Rescues Shipwrecked Sailor

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP). — A shipwrecked United States sailor, washed up on the shores of a lonely island in the South Pacific during the war, saw a woolly-headed cannibal peering at him from behind a bush.

Too weak to stand, he prepared for the worst. The cannibal emerged, helped the sailor to his feet and in clear English said: "You are an American. I am a Christian. I will take you to my hut."

The American stayed there four weeks while the "cannibal," former pupil of an English medical missionary, nursed him back to health.

The story is told by Mrs. Clinton S. Quin, wife of the Bishop of Texas, who attended the Lambeth Conference in Britain.

Guides Aid Artists

EDINBURGH — (CP). — Visitors to the Edinburgh Festival in mid-August will be offered the services of two corps of guides, one of which will act as aides and interpreters to the visiting artists.

Set Building Target

LONDON — (CP). — Britain will build aproximately 200,000 houses in 1949. A revised program for the coming year, recently announced by the minister of health, was decided upon in relation to the probable supplies of soft timber.

Olympic Flame To Be Doused As Games Finish

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(CP). — The Olympic flame will be doused today and the sun-faded, rain-soaked flags of 58 countries lowered.

Then, 6,000 athletes and officials will scatter throughout the world with their memories of the 14th Olympic games.

From the opening day ceremonies July 29 when 82,000 sport fans jammed bowl-shaped Wembley Stadium for the first games since 1936, it has been a spectacular succession of United States-nominated thrills.

From the starting pistol, the Yanks were intehers. There have been squawks, complaints and protests out the festival, with its conglomeration of races and creeds, from the excitable French to the placid Finns, was devoid of explosive international incidents.

It was a wonderful story for the conquering Americans but a black-bordered one for the Canadians.

And the last day was no exception. Canada had four cyclists entered in the marathon event but when the race was little more than half over, the last one of them dropped out.

Floren Jodoin of Montreal had to quit when he suffered a bad spill and injured an arm. Earlier, bad luck dogged the other contestants—Lorne Atkinson of Vancouver, Lance Pugh of Oshawa, and Laurent Tessirer of Montreal —and they were forced to the sidelines due to tire punctures.

No Canadians Left

In other wind-up events, the United States won the team championship of the three-day equestrian event. A. Gerevich of Hungary won the individual sabre fencing championship, Finland won the men's gymnastic championship and the United States took the basketball title, defeating France in the finals 65-21.

Sweden won the soccer title and champions were decided in the various boxing classes. There were no Canadians left in any of the events, apart from the cycling.

United States booty included practically everything except the Olympic flame while the best Canada was able to do was a second in canoeing and thirds in the women's 400-metres relay and canoe doubles.

Canada's highest placing was made by Doug Bennett of St. Lambert, Que.

Bob Gray Keeps Quebec Title

STE. DOROTHEE, Que., Aug. 14.—(CP). — The Quebec open golf title still is Ontario property today following a methodical victory by Bob Gray of Toronto Scarboro here Friday in a 36-hole medal-play tournament over Islemere's tough, par-72 course.

Gray carded 70-75-145 to win the championship left undefended by Ontario Amateur Rudy Horvath.

Already holder of the Ontario open crown, the Scarboro professional won with only a stroke to spare over Gordon Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, and Rudolf Huot of the Royal Quebec Club, Quebec City, down in 146. Brydson put together a 76 and 70, while Huot posted 74-72.

Surprise of the day was provided by veteran amateur Joe Poulin of Montreal Marlborough who led his division with 74-75-149, nipping Phil Farley, Scarboro's Ontario amateur champ by a stroke.

Farley was consistent with a pair of 75's, enough to give him a tie with Montreal's Mike aDrling and putting him ahead of Tommy Riddell, Quebec amateur titlist from Montreal Beaconsfield.

Find Broadway Has Room For New Ideas

By FRED KERNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 14—(CP)—Broadway—and the theatre—always has room for new ideas.

To Nan Stevens goes credit for the latest of Broadway services and one of the most unique in the theatre circuit. She keeps the secrets, answers the mail and soothes the brows of Toronto-born Beatrice Lillie; Hume Cronyn, the former London, Ont., actor and producer; Cronyn's charming wife Jessica Tandy; as well as Hank Ladd and the irrepressible Hartmans—Paul and Grace.

"In a way," she explained the other day, "I know them better than their friends.

"I hear all the off' remarks."

Nan started her thriving business merely as a pastime.

When Carol Bruce, star of "Louisiana Purchase" suddenly found she needed someone to answer her fan mail, she hired Nan —the show's No. 1 fan. Until Carol retired into motherhood last year, Nan was her secretary, gin rummy partner and constant companion.

To keep Nan in a job, Miss Bruce thought of the idea of having her secretary handle the work of several of Broadway's stars and loaned Nan the money to start her business.

Show-Time

Instead of closing Sept. 4 "Angel in the Wings" has decided to tarry a week longer. It moves out on the road Sept. 13. . . "Mister Roberts" has logged the 200-mark in mid-week. It now is minus two cuss-words following a complaint from a woman who wrote Mayor O'Dwyer that the play was "filthy." The pair of words now only appear 19 times in the play instead of 20. . .

Another milestone is reached this coming Monday night when that loveable rabbit character "Harvey" makes his 1,600 appearance.

Dental Report

LIVERPOOL, England — (CP). — The British Dental Association conference was told by a delegate: "No Anglo-Saxon can keep his full 32 teeth without the mouth being overcrowded. Only foreigners can accommodate the full set. Britons need certain molars extracted between the ages of eight and nine."

New Style Aircraft

LONDON — (CP). — Tests of a new tadpole-shaped aircraft wing section, which on a large scale would be able to hold fuel and passengers has been announced by Sir Ben Lockspeiser, chief scientist of Britain's ministry of supply.

Week-end Cycling Hobby Of 12 Million Britons

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP).—The bicycle is turning the open road into a playground for more and more Britons.

Since the end of the war week-end cycling clubs have grown steadily in membership. Not even wind and rain can keep the more enthusiastic at home.

On a fine summer Sunday the roads are crowded from daybreak on. Some are "hard riders"—determined young men haunched over their handlebars and aiming at a "nice run" of 120 miles or so. Many more are young and middle-aged folk, out for a day's fun and fresh air ni the open country.

Babies don't keep ardent cyclists at home. Sometimes trailers or side-cars are fixed to Father's bike. Sometimes Junior is carried on the back, papoose style.

The usual procedure of cycling clubs is to meet early Sunday morning at an agreed spot. Club leaders have already drawn up the route and after a brief consultation over maps, the group is off. Sixty to 70 miles is the average for a Sunday run.

Sometimes more ambitious trips are arranged, lasting several days. It's a cheap way of seeing the country, since there are some 270 youth hostels at which accommodation can be obtained for 1s 6d. (30 cents) a night.

Clubs Are Growing

Some 3,000 cycling clubs now exist in Britain. The oldest is the Cyclists' Touring Club, which celebrates its 70th birthday this year. It now has 48,000 members.

The National Cyclists' Union has as many, and has shown an increase in membership of 30 per cent in the last year.

Bicycles in Britain aren't registered so no accurate census is available, but about 12,000,000 are believed to be in use throughout the land, which means that one in every four persons is a cyclist.

Apart from pleasure purposes, they're used to getting to work both by industrial and farm laborers. No factory is complete without its rack for stacking bicycles.

Britain manufactures more than 2,000,000 bicycles a year, of which about three-quarters go for exports. Shortages of components are a threat to production.

Latest model bikes are made of lightweight materials, making it easy to push them up hills or carry them across streams. Main highways are usually left to automobiles, with the cyclists seeking out country lanes and byways.

B.C. Marksmen Chief Winners

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 — (CP).—One hundred and fifty of Canada's leading riflemen to-day prepared to match their skill for the coveted Governor-General Prize, final contest in the week-long Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meeting here.

Friday's chief prize-winners were eight British Columbia sharpshooters who won the historic London Merchants Cup in competition with teams of the best shooters the other provinces could offer. The BC team posted a high score of 723 of a possible 800.

Bronze DCRA Cross winners in Grand Aggregate scoring include: Sgt. W. J. Wood of Brockville and Sgt. R. S. Potter of Aldershot.

In the London Merchants Cup competition, eight-man teams from Ontario and Quebec followed the winning British Columbia team to tie for second place with 720 of a possible 800 points.

New Machine "Types" Music

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 14 (CP).—An Australian musician has invented and patented a machine that types a musical score almost as fast as it can be sung.

The inventor is Murray Parker, 31, of the Australian Broadcasting Commission's variety music library at Melbourne.

The machine is about three feet wide, stands two feet high and has two keyboards. One has 42 keys for letters and music symbols and the other has 27 keys for adjusting the paper. It can type forward, backwards, vertically or horizontally.

Parker spent eight years perfecting his machine after tiring of copying music by hand. It writes words to the music in clear Gothic type.

"In the machine I have made the original is machine-done in a photogenic black and white," Parker told a reporter. "Further, 10 copies can be taken at one strike and if a silk stencil is used 5,000 copies can be run off."

Parker said he first devised a set of standards not unlike a set of typewriter standards and stuck to them.

A music bureau at Melbourne is using the invention to turn out score ranging from Liszt rhapsodies to boogie-woogie.

Lacrosse Schedule

The minor lacrosse daytime schedule for Miller Bowl has been drawn up for next week by Jack Foote. It starts Monday at 2 p.m. with a juvenile workout, followed by Lions peewee practise and a bantam drill at 4 by Tudhopes.

Rockets play the tadpole Spitfires at 10 a.m. Wednesday, followed by Buffaloes' peewee practise. One is open for juveniles, peewee All-Stars workout at 2, Clapper's bantams practise next, and St. Paul's bantams at 4.

Two peewee games go Thursday, starting at 10 a.m., Lions vs. Buffaloes, and Petes vs. Tigers. Juveniles are on at 1, the tadpole Rockets drill at 2, tadpole Spitfires at 3, and 4 o'clock is left open.

Jack Banta Leads Montreal To 15th Victory

By The Associated Press

A Major League mound berth in Brooklyn may be just around the corner for Jack Banta, strong-armed righthander of Montreal Royals, who are running away with the pennant in the International League.

The lanky Banta turned in his 16th victory of the season and his first shutout Friday night as the Royals stretched their winning streak to 15 games by beating Syracuse Chiefs 6-4 and 9-0.

After the Royals won the opener for Frank Laga by scoring five time in the second inning, Banta blanked the Chiefs on six safeties in the finale. Banta walked four and fanned eight to raise his league-leading strikeout total to 159.

The runnerup Newark Bears remained 13½ games off the pace by taking a twin bill from Rochester's third-place Red Wings, 8-4 and 11-2.

Jersey City Giants also won a doubleheader, knocking off the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs 12-3 and 3-2 to halt a five-game Toronto winning streak.

Rookie Sam Webb coasted to his 14th victory in the opener as the Giants whacked out 15 hits with Bill Miline leading the way with four. Bill Jennings, Lloyd Gearhart and Buddy Blattner homered for the Giants.

Recruit Andy Tomasic outdueled veteran Luke Hamlin in the second game in hanging up his ninth win, Gearhart also homered in this tilt.

A scheduled doubleheader between Baltimore and Buffalo was called off because of rain after the first game had gone four innings.

Babe Ruth Still Holding His Own

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP). — The Babe is still in there slugging. Feverish and hardly able to take food, baseball's greatest hitter continued to hold his own to-day although his condition was reported unimproved. A hospital bulletin said Friday night that he "rested well during the evening and awakened to speak with his wife."

He managed his famous grin and a cheerful word for other family members and intimate friends permitted to visit him on Friday. Late in the afternoon, the Memorial Hospital Centre for Cancer and Allied Diseases said his temperature was "slightly lower" than at the same time the previous day.

"He is taking nourishment with difficulty," the hospital said. "His condition is otherwise unchanged."

Temperamental Movie Star Disappearing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14 (AP).—Like the vanishing bison of yore, the temperamental movie star is disappearing.

The tantrum-tossing star used to be a Hollywood landmark, but with the years, temperament has become a scarce commodity in the film industry. Or maybe it's just well-concealed.

Film columnist were sharpening their knives in preparation for James Mason's arrival. The cat-loving Briton came here with a reputation for temperament. Much to their surprise — and no doubt disappointment — Mason turned out to be charming.

The fact is that a high-powered industry cannot afford a wrench in its gears, as a heel-kicking star sometimes is.

The wane of temperament may aid the industry, but it makes things duller for a Hollywood reporter. The shenanigans of old-time stars provided lively copy. Prime example was Greta Garbo. If she found an unfamiliar face on her set, she would quickly exit and not return until an explanation was made.

When Hollywood and Charlie Chaplin mutually decided that he was a genius, he made a lot of news with his eccentric behavior. Other comics like Harry Langdon, Wally Beery, Raymond Hatton and Buster Keaton decided they had to be geniuses too, and their studio had a time bringing them back to earth.

Grand Fracas

The grand fracas of Pola Negri and Gloria Swanson on the old Paramount lot is part of Hollywood legend. Also the antics of Mae Murray, Nazimova, Jetta Goudal and others. Joan Crawford and Norma Shearer used to pull their weight on the M-G-M lot, although usually in a subtle way.

Joan Fontaine felt her oats in her early post-Oscar days, but has been sweetness and light recently. Laraine Day, Hedy Lamarr and Bette Davis still manage to break into the news with occsional flights of temperament.

Tennis Players Enjoy Social

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 14 — (ENS)—Nearly thirty members of the Campbellford Tennis Club attended a social evening at the tennis courts on Friday.

The courts were busy all evening as members indulged in friendly games, and afterward refreshments were served.

Club president Don Henry said that the social evening was the initial venture along these lines, and that as membership increases, he expects that they will become more frequent. The club, almost dormant for some years, especially during the war, but is now being revived by a group of youngsters who are endeavoring to interest as many of the younger set as they can in tennis.

Many problems, including the formation of committees were discussed informally on Friday, and an organization may be held shortly. In the meantime, arrangements are being made to have the three courts resurfaced as soon as the contractor is available.

Misplaced Sympathy

VANCOUVER — (CP). — Two constables were sympathetic when they called an ambulance for a man they found collapsed on a city street here. But when he jumped up before the ambulance came and ran head-first into a plate-glass window, cutting his arms, they arrested him for being drunk. He was treated in hospital.

FROM AN OFFICIAL Olympic moving picture, this photo shows the disputed passing of the baton from Barney Ewell (left) to Lorenzo Wright in the 400-metre relay race at the Olympiad. Judges ruled that the baton was passed illegally. The U.S. team won the event but was disqualified. U.S. Olympic officials protested the disqualification and they were vindicated by the motion pictures of the baton passing. It was later announced that an Olympic jury of appeals ruled that the U.S. team won the race. It reversed the judges' decision and awarded first place to the U.S., second to Great Britain.

Bernard Amyotte Wed In Ottawa

St. Anthony's Church at Ottawa on Saturday morning, August 7, was the scene of the wedding of Carmel Mary, daughter of Mr. Antonio Disipio, and the late Mrs. Disipio, and Mr. Bernard Arthur Amyotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Amyotte of Peterborough. The Rev. George Nincherio, OSM, officiated. Mr. William Allen played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. K. Davis.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Carmel Pantalone as maid of honor and by Miss Rita Vaux as bridesmaid. Mr. James Amyotte was groomsman and Mr. Eddie Pantalone was an usher.

A gown of white satin with lace inset was the bride's choice. It was designed with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, ending in points over the hands. Orange blossoms held her long veil which swept into a train, and she carried pink roses.

After the reception in Winston Gardens, Mr. and Mrs. Amyotte left to spend their honeymoon in Toronto and Peterborough. Going away the bride wore a navy blue dress, grey shortie coat and grey accessories. They will reside in Ottawa.

Sectional Dresses New Feature Emphasize Waist

PARIS—It's going to be a red autumn if French designer Carven has her way.

In her fall collection she exploits every conceivable hue of red—from deep tomato to fire engine red.

Main silhouette in the show lays the emphasis on tiny waists and draws attention to hip detail.

Main line of interest falls around the middle of the torso. She divides nearly all her dresses into three sections. They comprise a bodice which reaches to just below the bust; a wide waist-yoke, molded to the waist by discreet paneling of darting, sometimes by a belt, and finally, a skirt which picks up where the yoke finishes. This last frequently has gathered or unpressed pleated fullness.

Each section is invariably defined by threaded velvet, soutache embroidery, jet beading or fancy seaming.

Saucy jackets introduce a new waistline.

A fine black wool suit had a brief jacket with a narrow peplum which started four inches above the natural waistline, drawn tight, this time, with a drawstring. It had immense leg-of-mutton sleeves.

Carven shows classic tailormades with padded shoulders. She puts slight fullness in the basque and features tricky ruched or bag pockets.

Attention was drawn to the hipline of a mildew green broadcloth jacket which had a deep fluted peplum cut horizontally through the middle and a luscious blue fox inserted in the gap.

Half-length fullbacked velour coats of red, golden yellow or natural green shades have graduated hemlines. They start wrist-level in the front and taper to knee level at the back. Others are full length and voluminous.

Collars on coats and suits alike often stand up and cup the face. Fox fur cuffs are set halfway between the wrist and elbow. Sleeves are mainly close-fitting.

Bold blanket velour plaids and checks of gray, mixed with tan or red, predominate for topcoats, and suit jackets. Fine wool jersey is popular for red day dresses.

Evening wear is full. No slinky silhouettes are shown. Whether in ice blue satin, gray broerie anglaise or lavender velvet, they all billow out from tiny waistlines.

Hovering Hands New Hat Trim

PARIS, Aug. 14 — (AP). — An existentialist hat designer named Jean Berthet took a turn stressing wearability when he held his first full-dress fashion show.

There was little of the existentialist about the fall hats he showed on Friday, but a great deal to indicate he may become a big-name milliner before he is much older.

His one existentialist hat, widely publicized, showed two life-sized pink velvet hovering hands, strung with diamonds and set with black fingernails.

Berthet, who quit working with a famous Paris hat-maker, Gilbert Orcel, a few months ago in order to strike out on his own, has turned to the Orient for inspiration.

He converts the draped headgear of Indian tribesmen into glamorous affairs of black velvet and satin. He pokes in the crowns of Egyptian fez shapes, buttons them down the side and swaths them around the base with contrasting wool jersey.

Draped turbans of forest green or sober grey have contrasting colored peaks standing out of the drapery in front.

His fez and cloche shapes often have square crowns. He makes little bell-shaped hats with crowns ofof gold or silver sequins and sets them off with black or pink velvet brims.
